PRESIDENT MORSE: If you're in favor of tabling, you're going to say aye, if you're opposed, you're going to say nay.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: If I believe in clean elections would I vote against the tabling motion?

PRESIDENT MORSE: If you're in favor of tabling, you're going to say aye, if you're opposed, you're going to say nay.

A roll call was requested by Senator Soucy, seconded by Senator Avard.

The following Senators voted Yes: Woodburn, Watters, Hennessey, Kahn, Lasky, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Soucy, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark.

The following Senators voted No: Giuda, Bradley, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard, Carson, Reagan, Birdsell, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

Roll Call, Yeas: 10 - Nays: 14. Failed.

(The Chair recognized Senator Fuller Clark.)

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: Thank you very much, Mister President. I rise in opposition to the bill that is before us and I'm here to ask you, what is our fundamental obligation in this country? I believe our fundamental obligation in this country is to protect our democracy. And the best way to protect that democracy is to make sure that we encourage young citizens in this country and in this state to vote. We have seen over the last several years a number of initiatives that come forward all of which are trying to make it more difficult for young people to vote.

And what has been the genesis for these types of legislation? Because we have heard that there is a problem with fraud. The actuality is that we heard our assistant secretary of state say that there is a very limited amount of fraud. We heard that research has shown that over 3 million votes that have been looked at in this state, there was an insignificant number of cases of fraud and again how do you define fraud? Sometimes it's someone thinking they have the right to vote and discovering after the fact that they don't have the right to vote. But I believe that what we've done over the last several years is really hurt New Hampshire, which is the state that has, as you all know, the recognition as being the first in the nation primary. But these various efforts on the basis of fraud that doesn't exist have really changed the attitude of people who live here and people who look to us as one of the core states that ensures the democratic process, particularly being the first in the nation primary. I speak today as representing the University of New Hampshire and I urge you to look at the testimony that came before this committee for the hearing of this bill and how many students spoke out about how they felt discriminated against, how they felt rejected, how they felt that they weren't being heard and yet we want students to come to this state. We want them to go to our university systems at a time when we're seeing demographics change so that we're having fewer and fewer students. But at the same time by bringing forth these types of legislation, we are discouraging those students. They're going to say I don't want to come to New Hampshire. They're going to say, you know, I live here for sometimes as long as three-hundred days during the year. This is my home while I am a student here and the decisions that you make in this legislature are decisions that impact on where I am going to school and the community that I live in while I'm here. And I deserve the opportunity to choose whether I feel it's more important for me as a student to vote where I'm spending most of my time as opposed to perhaps voting where I grew up, but I may no longer have the same emotional attachment. So, you know, I find this incredibly disingenuous because the reality is, we haven't seen outrageous fraud. We haven't seen abuse of our election process in this state. And yet every time we bring a bill forth like this, it implies that our voting system is fraught with problems. I don't believe that's the case. I believe that it's bills like this that make people in New Hampshire think that our voting system is not working the way it should. We should be passing legislation in here in this body and across, in the other chamber, that enhances every individual's ability to vote. But if you look at the legislation that we've seen this year and has been voted down, whether we wanted to have online voter registration, rather we wanted to do away with Crosscheck which has proved to be unreliable, those bills have been voted down as well. So I'm just here today to say, I would urge you not to buy in to the false premise of this legislation and to vote against it. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn.)

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to the motion. In the committee I referred to this as a stink bomb on our democracy. And as I listen to debate here, I think my assessment may need to change, it's more like a smoke bomb. Because the smoke is stinging our eyes and we can't see what the magician's hands are doing. Because what we're doing here in this legislation, very crafty, very cynical, but what it is doing, it is linking not the resident to the voter but the voter to an act that costs money, and that act being is a driver's license or registering a vehicle. But when the smoke clears, like it often does and the wisdom arrives and the truth emerges sometimes from an unusual source, we get that strike of wisdom and let me share it with you. I hate it, it would never survive in a court. I hope this legislature kills it. I will never support anything that suppresses student vote. At the end of the day, it could result in suppression of the vote. And who said that? Who said that? It was our Governor, the Excellency, Governor Chris Sununu's comments. You don't have to believe me; you can look at the YouTube video. There it is, right there for all of us to look at, to consider. The bottom line is Mister President, is this is a right-wing ruse built on trumped up charges of voter fraud that we know are not true. And we remember a year ago, we talked about the President's Commission, the commission that really attacked our grassroots democracy, what we do great in New Hampshire. And the leader of that, Kris Kobach, in the news these days. KK got CC; contempt of court. The charade is over. We know what this is all about. Call it what you want. The fancy way of saying it is disenfranchise, but the bottom line is this bill, like others like it, is created to make it harder for certain people who don't typically support Republican Candidates from voting. It does it by creating complicated barriers, long forms, long lines and long lies. The target here is college students. And who wants it, we heard this is in great demand. How many people showed up to testify? Two in favor, two. Both happened to be from the secretary of state's office. No public citizens. And there's no plan to enforce it.

There was a great article written here in the Union Leader. I'll share it with you. As the state draws closer to enacting a residency requirement for voting, one question remains unanswered. How would the obligation pay New Hampshire driver's license and vehicle registration after voting be enforced? No one seems to know. Secretary of state's office says check with the Division of Motor Vehicles and what do they say? When our friend here from the Union Leader called and asked them, they said, it has no impact on the DMV operations. No money, no plan for enforcement, but certainly a plan to make it harder for people to vote, young people to vote. People we need here in the state of New Hampshire as we hemorrhage young people. We need to welcome and invite them into the process. Mister President, I was a civics teacher. And I taught my students that government is a distribution of power. And what is power, power is influence, and who gets it? Each of us get twenty-four, each twenty-four of us get an opportunity to have power in this body. And each citizen has an opportunity to have power in our government. And in this debate, my friend from the Seacoast, he used the term "skin in the game". Another friend from Bedford, during our committee said vested interest, we want voters to have a vested interest. Now I come from a small town, three generations. Every town meeting people get up and they preface their comments with I've been here so long, I ran against a longtime resident and criticized me, said who's this guy think he is, he's only been here three generations. But I had the audacity to run and lose. But when you look up the word "vested", what does that mean? I think it tells the story. Vested: fully unconditional guaranteed legal right, benefit, privilege. Established, secured, settled, not in a state of contingency. Doesn't that speak about the way our voting started? You owned land, you were a man, you didn't receive any welfare, you were the right religion, you could vote. And we slowly expanded it. Contingency. Now this group, we're saying you're not, if you're vested you are part of this other group. Now what is this other group, where the origination of this word vested? Contingency, uncertainty, accident, chance, emergency. In accounting, incidental expense. Some of our voters are incidental expense. You know in the questioning; we make this sound so simple. We want to link these things, indefinite future. And one of the students was there, I believe was from Dartmouth, and I asked him what are your plans after graduation? He said I have no idea, no idea. And I said well, let's be a little closer, what's your plan for lunch? He had no idea. Indefinite future doesn't mean anything to me, I'm going to die where I'm from. I'm going to be planted right next to my family. That's where I'm going, that's where I'll be. But when you're twenty years old, life isn't quite as simple. Mister President, this is a bad idea and I hope we vote it down. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator French.)

SENATOR FRENCH: Thank you, Mister President. I quickly rise in support of this bill. I want these students to vote. I want them to vote in our local elections. And I want them to elect or vote for the selectman and the select people that serve us. I want them to vote on local bonding issues. I want them to vote in the state and federal elections if they live here. And if they live here, I want them to get that $50 million that they're overpaying for their tuition as out-of-state residents. So I'll be supporting this. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. We've heard a lot of big words today so let me just go through some of the big words we've heard. "Voter suppression", "roadblocks", "confusion", "discrimination", "stink bomb", "smoke bomb", "cynical", "right-wing trumped-up charges", "attack on democracy", "a charade", "disenfranchisement" and "college students the target". I don't know about you my friend, it's inappropriate, it's wrong, it's divisive and you're better than that. So what are we trying to do here? No one's going to be denied the right to vote. Our friend from Derry or Hampstead, made that very clear. We're aligning ourselves with other states around us, we've made that very clear. We heard the same arguments about voter ID several years ago, that's widely accepted today and lastly, what I don't think has been brought up. The person that I believe has the most respect in this building, somebody that my friend from Manchester and I have nominated to be the secretary of state, says we need this bill. So we have a debate, but let's keep the language appropriate as opposed to some of these big words. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Birdsell.)

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Thank you, Mister President. We've heard a lot and I know people are getting tired and we've got a long day ahead of us but what I want to say is forty-nine states, forty-nine states equate residency with inhabitant with domicile, forty-nine. Twenty of those states actually, where a person, they twenty states, if a person registers to vote, claims domicile in New Hampshire, registers to vote here and votes, they lose their residency in their home state, including Maine, North Carolina, Louisiana. So this is not something that New Hampshire is trying to do, this is something that their home states are starting to care about. So for instance, the Maine student that the good Senator from District 14, she voted in Maine, then she voted in New Hampshire. If Maine had found out that she voted, she would have lost her residency in Maine. A Dartmouth college student voted, claimed domicile, voted in New Hampshire and the town clerk sent the information back to Pennsylvania. He lost his scholarship because it was a geographical based scholarship. So there are implications and the people putting this false narrative out are not being honest and they're not telling these kids that there are actually implications and ramifications if they do register in many states. If they do register here and vote here. And with that I'll end Mister President, and I hope that you can support the committee recommendation of Ought to Pass. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes for a question of Senator Birdsell.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Senator. We heard talk about other states, but New Hampshire's constitution is different than other states and are you familiar with the case Newburger v Petersen? Court found that college students have a constitutional right to vote in New Hampshire, where they live regardless of whether they intend to live in New Hampshire indefinitely. Are you aware of that, and what is your response to that?

SENATOR BIRDSELL: I am aware of that, but their home states are not our constitution. So it's their home state that they have to worry about.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Hennessey.)

SENATOR HENNESSEY: A quick thing to speak. I promise it'll be quick. I just want to say, you know the talk about big words and all, the most insulting thing I have heard today, is when people are asking and questioning our honesty and integrity in fighting this. So I want you to know, saying we're being dishonest is by far the biggest insult I heard today. Thank you.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Senator Giuda, seconded by Senator Avard.

The following Senators voted Yes: Giuda, Bradley, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard, Carson, Reagan, Birdsell, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

Amendment to HB 1254

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing a committee to study the procedures for adoption of national codes by the state of New Hampshire and repealing the joint legislative oversight committee on the emergency management system.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 5 the following and renumbering the original section 6 to read as 7:

6 Repeal. RSA 21-P:51, relative to the joint legislative committee on the emergency management system, is repealed.

2018-1776s

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes a committee to study the procedures for adoption of national codes as part of the state building code and state fire code. The bill also repeals the joint legislative committee on the emergency management system.

SENATOR REAGAN: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1254 Ought to Pass with Amendment. The bill as amended, establishes a committee to study procedures for the adoption of national codes as part of the state building code and state fire code. The study committee will solicit information and testimony from any individual, agency, or organization deemed relevant to the study. In addition, the bill repeals the Joint Legislative Oversight Committee on the Emergency Management System. The ED&A Committee voted favorably, Ought to Pass with Amendment and asks for your support in their recommendation. Thank you, Mr. President.

The Chair ruled sections of the Committee Amendment non-germane.

Without objection, Senate Rule 3-17 is suspended to allow consideration of the non-germane Committee Amendment. Adopted by the necessary 2/3 vote.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

Senator Giuda offered a Floor Amendment.

Floor Amendment to HB 1254

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing a committee to study the procedures for adoption of national codes by the state of New Hampshire; establishing a moratorium on the adoption of changes to the state building code and state fire code; and repealing the joint legislative oversight committee on the emergency management system.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 5 the following and renumbering the original sections 6 and 7 to read as 7 and 8, respectively:

6 State Building Code and State Fire Code; Moratorium on the Adoption of Changes Pending the Legislative Study. Notwithstanding RSA 155-A:10, V, or any other provision of law to the contrary, no amendment to the state building code or state fire code shall be made prior to November 1, 2018, unless legislation is brought forth in either chamber based on the findings and recommendations of the study committee established in sections 1-5 of this act, in which case the moratorium shall continue until such legislation has been enacted or rejected.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Establishes a committee to study the procedures for adoption of national codes as part of the state building code and state fire code.

II. Establishes a moratorium on the adoption of changes to the state building code and state fire code pending the finding of the study committee.

III. Repeals the joint legislative committee on the emergency management system.

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. In that the codes enactment and enforcement process is under question and has caused problems for significant numbers of our businesses and homeowners, this amendment would establish a moratorium on any additional code changes until such time as the study committee is complete and the filing period is done at the end of this year, or if bills are introduced, until such time as those bills are disposed of. And that would be the essence of the amendment, I would ask for your support, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President, and perhaps we'll hear from the chair of the ED&A Committee on this one but let me just mention as a former member of that, I really think that this is a very precipitous move. We are going to establish a committee; we'll look at this. But, if we tie the hands of our fire departments and our building inspectors for the next how long, well what happens? Let's say that a new emergent threat come up does it identified, you know, that there's, we suddenly find that there's some kind of a piece of equipment or we suddenly find there's some chemical, or we suddenly find that there's emergent danger that's what we have the fire codes for and our fire chiefs for is to say wait a minute. And we know there are many examples. What if we have, you know, new instance of kind of mold treatment or what if, you know, just think of the things that can go wrong in a house or materials that we find, think back when there's aluminum wiring, huh? And now we're saying well, we won't let you deal with any emergencies if anything comes up, we're just going to wait until this commission. I think there are legitimate questions to be raised that you're asking about fire codes and building codes but let the commission do its work. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you very much, Mister President. I rise to answer my good colleague from District number 5. There are provisions, emergency provisions in statute so that if there does, there is something that happens, they will be able to adopt the codes. This is I believe in part a reaction to something that happened last year where one of our boards arbitrarily adopted all the code updates without legislative input. There was a bit of going back and forth and back and forth because the attorney for that board felt that they had the authority to do that. So I rise to support this amendment, Mister President. I think that this work will be good, and they will straighten this out and I hope I've answered my friend from District 5. Thank you very much. Oh 4, excuse me.

(The Chair recognized Senator French for a question of Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR FRENCH: This might prevent what happened several years ago possibly and we had to put sprinkler systems in all new single-family construction and then had to fight and change all over it. Is that true?

SENATOR GIUDA: That is true.

SENATOR FRENCH: Great, thank you.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 1310, establishing a committee to study all non-regulatory boards and commissions.
Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 3-1. Senator Reagan for the committee.

SENATOR REAGAN: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1310 Inexpedient to Legislate. This legislation would create a committee to study all non-regulatory boards and commissions to determine which entities are still needed and which may be repealed or amended. A circuit court decision in North Carolina states that regulatory boards consisting of members of the profession which includes almost all of our states, are subject to federal anti-trust law if they do not have independent supervision. Presently, New Hampshire, we provide supervision through our committees and through the rules process. The majority of the committee believes this study is not necessary at the present time, thus the vote of Inexpedient to Legislate. Please join the ED&A Committee in their recommendation. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Inexpedient to Legislate. Adopted.

