HOUSE JOURNAL No. 10 (Cont.)

Thursday, March 12, 2015

Rep. Hinch moved that the House adjourn.
Motion adopted.

HOUSE JOURNAL No. 11

Wednesday, March 25, 2015

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

Her Excellency, Governor Margaret Wood Hassan, joined the Speaker on the rostrum for the day's opening ceremonies.

Prayer was offered by House Chaplain, Reverend Kate Atkinson, Rector of St. Paul's Church in Concord. Almighty God, creator of all things, large and small, seen and unseen, You delight in the world You have made, and all Your creatures are precious in Your sight, but our culture encourages us to compete and to compare; to view one another as rivals instead of as companions on a common journey. Help us to remember that we were all made in Your image; that each of us is inspired by the breath of Your spirit and lit from within by Your divine light. As we work together for the good of our country, open our eyes to see Your face in one another; open our ears to the voices crying out for justice and help us to use the gifts You have given us to restore and renew the world You created. Your creative spark lives on in us; empower us to make a difference. Amen.

Representative Douglas Ley, member from Nashua, led the Pledge of Allegiance.

The National Anthem was sung by Rebecca Mason of Litchfield.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

Bobby Brockway, student at Bedford High School, Page for the day.

Colleene Brockway, mother of the Page, guest of Rep. Bartlett. Cara Clark, guest of Rep. Piper. William Roderick and Joel Weinrebe, guests of Rep. LeBreche. Scott, Karen and Lyla Davis, guests of Rep. Duarte. Ken Dassau, guest of Rep. Gallagher. Lynne Mason, mother of the singer, guest of Rep. Bates. Members of the Kennett High School Key Club, Malcom Badger, Kristina Bean, Taylor Bouchard, Kevin Brogan, Isabelle Doucett, Cian Duffy, Tessa Greenhalgh, Logan Hagerty, Molly Robert, Maianna Robinson, Sarah Smith, Frank Thompson, Jack Thompson, Liam Van Rossom, and Mae Van Rossom, guests of Reps. Chandler, Buco, Butler, Frank McCarthy and Umberger. Mary Ann Harper, David Moloney, Richard Kanoff, Betty Anders, Elisa Benincaso, Pam Schules, and Irene Jenks, guests of Rep. Emerson. Fourth graders from Lincoln Street School in Exeter, guests of Reps. Berrien, Heffron, Simpson and Francese. Members of Leadership Seacoast, guests of the House.

MOTION TO VACATE

Rep. Rowe moved that the House vacate the reference of SB 53, repealing the interagency coordinating council for women offenders and transferring certain members and duties to the interbranch criminal and juvenile justice council, to the Committee on Judiciary.

Motion adopted.

The Speaker referred SB 53 to the Committee on Criminal Justice and Public Safety.

MOTION TO VACATE

Rep. Hunt moved that the House vacate the reference of SB 202-FN, relative to licensure of outsourcing facilities by the pharmacy board, to the Committee on Commerce and Consumer Affairs.

Motion adopted.

The Speaker referred SB 202-FN to the Committee on Executive Departments and Administration.

MOTION TO SUSPEND HOUSE RULES

Reps. Flanagan and Shurtleff moved that House Rules be so far suspended as to introduce and consider at the present time a House Resolution, relative to honoring the contributions of New Hampshire's youth in government, without the required printing, referral to committee, public hearing and report from committee. Motion adopted by the necessary two-thirds vote.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 13

Honoring the contributions of New Hampshire's youth in government

WHEREAS, education is the bedrock of a democracy; and

WHEREAS, fourth grade curriculum in New Hampshire has long included references to studying New Hampshire history and government which brings in excess of 30,000 students to the state house in any given school year; and

WHEREAS, fourth graders, and indeed students from varying grades around our state, have for many years been responsible for initiating legislation designating, among other things, the state dog, state amphibian, state insect, state fruit, and state vegetable; and

