HOUSE JOURNAL NO. 2

Wednesday, January 2, 2019

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m. and was called to order by the Speaker.

Prayer was offered by House Chaplain, Reverend Kate Atkinson, Rector of St. Paul's Church in Concord. Timeless God, as we enter this new year, we pray that You would refresh our hearts, renew our hope, fill us with expectation and optimism, and remind us daily that You have given us all we need to be a blessing to the world. We give You thanks for vision to see the need around us, hearts to care for others - friends and strangers alike, and hands to offer generosity and comfort. We give You thanks for the opportunity to gather together in this body sharing the responsibility of governance, and serving the people of New Hampshire, as we draw strength and inspiration from one another. Timeless God I pray for Your blessing on this House, for each Representative, staff member, visitor, and all those they cherish, throughout this new year and always. Amen.

Representative Henry Parkhurst, member from Winchester, led the Pledge of Allegiance.

PROTEST

By its action today, voting to prohibit law abiding citizens from possessing firearms in Representatives Hall, this body has committed a grievous error which violates the constitutional rights of elected members of this historic legislative body, and put the safety and welfare at risk.

- Acts of violence against elected officials have been on the increase, including such horrific events as a mass shooting at a congressional softball practice where Rep. Steve Scalise was shot, a mass shooting at Former Congresswoman Gabby Giffords constituent meeting in 2011 where she was gravely injured, and a physical assault of a US Senator Rand Paul at his own home.
- Politicians in Washington, such as Rep. Maxine Waters, have been using rhetoric to incite vitriolic hatred against their political opponents, members of the President's administration, and that they should be publicly harassed.
- Many members who travel on foot to and from the Storrs Street legislative parking garage feel particularly vulnerable, and are compelled to carry a firearm in the event of an attack.
- There is currently insufficient infrastructure and personnel to safely store and/or monitor firearms, if they were to be checked before entering the restricted areas.

- There are several recent incidents where House members have received communication or threats suggesting physical violence against them or their families.
- By this rule change we are broadcasting to any person with ill intent that there are up to 400 elected officials and staff in close proximity who may be unable to defend themselves or each other, in the event of an attack.

Therefore, pursuant to the Constitution of the State of New Hampshire, Part 2, Article 24, I register my protest to the vote of the House to amend its rules to prohibit lawful possession of firearms, and wish to have it entered in the House Journal.

In dissent of the vote here taken, I move to have entered on the journal as ordered;

[Art.] 24 [Journals and Laws to be Published; Yeas and Nays; and Protests.] The journals of the proceedings, and all public acts of both houses, of the legislature, shall be printed and published immediately after every adjournment or prorogation; and upon motion made by any one member, duly seconded, the yeas and nays, upon any question, shall be entered, on the journal. And any member of the senate, or house of representatives, shall have a right, on motion made at the time for that purpose to have his protest, or dissent, with the reasons, against any vote, resolve, or bill passed, entered on the journal.

RSA 625:11 V, "Deadly weapon" means any firearm, knife or other substance or thing which, in the manner it is used, intended to be used, or threatened to be used, is known to be capable of producing death or serious bodily injury.

Is a firearm which is not intended to be used, or threatened to be used, a deadly weapon?

Parsing the definition to arrive at; "Deadly weapon" means any firearm is outside of logic. A firearm is no different than a hammer. In order for a firearm to become a deadly weapon a person must take control of it, and to make it a more effective deadly weapon add a cartridge, then deploy it in an intentional and effective (or negative) manner. Lacking a cartridge and intention a firearm is not different than a hammer. So a definition that would state 'deadly weapon means a firearm' would belong in a book authored by Lewis Carroll. Therefore we MUST read this definition to include the conditional phrases; 'deadly weapon means any firearm which, in the manner it is used, intended to be used, or threatened to be used, is known to be capable of producing death or serious bodily injury.

One might argue that a firearm is always 'capable of producing death or serious bodily injury'; such a claim is clearly false, my firearm has only made holes in paper and aluminum cans.

Legislative research provided four cases which involved RSA 625:11 V, none of which addressed a firearm. State v. Duran affirmed that a shank is a deadly weapon, at least inside a prison. In State v. Hull the court concluded a motor vehicle driven by a drunk driver was a deadly weapon. In State v. Mayo the court determined a shod foot was a "deadly weapon" in the manner it was used to kick a victim, roundhouse style in the head, knocking him unconscious. Finally, in State v. Kilkuk the court found a diner fork used to stab a victim in the eye was indeed a deadly weapon.

Conversely the court found in State v. Pratte that a bow and arrow was not a deadly weapon because the felon who possessed it lacked any intention to use it to cause harm to any person.

It is therefore clear that a holstered firearm is not a deadly weapon.

Rep. Sylvia.

63. Deadly weapons; electronic devices; cameras. No person, including members of the House, except law enforcement officers while actively engaged in carrying out their duties as such, shall carry or have in possession any deadly weapon as defined in RSA 625:11, V while in the House Chamber, anterooms, cloakrooms, or House gallery. Any person in violation of this rule shall be subject to ejection from any such premises on the order of the Speaker, or the person shall voluntarily surrender the weapon to the Sergeant-at-Arms and disciplinary action or arrest or both by action of the House. Nothing in this rule shall indicate that the security officer appointed by the House under Rule 61 has the right to stop and search a member of the House on the premises of the House. Upon request, a House member shall be provided with a protective services or other law enforcement office escort, to and from their vehicle when on official legislative business at the State House complex. With the exception of devices for the hearing impaired, no member shall operate audible electronic transmitting and/or receiving devices nor shall any member operate a video camera or a camera utilizing flash bulbs on the floor of the House, while the House is in session.

Rep. Baldasaro spoke in favor.

On a division vote, with 154 members having voted in the affirmative, and 221 in the negative, the amendment failed.

MOTION TO PRINT DEBATE

Rep. Packard moved that the debate on the amendment to House Rule 63 be printed in the Permanent Journal.

Rep. Packard requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

DEBATEAMENDMENT TO HOUSE RULE 63

Speaker Shurtleff: Rep. Ley moves the adoption of an amendment to House Rule 63, as proposed by the Rules Committee and as printed in the House Calendar. The question is on the adoption of the amendment. For what purpose does the member rise?

Rep. Baldasaro: Parliamentary inquiry, Mister Speaker.

Speaker Shurtleff: Please state your inquiry.

Rep. Baldasaro: Mister Speaker, would it be in order for me to make a motion to table this?

Speaker Shurtleff: The tabling motion is a higher priority so that would be in order.

Rep. Baldasaro: Then I would like to make a motion to table, Mister Speaker.

Speaker Shurtleff: The member moves to table this amendment.

Rep. Baldasaro: And request a division vote.

Speaker Shurtleff: And request a division vote. The member from Portsmouth, Rep. Pantelakos has requested a roll call. Are there ten seconds to that motion? There being so, this will be a roll call vote. The question before the House is the motion to table the amendment to House Rule 63. Rep. Packard is recognized for a parliamentary inquiry.

Rep. Packard: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, if I know that this amendment jeopardizes the safety of our members and the general public. If I know that this amendment has several glaring holes and lacks the necessary detail and process and procedures for clearing and storage of weapons. And if I know that members of this body can see that it is not ready and there are so many unanswered questions and too many problems that could put us in a greater risk, would I now press the green button and defeat this? Table this amendment. Thank you, Mister Speaker.

Speaker Shurtleff: Thank you. The question before the House is the motion to table the amendment to House Rule 63. The member from Jaffrey, Rep. Ley, is recognized for a parliamentary inquiry.

Rep. Ley: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, if I know that this proposed rule is simply a restatement of a preexisting rule that has existed for many years under the leadership of members from both sides of the aisle. And Mister Speaker, if I know that this is an issue of great interest to the people of New Hampshire. And if I know that we need to have a fair and open vote on the issue of public safety that is embraced within this amendment, would I now oppose the motion of tabling by pressing the red button? Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: Thank you. The question before the House is the motion to table the amendment to House Rule 63. Are you ready for the question? If you are in support, in favor of this motion, you will press the green button. If you are opposed to this motion, you will press the red button. Voting stations are now open for 30 seconds. Has everyone present voted? We will now attend to the vote. With 164 members having voted Yea and 221 voted Nay, the motion to table fails. The Chair recognizes Rep. Abramson from Seabrook.

