COMMITTEE REPORT

Committee:	Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs
Bill Number:	HB 1180
Title:	relative to state recognition of biological sex.
Date:	March 8, 2022
Recommendation:	OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT 2022-0959h

STATEMENT OF INTENT

This bill enables public entities to differentiate between biological males and females looking to take part in athletic competition. No action is mandated or specified in this bill. The goal is simply to allow the athlete's biological sex to be considered in the creation of policies related to the ability to take part in sports. The committee felt it is a matter of basic fairness to allow an evaluation of biological sex when determining eligibility. Allowing a biological male who simply identifies as a female to compete in women's sports can be viewed as a violation of the rights of the female competitors. This bill allows for the biological sex of the athlete to be considered if so desired by the local decision-making public entity.

Vote 11-10.

Title:	relative to state recognition of biological sex.
Date:	March 8, 2022
Recommendation:	INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

STATEMENT OF INTENT

This bill as introduced will deny the rights of people to identify their perceived gender, the gender they live every day, as determined by state entities. The NH School Board already provides a transgender student policy labeled JBAB for our schools for them to adapt to their unique environments. The NHIAA has documented a transgender policy for interscholastic sports. The NCAA has defined requirements for transgender sports players in colleges and in universities. Policies from these organizations address the needs and concerns of all members of our communities. This bill puts transgender people on notice: You are not equal to the rest of the population, and you need to comply with social norms defined by the rest of your community. We are ignoring the fact that this bill will be in conflict with current state and federal discrimination laws and opening our communities to potentially expensive legal proceedings as transgender people and their families stand up for their rights to be free.

Subject: HB 1180 Testimony
Importance: Normal

Hello,

My name is Maddie Katona, and I currently play softball for Dartmouth College. I am writing in favor of HB 1180, relative to state recognition of biological sex. As a female collegiate athlete, I know what it takes and what is demanded of me when it comes to keeping myself in shape mentally and physically during season and even off-season. Practices, conditioning, and lifting are hard, and my body aches, but I still push myself to be the best that I can be because I demand excellence from myself, I love to compete, and I want to give my all for my team. However, if athletic competitions were to allow competitors to participate who are not biologically female, my hard work and all the efforts my teammates and I have put in are in vain. There is simply nothing that I can do to prepare my body to compete against males/transgender individuals in any equal way. If we truly want equality for women, enabling those who simply identify as women to compete against us pins us against the wall and is not "feminism" nor does it achieve equality. Our differences are fundamental and are present at a molecular level. No matter how many hours I train, I will not be able to compete against a man. That does not mean that men are better than women or that women are weak. We are simply different, and it is our differences that give us strength as a society. Lastly, I am around my team a lot. From the locker room, bus rides, hotel rooms, and showers, if women are required to be around individuals who are not biologically female in such intimate spaces, this would compound the mental and physical stress athletes already undergo due to balancing team dynamics, classes, and practices. Furthermore, it is inappropriate and uncomfortable. Therefore, it is essential that we recognize our fundamental, biological differences and accept the physiological differences this induces.

For these reasons, I urge you to vote Ought to Pass on HB 1180. Thank you for taking the time to read my testimony.

Sincerely,
Maddie Katona

To the Health, Human Services and Elderly Affair Committee,

My name is Revelle Mast. I'm a New Hampshire voter, I'm a lobbyist with New Hampshire Youth Movement., and I'm a nonbinary trans woman. I'm emailing to voice vehement opposition to HB1180.

I first realized I was trans when I was about twelve years old. I remember the exact moment, the exact spot in my parent's house. I was walking towards the kitchen and had a sudden thought pop into my head: "my life would be so much easier if I was a girl." I paused, turned and walked back to the bathroom, and looked at myself in the mirror. I looked at myself and didn't see how that could be possible.

Fast forward a decade. I had graduated college, moved home, and found myself alone at my parents house for the weekend. On a whim, I put on a dress I found in the closet and went to look at myself in the mirror. I suddenly remembered that moment, a decade earlier, looking in that same mirror.

That decade in between was hell. Pretending to be someone I wasn't, posing as a man, constantly terrified of this unknown truth about myself that I kept pushing down. Looking back there were so many clues, so many times I was uncomfortable as a man, so many times I felt unable to express my femininity. I didn't believe that there was any place in society for people that transitioned, and as such, it never occurred to me that I actually could be one of them. So I pushed the feelings down, and I suffered through it.

We have a chance, as a society, to let trans kids be themselves, for their entire lives. I can't speak to what that would have meant for me, for what it could mean to all those trans kids, scared to just be themselves. The lives it would save- This bill, part of the latest push to demonize trans people, could very well push trans kids struggling with their own self worth over the edge. Lives are on the line.

As far as criminal incarceration and places of intimate privacy - allowing public entities to choose for themselves despite what your birth certificate and/or driver's license says - it's abhorrent and is going to cause great harm to trans people. Trans people, suffering abuse at higher rates than cis women, are being villified for the actions and abuse of criminal cis men. Trans people just want to go pee and find their way through life in peace!

If you're scared of men pretending to be trans in order to enter women's spaces- and responding by punishing trans women for the actions of those men - you're deciding that the right course of action to rectify the harm against one marginalized community (cis women) is to harm an even more marginalized community(trans women), while doing nothing to actually prevent men from hurting either community.

Plus, what man in their right mind would go through it all - the social turmoil, the daily aggression, all of the work it takes to present as a woman? They don't. No one would go through all of the hurt and fear that it means to be trans if they weren't actually the gender they say they are. So why punish trans people? What purpose could it serve?

Please join me in opposing this bill.

Thank you for your service,

Revelle Mast

Hello,
My name is Grace Murray. I live in Plymouth, New Hampshire and I oppose HB1180. Every person is born different and with different abilities. I have always been tall for my age, there was once a time when I stood a good six to eight inches taller than all my classmates, even now at 22 I'm still quite a bit taller than the average young adult. When I was a child and playing with my friends I won games a lot, my arms and legs were longer, I could reach further and run faster, this was through no doing of my own, I was simply born that way. Should I have not been able to play games with my friends or should I have hindered my natural abilities in some way? No, absolutely not and nobody asked me to. Why then are we asking that of trans kids? Any "claimed" hormonal advantage is just a normal and natural advantage. In the same way that I can't help my height and the advantages that come with that, these kids can't help the hormone levels they were born with. This bill is simply absolutely preposterous and would allow for more harm to be done than its original intention because the text is so broad. A bill like this would allow trans people to be put in extremely dangerous situations for no other reason than blatant transphobia and a wish to discredit their gender. People should not be punished for who they are and it's horrifying to know that's being debated. People, no matter how they were born, should be respected.
Regards,
Grace Murray

Opposition to HB 198.doc

I am writing this to present a detailed overview of why discrimination against transgender girls in school sports makes no sense. I am attaching testimony that I presented about HB 198 from last year. At the opening session this year, that bill was voted ITL on the consent calendar. HB 1180 appears to be a backdoor attempt to allow governmental units to establish the same kind of policy locally. I hope you will also send this to the House floor with an ITL recommendation.

Thank you,

To the Health, Human Services, and Elderly Affairs Committee, ,

My name is Emilia Toth and I'm a resident of Keene, NH, as well as a lobbyist with the New Hampshire Youth Movement. I'm emailing in opposition of HB1180, which would allow public entities to discriminate against someone based on how they perceive their gender, despite what it may say on your birth certificate or license.

I am a women and gender studies major, and have spent the past few weeks discussing the differences between gender identity and sexual anatomy. From my studies, I have learned that gender is completely separate from the anatomy we are born with. Gender is a personal choice and a personal identity that is chosen by an individual for themselves. This is not something that should be forced upon someone due to outside perception and rules.

To have someone's gender decided for them is cruel and unjust. It can also be potentially dangerous, as it can lead to gender dysphoria and extreme mental illness for many people. Everyone should have the right to their own identity, as it isn't a choice to be made by anyone. This bill would make it impossible for transgender people to be themselves in many situations. I urge you to consider voting against HB1180.

Thank you so much for the opportunity to voice my opposition of HB1180,

Dear Representative's in the Health, Human Services, and Elderly Affairs,

My name is Connor Mack, a lobbyist with the New Hampshire Youth Movement. As a resident of Dover, New Hampshire, I am writing to you to convey my disapproval of House Bill 1180 regarding the act relative to state recognition of biological sex.

As a young member of the queer community, and with many friends identifying as trans, I am appalled by this bill. This bill limits and restricts the human rights of many members of the queer community. The aspect to the bill that restricts trans athletes from performing on the team that aligns with their gender identity is unnerving already, but the fact that this bill would allow a public entity to decide if a trans woman would have to reside in a male prison is extremely alarming. This is a population that is already much more vulnerable in the prison system. According to NBC news, 9 out of 10 transgender women are sexually assaulted in the prison system. If you care about the safety and wellbeing of New Hampshire Residents, you will vote down this bill.

Thank you again for considering this letter, and please consider voting against HB 1180 when you have the opportunity to vote on the bill.

Sincerely,

Connor Mack

Catherine Peternel
Testimony in support of HB 1180

I am from Wolfeboro, the mother of four daughters, two of whom, ages 19 and 20, have experience with a transgender athlete on high school sports teams. Freshman year, my daughter joined the cross country team. She came home and told me that there was a male to female transgender athlete on the team. My daughter said it wasn't fair and was there anything we could do about it? I told her, only if you want to make a federal case out of it. In retrospect, I wish we had because this is becoming a much larger societal issue than we ever imagined.

To clarify, I have nothing but compassion for someone struggling with gender identity. This child was included at our home for any team events hosted by my family. To my knowledge, this child was never outwardly bullied by any member of the teams, nor did this child ever exhibit any negative behavior to any teammate.

What stands out to me is that although my daughters never felt it was fair that they had to compete for team positions with a biological male, they do not feel comfortable speaking out about this issue. One would think that my 19 yo Division 1 soccer player would feel threatened by the possibility of a biological male becoming part of her team or having to compete against a biological male. When she trains with men, she is always more hesitant to stop their shots than when she trains with women.

As their mother, I believe that my daughters were the recipients of subversive bullying. They knew they could not speak out about the inequality of having a biological male on their team. This child's needs were underlying the essence of the meaning of team. As the saying goes, "there is no "I" in team." In this situation, one was found. I believe it was an unfair situation not only for my daughters but also for the transgender child. No one should have the focus of the needs of an athletic team be on their own personal needs.