WHEREAS, many honorable attempts have been made at the behest of students over the years to include items such as the state color, state beverage, state fossil, and state raptor, but have fallen short in their attempts in the fullness of the legislative process; and

WHEREAS, New Hampshire supports the rights of all her citizens to be involved in the legislative process, especially and including all the students who wander the halls of the oldest, continually used state house in the nation; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that the New Hampshire House of Representatives recognizes and offers it's thanks to all students who have participated or will continue to participate in the legislative process; and be it further

RESOLVED, that the New Hampshire House encourages the youth of this state to be actively involved in the important deliberations of government and never be discouraged if legislation fails, but work twice as hard in the efforts in the future.

Offered by the House of Representatives.

Adopted.

CONSENT CALENDAR

Rep. Flanagan moved that the Consent Calendar with the relevant amendments as printed in the day's House Record be adopted.

Consent Calendar adopted.

HB 121, making a technical correction to the negligent driving statute. OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. David A. Welch for Criminal Justice and Public Safety. This bill changes only a statutory reference and there is no change in penalty. The committee unanimously supports this bill. Vote 17-0.

HB 230, relative to penalties for failure to timely discharge a mortgage. OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT.

Rep. Arthur E. Barnes for Criminal Justice and Public Safety. Current state law requires that when a mortgage is paid off the lender must discharge that mortgage within 60 days. During the testimony, it was represented that the current law which has been in effect since 1905 fails to identify the party responsible to enforce the law. As amended, this bill would transfer the issue from criminal to civil law allowing the aggrieved party to seek restitution through the courts. Vote 16-0.

Amendment (0966h)

Amend RSA 479:8 as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

479:8 Penalty. Any mortgagee violating the provisions of RSA 479:7, or any mortgagee who after the satisfaction of [his] ~~the~~ mortgage refuses to give a sufficient discharge of such mortgage, shall ~~be guilty of a viola-~~ tion] be liable for damages to the mortgagor at the rate of $200 for each week after the expiration of the 60 days up to a maximum of $5,000 or in an amount equal to the loss sustained as a result of the failure of the mortgagee to execute and deliver a release, whichever is greater, plus costs and reasonable attorney fees.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill permits the mortgagor to recover damages from a mortgagee who fails to release a mortgage in a timely manner.

HB 329, relative to a construction project at the state veterans cemetery. OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. David J. Danielson for Finance. This bill provides the New Hampshire State Veterans Cemetery Association with the authority to design and construct an addition to the administration building at the state veterans cemetery subject to the approval of the capital budget overview committee established in RSA 17-J without the use of any state funds. It provides project oversight by mandating that the New Hampshire State Veterans Cemetery Association shall utilize a licensed independent architect or professional engineer to oversee the design and construction of this addition. This architect or professional engineer shall be selected by mutual agreement by the department of administrative services, division of public works design and construction, and the New Hampshire State Veterans Cemetery Association. Additionally, the department of administrative services, division of public works design and construction shall provide oversight of the design and construction of the building addition and the division of public works design and construction shall represent the adjutant general and the state in order to assure compliance of the plans and specifications for the project with accepted state standards for building design and construction. The building shall not be deemed completed until certified by the division of public works design and construction that the addition has been constructed in accordance with the above standards. The New Hampshire State Veterans Cemetery Association shall reimburse the division of public works design and construction for its design and construction oversight services at a cost not to exceed 4 percent of the project cost. Vote 21-0.

HB 354, relative to the closing of clam, oyster, and other bivalve areas for restoration. OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. Laurie J. Sanborn for Finance. This bill authorizes the executive director of the fish and game department to close bivalve areas for restoration purposes. It passed the policy committee on a 13-0 vote. It came to finance for a review of the financial implications. Since there are none, the finance committee unanimously voted the bill OTP. Vote 22-0.

HB 577-FN-A-L, establishing a children's savings account program. OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. Joseph A. Pitre for Finance. This bill establishes the children's savings account program commission and the children's saving account (CSA). The bill allows the commission to accept gifts, grants and donations for deposit into the CSA fund. This program does not use any government funds. Vote 21-0.