Rep. Abramson: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, I rise in opposition to the proposed rule change which would not allow even police officers to carry their weapons with them while not, "actively engaged in carrying out their duties as such." If some members of this House do not even trust off-duty police and military to carry arms in defense of their communities, whom can we trust? If visiting emergency responders must be arrested under this proposed rule, what other officer would violate their oath of office to violate the state and federal constitutions in order to do so? Our ancestors decided centuries ago and subsequent generations have always held that trading away liberty for imaginary security is a fool's errand and yields only the loss of liberty and security. Nearly all mass shooters and mass killers in our society here in America and abroad have targeted unarmed cities, states, parks and private and public buildings where only criminals can obtain weapons. In fact, only 12% of mass killing events have been shootings and no criminal has ever been stopped by a sign telling them not to use a weapon for that attack. Dangerous criminals do not live in fear of so-called gun-free zone signs that are about as effective as the no seagull sign with the seagull standing on top. More than 90% of mass killers were on psychotropic drugs and would not likely have been stopped by a sign or an unarmed citizen. The FBI reports that 5,000 times a day a private citizen with a gun stops or prevents a crime. The Second Amendment Foundation estimates that at 7,000 a day and the CDC reports estimates as high as 10,000 a day. We are told by some that armed security will always be right there, that your cell phone and 911 will somehow stop time in a real emergency, yet 18,000 Americans are murdered each year, mostly in jurisdictions where they are not permitted to carry arms to defend themselves. Hundreds of thousands of Americans are physically or sexually assaulted, robbed, kidnapped or raped at college campuses, parks, bus terminals, taxi stands, on sidewalks or other public areas where only criminals are allowed to carry weapons because of proposed rules such as this in place. When seconds count the police may be only minutes away, but it was over 15 minutes in my case. That door over there is nearly the same color, style and trim as the door in my basement where I was confronted by a woman down in a violent bloody brawl wielding an upturned knife and beer bottle threatening to kill. Perhaps three attempted murders and crimes were committed in that brawl before the police ever arrived, including the woman chasing down my housemate with a hatchet screaming that she would kill them for calling the police. I'm reminded of that near death experience every time I see that door. Gun control laws, like the measure proposed, never stop criminals from getting access to weapons or hurting innocent people. Cell phones do not stop time. Crazy theories do not work in reality. In 2012, unarmed Chinese onlookers were helpless to stop a man wielding a knife who stabbed 22 children and 1 adult. In a 2014 stabbing incident, 23 Chinese were killed and 130 were injured and only using a knife. In 2008, a man in Scarsdale California used a baseball bat and a Samurai sword to kill his ex-wife, 2 children, and a relative and then used fire to burn a house down. In 2001, 19 hijackers, armed only with box cutters, with no armed air marshals to stop them on any of those planes, killed 3,000 Americans using commercial airliners. The Boston bombers killed 3 and injured dozens of others with improvised pressure cooker bombs. Gasoline and 2 matches were used to kill 87 at the Happy Land Social Club in Brooklyn in 1990. In 2003, an unemployed taxi driver killed 133 with gasoline and a lighter in South Korea and in 2010 over 500 Christians were butchered in Nigeria using only machetes. Gun control laws like this proposed rule do not stop attackers and only increase crime. In gun control jurisdictions around the world, attackers have used knives, swords, arrows, hammers, hatchets, shovels, baseball bats, pipes, boards, bricks, wire, rope, gasoline, rocks, machetes, or any kind of tool, cable, chains, vehicles, or even just physical force. In fact, even gun crime has actually gone much higher in American cities with strict gun control laws. Career criminals and other attackers usually prey on smaller, weaker, older, disabled or otherwise easier targets and they can do so everywhere around this campus if they know that visitors have been made disarmed and helpless by us. Isn't our charge to protect public safety? Are we to tell our own families coming to visit us that we cannot even protect them in an emergency? Are we to tell police officers that they have to arrest their fellow cop for carrying off-duty in the State House or Legislative Office Building? Will we violate our oath of office only 28 days after taking it and require that our officers do the same? Is our word or commitment so weak that we cannot even pass a month without breaking our word? If passed, this rule would be about as effective as moving a deer crossing sign in hopes of getting deer to cross the road at some safer point. Thank you. Please vote no on this measure.

Speaker Shurtleff: The Chair recognizes the member from Hollis, Rep. Belanger.

Rep. Belanger: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Just to let you know, I was a police officer for 24 years. I do not carry and I wonder if my Leatherman is a weapon. For sure, we shouldn't ban weapons in the House. This has become such a problem with Representatives brandishing firearms and scaring folks. Raising alarms because they bring a weapon into the House even though we are allowed to bring them to the State House from our vehicles. Should we then turn them in to the Sgt.-at-Arms to hold for us while in the House? This is a solution begging for a problem. Let's do this the other way around. When it becomes a problem, let's find a solution. Vote no on this rule change. Let's not open ourselves to the terrorists who would then know that this is a gun-free zone. Mister Speaker, I ask for a division vote.

Speaker Shurtleff: The member has asked for a division vote when we get to that point. The Chair recognizes the member from Goffstown, Rep. Burt.

Rep. Burt: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, let's imagine that at some point in the future some other party has the majority in the House. That party has seen the Democratic Party claim, as it does today, that there are no limits on what can be controlled via the House Rules, decides to push through some rules like; no women are allowed in the House chamber, no blacks are allowed in the House chamber, no Jews or Muslims are allowed in the House chamber, no retired school teachers are allowed in the House chamber and no Democrats are allowed in the House chamber. Now, if this happened, what would the response be? Well, all those groups would start complaining pretty loudly that there are, in fact, limits to what can be controlled via the House Rules. Those complaints would all take a particular form that people have rights protected by the State and Federal Constitution and the Rules of the House, which are actually limited in scope to how bills will be submitted, considered and voted on and do not give the temporary majority the power to turn the House chamber into some kind of constitutional-free zone. Everyone knows this because they know that the kind of rules I've listed above cannot possibly be within the scope of the power granted to the House to settle the rules of the proceedings of their own House. To claim these rules within the scope is absurd. There must be some limits and there are limits. There must a source for those limits and in this case the source is the Bill of Rights in the State and Federal Constitutions. So what am I asking today, Mister Speaker, is for those members of the House who would make the claim that the majority of the House can make any rules it wants, strips citizens of rights that it doesn't happen to like, to consider that today's majority will be tomorrow's minority and to keep in mind the old saying, what goes around comes around. What I am asking, Mister Speaker, is for the members of the House to consider what argument they would make in opposition to the imaginary rules I've mentioned and to recognize those same arguments applied to the real rule that is being considered in front of us right now, Rule 63. Mister Speaker, I myself have had 5 death threats being a New Hampshire State Representative and with my parking spot that you gave me, which is behind Staples, I need protection. Our Founding Fathers gave me the right to carry and protect myself and, Mister Speaker, God also gave me that right. The Great Jehovah God gave me that right, Mister Speaker. Finally, Mister Speaker, I am saddened that you will probably still move forward this anti-gun, anti-constitution, anti-God rule change, but I have one last thing to say, Mister Speaker. I want to make sure every crazy nut out there that loves to go to these gun-free zones to do their killing understands one thing. I, Representative John Burt of Goffstown, will not be a victim in my house, the people's House, because you guys have the majority. So as in 2013 and 2014, when Speaker Norelli passed the same rule, I still and will carry as I have and always will. Thank you, Mister Speaker.

Speaker Shurtleff: There will be no displays on the floor or in the gallery. Will the member yield to a question? I did not know you were parking on this side of the Merrimack. The Chair recognizes the member from Manchester, Rep. Smith.

Rep. Timothy Smith: Let's go back in time. I'm willing to suspect that the majority of people in this room have no idea what the history behind this particular rule is, so we are going to examine that. This rule was put in place in 1971 by a Republican Speaker of the House named Marshall Cobleigh. It just so happens that I have a copy of Marshall Cobleigh's political memoir. It's titled We Ain't Making Sausage Here. It came out a few years ago and on page 146 he actually explains why this rule was put into place. I'm going to read verbatim from the words of Republican Speaker of the House Marshall Cobleigh. "Minority Leader Bill Craig came down to the podium and said, 'I don't want to alarm you, Marshall, but Cap Gay's in back of the hall with a pistol. He says he's going to shoot you.'" Unsure of how to proceed, I called the governor's office. I asked to speak to Peterson. "It's an emergency," I told the governor's secretary. "I've got to speak with him right now!" I said, "Pete this is Marshall. Is there anything in the rules that says you can't carry a gun onto the floor of the House? I can't find out where it is. Cap Gay is in the back of the hall with a pistol. He says he's going to shoot me!" Peterson called Attorney General Rudman. He sent State Police Colonel Joe Regan to the House, and Regan himself disarmed Cap Gay. We tried to pass a rule banning guns from the floor of the House, but the gun advocates got their backs up. We ended up with a new rule that you cannot carry guns on the floor of the House, but no one can search you. I believe that is still the rule today." And, it was up until 2011. I would submit, Mister Speaker, that if there is a threat of gun violence in this chamber, that threat does not come from the gallery.

Speaker Shurtleff: Members will be in order. The Chair recognizes the member from Hudson, Rep. Lekas. Why does the member rise? Question of the past speaker? He declines to take any questions. The Chair recognizes the member from Hudson, Rep. Lekas.