Please support HB 1180.

Dear Legislators,

My name is Melissa Roth Richards. I am a resident of Etna New Hampshire. I write to you today as a woman, a lifelong athlete, former Dartmouth College athlete, a professional soccer player, mother and lawyer. I have played sports competitively and successfully my entire life. This has shaped who I am. But my competitors have always been biological women.

In 1972, Title IX was signed into law. It guaranteed that women receive both equal treatment and equal opportunities under the law. However, today, Title IX is being violated by every institution in New Hampshire that allows biological males to compete unfairly against biological females. This is being done in the name of "fairness" to the trans community, a group of people I have great sympathy for and who need a different solution to participate in athletics. They deserve to be able to compete, but they should not get to do so at the expense of biological females, whose athletic careers will forever be compromised unless Title IX is upheld.

This isn't political. And it is not an exaggeration. This is happening right now and the examples are overwhelming.

In 2016-2017, Cece Telfer competed on the men's Franklin Pierce track team without success. In 2019, Cece won the NCAA championships when competing as a transgender woman.[i] Does that sound right to you?

I grew up in Connecticut before moving to New Hampshire. There, recently two transgender track athletes won 15 state championships and broke 10 state records held by ten different biological girls.[ii] Those two transgender athletes also took away over 85 opportunities to compete at higher level track events that the other biological females missed out on.[iii] Chelsea Mitchell, a biological female sprinter who came in third behind the two transgendered athletes said "[w]ith every loss it gets harder and harder to try again. That's a devastating experience. It tells me that I'm not good enough; that my body is not good enough; and that no matter how hard I work, I am unlikely to succeed, because I am a woman."[iv] Does that sound right to you?

At the Ivy League championships last week, Lia Thomas, a transgender swimmer competing for the Univ. of Pennsylvania won three events and set five Ivy League records. According to Swimming World editor-in-chief, John Lohn, her final 50 yards "appears to be the fastest in history."[v] Despite being an average performer on the men's swim team, Lia is now currently on track to break the records held by Katie Ledecky who won 7 Olympic gold medals, 15 world championships and is widely considered to be the greatest female swimmer of all time. Does that sound right to you?

It is not.

The women these biological men are displacing have worked just as hard, sacrificed as much and have every right to be on the podium with other biological women. This is their time to shine. Except that's not what's happening. What is happening is that biological males are outperforming biological females in sports.

Everyone knows there are fundamental biological differences between males and females and these differences impact athletic performance. The average male is bigger, stronger and faster than the average female. It doesn't take a doctor or scientist to understand this. My 8 year old daughter and my 6 year old son both do – not because it is complicated but because it is so fundamentally obvious.

I think everyone here can agree that Serena Williams is one of, if not the best female athletes of all time. Her max bench press is 225 lbs. Amazing for a woman. Yet, my middle-aged husband can do 90 repetitions of Serena's max bench. Serena said this in a 2013 interview with David Letterman, "If I were to play Andy Murray, I would lose 6–0, 6–0 in five to six minutes, maybe 10 minutes." "The men are a lot faster and they serve harder, they hit harder, it's just a different game. I love to play women's tennis. I only want to play girls, because I don't want to be embarrassed."[vi] John McEnroe underscored this, by saying "Serena Williams would only be ranked 700th in the world 'if she played in the men's circuit.'"[vii] The greatest of all time to 700th? That's quite a difference. Who can claim that there are no differences between males and females and that it is a matter of choice?

My children recently watched a special on Pompeii and the volcanic eruption that wiped the town off the map in 79AD. They were fascinated by what scientists could learn from the human remains they found throughout the city. The first thing that the scientists described was the biological sex of the victims. Gender differences are one of the fundamental, elemental, immutable distinctions in all life on this planet and yet suddenly humans believe otherwise about their own species? That it is a matter of choice? It defies science, but most of all it defies common sense.

I am heartbroken for all biological females forced to compete against biological males and for the young biological girls who will mostly have biological males to look up to as champions. Please do what is just, fair and right. Restore the right for biological women to compete on an even playing field against other biological women, protect Title IX, pass HB1180 and save women's sports.

Thank you.

Dear Lawmakers,

I am writing as a proud grandparent of a transgender child to express my disappointment and opposition to NH HB1180. This rewritten bill is nothing but a coordinated attack once again against our already vulnerable trans youth. Discrimination has no place in our state!
We have already come so far to protect this vulnerable population. Let's not go backwards.
Anti-trans bills are bad for our state.
Let these kids live their already difficult lives without discrimination and equality.

I oppose HB 1180.

Representatives,

I am a resident and registered voter in Rochester, NH and I am writing to indicate my strongest opposition to HB1180.

This bill would undo much of the work that New Hampshire has done to recognize and protect the rights of transgender people to exist in the State of New Hampshire. It amounts to nothing more than a bald-faced attempt to sneak anti-transgender policies and bills that were loudly and fiercely opposed by the New Hampshire public in recent years through the back door.

I am calling on the NH House Human Service and Elderly Affairs committee to oppose this bill.

I object to this bill as another unconstitutional attack on a protected group of people. Trans rights are well established in our state and have been affirmed several times over the last legislative sessions. They have been affirmed by the federal government. Using one biological marker as a determinate of sex is just plain wrong. Knowing the sex of someone is a complex system involving the mind and different body functions. Mentally a person knows what sex they are usually by the time they have words for such things. Ignoring that self knowledge is taking away an inherent feeling of that person, violating their personal integrity or wholeness as a person. Saying a person's gender is not who they feel it to be by insisting on an observation by someone at birth gives power over an individual perception to an outside individual. That is opposite from the concept of liberty.

Good Morning Committee Members,

Please see attached Chad's and my formal testimony against this bill. Beyond that, we wanted to ask, seriously, how many times we will have to fight for our daughter's rights to simply play sports? We have to take time off of work and our daughter has to take time off of school to work on our opposition efforts, all just to make sure she can keep having the right to play sports at school. Shouldn't she just automatically be able to pay sports, like every other kiddo out there? It's so sad, so very sad.

Please ITL this one, and beyond that, please stop the ceaseless, and needless attack on transgender girls.

Thank you,
Amy and Chad

Dear House Committee on Health, Human Services, and Elderly Affairs,

I'm a resident of Somersworth and a PhD candidate in Women's, Gender, and Sexuality working on gender in sports. I am also proud to live in a state that specifically protects gender identity as a facet of it's non-discrimination policy.

Defining "sex" in the law as "biological sex" - meaning assigned sex at birth, is extremely limiting. This will cause so much harm, even to cisgender women, who have worked so hard so as not to be defined by our biology - it would be a low blow to have this writen into law. Secondly, this ignores the expanse of possible genders AND biological sex variations of humans.

I am a cisgender woman, scholar, and athlete - please do not use "my protection" as an excuse to legislate against trans women and non-binary people.

Thank you,
Val

Re: Opposition to HB 1180 from Parents of Transgender Girl

Honorable Chair Pearson and Members of the Committee,

We, Chad Turmelle and Amy Manzelli, residents of Pembroke, NH, respectfully request that you vote Inexpedient to Legislate on House Bill 1180, yet another attempt to exclude transgender girls from sports at school.

Like so many, sports are important to our family. Amy's family are third generation Patriot's Season Tickets holders. Amy's Dad is in the lacrosse hall of fame. So, it's important to us that our transgender daughter continue to have the right to play sports with other girls. If this bill is passed, she will never have the right to play sports at school, not at middle school, not at high school, and not at college. She will not have the right to play on the girl's team and she would not play on the boy's team because she is a girl. This would be fundamentally unfair to her. Our daughter should the right to be included in girls' sports.

I wanted to share with you a bit of our daughter's story. While she was assigned male gender at birth, it's clear to us now, that our daughter has always been a girl. Beginning at age three, every year when we asked, "What do you want for Christmas?" our daughter wanted Santa Claus to turn her into a girl. Eventually, as she got older, she wanted her outward identity to match her inner identity. She wanted to wear only girls' clothes, which she communicated to us by making a skirt out of a blanket and begging and pleading to wear it to school. She wanted us to use the female pronoun, which she told me one afternoon when I was being funny by using my bad British accent and calling her "Sir" and she told me she should be called "Ma'am." She wanted a girl's name. And, of course, being a girl, she wanted to and now does girls' sports, when it's not a global pandemic. Importantly, there has been no issue whatsoever with her participating in girls' sports.

These academic years will literally be the most important time in our daughter's life to be able to engage in sport. She, like so, so many of our children, had been isolated from the social and emotional growth of being with her peers for a year. She entered sixth grade, the year when most sports became available to her at school, with an unexpectedly worsening pandemic. Excluding her from the opportunity of sports at this particular time would have a doubly horrible impact on her.

It has been almost six years since our daughter came out, and her identifying as a girl remains consistent and persistent. She has gone through the legal processes to change her gender marker to female and to change her name to a traditional name for a girl. By every legal and medical measure, she is a girl and she is female. Our daughter being female, being a girl, is like the color of her skin or the height she will be when she grows up—an inescapable, inherent characteristic. Our daughter is not a boy pretending to be a girl. Our daughter is not a so-called "biological male", which is simply a made-up phrase used by those who seek to exclude transgender people. She is not trying to get a competitive advantage. She is just a girl.

AMY MANZELLI & CHAD A. TURMELLE

Being transgender means that our daughter is at much, much greater risk of suicide and other grave emotional challenges if her gender dysphoria is not treated. The single biggest part of appropriate treatment of transgender people is inclusion. When transgender children are treated differently than their peers, their risk of suicide and emotional challenges goes up significantly. Excluding our daughter from girls' sports is not only inconsistent with the gender she lives every day, it is also profoundly harmful and results in stigmatizing her and students like her. It sends a message that transgender students should be treated differently and that their participation is unacceptable.

We are so proud to live in a State where many of our daughter's rights as a transgender girl have been recognized and protected. Please don't erode this progress. Inclusion means recognizing a transgender girl's place is with the rest of the girls on girls' teams. My transgender daughter is a girl and should have the same rights as any other girl. The legal community agrees. The medical community agrees. I hope this esteemed Committee will also agree by voting Inexpedient to Legislate.

Please do not make it so that our daughter can never play sports at school.