REGULAR CALENDAR

HB 468-FN, requiring a warrant to obtain electronic device location information. OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. Len DiSesa for Criminal Justice and Public Safety. This bill regulates the use of electronic device location information and was originally referred to the ED&A committee, which passed with a motion of ought to pass with amendment, 11-1. HB 468, which is supported by the department of safety, puts the burden on a government entity - where it belongs - requiring that entity (whether it is a state, local or federal agency) to get a warrant in front of a neutral and detached magistrate before the communication device is utilized in any investigative capacity. The bill stipulates the exceptions to the warrant process depending on exigent circumstances. The criminal justice committee had consensus on the penalty stipulating a class B misdemeanor for violating this statute. Vote 14-3.

Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

HB 645-FN, relative to the licensure and regulation of child day care agencies. OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. Robert R. Cushing for Criminal Justice and Public Safety. This bill establishes that anyone who operates a licensed or unlicensed child care facility where a child suffers permanent impairment to brain function, permanent paralysis, or other permanent depilatory injury as a result of that person's negligent operation shall be guilty of a class B felony. This is consistent with penalties for other negligent homicide. Vote 16-0. Committee report adopted and ordered to third reading.

HB 215-FN, relative to school building aid grant payments. INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Kenneth L. Weyler for Finance. This bill proposes keeping school construction aid at a fixed amount of $50 million for the foreseeable future. It would adjust for payments on previously-issued school construction bonds. These payments are $42.8 million in 2016 and $37 million in 2017, leaving $21.2 million available for building aid in the next biennium. The bill also allows for this money to be used for additional bonding. Bonding is what has caused problems in the school building aid program. Bond payments for five-year old construction cost $14.4 million per year from the meals and room tax revenue. We have had over a decade of declining enrollment in our schools. The original purpose of school construction aid was to assist districts that had growing enrollments to properly house those students. With declining enrollments, this purpose no longer applies. Districts might wish to have new schools, but in the present tight fiscal situation, there are more pressing needs. Vote 20-2.

Rep. Cahill spoke against.

Rep. Weyler spoke in favor and yielded to questions.

Committee report adopted.

HB 357, relative to notice of change of name or address on a driver's license and on the registration of a vehicle.

MAJORITY: OUGHT TO PASS WITH AMENDMENT. MINORITY: INEXPEDIENT TO LEGISLATE.

Rep. Karen C. Umberger for the Majority of Finance. The DOT budget presented in the committee amendment to HB 357 reflects a budget that lives within our current means, without raising the road toll or registration fees. As a result, there is a stark reduction in funds available for our transportation infrastructure. It is a baseline, bare bones proposal that some may call fiscally responsible and others may call irresponsible due to layoffs and service cutbacks that may come as a result. The majority of the committee understands both sides of the argument. This effort, although extremely painful for both budget writers and state employees, has provided us with an opportunity to see what happens when the can is kicked down the road for far too long. A decade of reliance on one-time revenue sources, creative but temporary accounting solutions, as well as a decline in federal funding have lead us to our current situation. Here are the facts: the department believes that if this proposal were to become law, 400 of our valuable DOT employees may face layoffs. It would result in substantially reduced services including mowing, paving, maintenance, mechanical services, equipment, and bridge maintenance, among many other DOT functions. Under this proposal, the department would be facing a reduction in funding of $88.2 million, which represents a 42% cut in highway funds. These reductions will have a significant impact on the services our citizens, visitors, and business community have come to expect from DOT. There are no longer opportunities to employ temporary fixes to correct this disparity. Finance committee members with decades of experience have explored dozens of options. The only solution would be new or increased revenue streams into the highway fund. This would come in the form of higher registration fees and/or an increase in the road toll. However, the finance committee must work within the existing revenue framework unanimously approved by a bipartisan vote of the House ways & means committee. Despite reducing the use of highway funds to support the department of safety to the statutory level, a provision that had been suspended in past years, reductions of more than 40% are still necessary to produce a balanced DOT budget for the next biennium within the House-passed revenue estimates. The committee believes strongly in the legislative process and our ability to work collectively to find solutions to the tough problems our state faces. We must all do what we believe is in the best interests of our constituents. Through this process the House, and eventually the Senate, will be able to choose a path forward. The committee chose to present this as the baseline option. This is the first step. Vote 15-11