Rep. Alicia Lekas: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Thank you, fellow Representatives. For most of 200 years, people have been carrying firearms in this Hall with no serious incident, but this rule could well bring about serious incidents outside of this chamber. This rule gives women a lose-lose dilemma. Either I could disarm myself leaving my firearm at home. The only problem is I seldom go home or frequently don't go straight home afterwards because I have other meetings. Meetings that take place in places where it's dark, where there is little parking. Places like downtown Manchester. Last month, I had 4 such meetings where I couldn't always park near where I was. In fact, I used to work just down the street from where these meetings were held. When I worked there, because of my work, I also couldn't carry and I had to park in the local parking garage. On the way to the garage, I had to pass an adult bookstore and a closed down night club and frequently there were men lining the sidewalk, drinking out of paper bags and watching me as I went by. On 3 separate occasions one of those men took off after me and all I could do was run as fast as I could and pray dear God get me to the parking garage before he gets to me. Fortunately at the time the parking garage was manned by 2 gentlemen who knew my schedule and looked out for me so when they saw me running down the middle of the road, they stepped out to see what they could do and when these guys following me saw that, they peeled off and went back. I had to park there last month because I could not find on-street parking. That parking garage is no longer manned. That parking garage has no buddy looking out for me anymore. I am the only one that can look out for me. Please, please don't send me back to those streets, those dark side streets where I am unarmed and vulnerable and I can't run as fast as I could ten years ago. So my other option is to put my firearms, lock them in my vehicle before I come over here. My vehicle that has a nice nameplate right on the back that says who I am and that my vehicle is likely to have firearms locked in it. This is an advertisement to criminals who can't otherwise, can't legally get their hands on firearms. This makes a prime target for those of us who might be carrying. Makes a prime target for our cars because everybody knows on session days they have at least the time between ten and noon where there is nobody in that parking garage and they can go help themselves to our vehicles. So we have a terrible choice that we have to make. The choice of either one, risking being mugged, raped or killed, or two, risking letting criminals get their hands on firearms. So I beg you please, please do not allow this rule. Please vote against this unnecessary and dangerous rule. Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: Why does the member rise?

Rep. Flanagan: Parliamentary inquiry or question of the Speaker. Mister Speaker, the Representative from Manchester made some reference and I didn't quite hear what he said, but I think he said that he was not afraid of someone shooting from the gallery, which means he was afraid of someone shooting him within this chamber and I find that insulting because I take the title of honorable seriously. If that was his intent, I am insulted by what he said.

Speaker Shurtleff: That was a statement that the member just made, not an inquiry. It's not a, would you believe type of situation.

Rep. Flanagan: My apologies, Mister Speaker.

Speaker Shurtleff: I accept your apology and I thank you. Let me just remind all the members in this body, we in this chamber operate at a higher standard than the national Congress does. As I was saying, we operate at a higher standard in this chamber than the national Congress. We will never speak to demean another member of this body or assign motives to any other member in this body. While I am on a roll, I will advise our members in this body and those in the House, that a great philosopher Alphonse Capone once said, "Don't mistake my kindness for weakness." Members will act appropriately and guests in the gallery will act appropriately. There will be no clapping for either side on this issue. We will maintain the decorum that this body is famous for and act with the respect we have earned over the centuries we've been here. With that, the Chair will now recognize Rep. Steven Smith, the member from Charlestown.

Rep. Steven Smith: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Happy New Year and thank you for fixing it so I am the only one that doesn't get any applause. I am going to try really hard not to make him gavel me.

Speaker Shurtleff: Please don't milk the audience like that. You may proceed.

Rep. Steven Smith: So, there has been a lot of hyperbole, big political statements. I want to tell you a personal story about somebody who has used weapons before, because I worked in private security for a lot of years, but has never wanted to bring a weapon here and what forced me to change my mind. I came here because I've had a lot of friends and colleagues here and we are the luckiest place in the world where your neighbors are your Representatives, literally in most cases. I mean look around, there are so many of you. After my first term or two, what happened was some mailers came into my district that were very cleverly created. They had imagery of frightened children on them, shadowing done so it gives the appearance of bruises, but not quite because that would be crossing a line. They were mailers based on some other bill. One woman with a black eye. Now, why would you do this? Well, you want an emotional response, right? That's good marketing and it worked. In one of my towns, a peaceful one, actually holds a Guinness record for most town meetings in the same room. I think they are up to 220 years. Quilting is their thing. My wife was standing there. It's out in the woods, pretty remote location, 600 people live there and was approached by no less than 3 people that the hate stuff really worked on. She was threatened and intimidated. She is this tall. I guess that's what you have to do to prove you're a big man, but she was threatened specifically, there was sexual innuendo. One of them said someone should put a bullet in my head. Where I live and this is my family. So when you make statements you have to realize that your neighbor might be the one that is getting hurt. Some of the people in this room supported the organization Lantos and a lot of people in this room, well they benefited from the money and effort that was spent, and forgive me if I take it a little personally, that today we're getting involved in my decision about how I protect myself. Taking a breath because I don't make good decisions when my wife and my family are the injured party. So even at that point though I still didn't do it, but what happens after that? On the heels of Representative Scalise being shot and silence from the people responsible for the situation I was in, I asked them to denounce it, my neighbors, my friends who I had known for years, but they are in a different party so they wouldn't do it. I've never been so sad in my life. Senator Paul beaten in his front yard and then we have Senator Maxine Waters advocating Republicans, now Republicans isn't the word, that's my wife who was accosted in the peaceful town of Langdon, it's my children, it's me, that when we are in public places, we should be chased out. Well, this is a public place and now you want to tell me what I should do about all this effort that was spent to make me a hunted person by those nuts. It's not right, Mister Speaker, and that's why I'm voting against this rule.

Speaker Shurtleff: The Chair recognizes the member from Hudson, Rep. Rice.

Rep. Rice: Thank you, Mister Speaker. I rise in opposition to the amendment to House Rule 63. This proposed amendment leaves me not only vulnerable here in these chambers, but I will be left unable to defend myself to and from my vehicle. I would be left vulnerable should I need to stop at the grocery store or bank or any other stop I need to make on my way home. What if I broke down on the side of the road? Many may say I can still carry away from these chambers. I could if I chose to leave my firearm in my vehicle, however, even though breaking into cars is against the law, criminals do not follow the law and they would then have my firearm. I myself have received some very disturbing messages and letters from an individual that say things such as, "My patience has ended." Here is another quote, sort of, because the first word is not "witches." You can use your imagination. "Witches like you and your kind should be exiled from this country or put to death." In another social media post this same individual made a statement about a guardian ad litem that said, "When the court let her off I had serious thoughts about ending her life." Should I not be fearful? Why are you choosing to leave me defenseless? And, let's be honest, violence against elected officials is on the increase, yet you choose to leave us defenseless. So, as I am left defenseless, many of you may say, well you can always call 911. I would like to bring your attention to the case of Warren v. District of Columbia. A case where 3 women sued after being brutalized and raped for 14 hours because the police never came when called. They sued for failure to protect. The high court exonerated the district and the police saying it is a fundamental principle of American law that a government and its agents are under no general duty to provide public services such as police protection to any individual citizen. There are many similar cases with results to the same effect. My hope is to never, ever have to remove my firearm from its holster, but should the need arise, I take comfort in knowing I have the ability to make sure that I return home to my husband and my children every night. I ask that you vote against this and press the red button. Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: The Chair recognizes the member from Manchester, Rep. Heath.

Rep. Heath: Thank you, Mister Speaker and Honorable colleagues. I rise in support of House Rule 63 for the following reasons. Over the last 4 years, we have been witness to a number of weapon related incidents wherein a member or guest dropped their weapon on the House floor, the LOB or in the gallery. I personally witnessed an event where a member was late to a hearing and in her haste, her weapon fell to the floor. The gun was only a few feet away from children in a crowded hearing room. No one was hurt and luckily the safety lock was on, but what would have happened if that gun had fired? As a mother, grandmother, former teacher, educator, I want children to be able to come to this body and feel safe. We have hundreds of children who come to Concord every single day as part of the New Hampshire history curriculum to visit our chambers. Some schools have stopped that practice over the concern of weapons in the House. It is for the safety of our members and our guests that I support House Rule 63 and I ask for your support. Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: The member does not yield. The Chair recognizes the member from Brookline, Rep. Flanagan. He waves off speaking. The Chair recognizes the member from Derry, Rep. Love. I apologize.

