HOUSE JOURNAL NO. 13 (Cont'd)

Thursday, May 12, 2022

Rep. Osborne moved that the House adjourn.
Motion was adopted.

HOUSE JOURNAL NO. 14

Thursday, May 26, 2022

The House assembled at 10:00 a.m., the hour to which it stood adjourned, and was called to order by the Speaker.

Prayer was offered by House Chaplain, Reverend Bob Stewart, Pastor of St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Manchester.

O loving God, we remember those that have lost their lives from gun violence in recent weeks. We remember the children and teachers in Uvalde, Texas whose lives have been cut short. We remember those who were shopping for groceries in a supermarket in Buffalo, New York when hate reared its ugly head. We pause this morning for a moment of silence as we honor them, and the families left behind to grieve. Gracious Lord, You are the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end. We praise Your name and honor Your presence in our lives. On this Memorial Day weekend, O Lord, we pray with gratitude for those who have served our country through military service. We thank You for their sacrifice and for the freedom we enjoy that they fought so valiantly to uphold. We honor those who lost their lives and pray that You would comfort those who still mourn them. Remind them that they are not alone, that You are with them always. Holy One, as we near the summer months and this House goes into recess, I pray that You keep each member and leader and their respective families healthy and safe until we gather together again to resume the business for this great State of New Hampshire. Today, we seek Your guiding hand as we handle the business on the agenda of the House today. Be with each representative and leader so they can make effective and meaningful decisions for those they represent. Be with us throughout this day and Lord make this a fruitful day. It is in Your glory and honor we pray. Amen.

Representative Kim Rice, member from Hudson, led the Pledge of Allegiance.

The National Anthem was sung by the Granite Statesmen.

CONSENT CALENDAR - SENATE BILLS

Rep. Osborne moved that the Consent Calendar on Senate Bills, with the relevant Committee of Conference Reports as printed in the day's House Record be adopted.
Consent Calendar was adopted.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE REPORT ON SB 302-FN

Committee of Conference Report on SB 302-FN, establishing the personal privacy protection act.
Recommendation:

That the Senate recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the House amendment, and concur with the House amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the House, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Chapter; Personal Privacy Protection Act. Amend RSA by inserting after chapter 91-B the following new chapter:

CHAPTER 91-C
PERSONAL PRIVACY PROTECTION ACT

91-C:1 Public Bodies Prohibited Disclosures.

I. Public agencies and public bodies shall not disclose or release any list, record, register, registry, roll, roster or other compilation of data of any kind that directly or indirectly identifies a person as a member, supporter, volunteer, or donor of financial or nonfinancial support, to any entity exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code.

II. Notwithstanding any law and subject to RSA 91-C:2, a public agency or public body shall not:

(a) Require any individual or entity exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code to provide the public agency with, or otherwise compel the release of, any list, record, register, registry, roll, roster, or other compilation of data of any kind that directly or indirectly identifies a person as a member, supporter, volunteer, or donor of financial or nonfinancial support, to any entity exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code;

(b) Release, publicize, or otherwise publicly disclose any list, record, register, registry, roll, roster, or other compilation of data of any kind that directly or indirectly identifies a person as a member, supporter, volunteer, or donor of financial or nonfinancial support, to any entity exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code already in possession of the public agency or public body; or

(c) Request or require a current or prospective contractor or grantee to provide the public agency or public body with a list of entities exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code to which it has provided financial or nonfinancial support.

(d) Release, publicize, or otherwise publicly disclose any list, record, register, registry, roll, roster, or other compilation of data of any kind that directly or indirectly identifies a person as a member, supporter, volunteer, or donor of financial or nonfinancial support to any entity exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code for the purposes of responding to a request under New Hampshire's freedom of information act as outlined in RSA 91-A.

91-C:2 Exemptions. This section shall not preclude:

I. Any report or disclosure required by the following laws or successor provisions thereto:

- (a) RSA 14-C relative to gifts for legislators and legislative employees;
- (b) RSA 15 relative to lobbyists;
- (c) RSA 15-A relative to financial disclosures; and
- (d) RSA 664 relative to political expenditures and contributions.

II. A public body or agency from releasing a person's status as a member, volunteer, or donor of any entity exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code that was voluntarily released by the person or voluntarily released by the entity to the attorney general or to the public.

III. Any lawful warrant for any list, record, register, registry, roll, roster or other compilation of data of any kind that directly or indirectly identifies a person as a member, supporter, volunteer, or donor of financial or nonfinancial support, to any entity exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code issued by a court of competent jurisdiction;

IV. A lawful request for discovery of any list, record, register, registry, roll, roster or other compilation of data of any kind that directly or indirectly identifies a person as a member, supporter, volunteer, or donor of financial or nonfinancial support, to any entity exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code in litigation if both of the following conditions are met:

(a) The requestor demonstrates a compelling need for any list, record, register, registry, roll, roster, or other compilation of data of any kind that directly or indirectly identifies a person as a member, supporter, volunteer, or donor of financial or nonfinancial support, to any entity exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code by clear and convincing evidence; and

(b) The requestor obtains a protective order barring disclosure of any list, record, register, registry, roll, roster, or other compilation of data of any kind that directly or indirectly identifies a person as a member, supporter, volunteer, or donor of financial or nonfinancial support, to any entity exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code to any person not named in the litigation.

V. Admission of any list, record, register, registry, roll, roster, or other compilation of data of any kind that directly or indirectly identifies a person as a member, supporter, volunteer, or donor of any entity exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code as relevant evidence before a court of competent jurisdiction. Any filing in court that is subject to this section shall be filed under seal by the offering party. Any party who intends to display or produce any record that is subject to this section in a courtroom during a hearing or trial shall notify the court to allow for the courtroom to be cleared prior to discussion or display of the record. No court shall publicly reveal such information that has been filed in accordance with this paragraph absent a specific finding of good cause.

VI. A public body or state agency with oversight function over public funds or a government grant program from requesting documentation sufficient to ensure public funds are expended in accordance with state or federal contract monitoring and audit requirements, given that the information accessed is limited to information related to public funds or government grant program funds.

91-C:3 Limited Applicability.

I. Nothing in this chapter shall apply to a national securities association, as defined in section 15A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. Section 78o-3, as amended, or regulations adopted thereunder, and any information such national securities association provides to the relevant public agency or body of this state pursuant to the rules and regulations provided by such agency or body.

II. Nothing in this chapter shall prohibit a request by the attorney general for information required for an audit, examination, review, or investigation pursuant to RSA 7:24, provided that such information shall only be used in connection with the specific audit, examination, review, or investigation to which the request relates and for any related proceedings, provided further that any information so collected shall otherwise remain subject to the provisions of this chapter.

III. Nothing in this chapter shall apply to a request from the lottery commission pursuant to their authority under RSA 287-D or RSA 287-E for the purposes of licensing or regulation of charitable gaming activities.

IV. For the purposes of this chapter, the terms “volunteer” and “supporter” shall not include the members of the governing board, officers, directors, registered agents, or incorporators of entities exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code and the term “member” shall not include members of charitable corporations with specific corporate authority as set forth in the articles of agreement or bylaws, and pursuant to RSA 292.

V. Nothing in this chapter shall prohibit a government agency from disclosing any list, record, register, registry, roll, roster, or other data that directly or indirectly identifies a person as a member, supporter, volunteer, or donor of any entity exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code in court pleadings, submissions of evidence, or public communications related to a criminal or civil enforcement action filed in court, including, but not limited to, an assurance of discontinuance pursuant to RSA 7:28-f.

91-C:4 Penalties.

I. A person alleging a violation of this chapter may bring a civil action for appropriate injunctive relief, damages, or both. Damages awarded under this section may include one of the following, as appropriate:

(a) A sum of money not less than $2,500 to compensate for injury or loss caused by each violation of this chapter; or

(b) For an intentional violation of this chapter, a sum of money not to exceed $7,500.