Rep. Daniel A. Eaton for the Minority of Finance. The amendment to HB 357 will cripple and eviscerate the department of transportation (DOT). The effect of HB 357, as amended, will be a reduction of over 690 employees, almost half of the entire workforce. Fifty maintenance sheds and at least 2 district offices will be shuttered. Almost all DOT construction programs will cease as will most federal funds for projects and services due to failure of maintenance of efforts. Finally some 2500 miles of roadway and up to 1000 bridges will be left to local communities to maintain if they so choose. Of the 1000 bridges left behind, many may be subject to emergency closure. The result of HB 357 is irresponsible and unconscionable. The primary purpose of government is public safety. HB 357 abdicates that responsibility.

Majority Amendment (1015h)

This amendment was printed in its entirety in House Record No. 23, March 20, 2015 and is made part of this Journal by reference.

Rep. Kurk spoke against and yielded to questions.

Rep. Shurtleff requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

Motion of Ought to Pass adopted and ordered to third reading.

Rep. Wright voted Yea and intended to vote Nay.

HB 572-FN-L, relative to taking land by eminent domain for high pressure gas pipelines and requiring payment of the land use change tax when land is taken by eminent domain to build energy infrastructure.

OUGHT TO PASS.

Rep. Susan W. Almy for Ways and Means. Although this bill came to ways and means, it deals only with local taxation, which is the sphere of the municipal and county government. That committee and the floor approved the existing language. No ways and means policy is involved. Vote 15-0.

Rep. Ammon requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

Rep. Cushing requested Unanimous Consent of the House regarding 4th graders visiting the State House and addressed the House.

Rep. Moffett requested Unanimous Consent of the House regarding memorial remarks for the former member from Canterbury, the Honorable Bob Lockwood and addressed the House.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS

Rep. LeBrun moved that the remarks made by Rep. Frederick Rice be printed in the Permanent Journal. Motion adopted.

REMARKS

Rep. Frederick Rice: Thank you, mister Speaker. Last week, while most of us weren't here, a significant anniversary took place. Monday, March 16, was the 213th anniversary of the founding of the United States Military Academy at West Point. For those who are not familiar with West Point, it is the world's premier leadership development institution. Our country has depended on West Point graduates to lead it to victory in all of it's major wars, Grant and Lee in the Civil War, Pershing in the first 1st World War, Eisenhower, MacArthur and Patten in the 2nd World War, Ridgway in Korea, Westmoreland and Abrams in Vietnam and Schwarzkopf, Petraeus in the Middle East. In addition to be a premier military institution, West Point produces leaders in many other areas as well. The CEO's of such companies that you may have heard of, such as AT&T, the Marriott Corporation, the New York Stock Exchange, General Mills, Mercedes, have all been captained at one time or another, or at present, by West Point graduates. At the present time, there is a West Pointer who is trying out for the Boston Red Sox. He's fulfilled his military obligation and he is now trying out and he has a fairly good chance, I think. We hope. In the future, three West Point graduates will be going to the International Space Station. One of them will be staying for a full year. West Point excels academically. It has produced more Rhodes Scholars than any school or university in the country, except Harvard, Princeton and Yale. It has produced more Hertz Fellowships, which is the scientific equivalent of Rhodes, than any school in the country other than Stanford, MIT and Caltech. It has produced more Rhodes and more Hertz Scholarships than the two other major service academies combined. We are very proud of that. Now, if we could only beat Navy a little bit more. How does West Point do this? They do it by starting on day one inculcating leadership traits. They introduce a concept and then reinforce it steadily over the next four years. On the first day that every freshman or plebe reports into West Point, one of the many things that they are issued that day is a small book called The Bugle Notes. In it, it is filled with military information, the history of the military, the history of the military academy, some specific information that they will use on a day to day basis. Some of it is inspirational and some of it is guidance. One of the things that is my favorite quotation from The Bugle Notes is a brief quotation that I have had framed on the wall of my office for some forty years. It is extremely inspirational. It pertains to integrity, leadership and justice and I would like to leave you with that quotation right now. It is taken from an Address given to the Corp of Cadets in 1820 by Brevet Major William Jenkins Worth, who was then the Commandant of Cadets. It's called The Battalion Orders. It pertains to everyone. It especially pertains to people like us in a public body. It pertains to everyone from the political left to the political right. It pertains to everyone from the lowest to the highest ranks within our midst and it goes like this: "But an officer on duty knows no one -- to be partial is to dishonor both himself and the object of his ill-advised favor. What will be thought of him who exacts of his friends that which disgraces him? Look at him who winks at and overlooks offenses in one, which he causes to be punished in another, and contrast him with the inflexible soldier who does his duty faithfully, notwithstanding it occasionally wars with his private feelings. The conduct of one will be venerated and emulated, the other detested as a satire upon soldiership and honor." And now the final two words that are more important to Cadets, beat Navy. Thank you.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS

Rep. Hinch moved that the remarks made by Rep. Cushing be printed in the Permanent Journal. Motion adopted.

REMARKS

Rep. Cushing: Thank you, Mister Speaker. I first came to the State House with Mrs. Down's fourth-grade class from Center School in Hampton. I remember walking through that door into this chamber and I felt like I was walking into a cathedral. I felt like I was walking into a sacred space and I could have a sense like all sacred space that there were spirits here and that is was a very special place. The first time I ever spoke in this chamber, I was in high school. My cousin, Ralphie, Private First Class Ralph Norgren had come back from Vietnam in a chair with stumps instead of legs and it affected my family and made me ask a lot of questions. One thing I asked myself was, why is it that Ralphie could be sent away to fight in a foreign country but he didn't have the right to vote for the government that would make that decision about whether he would go to war? So would another number of kids in New Hampshire get together to try to ask the Legislature to lower the voting age to eighteen from twenty-one. A bill was introduced and I came to testify on that bill and I stood right here. That was before there was a legislative office building when the Legislature would hold hearings on bills and I stood before the members of the committee and I explained my position and others did too. Though, the committee did not adopt the bill that I wanted them to pass, what I remember is I was treated with respect. No one suggested that I shouldn't be here advocating for a change in the law. No one made fun of the legislation. No one mocked me. I even got, after the hearing, I even got to go up to the third floor into the office of the Speaker of the House of Representatives. A guy from a Hudson suburb, from Nashua, Speaker Cobleigh and what I remember about Speaker Cobleigh telling me is, "You know, it might not pass this time, but you know, maybe someday you'll come back if they don't do it, you can come back as a legislator and you can make the case here and vote for that. In 1984, I stood here for the first time as an elected official. I was in the Con-Con and there are some familiar faces from thirty-one years ago still in this chamber and I got to stand here with Marshall Cobleigh, which was kind of an interesting full circle for me. Last Fall, I was approached about sponsoring a piece of legislation that a group of fourth-graders in Hampton Falls were interested in seeing passed. It wasn't my, I didn't think right away, I didn't run to it, but as I met with those fourth-graders, they told me they wanted to have the Red-Tail hawk become a state raptor. What got me about it was their reasoning. They said the Red-Tail hawk, it's an animal where both the male and the female participate in the raising of the young and they thought that would be a really good symbol for the state. You know, when a nine and ten-year old tells you that both parents participating in the raising of a young is a good thing and we ought to have a symbol for it, I wanted to listen. They worked hard on the legislation. These are the kids who gave up recess and lunch hour to work on their legislation. They appeared before the Environment and Agriculture Committee. They heard the bill was given a hearing and that there was a favorable vote for it. The last Session, they came here with their parents and their teacher, Mr. Cutting, and as you will recall, they were introduced as our guests and people stood up and applauded them and they were excited because they had their t-shirts on. I had gone to the school a couple of days before to tell them what was going to happen, I thought. We had a discussion about the majority and minority report. They criticized the minority report, but I told them, just listen to the debate. I assured them, I said, "You know, the House, sometimes some people are cranky, but we are not mean." When the debate took place on HB 373, I don't think that people took as serious the legislation before them as the fourth-graders and their parents did. I don't think the debate was our finest hour. I don't think it was very elevated. To my colleagues who have a problem with the idea that we should be discussing bills like the State raptor, I want to say, nobody rode their bicycle up here, climbed up on the table at legislative services and signed off on a bill. If people have a problem with legislation, come speak to myself or any of the other sponsors of this bill because we are responsible, not fourth-graders. I think that in the aftermath, we know that there has been a fair amount of attention paid to what we did that day. After the vote, I went up and greeted or spoke to the fourth-graders and their parents and told them that it is not always like this here. That we really aren't as mean and cranky as perhaps your perception was of that day and that hang in there, we will try and bring this back and to thank them for inspiring me and inspiring a lot of other people. So, Mister Speaker, I want to stand here today and I want to apologize to the fourth-graders of Lincoln Ackerman School and their teacher and their parents and I want to apologize to every fourth-grader and every parent in the state for the reception that they were given last week during the debate on HB 373. One of the things that happened after the debate was that they rode back on the bus and a parent asked the kids if they wanted to become politicians, if they wanted to become involved in politics and they said, "No, we don't want to be mean." I want to say to those fourth-graders and to every fourth-grader, that notwithstanding how we were on that day, that we need you to become involved, that you are important to us, that you represent the future and without you we are lost and I want to thank you for inspiring us to debate the State raptor for New Hampshire.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS

Rep. Shurtleff moved that the remarks made by Rep. Moffett be printed in the Permanent Journal.
Motion adopted.

REMARKS

Rep. Moffett: Thank you, Mister Speaker. I just want to take a moment to remember the life of a former member of this House and a singular man and in the interest of time, I have been asked not to request other members of the Merrimack County Delegation or others of you who may remember Bob Lockwood, to come down to the well. I want to talk about him for just a moment. Bob Lockwood was a singular man. He was born in Concord. He was educated at Concord High, then at UNH, and then he got his masters at Boston University. He served in the Korean War and he served proudly as a soldier's soldier and he later served as a veteran's veteran. He worked in the family business, Lockwood Young Concrete. In 1960, he moved to Canterbury after marrying the lovely Priscilla Parmenter, known to many of you as Representative Priscilla Lockwood. He worked for the Concord Monitor as a reporter and city editor and he was a newspaperman's newspaperman. He served in this House for twelve years, from 1986 to 1998, chairing the judiciary committee for part of that time. When he retired, as many of you know, he was succeeded by his wife, my former colleague, Priscilla Lockwood of Canterbury who deserves accolades in her own right, but that is for another day. Today we just want to remember Bob. He passed away on February 15 after a long career. In addition to being a soldier's soldier, a veteran's veteran, a newspaperman's newspaperman and a legislator's legislator, he was a giant in the Canterbury community. He wrote the history of the Canterbury Fair -- "Always the last Saturday in July." In so many others ways, he contributed to our community in ways that it is impossible to express so I won't say more now, but I would like to ask you to stand and remember Bob Lockwood. Thank you.

MOMENT OF SILENCE

A moment of silence was observed in honor and in memory of the former member from Canterbury, the Honorable Bob Lockwood.

RECESS MOTION

Rep. Flanagan moved that the House stand in recess for the purposes of the introduction of bills, receiving Senate messages, enrolled bill amendments and enrolled bill reports.