Rep. Love: Thank you, Mister Speaker and colleagues. As I read the verbiage on this, it says except law enforcement officers when in actively engaged in carrying out their duties, as such. Kimberly Rice mentioned it a little bit, but in 1985 and 2005, the Supreme Court said that law enforcement has no constitutional obligation to protect any one of us. That doesn't give me the warm and fuzzies, okay? If you take a look around you, and please take a look up in the gallery and just imagine some madman or madwoman got up in there, the children that were mentioned would be gone. Most of us would be hit. It would be a bloodbath. The blood would be knee deep here. If a few of us were carrying and had the ability to turn and fire on that madman or madwoman, a lot of deaths might be averted. The constitutionality can certainly be challenged here. Do we want to get into that? One thing I'd like to do is speak to the incoming freshman. Ya know I'm an incoming freshman. I know how hard it is to go out there and work to get elected. We all busted our proverbial butts and to sit here and understand that any legislation that may get vetoed is going to require 30 Republican votes or better, in around 30, to override a veto and the thought of sitting here and being part of a stalemated legislature and doing absolutely nothing for the next 2 years, would I really vote against this? Would I really? Do I really want to go that route? Do I want to kick the Republicans that I'm going to need in the gut? I ask that you do vote against this. This is absurd in my eyes. Somebody mentioned a problem looking for a solution. New Hampshire is one of safest places on earth, okay? Don't mess with what we have. Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: The Chair recognizes the member from Merrimack, Rep. Notter.

Rep. Notter: Thank you, Mister Speaker. I stand in opposition to the amendment. If the average assailant attacking a woman is 5 inches taller and 45 pounds heavier, comparably I'm probably 5 inches shorter than the average woman and roughly a foot shorter than most men and I'm wearing heels today. As far left liberals you may have nothing to fear, but as a conservative Republican woman I can tell you that I have. Hateful tweets and twisted videos may seem like harmless attacks to you, but they transferred into real threats against not only myself but to my family. Threats of bodily harm and death wishes have been addressed to me personally since my first year in the House. All calls to my house are now sent to voicemail to save my family from hearing sinister messages. Instead of grabbing for a coloring book and crayons, or reaching for a puppy to pet, I trained with NRA instructors to learn how to properly handle and conceal a firearm. Those instructors can attest that I am a good shot. My friends and I have tried on various holsters and did the hug test to make sure no one else could feel where we carried our firearm. To my knowledge, no one in the state legislature has had to run to a safe space at the mere sight of us. Since the training I have not felt vulnerable to big, scary, hateful beings, but now that the majority is making me disarm, if I am forced to engage in an unarmed fight against a criminal assailant, you are ensuring that I am the one that will be injured. The daily wire reported that according to the Crime Prevention Research Center, gun-free zones have been the target of more than 98% of all mass shootings. The number is staggering so I will repeat that 98% of all mass shootings have been in gun-free zones. What is a gun-free zone? It's an area where guns are prohibited. When a criminal sees a sign that says no guns allowed, I find it asinine and illogical to think that the criminal will turn around and go the other way because you put that sign there. Criminals do not follow the law. They do not register firearms. They seek out gun-free zones because they know there will be no one to shoot back. The banning of firearms is a page right out of the Third Reich's playbook. If the Democrat controlled House will strip the right of self-defense from duly-elected New Hampshire State Legislators, rendering us helpless, then the average citizen has much to fear. On another note, it was mentioned that there was a gun dropping incident. I know what happened and the Representative came in late and no one from the public saw her. The only reason that someone saw is because there was a Senator who was standing behind her so if he had stayed out in the seats where most people sit to watch the committee hearings, he never would have seen the gun. And the incident before that, I was there. I saw what happened. The guy sat down, the Representative, and he had just given blood and he was feeling weak and he did drop his gun, but he picked it right back up and one of the other Representatives from the other party ran out of the room and got the press and they made a big deal about it. Thank you, Mister Speaker.

Speaker Shurtleff: Will the member yield to a question?

Rep. Notter: Who is it? Yes, Mister Speaker.

Speaker Shurtleff: Rep. Edwards is recognized.

Rep. Edwards: That's my stealth mode. Thank you, Mister Speaker. It's really great to see a military police-man standing behind us in a position of cover and concealment. Thank you. So my question for you, Representative, and I've been thinking about this particularly when we see all these people exercising their first amendment so passionately today on campus here. Where would you recommend we store our weapons if we can't have them in here with us? I mean we shouldn't be naked as we drive up here. So we need to figure out where we would store our weapons. Where would you recommend we store our weapons?

Speaker Shurtleff: If the member would suspend? I don't know if you know the answer to that question and I do have the answer and if you want, I'll be glad to let the member know.

Rep. Notter: Thank you, Mister Speaker. I recommend that we keep them where we have been keeping them. In our holster that you didn't even know we had.

Speaker Shurtleff: Just so members know and the member from Auburn asked a good question, where would weapons be secured. I do want to give him an answer to that. If this amendment does pass, we made arrangements with the Chief of Security that there will be gun lockers in the security office which is manned in the basement of the LOB.

Rep. Edwards: Thank you for that answer. I would just point out that I think that's too distant for me to provide for my own self-defense.

Speaker Shurtleff: I don't want to enter this excellent debate, I just want to answer your question. Thank you. Will the member from Merrimack take another question? The member from Franklin is recognized, Rep. Horn.

Rep. Horn: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Thank you, Representative for taking my question. Would you believe that I have been to every one of the schools in my district coming to the State House as well as a number of the homeschooled people in the State House and not once have I ever heard somebody ask me about whether or not I would be armed?

Rep. Notter: Yes, I would believe that. Good job, Representative and I know that there has been not one complaint to the Speaker's office or with the visitor center about arms in the State House. Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: The Chair recognizes the member from Londonderry, Rep. Baldasaro.

Rep. Baldasaro: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, this is my 4th time being in the minority and this is my 3rd time playing ping pong. When I say ping pong, for hundreds of years the Republicans did have weapons in the chamber. When I first got elected in 2006, the Democrats all of a sudden the sky fell. We're in danger. Republicans carrying weapons. We had lock boxes in the back. You could lock your gun there if you wanted to do. This is the peoples House. Now, for 4 years we didn't, we couldn't carry guns. Now this is a feel good rule. You're going to go home tonight my fellow Representatives on the right over here and you're going to say we did the right thing, we saved the day. We stopped them bad Republicans, as the Representative said earlier, the nuts over there. He owes us an apology by the way, that's what you're going to do here. This isn't the first time. We're playing ping pong. In 2020 we win back the House and we put it right back. This is crazy. Wake up and smell the coffee. You've heard from women that have been threatened. You've heard from women legislators that had to go and get gun courses with the NRA to learn how to protect themselves and you want to take that away. You're going to turn around and there is no doubt in my mind, déjà vu. On January 8th, you're going to have a facilities meeting. I already know the future. Your Democrats are going to say no guns in the building. Once again, feel good. That's what you do. Let's be honest. Has the sky dropped? Has there been gun shooting going on for the last 4 years or 100, since 1784 in this chamber? But yet you want to be the moms and the dads. You want to protect me. Let me tell you how to protect me and my family. My family took phone calls of people wanting to come to my house with brass knuckles, okay, because I was with the President and traveled around the country and gave speeches. My daughter picked up the phone and they told her how they would going to behead her father. Here at the State House I got a phone call on my cell. I had to bring in the State Troopers. I had to bring in the security chief because I was threatened to be shot on the stairs of the State House and the guy was an idiot. He left his phone number, okay? They investigated. He was in the Concord hospital all because I did not read his site that he wanted me to read and take on an issue. What I'm asking you right now is wake up and smell the coffee what you're going to do. We just passed a constitutional amendment to hold government accountable. I got to tell you right now I guarantee I will sell my house, I will do everything in my power if one of my children or me or one of my fellow Representatives are injured. I want a roll call, Mister Speaker because I have the right to hold government accountable. Remember that constitution amendment that we passed? Now, God gave me the right to protect myself and others and our forefathers put the stamp on that. We all took the oath here in this chamber. We all did. Let me refresh your memory. Article 2-a, the bearer of arms. All persons have the right to keep and bear arms in defense of themselves, their families, their property and the state. You're not taking that away from us. You know you're going to pass this thing. Let's wake up and smell the coffee. You got no respect for gun or law or citizens.

Speaker Shurtleff: The member will suspend for one moment. I say to my friend from Londonderry, I understand your passion, but we in this chamber do not attribute motives to any individual or any group and I would ask you to please keep that in mind as you go forward.

Rep. Baldasaro: Mister Speaker, I apologize for that and I love you like a brother, Mister Speaker, but I am a Republican and I can't understand how you let somebody, a Democrat, call us nuts here earlier and I'll leave it at that, Mister Speaker.

Speaker Shurtleff: The member will continue. Proceed.