II. A court, in rendering a judgment in the action brought under this chapter, may award all or a portion of the costs of litigation, including reasonable attorneys and witness fees, to the complainant in the action if the court determines that the award is appropriate.

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect January 1, 2023.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE REPORT ON SB 366-FN

Committee of Conference Report on SB 366-FN, requiring an audit of ballots cast in the 2022 primary and general election.

Recommendation:

That the Senate recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the House amendment, and concur with the House amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the House, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing sections 3-5 with the following:

3 Preliminary Audit; State Primary Election. The secretary of state shall conduct an audit of all AccuVote devices used in at least 2 towns or city wards in the 2022 state primary election. The devices need not be selected at random. The intent of this audit is to identify problems with process to be used in the state general election audit. If the secretary of state is unable to resolve problems detected during the audit of the primary election, he or she may elect to forego the general election audit. If the secretary of state decides to forego the general election audit, he or she shall communicate his or her decision to the senate president, the speaker of the house of representatives, the chairperson of the senate election law and municipal affairs committee, and the chairperson of the house election law committee within 10 days from the date of the primary election.

4 State General Election Audit; 2022.

I. The secretary of state shall randomly select not less than 4 towns or city wards that used AccuVote devices at the 2022 state general election to be audited. The secretary of state may divide towns or city wards into groups for the selection based on criteria such as the estimated number of election day ballots to be processed. The selection of towns or city wards to be audited shall be non-public and made at least 2 weeks prior to the general election, after the AccuVote memory cards have been programmed.

II. The secretary of state shall not announce which towns or city wards have been selected to be audited until at least 12:00 p.m. on election day.

III. The audit team shall consist of at least 2 individuals appointed by the secretary of state. One such individual shall have been trained by the secretary of state in the audit process and the use of audit equipment. The other individual, if not trained by the secretary of state in the audit process and the use of audit equipment, shall be an elected election official. The audit team shall scan all of the ballots which were cast and processed by the AccuVote machines in the selected towns or city wards. The secretary of state may enlist the support of the technical expert as an audit team member to assist with the technology being used.

IV. The audit shall be open to the public but no one except audit team members shall be allowed to touch any ballot or any of the audit equipment.

V. Results from the scanning of the ballots shall be announced by the audit team at the conclusion of the town or city ward audit.

VI. A random sample of not less than 5 percent of the ballots scanned shall be selected and the images of the ballots selected shall be compared with the voters' choices recorded for the ballot. Any differences identified during the comparison shall be documented.

VII. The secretary of state shall make the results of the audits available prior to 12:00 p.m. on the Friday after the election. The secretary shall also report the results to the ballot law commission, and the chairs of the house of representatives and senate standing committees with jurisdiction over election law.

5 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

The signatures below attest to the authenticity of this Report on SB 366-FN, requiring an audit of ballots cast in the 2022 primary and general election.

PRESENTATION OF HOUSE DECLARATION

The Speaker read and presented a declaration for the Dean of the House, the Honorable Laura Pantelakos. Rep. Shurtleff addressed the House.

Under the Speaker's orders, the remarks are printed in the Permanent Journal.

REMARKS

Rep. Shurtleff: Thank you, Mister Speaker. It's incredible to think that Laura Pantelakos has been serving in this House for 44 years. Just think of the lucrative legislative pension she will be receiving. Amazing. I knew Laura Pantelakos when I came to the House in 2004, but I really got to know her in the year 2008. Terie Norelli was the Speaker of the House then and she appointed me to be Chair of the House Criminal Justice Committee. She appointed Laura as the Vice Chair. If anybody would have asked me what was the happiest two years of your life here in the New Hampshire House, not the proudest because that would be 2018, but the happiest. It was that 2008 Session. What made it even better being on Criminal Justice is my good friend and mentor, David Welch, who was the ranking member of the committee back then and that's when the three of us decided that neither side, Democrats or Republicans would caucus. We shook hands on it and Terie Norelli would give us heck for not caucusing, but we said we would take up the bills as they come. The first one to raise their hand, that's who is recognized and we will vote on their motion. Somehow it worked back then. Laura and David were such mentors to me and I know if not for the advice and counsel and guidance they gave me as a fairly new member of the House and chairing a committee, I never would have risen to be Speaker of this body. It all started in that 2008 Session. With Laura it was almost like we were good cop and bad cop. I tend to be a little more diplomatic than my good friend from Portsmouth. We had a committee hearing in Criminal Justice and there was one person that came before the committee who would represent a contingency and speak on every bill that affected that group that he represented. He would go on and was a little bit pompous too, to tell you the truth. So, he gave this long dissertation why we, the committee, should do one thing or another and Laura said to me, "I got a question for him" and so I recognized Laura and she says, "Why the hell aren't you wearing an orange badge? You are a lobbyist. You should be registered as a lobbyist." The poor gentleman was just speechless, but that was Laura. You always knew what she thought. You might not want to hear what she thought, but you knew what she thought. I read an article in the New Hampshire Magazine several years ago. It was after Ray Burton passed away and it was a wonderful article. In the article, it told all the wonderful things that Executive Councilor Burton did and one of the last sentences in the article was that Ray Burton was the second longest elected official in the State of New Hampshire. Then there was a period and they never mentioned who was the first longest serving elected official in the State of New Hampshire. That was our friend Laura Pantelakos. All of us, especially those in small towns that have members that have served seems like forever on select boards and library trustees and so many other positions. To think since 12, 14, 15 years Laura has been the longest elected official in the Granite State. The House isn't going to be the same next Session. We are losing a lot of good friends who have decided not to run for various reasons. To me, not having Laura sitting there, and for one Session I was her seat mate in Division One and it's not going to be the same. Because of her and also David, I'm always going to have those wonderful memories of serving on the Criminal Justice Committee with them in 2008 and that is something I will never forget. All I can say is Laura, I love you and I thank you. Thank you to my friend David Welch. My life is so much better having known you and all the help that both of you have given me. Thank you and God Bless New Hampshire.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE REPORT ON SB 420-FN-A-LOCAL

Committee of Conference Report on SB 420-FN-A-LOCAL, establishing an extraordinary need grant for schools.

Recommendation:

That the Senate recede from its position of nonconcurrency with the House amendment, and concur with the House amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the House, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend RSA 198:40-f, II as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. In order to receive an extraordinary need grant, the eligible school district shall provide a plan to the department of education outlining how the district intends to use grant award funds to improve the educational achievement and growth of students. The extraordinary need grant plan shall include an accountability component designed to generate data that measures student academic achievement and growth of knowledge and skills in reading and language arts and/or mathematics at what grade levels funds will be used. The school district shall develop and administer its own grant accountability assessment that identifies a pupil's range of learning and yields objective data to use in improving instruction and learning, or use the statewide assessment. The school district shall submit to the department an annual grant accountability progress report that includes evidence of satisfactory program implementation and progress toward grant accountability improvement targets. The primary goal of this grant is to improve student achievement and growth and to help the school district to have funding for successful, best practice student learning approaches.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 3 with the following:

4 Effective Date. This act shall take effect July 1, 2022.

MOTION TO PRINT DEBATE

Rep. Labranche moved that the debate on the motion to suspend House Rules be printed in the Permanent Journal.

On a division vote, with 183 members having voted in the affirmative, and 167 in the negative, the motion was adopted.

DEBATE ON MOTION TO SUSPEND HOUSE RULES

Representative Altschiller: Mister Speaker, I move that House Rules be so far suspended as to allow for late drafting, introduction, waiving of public hearing, report from committee and if passed, for an immediate third reading motion, irrespective of deadlines for a bill relative to background checks.

Speaker Packard: The House will be in order. The motion is in order. The member is recognized to speak to her motion.

Representative Altschiller: Colleagues, since the first hearing on January 26 and the House vote on March 17 on HB 1668, there have been 41 more mass shootings. I propose that as the elected leaders of this state, it is imperative that we act and act now to curb the flow of blood running towards us. It is the purpose and intent of the General Court to require commercial firearm sales in New Hampshire and for them to be processed through a licensed firearm dealer who will conduct a background check and create a new record of each sale. I propose that the General Court believes this law will protect public safety by helping to keep firearms out of the hands of felons, domestic abusers and those adjudicated to be mentally ill. The majority of our constituents, in fact 65% and actually it's a little more than 65% of Granite Staters support this gun violence prevention measure. We must act now. We cannot wait and I urge my colleagues to vote yes on a suspension of the rules to reintroduce a background check bill.

