METHODOLOGY:

This bill requires group insurance policies issued or renewed in the state to provide coverage for health services performed by a licensed doctor of naturopathic medicine when the insurer would reimburse for the same type of service if performed by another health care provider. The bill prohibits insurers from applying higher co-payments, deductibles, or coinsurance to such services.

The Insurance Department states this bill may increase total claim expenditures by a small amount due to increasing the number of providers eligible to perform covered services. The Department notes this may also result in increased insurance premiums; however, the extent of any increase is indeterminable. The Department assumes any increase would be small because health carriers retain the authority to apply standards for medical necessity, credentialing, and contracting and are not required to cover any specific items or services that are not already covered under the plan. To the extent counties and municipalities purchase health insurance, they could see an increase in their health insurance premiums.
