HOUSE JOURNAL No. 20

Wednesday, May 19, 2010

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

Prayer was offered by House Chaplain, Reverend Jared Rardin, Pastor of the South Congregational Church in Concord.

Help Me Listen

By Ted Loder

O Holy One, we hear and say so many words, yet Yours is the word we need. Speak now, we pray and help us listen and if what we hear is silence, let it quiet us, let it disturb us, let it touch our need, let it break our pride, let it shrink our certainties and enlarge our wonder.

O God on this rainy Wednesday, I pray that You would touch each heart here, that You would bless those in our circles of acquaintance and family who are in need of Your care today and that You would remind each servant here that the work they do, no matter how hard or frustrating, is of great service and great honor. All this we pray in Your Holy name. Amen.

Representative Everett Weare, member from Seabrook, led the Pledge of Allegiance.

VETO MESSAGE

GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGE ON HB 276-FN

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to Part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on February 12, 2010, I vetoed HB 276-FN, an act relative to challenges of voters.

This legislation was passed by the House of Representatives on April 8, 2009 and was sent to the Senate. The Senate first heard and then re-referred the bill to the Senate Election Law and Veteran's Affairs Committee. The bill was brought forward this year and approved by the Senate on January 21, 2010. In passing the bill, the Senate should have amended the effective date to provide for prospective application of the voter challenge law. For this reason, I am vetoing HB 276-FN.

I appreciate the sponsor's efforts to clarify the procedures for voter challenges in state elections. I believe that any legislation governing voter challenges must continue to allow our state elections to proceed in an efficient manner while protecting the rights of all voters.

Respectfully submitted, John H. Lynch, Governor

The question being, notwithstanding the Governor's veto, shall HB 276-FN, relative to challenges of voters, become law?

Reps. William O'Brien and Pierce spoke against.

Pursuant to the New Hampshire Constitution, Part II, Article 44, a roll call, requiring a two-thirds vote of the House for approval, was taken.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

Consul General of France, Christophe Guihou; General Marcel Ceroni; President of the Lafayette Society, Alan Hoffman. In the Gallery: Mme. Ceroni and grandson, Jean-Pierre Cirone, Mme. Adele Bouffard Baker, Mme. Michele Vlahos, Mme. France Dionne, John Kapelos and H. Lynn Breaux.

REMARKS BY SPEAKER NORELLI

In 1825, a half century had passed since the firing of the first shots of the American Revolution at Lexington and Concord and the generation that had been involved at the creation of the Republic was passing from the scene. That year the last surviving General of the Revolutionary War, the Marquis de Lafayette, visited the United States for a goodwill tour that included stops in each of the then 24 states. His visit to New Hampshire included an address right here to the legislature and the planting of an elm tree on the grounds of the State House, which had been completed just 6 years earlier. The Lafayette tree stood for 130 years and then it died of Dutch elm disease in 1955, after which the legislature passed a law that reads as follows, "The Governor shall annually issue a proclamation calling for a proper observance of May 20th, the anniversary of the death of General Marquis de Lafayette, Revolutionary War hero, in lasting recognition of his gallant and illustrious service in the war for American independence." This morning, with the help of today's honored guests, an American Liberty Elm was planted in the very spot where the Lafayette tree once stood. Today, it is my honor to lead the House in recognizing the life and the legacy of one of the great leaders of the American Revolution and a great French Patriot, the Marquis de Lafayette.