Speaker Packard: The Chair recognizes Rep. Roy.

Representative Roy: Thank you, Mister Speaker. We should not ever, ever use tragedy to push legislation.

Speaker Packard: The House will be in order.

Representative Roy: It has been said by people, do not let a good tragedy go to waste. I suggest to you today that the people of this state have spoken over and over and over on what they want for gun legislation. If we were to move for new legislation, the people of this state have a right to be heard in a hearing process. They do not want bills snuck in at the last minute and with no hearing and it's just not going to happen and we are not going to do it. We will comply with the hearing process of this House and not force legislation on the people. Even when we were in the minority and it went to the governor, it was vetoed. So everybody has spoken on it. Now, next year we are happy to address it again and maybe it will change, but we will not be throwing aside the process we use to make laws and that is that.

Speaker Packard: The House will be in order. Does the member yield to questions? Member does not yield. Rep. Burt has requested a roll call. Is that sufficiently seconded? It is sufficiently seconded. This will be a roll call vote. The motion before us is the rules suspension. This is a roll call vote. The Chair recognizes Rep. Altschiller for a parliamentary inquiry.

Representative Altschiller: If I know that Granite Staters are in shock, have demanded action, have reached out and cried in anguish in support of the dead, slain children, grocery store shoppers, worshipers across our nation. And if I know there have been more mass shootings in 2022 then there have been days in the calendar. And if I know we are only, we are only one of 16 states so far in just the first five months to have not experienced a mass shooting and that doesn't make us special, nor does it make us...

Speaker Packard: The House will be in order.

Representative Altschiller: I'm sorry, perhaps I could be a little louder. If I know that we are only one of 16 states that have not experienced a mass shooting so far in 2022. And if I know that stepping over the body...

Speaker Packard: The member will suspend. The member will suspend. State your point of order.

Representative Alliegro: Mister Speaker, this is a question to you. Thank you for hearing me. This sounds like a horrible, perhaps an unintended invitation to disaster in the State of New Hampshire. It's a question.

Speaker Packard: That's not a point of order.

Representative Alliegro: Well my point of order would be under these circumstances, can a speaker's speech be suspended?

Speaker Packard: The member is delivering a parliamentary inquiry and I'm sure she is going to wrap up very soon.

Representative Alliegro: Thank you very much.

Speaker Packard: The member will continue.

Representative Altschiller: Thank you, Mister Speaker. I'll repeat my last two phrases and I will wrap up. I was talked over. If I might be heard.

Speaker Packard: Representative, this is a parliamentary inquiry, not a speech.

Representative Altschiller: If I know that stepping over the bodies of dead children is an unacceptable way to live. And if I know, finally...

Speaker Packard: The House will be in order.

Representative Altschiller: Finally, if I know that we can do hard things and we can make a change so that we don't have to live like this, will I now press the green button for the State of New Hampshire has asked us to?

Speaker Packard: The House will be in order. The House will be in order. Members take your seats. The Chair recognizes Rep. Burt for a parliamentary inquiry.

Representative Burt: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, New Hampshire is one of the safest states in the nation. I'm sorry, you are correct. Thank you. If I know New Hampshire is one of the safest states in the nation. And if I also know that many years we even beat Canada in being safe, would I now vote red so this can end today? Thank you, Mister Speaker.

Speaker Packard: The motion before us is the suspension of the rules. This is a roll call vote. If you are in favor, you'll press the green button. If you are opposed, you'll press the red button. Voting stations are open for 30 seconds. Have all members present had the opportunity to vote? The House will attend to the state of the vote. 163 voting Yea, 188 voting Nay, the motion fails.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Rep. Lang requested Unanimous Consent of the House regarding the legislative softball game and addressed the House.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Rep. Prudhomme-O'Brien requested Unanimous Consent of the House regarding Foster Care Awareness Month and addressed the House.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS

Rep. Prout moved that the remarks made by Rep. Prudhomme-O'Brien during Unanimous Consent be printed in the Permanent Journal.
Without objection, the Speaker ordered.

REMARKS

Rep. Prudhomme-O'Brien: Thank you, Mister Speaker. May is Foster Care Awareness Month. Thank you for this opportunity to talk about this topic and why it is important to me. According to US Dept Health and Human Services figures from 2019, there were 1,225 foster youth in our state and of those 278 were adopted or just over 20%. While that may sound like a terrible rate, the fact is that reunification with family is usually the goal of foster care and most kids in foster care are not available for adoption. Most parents who have children in foster care have not had their parental rights terminated. The hope is that the parents will be able to achieve a better and healthier environment for their children and then the family can be re united. Each child in foster care has a very individual and complex story. Whatever our own personal feelings and opinions about the foster care system in general, the reality is that it is a necessity for these children. It's a reality that cannot always be accurately predicted at the start of their life. A family that may start out looking stable on the outside may later need assistance being able to care for their children and that may include foster care of some kind. Until we can eliminate the factors that go into parents being unable to best care for their children, the foster care system is here to stay despite all the strong emotions that come up whenever we hear of the mistreatment of children within the system. We have to get this right. We invest so much in our children both personally and as a society in funding their education and wellbeing, that it's bad fiscal sense to give up on any child. I once had dinner with the Swiss Ambassador to the United States and we discussed one of my favorite topics-vocational education in Switzerland versus vocational education in the United States and societal attitudes surrounding all aspects of it. Yes, I happened to read a book about it before I happened to meet him. He told me that since they do not have any natural resources, except for tourism to speak of, they consider their children to be their most precious natural resource. That has always resonated with me. We cannot risk throwing people away or having them feel thrown away and unwanted. A child's worth and value is not and should be dependent upon a few people who are unable or unwilling to care for them or who simply don't want them, whether they are related by blood or not. When children feel unvalued, rejected and thrown away, this creates dysfunction that reverberates all over our society and into the next generations. It's not just unhealthy, it's a sort of slow-motion societal suicide. We simply cannot afford to treat people this way. There are many wonderful foster parents and they are worthy of our utmost praise and respect, and I thank you to all who have become foster and adoptive parents for all the right reasons. I've met you, some of you are with us in this great hall today. I have more, but we also have time as we are waiting for the Senate. Under the best of circumstances, foster care is a sort of culture shock. It takes adjustment and that can be hard when there is already a lot of baggage to bring to the new home, so to speak. When foster care doesn't work out for a child, if they feel unwanted or if they feel the providers are not in it for the right reasons, it's the end of the line. Where do you go after that? Trust is gone and it isn't coming back. You feel like all hope is gone. My social workers looked for a placement for me for months and months but few people wanted teenagers. Teenagers have baggage and I didn't have much at the time, literally and figuratively, just one black trash bag. As an aside, a friend suggested that since we are unaware of any flag that is used for foster care awareness, that a trash bag be used. Ouch, but it makes the point. All these years later, I'm still feeling pretty bad about this. I may be a big important state representative now, which is a little bit of a joke, but this perceived earlier rejection by my entire community lingers and I know my life would be different now had more confidence in myself earlier on. I'm sure someone would have wanted me if they knew me if they knew me and knew I was a nice kid, if they knew I never had been in trouble with the police and if they knew my teachers liked me but none of that mattered at all. It felt like none of that mattered because before the world saw me as any of those good things, they saw me as a kid from a family with problems and an at-risk kid. I'll be honest with you, there was rage. There was anger, there was extreme jealousy of the other kids who were simply born to people who wanted them and could care for them or who choose them. I wish I could tell you I found a safe foster care placement but I never did. I had wonderful social workers who were very kind and professional and they did their best in impossible circumstances and for that I am forever grateful. The placement I was in was not safe and I went from one nightmare to another. I had to play a lot of insane games to have a "safe" place to live and I was never really safe but I had a door that I could barricade at night and that was as good as it was going to get. At age 13, I saw that my home life was precarious so I signed up to attend a vocational high school and learn a trade so I could start taking care of myself as soon as possible. I am still in awe of how practical that was for a 13-year-old to do. Rents were very high, labor laws prevented me from working enough hours from running machines that I already learned how to operate at school to pay the rents so that plan never work out for me. The state I then lived in protected me so much on one facet of my life and not at all on another more important one of helping to find a safe place to live. To say I felt thrown away is an understatement. It gets worse. If I had gone to live on the streets or under a bridge-and I did have a bridge I was considering-I would have been at very high risk of being trafficked sexually. Looking back there were people that tried that scam on me and I told them to go do anatomically impossible things to themselves. A 2014 Department of Justice report estimated that 85% of girls involved in sex trafficking were previously involved in the child welfare system, 85%. The other terrible outcomes are measured in huge, jaw dropping percentages. Half of former foster youth are involved in the criminal justice system. About that same percentage graduate from high school. That number increases to 75% will not graduate from high school if they age out of the foster care system. Age out means that they stay in the foster care system until age 18 or when their state services end. Former foster youth are 7 times more likely to experience drug dependency. Fifty percent of homeless people have spent time in foster care. Only between 3-10% of former foster youth ever graduate from college. I got my degree in 2014. I don't know what the suicide rates are for former foster youth are but I think they are hard to determine with so many other factors like drug dependency and the abuse and neglect that first brings them into the system. I still get very sad when I think of parts of my childhood. This sadness can be life threatening for people, and I will be brutally honest with you here, I consider it like a sort of cancer that I must fight on an ongoing basis. I have people in my life who love me, and they tell me I'm special. I found one of my old social workers. He runs a home for at risk teens in this state and he told me I was his success story. Now, I refuse to believe that and I reject that. I reject that I'm special and reject that because I will not be his only success story. I want other kids in foster care today to know they are going to do this too and that they will be okay and that they will be success stories and they will grow up to have people who see them for who they are the value they bring to the world. I have a right to exist. I have paid taxes for many decades and I have far surpassed what was spent on me. I didn't abuse other people. I didn't commit any crimes. I didn't do anything horrible in my life. My friends who also spent time in foster care are amazing, wonderful people too. I worked a job making some of the world's most beautiful musical instruments and I raised two wonderful children who are also valuable contributing members to society. But even if I didn't do those things, I still have a right to exist and I have a right to life. There has been a recent reignition of a debate that I feel I should say something about as it pertains to this issue. The conditions that bring children into foster care cannot be solved by abortion. Because if they could have been, foster care would have gone away in 1973. Please don't assume that we are only experiencing the muted effects...