HB 1327, relative to apprentice electricians.
Ought to Pass with Amendment, Vote 4-0. Senator Gannon for the committee.

Senate Executive Departments and Administration
April 25, 2018
2018-1780s
10/05

Amendment to HB 1327

Amend the bill by replacing sections 2 and 3 with the following:

2 New Section; Supervision of Apprentice Electricians. Amend RSA 319-C by inserting after section 2 the following new section:

319-C:2-a Supervision of Apprentice Electricians.

I. A journeyman electrician may have 2 apprentice electricians under his or her direct supervision beginning on the first anniversary of the journeyman electrician's initial date of licensure.

II. Each journeyman electrician on a work site may have 2 apprentice electricians working under his or her direct supervision, to a maximum of 3 journeyman electricians per work site. Each additional journeyman electrician may have one apprentice electrician under his or her direct supervision.

III. Each master electrician on a work site may have 2 apprentice electricians working under his or her direct supervision, to a maximum of 6 master electricians per work site. Each additional master electrician may have one apprentice electrician under his or her direct supervision.

IV. The maximum number of licensed electricians with 2 apprentice electricians working under their direct supervision on a work site shall not exceed 6.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1327 electrifying and Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill, as amended, will change the number of apprentices that a journeyman electrician can have working under his direct supervision. During the testimony, the committee heard the rising age of electricians in the state is of great concern, and not enough younger people are getting into the trade. Currently, most electricians in the state are shockingly between the ages of 50 and 70, with many beginning to look at retirement. Sounds good to me. This legislation will enable a journeyman to bring additional apprentice electricians into the field under direct supervision. Apprentice electricians require four to five years of training, four years of schooling and one year of on-the-job training. By allowing journeymen and master electricians to both supervise apprentice electricians, more young people will have an opportunity to move forward in this charged field. This legislation will become effective upon its passage. So flip the switch on, the ED&A Committee voted Ought to Pass with Amendment and asks for your support. Thank you, Mr. President.

SENATOR CAVANAUGH: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I voted in favor of the Ought to Pass and I want to ask my colleagues to vote that down. We had a lot of testimony for and against and honestly, I was back and forth with this. You know there was a lot of things going on. This past week I had a lot of conversations with people in the field and it came back to this. I mean I came from this industry and the thing we always broke with with teaching, the way I teach is safety first, safety first. And with that we have the one on one training, on the job training. That's the best way to learn. I know it seems like a small number; you're going from one to two. But with on the job training with one on one training like that you're losing 50 percent of your time training. And that's a safety problem, I think. And I'm not talking residential work. We have our outlets in our homes, that's not what I'm talking here. I'm talking more commercial and industrial jobs where you need that adequate supervision. Where if you make a mistake then, that could be your last mistake. You have to have very good supervision in those situations. Another concern was the reciprocal licensing with Massachusetts. We've tried and we've heard a lot of times during the committee hearing that we had the licensing board member from Massachusetts coming up. I was trying to get some kind of commitment from them that they were okay with this. I haven't been able to. That's concerning to me, because if they stop that reciprocal licensing, our electricians won't be able to work in Massachusetts, and that could be a huge problem. So I looked up what we have in New Hampshire. For New Hampshire residents, there's with out of state licensing, there's 5,008 New Hampshire residents that can work out of state. I don't think they're all working in Massachusetts, but I'd say the majority are. If we lose that reciprocal licensing, that's a problem. I'd like to get some letter or something from that board saying they're okay with this but I haven't been able to. Because of that, it's very much a concern. It could be devastating for these people that are going down there and contractors I've spoken to, that they only bid jobs with their electricians to go down to Mass because it's more money. So, it's a concern and that's why I'm asking to overturn this committee recommendation for Ought to Pass. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Senator Avard, seconded by Senator French.

The following Senators voted Yes: Giuda, Bradley, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard, Carson, Birdsell, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

Roll Call, Yeas: 13 - Nays: 11. Adopted.

Senator Kahn moved to Lay on the Table HB 1327. Failed.

(The Chair recognized Senator Reagan.)

SENATOR REAGAN: Thank you, Mister President. I'd like to bring some scale of concern here, of the 5,008 people who are reciprocally licensed to work in Massachusetts, this is out of a total of a little over 6,000. So this isn't 5,000 out of 50,000, this is 5,000 out of 6,000. So I urge you to defeat this measure before we have thousands of people unable to work or people that we're able to bring into the state because of the reciprocity agreement.

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you very much, Mister President. I'm a little surprised at some of the discussion here today. We did discuss the reciprocity, and we were told that it really was not an issue. I know that the good Senator from District 16 would like to get a letter, but the folks from Massachusetts have been coming up and they've been meeting with the boards here, and we were told that this was not an issue. They're trying to get young people to get into the electrician's field because they know that all of these folks are getting older, and they don't have young people coming up. So I'm just surprised that this has come up. I don't believe that the reciprocity is in danger. If it was, the folks that work in this industry would have told us that it was a big problem. Thank you very much, Mister President.

HB 1472, relative to the state building code provisions for energy conservation in new building construction.
Ought to Pass, Vote 4-0. Senator Cavanaugh for the committee.

SENATOR CAVANAUGH: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1472 Ought to Pass. This bill clarifies the administration of the state building code by repealing the entirety of RSA 155-D, energy conservation in new buildings. This statute was first adopted in 1979. The statewide building code including more modern provisions related to energy efficiency and conversation was subsequently adopted in 2002 and codified in RSA 155-A. This bill transfers the necessary energy code administrative provisions in RSA 155-D to RSA 155-A and will serve to simplify overlapping statutes. The ED&A Committee recommends House Bill 1472 be adopted and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

Recess. Out of recess.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 1530, requiring criminal history records checks for applicants for allied health professional licensure or certification.
Ought to Pass with Amendment, Vote 4-0. Senator Cavanaugh for the committee.

Senate Executive Departments and Administration
April 25, 2018
2018-1778s

Amend RSA 328-F:18-a, I(b) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(b) A criminal history record release form, as provided by the New Hampshire division of state police which authorizes the release of his or her criminal history record, if any, to the office of licensed allied health professionals.

Amend RSA 328-F:18-a, V as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

V. Pending the results of a criminal history record check, an applicant for licensure may be employed in a profession of the allied health field on a conditional basis for up to 90 calendar days before the office of licensed allied health professionals receives the results of a criminal history record check required for licensure, if the conditional employee:

(a) Is under the direct supervision of a licensee;

(b) Has provided a written attestation to the employer and the board that no disqualifying criminal history exists; and

(c) The allied health governing board is not a member of an interstate licensure compact.

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1530 Ought to Pass with Amendment. HB 1530, as amended, intends to give applicants for licensure with the Health Professional Governing Board a choice in having a criminal background check in one of two ways. They could provide an individual criminal background check from every state the applicant has resided, or have, I'm thinking of domicile when I say resided, or have been licensed in for the past six years, or a one-stop shopping for a Federal Bureau of Investigation background check. Today, licensees are mobile and could be licensed in multiple states. The FBI looks at it national, as opposed to the state, which only looks at New Hampshire. For those applicants who are more mobile, the FBI background check may be a better choice. As the bill came out of the House, as amended, the legislation would only have applied to those individuals reinstating their licenses. Changes made here will open up a conditional license while waiting for the background check and will not hold an applicant up from licensure. Questions would still have to be answered on their application as to whether or not they have a criminal history. The ED&A Committee recommends HB 1530 be adopted and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 1545, relative to the statewide interoperability executive committee. Ought to Pass with Amendment, Vote 4-0. Senator Gannon for the committee.

Senate Executive Departments and Administration
April 25, 2018

Amendment to HB 1545

Amend RSA 21-P:48, IV(gg) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(gg) The director of fire standards and training and emergency medical services, or designee.

Amend RSA 21-P:48, IV(ii)-(kk) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing them with the following:

(ii) The commissioner of the department of information technology, or designee.

(jj) The commissioner of the department of corrections, or designee.

(kk) Not more than 2 representatives of private, broadband technology-related businesses, appointed by the executive management group.

(ll) Not more than 2 representatives of the university of New Hampshire broadband technology-related business, appointed by the executive management group of the SIEC.

(mm) Not more than 7 subject matter experts, based on the identified need of the SIEC, appointed by the executive management group.

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you, Mister President. I and the sounds of trumpets that are attached to this bill move the House Bill 1545 Ought to Pass with Amendment and flourishing. This bill, as amended, revised the membership of the Statewide Interoperability Executive Committee known as SIEC, and the committee's Executive Management Group, EMG. It expands the people involved and sets up the EMG with subcommittees to focus on issues they need to deal with, one of which includes funding. SIEC is actively engaged with many successes over the last couple of years, and with the addition of individuals to the committee, it will be more representative of the public safety community, addressing the needs of the radio communications interoperability throughout the state. The ED&A Committee recommends HB 1545 be adopted and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 1603, relative to employee representation on the independent investment committee in the New Hampshire retirement system.
Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 3-1. Senator Reagan for the committee.

SENATOR REAGAN: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1603, Inexpedient to Legislate. This bill would have required one of the members of the Independent Investment Committee of the retirement system to be an active member employee. The Independent Investment Committee was established by statute in January 2009. It is a 5-member committee which manages investments based on the trustees' policies, continuously monitors and evaluates performance, and makes determinations regarding the hiring and retention of fund managers. The committee consists of three public members and two representatives of the Board of Trustees. By law, all Independent Investment Committee members must have substantial experience in the field of institutional investment or finance, taking into account factors such as educational background, business experience, and professional licensure and designations. Data compiled by the retirement system's investment consultants show that over the five, six, seven, and eight years ending June 20, 2009, a time where the Board of Trustees made investment decisions, the total fund performance was outperformed by more than half of all public retirement plans. So the New Hampshire system at that time was in the bottom half of all retirement system investments. The New Hampshire Retirement System's investment performance since the creation of the IIC has been exceptionally strong. For the five, six, seven, and eight years ending June 20, 2017, a period of time where the Independent Investment Committee made the investment decisions, the New Hampshire Retirement System outperformed 90 percent of public plans. In addition, this matter came before the Decennial Retirement Commission and they chose not to make changes at this time. The ED & A committee believe the data speaks for itself, and the evidence shows that Independent Investment Committee is working favorably. Please join the ED&A Committee recommendation of ITL on HB 1603. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Soucy.)

SENATOR SOUCY: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise in opposition to the motion. This legislation does one very simple thing. It adds, not adds but it changes one of the members of a five-member commission. It doesn't do away with the Independent Investment Committee, it merely says that one of those members shall be someone with, what did I hear earlier? Skin in the game. A vested interest. If that's true with respect to voting, it should be true with respect to retirement as well. It would be great to have someone with skin in the game sitting at the table. Let me also mention that currently the statute says, each member of the committee shall have substantial experience in the field of institutional investment or finance other than their experience as a trustee in the system, taking into account factors such as education, background, business experience, professional licensure and designations. That would apply to this member. All this says is that the Governor can appoint from a list provided by several organizations who all have members within the retirement system. This is a very simple change and something that we should all embrace, and I ask my colleagues to vote down this motion so that we can offer an Ought to Pass. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon for a question of Senator Carson.)

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you then for taking my question. Wasn't this done before, weren't there more members on this board and it didn't perform as well and it was, I heard a lot of rumblings that it's before my time, the board didn't function well and wasn't as profitable, with a much bigger, more rambunctious crowd?

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you very much for the question. You are correct. There were problems with the investment board. In fact, one of our former colleagues, the districts have changed but, Senator Harold Janeway came to see me and basically said, please don't add any more members, don't mess around with it because it's working really well. And that was the decision of the Decennial Commission was just leave it alone, it's working. There was one problem that did come up that I have to do a little bit of research on. We were informed that the executive sessions were not open to members of the public, and that's where the decisions are made. And that process should be open to the members of the public. So I have to find out if that's true or not and we'll take it from there. But you are correct in your assumption.

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you, Senator. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Inexpedient to Legislate.

A roll call was requested by Senator Soucy, seconded by Senator Avard.

The following Senators voted Yes: Giuda, Bradley, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard, Carson, Reagan, Birdsell, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: Woodburn, Watters, Hennessey, Kahn, Lasky, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Soucy, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark.

Roll Call, Yeas: 14 - Nays: 10. Adopted.

HB 1805, establishing a committee to study level dollar amortization of retirement system unfunded accrued liability and relative to the retirement system board of trustees.
Ought to Pass, Vote 4-0. Senator Gannon for the committee.

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1805 Ought to Pass. This bill will establish a committee to study the level dollar amortization of retirement system unfunded accrued liability. Presently, the system is based on payments which are percentages of the payroll, rather than a fixed dollar amount. This study is a recommendation of the Decennial Retirement Commission. This bill will also change the terms of retirement system trustees from two to three years. This was a request from the board, noting it takes a while for a new trustee to get up to speed on all matters they deal with. A three-year term is more appropriate for this position. The ED&A Committee voted favorably, Ought to Pass, and asks for your support in their recommendation. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

JUDICIARY
HB 135, relative to the submission of evidence prior to hearings in divorce cases.
Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 3-1. Senator Carson for the committee.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you very much, Mister President. I move House Bill 135 Inexpedient to Legislate. This bill would permit the parties in a divorce case to request a continuance if evidence is not submitted prior to the hearing. The passage of this bill would put an unnecessary restraint on the courts, as these decisions should be left up to the court's rulemaking procedures. It is not the role or responsibility of the legislature to dictate a judge's decision or discretion. Therefore, the majority of the Judiciary Committee asks for your support in the motion of Inexpedient to Legislate on House Bill 135. Thank you very much, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Inexpedient to Legislate. Adopted.

Senator Avard is in opposition to the motion of Inexpedient to Legislate on HB 135.

HB 476, relative to the duties of registers of probate.
Interim Study, Vote 3-1. Senator Carson for the committee.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 476 be Referred to Interim Study. This bill would modify the duties of the registers of probate and the duties of the probate division of the circuit court. It would also require the county delegations to determine the salary and benefits of registrars of probate. The committee did not find any compelling reason to make these changes to the registrars of probate's role. However, by moving this bill to Interim Study, it provides the opportunity for individuals to further examine this issue and answer some outstanding concerns the committee had regarding the setting of the salary and the workspace that would be required for these individuals. Therefore, please support the majority of the Judiciary Committee in the motion of Interim Study on House Bill 476. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gray.)

SENATOR GRAY: Thank you, Mister President. I would ask the Senate to vote down the committee recommendation so that an alternate motion can be made. In speaking of this, the committee said that they need to study this more. This bill or its grandparent was House Bill 1513, introduced in 2016. That was sent to a study committee, the study committee recommended further legislation, 11-0. And the new bill, House Bill 476 was introduced in 2017. It was sent to Judiciary for study, came out of Judiciary as Ought to Pass, 11-6, voted on the House 198-145, than sent to Finance, where Finance studied the bill and came out with a recommendation Ought to Pass as Amended 23-1 and then that bill was voted on the House floor with a voice vote. I want to go to the testimony, the written testimony from Judge Kelly. Page 2 of that testimony has the following paragraph:

> Having said all that, as I said at the outset, we have worked hard with the opponents of this bill both to understand their concerns and to do our best despite our strong opposition, to craft compromises and correct what we saw to be deficiencies. What you have in front of you is the product of that work. Without waiving our opposition to the bill, we have offered several amendments and with your indulgence, Madam Chair, I would specifically articulate our position on those key points.

