Date:	May 27, 2025
Consent Calendar:	REGULAR
Recommendation:	OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT 2025-2332h

STATEMENT OF INTENT

This bill as amended enhances our anti-discrimination statutes. The state is defending these laws in federal court and these enhancements are intended to address a lower court's criticism. These statutes include provisions such as prohibiting instruction that one's age, sex, race, physical disability, etc. is inherently superior to people of another age, sex, race, physical disability. The bill from the Senate addressed one specific section of the statutes and specified that any violation of the section by an educator must be "intentional or knowing." The amendment adds slightly modified language of HB 50 which passed the House in March. This language reinforces that nothing in the law prohibits discussion by educators of historical existence of ideas and subjects as part of a larger course of academic instruction. It also states specifically that intent of the section is to equally protect all New Hampshire citizens from discrimination, regardless of race. This bill addresses all the major court concerns so should send a message to the federal court and educators in NH.

Vote 9-8.

Amendment to SB 100-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the prohibition on teaching discrimination.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 1 with the following:

2 Discrimination in Public Schools; Prohibition on Teaching Discrimination. RSA 193:40, II-V is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

II. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit discussion by educators or others, as part of a larger course of academic instruction, of the historical existence of ideas and subjects identified in this section, or construed to mean that educators have any positive interest in teaching, instructing, or inculcating discrimination against any group of people.

III. Prohibitions in this section shall apply only to teaching, instruction, and inculcation targeting members of any racial group, including but not limited to, white people or people of European descent, black people or people of Sub-Saharan African descent, or Hispanic or Latino people.

IV. A report of intentional or knowing violation of this section by an educator shall be considered a possible violation of the educator code of conduct which shall justify investigation and potentially disciplinary sanction by the state board of education.

V. Any person claiming to be aggrieved by an intentional or knowing violation of this section, including the attorney general, may initiate a civil action against a school or school district in superior court for legal or equitable relief, or with the commission for human rights as provided RSA 354-A:34.

VI. Discrimination shall not be justified by special considerations for any racial group. The intent of this section is to equally protect all New Hampshire citizens from discrimination regardless of race.

VII. For the purposes of this section, "educator" means a professional employee of any school district whose position requires certification by the state board pursuant to RSA 189:39. Administrators, specialists, and teachers are included within the definition of this term.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

2025-2332h

Recommendation:	INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE

STATEMENT OF INTENT

The minority of the committee finds this bill with its non-germane amendment Inexpedient to Legislate and a near carbon copy of the non-germane amendment that was attached to the originally-filed, HB 50 that was an attempt to repeal the law around divisive concepts that has been deemed unconstitutional. Yet, again, this legislative attempt to stifle free speech, as easily demonstrated, will undoubtedly send a chilling effect into classrooms where teachers fear their credentials are at risk by there being a mechanism for mere speculative reports of a "violation" in teaching the honest history of painfully complex topics like racism. The lasting effects of racism on and in communities have taken hold for generations and exist still today. This bill takes things another step further by refusing to acknowledge that certain groups have historically had disproportionate access to funding, resources, access to the ballot box, and other rights delayed or still not afforded to them. By failing to acknowledge this, we do an injustice to the work and progress many communities have made in seeking equality under the law.

TESTIMONY

* Use asterisk if written testimony and/or amendments are submitted.

- Rep. Glenn Cordelli -- Prime Sponsor of Amendment *2025-2332h
  - The amendment adds HB 50 information; HB 50 passed the House.
  - A court case is before the First Circuit Court.
  - This bill attempts to address the concerns addressed in the courts.
  - The one change from HB 50 is in Section II. "Nothing in this..."
  - It adds "or construed to mean..."
  - Section II adds "shall" and other places add "knowingly" in order to address the 'vagueness' the court found.
  - These are attempting to clarify. Teaching discrimination is divisive.

Q: Rep. Peggy Balboni -- What does line 24 on page 1 address?
A: As in current law, all groups are to be treated equal. This addresses some issues in the court comments.
Q: What are "special considerations"?
A: Some courts have given certain groups special consideration.

Q: Rep. Megan Murray -- Haven't some groups been disadvantaged due to racism?
A: Yes, this is not an attempt to dismiss historical facts.
Q: 'Special considerations' is vague. Would it lead to some people losing benefits?
A: All should be on the same playing field.

Q: Rep. Bryan Morse -- Would it prohibit discussion of race issues?
A: No.

Q: Rep. Loren Selig -- What about Jim Crow laws and their ramifications?
A: As part of a larger course of instruction, it should be fine.
Q: Would further discussion violate this bill?
A: Hopes it would lead to good classroom discussion.

Q: Rep. Lisa Freeman -- This teaches all of history, not just one side?
A: Yes.

Q: Rep. Balboni -- Would anything prohibit using factual information, lead to violations?
A: No, doesn't think so.
Q: Why is a report leading to an investigation?
A: It just triggers an investigation.