Respectfully,

Amy Manzelli & Chad A. Turmelle

Subject: Bill HB1180
Importance: Normal

Dear representatives,
Bill HB1180 is fundamentally bigoted and entails false logic. It's supposed to 'protect' cisgender females from transgender females on sports teams because of the rhetoric that trans girls have an 'unfair advantage'; so to speak that trans girls are 'too manly' to participate, which is gender unaffirming on the basis of false information. "Katrina Karkazis, a cultural anthropologist, bioethicist, and co-author of Testosterone: An Unauthorized Biography, says this argument is part of 'a resurgence of biologically determinist ideas,' or, at the least, biology being 'the most important aspect to consider across a range of things' when it comes to determining what is 'fair' in sports.
There is little, if any, evidence, however, that trans girl and woman athletes are a problem in need of a solution. When it contacted two dozen lawmakers sponsoring school sporting ban legislation to name examples of transgender athletes competing on girls' teams, the Associated Press found 'only a few times it's been an issue among the hundreds of thousands of American teenagers who play high school sports.' And the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the International Olympic Committee, and other amateur and professional sports leagues have long had policies that allow trans athletes to compete according to their gender identity" (Vox News).

Furthermore, Dr Nicky Keay, an English specialist in Endocrinology and Sports & Exercise Medicine, has stated via Forth Edge UK that: " Oestrogen is an ovarian response hormone and is released by the ovaries. Oestrogen is a power hormone as it has a wide-ranging role in women's health, particularly bone and cardiovascular health (and is why, when women reach menopause, both bone and cardiovascular health can become more fragile). In the case of insufficient energy availability, young women can effectively become menopausal, with an increased risk of bone stress injuries. In men (and to a lesser extent, women), testosterone supports lean body composition and bone health. Similarly to women, in the case of low energy availability, low testosterone will occur, increasing the risk of injury". So, sex-specific hormones do not determine athletic ability, they just vary between males and females. Testosterone isn't superior to estrogen nor vice versa, the variation is due to females being composed differently to males (ei. More breast tissue, menstruation, etc.). Winning versus losing in sports is the end point of the activity, and becoming a winning athlete is contingent on the quality of training, not the testosterone:estrogen ratio in a person's body. Professional and amateur associations alike understand this. And if sports is about winning, 'winning' student sports would mean ascending to those higher leagues. In that case, why are we demoting our students from those standards and targeting a minority in the process? Clearly this is not about 'protecting' cisgender girls, this is about stopping transgender kids from following their innocent aspirations before they can even start. This bill also supports the argument that testosterone has more power than estrogen, which imposes the idea that males are more athletic than females. In this attempt to 'protect' cisgender girls, this bill actually demotes the concept of their capabilities of being strong athletes.

Please consider rescinding this bill. It’s claiming the existence of a nonissue based on ignorance and it really just endorses transphobia, which is bigotry, this invalidating transgender people’s existence and therefore puts undo harm unto them.

Thank you,
Grace Rakeman

I can’t believe I’m saying this, as I love NH, but I’ll be looking for a home in another NE state if this passes. It’s hard enough to hear the hurtful things that are said to my child at school as it is and to watch the state create policy that backs up the environment that has caused such strife and sadness for our family is utterly heart-breaking. We are all human beings, and this is such hateful, backward thinking. Shame on this state if BB 1180 passes. I’m profoundly disappointed in those of you who have pushed it this far.

Dear Representatives,

I write to you today to fervently call on you to opposed HB1180 that will be up for discussion in your committee on January 31, 2022, at 1pm. This is another blatant attempt on some leadership and citizen's part to convey to people in the LGBTQ+ community – especially the transgender community – that they are not fully people in our state and therefore do not warrant the same rights as all others. This is NOT who New Hampshire is. As a state that loudly proclaims, "Live Free or Die" why would we not enable people to live freely as who they are, as who they have been created to be? We as a state MUST NOT perpetuate the hatred and violence that the LGBTQ+ - especially transgender community – face daily. Misinformation and a sincere lack of compassion do not reflect well on the people of this state.

As a clergyperson in New Hampshire and as a stepmother of a transgender person, I call on you to oppose this bill and stop it in its tracks now. It is a matter of life and death for people in our state. Do your job protecting and creating a free and just space for ALL citizens of New Hampshire.

Sincerely,

The Rev. Kimberly S. C. Hester (she/her)

HB 1180 is abhorrent to those of us who care about our children. It specifically targets trans children at a very vulnerable time in their lives, telling them that their identity is wrong. This is devastating for children and can contribute to mental health issues and self harm. I cannot believe that this bill is even being considered. Do the right thing and stop it. Protect our children.

Members of the House and public of NH,

The introduction of HB 1180 is offensive in the extreme. It is abhorrent that anyone would introduce proposed legislation that is blatantly discriminatory and would endanger individuals both of the Trans community and those they would be forced to interact with. I'm appalled that it would be implied that it was in the "state's rational interest" to recognize a person not by the gender they are currently, but the one they were born into. This asserts that the state is interested in having a woman be forced into a men's restroom and vice versa, let alone the rest of the cited environments, which is the opposite of rational. The sponsors of this bill are either blatantly discriminatory and hostile towards the trans community, or flagrantly ignorant of the medical outcome of gender confirmation procedures, or inept in their ability to draft proper intent in legislation. Either way, they are unfit to hold office and should be removed along with this proposition. There are rational ways to protect members of the trans community and those they interact with before, during, and after transition, and this bill is the exact opposite.

Dear Esteemed Members of the NH House Health, Human Services, and Elderly Affairs Committee:

My name is Kelly Zakar and I reside with my wife in Brookline, NH. I am a pediatric nurse practitioner, in practice since 1997, and employed at Boston Children's Hospital for the last 6 years. As a healthcare provider, I have been painfully aware of the increased mental health burdens, along with isolation, that faces persons who identify as LGBTQ+ and specifically those that identify as something other than their gender assigned at birth.

NH, and the US in general, has made great strides in recognizing that individuals do not always conform to the binary social construct of gender, and when they do, that it does not always align with the gender assigned (sometimes arbitrarily) at the time of birth. While a bill like HB1180 seeks to limit the ability of individuals to identify themselves according to the gender identity that best aligns with their experience, it also completely ignores the number of babies who are assigned a gender at birth when there are ambiguous genitalia or intersex traits.

Creating rules that allow and in fact encourage state entities and private organizations to discriminate against these individuals is a dangerous precedent to set and will lead to nothing but harm to the broadly defined transgender and intersex community in NH. We should be moving mountains to protect the most vulnerable persons residing in our state, rather than putting a target on their backs. I urge you to vote this bill “Inexpedient to legislate” and send a message to NH that hate and intolerance has no home here.

Sincerely,

Testimony Jan. 31, 2022

Hello,
My name is James Marshall and I live in Derry, NH. As a parent of a trans child I am here to add my voice as being opposed to HB1180.

First I want to thank the members for listening and I hope that you will take my testimony to heart.

I do not see any valid reason for this bill to even be proposed, other than to undermine vulnerable children in the state and make them feel even less a person then they are already made. My child had a fairly easy process of coming out to me and my wife, even with that being the case we went through years of depression and wondering if our child would be around for us to love next week, next month or next year. As we proceeded to deal with this transition over the course of many months and seeing doctors we recognized that his depression was lessinging and he became more and more himself. One of the key factors was the support provided by the school system and the state in helping him realize who he really is.
While this bill comes across as fairly innocuous, it isn't. It will do great harm and in the end will hurt human beings for being "different" from the norm. Imagine Stephen Hawking was told that because of his condition, which caused clumsiness and slurred speech at its start, he could not finish his doctoral research. This is not hyperbole, it's to point out that a person is not what he or she appears on the outside, they are made of what is on the inside, in their heart, soul and mind. God made my child the way he is, God made all of us what we are. It is tremendously unfair for the state to introduce laws which limit a person's free will and ability to be, or succeed, at life.

I am somewhat loath to say this given today's climate, but I would urge you all to listen to the majority of doctors, geneticists and other scientists. Such as Dr. Eric Vilain who has stated, along with thousands of other doctors, "there are no good faith reasons to limit transgender women's participation in sports, especially at the high school level."[1] The point is that there is no reason to force a child to conform to the state's demand for some kind of irrelevant conformity. Other studies have point out "... that transgender youth who are gender dysphoric are at an increased risk for anxiety, depression, suicide, and substance use compared to their peers"[2] (emphasis added).

These types of laws and rules, in my opinion, do nothing to protect non-trans people in any way and do so much harm to trans children, both mentally, and just as importantly, socially. It seems rather dystopian that the state would work so hard to ostracize people and contribute to higher suicide, depression, anxiety and substance abuse rates, especially considering the current state of the mental health system for children here is NH[3].

Thank you for your time and I urge you all to oppose this bill.

Thank you

This House bill attempts to allow the state to recognize "biological sex" of original birth certificate, rather than any other documentation. In practice, what this bill attempts to do is undermine the equal protections that were passed for transgender people over the last few years. It is a building block to then discriminate against trans people in all realms. Because it does not actually do anything at this point, and is not even based on any specific transphobia (as bills against sports inclusion are) it is somehow worse, because it's only point right now is to tell transgender people that they are not valid. It's just disgusting. It's also unconstitutional--as an LGBTQ rights lawyer friend pointed out to me, Colorado issued a similar law in the '90s and it went all the way up to the Supreme Court and was deemed to violate the Equal Protections Clause.

February 17, 2022

Representative Pearson and Members of the Committee:

I write in total OPPOSITION at HB 1180 in hopes you will find this potentially harmful bill Inexpedient to Legislate. I realize you all are very busy, but please take the time to really read my testimony.

During the past 5 years I have learned a lot about transgender people because my now 9 and 1/2 year old trans-granddaughter and her mother (my daughter) have taught me. I wish you all had the opportunity to develop the understanding & compassion I now have for all transgender people. My granddaughter & her parents have been able to continue to live in NH because our current laws protect my young, intelligent, healthy, lovely granddaughter. However, transpersons & their families & friends are very afraid because attempts exist to erode their civil-rights (& therefore their safety) further marginalizing them. HB1180 is such an attempt. HB1180 must go no farther; it should end.

I am eager for the day that my granddaughter has all necessary documents that require a gender-marker read “female”, thus acknowledging her authentic gender & her right to be herself.

Any laws which impacts a category of people by a single trait is by definition discriminatory. Such laws have been found to be unjust and illegal.

Sincerely,
Lucinda Hope, M.Ed. (Tilton, NH)

RE: HB 1180

Dear Chair Pearson, Vice Chair Layon, and Members of the Committee,

The Trevor Project writes to express its strong opposition to HB 1180, a harmful bill which would effectively ban transgender youth from participating in school sports and accessing restrooms, threatening their mental health.

