2026 HOUSE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE PROCEDURES

The Chairs of the policy committees will receive bills amended by the Senate and should check with their committees to determine whether to recommend that the House concur, non-concur, or non-concur and request a Committee of Conference.

When a committee requests that the bill be sent to a Committee of Conference, the Chair will recommend members for appointment. If the bill has gone to more than one committee, the members may come from the different committees as determined by the Speaker. Chairs should recommend only those members from their policy committees. The Speaker shall make the final decision of Conference committee members, and the committee choices are generally limited to those who support the House position.

The first named House member shall serve as Chair of the House Conferees. For House bills in Committee of Conference, the House Conferee Chair shall set the time and place of the first meeting with the Clerk's Office and shall chair each meeting of the Committee of Conference. The first meeting shall be posted in the Clerk's Office, and on the General Court website at least 24 hours in advance. If a Committee of Conference meeting recesses, the reconvening time shall be posted in the Clerk's office, and on the General Court website with at least 12 hours' notice. [House Rule 50 (c)].

The House and Senate Conferees on a bill shall meet jointly but vote separately while in conference.

The Committee of Conference may not change the title of the bill. The Committee also may not add amendments that are not germane to the subject matter of the bill or contain subject matter that has been indefinitely postponed. A non-germane amendment is one in which the subject matter is not contained in either the House or Senate version of the bill. [House Rule 50 (h)] Further, the House shall not receive any committee of conference report that amends any bill with a tax or fee increased, or creates a new tax or fee, which tax or fee has not received a public hearing and an affirmative vote of the House. [House Rule 50 (k)]

The sponsor of a bill that is in Committee of Conference shall, upon request, be provided an opportunity to be heard.

A unanimous vote of both the House and Senate Conferees, voting separately, is necessary for an agreed upon report to be sent to the House and Senate.

Reports of all Committees of Conference must be filed with the Office of Legislative Services by the May 28, 2026 deadline adopted by the House. All Committee of Conference members must sign their reports in the Office of Legislative Services by May 28, 2026 by 4:00 p.m.

The first-named House member on all bills in Committee of Conference must prepare an analysis of the report. This report should contain a complete explanation of all changes made to the bill since it was passed by the House and must be submitted to the Clerk of the House for printing in the calendar. House conferees may agree to put a report on the consent calendar; this must be noted by the first-named member.

All Committee of Conference reports shall be distributed electronically to members and available in seats at the House session. [House Rule 50 (g)].

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON LEGISLATIVE ADMINISTRATION

On March 5 and March 10, Representative Travis Corcoran made two posts on the social media platform X, at which time he asked for a member of the federal government to deport a naturalized citizen (and fellow Member of the House of Representatives, Rep. Luz Bay), and in the second, suggested that a “final solution” was due in regard to another Member of the House who had invited colleagues to a social event (Rep. Jessica Grill). Representative Alexis Simpson filed a complaint with the Speaker of the House who convened the bipartisan Speaker’s Advisory Group to meet with Rep. Corcoran and address the complaint. Representative Corcoran did not attend the meeting, and the Group advised the Speaker a letter of caution should be written, to which the Speaker complied. As our Speaker pointed out in his letter of caution directed to Representative Corcoran, “In our work on behalf of the citizens of New Hampshire, in our interactions and words with each other and members of the public, we should always be aware of how we as individuals represent our office and this historic institution.” Following the letter, Rep. Simpson moved to reprimand the member and the Speaker referred the matter to this committee for review and report. Noted by the Legislative Administration Committee is the fact that preceding each two-year term, every elected Representative and Senator is handed a personal copy of The New Hampshire General Court Ethics Guidelines and in the very first section, entitled “Principles of Public Service,” is stated that: “Legislators shall treat each other, legislative employees, and the public with dignity and respect” (Ethics Guidelines, Part One (1)(IV)). It would seem readily apparent to all that Representative Corcoran’s words in the postings responding to Representative Grill’s invitation and suggesting Representative Bay’s deportation could not, by any stretch, represent “dignity and respect” for his colleagues. Our committee proceedings opened with a detailed description of the process and basis for holding the hearings as outlined by the House Clerk and the committee heard 2 1/2 hours of testimony from roughly 40 citizens of NH, with only one or two identifying as a constituent of the representative. Almost universally these witnesses spoke viscerally of their reaction to Representative Corcoran’s choice of the phrase “final solution” in his posting as a threat, an insult, and patently antisemitic. Representative Corcoran’s prepared testimony, read prior, had called it an attempt at humor and the entire process as “a joke.” He also indicated he was not aware that Representative Grill was Jewish and that he does not make it a habit to know the religious affiliation of all 400 representatives. In recent prior instances when the Legislative Administration Committee was required to hold hearings on postings involving extreme language used by legislators, some measure of relief was recognized in the immediate apology for the action. Not so in this case despite the obvious immediate negative reaction and the clear indications that the targets were separately, Jewish and a naturalized citizen. The fact that, in one of the two instances, as in past recent cases, the actions or postings did not take place within the course of legislative duties or within the physical space of the State House or the legislative office building (while one was) was also noted. The testimony the committee heard centered almost exclusively on the antisemitic post but that is not to excuse the seriousness of first post which involved calling for the deportation of a naturalized citizen legislator. This too, in the opinion of the majority of the committee, represents the very poorest of understanding what our country stands for and obviously runs counter to the accepted guideline message above. For the reasons stated and in recognition that the voters of Weare will have an opportunity in very short order to speak to the actions of their elected representative, should he choose to run for reelection, the committee reviewed our 3 options for penalty recommendations within our report. These are: reprimand, censure, and expulsion. We understand we could also submit our report calling for no punitive action. Our research of history showed no basis or precedent for recommending full expulsion. In fact, the last time expulsion was recommended in a report to the full House was 1913 for a clear case of bribery-taking cash offers for votes. Currently, the majority of the committee recommends a formal censure of Representative Travis Corcoran by the entire House of Representatives in light of the seriousness of the transgressions and the lack of anything approaching remorse for the harmful effects his posts had to the reputation of the House of Representatives as a whole, and certainly to his targets.

Rep. Gregory Hill for the Committee. Vote: 10-2