REMARKS BY ALAN HOFFMAN

Thank you, Madam Speaker, members of the House of Representatives and honored guests. In 1955, a law was enacted in New Hampshire that requires the Governor to issue a Proclamation each year declaring May 20th, the anniversary of Lafayette's death, "New Hampshire Lafayette Day." That Proclamation was read this morning by Governor Lynch. So, you might ask, why do we do this? One answer might be that Lafayette played a critical role in making our Revolution and he continued to support America's interests throughout his life. He also strived to spread the ideas and the ideals of the American Revolution to Europe and he reaffirmed his close connection to this country on his Farewell Tour in 1824-1825. Born in Auvergne, France in 1757, and having inherited a prestigious title and great wealth upon the early death of his father in the 7-Years War and later his mother and maternal grandfather, Lafayette traveled to America in 1777 to join our revolution on a ship purchased and provisioned with his own funds, carrying with him a commission in the Continental Army as a Major General. At the time, he was 19 and a Captain in the French Army. He was introduced to Washington at a tavern in Philadelphia on July 31, 1777 and invited to join his staff and serve, initially, as a volunteer. On September 11, 1777, 5 days after his 20th birthday, in the Battle of the Brandywine, part of the British Army's successful campaign to take Philadelphia, Lafayette dismounted from his horse to turn the retreating American soldiers around and was wounded in the leg. By November 1777, Washington was so impressed with the young man's courage, his prudence in war councils and his character that he petitioned the Continental Congress to give him a field command. By December of 1777, when the army entered its winter quarters at Valley Forge, Congress had approved and Washington put Lafayette in charge of a division of 3,000 troops, not an inconsiderable part of the entire American Army. In 1778, Lafayette served in an abortive campaign to invade Canada, in the Battle of Monmouth Courthouse in New Jersey and in the Battle of Rhode Island, during which Lafayette and the troops that he had brought from the American encampments in White Plains, NY reached the ramparts of Newport, which the British held. After the French Fleet, having been battered by a storm in a naval engagement with a British squadron up from New York, returned to Boston for repairs, Lafayette left the island and rode to Boston alone and tried to persuade the Count d'Estaing to return at least a part of the fleet. He was unsuccessful in this endeavor, but he did manage to save the recent Franco-American alliance, the Treaty of Friendship of 1778, by smoothing over relations between the Count d'Estaing and New Hampshire's General Sullivan. For his role in this engagement, which included returning to Rhode Island and leading the rear guard of the forces who were evacuating the island to the mainland, Congress gave him a commendation. Lafayette returned to France on furlough in 1779 and lobbied for more money and material, for the return of the French Fleet and for the first time, for French land troops. It is fair to say that he and Franklin were most responsible for the decision made by the French Court to provide this aid in 1780. In March of 1780, Lafayette sailed back to America to rejoin the Continental Army and tell General Washington that help was on the way. The help arrived in July of 1780 when General Rochambeau brought 5,000 troops and a small fleet to Newport, which the British by then had evacuated. Lafayette's major military contribution to the American cause ensued in 1781 when he was sent to Virginia with 1,000 Continentals. In a campaign of skirmishes and smoke and mirrors, he and his undermanned army managed to entrap Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown where Cornwallis and his 7,000 troops were defeated after the French West Indian Fleet arrived under the command of Admiral Grasse and Washington's and Rochambeau's armies joined Lafayette's troops for the siege of Yorktown. Lafayette returned to France at age 24 and was made a Marechal de Camp, the equivalent of a Major General in the French Army. During the 1780's in France, Lafayette played an important role in supporting American diplomacy and interests, first with Benjamin Franklin and later with Thomas Jefferson, who was the minister to Paris from 1785 to 1789. When Lafayette visited Monticello in November of 1824, Jefferson took him to the University of Virginia. At an event in Lafayette's honor, held in the rotunda, the frail Jefferson had a speech read for him that described Lafayette's role on behalf of America while Jefferson was our minister to Paris. With regard to the accomplishments of American diplomacy at the time, which included opening up numerous French Ports to American trade and saving the whaling industry in Nantucket by brokering a contract between the City of Paris and the Nantucket whalers to light every street lamp in Paris with Nantucket whale oil, Jefferson said, as only he could, "I only held the nail, he drove it." In 1786, the people of Nantucket expressed their gratitude by holding a town meeting and voting to dedicate one-day's milk