Speaker Packard: The member will suspend. For what reason does the member rise? The member may continue.

Representative Prudhomme-O'Brien: Thank you. Please don't assume we are only experiencing the muted effects of social problems that would have been worsened by fewer abortions. I believe it's respect and value for individual lives that are the foundation for how we overcome the problems that lead to child neglect, child abuse and substance abuse that bring so many children into the foster care system in the first place. I've had otherwise well-meaning people tell me I should never have been born because of the struggles I endured. Right in front of me they argue that if it seems like a child may one day be in foster care, that the child should be aborted instead and society will be better for it. Can you imagine saying such a thing to someone struggling because of their race or ethnic background or a developmental delay or other unchangeable factor of who they are? What if they belong to a group that tends to have higher than average incarceration rates than other groups? Do we ever argue that they should never have been born at all? No, because we rightly grant them a higher level of respect than to ever say they should not be born for those reasons. I ask that we please grant the same kindness and respect to future possible foster youth as well. So instead of saying the world would be better off without them, let's work together to more explicitly appreciate their inherent humanity and value them and make the world a better place for all of them in all the ways that we can. Thank you so much for your time and for listening to the end.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Rep. Labranche requested Unanimous Consent of the House regarding Quebec Day and addressed the House.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Rep. Welch requested Unanimous Consent of the House regarding his last Session and addressed the House.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS

Rep. Shurtleff moved that the remarks made by Rep. Welch during Unanimous Consent be printed in the Permanent Journal.

Without objection, the Speaker ordered.

REMARKS

Representative Welch: Thank you, Mister Speaker. This is my last Session day except for veto day. I had a whole list of things I wanted to talk about. I guess the most important thing is that I was here under Speaker Tucker in 1984, 1985 rather. It's been a long haul. I've made a lot of friends and I wanted to take this opportunity to say goodbye to everyone, everyone who can hear me anyhow. I wanted to dispel a rumor. I'm not running off to Florida with Laura. She's running off with me. During the early days up here, things were quite different. Both parties appeared to get along somewhat. Although I do remember a day when Democrats walked out and we just kept on churning out bills. That was a fun time. My friends are in both parties and I would highly recommend that the folks who are here for their first term to take heed. Every term you spend up here, you make friends. I've made hundreds of friends up here and have a friend in every part of the state. It's best to get along. During 2017 I came back to the House right after my wife passed away. It was my friendships that saved me. If I hadn't been in the House at that time, I probably wouldn't be here today and I mean that sincerely. The people that I worked with, the staff and my colleagues made it easy for me. I just want to say goodbye to everyone and hopefully all of you folks who are going to come on to be reelected, I hope you have the opportunity to make friends and just get along. Goodbye.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Reps. Shurtleff and Graham requested Unanimous Consent of the House regarding Memorial Day and addressed the House.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS

Rep. Baldasaro moved that the remarks made by Reps. Shurtleff and Graham during Unanimous Consent be printed in the Permanent Journal.

Without objection, the Speaker ordered.

REMARKS

Representative Graham: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, we rise for a more solemn occasion in that this Monday is Memorial Day. Memorial Day has a long tradition across our country and across this state, especially. Many of you, as I look around the room, have worn the uniform of our nation's armed forces and I thank you for that service. Each and every one of us lost friends, relatives, neighbors, ancestors to protect the freedoms so that I and a Democrat can stand here and commemorate their service, their sacrifice and the fact that there have been literally thousands of Granite Staters who've given their life in the protection of life, liberty, pursuit of happiness and to protect our liberties here at home and abroad. Even as we speak, members of our own National Guard are again deployed and being prepared to deploy again across this world. It is imperative that we remember and this Monday at 11:00 a.m. the Governor of our state and I'm sure that many of us will be at our beautiful cemetery in Boscawen to commemorate their service, their sacrifice and I hope that I see many of you at that ceremony. If not, at least participate in your town's memorials because without them none of us would be here in this chamber doing what we do, even if we don't always agree what the right thing to do is.

Representative Shurtleff: I didn't know I was going to speak today and I'm glad my friend from Bedford asked me to join him up here. All I can say is, as someone who has seen American blood shed on foreign soils in defense of our liberties here at home, I hope we all will pause on Memorial Day to thank them for their service they rendered to our country. Because of their sacrifice, we are all here today enjoying the democracy that we live in. Thank you and thank you, John Graham.

SENATE MESSAGE LAID ON THE TABLE

HB 1476-FN, relative to release of a defendant pending trial.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Rep. Mangipudi requested Unanimous Consent of the House regarding Asian American and Pacific Islander Heritage Month and addressed the House.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS

Rep. Wilhelm moved that the remarks made by Rep. Mangipudi during Unanimous Consent be printed in the Permanent Journal.

Without objection, the Speaker ordered.

REMARKS

Representative Mangipudi: Namaste. Thank you, Mister Speaker. I rise before you today to talk about Asian American Pacific Heritage Month and May is also Better Speech and Hearing Month and May is also Mental Health Month. So all three are near and dear to my heart, but I will only focus today on May is AAPI, the history of Asian American and Pacific American Heritage Month. I stand here as an Asian American serving my 5th term.

Speaker Packard: The member will suspend a minute. It is getting awful loud in here. We are getting close to lunch and the member has the right to speak. Please, if you want to have a conversation, take it out to the anteroom. The member may continue.

