AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Exempts child rearing consistent with the child's biological sex from being considered within the definitions of abused child and endangering child welfare.

II. Removes child rearing consistent with the child's biological sex from being a basis for findings relative to family law determinations, including: adoptions, child-placing agency licensing, and best interests of the child determinations.

III. Permits a physician to perform breast surgery on a minor in certain instances if the procedure is at the election of the minor in consultation with her primary care physician.