from every cow on the island to produce a 500 lb cheese which they sent to Lafayette. In 1950 a children's book appeared called A Cheese for Lafayette. Lafayette returned to America one final time in 1824 and stayed for 13 months visiting all 24 states and Washington City. Dubbed the Nation's Guest, this 67 year-old elder statesman, who limped and carried a cane and wore a hairpiece, who had held no political or military authority either in America or in France since 1792, was greeted by over 3,000,000 Americans, 1/4th of the entire population, and treated like a conquering hero, like a Caesar or an Alexander, throughout the Union. There was an outpouring of love and admiration for the last surviving major general of our Revolution. It is reflected in the naming craze. Eighty counties, cities, towns and townships named Lafayette, Fayette, Fayetteville, Lafayetteville or LaGrange (after the Chateau that he lived in from 1800 to 1834). There are countless streets and roads named after Lafayette, e.g., Fayette Street here in Concord. There are numerous parks, statues and monuments. There is Lafayette Park in Manchester, equestrian statues in Haverhill and Fall River, MA and the Lafayette monument on the Boston Common. Mount Lafayette in Franconia was named in 1824. Lafayette College in Easton, PA was named in 1826. There is the Lafayette River in Southern VA and Lake Lafayette in Northern FL. During the Farewell Tour, as it is known in the history books, Lafayette visited New Hampshire twice, Portsmouth in 1824 and Concord and a number of other NH towns in 1825. Citizens of New Hampshire first joined the frenzy surrounding Lafayette's visit on September 1, 1824, the rainy day on which he and his entourage arrived in Portsmouth having traveled from Massachusetts on what is known today as "the Lafayette Road," i.e. Route 1. Although Lafayette proved to be a magnet for Americans of all races, colors and genders, veterans of the Revolution, more than the others, hastened to greet him. September 1 happened to be the day of Franklin Pierce's graduation from Bowdoin College. As Peter Wallner of the New Hampshire historical library writes in Volume 1 of his two volume biography of New Hampshire's only President, Franklin had been selected to give an honorary oration in Latin and wrote his father, General Benjamin Pierce, hoping he would attend the ceremony. Wallner writes, "In this he was disappointed, however, as the old general joined other Revolutionary War soldiers at Portsmouth, New Hampshire to honor General Lafayette, who was on his famous tour of America." So he dissed his own son's graduation and his Latin oration to see his old comrade in arms. After helping to lay the cornerstone of the Bunker Hill Monument in June of 1825, Lafayette arrived at the State House in Concord on June 22. Governor Morrill gave the official welcoming address and Lafayette made a grateful reply. After the speeches, there was a banquet on the State House lawn where numerous toasts were given. Lafayette's toast to New Hampshire went like this, "To the state of New Hampshire, to its representatives, to the city, home of the organized authorities of the state, may the citizens of New Hampshire remain eternally possessed of civil and religious freedom, benefits for which the exalted spirit of their ancestors brought them to come to search in a far away land and which their fathers have founded on the broad basis of the sovereignty of the people and the rights of men." There were several hundred veterans at the banquet on the State House lawn. The entertainment included several poems sung to the tune of “Scots Wha’ Ha’ Ha’ With’ Wallace Bled,” Wallace being known today as Braveheart, which was apparently at the top of the charts in 1825. One written by Colonel Phillip Carrigain begins like this, “North and South and East and West, grateful homage have expressed, reading loud the Nation’s Guest (what they called Lafayette), son of Liberty whom tyrants cursed when Heaven approved and millions long have mourned and loved, He comes by fond entreaties moved, the Granite State to see.” That is the first recorded usage of the term Granite State to refer to New Hampshire. The last two stanzas of Colonel Carrigain’s poem exemplifies the gratitude that Americans of the post-revolutionary generation felt for the veterans of the War of Independence and for Lafayette, the last surviving major general of that War who had returned, as if from the dead, over 40 years later to meet and greet them. It reads, “Soldiers, your general ever true, the last that’s left here bids adieu. Though you are poor, he bends to you not to kings or thrones. Who can tears of joy control when veterans mingle soul with soul and one more ray when near life’s goal, brightens their setting suns, he’s fit for trader or for slave who’d see this parting of the brave and not think of those who bled to save the land where we are met. The Merrimack may cease to flow and our White Mountains sink below, but naught can cancel what we owe to them and Lafayette.” So why does New Hampshire celebrate Lafayette Day? Why should it celebrate Lafayette Day and why should we join in honoring his memory? It’s very simple. Because Lafayette was the best friend this country ever had. Thank you.