Representative Mangipudi: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Asian and Pacific Heritage Month was the idea of former Congressional staffer, Jennie June who first approached Representative Frank Horton about the idea of designating a month to recognize Asian Pacific Americans following the United States Bicentennial celebration in 1976. In June 1977, Horton and Representative Norman Yoshio Mineta introduced a resolution in the US House of Representatives to proclaim the first 10 days of May as Asian Pacific American Heritage Week. A month later a similar bill was introduced in the Senate by former US Senator Daniel Inouye and Spark Matsunaga. President Jimmy Carter signed a joint resolution for the celebration of October 5th 1978. In 1990, George H.W. Bush signed a bill passed by Congress to extend Asian American Heritage Week to a month. On May 14, 1991 a public law was passed unanimously by Congress and then signed by Bush proclaiming May 1991 and May 1992 as Asian and Pacific American Heritage Month. By 1992, May was officially designated as Asian Pacific American Heritage Month. The month of May was chosen because it commemorates the migration of the first immigrant from Japan to the United States on May 7 1843. To celebrate the completion of transcontinental railroad by over 200,000 Asian immigrants on May 10, 1869. However, the first Asian immigrants arrived in the US in 1587 when Filipinos first began migrating to California. Immigrants continued to come from the Asian continent in the Pacific Island through 1920 when the first Samoans were documented in Hawaii. My journey as an Indian American started in 1985. I arrived in Boston on April 3, 1985 and little did I know that I would be staying further on and serving, making this my adopted home and raising my family and now a grandchild in this state. More recently, Y2K, many of you recognize or remember that. During Y2K, there was a huge migration of Indian Americans, Indians coming to help with the transition of the computer breakdown that was going to happen. New Hampshire saw a huge influx of Indians coming during or just before Y2K. I was here before that and I have made this home, New Hampshire my home for over 30 years. Also know that service to my community comes from my heart. Where I come from, the largest democracy, youngest but largest democracy in the world to the oldest democracy. That's my humble Unanimous Consent. Namaste.

and the Committee of Conference Report failed.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

Having voted with the prevailing side, Rep. Espitia moved that the House reconsider its action whereby, on a roll call vote of 171-176, the House failed to adopt the Committee of Conference Report on HB 1431-FN-L, establishing the parental bill of rights.

Rep. Espitia spoke against and requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

ENROLLED BILL REPORT

The Committee on Enrolled Bills has examined and found correctly enrolled Senate Bill numbered 200.
Rep. Osborne, Sen. Avard for the Committee

MOTION TO PRINT DEBATE

Rep. Ebel moved that the debate on HB 1431-FN-L, establishing the parental bill of rights, be printed in the Permanent Journal.

On a division vote, with 277 members having voted in the affirmative, and 65 in the negative, the motion was adopted.

DEBATE ON HB 1431-FN-L

Representative Wolf: Thank you, Mister Speaker. I move to table HB 1431.

Speaker Packard: The House will be in order. That is a proper motion. The motion before us is to table HB 1431. Roll call has been requested by Rep. Blasek. Is that sufficiently seconded? It is sufficiently seconded. This will be a roll call vote. The motion before us is to table HB 1431. Members will be in their seats. This is a roll call vote. The Chair recognizes Rep. Allard for a parliamentary inquiry.

Representative Allard: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, if I know that everyone in this chamber desires the very best for the children of our state. And Mister Speaker if I know that the attorney general and the speaker's chosen counsel do not agree on the intentions of this bill. And Mister Speaker if I know that HB 1431 still needs a lot of work to make it the very best legislation for our families, schools and our most vulnerable students, would I now press the green button and support the tabling motion so that we can improve this bill in the coming session?

Speaker Packard: The House will be in order. The Chair recognizes Rep. Osborne for a parliamentary inquiry.

Representative Osborne: Thank you, Mister Speaker. If I know that we have all been waiting all day for this debate to occur and I do know that House and Senate counsels have both weighed in on the questions that the attorney general has brought forward and that we will hear about that during the debate if we are allowed to have it, would I now press the red button to not table HB 1431?

Speaker Packard: The motion before us is to table HB 1431. This is a roll call vote. If you are in favor, you will press the green button. If you are opposed, you'll press the red button. Voting stations are open for 30 seconds. Have all members present had the opportunity to vote? The House will attend to the state of the vote. 169 voting Yea, 173 voting Nay, the tabling motion fails. The House will be in order. The Chair recognizes Rep. Abramson.

Representative Abramson: Thank you, Mister Speaker. I guess I really wore the wrong color today. Mister Speaker, I rise in support of the Committee of Conference recommendation on HB 1431. The Republican platform simply says on education, "To promote education freedom and parental rights to control the education of their children," but the Republican party is not the only one that says that, so does the Constitution Party. So does the Reform Party and the Green Party and almost all the independent political parties and political movements and groups that are formed out of grassroots ordinary people around the country. They have all supported parental rights and to a varying extent, parental notification. This bill, in my opinion, is simply a parental notification that if something is going on in the schools, if the child has had a confidential admission with other students and if there is any official activity involving the school district and its employees, that the parents simply be notified. So I not only support this bill, I think that this is one of the most important bills that we take on this session. I've said for years to my constituents when I ran that I believe that parents have the right to raise and educate their own children. That it's not up to the state to make those decisions, especially very personal, very intimate decisions about their development, their emotional and sexual development. It is therefore my opinion that, after having read this bill and listened to both sides and looked through the issues and received the emails of course and heard the responses from members of the other side, that I still believe that parents need to be the one who is notified by the school and make the important decisions themselves. Please ignore the color of my shirt today and press the green button.

Speaker Packard: The Chair recognizes Rep. Blasek.

Representative Blasek: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, I would like to begin by dispelling some of the propaganda surrounding this bill. Critics say that this bill requires educators to inform parents of a child's gender identity or expression that's requiring them to "out" the child. That is not what the language of this bill says. It says a parent has the right to be notified when a school employee initiates, investigates or finds the need for action relating to the school's policy regarding the student's gender expression and identity. Nowhere in this bill does it say that if a student confides in their teacher about their gender identity, that the teacher must immediately call the parent to divulge that information. In addition, there is nothing in current law that prevents a teacher from "outing" a child to a parent now. The concern I've heard expressed is that the parent would be told that they perhaps have a transgender child and that the child would be in danger because the parent might abuse them. We cannot presume that all parents are guilty until proven innocent. If we presume that parents are all abusive, then schools would never inform the parents of any number of issues with the child, including poor behavior, as it might result in abusive situation at home. We have never operated under this thought process before and we should not begin now. As this bill is written, there are several ways a school could withhold the information about the student if there is evidence that it would endanger the child. Good, supportive parents have every right to know if there are actions taken in school that include their children. I equate parental rights to firearms rights. There are criminals, yes. One of the primary purposes of government is to punish wrongdoings, but restricting rights from law abiding parents and gun owners does not prevent criminals from participating in criminal activities. Parents are programed to love and care for their children like no other adult and we should be supporting parents so they can protect their children from potential bad actors and influences outside of the home. Please press the green button to support this moderate and common-sense legislation.

Speaker Packard: The House will be in order. The Chair recognizes Rep. Roy.

