

I am opposed to this bill as it is both circular and is also very vague in its attempts to oppose “tyranny”. As someone who manages several chronic health issues (Type 2 diabetes, sleep apnea, chronic kidney disease), I am more susceptible to serious communicable diseases, such as the horrific Covid 19 pandemic that ravaged our state and the nation as a whole a few short years ago. The alteration of what is considered “religious exemptions” is not defined or made clear in any way, and the very same bill not one page later removes that section as well as a majority of the statutes that have helped guide public safety in our state’s schools for years, if not decades.

I urge you to vote Inexpedient to Legislate, as I am seriously concerned that not only is this ill-designed, but it is a stepping stone to removing safety measures in future for all people living in New Hampshire.

Sincerely

Andrew Harmon, Concerned citizen