So again, I was quoting from Judge Kelly in the testimony. So Mister President, we took Judge Kelly's amendments, took them down to legislative services and said include them all. Include every one of his desires in that bill. And that is how you see 1663 in front of you now. There is one change in there, besides that, and that has to do with the printing of these notices in the newspaper or in the legislative website.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Senator, 1663 is not before us right now. Just so you know.

SENATOR GRAY: I would ask everyone so that I might speak to 1663, the current motion so that 1663 can be presented.

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President, and please bear with me because I've got a lot here. We're all going to go in that old way back machine, if any of you listen to some of the radio you might recognize that term. We're going to go back to 2011, when in front of the Senate Judiciary Committee we had House Bill 609. And 609 was the product of a commission that was put together and started by John Broderick, Chief Justice Broderick and then continued by Chief Justice Dalianis, that basically was an innovation commission. And it was put together of judges, businesspeople, legislators, lawyers and people from outside the system, in order to modernize our court system. And in that testimony, Judge Kelly said the charge of the commission was essentially to deconstruct the court system as we have it today and then reconstruct it using twenty-first century business models, best practices, whatever efficiencies we could find and the use of technology. Now if we were to go forward, excuse me at that same time, Chief Justice Dalianis, in speaking about the registrars of probate, because there were questions about what's going to happen to these people. And Chief Justice said we changed the definition of the duties of registers of probate in a way to, how to say it, make the system more rational. Because at this point elected registers are sort of court employees and not sort of court employees, and some of them didn't pay much attention to the way that we needed or wanted business to be done. And it seemed to us to make more sense to have the people managing those courts, be people who are accountable to us, the courts. And for that reason, the duties of the registrars were pared back to essentially nothing. Because if they don't do it, we do it anyway. Now again, going back to Judge Kelly's testimony at that time. Hold on, I just need to find it. It says in speaking about the register of the probate, that constitutional amendment concerning the registrars of probate was put into effect in 1877, so it wasn't all the way back to the eighteenth century, and it hadn't changed. The duties, nothing had changed during that time period. And he said, if you look at the secretary of state's website and they've served as the clerks of the court for probate court since then, meaning the registrars of probate. It's not a good system. I can tell you having been a judge in the system for twenty-one years, and an administrative judge for four years, that having elected officials serving as your managers, is bad for two reasons.

The first reason is that some of them tend to act independently, which means I'm not going to fill out leave slips, I'm not going to be accountable for my time. You tell me to use this form, well I don't like this form and I'm not going to use it. So it's hard to develop consistency among the ten courts which has been a problem. The second and equally significant problem is that they have to run for reelection every two years and while we've had some fantastic registrars that are subjected to being voted out of office, and especially that the average voter doesn't know what the registrar of probate actually does. We have had registrars of probate sign up to run saying, you know, I'm running because I have a nephew who was on probation once, and I want to run for registrar of probate. So we've had candidates who really don't understand what that job is. Essentially it says that the registrar of probate will be a registrar, and this is speaking to the changes that were eventually passed. We cannot have our mangers elected. If you were running a business, you wouldn't say the best way to pick the manager of that business is to have an election, and the people elected them. It just doesn't work. The position has changed, and they've met with the registrars over the summer and they explained what they were doing, and they ended up hiring most of the current registrars into these new clerks of the court position. Now, what's happened since then? Well, there has been significant cost savings, and it is working well. As you can imagine, we had a system that dated back to 1877, and changing that, you were going to have a difficult time period. And they did go through a difficult time period where things were delayed. But according to the testimony that we received, that is no longer the issue, especially since they've moved to e-Court. They're claiming two weeks is the most that it takes. There are kiosks in every courthouse, and individuals are there to assist people that come in and need the help.

Commissioner Arlinghaus is in opposition to the funding scheme that is within the bill. The courts do not intend to use state dollars to provide the laptops and the computers to the registrar of probates. So, the bill tells the court that they are going to have to provide the equipment for the registrar of probates including laptops and computers. The court does not have the time and the staff to take someone with no background and train them the way they would train their own staff. They said they would allow them to attend ongoing training. The courts cannot allow registrars in the clerk's offices. We also heard from the registrar of deeds in Rockingham County. She doesn't want them in her office, because one of the proposals was to put them within the registrar of deeds' office. There's also the unresolved issue of rulemaking. The court created a series of court rules that now would be out of date or negated if we were to pass this. They'll have to go through court rulemaking again to reflect those changes. Not all counties support this. I think that's important. Coos County testified that they don't want to do this, and Rockingham County contacted me and said the same thing, that they're not interested in doing this. I have questions, whether or not this is really downshifting, because what we're saying is the counties have to set the salaries. Well in 1984, the state took that over and the state set the salaries. Does anybody know what the salary per year of a registrar of probate was in the state of New Hampshire? I'm sure, Senator you do. But anywhere between 50,000 to $70,000 per year, depending upon their experience. Who wants to go home and tell their constituents they raised county taxes to pay for this? It is downshifting costs. We have had over a million dollars in efficiencies. And we will receive another $345,000 by 2019. I can't go home to my constituents and tell them well, we're just going to, the money that we've saved is just throwing it out the window because now we have to go back to the way we used to do it. For, Mister President, no good reason that was articulated in the public hearing. We've also, the courts have also seen $13 million in revenue which has been used to renovate our courthouses across the state. They haven't come to Finance and asked for money. They're spending the money that they have received from these fees to renovate the courthouse.

Mister President, there's a lot of other reasons, and again I think the most important one was we did not hear a reason why we have to go back to the old way of doing things. It's working. We did have testimony, one of the Representatives had told us, we'll wait ten years then you can go back to doing it the way that you're doing it now. Why would we do that? Why do we have to keep spending the money? Why do we have to keep putting the money in change and innovation and making these things more modern? And then have to turn around and roll it all back. Because there's a perception or because in the beginning, Mister President, people had difficulty getting things through the probate. That is not the case today Mister President. It's working, it's working well, and I would ask the committee, because of the problems that I articulated, that we put it into Interim Study and allow the folks that really want to do this to come up with answers. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in strong support of this bill. We'll talk about money and we'll talk about efficiencies. At the end of the day, we struck down an attempt to change the constitution, okay? You may reconstruct the course, but you may not reconstruct the constitution and the rights that are guaranteed to the elderly or those who have estates to be settled. This position was put in that constitution for a very good reason and that was to provide commoners the ability to oversee a court that could perpetrate significant mischief in the settlement of estates. The court appoints the administrators, the court appoints the lawyers to oversee, the court then judges, there's potential for mischief. Money is not an issue here. It's the purity of the process and the right of an ordinary person, not to have to contend with dealing with the clerk of the court or a judge but having an advocate, that'll help them through a process at a trying time in their life. And so the court doesn't like this. There's a good reason, it's the same reason they don't like jury nullification, so they don't issue instructions on it. It puts the power in the hands of the people it was intended to be in, the common citizens, the ordinary people of our state. The juries in this case are representative of a person in a very critical financial transaction which mischief can, and in the past has been perpetrated. So for that reason I would ask you to support the Committee Amendment and let's keep the process in the hands of the people not the courts. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gray.)

SENATOR GRAY: Thank you, Mister President. To try and go through some of the points from, brought up by the good Senator from District 14. Court employees and Judge King at the time there was a ongoing battle that was covered in the newspapers between one of the registrars of probate and Judge King at the time. And certainly, we took that into consideration in drafting this bill. Is that it did not work when the court was not in charge of those people. And I meant it, I mean that's a problem and so we did something about it. And we'll talk more about that in a minute. Elected managers. Right now, in the bill, if you go in and look, then the registrar of probate and the duties that are described in the bill don't manage that. They oversee what's going on in the probate court and try to assist in resolving any issues that come up. So there is no responsibility from the courts to the registrar of probate or of it. Cost savings. Cost savings is interesting. Who's saving the money? I know that when my mother passed away, that I had to pay more months of rent while we adjudicated some of the things that were going through the probate court. I couldn't do anything with her possessions in her house and I had to maintain them according to what I was told. I had to pay that rent. In fact, when I tried to cancel her cable subscription, I had to show up at their office with a death certificate saying, hey, you know, come on. So there are expenses when the process is delayed, and part of that delay is that if I send in the form and I get it back and say well, gee, you didn't fill this out. And then I turn it in and I get it back and they say well, gee you should say this different. The constitution has an interesting thing about the convenience of the people and it's Article 80 Part 2. And I'll let you read the whole thing but it's talking about the judges of the probate court shall hold their court at such place or places on such fixed days as the convenience of the people may require. And the legislature from time to time support. We made changes back in 2011, no doubt about it. Were those the right changes, were they right for the people? Does an individual whose mother, father is in a nursing home, have to pay for that nursing home for additional months because they don't have any executor assigned? Is that two weeks that the Judge Kelly talked about, from the time we've gotten all the information into the computer, or is it from the time they started? There's a lot of things going on there. Funding. We talked about that the certain individuals don't like the funding situation. That is addressed in Judge Kelly's request for changes. Training ongoing. I'm willing to accept that. I've got no problem with that. Rules. How do the rules change when all I'm doing is having someone oversee and help an individual when they come in? In fact, it should make it easier for the folks, not harder.

Coos County, Rockingham County. The bill has provisions in it that make it optional. If the county convention does not go and invoke the salary for these individuals, the money stays in the court, the court doesn't have to pay it. Hmm. Raise taxes. Well, the Kelly delegation, the way it is, if we look at the amount of money that they get, and one of the things that has been brought up is that Coos County would only get $4,265, but remember that they have the lowest number of cases filed also. That may be, you know, four hours a week. But it may be the four hours that are convenient to the person who's trying to file that case. Other courts would receive 27,000, 33,000, 8,900, 12,000 various things. But at no time does that county convention have to provide a salary other than what they choose to provide. And based on those estimates, that should be fine. So raising taxes that would be up to the county convention. No good reason. We talked about the convenience. We talked about the money that you save. It is interesting that when I went and looked at the website, the website that it leads you to has thirty different bullet points on there for you to click on when you're trying to file. Thirty different points. And when you go to the video, which isn't one of those thirty, where Judge King is providing guidance, thirty-seven seconds into there before he has described any of the assistance that you can get to fill this out without hiring an attorney. He says you may want to hire an attorney; you can do that by contacting the bar. Okay, well, interesting. Ten years. Well, certainly Representative from House Finance that said that, said that we need something right now. We, you know, there ought to be some help that these people can get and take advantage of. I can tell you, and this system has been equated to TurboTax, I can tell you that in the city of Rochester and Farmington, there are 720 people who go to the library or go to the Holy Rosary Credit Union in Farmington to have their taxes done, not because it isn't free, but because they want assistance, they want somebody to help. Others have said it's easy to do the system. How many times have you gotten trained on a computer program and when the person sitting next to you and says click here, click here, click here and it's a snap. But as soon as they walk away, oh jeez, they come back oh, you didn't touch this menu, you have to go there to get that, you have to go over here to get that. That's what's happening. And if you want to make an appointment according to the Judge King's testimony, excuse me, Judge Kelly's testimony, Concord. You've got to go to Concord. We've taken, we had fifty-two people when we did this in 2011, of those fifty-two people, ten of those were the registrars of probate. We're down to eighteen right now.

His testimony also talks about reducing eight I believe and then seven, it looks like from the call center. Again, we are making the court very efficient, very cost effective, again I admit it, but at what cost? It's at the cost of that person who has just lost a loved one and is supposed to file this thing within thirty days and they get a choice of whether to do it or go hire an attorney. You, you twenty-four people, twenty-three people, because I have to exclude myself if I do, right? Voted the constitutional amendment down 6-17. Okay, so what are you going to do with that position? Are you just going to just still have it out there? What are you going to do with it? Should do something with it, either give it some duties or ask the court to do something. Again, there is a purpose for this. The court and the reason I believe that the registrar of probate was set up in the first place and that there's a specific provision in the constitution that says that the courts can appoint their courts, probate excepted is because they want someone independent overseeing the courts. Let's give them that. Let's vote down the committee recommendation so that we can submit an alternate motion. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you very much for allowing me to speak again, Mister President. There's a couple things that I would like to discuss. I mentioned that there were kiosks. These kiosks are located, there's one in every court in the state of New Hampshire. They are staffed by court members and in the bigger, in the cities, there's more than one person that's in that kiosk to provide assistance to anybody who comes in and who needs it. So it's not like someone's sitting in front of a computer trying to figure out how to do this. There are people available to help individuals get through the process, okay? There was comments made about well, the constitutional amendment. You're right. It failed. But there are duties that have been assigned to the registrar of probate and that is in keeping historical records and I think that that is something that the Interim Study can take a look at because I do think that it needs direction and I do think that it needs to be defined. So I do think that there's something to do there. But again, their job is to keep the historical records. Now my good friend from District 6 talked about the fight, the court fight. And you're right, there was a court fight. But the court fight was overpay. Because the changes in 2011 were rolled into the budget and as you know, the budget tends to take effect right away. So you had registrars of probate that were about, you know, almost halfway through their terms and all of a sudden they found their pay drop as the registrar of probate in Rockingham County, who led the lawsuit, from over $70,000 a year to $100 a year. I think anybody would sue over that issue, and they won, and they got their salaries for the two years.

Now we've talked a little bit about the people who get elected to protect the people. And again, I want to refer you to the testimony we had in the public hearing. We had testimony that there was a person who was elected from a nursing home and never went to work. We had a young man in college whose friends as a joke wrote him in as the registrar of probate up in Grafton County. How is that helping the people? And I had also talked about the other testimony that we had gotten that somebody ran because their nephew was on probation and they thought they could do something about it by being the registrar of probate. The court has taken this over to provide consistency. We did not have one member of the public, we had legislators come in and talk about this, but not one member of the public come in and say that they were harmed. Not one. So again, I ask you why, why do we have to go back to the old way of doing things? Because it makes some people feel comfortable because they don't understand the process. There are people there to help them through the process. It's a difficult time for people when you lose a loved one and now you've got the responsibility of probating their estate. It is serious and it needs to be taken seriously and some people do need to have attorneys. But what do you do if we go back to the old way of doing things, and you go down to get this done and the registrar of probate isn't there? It's not a day that they work. They only work a few days a week. And what if they don't show up at all? The court's going to do it anyway. Mister President, I see no good reason to go back to the old way of doing things. It's working, it's efficient, it's doing what they told us they wanted to do. I am not someone who sees the courts as corrupt and they're stealing little old ladies' estates. We did not hear testimony from anyone saying that their estates were tampered with. None. And I would like to think that our judges and the people that work for our court systems are held to the highest ideals, and they do do their jobs and they do them very, very, very well. This is an outdated position. Let's keep them as the keepers of ancient records and historical records, but the court has done a very good job of taking this over. And so, Mister President, I would ask this body to support the committee decision of Interim Study. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you. Mister President, I rise in support of my colleague, Senator Gray and I say this. I was around when the probate situation evolved. I know what happened when there was action taken by the court to get rid of the probate and make $100 as a salary. But let me tell you this, until you've been an executor of an estate, you don't know what it is to go through the process. We only have one probate judge left. One left, where we had ten at one time. He's a terrific judge I think he does a great job but there's only one, there's only one left. I have received a number of calls from people whose estates or estates of family are in the process and it's taking a long period of time to get things done. I think the way this was put together originally was not, it just wasn't a good situation. I think it deserves looking at and looking over. I think the Senator has worked diligently to try to put this together. I hope we would support him in his desire to make the situation better. Thank you, Mister President.