Rep. Baldasaro: Now, I'm asking you please. Don't take our rights away. I'm asking you please. You heard from women that have been threatened. I served 22 years and you all know that. I know how to protect myself. I carry a pen. I can take somebody's jugular out in half a heartbeat, but you said deadly weapons. Deadly weapons, what does that mean to you? One of the most stupidest things I've ever heard of. This isn't about guns. This is about all sorts of things that you carry in your pocket. Your pocket knife or other, I don't know. What is deadly weapons? What is the definition? Where is it? Where are the rules and regulations on clearing a weapon? Facilities has to pass something. I got to walk in after they say no weapons in the building. I got to walk in the building with a gun I've already broke the law or the rule. Let's please. Let me be able to protect myself. If you don't want to carry a gun, God Bless you. Let me protect my family. Let me protect my children. Let me protect fellow Representatives that come to this House because I'm well trained in that area. Thank you, Mister Speaker. I'd like a roll call.

Speaker Shurtleff: Will the member yield to questions? Rep. Comtois.

Rep. Comtois: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Having been a victim of stalking, with the passage of this rule, are we going to send a message that this House is not the place for stalking and domestic violence victims?

Rep. Baldasaro: No, what this rule does is it's going to send a message that you're unarmed, that your weapon is locked up in your car, that we're fair game. If you remember when we had the Gulag, that all the Representatives had to walk through and we were being yelled at and threatened? Do you remember that day? That's what you're going to do to us.

Speaker Shurtleff: Will the member yield to another question? Rep. Ulery.

Rep. Ulery: Representative, isn't it true that in today's news we heard about how an Uber driver, who is barred by company rule from carrying a weapon, used his weapon to prevent a drunk driver who had already been involved in 7 accidents, from causing even more chaos on the highways and that driver was also commended by the Portsmouth police because he used his weapon to stop this guy from causing more damage?

Rep. Baldasaro: Yes, that is true and it's also true about the 75-year old lady in Nashua who had a break in there and the lady protected herself with a gun and shot the intruder.

Speaker Shurtleff: Will the member yield to one more question? Rep. Verville.

Rep. Verville: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Thank you, Representative for taking my question. We are the Honorable members of the New Hampshire State Legislature and I know that we will act honorably and accordingly, but I have to ask the question. What is the value in a rule that is completely unenforceable in day to day practice?

Rep. Baldasaro: I think I answered that earlier when I said that some of my friends here will get to go home and feel good and say look what I did when there is no meat, no nothing to hold us accountable, Okay, where people are going, just like before when you put this rule in, I can tell you half still carry. Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: Before I call on our last speaker. Do you have a question? Do you want to inquire now or at the end of the debate? Before I call up the last speaker, I'm going to recognize Rep. Smith, the member from Manchester to speak a second time. Rep. Smith.

Rep. Timothy Smith: Thank you, Mister Speaker. I just want to clarify and I want to apologize to anyone in the room that was offended by my remarks. I absolutely did not mean to suggest that anyone in the chamber now is a nut. All I was trying to do is highlight and illustrate the historical reason why this rule was put in place originally. It is not my opinion. It is not an accusation. It is a historical fact that a member of the House threatened to shoot the Speaker during a House Session. That's not an accusation against anyone in the chamber now and if anyone is offended by that, I sincerely and earnestly apologize. Thank you, Mister Speaker.

Speaker Shurtleff: The Chair recognizes the last speaker. Rep. Ley.

Rep. Ley: Thank you, Mister Speaker. I shall strive to be calm, relevant and brief. The proposed rule that we have in front of us is clearly constitutional since by Part 2, Article 22 of the New Hampshire Constitution the House has the authority to "set the rules of proceedings in their own House." The proposed rule is an internal rule and the House is simply acting pursuant to its constitutional authority. The proposed rule is substantially similar to the long-standing rule in effect up until 2011 and that's a rule that was in effect essentially from 1971 until 2011. The first major change occurred in 2011. It was changed back to a rule such as this in 2013 and then changed again in 2015. If we would like to end the game of ping pong, I suggest we adopt this amendment and simply keep it for years to come. This is an issue of gun safety and public safety. We don't want to wait, as has been suggested, until there is a problem because if we do that, we are waiting until there is a tragedy and we will be acting after the tragedy. We have seen too many incidents over the past few years of firearms mishandled, dropped during hearings or elsewhere and we have been fortunate that there has never been a discharge of a firearm. Tragedies have been averted thankfully, but let us not wait until a tragedy forces the House to act. The safety and the security of the members of this House and the members of the public who sit in our gallery, especially the thousands of children who visit each year, must be our paramount concern. There are schools, as had been noted, there are schools which no longer visit the House due to the potential presence of firearms. Let's bring them back and let us celebrate and promote civic education for our young citizens. Since 2016, there have been numerous changes made that have enhanced the security and the safety of the State House complex and of this House. Public access is now limited to 2 entrances at the State House which are monitored. Our security staff are now trained in the use of and carry side arms. There is simply no need for deadly weapons in this chamber, the anteroom or the gallery. It has been mentioned on a number of occasions here today, concern about moving from the House to one's car and to attending events elsewhere. This rule has no affect outside of this chamber, the anteroom, the gallery. It does not impinge on one's right to carry a firearm, to carry a weapon, outside of those areas. It is limited only to the areas where the House has unilateral authority. In addition, there is concern about how to dispose of one's weapon upon arrival. There will be secured lock boxes in the security office in LOB 2 and in State House room 30. Those will be provided so one does not need to leave one's weapon or firearm in one's car. That is not necessary. In closing, I know that proposals to restrict firearms bring out strong emotions on both sides of this issue. I acknowledge the 2nd amendment of the US Constitution, but I further acknowledge that there are places where it is universally acknowledged that policies restricting deadly weapons are appropriate. These includes ports, schools and this legislative chamber. Having seen lawmakers repeatedly mishandle guns on State House grounds in recent years means we are simply waiting for a tragedy to happen. Let us welcome everyone to the New Hampshire House. School children, the public and all who work here and provide them with a safe, secure, civil and respectful environment. We can do so by adopting this amendment and restoring, restoring the long-standing, common sense policy regarding deadly weapons. I ask that you support the majority of the Rules Committee and vote to adopt this amendment. Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: Will the member yield to a question? The member does not yield. Why does the member rise? State your question.

Rep. Baldasaro: Mister Speaker, we are trying to get some answers from your, on your side that want to take our rights away.

Speaker Shurtleff: My side is both sides.

Rep. Baldasaro: Okay, no one on the Democrat side. We are trying to get some answers Mister Speaker and they want to take away our rights but nobody will answer our question. Can somebody that was on Rules answer a question for me since we can't get your side that wants to take our rights away?

Speaker Shurtleff: The distinguished minority leader is sitting behind you. If he wishes to answer a question, I would allow that.

Rep. Hinch: I do.

Rep. Baldasaro: Thank you for accepting my question. I think it's very important for everyone here that's very familiar and gone through gun training. Am I going to, when I come in to this building, if this rule passes, am I going to take a gun out of my pocket that's got a round in it and turn it over in a building, a weapon that's not cleared? Has this been discussed? Because it's an unsafe manner on what they're putting here? Has it been discussed?

Rep. Hinch: The answer to that is no. There has been absolutely no discussion, no communication. The first time I heard about a secure facility being the security office was a few minutes ago from the Speaker.

Speaker Shurtleff: I thank the gentleman. Rep. Harrington I understand you have a true parliamentary inquiry.

Rep. Harrington: Yes, Mister Speaker. Thank you. I wanted to ask the Chair a question. Maybe they can provide some guidance on this. This is an issue as far as whether this is a good or bad idea, just what would happen if it passes? We talked a lot about firearms today, but the actual terminology says deadly weapons, which refers to a substance or thing, which in the manner it is used, intended to be used or threatened to be used is known to be capable of producing death or serious bodily injury. So there are 3 different ways that would apply. I think is used is pretty straight forward. Threatened to be used is pretty straight forward, but the intended to be used is the part that I have the questions about. If I had a plastic knife in my pocket, I could stab somebody in the eye with that and cause serious bodily harm, but I don't think people would say plastic knives are intended to be used in that manner, they are intended to be used to cut food with, fairly soft food. So would that be a deadly weapon?

Speaker Shurtleff: I think it goes to the intent. I would defer to House Counsel. So if you want to speak to the issue or provide guidance, but I will give you my answer, from someone that has been in law enforcement. Intent is what is in the mind of the assailant. A crowbar can be used by a carpenter, but it can also be used as a criminal weapon to burglarize a home, but it goes to the intent. Under our Rule 63, as to what weapons would be considered deadly weapons, there is an RSA in the rule that specifies what those weapons would be. That has always been our rule.