Representative Roy: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, in my previous life, my job was to be in charge of investigations for educator misconduct. As part of that, we learned that there are certain behaviors in the field that needed to be addressed and part of that was how these relationships developed. There are a lot of words to use for it and one of them is grooming. Well, what if we were here today talking about allowing police officers to have secret relationships with your child where the parent had no right to know what was going on and they could talk about sex or anything, gender, whatever, and you couldn't find out what that was? I don't think we'd be having this debate because we would all think it was ludicrous. As part of my job we looked at trends and studies. Teachers are no different from police officers or state representatives. We are all made up of the same population. There is not a special island somewhere where we grow police officers or teachers. They are all just like you and me. Unfortunately among all of us, there are a few bad apples we have to watch and protect children from. Now, if I'm the type of person that has that affliction that I am attracted to children, what kind of field would I get into as my career? Now, that's the tiny minority but a tiny minority can do huge damage. There's no doubt that teachers have a profound effect on the lives of their students. The student-teacher connection can be positive, transforming, opening possibilities for the student. Conversely, the power imbalance presented in this influential relationship may be abused, resulting in long term trauma to the student. This is particularly the case for some sex offenders who use the profession of teaching to target victims. The case of Mary Kay Letourneau captured national attention when she was convicted of second-degree child rape for having sex with her sixth-grade student. Miss Letourneau who was 35 at the time, pleaded guilty and received a 7 ½ year sentence. Lest we think we are immune in New Hampshire, let's all remember the name Pamela Smart. Grooming is a term used to describe the process by which a sex offender carefully initiates and maintains sexual abusive relationships with children. Grooming is a conscious, deliberate and carefully orchestrated approach used by an offender. The goal of grooming is to permit a sexual encounter and keep it secret. The grooming process encompasses a variety of methods used by the offender. In addition, the method helped maintain the abusive relationship by encouraging complicity and secrecy of the victim. Here are just a quick few of the things that we watch out for when we look for grooming behavior among educators, adults, parents or any profession when dealing with children. Targeting. They look for vulnerable children. For example, those with low self-esteem, low self-confidence, children with less parental oversight whose parents aren't really involved in their lives. Socially isolated and emotionally needy children. It sounds an awful like the children we're trying to protect by allowing this kind of behavior. Caretaking, babysitting, teaching, tutoring. They form special relationships. They become welcome. They give them gifts, games, special times and isolate the children from their family and friends. They seize on feelings of being unloved and unappreciated, not understood. Emotional bonding and trust building. Desensitizing them to sex, talking about sex, gender, things of this nature. Use pretense of teaching and exploring in closeness. They exploit the victim's natural sexual curiosity at that age. Then they use maintenance. Bribes, gifts to ensure continued compliance. Threaten dire consequences to ensure secrecy. Threaten to blame the victim. Losing the loss of a loving relationship. These are the exact kinds of behaviors that we discourage and punish and send people to jail for, yet opponents of this bill are saying we should allow and encourage. We have to be careful that when we say that people should be allowed to have secret relationships with children.

Speaker Packard: The House will be in order.

Representative Roy: There is a motive. It's clearly that the motive is you say that I should not be able to have a relationship...

Speaker Packard: The representative will stop. I didn't hear the complete statement but I understand you were somewhat implying motive which we don't do.

Representative Roy: Agreed, Mister Speaker. I'm not implying motive. I'm saying that teachers should be able to have a secret with a child. That's not a motive, that's a fact. That's what you are saying. You may not like it, but think about it. At the end of the day, the parents have a right to know...

Speaker Packard: The member will suspend. What is your point of order?

Representative Horrigan: In addition to what the previous member said, I think he is not addressing the bill that this behavior he talks about is already illegal under existing law and this is not the main focus of what's before us. I think he has gone off topic. Thank you.

Speaker Packard: The House will be in order. My instructions to the member are not to imply motive and to talk about the bill.

Representative Roy: To be clear, I do not think that there is a motive for improper relationships. What I'm saying is that this kind of behavior is what allows it to happen. We know this. It's been proven time and time again. Keeping secrets with children that their parents are not allowed to know about is classically proven behavior that leads to this type of thing. We always have to be on guard for it. Yes, it makes you uncomfortable. It make me uncomfortable to have to talk about it, but it should not be happening. The parents should always be in the loop. Thank you.

Speaker Packard: Does the member yield to questions? Member does not yield. The Chair recognizes Rep. Mullen.

Representative Mullen: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, today I rise in opposition to HB 1431, the parents bill of rights, which may seem ironic given the fact that I'm a parent myself. I believe whole heartedly in parents taking responsibility for their children's education and medical care. I also support school districts and health care facilities doing everything they can to engage with parents in building relationships built on transparency and trust. But this bill isn't about building relationships. This bill is about a lack of trust that robs kids of the opportunity to connect with caring, supporting adults at the time in their lives when many of them need them the most. Many of the rights outlined in HB 1431 are already law. The right to enroll a child in a public, private or home school, the right to review school records, the right to opt out of certain topics of instruction, the right to review and object to particular instructional materials, the right to access state standards, services via an individual educational plan, the right to enroll in Title I or Medicaid services. All of these provisions are already defined and defended under state and federal statute so they don't appear to be the rights that a parent would need to fight for. In addition, there are some rights in this bill that don't seem right at all. HB 1431 would require schools to track and notify parents every time a student changed their extracurricular activities or joined a club, like theater or Destination Imagination or the Gay-Straight Alliance. Schools would be required to report all discipline imposed by school authorities without defining either discipline or school authority. Does that mean that if chatty seventh grade Susie needs to have her seat changed, that a call will be made home at the end of the day? What if active Alan throws a tater tot in the cafeteria? Is Mr. Vice Principal expected to call mom if he requires Al to clean up the floor around the table? I spent 12 years as a 5th grade teacher and I can assure you that dealing with student discipline is a major portion of every day. What will happen when teachers have 15 phone calls to make at the end of the day? I can guess that fewer teachers will report loving their jobs and loving your job is exactly what makes a great teacher. How about the conversations that kids have with the principal or the assistant that are meant to redirect or inspire them? Our administrators are well loved by the students. As a teacher I would frequently ask one of them to intervene. Who's making that call? How long might it be before the taxpayers on the hook for the additional staff that it takes to clear that daily log jam? The most meaningful professional work I did was as a school counselor. For 27 years I had the privilege of assisting students and families during the most difficult times of their lives. I have held students as they cried over the loss of a parent. I have held parents who lost children to illness, to drugs, to depression. My door was always open and my office a refuge for kids and adults who needed a listening ear and a compassionate heart to navigate the challenges that come to all of us sooner or later. As I stand here today, I am the voice of every dedicated school counselor. Why would you want to silence me? Sometimes advocating for a student meant taking on the school. The teacher really was being mean. The current plan just wasn't working. The student couldn't get their homework done because nobody at home could help. If you think I'm kidding, try doing your seventh-grade students math homework and see how well you do. Sometimes I needed to address the parents. He's worried about your drinking, the divorce has her totally distracted, maybe something is interfering with his learning. Did either one of you have trouble in school? Sometimes I needed to confront the student. Well, what are you doing if you're not doing your homework? What did you expect would happen if you waited until the day before it was due? What made you think that was an opinion you should share? Like every dedicated school counselor, I based my work on honesty and compassion. Why would you want to silence me? During my career, I had multiple students disclose to me that they had been sexually abused. Another that his mother was being assaulted. One that a sibling was in trouble with the law. One that a parent was going to jail and more than one that they had tried to take their own life because they didn't know what else to do. Some of these disclosures came relatively quickly, but most of them were the result of a tested relationship. Victimized kids need time. Kids with a secret are frequently scared to death that speaking the truth will result in something even more horrifying than the reality of what they're living. If that school counselor is the difference between hell or survival, why would you want to silence them? We already know all of this. New Hampshire has been studying adverse childhood experiences for decades now. We know that the single most protective factor in building resilient kids is engaging them in healthy relationships. We know that schools are an ideal place to lay the foundation of trust that kids need to thrive. HB 1431 requires school counselors, like me, to notify parents if students have a dress code violation. Any behavior management or intervention must also be reported. Discussions about gender identity or expression must be disclosed whether the student is ready to have that conversation or not because, "Invertedly or purposefully withheld information is subject to disciplinary action." Inadvertently? Doesn't that mean accidentally or without intention? In addition, parents may seek monetary damages and court costs making the desire for collaboration in an effort to forge a homeschool partnership seems somewhat antique at best. According to the GLAAD legal advocates and defenders' office, one in 4 LGBTQ youth attempted suicide in 2021. The Trevor Project reports that 60% of LGBTQ youth who wanted mental health care in the past year, were unable to get it. Seventy-three percent experience symptoms of anxiety and 58% suffered from depression. Being LGBTQ is one of the leading causes of homelessness among teens in America and that's not because everyone's news is being greeted with open arms. Helping students communicate with their parents about their sexuality is a good thing. Forcing school personnel to out their students to parents before anyone is ready for that open, honest and sometimes tough conversation is not. We have the opportunity to continue to help New Hampshire students and their families by opposing this bill. We can deliver the message that living in New Hampshire means that we accept and value you unconditionally and that we know we are gambling with kids' lives when we don't. Please vote no on HB 1431 by pushing the red button.