Q: Rep. Murray -- What happens if someone accidentally oversteps?
A: Doesn't recall the specifics of the example.
Q: Schools have become more segregated because of long-existing historical trends. Would that be objectionable?
A: An impact on today is part of the larger instructional picture.

Q: Rep. Melissa Litchfield -- What prompted the original legislation?
A: Concern about discussions going on in schools, some teacher trainings.

Q: Rep.Patricia Cornell -- Does any report trigger an investigation?
A: Could be a student, parent or someone else.
Q: Could be a Facebook post?
A: That shouldn't be a serious report.

Q: Rep. Murray -- Are teachers removed during an investigation?
A: Investigation first, then potential action.

- Rep. Timothy Horrigan -- Opposes the amendment
  - This subject has been in legislation for a number of years.
  - Legislation like this is not helpful.
  - We need to teach the truth - the good parts and the bad parts, regardless of what is happening on the national level.
  - Supports HB 50 as it was first introduced, not as an amendment.
  - Or ITL this bill.

Q: Rep. Litchfield -- Is it appropriate to teach children to be guilty for something they have/had nothing to do with?
A: Teach the truth. Lying doesn't make anything better.

Q: Rep. Valerie McDonnell -- Is there anything in this bill prohibiting speaking up of historical experiences?
A: The language in the bill is nice, but vague.
Q: Is your primary objection how language can be construed?
A: Supposes so. Feels better to delete whole bill.

Q: Rep. Bryan Morse -- Has slavery only existed white over black?
A: In US history, it was. People should know that.

- Ian Huyett, Attorney, Cornerstone, Manchester, NH -- Supports the amendment
  - Has followed litigation on this area, has a few suggestions to make it stronger, but feels its a good bill that should stand in court.
  - No attorney has yet said only one change could overcome the court rulings.
  - This bill has done something for each of the courts' issues.

Q: Rep. Selig -- Who do you represent and what purpose?
A: Cornerstone; has worked on this issue.

Attorney Huyett went through the bill, pointing out the places where it addressed issues brought up by the court. Lines 12-15, 18-19, and 24-26.

Q: Rep. Murray -- What about Affirmative Action?
A: Repudiates and addresses supposed ambiguity.

- Ann Marie Banfield -- Supports the amendment
  - No one has issues with teaching the facts of history.
  - The problem has been the interpretation, putting the blame of the past on the present students.

Q: Rep. Morse -- What happens when a child is taught blame?
A: It has a negative emotional impact.

Rep. Margaret Drye

TESTIMONY

* Use asterisk if written testimony and/or amendments are submitted.

- Senator Tim Lang – Prime Sponsor
  - This bill concerns the 'Divisive Concepts' Law, which was ruled unconstitutionally vague (1924).
  - It adds three words to clarify: "intentionally or knowingly".
  - It puts the onus on the state to prove that someone intentionally or knowingly taught the concepts in the RSA.

Q: Rep. Steven Woodcock -- If I teach about the KKK, would that be a violation?
A: No, that would be history.

Q: Rep. Loren Selig -- If I teach a health class and say any gender is fine (not better), would that be discriminatory?
A: As long as it is not knowingly discriminatory as opposed to factual.

Q: Rep. Muriel Hall -- Do you think it is happening?
A: Yes, and parents have been concerned.

Q: Rep. Megan Murray -- Are teachers afraid to teach certain subjects?
A: No, and if they shouldn't be if they are just representing historical fact.

Q: Rep. Peggy Balboni -- The Department of Education explanation is vague. Where is the line between discussing and discriminating?
A: If you put things in context historically, that shouldn't be a problem. Remember, this is already law. It is to clear this up that the bill was written.

Q: Rep. Murray -- What about current events?
A: Teachers are able to make decisions on where they may cross a line and should back off.
Q: Can you give me an example?
A: No -- just look at the tenants in the bill and law.

Q: Rep. Lisa Freeman -- Does this also include religion?
A: Yes.
Q: So teaching about something is different from picking sides?
A: Yes.

Q: Rep. Selig -- Specific parental complaint?
A: A teacher inappropriately making a judgment about who was 'right' or 'wrong' in an argument about Israel/Palestine.
Q: Can a teacher say racism is wrong?
A: Yes.

Q: Rep. Murray -- Will this be challenged again?
A: Guaranteed.

- Ian Huyett, Attorney, Cornerstone, Manchester, NH -- Supports the bill
  - After the law was passed, Cornerstone assisted parents making complaints.
  - About the specific text: adding the three words is good and addresses the mental state, but may not overturn the judge's ruling
  - That the law is not clear about some arguments.
  - The DOE did not investigate any complaints.
  - The law is not being enforced. We need to get the law up and running and also get it straight who enforces it.

Q: [No name listed] Why this confusion?
A: Department of Justice thinks Human Rights Commission must come first. RSA says a violation can be remedied by Human Rights Commission or DOE. There are two enforcement methods. The Human Rights Commission has a long backlog.
Q: Was there a private right of action?
A: Yes.

