

I Oppose HR41

I am saddened to see a Bill to investigate an elected official when the person has already been cleared by the Attorney General in December.

Also noted in that investigation is that this type of work is typical for elected officials and gave examples of Republicans who have used their official emails to advocate for their constituents.

Should these be investigated, too? No. The AG has already determined there is no wrongdoing; and a lengthy and costly impeachment process is a waste of taxpayer time and money.

Please return HR as inexpedient to legislate so that “all government of right originates from the people, is founded in consent, and instituted for the general good.”

Respectfully,