The Trevor Project is the world's largest suicide prevention and crisis intervention organization for lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, and questioning (LGBTQ) young people. We work to save young lives by providing free and confidential crisis services via a 24/7 phone lifeline, chat, and text. We also operate TrevorSpace, the largest safe space social networking site for LGBTQ youth, as well as innovative education, research, and advocacy programs.

Our crisis counselors hear from transgender youth every day who tell us how dangerous policies like HB 1180 can be. The Trevor Project's 2021 National Survey on LGBTQ Youth Mental Health found that more than half of trans and nonbinary youth have recently considered suicide - far, far above the national average. Around 1 in 5 reported that they had made an attempt to end their own life in the last year.[1]

These statistics are directly related to policies like the one before you today. The Trevor Project's telephone lifeline and chat and messaging crisis services are routinely contacted by transgender youth expressing the positive impact of sports participation, as well as the heartbreaking effects of exclusion. Denying transgender youth the ability to participate in sports increases the kind of social isolation and stigma that contributes to self-harm and suicide risk. Research from The Trevor Project published in September 2021 found that most

LGBTQ youth don't participate in sports (68%), and many choose not to out of fear of discrimination or bullying for being LGBTQ.[2] Conversely, our data has shown that participating in sports has positive effects, as LGBTQ young athletes reported nearly 20% lower rates of depressive symptoms compared to non-athletes, and more than a quarter of transgender and nonbinary youth (27%) who participated in sports reported their grades as being mostly A's compared to 19% who did not.

Our research in the Journal of Adolescent Health additionally found that trans and nonbinary youth who experienced being prevented or discouraged from using a restroom corresponding to their gender identity had higher odds of attempting suicide compared to those who did not. One trans boy told Trevor's researchers that whenever they go to the restroom, others look at them "weird," laugh, and use the wrong name constantly. Another reported: "When forced to use the girls' room, I experienced frequent harassment and physical assault. I frequently went a whole day without using the bathrooms." Still another said someone assaulted them in their school bathroom and yelled a slur at them. Yet another student restricted his water intake so much that he began to suffer from dizziness and fainting.

But there is good news. Recent research corroborates that supporting trans youth in accordance with their gender identities has such a positive impact on mental health, and is associated with the significantly lower levels of depression and anxiety reported by their cisgender peers. One study found that "allowing children to present in everyday life as their gender identity rather than their natal sex is associated with developmentally normative levels of depression and anxiety."[3] When transgender youth are supported by their families, there is "clear evidence that transgender children have levels of anxiety and depression no different from their nontransgender siblings."[4] Trevor's 2021 National Survey on LGBTQ Youth Mental Health found that transgender and nonbinary youth who reported their school to be gender-affirming reported lower rates of attempting suicide compared to those who did not.[5] Of all the factors associated with positive effects on mental health, one of the consistently strongest was gender-affirming schools - which were associated with a reduction in suicide attempts of 34%. .

Finally, we hope the legislature will keep in mind the effect of its actions on LGBTQ youth mental health directly. When asked how the debate about this legislation is affecting

I write in support of HB 1180. This bill recognizes the determinant for intimate privacy, fairness in athletics and reasonable safety of incarcerated inmates is the physical assignment of sex, whether God-given or artificially constructed. It would assure any NH public entity the ability to execute their necessary functions with recognizing the differentiation. Without providing for consideration of physical sex assignment, the state risks sponsoring or creating environments which foster sexual abuse.

Please favorably find HB 1180 as Ought-To-Pass.

Vote No on HB1180

Below is my 8 year-old granddaughter, Zoe, born Oliver. She is and always was so incredibly funny, clever, confident, kind, generous, fun, and smart. Her coming out was so low key - she just stated calmly and simply, I am a girl. I realized "identify" is not the best word. Zoe doesn't "identify" as a girl (like I might identify as a great singer though evidence shows I'm not) - she is a girl. She told me she is glad to be Zoe because she no longer has to try and find ways to be a girl, she can just be one now. In a few short days, she has taught me to accept myself, to bravely be who I am, not who others want me to be or who I think I need to be to fit in. Her quiet strength and courage are humbling - and I love her to the ends of the universe and time and beyond. She is lucky to have such support from her parents, her extended family, her friends, and her classmates and teachers. But she is the brave and admirable one. Without a supportive environment at her school, where teachers and staff lead students in modeling acceptance and love, Zoe would be at extreme risk for serious and debilitating psychological trauma. HB1180 is a vaguely written bill that should be voted down or it will result in harmful and hateful practices that should be shameful to anyone purporting to promote the equal treatment of all.

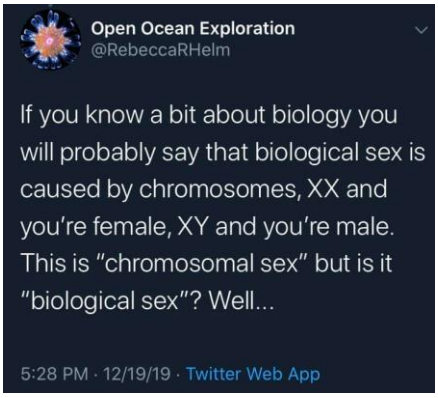

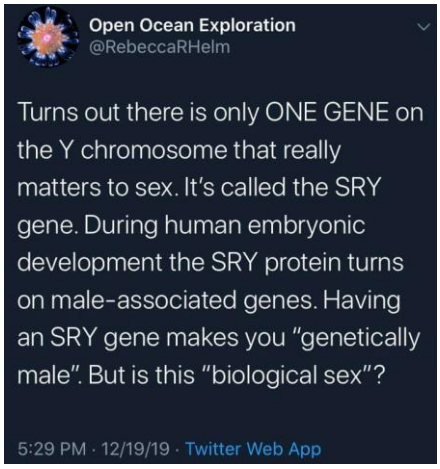

To whom it may concern:

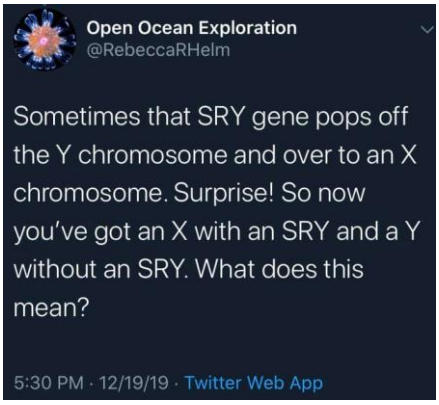

NH HB 1180 is nothing more than a mean spirited attempt to further ostracize and diminish the trans community, as seems to be popular around the country in the past few years. The bill references biological sex and biologically male and female people, but those are meaningless terms. While I am a biologist (BS in biology from WPI, 2000) I don't think I could explain it any better than this Twitter thread below, posted by a professor at UNC. I am firmly against this bill.

It means you may be genetically male or female, chromosomally male or female, hormonally male/female/non-binary, with cells that may or may not hear the male/female/non-binary call, and all this leading to a body that can be male/non-binary/female.

Try out some combinations for yourself. Notice how confusing it gets? Can you point to what the absolute cause of biological sex is? Is it fair to judge people by it?

Of course you could try appealing to the numbers. "Most people are either male or female" you say. Except that as a biologist professor I will tell you...

The reason I don't have my students look at their own chromosome in class is because people could learn that their chromosomal sex doesn't match their physical sex, and learning that in the middle of a 10-point assignment is JUST NOT THE TIME.

Biological sex is complicated. Before you discriminate against someone on the basis of "biological sex" & identity, ask yourself: have you seen YOUR chromosomes? Do you know the genes of the people you love? The hormones of the people you work with? The state of their cells?

Since the answer will obviously be no, please be kind, respect people's right to tell you who they are, and remember that you don't have all the answers. Again: biology is complicated. Kindness and respect don't have to be. [end of thread]

HB1180, relative to the state recognition of biological sex
NH House Health and Human Services Committee
February 22, 2022

Dear Members of the Committee,

102 years ago, the 19th amendment to the US Constitution was ratified, granting women the right to vote. As a woman born in the 1960s, I felt that with my generation women had achieved our full rights in society.

My mother and her peers were severely limited in their fields of study and their career choices. When I reached college, I had the opportunity to study any field I wanted to. I entered the male-dominated field of computer science, earning bachelor's and master's degrees, and I have enjoyed a successful decades-long career in the field. I never experienced any limits on my opportunities.

That changed in the last few years when the New Hampshire legislature passed, and the governor signed into law, bills that strip women of our sex-based rights.

HB1319, "Prohibiting discrimination based on gender identity" was signed into law by Governor Chris Sununu in June 2018. This law makes it illegal to deny men who self-identify as women access to women's public restrooms, changing rooms, or locker rooms. A man can put on a dress and a wig and walk into the Nashua YMCA and strip naked in front of little girls or sit and watch them undress and anyone who tries to stop him risks being hauled in front of the NH Commission on Human Rights.

In July 2019, Gov Sununu signed bill SB263, "anti-discrimination protection for students in public schools" into law, which allows males who identify as female to access female restrooms and locker rooms in public schools and allows males to compete in female-designated sports. This allows men to compete and dominate in women's high school sporting competitions with only their say-so that they identify as female.

On August 18, 2020, Nashua Mayor Jim Donchess raised the 19th amendment flag on the Nashua Citizen Flag Pole in honor of the 100th anniversary of women's right to vote. Two months later, on October 10, we raised the Save Women's Sports flag on that pole, with permission of the City of Nashua, where it was supposed to fly for a week. Early in the morning on October 11, Mayor Donchess sent two city workers to remove the flag because he was offended by the message "Woman = Adult Human Female" on the flag.

The mayor believes that the word "woman" should not be exclusively for adult human females. I would love to ask the mayor "What is a woman?" What could he answer?

As women, we fought our way up from not having the right to vote one hundred years ago to having full rights to pursue our dreams and now we are on a downward slope to losing our sex-based rights and being under the thumb of men who can take away our spaces and our sports, leaving us to settle for whatever crumbs they leave us.

Please vote OTP on HB1180 and help the women of New Hampshire to start to reclaim our sex-based rights.