Q: Rep. Balboni -- Has Cornerstone had clients in this arena?
A: Assisted, but did not act as attorneys.
Q: Specific example?
A: Material about 'white privilege' on school website.

Respectfully submitted,

Rep. Margaret Drye
Clerk

Deb Baker

This has already been ruled unconstitutional. Don't try to sneak it back in. Discrimination not only happened, it is still happening: see all the anti immigration and anti trans bills you people wasted time and money passing this year. Ordinary NH citizens do not want to deny history nor do we want you discriminating against our friends and neighbors in our names. We want you to fix the housing crisis, protect our kids from getting cancer from our water and asthma from our air, and lower our electricty costs. Could you try to focus on what the people who elected you want and stop making shit up? Thanks.

Marian Baker

As a retired High School science teacher in NH, I am opposed to telling history teachers to teach only part of our true history.
Allow them to teach the truth. (both the good and the bad things we have done in history).
e.g. How can we teach that there never were or are Indians in our state, when most of our mountains ,lakes, and rivers have Abenaki names.? Or to teach that there never were blacks or slaves in our state, yet there were a number of blacks who even fought for us in Bunker Hill , and even the escaped slave of Martha Washington fled to live freely in our state that has a motto of Live Free or Die?

Mary Lincoln

I want my grandchildren to learn the true and accurate history of our country. This bill is a thinly veiled attempt to codify the "divisive concepts" law that has already been ruled unconstitutional in federal court. Why are we wasting state resources on passing and defending blatantly unconstitutional laws? Censorship is unamerican.

Blossom Dodge

I’m writing to respectfully urge you to vote NO on SB 100, which would amend existing state law to further restrict how certain concepts related to discrimination can be taught in New Hampshire’s public schools.

While I fully support the principle that no student should be compelled to adopt discriminatory beliefs, I am deeply concerned that SB 100 will have harmful consequences for students, educators, and the integrity of our classrooms.

My concerns include:
It chills honest, inclusive education.
SB 100 may make educators reluctant to teach about historical injustices—such as slavery, segregation, women’s suffrage, or civil rights—out of fear that they could be accused of "inculcating" or "compelling belief." Students deserve a full, accurate education, not one that tiptoes around uncomfortable truths.

The language is vague and open to misuse.
Words like “taught,” “inculcated,” and “compelled to express belief” are subjective and could be applied unevenly. This invites complaints or legal threats based on disagreement or misinterpretation, not actual misconduct.

It restricts teacher autonomy and academic freedom.
Educators are trained professionals who already follow ethical standards and curriculum frameworks. SB 100 sends a message of distrust and may discourage passionate, thoughtful teachers from remaining in the profession.

It harms students from marginalized communities.
When conversations about race, gender, and equity are limited or silenced, it sends the message that some students’ histories and identities don’t belong in the classroom. That can impact their sense of safety, engagement, and belonging at school.

Existing laws already prohibit discrimination.
We already have strong legal and professional safeguards to prevent bias in schools. SB 100 is redundant and risks becoming a tool for politically motivated censorship, rather than genuine educational improvement.

New Hampshire students deserve to learn in classrooms that encourage curiosity, critical thinking, and compassion—not fear and silence. Please vote NO on SB 100 and support our educators’ ability to teach the full truth, without restriction or intimidation.

Cora QUISUMBING-KING

SB 100 would prevent the teaching of true history and is an attempt to codify the “divisive concepts” law (which NH courts ruled as unconstitutional).

Please oppose SB 100. It is important to know the history of the USA so we can learn from it.

Thank you.

Dorothy Bauer

Eliminating events from the teaching of US history does not mean they did not happen. It is not for the legislature to determine what should be taught, especially when motivated by whitewashing the challenges of our history that led us to where we are today. If we don't understand the past we are doomed to repeat it. Oppose this bill.

Barbara Pugh

This harmful bill would prevent the teaching of true history and is a thinly veiled attempt to codify the “divisive concepts” law, a law which NH courts ruled as unconstitutional. I urge all committee members to oppose this bill.

Danielle Alley

SB 100 is a harmful bill that would prevent the teaching of true history and is a thinly veiled attempt to codify the “divisive concepts” law (which NH courts ruled as unconstitutional). Please stop wasting taxpayer money and time on these bills that will be challenged in court (at taxpayer expense) and overturned anyway. Do some real work for the people of NH. Thanks.

Jacqueline Larochelle

Teachers should be teaching reading, writing, mathematics and science not DEI. Test scores are plummeting as schools have focused on indoctrination and not education.

Jeanie Holt

Teachers must be able to accurately represent our histories, both good and bad, without fear of professional or personal reprisals.

Maureen Redmond-Scura

DEI stands for diversity, equity and inclusion. It is mind boggling to me that somehow this has become a negative quality. I remind members of the study of orchestras. Upon noticing that there was little variety in musicians, orchestras began doing blind auditions, focusing only on the quality of the performance. Lo and behold, they started hiring more diverse musicians, while IMPROVING the level of the music. DEI is NOT about giving undeserving people something, it is about allowing EVERYONE to have the same opportunities.