Speaker Packard: Does the member yield to questions? The member does not yield. The Chair recognizes Rep. Kofalt. This is the last speaker, so members take your seats.

Representative Kofalt: Thank you, Mister Speaker. I rise to speak in support of the Committee of Conference Report for HB 1431. Several years ago, a friend and colleague offered me some advice that has proven to be very valuable during my short tenure as a member of this body. It was this. When you are engaged in dialogue with people who do not necessarily agree with your point of view, it is helpful to begin with a presumption that everyone at the table is motivated in some way by a positive intention. That has served me well here. It has served me well elsewhere in my life and I believe it would especially serve us well in the case of HB 1431. This bill affirms the primacy of parents in raising their children to be happy, healthy, productive adults who can grow up and contribute positively to society. The bill is five pages long. It includes a number of different provisions, including things like parents have the right to inspect the curriculum and know what their kids are learning in school. It includes that parent have the right to see the child's report card and to know why they are being promoted to the next grade or not or why they are being graduated or not. It reaffirms some of the rights that are already outlined in statute, such as the right to exempt your child from certain immunizations. In the five pages of this bill, the term “gender expression” is used exactly once and yet that has become the pivot point upon which the passage or failure of this bill will depend. Why is that? We all know someone who has struggled with their sexual orientation or their gender identity and who has suffered emotion pain as a result. We all know someone who has been rejected, ostracized, ridiculed and bullied. So in keeping with the words of the chairman of my committee, I think that we ought to honor the concerns and fears on both sides of the question. I can’t imagine what it is like to suffer that kind of difficulty, especially as a teenager. I’m sorry that it happens and I wish I could waive a magic wand and make it go away. Whether this bill passes or fails will not change that. What this bill will do is recognize that parents are the primary agents in the raising of their children, not junior partners in the process. This will also constitute a very meaningful step toward restoring trust in our schools. Public schools across the country have faced a litany of criticism over the past few years and much of that criticism, although we ought not to paint with too broad a brush, much of that criticism has been deserved. How do we build trust? How do we restore trust? One of the essential elements in the process of restoring trust is to extend some measure of trust to another. The fundamental question that we answer when we vote yes or not on this bill, whether you intend this or not, is this. Do we trust parents? Do we believe that the vast majority of parents love their children and will do what is best for them? Not necessarily that it’s easy, not that there isn’t some difficulty and tough conversations along the way, but do we believe that the vast majority of parents love their children enough to support them in their journey and do what is right? This bill does not require a school to take action simply because a student is questioning their sexual orientation or gender identity. It does not prevent a student from confiding in a trusted adult at school and it does not compel an adult to violate that confidence. What it does require is that if a student asks to be addressed by a differently gendered name or by different pronouns or to otherwise make a request to be treated differently in the public context of the school or in a way that triggers the school to act on a related policy, then the parents should be notified. There was an article in this morning’s Union Leader highlighting the story of a mother whose child in the Manchester school system came out as transgendered. She was not notified and she has filed suit. She was quoted in that article as saying, “If we are not being told what is going on in their personal life in school, things could take a turn for the worse if we don’t know.” This came from somebody who has been teaching for 25 years, has been teaching for 17 years in the same school district. Do we trust parents? This bill is a necessary and important step toward acknowledging the primary importance of parents in their children’s lives and I ask my colleagues to vote yes on approving the Committee of Conference Report. Thank you.

Speaker Packard: Will the member yield to questions? The member does not yield. A roll call has been requested by Rep. Silber. Is that sufficiently seconded? It is sufficiently seconded. This will be a roll call vote. Members will take their seats. The motion before us is the Committee of Conference Report on HB 1431. This is a roll call vote. The Chair recognizes Rep. Long for a parliamentary inquiry.

Representative Long: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mister Speaker, if I know that the issues that were brought up in the debate was not brought up during testimony. If I further know that the issues that this would create within the court systems, with the parents. If I further know that this will not solve what people are looking for, then would I press the red button? Thank you.

Speaker Packard: The Chair recognizes Rep. Osborne for a parliamentary inquiry.

Representative Osborne: Thank you, Mister Speaker. If I know that parents, not schools, have the primary right and responsibility of the upbringing of children, would I now press the green button and support families and not systems and secrets?

Speaker Packard: The House will be in order. The motion before us is the Committee of Conference Report on HB 1431. This is a roll call vote. If you are in favor, you’ll press the green button. If you are opposed, you’ll press the red button. Voting stations are open for 30 seconds. Have all members present had an opportunity to vote? The House will attend to the state of the vote. 171 voting Yea, 176 voting Nay. The House will be in order. The motion fails.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE REPORTS ON HOUSE BILLS REGULAR CALENDAR - HOUSE BILLS CONT'D

ADJOURN FROM THE EARLY SESSION

Rep. Osborne offered the following: RESOLVED, that the House now adjourn from the early session, that the business of the late session be in order at the present time and when the House adjourns today it be to meet at the Call of the Chair.

Motion was adopted.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS

Rep. Laughton moved that the remarks made by Rep. Labranche during Unanimous Consent be printed in the Permanent Journal.

Without objection, the Speaker ordered.

REMARKS

Representative Labranche: Thank you, Mister Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to highlight Quebec National Day, also known as Saint-Jean Baptiste Day, as I myself am the son of immigrants from Quebec and am a proud Quebecer. I would like to educate this house about the long and unique history of the people of Quebec. I will begin by giving the French version of my speech and then I will give the English version. Mr. Speaker, as I said before, I rise to highlight Quebec National Day. Although it takes place June 24th, this is our last session before this holiday. Quebecer's form one of the biggest linguistic, ethnic, and cultural groups here in the State of New Hampshire yet we are one of the most under represented. Out of the 400 of us I am the only Quebecer here, that is why I felt it was important for me to this important holiday. This holiday isn't just significant to Quebec or the future independent nation of Quebec but for Quebecers around the world in which we celebrate our unique culture and history, our fourth of July you could say. The people of unique history marked by oppression by Great Britain and the Anglophone. This history as we know started in 1763 when Great Britain conquered New France. Since then the Anglophone have always dominated the people of Quebec. The Anglophone controlled the economy and all managerial and leadership positions in most enterprises and treated their French speaking employees as second-class citizens. The Anglophone never wanted to let Quebecers have self-determination and control their own destiny. A perfect example of this is the October Crisis of 1970 where the Canadian federal government of Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau used the War Measures Act to declare martial law in Quebec and to occupy the territory of Quebec with force. The federal government used this power to arrest and detain, without warrants or any charges, journalists, activists, actors, singers, and intellectuals who supported the independence of Quebec. In total 497 people were arrested, many of them for weeks or even months, and over 3000 warrantless searches of homes occurred. Even after the October Crisis and the rescinding of the War Powers Act the federal government continued to illegally spy on pro-independence activists. A few years later in 1995 Quebec voted in a referendum on independence from Canada. The final result: 50.58% Against and 49.42% opposed, with a total difference of only around 54,000 votes changing history. Sadly though, the federal government interfered in this referendum. First, they illegally funded the No side of the referendum to a sum of 4 million dollars both against Quebec and federal law. Secondly, in the months leading up to the referendum the federal government sent immigration judges from across the country to Quebec to accelerate the naturalization process and to give them the right to vote in the referendum. In total around 43,000 individuals received citizenship in the months prior with a quarter occurring in the month of the referendum itself. Most Quebecers actually voted for independence, when I say that I mean the French speaking and ethnic Quebecers, with 60% in favor of independence. That is why I always say, without the interference of the Canadian Federal Government Quebec would be a country today. There are not many members of this House that know this dark history of Quebec and Canada and how Canada is not really a free or democratic country but is really an oppressor to my Quebecois people. That is why I decided to speak here today and to educate my colleagues and to highlight this holiday of the Quebecois people. Happy Saint-Jean Baptiste Day Happy Quebec National Day Long live a free Quebec, Long Live an Independent Quebec. Thank You Mr. Speaker.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Rep. Abramson requested Unanimous Consent of the House regarding an apology and lowering the drinking age to 18 and addressed the House.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Rep. Altschiller requested Unanimous Consent of the House regarding community violence and addressed the House.