Concerns and Grievances
On HB1180

Dear House Committee Members,

My name Is Melody Iverson, I am 30 years old and have a B.S. in Chemical Engineering. I'm a proud woman and transgender person, in the past we were known as transsexual because we do our best to live our best human life as the opposite sex we're born. Our Human "Biology" that we all share is a lot more complicated than just the sex we're born as. There are peer reviewed studies into the biological phenomena of "Gender Dysphoria", and we literally are "born this way". I could go into the biology of hormonal womb exposure, or the neuroscience and epigenetics behind fetal brain development, but I'm sure you're already well educated from whatever media source is telling you to think. People usually can't tell that I'm trans as much these days but that should not be a reason for me not to be out and proud for the journey I've taken. This bill is trying to take that from me and every other trans person out there that has taken a similar journey as me. I have gone through the medical gatekeeping, been through the court system to have documents change to match who I am. I'm proud of that, to be able to exist in society and to give back to my community by being kind, respectful, and helpful when I can. It did take me awhile to be proud though and growing up in New Hampshire is partly to blame. I was bullied relentlessly as a kid for being girly, I repressed all of those emotions, and when I hit puberty it only got worse with thoughts of suicidality. Once I got treatment and went through therapy, I started to feel better about myself and my body, and how I fit into society.

Not every trans person's story is the same and I feel like whoever proposed this or agrees with it needs to realize we're not monsters, and maybe get to know us outside of whatever political lens you see through, we're human. Please don't pass this dehumanizing legislature, and do your research and learn some history. We've existed for a long time, even our state's requirement for a gender marker change is wrapped around a dark science of eugenics and disregards one's bodily autonomy. I can't think of one person who'd want to force a surgery on someone else to hold their identity true. The history of trans people is horrifying and if anything of you know it, you will not be passing this dehumanizing legislature that would put feminism, egalitarianism back centuries. Trans Sports are entirely different discussion and this bill is effecting everyone who isn't even participating in them. I'm not unempathetic toward trans people playing sports but I think there needs to be more research for a professional level in some sport if the individual went through a male puberty. CoED sports are usually fine up to puberty, and recreational shouldn't matter. Those are my views and not every trans person is a hive mind, we all have our own opinions and thoughts, please don't pass this legislature especially when there's so clearly negative prejudices that brought its fruition.

Sincerely,

Melody Iverson

HB1180
House Health Human Services and Elderly Affairs Committee
February 22, 2022

Committee Members:

Please vote OTP on HB1180, acknowledging biological reality and providing a foundation to restore sex-based rights for women.

A woman is an adult human female, and a female is a person bearing two X chromosomes in the cell nuclei and normally having a uterus and ovaries. A man is an adult human male. No one can provide a substantially different definition of a woman or a man that doesn't rely on circular reasoning or gender stereotypes.

Sex isn't assigned at birth. Just as there are no other mammals on the spectrum between a ram and a ewe, a bull and a cow, or a stallion and a mare, human beings are male and female, men and women. Except in the rare cases of sexual development disorders, physicians and parents can clearly distinguish men from women with different bodies and different needs based on real anatomical differences.

Until recently, NH recognized that women needed rights based on those objective biological differences. But when Governor Sununu signed HB1319, which forces others to pretend that men are women if they say so, he abolished sex-based rights with the stroke of a pen, and left us without a definition of "woman."

A few years ago, it would have been self-evidently wrong to try to force people to act and speak against reason and conscience in order to spare someone's feelings.

The results have been predictable.

Gender identity laws have quickly made a farce of women's sports as men run away with women's trophies, and women have lost their private spaces, as men enter locker rooms and are sent to women's prisons.

I especially ask the committee to consider the carnage caused by passing laws promoting subjective beliefs about gender; laws that persuade boys and girls that they really can change their sex through chemicals and surgery.

But the almost 26,000 members of the Detrans Subreddit tell a different story. They discuss regrets from being sterilized, having their breasts amputated, having permanently lower voices, and dealing with painful facial and body hair removal because of decisions they made when they were too young to give informed consent or measure the consequences. I urge you to listen to the lived experience of this marginalized and maligned group.

“Children don’t have free will,” detransitioner Laura Reynolds says in her video. “They’ll believe anything. If you tell them they can change their sex, they’ll believe you.”

I beg you to restore biologically based rights for women, help end the mutilation of confused children, and set New Hampshire on a path toward reality by voting OTP on HB1180.

RE HB:1180

To Whom it may concern:

My personal feelings on this matter are of no consequence, and nor should be yours. The aim of this bill is to limit the free speech of a particular class of citizen for no reason beyond their mere existence. The Constitution is very clear regarding the government position on people's most personal decisions. There is no room under our laws for creating an unprotected class of citizen.
There is no reason to assume that there is an elevated threat to any group from a group of people who do not even feel at home in their own skins. Elevated threat doesn't even limit protection except in the most critical situations.

This bill amounts to an attack on the constitution
All people may say who they are. This is the most sacred form of speech. It is not lying to be something that one does not look like.

I am aware it's not part of the constitution, but "certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.--That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed" does not seem to leave room to prevent a group from seeking liberty and happiness. Trans people are among the governed.

I am not sure what the upside of this bill could possibly be. What party is being wronged? How will it be righted?

All Americans have the right to exercise their constitutional rights.
The acknowledgment of rights in the constitution tends toward active rights, things that you can do free of government intervention, such as keeping and bearing arms, assembly. At times it refers to things the government may not do to you.
At no point does it suggest that you will be free of people whose idea of freedom you don't care for.

Thank You

Seth Keller

Dear Legislators,

My name is Melissa Roth Richards. I am a resident of Etna New Hampshire. I write to you today as a woman, a lifelong athlete, former Dartmouth College athlete, a professional soccer player, mother and lawyer. I have played sports competitively and successfully my entire life. This has shaped who I am. But my competitors have always been biological women.

In 1972, Title IX was signed into law. It guaranteed that women receive both equal treatment and equal opportunities under the law. However, today, Title IX is being violated by every institution in New Hampshire that allows biological males to compete unfairly against biological females. This is being done in the name of "fairness" to the trans community, a group of people I have great sympathy for and who need a different solution to participate in athletics. They deserve to be able to compete, but they should not get to do so at the expense of biological females, whose athletic careers will forever be compromised unless Title IX is upheld.

This isn't political. And it is not an exaggeration. This is happening right now and the examples are overwhelming.

In 2016-2017, Cece Telfer competed on the men's Franklin Pierce track team without success. In 2019, Cece won the NCAA championships when competing as a transgender woman.[i] Does that sound right to you?

I grew up in Connecticut before moving to New Hampshire. There, recently two transgender track athletes won 15 state championships and broke 10 state records held by ten different biological girls.[ii] Those two transgender athletes also took away over 85 opportunities to compete at higher level track events that the other biological females missed out on.[iii] Chelsea Mitchell, a biological female sprinter who came in third behind the two transgendered athletes said "[w]ith every loss it gets harder and harder to try again. That's a devastating experience. It tells me that I'm not good enough; that my body is not good enough; and that no matter how hard I work, I am unlikely to succeed, because I am a woman."[iv] Does that sound right to you?

At the Ivy League championships last week, Lia Thomas, a transgender swimmer competing for the Univ. of Pennsylvania won three events and set five Ivy League records. According to Swimming World editor-in-chief, John Lohn, her final 50 yards "appears to be the fastest in history."[v] Despite being an average performer on the men's swim team, Lia is now currently on track to break the records held by Katie Ledecky who won 7 Olympic gold medals, 15 world championships and is widely considered to be the greatest female swimmer of all time. Does that sound right to you?

It is not.

The women these biological men are displacing have worked just as hard, sacrificed as much and have every right to be on the podium with other biological women. This is their time to shine. Except that's not what's happening. What is happening is that biological males are outperforming biological females in sports.

Everyone knows there are fundamental biological differences between males and females and these differences impact athletic performance. The average male is bigger, stronger and faster than the average female. It doesn't take a doctor or scientist to understand this. My 8 year old daughter and my 6 year old son both do – not because it is complicated but because it is so fundamentally obvious.

I think everyone here can agree that Serena Williams is one of, if not the best female athletes of all time. Her max bench press is 225 lbs. Amazing for a woman. Yet, my middle-aged husband can do 90 repetitions of Serena's max bench. Serena said this in a 2013 interview with David Letterman, "If I were to play Andy Murray, I would lose 6–0, 6–0 in five to six minutes, maybe 10 minutes." "The men are a lot faster and they serve harder, they hit harder, it's just a different game. I love to play women's tennis. I only want to play girls, because I don't want to be embarrassed."[vi] John McEnroe underscored this, by saying "Serena Williams would only be ranked 700th in the world 'if she played in the men's circuit.'"[vii] The greatest of all time to 700th? That's quite a difference. Who can claim that there are no differences between males and females and that it is a matter of choice?

My children recently watched a special on Pompeii and the volcanic eruption that wiped the town off the map in 79AD. They were fascinated by what scientists could learn from the human remains they found throughout the city. The first thing that the scientists described was the biological sex of the victims. Gender differences are one of the fundamental, elemental, immutable distinctions in all life on this planet and yet suddenly humans believe otherwise about their own species? That it is a matter of choice? It defies science, but most of all it defies common sense.

I am heartbroken for all biological females forced to compete against biological males and for the young biological girls who will mostly have biological males to look up to as champions. Please do what is just, fair and right. Restore the right for biological women to compete on an even playing field against other biological women, protect Title IX, pass HB1180 and save women's sports.

Thank you.

Hello, my name is Andrew Macpherson and I am wholeheartedly against HB1180. This bill will have disastrous consequences for the transgender community of N.H. if it passes. I should know. I am transgender.

One of the big worries with this bill seems to be around school athletics. Recently, there has been a surge of bills around the country that would limit, or ban, trans kids from playing in school sports. I am a junior attending Londonderry High School and I am arguably on a sports team. I say arguably because my school recognizes horseback riding, or equestrianism, as a club. However, we train, sweat, cry, and bond just like football or soccer. If this bill passes, I no longer hope for my team to be recognized as a sport in the eyes of my school, which would give us better benefits than as a club. If the school kicks me off simply because of my gender identity, they won't face the repercussions according to HB1180.

Now, I know that's unlikely to happen because LHS has a fairly open minded, and student goals focused staff. And riding is unique in that it is not split into men and women categories, simply divided by the discipline and or "class" you choose to compete in.

I am very lucky in that my gender identity won't impact my sport very much. That's not the case for every trans person though. I also did lacrosse for many years, but on a girls team. I was the goalie. I quit because it made me uncomfortable being on a girls team when i knew deep down I was a boy. I love lacrosse and whenever I see it on TV, I wish to return, but on the boys team.