Emily Einhorn

It is imperative that our students learn history as decided by the educators are not politicians.

Chrisinda Lynch

Female

Laurie MacKenzie

Allow teachers to teach history.

Terry Carter

If you were paying attention in history class, you will know that a notorious national leader wanted to ban all sorts of books, eliminate people unlike himself from his country, and exterminate those he thought unfit. Is this the true history you don't want taught in public schools?

That history is repeating itself in Concord, right now.

"Divisive Concepts" is the defining characteristic of this session so far. You have an opportunity to change that. Vote NO on SB 100.

Shea Flanagan

This bill is unconstitutional. It is imperative that our students learn history as decided by the educators are not politicians.

Melissa Crotto-Young

This bill would keep in place the unconstitutional limitations on teaching complete and honest history.

Cynthia Vascak

This bill supports discrimination, racism, exclusion, and imposes a political agenda on the development of unbiased and fact based educational curriculum. The potential harm in such a bill is exponential. The bill also prevents informed understanding of critical social and historical issues that can inform understanding and awareness of the multiple concerns and victimization that occurs across the many different forms discrimination. Such a bill does not support a pluralistic and diverse community not equity and justice for all.

Patricia Anastasia

This bill supports teaching incomplete and thus untruthful information. The language is subjective and will create problems.

Kathryn Ess

We will continue to repeat the past if we can or learn from it. We cannot learn from the past if we do not seek the truth. If we do not seek the truth, then we are lying not only to ourselves but to our future generations.

If you are too ashamed to face the past, work harder to stop it from repeating.

Tammy Ciminesi

I strongly oppose this bill. If we do not learn from history, then we are bound to repeat it. We are fortunate to live in a State that values independence and personal responsibility. One must be informed in order to make meaningful decisions. History is messy and imperfect, just like people. And we must teach all of it, so that we can learn from our mistakes, and do better “next time”. At least, that’s how I was raised here in NH.

Carla Billingham

I oppose this bill. Screening for and then removing historic events that make some people uncomfortable does not alter what happened. It guarantees that history will repeat itself. Or is that the end game of this bill?

Megan Kilar

This is another attempt by the legislature to control what is taught in schools. Local school boards should handle these matters, not the legislature.

Betty Lane

This bill would hamper teachers from using credible sources to teach all of our state and country's history. We should not try to define concepts within in law, but rely on a teacher's education and integrity to be sensitive to all of their students when teaching history or any other subject.

James Hiltz

This bill has been twisted from its original intent, to repeal the frankly unconstitutional "banned concepts" bill, to simply try and circumvent other deterrents and push our government into punishing teachers for pushing back against the limitations on them actually educating students on a complete and honest history of our country. It seems that the sponsors of this bill would rather use legislative trickery to try and force their beliefs on our school systems, rather than actually consider what the laws currently say about such matters, to force their own view of history on students rather than looking at things objectively.

Susan Richman

This bill would make the teaching of history subjective. Who would have the authority to decide what can and cannot be taught? This is a slippery slope.

Tom Reichheld

Keep the government out of telling our schools what to teach

John Walthour

Don't teach discrimination; this isn't the 1800s anymore.

Kristin O'Day

I strongly oppose this bill

Paul Lutz

This bill is nothing more than attempt to codify the “divisive concepts” law (which NH courts ruled as unconstitutional. As elected officials, you have the duty to comply with the ruling of the court

Anne Grossi

The NH legislature already tried the divisive concepts bill and it was thrown out by the courts. This bill is a second attempt to try to change the teaching of an accurate history of our country.

Susan Moore

SB100 keeps unconstitutional limitations on teaching complete and honest history. Our students don't deserve to be taught half-truths. I urge you to OPPOSE SB100.

Perfect.

Stefanie Griffin

This bill is unconstitutional.

Gayle Henderson

Leave our children alone

Anne Eiseman

I strongly oppose this bill. This limits the honest and complete teaching of our history. It is so important to teach all aspects of our history. We will never learn from the past if chunks of uncomfortable information are left out. Black history and women's history is American history.

Brett Gibson

I am a voter and constituent of NH that pays attention to voting. As an educator, I am upset that your body would consider limiting teachers from honest discussions, such as our past history of structural racism. This reminds me of when the Fascists came into power in Nazi Germany and to consolidate their power they had to pass similar legislations to limit free and independent thinking in favor of introducing teaching that favored racism, antiseminism and an authoritarian state. Is the land of the free going to follow suit? I hope not.

Tye Thompson

Dear members of the committee

I am opposed to this bill.
We need to be able to understand the fullness of our history to be able to manage the moments of today with greater effectiveness.

