HOUSE JOURNAL No. 17

Wednesday, May 21, 2008

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

Prayer was offered by Guest Chaplain, Reverend Dr. Billy Brown.
Great loving God of this earth and all the universe, we are aware, especially this day, that we do not travel on this planet alone. There are many around the world who are suffering and we offer a special prayer and acknowledgement of our sojourners in China who are recovering from the disaster of an earthquake. Hold them in Your loving hands, open our hearts and our minds and our resources to reach and to share our resources as they enter into the long journey of recovery. This day, O God, we gather to do the work of the people of New Hampshire. This work of governing is a noble and an honorable task, and we ask Your blessing upon our labors. As this body listens, debates and ultimately votes on matters that affect all of the citizens of this state, keep us mindful that we need to be concerned and care for all of those who live here. Remind us that we are here to serve, even the least, those who have little power or voice, those who are frail, and those who are young seeking a future. As this body serves the citizens of today in our time, we are aware that many have served in the past. Among those servants are ones who have given the ultimate sacrifice in support of the ideals of our great land. Allow us to take time to remember their gracious servitude. Help us to be vigilant, on our watch, to live and govern in ways that honor their sacrifice. You are the God of love and compassion, and we seek Your care for all who are gathered here. Some members of this great body are suffering and in need of Your special care. We pray for healing and courage, and a restoration of energy and vitality to continue the work for the citizens of New Hampshire.

Amen.

Rep. Peter Espiefs, member from Keene, led the Pledge of Allegiance.

The National Anthem was sung by Katie Siggins from Whitefield.

HR 28, affirming revenue estimates for fiscal years 2008 and 2009.

(Deputy Speaker Foster in the Chair)

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Reps. Graham, Roberts, Schmidt, Moody and Vaillancourt addressed the House.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS

Rep. Daniel Eaton moved that the remarks made by Rep. Graham be printed in the Permanent Journal.
Without objection, the Chair ordered the remarks printed in the Permanent Journal.

REMARKS

Rep. Graham: Thank you, Madam Speaker. As we approach this Memorial Day weekend, I am always reminded that it is not just a day for going to the beach, or watching a car race, it is a day of remembrance. A chance to reflect on the statement that adorns the Korean War Memorial in Washington DC – Freedom is Not Free. In fact, it's only possible because our fallen heroes have paid its high price. For whether a war is popular or unpopular, the sacrifice is the same and has been the same for more than one million men and women who died in service to this nation in wars and conflicts since 1775. Let us remember also their families, who have sacrificed so much. Long after the battlefield guns have been silenced and the bombs have stopped exploding, the children of our fallen warriors will still be missing a parent, spouses will be without their life partner and parents will continue to grieve for their heroic sons and daughters. As American citizens we need to be there for them. Nobody can replace them, especially in the eyes of their families, but we can offer shoulders to cry on, assistance with educational expenses and assurances that their loved one's sacrifice will not be forgotten Finally, as I was thinking about what I was going to say today, the words of the poet John Dunne kept running through my mind. In part the passage I am referring to reads, "No man is an island, entire of itself; every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main. If a clod be washed away by the sea, Europe is the less …any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind, and therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee." We, as a state have been diminished in the last year by the loss of four young men in combat operations. So in silence and respect lets us remember these brave and dedicated citizens for whom the bell has tolled: Specialist David Stelmat, NH Army National Guard of Littleton. Chief Petty Officer, Nathan H. Hardy, U.S. Navy of Durham. Private First Class, Juctin R. P. McDaniel, U.S. Army of Andover. Sergeant Zachary D. Tellier, U.S. Army of Manchester. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS

Rep. Hess moved that the remarks made by Rep. Roberts be printed in the Permanent Journal.
Without objection, the Chair ordered the remarks printed in the Permanent Journal.