Consent was withdrawn.

The question being shall the member be allowed to continue speaking with consent of the House?
Rep. Burt requested a roll call; sufficiently seconded.

COMMUNICATION

Dear Mr. Speaker,

With the conclusion of our final Session day before the summer break, I wish to take this time to inform you that I am resigning from the New Hampshire House of Representatives, effective immediately. It has been an honor and privilege to represent the citizens of Hudson and Pelham these past four years. Running and serving as a State Rep is one of the best decisions I've ever made. I'll treasure this opportunity to serve, and the many dear friendships with legislators, staff, and lobbyists I've gained along the way. My wife Kathy and I decided about fifteen years ago to someday retire in Florida full-time. We are relocating to The Villages, to our home we recently purchased and will no longer be residing in New Hampshire. Kathy has waited patiently these past two years to allow me to serve a second term. I hope to remain politically active in Florida via various organizations, assisting with campaigns, or perhaps running for office once again locally. This decision to resign and move out-of-state is surely bittersweet, for as much as I look forward to the next chapter in my life, I'll look back fondly on these last four years serving in Concord and living in the great state of New Hampshire the past seventeen. Thank you for your support and understanding.

Sincerely,

Bob Greene

COMMUNICATION

Paul C. Smith

Clerk of the House

NH State House

107 North Main Street, Room 317

Concord, NH 03301

Dear Clerk Smith:

It is with great sadness and regret that I am sending you this letter of resignation, effective June 1, 2022. I am also advising the House Democratic Office and our Leader Cote. It has been a tremendous honor and privilege, and humbling experience, to serve nearly six years in this historic and venerable body, representing Nashua and the Granite State as a whole. I have met and worked with so many wonderful people, true public servants. Working in Concord, surrounded by history and tradition, has been an experience I will never forget. As you are aware, I have had serious health issues and now find that the disease is progressing much faster than expected, making it nearly impossible for me to participate in any meaningful way in any House activities. Secondly, even if my health allowed attendance, I will be moving to Keene with my daughter in the first week of June; thereby moving out of the city of Nashua and Hillsborough County. I am sorry to leave so much work unfinished, especially when we have so many opportunities to improve lives and benefit our people. And I recognize what excellent work the House has done so far, and I feel that I have left the House down lately in not carrying my weight due to illness. I am impressed by all the great contributions made by our hard-working colleagues. I am so sorry I can no longer be a part of it. I have enjoyed the camaraderie. Best wishes for the remainder of the Session.

Sincerely,
Representative Skip Cleaver
Nashua, Hillsborough 35

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 10 with the following:

11 State Building Code Review Board. RSA 155-A:10, IV is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

IV. The board shall meet to review and assess the application of the state building code and shall recommend legislation, as the board deems necessary, to amend the requirements of the state building code in order to provide consistency with the application of other laws, rules, or regulations, to avoid undue economic impacts on the public by considering the cost of such amendments, and to promote public safety and best practices.

(a) The board shall review a newer version of a code that has been published for 2 years, and shall provide a summary of all significant changes, cost estimates of these changes, and documentation of the need for the change in any recommended legislation.

(b) Statewide amendments to the state building code shall be reviewed and approved by the board, then submitted annually to the legislature for ratification by the adoption of appropriate legislation before they become effective.

(c) Municipal amendments: municipalities shall submit proposed amendments to the state building code to the board for review and confirmation prior to adoption. Municipalities may submit proposed language to the board for an advisory opinion at any time. Cities shall submit the final proposed building code amendment no later than 90 days before final adoption. Towns shall submit the final proposed building code amendment no later than 10 days after the conclusion of the final public hearing. Municipal submissions shall include the final text for each amendment. The board shall act to review and confirm proposed municipal amendments within 90 days of submission for cities, and 45 days for towns. Failure of the board to act within these timeframes shall constitute a confirmation of the municipal amendment. The board's review shall be limited to a confirmation that the local amendment does not establish requirements conflicting with, or less stringent than, the requirements of the state building code, and to verify with the state fire marshal that there is no conflict with the fire code.

(d) Once an amendment is approved by the legislative body, the municipality shall submit documentation to the building code review board within 30 days, pursuant to subparagraph (c), that the public hearing was properly noticed and held, and that the provision was adopted by the local legislative body.

(e) The board may hear appeals of final decisions of any local building code board of appeals established under RSA 674, provided that the appeal shall be based on a claim that the intent of the code or the rules legally adopted thereunder have been incorrectly interpreted, the provisions of the code do not fully apply, or there is an alternative construction. The board shall not have authority to waive or grant variances to requirements of the code.

(f) Amendments adopted by municipalities, submitted to the board under the provisions of RSA 674:51, II, and confirmed by the board, shall be published by the board after notification of adoption is received from the municipality.

12 Contingency. If SB 443-FN of the 2022 regular legislative session becomes law, then section 11 of this act shall take effect on January 1, 2023 at 12:01 a.m., and section 8 of this act shall not take effect. If SB 443-FN does not become law, then section 8 of this act shall take effect as provided in section 13 of this act, and section 11 of this act shall not take effect.

13 Effective Date.

I. Section 11 of this act shall take effect as provided in section 12 of this act.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

Motion was adopted.

ENROLLED BILL AMENDMENT

HB 1567-FN, relative to consequences resulting from election official misconduct.

Amendment 2022-2132EBA

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 of the bill with the following:

1 Provisions for Purity of Elections; Official Misconduct; Consequences. Amend RSA 666:3 to read as follows:
 666:3 Official Misconduct.

I.(a) Any public officer upon whom a duty relating to elections is imposed who shall knowingly fail to perform such duty or who shall knowingly perform it in such a way as to hinder the objects thereof shall be guilty of a misdemeanor if no other penalty is provided by law.

(b) The attorney general shall investigate misconduct by an election official. If an election official is convicted, the attorney general shall remove the official's right to vote in accordance with part I, article 11 of the New Hampshire constitution.

II.(a) Any public officer upon whom a duty relating to elections is imposed who shall negligently fail to perform such duty or who shall negligently perform it in such a way as to hinder the objects thereof, as found pursuant to RSA 666:2, shall cause the county, city, town, school district, village district, or other political subdivision, where such conduct occurred to be subject to a civil penalty of not less than $250 nor more than $1000 for each act.

(b) Prior to the imposition of a civil penalty under subparagraph (a), the attorney general shall notify the county, city, town, school district, village district, or other political subdivision of the state's intention to seek such penalty. The notice of intent to seek a civil penalty shall include notice of the opportunity to respond, within 45 days, as to why the penalty shall not be imposed. The attorney general is authorized to negotiate and settle with such county, city, town, school district, village district, or other political subdivision without court action, provided that any civil penalty paid as settlement shall be paid to the attorney general for deposit into the general fund.

(c) If the county, city, town, school district, village district, or other political subdivision disputes the final determination of the attorney general, that political subdivision may appeal the attorney general's penalty assessment to the superior court.

III. The attorney general shall notify the county, city, town, school district, village district, or other political subdivision that is subject to this section of the state's intention to seek a civil penalty, and of the ability to negotiate with and to settle with such county, city, town, school district, village district, or other political subdivision without court action, provided that any civil penalty paid as settlement shall be paid to the attorney general for deposit into the general fund.

IV. If an entity is subject to a civil penalty under this section, the entity shall also be subject to the payment of restitution damages.