Respectfully
Tye Thompson
Nottingham, NH

Martha Pitt

We need to learn from our history.. We cannot learn from history if we seek to erase it and alter it. Facing the wrongs of the past, admitting that mistakes have been made and striving to better only shows a government and a nation that is brave, strong and confident. Pretending that mistreatment of people in the past didn't happen doesn't make it not have happened. The people of this country, the school children learning our history deserve better, all of us deserve better. There is no reason to hide the truth and the truth can be told without damage to young minds. Let us do better, the time is now.

Martha S Pitt

We need to learn from our history.. We cannot learn from history if we seek to erase it and alter it. Facing the wrongs of the past, admitting that mistakes have been made and striving to better only shows a government and a nation that is brave, strong and confident. Pretending that mistreatment of people in the past didn't happen doesn't make it not have happened. The people of this country, the school children learning our history deserve better, all of us deserve better. There is no reason to hide the truth and the truth can be told without damage to young minds. Let us do better, the time is now.

Megan Hughes

We should be able to handle difficult subjects in education. Coddling students with the idea of sugar-coating history does no one any favors.

RUTH STUART

History is history; good education teaches all concepts with an open mind. Don't restrict what can and can't be discussed in a classroom. Good ideas will stand the test of scrutiny...bills like this stifle wide ranging discussions.

Elaine Bouchard

We need our children to know the truth about our history and not try to cover it up by ignoring parts that we don't like. I severely oppose this bill!

Not only should there be no penalty, there should be no law preventing discussion of discrimination.

melinda stucker

All history must be taught and discussed in a democratic country. NH - what kind of country do you want to be a part of? I want to live in a free country and NOT be told what is true by someone who fears the truth!

Nancy Miles

I strongly oppose this bill which would be harmful to our students' education. Students must have actual true history taught in our schools. This bill would prevent the teaching of true history and is a thinly veiled attempt to codify the “divisive concepts” law (which NH courts ruled as unconstitutional).

Kathy Starke

I oppose this bill.

Leane Garland

The Court has already ruled that laws like this one are unconstitutionally vague and unenforceable. We don't need another similar law. We should let skilled teachers teach an accurate and complete history of our country, without threat of penalty. Please vote ITL on SB100 and all similar bills.

Barbara Callaway

This bill would prevent the teaching of true history and is a thinly veiled attempt to codify the “divisive concepts” law (which NH courts ruled as unconstitutional.

Claudia Gibson

This bill would prevent the teaching of truthful information about our past — why shouldn't we learn from our mistakes (though we would first have to recognize them)? On the other hand 'hiding' information is a very good way to motivate the young to suspect and ignore their elders.. Bills such as these could give rise to a new generation of investigative historians and journalists…

Shirley Montgomery

I oppose this bill. I believe this bill would prevent the teaching of true history and is an to codify the “divisive concepts” law (which NH courts ruled as unconstitutional)."

mollie allen

I oppose SB 100; who ever heard of prohibition of history. NH is going too far.

Sharon Racusin

HISTORY IS FACT. whether people like it or not. And how quickly we forget it. This bill is harmful and buckles to the divisive concepts law that is unconstitutional.
ITL

Robert Drysdale

This is the reincarnation of "divisive concepts." The Supreme Court has already ruled that unconstitutional.

Francesca Heap

Please oppose SB100. The language of the bill is confusing, and Section III only lists certain ethnic groups, which is ironically discriminatory itself.

Lois Cote

As a 78 year old nearly lifelong New Hampshire citizen, I am appalled by how twisted and corrupt the legislative process seems to have become in allowing this disgusting non-germane amendment to totally obstruct the clear intentions of the original Senate bill. I am also disgusted by the initiation of such a n amendment in the face of the court decision on the law that is meant to be repealed by the original SB 100. Please remove the amendment and restore SB 100 to its initial purpose. I know you people are allowed by branch of legislature to set your own rules, but this kind of thing leads us far astray from the reasons the majority of New Hampshire voters elected you all to office. I hope those of you who persist in these shenanigans will one day stop these stunts and power plays and get to the business of the people - affordable housing/severe supply deficits: severe childcare deficits/high, costs, grossly dysfunctional state funding for public education, and increasing environmental and climate threats to our health and well-being and that of future generations. PLEASE DON'T SUPPORT THIS UGLY NON-GERMANE AMENDMENT

Laura El-Azem

Please keep teaching Critical Race Theory out of our public schools.

Lisa Wallin

I support amendment #2332h to SB100.

Barbara Mack

I am asking you to restore the law by requiring agency enforcement and appealing the federal district judge's ruling.
Thank you.

Donald Mack

I am asking you to restore the law by requiring agency enforcement and appealing the federal district judge's ruling.
Thank you.

Again, I'm uncomfortable with some of the language used in this bill as a way of placing unfair draconian restrictions on teachers.

James Chapman

Stop making teachers jobs harder than they already are. Do you really want to whitewash history and graduate children who are ignorant of the facts. Those who try to erase history will be condemned to relive it. Prejudice and bigotry have no place in the supposedly "United" States. You will perpetuate the Divided States.