Rep. Harrington: I'm reading from the RSA, Mister Speaker. That's from 625:11, V and that's what it says, a deadly weapon means any firearm, knife or other substance or thing which in the manner it is used, intended to be used, or threatened to be used for serious bodily harm so I'm having trouble with the intended to be used. If I'm carrying a Swiss Army knife in my pocket, it could be intended to be used as a screwdriver or a bottle opener or can opener, but I suppose you could use it to stab somebody with as well so this is where I'm concerned. How do I find out what, is a pocket knife okay? Is it only up to 4 inches or if it has a 5 inch blade it's not legal? There is no guidance here at all. I have to come in, is it going to be someone at the door and we go up and say here is the stuff I've got in my pocket, tell me if anything is a deadly weapon?

Speaker Shurtleff: Yeah, you may have a reason to bring in a late bill to the Criminal Justice Committee on what that RSA says. We are not debating the RSA now and I don't offer legal advice, but I will say I think it goes to what the person is intent to do, like a box cutter that was so tragically used on September 11th. And again, that is a question with the State's RSA and is not the question before this body at this time.

Rep. Harrington: But we are using, we are adopting that RSA as a House Rule because we specifically quote it in the rule. I am saying in the rule I go to the RSA and it says intended to be used. So as long I can carry a 6 inch folding knife in my pocket, as long as I don't intend to use it to create bodily harm to anybody?

Speaker Shurtleff: I can say in the 14-15 years now that I have served in the House that RSA has always been in effect regardless of what policy we have had on weapons. We are not debating that RSA. That is a question for a legislative committee. I think your question has been asked and answered. I'll give you one more bite of the apple.

Rep. Harrington: I guess my point would be then we're passing a rule that imposes a law that people can't tell me what it means and whether or not I would be violating it. I'd have to come in every day and I don't even know who I would ask to say, is this a deadly weapon? I see a gentlemen walking with a cane. Is that a deadly weapon? It certainly could be used as one. Maybe that day he's mad and he's intending to hit somebody with it. Maybe the next day he's not. I just think we have a, we're putting in a rule that we don't know how to enforce. We don't know what qualifies as a deadly weapon. It's an arbitrary set of principles out there that you can say anything and nothing constitutes a deadly weapon under this rule.

Speaker Shurtleff: I would just argue the point that nobody can say you've asked a question of the Speaker and it took me over 20 years to earn my Associates, so I am not the one to ask a legal question to, but I thank you for your question. Why does the member rise?

Rep. Aron: I am Judy Aron from Acworth and I wanted to ask you, Mister Speaker. Thank you for taking my question. I wanted to ask you if there would be any possibility of metal detectors in the House to make sure that people are not bringing weapons in, because if that's true we would be no better than the House in Connecticut where I came from and it would be very disturbing for me?

Speaker Shurtleff: Thank you for your question. To install metal detectors we would need legislation and that is pending so I thank you for your question. Question of the Chair?

Rep. Ley: So under the current rules that we have had in the past, I believe 4 years, was not the language included of a deadly weapon and does not the current amendment not change anything in terms of what my colleague, my good friend, was inquiring about?

Speaker Shurtleff: The member is correct. The current House Rule 63 refers to the open carry of any dangerous weapon and what is defined as a dangerous weapon is mentioned in the RSA that pertains. One more. I recognize the member from Charlestown to play stump the Speaker.

Rep. Steven Smith: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Didn't the current rule also include the word "brandishing" so at that point we are way past the intent phase and that is how it's different?

Speaker Shurtleff: The language speaks for itself. One more.

Rep. Nelson: Thank you, Mister Speaker. This is a friendly question for clarification.

Speaker Shurtleff: That's what they all say.

Rep. Nelson: It says on here while actively engaged. This is for law enforcement, while actively engaged in carrying out their duties. I have different family members that have been in law enforcement so I'll give you an example. Secret Service Agent comes protecting a prior former President of the United States. The President leaves and they want to stay to see me here. They are not on duty. Do they have to give up their weapon? They are law enforcement, but they are not technically protecting the person?

Speaker Shurtleff: Thank you for that extremely friendly question. I am not going to parse that answer with you. That may be a question for House Counsel at a later date or somebody else. I don't think anybody in law enforcement or anybody should be answering that and that's not really before us but I thank you for rising. The member from Londonderry, Baldasaro, has asked for a roll call vote. Is that seconded? It is seconded. This will be a roll call vote. Members will kindly take their seats. The question before the House is the adoption of the amendment to House Rule 63. The Chair recognizes the member from Merrimack, Rep. Hinch for a parliamentary inquiry.

Rep. Hinch: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, if I know that there has been an increase in threats and attacks on elected officials across the United States. If I know that several members of this body have received threats of violence against themselves and their families. If I believe in our capacity as identifiable public officials in an environment of heightened political rhetoric, we are at greater risk of violence and deserve the right to arm ourselves in a manner we see fit. And finally, if I know that we are a body of responsible elected officials who are here to represent our constituents and not waste time and resources policing each other, would I now press the red button to oppose this egregious rule change that puts us at risk? Thank you, Mister Speaker.

Speaker Shurtleff: The question before the House is the passage of the amendment to House Rule 63. If you support the passage, you'll be pressing the green button. If you are opposed, you'll be pressing the red button. The Chair recognizes the member from Jaffrey, Rep. Ley.

Rep. Ley: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, if I know the proposed amendment to Rule 63 stands the test of constitutionality and simply restores long-standing practice in the New Hampshire House. And if I know this is a matter of public safety and of avoiding an unnecessary tragedy. And if I know this amendment will go far to maintain civility and security and will restore our gallery as a place where all students and the entire public can safely observe and witness the work of this body and therefore democracy in action, would I now support the majority of the Rules Committee and support this amendment by pressing the green button? Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: The question before the House is on the passage of the amendment to House Rule 63. If you support the passage of that amendment, you'll press the green button. If you oppose, you'll press the red button. Are you ready for the question? Voting stations are now open for 30 seconds. Has everyone in the chamber voted? We will attend to the vote. Before I attend to the vote I want to remind everyone regardless of what the vote is on this bill, there will be no public outcries on the floor and in the visitors' gallery and if anyone cannot act in an appropriate manner in this body, then I would ask security to have them leave the body. We will now attend to the vote. With 220 voting Yea and 163 voting Nay, the amendment is carried. Why does the member rise?

Rep. Baldasaro: Parliamentary inquiry.

Speaker Shurtleff: Please state your inquiry.

Rep. Baldasaro: Mister Speaker, now that the Rule 63 has passed, many of us are not in compliance and this takes effect as it passed. Do we surrender our guns to you now or can we take a recess and go put our guns in the car for the thieves to help themselves with them? Can we get a recess?

Speaker Shurtleff: The Chair will order a grace period before the rule goes into effect so members can prepare accordingly. I thank you for that question. Why does the member rise?

Rep. Sylvia: Thank you, Mister Speaker. I rise to move in dissent of the vote taken, to register my protest.

Speaker Shurtleff: Your request is recognized and is in order. I would ask those that do want to sign up and protest to do so quietly because I want to move this proceeding along. Present them to the Journal Clerk. Why does the leader rise?

Rep. Hinch: Mister Speaker, I ask that I be able to read my protest. Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: Absolutely. You are reading that on behalf of others? Okay, thank you. The House will be in order while the member reads the protest.

Rep. Hinch: Mister Speaker, by its action today, voting to prohibit law abiding citizens from possessing firearms in Representatives Hall.

Speaker Shurtleff: Will the member suspend? Will folks not mill around and let the member be heard. The time to file will be after the leader speaks. Give him the courtesy he deserves. Please remain in your seats until he has finished reading his protest. We ask you to wait out of respect for the leader. When everyone is seated I will call you because I want you to be heard. I thank the members for their cooperation. You may proceed, Mister leader.

Rep. Hinch: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, by its action today, voting to prohibit law abiding citizens from possessing firearms in Representative Hall, this body has committed a grievous error which violates the constitutional rights of elected members of this historic legislative body, and put the safety and welfare at risk. Acts of violence against elected officials have been on the increase, including such horrific events as a mass shooting at a congressional softball practice where Rep. Steve Scalise was shot, a mass shooting at Former Congresswoman Gabby Giffords constituent meeting in 2011 where she was gravely injured, and a physical assault of a US Senator Rand Paul at his own home. Politicians in Washington, such as Rep. Maxine Waters, have been using rhetoric to incite vitriolic hatred against their political opponents, members of the President's administration, and that they should be publicly harassed. Many members who travel on foot to and from the Storrs Street legislative parking garage feel particularly vulnerable, and are compelled to carry a firearm in the event of an attack. There is currently insufficient infrastructure and personnel to safely store and/or monitor firearms, if they were to be checked before entering the restricted areas. There are several recent incidents where House members have received communication or threats suggesting physical violence against them or their families. By this rule change we are broadcasting to any person with ill intent that there are up to 400 elected officials and staff in close proximity who may be unable to defend themselves or each other, in the event of an attack. Therefore, pursuant to the Constitution of the State of New Hampshire, Part 2, Article 24, I register my protest to the vote of the House to amend its rules to prohibit lawful possession of firearms, and wish to have it entered in the House Journal.