REMARKS

Rep. Roberts: Thank you, Madam Speaker. In Australia, on Remembrance Day, they play a song that has the following passage, "Listen quietly and you will hear the footsteps of Australia's sons marching off into eternity." In Germany, the soldiers often sing a song with the following passage, "I had a comrade once, a better one you will never find. The drums were calling to battle; he walked by my side, a bullet came whistling toward us-is it meant for me or for you? He fell at my feet, as if a piece had been torn from me. He tried to reach for my hand, while I desperately loaded another shot; I can't hold your hand, my friend, so rest in eternal peace, my good old comrade." As I reflected on these songs, I started to wonder just what does Memorial Day mean to Americans? We are often told that Memorial Day is the official start of the summer season, the first weekend of summer. One major hotel chains' ad boldly states that if you reserve a room early, they will give you an extra night free. For many, Memorial Day is just another work day and for the lucky few, Memorial Day means time and a half and a larger paycheck. However, I have to believe that Memorial Day means far more to Americans than just a day at the beach or time and a half. For my own piece of mind, I had to find a meaning that I could believe in. I couldn't accept that old phrase, "Is that all there is? I needed an answer. I have put on my Marine Corps uniform over five thousand times. I have woken up hundreds of times in a dirty, sweaty, smelly uniform in some very harsh places. I have given a number of Veterans' and Memorial Day speeches. I have always been very comfortable with my understanding of Veterans Day, but I have always felt uncomfortable about explaining the true meaning of Memorial Day. I ask myself, how could I truly understand the pain a mother feels when she answers the knock on the door and sees a Marine Corps officer in dress blues standing there? How could I put in words the feeling of loss and pain a father endures, sometimes in silence, when he realizes that his family name died along with his son on a distant battlefield? How could I explain the fears that a young child feels when her mother or father, who died on the field of battle, isn't there to check in the closets or under the bed for monsters? How could I understand the sense of loss that a young man feels at that critical junction in his life and looks for guidance, but his moral compass is buried in Arlington? How could I understand the feeling of loneliness a young woman feels when she wakes up one morning in an empty bed and realizes that she will never ever see her own reflection in her lover's eyes? I asked myself, was I looking in the wrong places for the answers? Was I even asking the right questions? I wasn't sure. Sixty-three years ago last February 19th, the first Marine assault waves, under a heavy hailstorm of bullets, mortars and artillery shells, headed toward the beaches of Iwo Jima. Before the battle was over, over six thousand Americans and many more Japanese soldiers lay dead on the field of battle. Over this short and violent battle, twenty-two Marines were awarded our nations' highest honor, the Medal of Honor. Many gave their life providing numerous others the opportunity to live. On March 3, 2005, fifteen Marines, average age of twenty-two, also marched off into eternity from a battlefield that knows no color except red. A battlefield that knows no religion, which knows no social class and a battlefield that has learned to know no gender. As I listen to the songs and read more about February 19 and March 5, I come to a much clearer understanding of the true reason we have Memorial Day. Memorial Day isn't to celebrate a holiday. Memorial Day is not Veterans' Day. Every one of us who have worn the uniform, have our day and it is Veterans' Day. Memorial Day isn't even a day to look back at our lost loved ones and friends. I have come to believe that the true and only reason for Memorial Day is for the men and women of this great country of ours that have given it all on the battlefields. As the song goes, "Some gave some, for those there is Veterans Day. Some gave all, for those that gave it all, there is Memorial Day". Maybe when my time comes, they will explain the true meaning to me. As many that live and often say I don't know how to explain it. Even if I could explain it, you wouldn't understand. You had to be there. As we can all see as I stand here, I haven't been there. Memorial Day should never be about us, the living. It has to be about the men and women who have died on the battlefield, both known and unknown, granting us the opportunity to disagree, granting us the opportunity to worship in a manner we so choose, but most of all, for the many freedoms that so many of us take for granted. As we look around our country we often see many cemeteries where graves of our fallen are often neglected and sometimes forgotten. I just hope that this Memorial Day, each and every one of us will find a moment as a people, as a nation to forget about our self interest and think about all the lost possibilities, the lost dreams of the hundreds of thousands of teenagers and young men and women who out of selfless reasons have fallen for us. If we as a people cannot find that time, then we really do not deserve the gift they have given us. Anyone who has worn the uniform of the United States, who has marched off to the sound of guns or canons of distant battlefields, truly understands the statement that the welfare of the whole always outweighs the needs of the one. I cannot think of any greater honor to the memory of those brave men and women then for each and every one of us to think of the good of the whole, if even for a few moments. If we can do that, their debts would not have been in vain and their memories will never die.