Senator Sanborn moved to call the question. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Interim Study.

A roll call was requested by Senator Avard, seconded by Senator French.

The following Senators voted Yes: Woodburn, Watters, Hennessey, Ward, Kahn, Daniels, Lasky, Carson, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Fuller Clark, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: Giuda, Gray, French, Sanborn, Avard, Reagan, Soucy, Birdsell, D'Allesandro.

The following Senators filed a Declaration of Intent: Bradley.

Roll Call, Yeas: 14 - Nays: 9. Adopted.

HB 1295, relative to persons held in civil contempt.
Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 3-1. Senator Carson for the committee.

SENATOR CARSON: Sorry, Mister President. Thank you, Mr. President. I move House Bill 1295 Inexpedient to Legislate. This bill would declare that no person shall be incarcerated for civil contempt without there being a finding that the person has liquid assets to satisfy the contempt penalty. The majority of the committee determined that policies such as these should not be determined by the legislature, but rather should remain in the court's purview of rulemaking. Therefore, please support the majority of the Judiciary Committee in the motion of Inexpedient to Legislate on House Bill 1295. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Inexpedient to Legislate. Adopted.

HB 1319, prohibiting discrimination based on gender identity. Interim Study, Vote 3-2. Senator French for the committee.

Senator Bradley presiding.

SENATOR FRENCH: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1319 be referred to Interim Study. This bill would prohibit discrimination based on gender identity and define gender identity. Although no one within this body believes in discrimination, there are many unanswered questions within this bill. Beyond whether or not this type of discrimination is already covered under the classification of sex, there are also many questions regarding the language within the definition itself. Specifically, there is concern regarding the language surrounding medical records, whether or not transgender individuals would be stripped of their privacy rights and forced to turn over their medical records. All of these questions need more time and study to determine the best path forward in the New Hampshire way. Therefore, please support the majority of the Judiciary Committee in the motion of Interim Study on House Bill 1319. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Innis.)

SENATOR INNIS: Thank you, Mister President. This bill is two words, gender identity. That's it. Two words. And that's really what we're going to fight about for a little while. Those two words affect 4,500 people in our state. You may not know any of them. I only met the first transgender person that I ever met in the last year. I don't understand. I'll admit that. Just as many of you don't understand me. But that's not what we're asking for in this particular bill. We want everyone in our state to have the opportunity to live free or die. We believe that hard working Granite Staters should be treated fairly and equally under the law, that's why we're here. House Bill 1319 simply updates our existing non-discrimination laws which protect people from discrimination at work, in housing and in places open to the public. And it will also affect transgender people. New Hampshire is the only state in New England, the only state in New England that does not have this protection in place. Over thirty years ago Minneapolis was the first city to do it. Since then, eighteen states and two-hundred additional municipalities have adopted the same measures. These laws are necessary because of the pervasive discrimination that transgender people face at work, at home and in public. I'm not transgender, but ten, twenty years ago, I experienced these discriminations. They're painful and it's not what we're about as citizens of New Hampshire. Our state is at its strongest when we're free to work hard, earn a decent living, go about our lives without fear of discrimination. That's what this bill is about. We've updated our state's laws over the decades to ensure that people don't face discrimination simply because of their gender, their age, their race or their sexual orientation. Gender's there. We want to add gender identity. This isn't hard. We need to do the same for our transgender constituents. It's common sense legislation, ensures they're treated fairly with dignity and can live their lives freely, just like the rest of us.

Eighty-two percent of Fortune 500 companies have non-discrimination policies that explicitly protect transgender people. Four out of five. You could make a commercial for toothpaste with that. Businesses, it's that pervasive. Businesses know that treating transgendered employees with dignity and respect is not only the right thing to do, it's good for the bottom line. Pretty smart people. That's why leading business voices like the New Hampshire Business and Industry Association, Eastern Bank, Harvard Pilgrim are calling for this bill's passage. In the eighteen states and two-hundred towns that have these protections, we've seen no increase in frivolous lawsuits or concerns from employers. The legislature has an opportunity today to make it crystal clear that all businesses are expected to treat their employees fairly and the current case law and federal regulations provide protection to transgender people, just as they do to the rest of us. Under House Bill 1319, to allay a couple of fears, a man absolutely cannot pretend to be transgendered in order to enter a women's bathroom to harm or harass anyone. Not only is that already illegal under existing law, it'll be considered improper purpose, which is prohibited by language in 1319. The reality of discrimination against transgender people isn't up for debate, and a vote to remove accommodations from House Bill 1319 to vote to intentionally allow discrimination to continue in New Hampshire, doesn't make sense. It would be unspeakably shameful to make the same mistake that North Carolina made just a few years ago. Discrimination is wrong, and we know that anti-transgender discrimination leads to irreparable economic and personal damage. Final statement. I'm supported by New Hampshire's anti-discrimination law right now. It wasn't the case some years ago, but I am now. Am I better than the transgender people, here? No. I'm not, absolutely not. So let's give them the same protections that I enjoy and that the rest of us enjoy. It's the right thing to do and I urge you, please overturn ITL, or Interim Study rather, so we can offer an Ought to Pass motion. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon.)

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you, Mister Chair. Mister President, Pro Temp President. I want everyone to have basic human rights. I think every Senator in this room wants the transgenders to have an equal rights. I spoke with many of these same people during our seven-hour hearing and they heard at my house, my daughter, one of her two best friends is a little boy who looks female, dresses female, and she is as welcome as anyone else in the neighborhood in my house. During that testimony, we heard terrible stories of housing discrimination, employment discrimination, even the denial of services in restaurants. It was disgusting, it was terrible to hear, and I apologize to all those people who went through those injustices. I offered to write an amendment giving this group a protected class status, in all but public accommodations. They, their lobbyist and Senators on the other side have turned me down and I understand they want full rights. But there's another problem here. There's another group. I believe that other people also have an interest here, a privacy right that this bill is going to infringe on the privacy of others. This bill would remove the privacy rights of my three young daughters in their locker room, it would remove it from my wife at her gym, and my ninety-one-year-old mother when she goes to a restaurant with over twenty-five people. It puts the rights of one group over that of another. It negates my right as a father to protect my daughter's privacy or her innocence at school. Adding gender identity as a protected class negates the protection for privacy afforded to girls and boys at UNH. A female seventeen-year-old freshman would no longer be assured that a roommate is of the same biological sex. There's other problems. Boys would now be allowed to play on girls' sports teams, transgenders would, and they'd be competing for scholarships that are set aside for female athletes like my daughters, hurting the women's movement. I do not believe that it's in the best interest. Again, I supported everything except the accommodations. I don't think my daughters in their locker room, my wife at her gym should have to disrobe in the presence of people who are biologically and technically the opposite sex. I don't think that's where New Hampshire's ready to go at this time. And so I support the ITL. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Interim Study.

A roll call was requested by Senator Lasky, seconded by Senator Avard.

The following Senators voted Yes: Giuda, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard, Carson, Birdsell, Morse, Gannon.

The following Senators voted No: Woodburn, Watters, Hennessey, Kahn, Lasky, Feltes, Reagan, Soucy, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark, Innis, Bradley.

The following Senators were excused: Cavanaugh.

Roll Call, Yeas: 11 - Nays: 12. Failed.

Senator Cavanaugh is in opposition to the motion of Interim Study on HB 1319.

Senator Reagan moved Ought to Pass.

(The Chair recognized Senator Reagan.)

SENATOR REAGAN: So I worked and lived in Baltimore, Maryland, a city that was 50 percent white and 50 percent black. And a particularly hilarious statement you could make in a mostly mixed-race fire station was to say yeah, I have a lot of friends that are black. And this is the kind of statement we hear, that yes, I'm all for equal protection for people, because I like a lot of them, but not that much. So a legitimate function of government, and probably the only legitimate function of government, is to provide protection. That's why we ever all got together in the first place, was to provide for mutual protection. So it's legitimate for the government to hire police, set up courts, build prisons, to guarantee the safety of the citizens in whatever grouping we happen to be in. So if we're not willing to, without sly suggestions, support anti-discrimination on anybody for whatever reason, then we don't guarantee it to anybody, because if we don't do it this time, what do we do six months from now, what do we do next year? Who falls out of our protection, who do we then like and put in our protection? So it's either we don't discriminate or we sort of don't discriminate, but we really do. So I urge my colleagues to support the Ought to Pass motion.

PRESIDING OFFICER SENATOR BRADLEY: Before we get to that, as a matter of personal privilege I want to apologize to our friend Senator Cavanaugh. I did not see that he was out of the room when the roll call was called. My fault, my apologies.

(The Chair recognized Senator Lasky.)

SENATOR LASKY: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to urge this body to vote Ought to Pass on House Bill 1319. House Bill 1319 is a commonsense New Hampshire bill. It would assure transgender people are protected from discrimination in employment, access to housing, in public spaces such as restaurants, shops and government buildings. This legislation ensures transgender people are treated fairly and with dignity under our laws, so that just like every other Granite Stater, they have the freedom to live their lives fully. I call this a New Hampshire bill because we Granite Staters have always valued freedom and opportunity for all our citizens. House Bill 1319 simply updates our laws so that our transgender neighbors, friends and loved ones have the same protections under the law that the rest of us enjoy. We have updated our laws over the past decades to ensure people don't face discrimination, simply because of their gender, their age, their race or their sexual orientation. It's time now to do the same for our transgender neighbors. The Senate Judiciary Committee heard over six hours of testimony from transgender people and others talking about how the very real discrimination they have faced. They've been denied housing, been fired from jobs, asked to leave restaurants and other public places, simply because of who they are. And then adding insult to injury, lawyers with experience in this field have testified consistently that they can't help them because the statute is not clear. House Bill 1319 gives clarity. As our colleague from District 24 has stated, we trust the experts, the Chiefs of Police Association, the Women's Foundation all have endorsed House Bill 1319 because they know it will not put anyone in harm's way. Prohibiting discrimination does not weaken laws against assault, nor compromise their enforcement. The New Hampshire Business and Industry Association voted unanimously to support 1319 saying inclusion will make New Hampshire's economy more competitive. Other groups, Harvard Pilgrim, the Children's Caucus, the Children's Behavioral Heath Collaborative and the New Hampshire Human Rights Commission have all endorsed the passage of House Bill 1319. House Bill 1319 is opposite from what you've heard, will make us all safer. The truth is we all value privacy and safety in restrooms. Including our transgender friends. And it's already as stated before but it needs to be repeated, illegal to commit a crime in a restroom. Laws related to discrimination will not change that. House Bill 1319 will not increase or allow loopholes for criminals. It's been proven in over eighteen states and over two-hundred towns that have these laws in place, that there has been no uptick in safety concerns whatsoever. It is a non-issue.

There are thousands of transgender people living and working in our communities among us every day, but despite growing public awareness and public support for them, they still face a disproportionate rate of discrimination, harassment and violence in their lives. Once again, it is time now. There is no reason to continue to study this. It's time to make New Hampshire truly the Live Free or Die state, where we are all free to work hard, earn a decent living, love who we choose and raise our families accordingly. House Bill 1319 gives all of our citizens the right to simply live their lives without fear of discrimination because of who they truly are. Please don't leave here today denying, continuing to deny, a segment of our population, the rights each and every one of us enjoy. Just because we may not understand or relate to who they truly are. They are us. The bottom line is, they are us and I am proud to stand here and ask you to join me in voting Ought to Pass on House Bill 1319. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Daniels for a question of Senator Lasky.)

SENATOR DANIELS: Throughout the legislation, wherever it's mentioned is age, sex, race, creed, color, marital status, physical mental disability, so forth and so on, we're adding in gender identity. On line 5 and line 7 on page 5 of the legislation, you do not add that in and I'm curious as to why you can discriminate in those areas but not in all the others?

SENATOR LASKY: I don't have the bill, I'm sorry, I don't have the–

SENATOR DANIELS: Starting on line 5.

SENATOR LASKY: I can't answer that.

SENATOR DANIELS: If we're going to pass that, don't you think that that ought to be fixed?

SENATOR LASKY: I don't necessarily need it. It is my understanding it has been looked at and gone through with various lawyers and whatever and perhaps in those two lines it doesn't need to be referred to in that way.

SENATOR DANIELS: Thank you, Mister President.

A roll call was requested by Senator Feltes, seconded by Senator D'Allesandro.

The following Senators voted Yes: Woodburn, Watters, Hennessey, Gray, Kahn, Lasky, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Reagan, Soucy, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark, Innis, Bradley.

Amend RSA 91-A:2, II as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

II. Subject to the provisions of RSA 91-A:3, all meetings, whether held in person, by means of telephone or electronic communication, or in any other manner, shall be open to the public. Except for town meetings, school district meetings, and elections, no vote while in open session may be taken by secret ballot. Any person shall be permitted to use recording devices, including, but not limited to, tape recorders, cameras, and videotape equipment, at such meetings. Minutes of all such meetings, including nonpublic sessions, shall include the names of members, persons appearing before the public bodies, and a brief description of the subject matter discussed and final decisions. The names of the members who made or seconded each motion shall be recorded in the minutes. Subject to the provisions of RSA 91-A:3, minutes shall be promptly recorded and open to public inspection not more than 5 business days after the meeting, except as provided in RSA 91-A:6, and shall be treated as permanent records of any public body, or any subordinate body thereof, without exception. Except in an emergency or when there is a meeting of a legislative committee, a notice of the time and place of each such meeting, including a nonpublic session, shall be posted in 2 appropriate places one of which may be the public body's Internet website, if such exists, or shall be printed in a newspaper of general circulation in the city or town at least 24 hours, excluding Sundays and legal holidays, prior to such meetings. An emergency shall mean a situation where immediate undelayed action is deemed to be imperative by the chairman or presiding officer of the public body, who shall post a notice of the time and place of such meeting as soon as practicable, and shall employ whatever further means are reasonably available to inform the public that a meeting is to be held. The minutes of the meeting shall clearly spell out the need for the emergency meeting. When a meeting of a legislative committee is held, publication made pursuant to the rules of the house of representatives or the senate, whichever rules are appropriate, shall be sufficient notice. If the charter of any city or town or guidelines or rules of order of any public body require a broader public access to official meetings and records than herein described, such charter provisions or guidelines or rules of order shall take precedence over the requirements of this chapter. For the purposes of this paragraph, a business day means the hours of 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday through Friday, excluding national and state holidays.