Speaker Shurtleff: Thank you, Representative, for your comments. The protest, pursuant to Part 2, Article 24 of the New Hampshire Constitution has been accepted and additional protests will be collected by the Clerk's staff. If everyone could stay off to the left so we can have people at the well speak. We are going to move along and I thank you for your cooperation.

CLERK'S NOTE

The House proceeded with the remaining amendments to House Rules as proposed by the Rules Committee, followed by floor amendments to House Rules. The following debate on floor amendments to House Rule 63 was included in the motion to print in the Permanent Journal.

DEBATE ON FLOOR AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE RULE 63

Speaker Shurtleff: Rep. Flanagan is recognized to speak to an amendment to House Rule 63. The amendment should be in your seat pockets.

Rep. Flanagan: Thank you, Mister Speaker. I'm going to give people some time to get the paper. This floor amendment in front of you deals with one thing and one thing only and that is to remove the arrest portion of the rule. Now, this portion of the rule has been there before and I don't want to boor you again with the constitution, the Article 22, but it talks about imprisonment in the constitution, it doesn't talk about arrest. I will also share that during a congressional run, that and the baseball field situation, I was very concerned about safety and self-defense, but that vote has already come and gone. In the past conversations that we've had today there was talk about this rule and how since 1971 no guns were allowed and that type of thing but I made a call to the, what would Speaker Jasper be?

Speaker Shurtleff: The Commissioner of Agriculture.

Rep. Flanagan: That I know sir, but he was sort of the House historian and he went back I don't know how many hundreds of years and there was actually a requirement in rules to carry weapons. He wasn't sure whether it was during the revolutionary war or even prior to that and I didn't hold his feet to the fire. The real question I have is the rule says we're arrested if we violate Rule 63 and there are currently 66, well now there are 67 rules but none of them have the provision for arrest. So now if we violate this one rule we are subject to arrest and then I thought to myself how long is the term of the arrest? Do I serve it in state prison, county prison? Does this affect someone's criminal record? Is it now I have a criminal record because I violated a House Rule or is it a felony or a misdemeanor? Is there an RSA saying that I'm being arrested for this reason or that reason? The rule does say that I'm going to be arrested even though the constitution says that I'm going to be imprisoned. I don't really think it is all that clear. So that leads me to the next thought. If this body starts arresting people, which basically means they are removed from the House, do our friends from the press say it's an opportunity to affect the vote? Are we doing something here internally, dare I say politically, to affect the outcome of a close vote by arresting somebody that may or not be carrying a concealed or a deadly weapon such as a cane or a crochet hook or something of that nature? I guess we are going down a slippery slope is what I'm saying when you use the word arrest. So let's just cut to the quick and say that elections have consequences and I get it. I'm in the minority and you folks are in the majority, but the goal was to keep guns off the House floor and out of the State House. It isn't really to arrest us, especially since there is no RSA to cover it so my amendment basically deletes the provision of arrest. Knowing that that's probably the best way to achieve your goal without any downside or any problems that is created in the House, I encourage you to accept the amendment and vote green. Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: The question is on the adoption of the amendment.

Rep. Flanagan: Mister Speaker, a division vote.

Speaker Shurtleff: Thank you. A division has been called for. Members will kindly take their seats. House will be in order. The Rep. from Goffstown, Rep. Burt is recognized for a parliamentary inquiry.

Rep. Burt: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, if I know once again that my mother raised me right and I have never been arrested, but that may change. If I know this amendment will protect the House of Representatives from arrest, which is a good thing. And, finally Mister Speaker, if I know I hope you give that secret nod to tell your people to press the bright, shiny green button, which will make me happy Mister Speaker, then would I now press that bright, shiny, green button and protect the integrity of this great House of Representatives? Thank you, Mister Speaker.

Speaker Shurtleff: The question before the House is on the adoption of an amendment to House Rule 63. The member from Jaffrey, Rep. Ley, is recognized for a parliamentary inquiry.

Rep. Ley: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, if I know that the proposed amendment to Rule 63 drastically weakens the prohibition against deadly weapons by removing the threat of disciplinary action or arrest. And, if I know that both disciplinary action and arrest are both within the constitutional bounds and authority of this House to establish its own rules of proceedings as provided in the New Hampshire Constitution. And, finally if I know that the existing policy adopted in 2017 under a different Speaker and a different majority also contained the exact same language including expulsion and/or arrest, would I now vote against weakening Rule 63's prohibition of deadly weapons by voting to reject this amendment and pressing the red button? Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: The question before the House is the amendment on House Rule 63. This is a division vote. If you are in favor of the amendment, you'll press the green button. If you are opposed to the amendment, you'll press the red button. Voting stations are now open. Members should be in their seats. Has everyone present voted? We will attend to the state of the vote. With 159 voting Yea and 213 voting Nay the motion fails. The House will next take up an amendment to House Rule 63 and the Chair recognizes the member from Charlestown, Rep. Smith.

Rep. Steven Smith: Thank you, Mister Speaker. So this one might sound like a rerun but it actually isn't. What I'm trying to figure out is if a bill is a good idea and I forget whether I like it or not but how do you do it, literally what do you do? So we have a security officer here in the House and that's in Rule 61 and the Speaker may appoint an individual trained and experienced and there's more, but they keep the House from being disrupted or interfered with by any person or persons not members thereof. Well, that's not you because you are a member thereof. Article 21 says that there is a whole bunch of different ways that you can't be arrested while you are here and now the one that we've sitting a lot, Article 22, the power to imprison, gives a list of things you can be imprisoned for; punishment by imprisonment. Now, it doesn't say if that is a member or not and there is other language that indicates this is probably applying to people that come in here to keep you from doing your business. I'll give that one up. Let's assume it applies to you. Guilty of disrespect to the House and its presents by any disorderly and contemptuous behavior or by threatening or ill-treating any of its members, I guess that probably wouldn't be you, or by obstructing deliberations, it goes on. What's not in there is violating House Rules so the constitutional article that we're sitting to have the power to arrest you, it's not really there for violating a House Rule. I'll give that one up. Let's say it is in there. Now what happens? So, I stand before you, even though I don't believe there is power of the House to arrest me and I violated the House Rule. How do I get arrested? Now, the Speaker can eject me and he's wanted to on a few occasions probably, but he's allowed to say Representative Smith get out, fair enough. The problem is he cannot have me arrested. You do that. There has to be a vote of the House. That is the wording in the constitution. Fair enough, let's say I have really wound you up and you want to do it. You vote to arrest me. Now what happens? Well, who's going to do it? Who's going to come arrest me? Where are they going to bring me? Well, we haven't worked that out because what we passed today is a half a rule. All of this needed to be worked out and why is that important? Well, the old rule had the same language and we probably didn't mind that because nobody was going to challenge that one. If you were here today and listening you might imagine this one will be challenged. What happens then? Someone said well the Second Amendment, yeah but when you go into a courtroom you don't exactly have that. Well, there is another amendment, the right to due process. You never lose that. You don't lose it in this room. You don't lose it in a congressional hearing and you don't lose it in a courtroom. When your liberty is threatened you have a right to due process. That means that in passing Rule 63 today somebody should have done the work of explaining what the process is because in the United States of America you do not get arrested without somebody being able to tell you how you get un-arrested. So, until that work is done we should take out the enforcement provision of this because it will create a very dangerous situation by getting the courts involved in House process which I never want to see. So, until that process is up, I ask you to suspend the disciplinary requirements of Rule 63 as passed today.

Speaker Shurtleff: Division has been called for. Members will please take their seats. The Chair recognizes Rep. Rice for a parliamentary inquiry.

Rep. Rice: Thank you, Mister Speaker. If I know that the definition of a deadly weapon can be construed to be several common objects we might have on us right now from a metal pen to a pocket knife or a pair of scissors. And if I know that threatening to eject, discipline or arrest law abiding House members or members of the public simply because they possess such an object, is not the image we should promoting in a free society. And if I know that the provision to arrest an individual for a rule violation and not an actual crime is over and above of what is acceptable and necessary. And if I know that we are here to honorably conduct the business of our constituents in a civil manner and to suggest that we need to have a provision to arrest members for a rule violation is disrespectful. And if I know that no statute or House Rule exists which outlines how a member may be arrested, would I strip this provision until the House does its work and resolves that by pressing the green button? Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: The Chair recognizes the member from Jaffrey, Rep. Ley.