REMARKS BY REPRESENTATIVE W. DOUGLAS SCAMMAN

Madam Speaker, members of the House, honored guests both here in the front of the Chamber and those in the balcony, I must say it is a privilege and honor for me to participate in such a great celebration of an American French hero. In 1957, my father was Speaker of the House. Governor Dwinell had this gavel made out of the Elm that had died shortly before, in 1955. I was asked to participate, to bring this gavel and to explain briefly how we came to have it and what it means to us. This gavel was used here in this Hall by both my father and myself. It’s been used at school and town meetings by both my father and myself because we were both moderators there. When my father died, he left everything in the house to my two sisters, which was quite appropriate, but I told them there is one thing that is coming out of this house first and that was this gavel. It certainly is a great honor to hold this gavel and some day I hope that it might go forward and become part of the Lafayette Museum that they have in Manchester. Thank you very much for giving me the honor to show this gavel and give a short presentation. I will leave it here in the front of the podium for anyone that wants to look at it. I’ve told Stella that if I am out, to keep watch to make sure it doesn’t walk away. Thank you very much for including me in this program.

REMARKS BY COUNT GILBERT DE PUSY LAFAYETTE

Thank you, Madam Speaker, Mr. Governor, Mr. Consul de France, Senator and Deputy of New Hampshire, American and French authority, Mr. General and his wife, President of Lafayette Society and all members of Lafayette Society and my friends of New Hampshire, American and French friends. I am grateful for the opportunity to address the General Court and the people of New Hampshire on this important occasion and to have been allowed to assist in the ground-breaking for a Liberty Elm in this historic place. I will now quote from my ancestor’s remarks which he made on this very spot in 1824. “One of my earliest enjoyments, on this happy return to the American shore, has been to meet the welcome of the people of New Hampshire, in the Atlantic town to which I was already bound by very ancient and gratifying connexions. I have since visited an extensive part of the vast Republican confederacy, where are held, to the admiration, and it may be to the speedy imitation of the world, a practical demonstration, and the wonderful result of National Independence, popular institutions and self-government. But as soon as I had performed of the great Bunker Hill celebration a sacred and delightful duty, I have hastened to this Seat of Government, where I now enjoy the honor to be admitted to present both Branches of the Legislature with a tribute of my lively and respectful gratitude. Here I have been greeted by multitudes of friends from this and the other parts of the State, among whom I am not surprised to recognize many of my companions in arms, when I recollect in what comparative proportion New Hampshire has personally contributed to our revolutionary struggle. Permit me to offer to you, to the Representatives and Officers of the State in every Branch, and to the people of New Hampshire, the devoted tender of my grateful, affectionate and profound respect." God bless America. Viva la France. Long life for the friendship between America and France. Thank you very much.

Parliamentary Inquiry of the Speaker re: HB 1490

Speaker Norelli: Representative Doug Scamman is recognized for a parliamentary inquiry.

Rep. W. Douglas Scamman: Madam Speaker, having been Speaker before and one who is dead against non-germane amendments, am I not correct that it would take a two-thirds vote of the House to consider any non-germane amendments that would come back on a Committee of Conference?

Speaker Norelli: That is a true statement. Non-germane amendments would require a two-thirds vote to suspend the rules in order to act on it.

Rep. W. Douglas Scamman: Further inquiry.

Speaker Norelli: You may inquire.

Rep. W. Douglas Scamman: Under the rules of the House, if a study bill comes back with taxes and expenditures on it, would that not be non-germane to the original bill?

Speaker Norelli: Rule 49 says a Committee of Conference may neither change the title of a bill submitted to it nor add amendments which are not germane to the subject matter of the bill as originally submitted to it. For the purpose of this rule, non-germane amendment is any subject matter not contained in either the House or the Senate version of the bill.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Reps. Graham and Baldasaro addressed the House.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS

Rep. Eaton moved that the remarks made by Rep. Graham be printed in the Permanent Journal.

Adopted.

REMARKS

Rep. Graham: Thank you, Madam Speaker. My colleagues, in a week and a half we will be observing Memorial Day with parades, ceremonies and other solemn events. For over 300 years the citizens of the Granite State have taken up arms to protect their homes, their families and their nation. All of them knew that in so doing they ran the risk that they might not return. But in an echo of our own great poet Robert Frost they stood where two roads diverged, and taking the one of risk they willingly went into harm's way for all of us. Granite Staters have marched, sailed or flown off to war that we might sit here today in this Chamber and many of them made that ultimate sacrifice in places near and far. But whether it was at Breeds Hill in Boston, Gettysburg, the Philippines, Belleau Wood, Iwo Jima, the Chosin Reservoir, and the Iron Triangle or on the seas between or in the air above, we owe them all a debt that can truly not be measured. Today the spiritual descendants of these men and women are engaged in combat operations once again and they too have taken the road less traveled by and paid the price that so many of our citizens have paid over the centuries. Since last Memorial Day, our state has lost another five young men in either Iraq or Afghanistan. It is fitting that as we approach Memorial Day we recall their names one more time in this Chamber: Private First Class Eric D. Currier, U. S. Marine Corps, Londonderry; Specialist Marc Paul Decoteau, U. S. Army, Waterville Valley; Staff Sergeant Stephen L. Murphy, U. S. Marine Corps, Jaffrey; Staff Sergeant Justin R. Pellerin, U. S. Army, Boscawen; Staff Sergeant Edmond L. Lo, U. S. Army, Salem. Thank you Madam Speaker and I would request a moment of silence for them and for all of our citizens, and their families who have paid the ultimate sacrifice for us and our nation. Thank you Madam Speaker.

MOMENT OF SILENCE

A moment of silence was observed in honor and in memory of all of our citizens and their families who have paid the ultimate sacrifice for us and our nation.