Ann Yenchick

There is no need for this. Please use your time on more important policy needs.

Mary Wilke

The banned concepts bill is unconstitutional. Instead of trying to tweak away its fundamental flaws, I ask you to turn your attention to real problems, like the inequities in educational opportunities that result from our over-reliance on property taxes to fund our community public schools.

Lyn Lindpaintner

I oppose this non-germane amendment to SB100 in the strongest terms. This attempt to return this discredited provision to state law must be stopped. The so-called " divisive concepts" has been found unconstitutional. It is vague and therefore has a chilling effect on teachers' as they cannot be certain when a line is being crossed. It is a misguided attempt to ban potentially uncomfortable topics from the classroom, the antithesis of pursuit of knowledge. Trust teachers and support their professional judgment rather than trying to muzzle references to simple reality. Thank you for opposing this a amendment.

Pam Mueller

I oppose the non-germane amendment which brings back “banned concepts,“ already labeled unconstitutional by the courts. Please spend your time on more lawful bills.

Karen Bemis

This bill adds language adds language very similar to the House-passed version of HB 50.

Susan Orkin

This is for non germane amendment

Jean Lewandowski

The language of this is vague, the intent grossly discriminatory, and the effect would be harmful to children. I'm grateful my grandchildren are in a state where they can talk about their moms at school without causing problems for their teachers. NH children deserve the same respect.

Chrisinda Lynch

Female

Meryl Carmel

There is no place for this ban. Unconstitutional!

JoAnn Martin

This ammendment would make it nearly impossible to prove violation of this prohibition. It is very easy for someone to say it was unintentional or accidental. How can you prove or disprove that? This is a nonsensical ammendment.

Rebecca Powell

Students must learn how discrimination has affected the lives of so many Americans. We learned that history in school when I was young, and it never made me feel guilty or to blame--it just helped me learn how to treat other people. Thank you.

Sandra Bothmer

The banned concepts law was ruled unconstitutional already, therefore, attempts to make it passable should be opposed. Please oppose this bill.

Caroline Siecke

Don’t pass unconstitutional laws

The banned concept laws was ruled unconstitutional. No amount of tinkering will make such a foolish fit with a Constitution that explicitly outlines the right to free speech for all citizens. We need to stop attempting to rewrite that law and repeal it.

Ellen Kittle

Let teachers teach without fear! They have enough to worry about without being harassed with “divisive concepts” witch hunts

Leah Roumanis Van Ryen

I strongly oppose this bill and limiting teachers a further on their ability to discuss important topics of our generation such as race, gender, identify and disability. Our teachers do not need to be micro-managed by the government any further. Let them teach freely!

Martha A Hunt

There is no way that this bill can be resurrected in a meaningful way that does not negatively impact accurate teaching of multiple subjects. I did not support the original bill. I support the court decision. Lawmakers need to let this vague harmful bill go.

Robert Drysdale

The Banned Concepts law was ruled unconstitutional for good reasons. Why keep trying to revive it?

Denise Clark

Clearly, the NH Senate is trying to revive the banned concepts law, which was ruled unconstitutional. Even with SB 100, the concept of "Banned Concepts" is still unconstitutional.

Giana Gelsey

“Banned concepts”, no matter how you try to write it or where you try to unethically slip it in, are still unconstitutional.

Just repeal the stupid law and stop this baloney.

I oppose this non-germane amendment.

Sarah Colombo

This amendment is unacceptable.

Leanne Shang

I oppose this bill

Toni Sayce

I oppose this bill.

Edward Sayce

I oppose this bill

Holley Daschbach

This bill will in no way serve students of New Hampshire. Education is about learning a broad range of concepts not about restricting speech and ideas. NH is better than this.

Elizabeth Barbin

Still unconstitutional!

Marjorie Barton

We ask you to SUPPORT SB 100 with Amendment #2332h
Thank you!

Eve Kornhauser

It is outrageous to think of teaching history without including discrimination - this is part of our country's legacy, for good or for bad, and is necessary for understanding our past and correcting it.

Lynn McRae

Good morning NH House Education Policy and Administration committee,
I am firmly opposed to SB 100 and you should be, too.
This bill, especially with its non-germane amendment, is nothing more than a "Free-Stater" carbon copy re-write of bills introduced in other states by so called 'freedom' advocates.

It appears some NH lawmakers have been unable to accept the fact that the so-called ‘banned concepts’ law was ruled to be unconstitutional, so they keep coming up with new ways to re-write it, in hopes of bringing it back to life. And now they’re tinkering more by introducing a "non-germane" amendment to the bill.

To be blunt: the only way to fix the banned concepts law, which limits how teachers can discuss with students issues such as race, sexual orientation, gender identity and disability, is to repeal it.

VOTE NO on SB 100. NH voters care about how our elected officials 'behave' in office and WE VOTE.