Rep. Ley: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, as noted just a couple of minutes ago, if I know the House has the constitutional authority to establish rules regulating its own proceedings and that such authority includes the power to impose disciplinary action or order arrest. And, if I know the removal of such powers from Rule 63 would eviscerate the ability of this House to enforce its own rules and therefore drastically weaken the prohibition contained in Rule 63. And, if I know that weakening Rule 63 would only undermine public safety and deter some schools from bringing students to observe this House and obtain a firsthand civic education, would I now vote against adoption of this amendment by pressing the red button? Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: The question before the House is on an amendment to House Rule 63. This is a division vote. If you are in favor of the amendment, you'll press the green button. If you are opposed to the amendment, you'll press the red button. Voting stations are now open for 30 seconds. Has everyone present had an opportunity to vote? The House will be attentive to the vote. With 156 Yeas and 219 Nays the motion fails. The House recognizes the Representative from Littleton, Rep. Hennessey to speak to an amendment to House Rule 63.

Rep. Hennessey: Thank you, Mister Speaker. I rise before you to ask you to vote in favor of my amendment to House Rule 63. This amendment will help House members who are exercising their Second Amendment rights to comply with the newly adopted House Rule by locking their weapons in a secured weapons storage unit. This amendment would not allow any House member to carry a weapon in the House chamber, ante-rooms, cloakrooms or gallery, except for the purpose of transferring the weapon to a secure weapons storage unit located within those areas. It also states that secure weapons storage units shall be provided to House members for the purpose of holding weapons. Per my discussion with much more seasoned House members, such lockers were provided for weapons many years ago. Please vote green for this sensible solution to help members comply with the new rule and allow for weapons to be locked up securely. Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: The question is on the adoption of the amendment. A division has been called for. Members will kindly take their seats. Who requested the roll call? Is the roll call seconded? It is. This will be a roll call vote. This will be a roll call vote. The Chair recognizes the member from Merrimack, Rep. Notter for a parliamentary inquiry.

Rep. Notter: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, if I know it is allowable to possess a weapon in other areas of this complex. And, if I know it is allowable to possess a weapon from the time I leave my home to the time I arrive here. Further, if I believe the House should, as done in the past, provide a secure storage process so that those of us who choose to carry weapons in places other than this Hall can continue to do so. And, if I believe this accommodation will allow members who choose to carry a weapon to comply with the newly amended rule, would I now press the green button to adopt this amendment and provide the storage option for those who believe they need it? Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: This is a roll call vote on an amendment to House Rule 63. The Chair recognizes the member from Jaffrey, Rep. Ley.

Rep. Ley: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, if I know that our security personnel are already prepared with secured storage facilities in the LOB 2 and in State House 30. And, if I know that it is untenable to provide secured storage units within the chamber, the anteroom or gallery. And, if I know that it is only a short walk from LOB 2 through the tunnel or an elevator ride from State House 30 to the hallway outside this chamber and that the entire premises are already secured by armed security and State Police, would I now vote against this unnecessary amendment, which is another attempt to weaken Rule 63's prohibition by voting to reject this amendment and pressing the red button? Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: The question is on an amendment to House Rule 63. This is a roll call vote. If you are in favor of the amendment, you'll press the green button. If you are opposed to the amendment, you'll press the red button. Voting stations are now open for 30 seconds. Have all those present had an opportunity to vote? The House will be attentive to the vote. With 159 members voting Yea and 215 members voting No, the motion fails. The Chair recognizes the member from Londonderry, Rep. Baldasaro to speak to his amendment to House Rule 63.

Rep. Baldasaro: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, I rise to support this amendment and I'm glad my friend over there, the majority leader, talked about a short walk to and from the Storrs garage. What we want to do is make sure that our legislators are safe. You just earlier took away their right to protect themselves because most of them are not going to take the time. Most, if you think about it, are in a rush to get here. You don't have time to store your weapon. I've been in that position many times because you want to get here and vote. So that means they're going to lock their guns up in Storrs garage, which will benefit Massachusetts because they will get more stolen guns. They'll be sold from New Hampshire. But anyways, my amendment, what it does. We owe it to our legislators that you just took away their right to protect themselves, have security protect them, our House Security because some of you are going to leave here at night. Some of you are going to walk out there when it's pitch dark and you're going to be shocked about some of the things that go on out there in Concord. I'm going to tell you right now, even myself as a guy, you know what I mean? I've been approached many times wanting money, wanting this, wanting that, out here in Concord. You might deny it but you know that just tells me some of you have their eyes closed and it's the same thing in Manchester and other areas. If you go down there on the hustle and things, people are approaching you. So this amendment, what you're saying is, we took your rights away to protect yourself but we are going to have security protect you. That's what this amendment is about. So I'm asking you please press the green button. Matter of fact I think I want a roll call on this one here. No, forget that, I was just talking myself. Yeah, what I meant to say is I want a division on this because I want some data to be used when I get threatened and I have to go to court and sue the state. I wanted names to put down. That's why I was looking at that. Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: Rep. Hinch has requested a roll call, division vote. You have me doing it now. Rep. Hinch has requested a division vote. Members will take their seats. For what purpose does the member rise?

Rep. Flanagan: Parliamentary inquiry or if not a clarification, Mister Speaker.

Speaker Shurtleff: State your inquiry.

Rep. Flanagan: My colleague from Jaffrey said there were armed security guards here. I don't see any armed security guards so how would we fulfill this?

Speaker Shurtleff: They're good, aren't they?

Rep. Flanagan: Yeah, they must be. They're stealth I guess. But the question I have is how do we fulfill this when we don't even have them in chambers? Are there any armed security guards here? John Burt?

Speaker Shurtleff: As I have just been informed by the Clerk and I thank him for his information, security by our Protective Services is done throughout and around this chamber and they are armed. Inside the chamber it's the Sergeant-at-Arms and his staff as security. The question before the House is the adoption of the amendment to House Rule 63. To the Representative, we are in the voting mode now so that would not be in order. The question before the House is the amendment to House Rule 63. This is a division vote. The Chair recognizes Rep. Hinch for a parliamentary inquiry.

Rep. Hinch: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, if I know there have been several instances where members of this body have been threatened with physical violence against them or their families. If I believe that in our capacity as identifiable public officials in an environment of heightened political rhetoric we are at greater risk of violence. If I know this rule, as amended, will discourage and deter House members from possessing a firearm when traveling to and from the State House from their vehicles when they can be at greater risk. And finally Mister Speaker, if I believe that stripping the rights of our law-abiding members who choose to carry a weapon should be met with an increase of available security support, especially those times of greater risk, would I now press the green button to adopt this amendment and provide this supplemental security option for those who believe they need it? Thank you, Mister Speaker.

Speaker Shurtleff: This is a division vote on the amendment to House Rule 63. The Chair recognizes the member from Jaffrey, Rep. Ley.

Rep. Ley: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, if I know that any member of the House can already, already request and be provided with a protective escort to and from their vehicle when on official business. And, if I know that nothing in Rule 63 effects the ability of any member of the House from possessing a deadly weapon outside of the House chamber, anteroom, cloakrooms or gallery and therefore has no impact upon self-protection while walking from the LOB 2, State House 30 to and from their vehicle, would I now vote against this superfluous amendment to Rule 63 by pressing the red button? Thank you.

Speaker Shurtleff: The question is on the amendment to House Rule 63. This is a division vote. If you are in favor of the amendment, you'll press the green button. If you are opposed to the amendment, you'll press the red button. Voting stations are now open for 30 seconds. Have all those present had an opportunity to vote? The House will be attentive to the vote. With 154 members voting Yea and 221 members voting Nay, the motion fails. Why does the member rise?

Rep. Packard: To make a motion, Mister Speaker.

Speaker Shurtleff: Please state your motion.

Rep. Packard: I'd like to move that the debate on Rule 63 be printed in the Permanent Journal and I'd like a roll call vote on that.

Speaker Shurtleff: Which portion of the debate?

Rep. Packard: The whole debate, Mister Speaker. The amendments.

Speaker Shurtleff: The motion before the body is to print the entire debate on House Rule 63. A roll call has been requested. Is that seconded? It's seconded. The House will come to order. A request has been made by the member from Londonderry to print the entire colloquy in the House Journal on House Rule 63. Are you ready for the question? This is a roll call vote. If you support the motion to print the colloquy on House Rule 63, you'll press the green button. If you are opposed to that being placed in the Permanent Journal, you'll push the red button. Are you ready for the question? Voting stations are now open for 30 seconds. Has everyone present had an opportunity to vote? The House will be attentive to the vote. With 289 members voting Yea and 87 voting Nay, the motion to place the colloquy on House Rule 63 in the Journal is adopted.

Rep. Renzullo moved the adoption of an amendment to House Rule 67.

AMENDMENT TO HOUSE RULES

Amend House Rule 67 to read as follows:

67. All legislators, legislative officers, and legislative staff shall attend in-person education and training regarding sexual and other unlawful harassment and discrimination, and all legislators shall attend in-person education and training on the Constitutions of New Hampshire and the United States of America.

Rep. Renzullo spoke in favor.

Rep. Burt requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.