I would also like to share a story with you that happened just a few months ago. I was staying after school for extra help on my science homework when I needed to go to the bathroom. I was granted permission to leave and headed to our nurses office because I am uncomfortable in the girls bathroom and don't wanna get hate crimed for being in the boys bathroom. Well the nurse's had left and locked their door. But I really needed to pee! Mentally, I scanned through all the people who could help me. My journalism teacher from last year could, she knew I was trans. I sped up the ramp to her second floor room only to find her gone as well. I was desperate. I probably had a bottle of water and a bottle of lemonade that day. Now I was super nervous. Would my science teacher get mad I had been gone so long? But I needed to go! I was suddenly reminded of my english teacher who I had come out to only a couple months prior.

I practically ran to her room, taking a deep breath at her doorway before stepping in. I remember what I said so clearly to her: "We have a situation," while rocking back and forth on my feet. I explained and she immediately went to one of the offices at our school, telling me to stay put so she wouldn't out me. She said I was like "a secret agent". She came back a few minutes later and brought me to a teachers bathroom on the second floor. But it was locked. By now, 10 minutes had probably passed and I was losing my precious one-on -one time with my science teacher, as well as bladder space. Thankfully, a janitor rounded the corner and my English teacher practically pounced on her to ask her to unlock it, which she did. I quickly relieved myself, washed my hands, and came back outside to my teacher talking with the janitor. Once she saw me, she immediately said something like, "This is ridiculous that you, and probably other students, only have one bathroom in this whole school you feel comfortable using. I'll be emailing the school right away about this."

About 2 months later, that very same bathroom was declared a gender neutral bathroom. One of two in our main building, with one in our gym building, however I'm pretty sure it's locked. A total of three bathrooms, all in inconvenient places, for a worry free bathroom experience for trans kids at my school. This bill would ultimately force kids to continue, or start, using these bathrooms in fear of being discriminated against. And seeing as it took me about 15 minutes round trip to pee, that would take away from learning big time.

So why make it legal for public places like schools to discriminate against its students? Why have a school face no repercussions for kicking a trans person off a team, from a sport they probably love, just because they are trans? Or forcing a trans kid to use a bathroom across the school because that's the only bathroom where there will be no conflict?

I have lived in N.H. my whole life. And my whole life I knew I was different, but only till a few years ago did I realize why. I'm not going to live a lie to myself just because some people think it's wrong and want to make it legal for funded places, my school, to discriminate against me.

Dear members of the House Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs Committee, and members of the public. I am the mother of a young transwoman. I am a vocal, and active member of my community and a native to the state of New Hampshire. Unlike many of you, I was born here, and grew up here, and decided to move back here to start my adult life and raise a family.

With the bills coming forth in the past few months, this is no longer the state that I grew up in where "Live free or die" originated. If HB1180 is allowed to pass, we may as well change the state motto to "LIVE AS WE PREFER OR DIE".

This bill sponsored by KPO. This bill is blatant discrimination fueled by her hate. She has consistently and routinely proven that she has prejudice and fear of those in the LGBTQ community. Her past actions in Derry, prove this point. She hides behind a shield of "protect the children" and ignores the fact that some children are part of the LGBTQ community. Her actions prove that she only wishes to protect those that are not within the LGBTQ community, those that live lives that she understands and approves of and wishes to suppress all others and remove their rights to "live free" like the rest of us. This bill HB1180 starts to do just that.

When trans people are not able to show the world on the outside who they are on the inside it is not an inconvenience. It is a life threatening situation.

Trans people need to be accepted for who they are. Their survival requires this. Suicide among transpeople is staggering in numbers compared to CIS gendered people, and this isn't because they are unhappy with themselves. This is because they have trouble finding acceptance in families and communities that don't understand them or condemn them, or don't care about them and their community.

If you deny a trans person to change the gender on their birth certificate or their drivers license or on other legal documents, you are denying them the ability to live fully as who they are. This is abusive and wrong.

As a parent of a trans-woman, I watched in horror as the state denied her birth certificate gender change the first time she applied. Do you know what that feels like? For a government to deny a person of who they are? Have you ANY IDEA what it is like to sit in the room with your child while they weep in despair and proclaim that there is no place for them in this world? Have you ANY IDEA what that is like for the parent or the child? Thankfully after submitting more paperwork her second appeal was granted.

The state of New Hampshire has done a lot of backwards things over the last year but this bill is the pinnacle of hate.

If you allow this bill to proceed, all who support it are supporting hate. You are supporting intolerance. You are supporting discrimination.

Please educate yourselves on these issues before you begin to remove rights from a population of people who need our support. Your ignorance on the subject is not an excuse to discriminate.

Do not pass this bill. Do the right thing. Kill it today, do not allow it any more air. If you do not we will no doubt see more bills restricting more people from living their full lives. Worse, people will take their lives and you will have to live knowing that you contributed to their despair.

Do the right thing – OPPOSE HB1180.

Wendy Wetherbee

Derry, NH 03038

I oppose this bill in the strongest possible terms. As a professional diversity and inclusion trainer, with a focus on the LGBTQ+ community, I can say with authority that this bill will literally endanger lives. When transgender and nonbinary people fail to be shown respect and are not allowed to be who they really are, it increases the risk of depression, anxiety, and even suicide. There is absolutely no reason for this legislation other than anti-LGBTQ+ animus. Please please please do not pass this law.

Respectfully submitted,

Rebecca Sanborn, J.D.

Derry, New Hampshire

I have known numerous trans friends whose lives have been saved by being able to change their gender on their IDs. Please reject this, especially considering it comes from Katherine Prudhomme O'Brien, a woman so bigoted and prejudiced against Trans people she will steak trans affirming books from a public library. Her opposition comes not from concern, but hate.

Ladies and Gentlemen of the New Hampshire General Court,

Salutations. My name is Aurora Wetherbee, and I am a resident of Derry, New Hampshire; I am the daughter of Derry town councilor Neil Wetherbee. I am a nineteen-year-old transgender woman, and I would like to testify to the harmful effects that the HB 1180 will have on the transgender community if passed.

If passed, this bill will make it more difficult for trans people such as myself to change their gender legally, as well as force upon trans people the need to identify themselves with their assigned sex at birth. This is something that I cannot allow to happen in my beloved home state. Forcing this identification onto transgender individuals will not only be an act of blatant transphobia (i.e., it will force trans people to acknowledge that "aren't really a woman/man") but will also significantly increase the feelings of gender dysphoria for those trans people who experience it. Gender dysphoria, for those unfamiliar with the term, is the medically significant distress and mental anguish felt by transgender individuals, caused by the mismatch between their physical body and their mentally perceived gender identity. Studies have shown, and I can also anecdotally concur, that increased feelings of dysphoria also result in increased occurrence of suicidal thoughts and tendencies, as well as suicide attempts.

Ladies and gentlemen, if you allow HB 1180 to be passed, it will be perhaps the most dangerous thing that the NH General Court has done for the transgender community in its long and prestigious history. Passing this bill will lead to the suicide of numerous transgender individuals, I can assure you that. When it does the blood of those men, women, and non-binary individuals will be on your hands, in this world and (if you are people of faith, as I am) in the next world as well. Additionally, the passage of this bill will show that the State of New Hampshire is uninterested in protecting the rights of transgender people. I can guarantee that this will lead to increased violent crime against transgender people – assault, homicide, sexual assault, rape – by way of emboldening those who wish to do my community harm. Trans women already are subject to the highest rates of sexual assault and rape than any other grouping of people in not only these United States, but around the entire globe. Again, these attacks, when they inevitably happen after the passage of this bill, will be on your hands as well.

So again, I plead to you: do not allow this bill to pass. This bill will lead to mental anguish, it will lead to death and despair. It will not improve anything in this great state. It will only make our beloved New Hampshire a breeding ground for transphobia, non-acceptance, and worse. All people in this great state are created equally under the law. Why should the state care about what genitals I had when I was born; what change does that make to my education, to my legal interactions, to anything at all? Why should a fully transitioned transgender person who has undergone countless hours of surgeries to realign their body to their mind be forced to relive the trauma of not having been born with the gender they would prefer? Why would the state wish to force this on any person? Trans women are women. Trans men are men. It is as simple as that. I ask humbly that the state allow us to keep these rights we have so recently received under the de facto law. Do not pass this bill.

Sincerely and with great respect,

Aurora Miriam Hawk Wetherbee

New Hampshire HB 1180
"An Act relative to state recognition of biological sex."
Submission in Support by Amanda Stulman
USA Director, Keep Prisons Single Sex
February 22, 2022

Dear House Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs Committee,

Thank you for the opportunity to provide written testimony in support of House Bill 1180.

The mission of Keep Prisons Single Sex is to advocate for maintaining single sex incarceration facilities to ensure the constitutional rights of women and girls are upheld and to protect their safety, privacy and dignity. If biological sex is not recognized in law, preservation of such single sex spaces becomes impossible.

HB 1180 provides that nothing in New Hampshire law regarding issuing state drivers' license documentation "is intended to prohibit any public entity from differentiating between the male and female sexes in athletic competitions, criminal incarceration, or places of intimate privacy, or otherwise to deny or undermine the state's rational interest in recognizing the male and female sexes." (Emphasis added.) That such a law appears necessary in the current climate to protect girls and women is horrifying, but it is the reality.

The failure in law to recognize biological sex over self-declared, unverifiable, mutable "gender identity," has resulted in encroachment by men and boys into spaces we all accepted as single sex since early in the last century. Mixed sex prisons, which exist in multiple jurisdictions in the United States, as well as Canada, the United Kingdom and a number of other countries, have been, as one would expect, a nightmare for incarcerated women.

To share just a few of these stories:

- Hobbie Bingham, also known as Princess Zoee Marie Andromeda-Love, was a registered sex offender who sexually assaulted a preteen girl. After being incarcerated in the State of Washington, based on his claims of "gender identity" he was housed in the Washington Corrections Center for Women. Once there, he was accused of grooming and potentially assaulting a mentally disabled incarcerated woman. https://thespectator.info/2021/11/23/trans-inmate-rapes-mentally-disabled-female-prisoner-at-washington-prison-hotair/
- Andre Patterson, also known as Janiah Monroe, had been convicted of multiple violent felonies, including murder. He strangled a male cellmate with his bare hands.