Thank you,
Lynn McRae, RN, BS Ed., MALS Dartmouth
Lyme

Nancy Jerauld

There is no way to save the unconstitutional “banned concepts” law. Vote NO.

Susan Stevens

I oppose this bill. It is a gag order on teachers and it is unconstitutional.

Nancy Miles

I urge you to oppose this bill. Similar bills before this have been declared unconstitutional and this bill should be opposed also.

Carole Mullarkey

This bill harms our children's right to learn. Children, families, teachers, librarians and all citizens need access to all sorts of materials to develop knowledge and analytic skills. It is already very easy for a a family to ask for an alternative reading assignment if they have a concern for a certain book. It took me one simple email request to change my child's assignment.
Furthermore, I believe this bill will result in the loss of more educators in NH. We are already struggling to hire staff.

Kimberly Masucci

I oppose this strongly.

Jacquelyn Benson

New Hampshire's "divisive concepts" law, which this amendment attempts to resurrect, has already been struck down in court as unconstitutional. Why are we wasting energy bringing it back when it is only going to tie up more state resources in a court battle that New Hampshire would once again lose?

Kathleen Washburn

I'm not sure this bill would best serve the citizens of New Hampshire as previously; it has been ruled unconstitutional.
“Insanity is doing the same thing over and over again and expecting different results.”
Please, this needs to stop.

Sandy Blanchard

Testimony is for non-germane ammendment.

Eleanore Kruger

I support amendment #2332h

LuAnn Faber

Testimony for non-germane admendment.

Lyssa Bayne-Kim

I Oppose the non-germane amendment to SB100

Peter Kelley

It is essential to maintaining academic rigor that teachers are allowed to teach subjects fully based on factual information rather than being restricted to narrow ideological artificial parameters

Devon Skerritt

I urge legislators to oppose this proposed amendment, which is well understood to try circumventing court ruling by trying again to limit free speech and educators' professional judgement to bring back to life the so-called "banned concepts" law. We have already seen that illegally broad attempts to unfairly limit how teachers can discuss with students issues such as race, sexual orientation, gender identity and disability are unconstitutional. As a parent of two public school children and a strong believer in our constitution and civic democracy, let me be clear. This is not indoctrination, but attempts to delegitimize educators and narrow learning to ignore our nation's history and the needs of students and facilities. Please reject this amendment and the underlying effort to disable our public education.

Maureen Redmond-Scura

I urge you to vote NO on the non-germane amendment to SB 100. The courts have ruled on the banned concepts bill as unconstitutional. Education is designed to broaden the minds of students and free speech is fundamental to our society. Ideas are not dangerous to an educated people who question an investigate, the very aspects a quality education is created to instill.

Colleen Le Beau

This is a terrible amendment

Robin Mower

If you support this bill, you support leaving New Hampshire students in ignorance, when what they (and we) need is opening their eyes to the bigger world, helping them learn to navigate it so they may become better citizens -- and human beings.

Sharon Brown

I believe that all students should be taught the true history and current conditions of the United States. We have been taught only the privileged white European view for 100's of years too long!

Ann Carlson

The only way to fix the banned concepts law, which limits how teachers can discuss with students issues such as race, sexual orientation, gender identity and disability, is to repeal it.

Karen Brieger

The so-called "Banned concepts" law has been ruled to be unconstitutional. There is no way to rewrite this bill to make it acceptable. I am urging to you to do the right thing and OPPOSE this bill.

Debora Hatcher

I am an independent voter in Dover. I do not have children or any connection to public education other than being a member of my community who considers public education important for our economy and our democracy. I feel like I have had to communicate with Concord regarding interference in local education far too often this year. The sponsors and supporters of this bill seem to have no regard for the opinions of most NH parents, educators and citizens. They seem to have no regard for the law. This bill is just another attempt to enact the 'banned concepts' law that was supported by a extreme minority of NH citizens and elected officials, and promoted by out of state special interests. It was judged to be unconstitutional already. But this extreme minority is playing dirty politics by trying to sneak it through again with this amendment.

Please stop trying to push your personal views onto other citizens and their children by prohibiting educators from discussing valid topics like gender identity, race, sexual orientation, disabilities. Please stop violating the Constitution of the US and NH and inviting unnecessary lawsuits that cost NH taxpayers money. Please stop meddling in local decisions and the important work of our educators and causing problems and instead focus on solving NH's many problems.

Ruth Niven

Testimony is for non-germane amendment to SB 100.
I ask you to vote ITL on this amendment.

