The Office of Legislative Budget Assistant is unable to provide a complete fiscal note for this bill, as amended, as it is awaiting information from the Department of Education. The Department was contacted on 03/11/26 for a fiscal note worksheet. When completed, the fiscal note will be forwarded to the Clerk's Office.

METHODOLOGY:

The bill directs the Department of Revenue Administration to participate in a federal income tax credit program for contributions to qualified scholarship granting organizations and requires the Department of Education to maintain and publish a list of eligible organizations. It also requires the Governor, in coordination with the State Workforce Innovation Board, to approve workforce training programs for federal Workforce Pell Grants, while prohibiting state agencies from adopting rules to implement these provisions.

Department of Revenue Administration (DRA)

Section 2 of this bill requires that DRA make the annual election under 26 U.S.C. section 25F, so that New Hampshire citizens may claim the federal tax credit provided for in that section, beginning in taxable years ending after December 31, 2026. The Department has provided the following information and assumptions:

- It is DRA's understanding that the federal tax credit under 26 U.S.C. section 25F for "qualified contributions" of up to $1,700 per tax year would be available to be claimed by individuals on their federal tax returns, and would be reduced by the amount "allowed as a credit on any State tax return of the taxpayer." It is possible that this could apply to New Hampshire business tax returns filed by individual proprietors, where there is currently available an education tax credit under RSA 77-G of up to $510,000 per year, available to be carried forward for five additional years. The qualifying conditions with respect to scholarship organizations for both programs are similar enough that donations made in New Hampshire would likely qualify under either program.
- It is not clear to DRA whether, in order for the state credit to be considered "allowed" for federal reduction purposes the credit must actually be claimed and/or utilized by the taxpayer. Depending upon the relative federal and state tax liabilities of individual taxpayers, it is possible that taxpayers might benefit by not claiming state credit and claiming federal credit (or vice versa) in a given year, and this might vary from year to year. It is also unclear how carryforward provisions would work under these scenarios.
- It is possible, but too early to tell whether or not, participation in the federal tax credit would complicate administration of the State credit, due to the need to reconcile availability and utilization in the event a donation were to qualify under both programs.
- The Department of Treasury and the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) have announced their intent to issue regulations to implement this new individual tax credit provision but have not yet done so, other than with respect to advance elections. Such regulations, once issued, might answer these questions regarding the interoperability of the federal and state tax credits.

For now, this bill would not result in any additional administrative costs that could not be absorbed in the DRA operating budget. The fiscal impact of this bill would be a possible indeterminable increase to the general and education trust funds in the form of increased business tax revenues due to credits being claimed at the federal rather than state level. DRA is unable to quantify the impact due to a lack of understanding about the federal program and how it would interact with the state program, and how taxpayer behavior might change.

Department of Business and Economic Affairs (DBEA)

The DBEA states that under this bill:

- The State Workforce Innovation Board (SWIB) would consult with the Governor to approve workforce training programs for federal Workforce Pell Grants.
- SWIB may adopt internal procedures for approving workforce training programs.

- SWIB, working with the DBEA Office of Workforce Opportunity (OWO), would be required to ensure program compliance consistent with the federal program regulations, including application and evaluation standardization, program outcome reviews and tracking, as well as documentation and recordkeeping for Federal compliance.

The DBEA states this bill would necessitate the requirement of additional staff for program administration, compliance and analysis and related administrative cost budget funding with additional IT costs and workspace needs:

- Personnel Costs - Administration of this program will require at least one (1) new full-time position to manage ongoing operations, coordinate with education and training providers, oversee eligibility and reporting, and ensure alignment with existing federal and state requirements. The position needed would be a Miscellaneous Business Operations Specialist (SOC 13-05, starting step 6) at a total estimated cost (not including any office space or equipment needs) of $101,000 in FY 2027, $106,000 in FY 2028, and $107,000 in FY 2029. This bill provides neither appropriation nor authorization for new personnel.
- Information Technology (IT) Costs - New Hampshire currently uses the NH Job Match System (JMS) to support workforce programs. JMS is a Modifiable Off-The-Shelf (MOTS) solution, designed for flexibility to meet state-specific requirements. Enhancements to accommodate Workforce Pell requirements would leverage the existing system, making this the most cost-effective and programmatically efficient approach. Staff, particularly within OWO, are already familiar with JMS, reducing training needs and supporting seamless implementation. The existing Job Match System (JMS) contract will require expansion to accommodate new data elements, reporting requirements, and system functionality associated with Workforce Pell. This will result in increased contract costs. The cost is indeterminable, but could be in the range of a one-time purchase of between $150,000 and $250,000, and possibly an annual fee.