After being moved to the women's Logan Correctional Center in Illinois, he was accused of raping a female inmate, among other claims of sexual assaults. www.illinois times.com/springfield/transgender-inmate-accused-of-rape/Content?oid=11867999

- After California's law permitting housing to be based "gender identity" was implemented, women have filed a lawsuit alleging incidents of sexual assault. www.latimes.com/california/story/2021-11-24/lawsuit-takes-aim-at-law-that-allows-transgender-inmates-to-choose-housing-location-based-on-gender-identity
- In the U.K., inmate Stephen Wood, also known as Karen White, a repeat rapist, sexually assaulted a woman upon being placed in a woman's prison. www.theguardian.com/uk-news/2018/oct/11/transgender-prisoner-who-sexually-assaulted-inmates-jailed-for-life

More terrifying stories about the men who have opted into women's prisons based on "gender identity" and the women who have been forced to share showers, toilets and sleeping quarters with them appear at usa.kpssinfo.org/case-studies/.

Even non-violent males should not be permitted to use state documents recording self-identifying information as a means to circumvent appropriate sex segregation.

I urge support of Bill 1180 in order to preserve single sex spaces for the benefit of women and girls. In addition to those incarcerated, athletes, those needing access to homeless or domestic violence shelters, hospital wards, public restrooms, gym locker rooms, etc. all are entitled to a space away from men for their safety, comfort, religious freedom, opportunities for athletic success and privacy.

Re: Support for New Hampshire House Bill 1180, Relative to state recognition of biological sex

To the Members of the House Health, Human Services, and Elderly Affairs Committee:

My name is Lauren Adams and I am the Legal Director of Women's Liberation Front (WoLF), a national feminist non-profit organization whose mission it is to advance, restore, and defend the rights of women and girls.

I am writing today to express our enthusiastic support for House Bill 1180 (HB1180), which would clarify that public entities are not prohibited from using biological sex to separate men and women in sports, jails and prisons, intimate spaces, and anywhere else it is relevant and appropriate for public entities to recognize a person's sex.

Men and women have specific innate physiological differences with social implications, including: the unique ability of females (but not males) to become pregnant and birth children, including by rape; the increased vulnerability of females to numerous forms of sexual assault and other assault by males; and advantages associated with male physiology in athletics and other physical activities, including musculoskeletal advantages that cannot be equalized via pharmaceuticals or any other medical treatment.

There are other differences between men and women, including a greatly increased rate of violent crime and sexual crime committed against females by males, significantly increased rate of sexual exploitation of females by males, and certain disparities in employment and education. These population-level sex differences are consistent regardless of other characteristics, including race, religion, and sexual orientation; they are not modified by a person's self-identity as something other than their actual sex.[1]

Sex-specific facilities and services are often necessary for privacy, modesty, religious observance, safety, and redress of historical discrimination and exclusion. Lack of access to such facilities and services limits the ability of women and girls to participate in public life, especially those with religious beliefs about modesty and the opposite sex, as well as female survivors of male violence. As such, outright prohibition on legal recognition of biological sex fails to consider the unique needs of women and girls, which can serve to unduly disadvantage them.

The existing law as written also risks the collection of high-quality vital statistics including data on sex for the purposes of public health, crime statistics, and other necessary purposes. There is no clear purpose to even collecting such statistics if there is no objective basis by which the criteria (in this case, sex) is measured or defined. This bill will ensure that such data collection remains fit for purpose.

While some courts have found that "sex" for the purpose of anti-discrimination laws includes characteristics such as "sexual orientation" and "gender identity," these are distinct and separate concepts. Sex - the distinction between men and women - is not the same thing as who you are attracted to, how you perceive yourself, or whether you enjoy things that are traditionally "feminine" or "masculine." It is

[1] There is significant evidence that the sex differentiation in violent crime rates is not mitigated if a male person identifies as a woman. See Long-Term Follow-Up of Transsexual Persons Undergoing Sex Reassignment Surgery: Cohort Study in Sweden (nih.gov). All available evidence in public records in the national and state prison systems show that trans-identified men commit sex offenses at dramatically higher rates than both women and the general male incarcerated population, thus bolstering the already-established need for sex-separation in correctional facilities. See also CDCR-Response-on-Data-of-Offenders-Seeking-Transfer-to-Female-Facilities.pdf (kpssinfo.org), Transgender Inmate Report from BOP 12/04/2021 | Keep Prisons Single Sex USA (kpssinfo.org) rarely appropriate for the law to recognize differences on these grounds, but conversely it is often appropriate for the law to recognize sex differences. Conflation of these concepts risks protections for each of these groups.

Inconsistency in definitions and in court rulings applying these concepts have led to endangerment and in some cases legal prohibitions against single-sex spaces, which was never the intent of Congress or of the state of New Hampshire in elucidating protections for women and girls in sex discrimination laws. As such, explicit statutory provisions such as those provided in HB 1180 are needed to clarify the terms of prohibitions against discrimination based on sex.

This is a good bill, and a step in the right direction for protecting women and girls in the state of New Hampshire. WoLF urges the Committee to give it a favorable vote. Thank you for this opportunity to testify.

Dear Health, Human Services, and Elderly Affairs Committee:

My name is David Schvaneveldt, and I am a student at UNH Franklin Pierce School of Law. I hope you will consider my statement in support of H.B. 1180.

There are four dimensions along which I believe H.B. 1180 should be considered: ideology, privacy, safety, and equality. I will briefly outline each in support of H.B. 1180.

Ideology. Before proceeding, it is important to distinguish between activists of transgender ideology, and transgender people individually. Many suffering from gender dysphoria are not activists, including high profile transgender persons, and they do not subscribe to, nor wish to be affiliated with, the tenets of "transgender ideology." At the heart of the transgender ideological movement, which serves as the foundation for much of the fervor opposing H.B. 1180, lie radical, metaphysical claims about the human person. At the core of the ideology is the radical claim that feelings, even legitimate feelings, determine reality. Transgender activists say that "trans women are women" rather than that "trans women identify as women." They assert without reservation that people are the gender they prefer to be, and place extreme demands on society to play along with subjective reality claims. This approach is particularly effective because arguments are much more persuasive when they are concerned with who someone is, rather than merely how someone identifies. One transgender activist, Dr. Deanna Adkins, openly argued that gender identity was the true basis of a person's sex. She gave an expert declaration to a federal district court in North Carolina, where she stated:

> "It is counter to medical science to use chromosomes, hormones, internal reproductive organs, external genitalia, or secondary sex characteristics to override gender identity for purposes of classifying someone as male or female."

Another embodiment of this claim can be found in the gender unicorn, which is used by Trans Student Educational Resources to teach this and other concepts to young children. The gender unicorn dismisses the traditional definition of "biological sex," and instead frames biological sex as "sex assigned at birth." According to the Trans Student Educational Resources:

> "Biological sex is an ambiguous word that has no scale and no meaning besides that it is related to some sex characteristics... Instead, we prefer 'sex assigned at birth,' which provides a more accurate description of what biological sex may be trying to communicate."

At its heart, transgender ideology radically redefines the concept of 'biological sex' so that it hinges upon a person's subjectively perceived gender identity, rather than upon objective markers such as DNA and genitalia. Without needing to delve into the metaphysical ramifications of such a claim, (e.g., "how can one's identity with respect to a social construct be determined by biology in a womb?"), one can clearly see the problems that such assertions pose when it comes to public policy. For example, doctors will be prevented from making accurate medical diagnoses if they are required by law to base their judgments on a person's perceived identity rather than the person's biological sex, and girls' sports must be able to distinguish between girls and boys based on their inherent, objective, physiological, sexual differences in order to retain a fair platform for girls to compete.

Transgender activists support these claims by arguing that such claims are necessary to help transgender persons. However, while we may agree that transgender and gender dysphoric people are under a great deal of pain, which should not be dismissed nor considered lightly, it is not conclusive that the ideological claims the transgender activists make actually help transgender people in reality. Gender transition surgery, which is often the goal, cannot guarantee wholeness psychologically. Even when the procedures are successful from a cosmetic and technical level, even in cultures that are relatively 'trans-friendly,' studies show that transgender people generally face poor sociological and psychological health outcomes. There are no conclusive studies that prove otherwise. For example, in 2016 the Obama administration, based on a thorough review of the clinical evidence available, found that there was not enough evidence that gender reassignment surgery led to overall benefits for its recipients. In fact, its report found that many of the studies used to show that transitioning was beneficial for recipients were deficient. Such studies often lacked comparison groups, contained small sample sizes and study times, or no follow-ups. Of the 33 studies reviewed, published results were conflicting, and many studies that did use validated psychometrics did not demonstrate changes or differences in those test results after gender reassignment surgery. The Obama administration could not identify improvement after sexual reassignment surgery. In fact, long-term, validated studies tended to show that after 10-15 years after surgical reassignment surgery, the suicide rate of those who had undergone sex reassignment surgery tragically rose up to 20x that of previous years.

Determining reality is really the heart of the matter at issue. We must ask ourselves whether our policies should operate under a presumption where a person's sex is determined by a person's subjective, and often changeable, gender identity, or where sex is determined based on an objective, observable reality. H.B. 1180 allows for institutions to operate under an objective definition of biological sex rather than an ideologically-based one. Recognizing biological facts about the nature of men and women is not bigotry. Biology is not bigotry. And, as I hope to briefly outline in the next dimensions, there are human costs to getting human nature wrong.

Privacy. Just as a boy who identifies as girl understandably does not want to go to a boy's locker room, it is understandable that a girl would not want a boy in the girls' locker room, regardless how he identifies. Girls, far more than boys, do not wish to be seen by boys when they are in a state of undress, nor do they wish to see boys while the boys are in a state of undress. One of the very reasons that we maintain gender-segregated bathrooms is precisely because many women and girls have legitimate privacy needs, particularly in intimate spaces such as locker rooms and bathrooms. Just as gender dysphoric and transgender individuals should not be forced to share intimate spaces with those with whom they are uncomfortable, women and girls should not feel bullied nor coerced by policies and social pressure to share intimate spaces with someone of the opposite sex, regardless how he identifies.

Just as transgender activists state that overly-rigid social pressures lead many gender dysphoric people to feel uncomfortable and marginalized, and we as a society would do well to carefully consider such complaints, transgender activists by the same token must realize that allowing biological males into intimate female spaces will inevitably lead to the discomfort and marginalization of many women and girls. H.B. 1180 allows schools to address girls' legitimate privacy concerns as well as those who identify as the other sex. Reasonable accommodations such as gender-neutral bathrooms or designated locker rooms can be made under H.B. 1180. However, without H.B. 1180, there is no room for reasonable accommodation, and many women and young girls will have their legitimate privacy needs quashed.