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1347 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill will require that the names of individuals who made and seconded a motion during deliberations under the right-to-know law will be recorded in the minutes. By including this information as a part of the minutes, there will be increased transparency for the public, without adding too high a burden to the job of the clerk. Therefore, please support the majority of the Judiciary Committee in the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment on House Bill 1347. Thank you, Mister President.

HB 1372, prohibiting the implanting of subcutaneous identification devices in individuals.
Ought to Pass with Amendment, Vote 4-1. Senator French for the committee.

Senate Judiciary
April 24, 2018
08/10

Amend RSA 644:22, I(g) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(g) "Subcutaneous" means existing or introduced under the skin. For purposes of this section, subcutaneous shall not include information temporarily attached to the skin by means of an adhesive strip or bracelet upon which or within which personal information is maintained or stored.

SENATOR FRENCH: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1372 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill will prohibit the implanting of subcutaneous identification devices in individuals. As technology continues to advance, our laws need to keep pace in order to ensure that an individual's privacies and rights are protected. By adopting this bill, we will enshrine in our statutes that an individual cannot be compelled or required to get a microchip if that individual does not want one. This will apply in the public and private sectors, with the exemption for incarcerated individuals. Although this concept may seem years off from today, it is essential to have these laws in place now as technology changes every single day. The committee did amend the bill to clarify the definition of "subcutaneous" and to ensure that the use of hospital or nursing home bracelets would not unintentionally fall under this. Therefore, please support the majority of the Judiciary Committee in the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment on House Bill 1372. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

HB 1443, relative to a jury's determination as to the applicability of a law. Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 4-1. Senator Lasky for the committee.

SENATOR LASKY: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1443 Inexpedient to Legislate. This bill would require the court to instruct jurors in every case that the jury determines the applicability of the law to the facts of the case. A jury is meant to decide whether the state has proven its case beyond a reasonable doubt based on the laws that the legislature passes. However, by enacting this legislation, the prosecutor would be required to prove in every case that a law is just and reasonable. Current statute already allows for a nullification defense if the defendant asks for the instruction to be given, and a judge can give further instruction at their discretion. Ultimately, passing this bill would create a nullification defense in every case, rather than only in the rare cases, making the jury judge the validity of all laws. Therefore, please join the majority of the Judiciary Committee in the motion of Inexpedient to Legislate on House Bill 1443. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Inexpedient to Legislate.

A roll call was requested by Senator Giuda, seconded by Senator Sanborn.

The following Senators voted Yes: Woodburn, Bradley, Watters, Hennessey, Gray, Ward, Kahn, Lasky, Carson, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Reagan, Soucy, Birdsell, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: Giuda, French, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard.

HB 1627-FN, prohibiting the transmission of images or sounds of another person who is on private property or to conduct surveillance activity. Interim Study, Vote 2-1. Senator Carson for the committee.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1627-FN be Interim Studied. This bill would establish penalties for transmitting images or sounds of an individual on private property without consent, or to engage in surveillance of another without consent, and amends one of the criteria used to establish "course of conduct" under the stalking statute. Although privacy within one's home and property is a paramount aspect of life in New Hampshire, the language within this bill needs more examination to ensure that it is appropriately crafted to avoid unintended consequences and captures all of the relevant, ever-advancing technology possible. Therefore, the majority of the Judiciary Committee asks for your support in the motion of Interim Study on House Bill 1627-FN. Thank you, Mister President.

PUBLIC AND MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS
HB 1307, relative to the presentation of a default budget.
Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 5-0. Senator Birdsell for the committee.

Recess. Out of recess.

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1307 Inexpedient to Legislate. This bill would require the presentation of the default budget at the deliberative session to include individual line items. The committee was concerned with the amount of detail being provided and the impact it would have on longer term contracts. In addition, Senate Bill 342 was already passed by the Senate and deals with this issue in a less burdensome way and with more clarity. I ask that you please support the committee recommendation of Inexpedient to Legislate. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gray.)

SENATOR GRAY: Yes, I ask you to overturn the committee's recommendation. After the passage of the House Bill, I met with the House staff and they made two small changes that will be submitted as an amendment if you overturn the recommendation of the committee.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Inexpedient to Legislate.

Amendment to HB 1307

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the first session of annual meetings.

Amend RSA 40:13, IV as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

IV. The first session of the meeting, governed by the provisions of RSA 40:4, 40:4-a, 40:4-b, 40:4-f, and 40:6-40:10, shall consist of explanation, discussion, and debate of each warrant article, including warrant articles pertaining to the operating budget and the default budget. A vote to restrict reconsideration shall be deemed to prohibit any further action on the restricted article until the second session, and RSA 40:10, II shall not apply. Warrant articles may be amended at the first session, subject to the following limitations:

Amend RSA 40:13, IX(c) as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(c) "Contracts" as used in this subdivision means contracts previously approved, in the amount so approved, by the legislative body in either the operating budget authorized for the previous year or in a separate warrant article for a previous year.

Amend the bill by replacing section 3 with the following:

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

This bill requires explanation and debate of warrant articles pertaining to the operating budget and default budget at the deliberative session.

SENATOR GRAY: The amendment said, again, the inconsistency down on line 17, the third to the last word in that sentence in the amendment is "a" and in the previous version it was the word "the." That is because certain articles could get passed in a prior year and not pass in the prior year and so that that was the other change in that is line 9 including warrant articles pertaining to the operating budget and default budget. I would ask you to support the amendment.

The question is on the adoption of Floor Amendment 1691. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

PRESIDENT MORSE: The next two bills require roll calls and it will take 15 to pass them.

RULES AND ENROLLED BILLS

CACR 15, relating to legal actions. Providing that taxpayers have standing to bring actions against the government.
Ought to Pass, Vote 3-0. Senator Avard for the committee.

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Mister President. I move CACR 15 Ought to Pass. This Constitutional Amendment restores to the taxpayers of the state of New Hampshire the legal ability to bring certain lawsuits relating to the spending of public funds by the state or political subdivision in which the taxpayers reside. In doing so, our taxpayers will have a broader access to the courts and a greater ability to ensure governmental accountability. As the New Hampshire Supreme Court noted several decades ago, every taxpayer has a vital interest in proper government, regardless of whether his or her purse is specifically affected. Until relatively recent, the New Hampshire Supreme Court recognized taxpayer standing. This amendment will assure that this important taxpayer right will continue to be recognized and enforced. Please join the committee in voting for CACR 15 Ought to Pass. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes for a question of Senator Avard.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much for taking my question. Senator, this CACR restores long standing taxpayer standing and ensures access to justice in cases challenging actions of our government, would you believe?

SENATOR AVARD: Okay.

SENATOR FELTES: Is that a yes?

SENATOR AVARD: I would believe.

SENATOR FELTES: Okay, thank you.

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you for the question.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass.

PRESIDENT MORSE: A roll call is required.

The following Senators voted Yes: Giuda, Bradley, Watters, Hennessey, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Kahn, Daniels, Avard, Lasky, Carson, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Birdsell, Fuller Clark, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: Woodburn, Reagan, Soucy, D'Allesandro.

Roll Call, Yeas: 20 - Nays: 4. Adopted by necessary 3/5 vote. Resolution ordered to Third Reading.

CACR 16, relating to privacy. Providing that an individual's right to live free of governmental intrusion is natural, essential, and inherent. Ought to Pass, Vote 3-0. Senator Fuller Clark for the committee.

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: Thank you very much, Mister President. I move CACR 16 Ought to Pass. This Constitutional Amendment is a necessary response to the technological and scientific era of genetic research. It fills the gap in the New Hampshire constitution regarding individual protection from government intrusion in personal and private information. The imposition of this burden will in no way hinder the government's ability to function. Access to personal and private information for which the government has probable cause will still be accessible via a search warrant. This amendment is necessary to take back an individual's privacy in personal and private information in response to the growing prevalence and capacity of technology, particularly with regard to the internet and electronic information. Please join the committee in voting CACR 16 Ought to Pass. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President, and colleagues. I rise to express the need for some caution on this amendment. I know that it came through the House by one vote. I think there were a lot of concerns raised over there, and you read the hearing report and I think an essential point is made. Despite the assurances about search warrants and so forth, do note that the language that we're using here, "natural essential and inherent". These are the strongest possible terms that go back centuries in jurisprudence and constitutional law, back particularly to John Locke. And I think that this language really needs to be, the consequences need to be considered. Because I think there's a potential here for many, many necessary functions of government to be preempted because of the inclusion of those three words.

Secondly, there was some concern raised about the definitions of "private" or "personal" information. Now both of those terms, "private information" and "personal information". Now we saw reference to medical records and various things that I, you know, of course, we do need to protect this and we passed some legislation about, you know, people's DNA samples should be not distributed or given to other people without the consent of the person whose sample it is. I mean, these are the kinds of things we should and attend to in legislation, but private or personal, just exactly what does that cover? Something that's private or personal to one person maybe vastly expansive compared to what it is to someone else, and I don't know what we do but to invite incredible amounts of litigation here on each of those and how is it constitutionally that we're going to be able to determine that? I think in some ways we; you know, I do trust the voters. I voted for the last one. I have some concern, but I think the voters are going to sort that one out. I don't think we should send something to the voters which is such a conundrum. We have a responsibility here to answer those kinds of questions on what is private, what is personal. Especially if we're going to give them the status of natural essential and inherent. So I think we ought to have enough of us here voting against this so that it can be considered more thoroughly and see if we really aren't able to do this in statute. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I would rise in support of this CACR, although I do share some of the concerns that my colleague from District number 4. I think in the constitution we establish a basis and a premise and then we allow this legislature and our comrades across the way to establish in statute the meaning of those terms and that when those statutes fall short, the courts will adjudicate those meanings as well. That's been the history of our jurisprudence over time. So while I would agree that we need caution I also agree that we have the power to define those terms ourselves. And that will flow from this amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass.

PRESIDENT MORSE: A roll call is required.

The following Senators voted Yes: Giuda, Bradley, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard, Carson, Reagan, Birdsell, Fuller Clark, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: Woodburn, Watters, Hennessey, Kahn, Lasky, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Soucy, D'Allesandro.

Roll Call, Yeas: 15 - Nays: 9. Adopted by necessary 3/5 vote. Resolution ordered to Third Reading.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Senator Reagan. On CACR 15 how do you believe you voted?

SENATOR REAGAN: I believe I voted yes, and I have a note on my calendar that I voted yes.

MOTION OF RECONSIDERATION

Senator Bradley, having voted on the prevailing side, moved to reconsider the following action taken by the body on CACR 15, relating to legal actions. Providing that taxpayers have standing to bring actions against the government.: Rescind Order to Third Reading and Reconsider the vote on Ought to Pass. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass.

A roll call was requested by Senator Avard, seconded by Senator French.

The following Senators voted Yes: Woodburn, Giuda, Bradley, Watters, Hennessey, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Kahn, Daniels, Avard, Lasky, Carson, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Reagan, Birdsell, Fuller Clark, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: Soucy, D'Allesandro.

Roll Call, Yeas: 22 - Nays: 2. Adopted by necessary 3/5 vote. Resolution ordered to Third Reading.

HB 1243, relative to exemptions from property attachments.
Interim Study, Vote 3-0. Senator Daniels for the committee.

SENATOR DANIELS: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1243 Refer to Interim Study. This bill increases the value of an automobile that is exempt from attachment from 4,000 to $10,000. This exemption hasn't been increased for several years. The credit unions felt this increase was too much, too fast. The committee would like some more time to take a closer look. And rather than setting a hard and arbitrary figure of $10,000, perhaps a better option might be to base the exemption on a percentage of the automobile value. We can take a look at this if you would join the committee in voting House Bill 1243 Refer to Interim Study. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I respectfully disagree with the referral to Interim Study. I think an increase in the exemption for 4,000 to 10,000 makes good sense in terms of repossession vehicles in terms of the collection process and just reflects the modern day. It hasn't been updated in a long time so I think this makes good sense and it will protect people in the process. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Interim Study. Adopted.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes an automated and connected vehicle testing and deployment commission.

SENATOR CAVANAUGH: Thank you, Mister President. I move that House Bill 314 Ought to Pass with Amendment. As amended by the committee, this bill would establish an automated and connected vehicle testing and deployment commission. This commission would follow developments in the testing and deployment of automated vehicles and their connected technology and would consider avenues to encourage the development of this industry. Further, the commission would examine ways to educate the public about these vehicles and review existing statutes pertaining to relevant issues. Therefore, all members of the Transportation Committee ask for your support in the motion Ought to Pass with Amendment on House Bill 314. Thank you, Mister President.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes an automated and connected vehicle testing and deployment commission. This bill also establishes an automated vehicle pilot program.

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Thank you, Mister President. This amendment brings forward further clarification regarding the testing of automated vehicles and establishes an automated vehicle pilot program. The amendment further clarifies that the Director of the Department of Motor Vehicles can suspend or revoke a company's participation in such a program if the department finds that this would be a danger to the public. In summary, this Floor Amendment further clarifies the intent of the study commission passed by the committee. I might add why we decided to go ahead and add this, basically we put guardrails in this amendment because I found out after the fact that they are actually testing in New Hampshire. So what this amendment does is it adds some guardrails for the person who's testing or the organization who is testing these automated vehicles to notify DMV and go through some processes in order to make sure that they're at least bonded, paying a license fee so that we know someone is in the state testing. Thank you, Mister President.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill allows organizations that are tax exempt under 26 U.S.C. section 501(c)(10) to qualify for authorization to issue decals for multi-use decal plates.

SENATOR BIRDSELL: This amendment would allow certain organizations that are tax exempt as 501(c)(10)s to qualify for authorization to issue decals for multi-use decal plates as was in the original legislation. The amendment removes 501(c)(4)s from eligibility for these decals and for those that aren't unfamiliar with it, 501(c)(10)s are actually lodges like the Masons and such, so I ask for your support on this amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

IV. Motor vehicles shall not be operated continuously in the left lane of a multilane roadway whenever it impedes the flow of other traffic at or below the posted speed limit unless reasonable and prudent under the conditions having regard to the actual and potential hazards then existing.

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Thank you, Mister President. This is an amendment was brought to us worded by the Chiefs of Police. The original bill did not allot for driving in the left lane or left lane that was stopped like if you're merging into traffic and the left lane was stopped. They said that the police could ticket those who are just stopped in the left lane. So this further clarifies that the left lane is only to be used as a passing lane unless there is an actual or perceived blockage in the lane. Thank you, Mister President.

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

Amend the bill by inserting after section 1 the following and renumbering the original section 2 to read as 3:

2 New Subparagraph; Games of Chance; Surveillance Requirements; Additional Security. Amend RSA 287-D:15, III by inserting after subparagraph (f) the following new subparagraph:

(g) No additional security requirements shall be imposed by any local or state agency without the approval of the commission.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Allows the leasee of a building to apply for a facilities license.