Nicola Tulk

As a long-time educator in secondary and tertiary contexts, and having taught internationally as well as in New Hampshire, I am deeply concerned at this bill. Although it sets out to say that it is not prohibiting teaching about historical and social issues and merely prohibiting teaching that anyone is "inherently" at fault, in my experience this is an overreach into the professional sphere belonging to teachers, and opens up a pandora's box of complaints that students feel victimized, based on their feelings. Let me explain. Someone hearing about the treatment of enslaved peoples by white landowners may ASSUME that because they too are white, that the teacher is implying that their skin color makes them guilty by default--students until late in secondary school are still very much developmentally in concrete thinking, and can shift very quickly into assuming a meaning even where a teacher is very careful with their phrasing. To give the students this sort of power of veto, in effect, means that every teacher will need to avoid teaching such subjects altogether so as to keep their job, in service to people who are not yet able to think in more developmentally mature, nuanced ways, and this opens the way for harassment and intimidation of educators based on the spurious "my teacher hates me" which could be used as adolescent revenge on perceived intent to harm. I have heard of, taught and known many, many students who equate a C with "my teacher hates me" when this is the farthest from true, and then to be able to weaponize this against teachers means that nobody will dare teach anymore. It also means that the many, challenging and nuanced layers of human history will not be able to be discussed. In short, this short-sighted and reductive bill pretty much ensures a vapid and shallow curriculum and school system, at at time when we need our young people to be prepared to handle a far more complex world than their parents have had to. This bill hamstrings teachers, gives full power to the varying and unreliable feelings and moods of developing young people, and results in creating students who are unable to have rational, grounded, and generative conversations around major issues affecting the US and the world. I utterly oppose this bill.

Mariam Levy

Dear Education Committe-

I am writing to ask you to oppose SB100 and the non-germane amendment being voted on today. In May 2024- Divisive concepts was struck down by US District Judge Barbadoro in Concord- saying the law is impermissibly vague and in violation of the first amendment because it does not provide fair notice to teachers as to what they may not teach, does not explain when classroom discussion of a forbidden topic crosses the line into impermissible teaching, etc."

This has already been decided by the courts, please do not waste more taxpayer dollars on passing legislation that has already been determined to be illegal and that puts our educators in an impossible position.

Thank you,

Mariam Levy

Karen Collman

This bill changes the emphasis of responsibility onto those who do not have power such as students, to giving unlimited powers to educators with much less acknowledgment of how discrimination can be used in many subtle ways to stand in the way of people who are under represented and therefore easily ignored. I value a diverse country and stand behind marginalized groups.

Richard Hunnewell

Testimony is for non-germane amendment.

Anne Hunnewell

Testimony is for non-germane amendment.

PEGGY HERBERT

I remained stunned that there are people who want to discriminate against those who are discriminated against. Please do not support this!

Debrah Howes

THe law needs to be repealed.

Nancy Brennan

I believe this was already ruled unconstitutional. Bills like this keep teachers from teaching truths about our history and culture. The kids can handle the truth. Stop trying to demonize public education.

Seariskaw Holmes

I urge the committee to oppose this unconstitutional amendment. Our teachers are faced with enough challenges in our schools; censoring what they say or even how they answer a students questions is a slippery slope to unnecessary threats to education and free speech.

This goes against every fiber of our Live Free or Die state motto by seeking to punish trained professionals for their informed judgments. It is a totalitarian measure that is more germane to another century and another country.

Nancy Brown

This bill has already in another form been found unconstitutional. There is no reason to support this bill and many reasons to oppose this bill.

Terry Carter

I have to accept that the majority of committee members will not ready this.

If someone does read this, they probably already oppose the bill.

Looking forward to November 2026,
Terry Carter

Gayle Hoisington

We live in a society where discrimination occurs. To not teach this subject is to indoctrinate children. Please give children the facts.

Danielle Alley

Stop creating legal issues that will waste taxpayer dollars in the courts trying to fight to save these unconstitutional bills. Get some real work done and stop wasting time. If you think passing unconstitutional bills is your job, you should revisit the oath you took. So tired of Concord legislators destroying my state.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

In the Year of Our Lord Two Thousand Twenty Five

AN ACT relative to violations of the prohibition on teaching discrimination.

Be it Enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened:

1 Prohibition on Teaching Discrimination. Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 193:40, I to read as follows:

I. No pupil in any public school in this state shall be intentionally or knowingly taught, instructed, inculcated or compelled to express belief in, or support for, any one or more of the following:

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

SB 100-FN- FISCAL NOTE
AS AMENDED BY THE SENATE (AMENDMENT #2025-0491s)

AN ACT relative to violations of the prohibition on teaching discrimination.

FISCAL IMPACT:

Estimated State Impact
	FY 2025	FY 2026	FY 2027	FY 2028
Revenue	$0	$0	$0	$0
Revenue Fund(s)	None
Expenditures*	$0	Indeterminable
Funding Source(s)	General Fund
Appropriations*	$0	$0	$0	$0
Funding Source(s)	None

Expenditure = Cost of bill Appropriation = Authorized funding to cover cost of bill

METHODOLOGY:

This bill adds mental state as an element to the prohibition on teaching discrimination. While the fiscal impact of this bill is indeterminable, the Department of Education states presumably it would lessen any current fiscal impacts under RSA 193:40, since requiring a mental state would lesser the number of cases that are pursued.

The Department of Justice states this bill will have no impact on its budget.
