JOINT RELEASE

Speaker Packard, Senate President Carson Mark 25 Years Since September 11th Attacks

CONCORD, N.H. - Speaker of the House Sherman Packard (R-Londonderry) and Senate President Sharon Carson (R-Londonderry) today released the following joint statement marking the 25th anniversary of the September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks.

"Twenty-five years ago today, we were attacked by foreign terrorists who set out to destroy the United States. And I remember what came next, first responders who ran toward the danger, who risked their lives and lost their lives doing everything they could to save others. We can never thank them enough, and we can never forget what happened here. Remembering is how we make sure it never happens again," said Speaker Packard.

Senate President Sharon Carson added, "Today we commemorate the 25th anniversary of September 11th. In a fitting memorial, The Honor Summit: United in Remembrance of 9/11, will feature two pillars of light that will rise from Mount Washington from 8 pm to 3 am through the 12th. This is a stark reminder of the lives lost, the families left behind, and the brave first responders who answered the call. We will never forget."