Safety. When males are allowed into intimate female spaces, the safety of women and girls is put at risk. This is not to assert that transgender individuals will perpetrate sex crimes, but that perverts who impersonate transgender individuals will perpetrate sex crimes. There are countless cases of voyeurism, exhibitionism, rape, and other forms of coercive, sexual acts toward women when men are unquestioningly allowed into intimate female spaces. For example, recently in Loudon County, VA, a teenage boy wearing a skirt entered the girls' bathroom at school and sexually assaulted two young girls on multiple occasions before he was eventually charged.

This safety concern is particularly pressing in the cases of our jails. Far too many women have been raped by males who were moved to the women's facilities because they claimed to be women.

When it comes to preventing such heinous and perverted acts, prevention should be our focus. Providing for gender-segregated intimate spaces has historically served as a reliable, preventative tool against voyeurs, exhibitionists, and sexual predators. Arguments that such perversions can be prosecuted after the fact are cold comfort to the women, including women inmates, who are the victims of such crimes. H.B. 1180 should be supported because it allows for institutions to maintain preventative measures that keep vulnerable women and girls safe from sexually perverted actors.

Equality. Lastly, H.B. 1180 allows for greater equality in our public policy. There is a violation of equality when boys compete against girls in sports. Even when boys undergo hormone therapy and other transitions, designed to feminize themselves, boys maintain distinct physical advantages when compared to girls. There is a reason that the women's U.S. soccer team was soundly defeated by a team of teenage boys, that Serena Williams was defeated by a low-ranking men's tennis player, and that there are special rules requiring a certain number of girls to play at all times during coed sports. Men and women are different. These differences carry over even when a man has transitioned. We live in a time where males identifying as transgender females are currently demolishing every single record in women's sports—it is not even close. Female athletes who have trained their whole lives to succeed in their respective athletic endeavors have been forced to sit back helplessly as scholarship opportunities, medals, and other athletic achievements pass them over in favor of transgender athletes. If New Hampshire wishes to preserve female athletes' roles in girls' sports, then it must pass H.B. 1180.

Please pass H.B. 1180. I thank you for your time and consideration in this matter.

Dear Health, Human Services, and Elderly Affairs Committee,

My name is Jess and I am a lobbyist with the New Hampshire Youth Movement from Portsmouth, NH. I am writing to you today to express my opposition to HB1180, which would allow public entities to discriminate against folks based on their perceived gender rather than what they identify as by instating the biological binary.

This bill is extremely harmful to the many folks in New Hampshire whose lived experiences and identities do not align with the biological sex they are perceived as and limit their personal freedoms and bodily autonomy. It is not the job, nor is it the place, of the state to regulate how people express and identify their gender, and this bill is very clearly a discriminatory measure against your constituents that are transgender, non-binary, or genderqueer. It is crucial to recognize the humanity and autonomy of these constituents and this bill does the exact opposite, which is why it must be opposed.

I have many close personal friends who this bill would impact negatively. This bill would allow for public entities to freely discriminate against them based on gender identity, which is against the values of our state. To impose an idea of gender that may be true for some, but is certainly not true for all, is a blatant violation of freedom, and to pass a bill that would normalize this discrimination in government-funded spaces is unacceptable. In spaces such as public schools, community colleges, and prisons, people could be discriminated against despite what it says on their birth certificates and licenses as well.

HB1180 is harmful to public health and freedom. I strongly urge you to take action to oppose it.

Thank you for considering my statement.

Sincerely,

Jess

Hello,

I wish to express my support for New Hampshire House Bill 1180 which allows public entities to use sex to determine placement and eligibility for female-only spaces and activities.

I am a Democrat watching in despair as government agency after government agency pretends that a person's sex cannot be known or is not important.

Our laws must be based on rational, logical thinking and knowable facts. NOT feelings. Do not upturn the social order because there are radical ideologues invested in "queer theory" which preaches that sex is a social construct.

The safety and security of women and girls depends on clear policies on the self-evident fact of sex.

Again, I am a progressive Democrat and I am carefully watching policy developments related to the protection of female only spaces. This will be the ONLY issue that matters to me when I vote in the next election.

I write in support of HB 1180. This bill recognizes the determinant for intimate privacy, fairness in athletics and reasonable safety of incarcerated inmates is the physical assignment of sex, whether God-given or artificially constructed. It would assure any NH public entity the ability to execute their necessary functions with recognizing the differentiation. Without providing for consideration of physical sex assignment, the state risks sponsoring or creating environments which foster sexual abuse.

Please favorably find HB 1180 as Ought-To-Pass.

Good evening distinguished committee members,
I am writing to state my support of HB1180 in order to maintain the difference between sex and gender. Even planned parenthood states sex as being male or female and gender being masculine or feminine. Sex is declared through multiple medical professionals; gender is subjectively defined by the individual. I hope this bill passes in order to protect the health and safety of males and females alike.

Please support HB1180.

Inability to recognize biological sex as a fact in our law is and making a persons sex legally subjective is equivalent to the government codifying an emotional mental state.

Contrary to what you might be aware of Gender Dysphoria is treatable and there is a significant movement of people “retransitioning” back to present as their biological sex after presenting as another sex. There is huge regret in the transgender community and we personally have several friends whose bodies were destroyed by Hormone treatments to appear to be another sex and they are transitioning back.

Additionally, biological males should not be competing against biological women in sports this is a travesty.

Government must not codify subjective mental and emotional states as equivalent with biological fact.

Please support HB1180.

Dear Members of the Committee,

102 years ago, the 19th amendment to the US Constitution was ratified, granting women the right to vote. As a woman born in the 1960s, I felt that with my generation women had achieved our full rights in society.

My mother and her peers were severely limited in their fields of study and their career choices. When I reached college, I had the opportunity to study any field I wanted to. I entered the male-dominated field of computer science, earning bachelor's and master's degrees, and I have enjoyed a successful decades-long career in the field. I never experienced any limits on my opportunities.

That changed in the last few years when the New Hampshire legislature passed, and the governor signed into law, bills that strip women of our sex-based rights.

HB1319, "Prohibiting discrimination based on gender identity" was signed into law by Governor Chris Sununu in June 2018. This law makes it illegal to deny men who self-identify as women access to women's public restrooms, changing rooms, or locker rooms. A man can put on a dress and a wig and walk into the Nashua YMCA and strip naked in front of little girls or sit and watch them undress and anyone who tries to stop him risks being hauled in front of the NH Commission on Human Rights.

In July 2019, Gov Sununu signed bill SB263, "anti-discrimination protection for students in public schools" into law, which allows males who identify as female to access female restrooms and locker rooms in public schools and allows males to compete in female-designated sports. This allows men to compete and dominate in women's high school sporting competitions with only their say-so that they identify as female.

On August 18, 2020, Nashua Mayor Jim Donchess raised the 19th amendment flag on the Nashua Citizen Flag Pole in honor of the 100th anniversary of women's right to vote. Two months later, on October 10, we raised the Save Women's Sports flag on that pole, with permission of the City of Nashua, where it was supposed to fly for a week. Early in the morning on October 11, Mayor Donchess sent two city workers to remove the flag because he was offended by the message "Woman = Adult Human Female" on the flag.

The mayor believes that the word "woman" should not be exclusively for adult human females. I would love to ask the mayor "What is a woman?" What could he answer?

As women, we fought our way up from not having the right to vote one hundred years ago to having full rights to pursue our dreams and now we are on a downward slope to losing our sex-based rights and being under the thumb of men who can take away our spaces and our sports, leaving us to settle for whatever crumbs they leave us.

Please vote OTP on HB1180 and help the women of New Hampshire to start to reclaim our sex-based rights.

House Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs Committee 02/22/22
HB1180 relative to state recognition of biological sex.

Dear House Health, Human Services and Elderly Affairs Committee Members,

I am writing to you today to ask that you support HB1180.

HB1180 would ensure that public entities in New Hampshire are allowed to differentiate between biological males and biological females in athletic competitions, criminal incarceration, and places of intimate privacy, such as bathrooms and locker rooms.

Can we be honest and say that biological males and biological females have different biological attributes that are scientific reality. Regardless of what people do their bodies to portray a gender, their biology is intact in their DNA. Except in the rare cases of sexual development disorders, physicians and parents/caregivers can clearly distinguish biological males from biological females based on actual anatomical differences and DNA. I believe it is necessary for the state to recognize this.This bill will allow for this recognition.
Why should the state recognize this? Because gender identity issues have begun to erase important biological realities that exist. Biological females have fought long and hard for equality with biological males in various areas such as the workplace and sports. NH recognized long ago that biological females needed to have their rights protected especially based upon objective biological differences. Sex-based rights are beginning to erode because of gender expression issues and gender identity laws. We have, with the stroke of legislative pens, allowed gender expression to be confused with biological sex leaving us without clear definitions, or even being able to affirm, that biological males and biological females exist.
And while opponents cry discrimination, this has nothing to do with discrimination and everything to do with protecting the rights of biological females and biological males. Those rights are being eroded by gender identity laws. Gender identity laws have now compromised many biological sex based private spaces. We have biological men now being able to enter women's safe houses and other places meant only for biological females. We have biological males being sent to women's prisons and biological females being sent to men's prisons. Everything is fast becoming Co-ed. There is no longer female sports if biological males can compete against biological females!
We need to restore biologically based rights for biological women and for biological men, and set New Hampshire on a path toward accepting biological reality. You can do that by voting HB1180 as Ought-To-Pass

Thank you,

Judy Aron

HB 1180 is hurtful and unnecessary. As a parent, we all want our children to fit in and thrive, but more than anything we want them to be happy or at least that should be our top priority for our children. Transgender issues may feel uncomfortable and strange when you are first exposed to them. I remember the first time I heard about a friend transitioning, I was surprised and not sure what to think. Later it made more sense as I saw how the work and expense was so worthwhile to finally feel like their gender on the outside matched the gender they felt in their brain. Since then I have gotten to know other people who are thriving as transgender and a friend with a transgender child who loves their child enough to trust them.

If it is really having trangender atheletes that you are concerned with, pay attention to the science. I found this article informative and helpful.

There have always been transgender people through history. Denying them is wrong and dangerous. Please oppose this bill.