II. Removes the requirement of a certificate of good standing from the department of revenue administration.

III. Removes the limit on facilities licenses that may be issued annually.

IV. Requires lottery commission approval for additional security requirements for games of chance imposed by a local or state agency.

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I move House Bill 263 Ought to Pass with Amendment. The bill allows a game operator employer that operates a facility to apply for the facility license. Currently, the building owner has to apply for the facility license. It removes the requirement for a facility license applicant to attain a certificate of good standing as it would be duplicative since the game operators already are required to have one. This bill removes the limit on facility licenses, current law limits each entity to only one facility license. The committee amendment prohibits any local or state agency from requiring additional security at a charitable gaming facility without the approval from the Lottery Commission. This amendment was brought forward to address an inconsistency that's occurring whereby certain communities are requiring gaming facilities to obtain costly security while other facilities in other towns face no such additional security requirements. The Ways and Means Committee asks for your support for the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President. I urge my colleagues to vote against the committee amendment. What this committee amendment does is limits the ability of the locale and the locals to hire additional police officers if they're required. I think it's essential. We know what's going on now at these entities. They're open later in the evening, there's more activity taking place there. You have a variety of games being played; it should be up to the locals to decide how much security's required. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of the amendment. What this amendment does in no way impacts local police and their ability to put police patrols outside the building. But what it does is it allows a uniformity across the state for the requirements for extra security within and that uniformity would be determined by an ascertainment of the Lottery Commission, which has control over the inside activities in the buildings anyway. So it in no way affects the ability to hire police or to put those patrols outside for extra security. It merely provides a level playing field across the state for our operators.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. I also rise in support of the amendment and I'd like the body to remember that as my friend from District number 2 had said, not only does it not prohibit a local law enforcement from coming to the place and coming in like they do for all licensed establishments. So we have to remember there's a difference here between, some communities are seeing some law enforcement show up and say you must hire one of our guys full time inside every single hour that you're open, versus the ability of anyone from lottery, men and women in blue, Liquor Commission, all of those entities still have the ability to go into the facility at any time they want. This is only stopping the mandating of hiring them as an employee or a security guard without some additional oversight and trying to find some consistency. Again, I ask the body to support the amendment. Thank you very much.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 324 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill establishes a commission to study utility property valuations, recommend legislation for reforming the current system, which has generated several lawsuits due to inconsistent practices. The committee amendment deletes paragraph 6 of section 1 of the bill which would have designated specific Senate and House staff members to support the commission. Amendment to HB 1251

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to indicia for payment of taxes on the transfer of real property, and temporarily reducing the real estate transfer tax for first-time home buyers.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 7 with the following:

8 Tax on Transfer of Real Property; Rate; Exception Added. Amend RSA 78-B:1, I(b) to read as follows:

(b) Except as provided in RSA 78-B:1-b, the rate of the tax is $.75 per $100, or fractional part thereof, of the price or consideration for such sale, grant, or transfer; except that where the price or consideration is $4,000 or less there shall be a minimum tax of $20. The tax imposed shall be computed to the nearest whole dollar.

9 New Section; Rate of Transfer Tax for First-time Home Buyers. Amend RSA 78-B by inserting after section 1-a the following new section:

78-B:1-b Rate of Transfer Tax for First Time Home Buyers. Notwithstanding RSA 78-B:1, I(b), beginning January 1, 2018 the rate of the tax is $.50 per $100, or fractional part thereof, of the price or consideration for such sale, grant, or transfer applicable to the buyer for the purchase of a qualifying first home, as follows:

I. The rate of tax provided for in this section shall be applied to the amount of tax owed by and actually paid by the buyer pursuant to RSA 78-B:1 and shall not apply to any amounts paid by the buyer on behalf of the seller.

II. For purposes of this section, the term:

(a) "Qualifying first home" shall mean:

(1) The purchase of residential real estate, the price of which does not exceed $300,000;

(2) That will be utilized as the buyer's principal residence as defined in Internal Revenue Code Section 121 and related Treasury Regulations; and

(3) That is the buyer's first purchase of residential real estate.

(b) "Buyer" shall mean the purchaser, grantee, assignee, or transferee of any real estate or any interest in real estate.

10 Applicability Date. RSA 78-B:1-b, as inserted by section 9 of this act, shall apply to transfers occurring on and after January 1, 2018.

11 Payment of Tax; Exception Added. Amend RSA 78-B:4, III to read as follows:

III. Except as provided in RSA 78-B:1-b, the rate of tax established in RSA 78-B:1 shall apply to both the purchaser, grantee, assignee, or transferee and the seller, grantor, assignor, or transferor.

12 Prospective Repeal. RSA 78-B:1-b, relative to a transfer tax rate for first-time home buyers, is repealed.

13 Exception Deleted. Amend RSA 78-B:1, I(b) to read as follows:

(b) [~~Except as provided in RSA 78-B:1-b,~~] The rate of the tax is $.75 per $100, or fractional part thereof, of the price or consideration for such sale, grant, or transfer; except that where the price or consideration is $4,000 or less there shall be a minimum tax of $20. The tax imposed shall be computed to the nearest whole dollar.

14 Exception Deleted. Amend RSA 78-B:4, III to read as follows:

III. [~~Except as provided in RSA 78-B:1-b,~~] The rate of tax established in RSA 78-B:1 shall apply to both the purchaser, grantee, assignee, or transferee and the seller, grantor, assignor, or transferor.

15 Report Required; Department of Revenue Administration. On or before January 1, 2019 and on or before January 1, 2020, the commissioner of revenue administration shall report to the speaker of the house of representatives, the senate president, and the governor on the number of first-time home buyers using the lower transfer tax rate provided in RSA 78-B:1-b and the department's assessment of whether the number of first-time home buyers increased or decreased as a result of the reduced tax rate.

16 Effective Date.

I. Sections 12-14 of this act shall take effect January 1, 2020.

II. Sections 1-7 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2018.

III. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill removes references to stamps to indicate payment of the tax on transfers of real property and certain fees for recording deeds. This bill reduces, for a 2-year period, the rate of the tax on the transfer of real property for first time home buyers, provided the purchase price does not exceed $300,000. The bill also requires the department of revenue administration to report on the usage of the reduced rate.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1251 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill removes references to stamps to indicate payment of a tax on transfers of real property and certain fees for recording deeds. The Department of Revenue Administration testified that registries no longer use stamps. They print a document now showing the amount of tax paid. This bill will alleviate the department's obligation to maintain these stamps that are basically obsolete. The phrase "indicia of payment," will remain in statute and is broad enough to cover the current practice as well as any future technology they may employ. The committee adds after section 7 of the bill, the language from Senate Bill 301 which would provide temporary relief from the payment of real estate transfer tax for certain first-time home buyers. Keep in mind that we reached a compromise on this in the Senate to temporarily reduce real estate transfer tax for first time homebuyers of home at or below 300,000 and that was a compromise Democrats, Republicans and the Governor's office. Unfortunately, the House voted that down, they voted it Interim Study, so we added it to this bill and the Ways and Means Committee asks for your support of the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise and thank my colleague from District number 15 for introducing the bill and for supporting the compromise on the first time homebuyer credit, but we think there might be a more appropriate action to come on a later date so at this point I'd respectfully ask the body to vote down the committee amendment and we'll take up that consideration in a bit. Thank you, Mister President.

Amendment to HB 1260

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the payout value of bingo games at private campgrounds and hotels, the hours of operation of Keno, and the sale of Lucky 7 tickets during bingo games.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 1 with the following:

2 Keno; Hours of Operation. Amend RSA 284:47, I to read as follows:

I. A licensee may operate keno games at its business between the hours of 11 a.m. and [~~11 p.m.~~] 1 a.m.

3 Lucky 7 Tickets; Sales During Bingo. Amend RSA 287-E:21, II(a)-(b) to read as follows:

(a) The regular meeting place of or a facility owned, leased or utilized by the charitable organization for its activities; [~~or~~]

(b) Any other location where the sale of lucky 7 tickets is conducted in conjunction with and at the same time as an event sponsored or cosponsored by the charitable organization, to be held once a year, and will be held for no more than 4 consecutive days; or

(c) Lucky 7 tickets sold in conjunction with bingo games may be sold between the hours of 12 p.m. and 1 a.m. on any licensed game date.

4 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Raises the maximum payout value for bingo games at private campgrounds and hotels.

II. Extends the hours a licensee may operate Keno games.

III. Allows the sale of Lucky 7 tickets during certain hours of a bingo licensed game date.

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1260 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill raises the maximum payout value for bingo games at private campgrounds and hotels for the current 1,000 to $2,000. This proposed increase comes as a result of several campgrounds having to turn players away, particularly on rainy days when the demand is high for the games. This will enable more people to engage in this activity during inclement weather when there's little else to do at the campgrounds. The committee amendment changes the hours of operation for the sale of Keno and Lucky 7 tickets. It seeks to extend the time for Keno from the present 11 PM to 1 AM when the establishments close. Currently, you must stop Keno at 11 even though they remain open until 1:00. The amendment also makes a change relative to the hours of sales for Lucky 7 tickets sold in conjunction with bingo games, enabling to be sold between 12 PM and 1 AM as well. I ask for your support for the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment and I thank you, Mister President.

The Chair ruled sections of the Committee Amendment non-germane.

Without objection, Senate Rule 3-17 is suspended to allow consideration of the non-germane Committee Amendment. Adopted by the necessary 2/3 vote.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. I just want to note for the body; however you choose to vote, this does extend the hours of operation for Keno from 11 PM to 1 AM and Lucky 7 to 1 AM and one of the considerations in the Keno bill was a stop at 11 PM. So I just wanted to note that for the body, however you decide to vote. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise and want to talk a little real quickly about the Keno, because it's true when the Keno bill was created it did make a hard stop at 11:30, but it wasn't for everybody. So we know that social clubs actually can run today until 1:30 AM so clearly we realize after implementation of Keno, there are some organizations that are able to run until 1:30 in the morning and then others that actually have to stop at 11:30, so all this bill looks to do is try to make it consistent across the board and net, net, net or Keno, Keno, Keno, it should bring more revenue into the state of New Hampshire to help with education and kindergarten. So I'd ask that the body support the amendment and the underlying bill. Thank you, Mister President.

Amendment to HB 1276

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT adding an exemption for certain raffles conducted by charitable organizations and relative to charitable gaming licenses.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 2 the following and renumbering the original section 3 to read as 4:

3 Charitable Gaming Licenses; Expiration Date. Amend RSA 287-D:6, IV and V to read as follows:

IV. Only one license shall be issued to each applicant [~~per year~~] in any 12 month period to operate games of chance for 10 days, which 10 days need not be consecutive.

V. Licenses shall expire [~~on December 31 of each year~~] 12 months from the date of issue or after the completion of the tenth game date, whichever comes first.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill allows certain raffles to be conducted by charitable organizations without a permit or printed tickets.

This bill also changes the license period for charitable organization licenses for charitable gaming.

SENATOR DANIELS: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1276 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill allows a charitable organization to sell raffle tickets without a permit, provided that tickets are sold at an event lasting twelve hours or less. The committee amendment changes the timeline for licensing charitable organizations to a twelve-month basis, rather than a calendar year basis. Amendment to HB 1501-FN

Amend RSA 287-E:1, VI-b as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

VI-b. "Gaming consultant" means any individual or business entity who is hired by or otherwise receives compensation from a charitable organization to provide gaming related services including consultation, management, assistance with the operation of the bingo games or the sale of lucky 7 tickets, record keeping, filing forms with the commission, advertising, or security and who handles, manages, oversees, or disburses any of the funds derived from the operation of the charitable games.

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1501 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill defines gaming consultants and establishes licensing provisions. The Committee Amendment, which is supported by Commissioner McIntyre, narrows a licensing requirement to anyone who handles funds. This captures the original intent which was to allow the Lottery Commission to intervene when the proper procedure isn't being followed while at the same time not requiring unnecessary licensure of people who don't handle the funds. The Ways and Means Committee asks for your support for the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

HB 1502, adding the utility property tax exclusion for exempt water and air pollution control facilities to tax expenditure review.
Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 3-2. Senator Daniels for the committee.

SENATOR DANIELS: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1502 Inexpedient to Legislate. This bill sought to add exempt water and air pollution control facilities excluded from the utility property tax to the tax expenditures reviewed by the Joint Committee on Tax Expenditure Review. However, a majority of Ways and Means Committee feels this is duplicative and unnecessary as RSA 72:12-A establishes a process whereby a party seeking an exemption files an application with the Department of Environmental Services. The department then investigates the purpose of the facility to determine if the exemption is appropriate. We therefore ask for your support for the motion of Inexpedient to Legislate. Thank you, Mister President.

Amendment to HB 1554-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT phasing out the tax on interest and dividends.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Rate; 2020. Amend RSA 77:1 to read as follows:
77:1 Rate. The annual tax upon incomes shall be levied at the rate of [~~5~~] 4 percent.
2 Rate; 2021. Amend RSA 77:1 to read as follows:
77:1 Rate. The annual tax upon incomes shall be levied at the rate of [~~4~~] 3 percent.
3 Rate; 2022. Amend RSA 77:1 to read as follows:
77:1 Rate. The annual tax upon incomes shall be levied at the rate of [~~3~~] 2 percent.
4 Rate; 2023. Amend RSA 77:1 to read as follows:
77:1 Rate The annual tax upon incomes shall be levied at the rate of [~~2~~] 1 percent.
5 Repeal; 2024. RSA 77, relative the taxations of incomes, is repealed.
6 Reference to Interest and Dividends Tax Deleted. Amend RSA 14-B:8, III(q) to read as follows:
(q) New Hampshire taxes, specifying if business profits tax[~~,~~] or business enterprise tax[~~, or interest and dividends tax~~].
7 Reference to Interest and Dividends Tax Deleted. Amend RSA 15-A:5, I(d)(17) to read as follows:

(17) New Hampshire taxes, specifying if business profits tax[~~,~~] or business enterprise tax[~~, or interest and dividends tax~~].

8 Reference to Interest and Dividends Tax Deleted. Amend RSA 21-J:31 to read as follows:

21-J:31 Penalty for Failure to File. Any taxpayer who fails to file a return when due, unless an extension has been granted by the department, shall pay a penalty equal to 5 percent of the amount of the tax due or $10, whichever is greater, for each month or part of a month during which the return remains unfiled. The total amount of any penalty shall not, however, exceed 25 percent of the amount of the tax due or $50, whichever is greater. This penalty shall not be applied in any case in which a return is filed within the extended filing period as provided in [~~RSA 77:18-b,~~] RSA 77-A:9, RSA 77-E:8, RSA 83-C:6, RSA 83-E:5, RSA 84-A:7, or RSA 84-C:7, or the failure to file was due to reasonable cause and not willful neglect of the taxpayer. The amount of the penalty is determined by applying the percentages specified to the net amount of any tax due after crediting any timely payments made through estimating or other means.

