METHODOLOGY:

This bill requires the Department of Health and Human Services to seek approval from the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) to include family caregiver support services under the Acquired Brain Disorder (ABD) the Choices for Independence (CFI) waiver programs. In addition, the bill eliminates the child care scholarship cost share for children in kinship care. The Department states that the following components of the bill are expected to have a fiscal impact:

- The addition of family caregiver support services is anticipated to cost $226,000 in the first year, increasing to $232,000 in the second. The Department assumes that coverage of these services will go into effect in FY28, as time will be needed for implementation. These services will be covered with 50 percent general funds and 50 percent federal funds.
- Systems changes to the New Heights eligibility system will cost $310,000 in FY27, and be fully generally funded.
- The requirement that cost share be eliminated for children in kinship care is expected to decrease revenue (indirectly increasing general fund costs) by $10,000 per year.

The total general fund cost is therefore expected to be $310,000 in FY27, $123,000 in FY28, and $126,000 in FY29. The federal fund cost will be $113,000 in FY28 and $116,000 in FY29.

For informational purposes, the Department notes the bill's inclusion of retirement as an activity that counts toward the child care scholarship work requirement could potentially run afoul of federal regulations. If so, federal funds could potentially be jeopardized. Although the likelihood and amount of any federal penalty is unknown, the total amount of the grant received through the Child Care and Development Fund is $16 million annually.