9 Reference to Interest and Dividends Tax Deleted. Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 21-J:33-a, I to read as follows:

I. If there is a substantial understatement of tax imposed under [~~RSA 77,~~] RSA 77-A, RSA 77-E, RSA 78-A, RSA 78-C, RSA 82-A, RSA 83-C, RSA 83-E, or RSA 84-A for any taxable period, there shall be added to the tax an amount equal to 25 percent of the amount of any underpayment attributable to such understatement.

10 Reference to Interest and Dividends Tax Deleted. Amend RSA 21-J:46, III to read as follows:

III. This section shall apply only to tax returns and associated payments under [~~RSA 77,~~] RSA 77-A[~~,~~] and RSA 77-E.

11 References to Interest and Dividends Tax Deleted; Tax Expenditure Report. Amend RSA 71-C:4, I and II to read as follows:

I. On or before December 15 of every fiscal year the commissioner of the department of revenue administration shall certify in a report to the general court and the governor an analysis of each of the past fiscal year's tax expenditures as identified in RSA 71-C:2, and other credits allowed under [~~RSA 77,~~] RSA 77-A, RSA 77-E, RSA 77-G, RSA 78, RSA 78-A, 78-B, RSA 82-A, RSA 83-E, RSA 84-A, RSA 84-C, and RSA 400-A.

II. The report shall be divided into the following parts:

(a) Tax expenditures as determined by the joint committee on tax expenditure review under RSA 71-C:3;

(b) Potential liabilities against the state's revenues, specifically:

(1) Other credits allowed under [~~RSA 77,~~] RSA 77-A, RSA 77-E, RSA 77-G, RSA 78, RSA 78-A, RSA 78-B, RSA 82, RSA 82-A, RSA 83-E, RSA 84-A, RSA 84-C, and RSA 400-A against the business profits tax imposed by RSA 77-A; and

(2) Credit carryovers from overpaid taxes.

12 Returns for Interest and Dividends Taxes. All persons who are liable for a tax under RSA 77 as of December 31, 2023, who thereafter are no longer liable for a tax under RSA 77 because of the passage of this act shall make a return of such taxes due the commissioner of revenue administration in such manner and on such forms as the commissioner shall prescribe in rules adopted under RSA 541-A. The administrative provisions of RSA 77 shall remain in effect to permit the collection of taxes upon income taxable under RSA 77 which is received by persons subject to taxation under that chapter through December 31, 2023, and to permit the distribution of that revenue. Persons who are liable for a tax under RSA 77 who do not report the payment of federal income taxes on a calendar year basis are entitled to such proportion of the exemptions allowed in RSA 77 as the reporting period bears to their taxable year.

13 Repeals. The following are repealed:

I. RSA 21-J:45, I(c), relative to reports on status of requested interest and dividends tax refunds.

II. RSA 77-A:4-c, II(c), relative to the duty of a committee to study the taxation of distributions received by investment organizations under the interest and dividends tax.

III. RSA 77, relative to taxation of incomes.

IV. RSA 77-A:4, I, relative to an adjustment to the business profits tax for taxes under RSA 77.

V. RSA 195-H:10, relative to exemption from RSA 77 for income and distributions from qualified tuition programs.

VI. RSA 195-K:4, relative to the exemption from RSA 77 for the achieving a better life experience program.

VII. RSA 261:52-a relative to notice that the interest and dividends tax may be due.

VIII. RSA 391:3 relative to the taxation of common trust funds under RSA 77.

14 Effective Date.

I. Section 1 of this act shall take effect January 1, 2020, and shall apply to tax years ending on or after December 31, 2020.

II. Section 2 of this act shall take effect January 1, 2021 and shall apply to tax years ending on or after December 31, 2021.

III. Section 3 of this act shall take effect January 1, 2022, and shall apply to tax years ending on or after December 31, 2022.

IV. Section 4 of this act shall take effect January 1, 2023, and shall apply to tax years ending on or after December 31, 2023.

V. The remainder of this act shall take effect January 1, 2024.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill phases out the interest and dividends tax over a 5-year period and repeals the tax on January 1, 2024.

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1554 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill originally sought to increase the filing threshold for the I and D tax from 2,400 to 3,500. It would also have reduced the research and development tax credit from 7 million down to 2 million. The Ways and Means Committee did a replace all amendment which took the entire language from SB 504 which passed this body earlier, which is a phase-out of the Interest and Dividends tax, starting in the next budget over five years with a final repeal date of January 1, 2024. What this will do is essentially look to the fact that starting in the next budget it would repeal the I and D tax that based upon income today, $13 million a year over five years. Now I want to remind this body there's been some great things that are happening here. The economy is doing good. The tax cuts we have seen coming from the Federal Government have made our economy good, have made our budget better, have made our revenues go up. In addition to that, we have to remember that the cuts we have made to this Business Enterprise Tax, Business Profits Tax and the reduction of regulations we have continued to make, have made a material difference in the economic health of this state. So when the state is healthy and the outlook for New Hampshire is good, and the state is bringing in more revenue than it needs, we should always look to return that money back to the taxpayers. That's what this did, again, this is the same exact language that we passed through this body earlier this year and I'd ask the body for support. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, the Committee Amendment is the same exact language we tabled earlier this year. We tabled it, it has close to $100 million impact in the next budget. The benefits of that $100 million go to the top 10 percent income earners in the state. That's by analysis by iTeK. To do this now is fiscally irresponsible. It's a downshift right onto the backs of local property taxpayers. Middle class Granite Staters, struggling to get ahead and stay ahead. Why? For $100 million hit to our budget in the next budget cycle to the top 10 percent income earners. Does that make any sense? It doesn't. Let's vote down this committee amendment, we tabled it earlier in the session, let's vote it down now and let's move forward. Thank you, Mister President.

Senator Bradley presiding.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, I rise to declare a potential conflict of interest in that I pay the Interest and Dividends Tax, but as I would be affected in no way different from any other people who pay this tax, I will participate. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Hennessey.)

SENATOR HENNESSEY: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to say the same thing that my friend from District 4 just said. That I may have a conflict as I do pay Interest and Dividends Tax but I will be participating. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I will declare a conflict. I do pay the Interest and Dividends Tax. I will participate in the discussion and I'd like to speak now.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to say that I may have a conflict of interest as well, but I really rise to say this is not a good amendment. We've done this before, and I totally concur with the comments my colleague from District 15. This is not what is acting in the best interest of people in my district. And if this is, if you believe that it's in the best interest of people in your district and the majority of people in your district, I'm stunned. So, thank you, Mister President for recognizing me. Please vote against this.

(The Chair recognized Senator Fuller Clark.)

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: I rise to declare that I may have a conflict of interest and I have filled out a form to that effect. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Innis.)

SENATOR INNIS: Thank you, Mister President. I too have a conflict on this bill and amendment in that I pay Interest and Dividend Taxes in New Hampshire. Thank you, Mister President. I will participate.

(The Chair recognized Senator Avard.)

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Mister President. I'm rising to say I don't have a conflict, but I wish I did. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you. Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise against the amendment. When you look at the numbers, the numbers clearly indicate we will lose $100 million in revenue over the course of the deductions that are cited in the amendment. That's not a prudent way to do business. We've adjusted business taxes; we've reduced them and guess what; the business revenues are up. You know why they're up? Because all of those companies that didn't pay in the past are now paying because we have the amnesty. Look at the numbers. The numbers indicate about two or three-hundred more businesses are paying than have paid in the past. They were avoiding the tax. The Interest and Dividends Tax should not be changed at this point in time. We've changed taxes thirty-nine times over the last few years, we've done a good job. This is not a good job. This is not a way for us to go. At this point in time any further reduction in taxes are going to fall right back on the locals. What we should be doing is saying, hey, let's take some of this money that we've earned and restore the revenue sharing, $25.2 million a year, that's $50.4 million over the biennium that goes back to the taxpayers to alleviate the burden of the real estate property tax. That's where we should be working at this point in time, to get more money back to our locals, not reducing interest and dividends on the wealthiest of people in the state. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I rise just to say I have some real concerns about this. I think I join many members here in this body that are concerned about taxes and I'd love to see us cut taxes, but I also think that if we're going to cut taxes and we've heard from our colleagues that this could potentially put $100 million hole in the budget. How are we going to fill that hole? What programs are we going to cut to make up this deficit? And I haven't heard anything on the other side. I would feel more comfortable if we could have a discussion about what programs are, we going to cut in order to make up the difference here? I haven't heard that today. And this brings to mind comments from a former colleague of ours, who chaired Ways and Means for many years, and he'd say it was great, you want to cut taxes, but how are you going to fill the hole? And that's what I'm really concerned about. I would hate to see needed programs that my constituents depend upon cut because we cut this tax. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President I apologize I did not say earlier that declaring I may or may not have a conflict, I do pay I and D tax, so I clearly have a conflict. I'm still participating, and I'd like to try and answer some questions if I could. So let me try to answer some of the questions especially from my colleague in District number 15, who raised some questions about $100 million. Well only in government, only with the political class can you take a $13 million expense and portray it as a $100 million bill. Mister President, it continues to stagger me, this revenue generator, Interest last year. So how people can literally leap, jump the shark and say a $65 million tax is worth $100 million and Dividends Tax, the tax on the people of New Hampshire only brings in $65 million a year, only brings in total $65 million defies people who actually consider math important because you know Mister President I can't spell worth a lick. So, it's not $100 million, what it is, it's $15 million, $15 million a year over five years. Now part of this thing we have to understand, and this gets the point from my colleague from District number 15. Senator, I completely understand your question that says how do we fill the hole, if we're going to cut taxes, what do we do with spending? Now this is predicated on the fact that revenue doesn't change, expenses don't change, we cut taxes. Now we have a hole. In this case, we know that revenue is up, but spending's not up. So there's no need to cut taxes, because we're bringing in more revenue than we thought we would with the same amount of expense. So there's no hole to fill, in fact, we have heard that recently, probably not the day to have numbers Mister President, but I will if you ask me to, our economy is up, our economy is running as good as it has run in a decade and a half.

Lowest unemployment, lower regulation, great, great, great tax cut program coming from the Federal Government, every single one of you, except maybe one or two of you, should be getting more money in your pocket. Thirty-one hundred dollars on average in the state of New Hampshire. That's money in people's pockets, it's their money coming back. Now this is just like this and Mister President, what I'll say, what I need to remind the body, I know my friend from District number 15 talks often about the benefits of the 1 percent. But here's another part to my colleague in District 14, and others. We have to remember that the 146,000 small businesses in the state of New Hampshire. At the end of the year, they close out their books, they go see their accountant, and their accountant says hey look, you had an okay year, you made a little bit of money. And that guys says I want to buy a piece of equipment, I want to buy a truck, maybe I want to give my employees a raise. When that small business makes a distribution, after December 31st but before they pay their taxes, that's no longer income, it becomes an Interest and Dividend distribution. So this bill Mister President, does not go to just some elitist that people are talking about over there because I don't believe anyone in this room is an elitist either. We're not all part of the 1 percent. But some people in this room pay it as result of earned interest on income they have because they have some resources. But 146,000 people Mister President, have the ability of this same thing because they take a small distribution of $2,500 out of their company at the end of the year. That $2,501 now they're paying tax on it. Last time I checked Mister President; cost of a pick-up truck was about 60 grand. So if you want to buy yourself a new car at the end of the year, you've worked real hard, you're now paying taxes on, you know, $5,600.

Couple other points Mister President, that I'll put down. There's no downshift here, this is not about downshifting, this is not a mandate on our communities without revenue. This is our state bringing in more revenues than we thought, the economy doing better and our ability to return some of that taxpayer dollars to the taxpayer. The people that paid it. And lastly, Mister President, we heard a little bit about the amnesty bill. Now for the record Mister President, I was the prime sponsor of the amnesty bill. About every ten years we do that, typically right after a recession. We know people are struggling, we know people get underground a little bit, this gives those people that opportunity to come to the table and catch up and do the right thing and have a much less minor penalty. I will remind you Mister President, last amnesty was actually two years ago, and the benefits we saw were two years ago, the revenue that we're seeing which is from good fiscal management from the Chair of Finance, from the Governor, from the agencies. What we're seeing in our state today of a better and improving economy. We're doing better. Current tax scheme, we have more revenue coming in, so taking 13 million a year over five is actually a smaller cut, Senators, a smaller cut than what we did with the Business Profits Tax or the Business Enterprise Tax. So realistic, responsible, a good way to put people's tax dollars back in their pocket when the economy is good. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Morse.)

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. I'd like to declare that I may or may not have a conflict however we say that, but I intend to vote on this issue. I would like to talk about taxes for a moment because I was interviewed yesterday, and I found it interesting on how we perceive what's happening in the country and in the state of New Hampshire. You know the reality is the Federal Government goes and does tax cuts and follows what New Hampshire's been doing for the last two budgets and we're seeing the benefit of it. We're seeing the benefit of what's happened in our state and federally, it's showing up this month. And everyone that's looking at the reports is either taking credit or saying you know we just budgeted wrong. We didn't budget wrong. We budgeted right. The Federal Government made a tax cut that actually is having a huge influence. And should we or should we not use that to pay down the sins that we saw back in 2011. I actually looked into that. I looked into paying off a bond of $135 million that the Rooms and Meals Tax is being robbed right now because we're still paying that bond, and that bond is still so big we couldn't write the check right now to pay it off. Because I thought it would be good policy for us to write that check right now and pay off the bond that we took back in the day to pay for school building construction when our own communities already bonded it. It's an insane concept. But I'd like to tell you this; I think the policies that we put in place and been led by the Senate in the last two budgets are policies that are working. They're working for the state of New Hampshire. And that's why I support this legislation. Because when we talk about reducing taxes, it makes people inspired to come into our state and build their business, and make this economy run, just like it's running right now. And as I'm hearing about the fact that every ten years we look at recession, I can tell you a lot of what you've done with tax cuts, like the one that's being proposed, is going to ward off having a recession like we saw in 2008, because back then we were increasing fees and increasing taxes and no one wanted to come here. They didn't want to expand their businesses here. And that's the pro-growth policies that we have right now that are making a difference in the state of New Hampshire. And that's why I'll support the way this is being presented to us, because I think it's working. I think it's working in a great manner when the Federal Government's following what the state of New Hampshire did and it's showing up right now. And it's going to show up even further as we study it. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Senator Feltes, seconded by Senator Birdsell.

The following Senators voted Yes: Giuda, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard, Birdsell, Morse, Gannon, Innis.

The following Senators voted No: Woodburn, Watters, Hennessey, Kahn, Lasky, Carson, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Reagan, Soucy, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark.

The following Senators filed a Declaration of Intent: Bradley.

Roll Call, Yeas: 11 - Nays: 12. Failed.

Senator Morse moved to Lay on the Table.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY:

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you for my parliamentary inquiry. If I know Mister President, that the bill with the amendment not passing, the underlying bill has a cut of the R and D tax credit from $7 million to $2 million, would I then vote yes to table?

PRESIDING OFFICER SENATOR BRADLEY: If you're in favor of the motion to table, you would vote yes. If you're opposed, you would vote no.

Recess. Out of recess.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President if I know that there could be a way to resolve a question that was just raised to me, if I ask that the body would just voice vote this thing up on the table tonight and that we'd consider taking it back down tomorrow, would we vote yes for tabling?

PRESIDING OFFICER SENATOR BRADLEY: If you're in favor of the motion to table, you would vote yes. If you're opposed, you would vote no.

Senator Avard requested a Roll Call on the motion to Lay on the Table HB 1554-FN.

Senator Avard withdrew request for a Roll Call.

Senator Morse moved to Lay on the Table HB 1554-FN. Adopted.

Recess. Out of recess.

President Morse presiding.

Senator Innis moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 354, relative to disclosure of information relative to lower cost drugs under the managed care law.

Senator Innis moved Concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Senator Soucy.)

SENATOR SOUCY: Thank you, Mister President. I rise and I did not have the opportunity to speak with my colleague from District 24. But I would be opposed to this recommendation. What the House Amendment did was to not only remove definitions but eliminate what's called a clawback provision whereby a pharmacy claim that's been settled can then be revisited many months later. This is an important issue that I think deserves further discussion. This also removes the language about gag clauses from the pharmacy statute, so it's limited to just insurance. So for those reasons I'd ask my colleague if we could do a committee of conference. Thank you, Mister President.

Senator Innis withdraws motion of Concurrence.

Senator Innis moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President will appoint conferees at a later date.

SB 553-FN, establishing a commission to study the incidence of post-traumatic stress disorder in first responders and whether such disorder should be covered under workers' compensation.

Senator Bradley moved that the Senate adjourn from the Late Session.

Adopted. Adjournment from the Late Session.

The Senate reconvened at 10:00 a.m., a quorum being present.

The Reverend Jon Hopkins, chaplain to the Senate, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Dear God, we give you thanks for hard work. We give thanks to all those citizens of New Hampshire who are working today. We give thanks for people that grow our food, that sell us seeded goods, that make houses, that sit at a desk, that cure our diseases, that innovate and create. We give thanks for entrepreneurs that create businesses that others can work at. It is through our hard work that we not only provide for our family, but that we serve our neighbors; and it's who through hard work that we give ourselves to the greater good. Help us today to do the hard work that we have been called to do. Help us pass laws that make life fair and good for all its citizens. Help us be good stewards of the tax money that hard-working people have paid. Help us be just, fair and wise in this work that we have been called to do and let us never tire of doing our best for those hard-working citizens who are counting on us. Amen.

SENATOR REAGAN: Thank you, Mister President, and I invite the children from the fourth grade from Epsom Central School to join us in the pledge.

Senator Reagan led the Pledge of Allegiance.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes for an introduction.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. It's my honor to welcome in the gallery, Second Start Adult Education Center here in Concord. They do wonderful work. Please raise your hand where you're at. There you are. Thank you very much for being here. Let's give them a round of applause.

INTRODUCTION OF PAGES

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda for an introduction.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. It's my great pleasure to introduce our two pages for the day. They're both from Woodsville High School. One lives in the community of Mountain Lakes. The other lives in Pike, both subsets of the town of Haverhill. We'll talk about that later.

We have Kaycee Reagan who is age fourteen in the ninth grade and her favorite subject is English. She is the 2019 President of the school's Youth and Government Club. She's part of the school's Student and Executive Councils, chorus, and the manager of the track team. She wants to go to Dartmouth College and she wants to take courses in sexuality and gender. So, would you please welcome Kaycee Reagan.

And our other page today is Roderick Emley. He's been here before. He's seventeen; in the twelfth grade. His favorite subject is French. He is the President of the Student Council, and the treasurer of the French Club. He is involved in Future Business leaders of America. Plays the trumpet in the band. His junior year of high school he studied abroad in Leer, Germany. He lived with a German host family and went to a local German high school. In the future, before attending college, he wants to take a year off and go live in France as an au pair with a family. In college, he wants to study political science or international affairs and eventually attend law school. Please welcome Roderick.

SPECIAL ORDER

Without objection, the following bill is special ordered to the end of the day. Adopted.

ENERGY AND NATURAL RESOURCES
HB 114, relative to minimum electric renewable portfolio standards.

REGULAR CALENDAR

ENERGY AND NATURAL RESOURCES
HB 317, relative to changes in the system benefits charge.
Ought to Pass with Amendment, Vote 4-0. Senator Bradley for the committee.

Energy and Natural Resources
April 17, 2018
2018-1594s

Amendment to HB 317

Amend RSA 374-F:3, VI as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

VI. Benefits for All Consumers. Restructuring of the electric utility industry should be implemented in a manner that benefits all consumers equitably and does not benefit one customer class to the detriment of another. Costs should not be shifted unfairly among customers. A nonbypassable and competitively neutral system benefits charge applied to the use of the distribution system may be used to fund public benefits related to the provision of electricity. Such benefits, as approved by regulators, may include, but not necessarily be limited to, programs for low-income customers, energy efficiency programs, funding for the electric utility industry's share of commission expenses pursuant to RSA 363-A, support for research and development, and investments in commercialization strategies for new and beneficial technologies. Legislative approval of the New Hampshire general court shall be required to increase the system benefits charge. This requirement of prior approval of the New Hampshire general court shall not apply to the full implementation of Order No. 25,932 issued by the commission, dated August 2, 2016.

This bill requires legislative approval for increases in the system benefits charge.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President, and good morning again. Senate Bill 317 would require legislative approval of changes to the systems benefits charge, but we made it and we wrote it in such a way that it does not include the recent order from the Public Utilities Commission regarding the Energy Efficiency Resource Standard, so it would be a future change to the systems benefits charge. And I ask for support for the Committee Amendment.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes for a question of Senator Bradley)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. Thank you, Senator, for taking my question. Just a brief clarification. This would allow for the full implementation of the EERS order, including subsequent orders implementing it, correct?

SENATOR BRADLEY: Didn't I say that? The answer is yes.

SENATOR FELTES. Alright, thank you. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 1233, preempting local regulation of seeds and fertilizer.
Ought to Pass, Vote 3-2. Senator Bradley for the committee.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you again, Mister President. I move Ought to Pass on House Bill 1233. The Energy and Natural Resources Committee heard a long public hearing on this with a lot of testimony and came down on a 3-2 vote that the state should set any seed policy as opposed to municipalities. The reason for that is farmers can have multiple fields that they have in multiple jurisdictions. And to say that one town would have a seed policy that is in conflict with another town, could be a neighboring town, having different policy would be a burden on agricultural interests in New Hampshire. There was some question about fertilizer. Fertilizer is already pre-empted by state regulations from municipal regulations. The amendment would clarify the use of the fertilizer, but in an agreement with the Municipal Association that the House reached; erosion control, ordinances and things like that would still apply. It's really only about the use of the fertilizer. So, I ask a vote of the body of Ought to Pass on House Bill 1233. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn.)

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support as well of this bill and the work of the committee. Agriculture's a very hard difficult business these days, or in any time, but particularly trying to deal with the ordinances and local, local zoning issues, which can be sometimes too restrictive in my view. But I wish the bill was more focused on local, small-time owner operating farms than the larger ones, which should be our agricultural policy focus on that, but I think overall this is a good bill and I appreciate, I think we should support it. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Fuller Clark for a question of Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: Thank you very much for taking my question. It's my understanding and I wanted some clarification that as the bill came over to us that the word "use" had been eliminated, so that local communities are still in charge of how fertilizer is used, but they cannot regulate what kind of fertilizer. So, if you could just clarify that it would be helpful.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Yes, and again, the intent of the bill is to not dictate what fertilizer a farmer could use. But measures like erosion control, proximity to water bodies, things like that, that could still be governed by municipal regulations, but not which kind of fertilizer.

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes for a question of Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much for taking my question. Nothing in House Bill 1233 prohibits municipalities from enacting their own regulations with respect to lands that they own or lease, correct?

SENATOR BRADLEY: I don't think that that question ever came up in the discussion about this, but town owned land is town owned land. Obviously as it relates to seed policy, the town can't, under this, adopt a seed ordinance for that particular town. What they do on their own private land is, they're free like any other farmer to use the seeds that they feel is best. But what the town can't do is say to the rest of the citizenry, you can only use such and such seeds.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. Thank you, Senator, for answering that and clarifying that. And also, nothing necessarily prohibits towns from incentivizing ordinances that incentivize the use of certain seeds or fertilizer. It just stops towns and cities from, from prohibiting certain seeds and fertilizers.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Towns under House Bill 1233 are preempted from enacting a municipal ordinance on which seeds agriculture interests can use.

SENATOR FELTES: So, they, which can be used; however, it doesn't stop towns and cities from incentivizing however they see fit.

SENATOR BRADLEY: That would be my understanding. I don't think it's covered in the bill.

SENATOR FELTES: Okay. Thank you very much. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 1402, relative to ordinances regarding forestry activities.
Ought to Pass, Vote 5-0. Senator Avard for the committee.

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1402 Ought to Pass. This bill requires municipalities to minimize any adverse effects to forestry activities when adopting ordinances. This bill also prohibits municipalities from adopting ordinances that deal solely with forestry, which adversely affect forestry activities. This bill addresses an emerging problem that the forest products industry is facing; inconsistent, unreasonable and adverse local regulations. Because forest products manufacturers source their raw materials from across the state, they and their suppliers need to be stable and consistent regulatory framework at the, at state and local levels. House Bill 1402 creates a standard that municipalities must meet when seeking to enact ordinances, rules, or bylaws. The standard requires that the municipalities consider the potential adverse effects of a proposal on forestry activities and take reasonable steps to minimize such effects. The bill does not infringe on a municipality's authority to enact an ordinance. It merely requires the municipalities to consider the potential impact of a proposal on the forest products industry before enactment. Encouraging all stakeholders to come to the table and to minimize the adverse effects. The Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee asks for your support for the motion of Ought to Pass on House Bill 1402. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 1458, relative to exempting certain rules governing marine species from the administrative procedures act.
Ought to Pass, Vote 4-1. Senator Fuller Clark for the committee.

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1458 Ought to Pass. This bill exempts from rulemaking requirements those Fish and Game rules governing marine species managed under federal law. House Bill 1458 will allow New Hampshire to move quickly to more quickly align its rules with those adopted under federal law that manages marine species, i.e. the Magnusson-Stevens Fishery Conservation and Management Act. It is important that state and federal rules be complementary to effectively manage fisheries and to avoid confusion amongst commercial harvesters or saltwater recreational anglers. The Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee asks for your support for the motion of Ought to Pass on House Bill 1458. Thank you, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to HB 1458

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to exempting certain rules governing marine species from the administrative procedures act and relative to immunity for campground owners.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 1 with the following:

2 Findings. The state of New Hampshire finds that:

I. Camping is a popular form of recreation in the state. It affords residents of the state access to natural environments, outdoor activity and relaxation. It is a major source of tourism visits from nonresidents which generate employment, taxes and economic activity for the state. Camping, by its very nature, involves experiences in natural environments which inherently involve risks and hazards which are not present in the built environment.

II. Persons who choose to camp must accept the inherent risks of camping, without an expectation that they may recover damages if they are injured as a consequence of the experience they have selected.

3 New Subdivision; Campground Immunity. Amend RSA 216-I by inserting after section 15 the following new subdivision:

Campground Immunity

216-I:16 Definitions. In this subdivision:

I. "Camping" means all aspects of visiting, staying at, and using a recreational campground or camping park.

II. "Inherent risk of camping" means a danger or condition that is an integral part of camping, including but not limited to the following:

(a) Naturally occurring features of the natural world, such as trees, infectious agents, tree stumps, roots, brush, rocks, mud, holes, sand, standing water, and soil.

(b) Uneven or unpredictable terrain.

(c) Natural bodies of water and the use of natural bodies of water, including swimming, and aquatic sports.

(d) Another person at a recreational campground or camping park acting in a negligent manner, where the campground owner or employees are not involved.

(f) Campfires in a properly constructed and maintained fire pit or enclosure provided by the recreational campground or camping park.

(g) Weather.

(h) Insects, birds, bears, and other wildlife.

(i) Violation of safety rules or disregard for signs indicating danger.

(j) Actions by campers or visitors which exceed their physical limitations or abilities.

(k) Animals owned by other persons which cause injury or death, unless the recreational campground or camping park has accepted responsibility for care of the animal or has actual knowledge that the animal poses a hazard to the safety of other campers.

(l) Activities undertaken by a camper or visitor, utilizing the camper's own equipment, and undertaken for the purpose of exercise, relaxation, or pleasure, including but not limited to hunting, fishing, picnicking, exploring, bicycling, horseback riding, operation of a powered vehicle, cutting wood, water sports, harvesting the products of nature and any other outdoor sport, game, or educational activity.

III. "Willful disregard" means conduct committed with an intentional or reckless disregard for the safety of the actor or others.

216-I:17 Immunity.

I. Except as provided in paragraph II, a campground owner, including any employees, officers, and agents of a campground owner, shall be immune from civil liability for acts or omissions related to camping at a recreational campground or camping park resulting in the death of or injury to a person, or damage to property, caused by the inherent risk of camping.

II. The provisions of paragraph I shall not apply if the campground owner, including any employee, officer, and agent of a campground owner seeking immunity:

(a) Intentionally causes death or injury to another person or intentionally causes damage to property.

(b) Acts with willful disregard for the safety of another person or property.

(c) Fails to conspicuously post warning signs of a dangerous, inconspicuous condition known to him or her on a recreational campground or camping park, if he or she is aware of the condition.

III. This section shall not be construed to limit the immunity created under RSA 212:34.

4 Effective Date.

I. Section 1 of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill exempts from rulemaking requirements those fish and game rules governing marine species managed under the Magnusson-Stevens Fishery Conservation and Management Act. The bill also provides immunity for campground owners and establishes exceptions to immunity under certain circumstances.

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Mister President. This, this amendment has to do with a bill that we recently passed and we'll try and give it another shot. It has to do with the campground immunity bill and I ask for your support in passing this bill. We've already passed it once and giving it another shot. Thank you, Mister President.

Recess. Out of recess.

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn.)

SENATOR WOODBURN: I have a question about the germaneness of marrying these two bills together.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Good question.

The Chair ruled sections of the Floor Amendment non-germane.

Without objection, Senate Rule 3-17 is suspended to allow consideration of the non-germane Floor Amendment. Adopted by the necessary 2/3 vote.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise in opposition to this Floor Amendment erasing negligence claims against campground owners. Well, if you want to vote for this, I hope you don't go camping because access to justice is going to be out the door. Don't vote for this. The House killed it overwhelmingly and put it on the Consent Calendar, so I would encourage you to vote this down. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn.)

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition as well and I do so with concern, not so much about the camping, but I voted for this bill because I felt it would help our campgrounds and it was important to do that. I'm concerned about the process, and I'm concerned that marrying these two things together will, will create a difficult situation for this very, very important bill. Very important that we need to protect our, our species. They're important species, even though there's not as many in my district as in some other district, they're still important and I'd hate to see us lose this. We can find another vehicle to do this on, but this season where we have to choose between bills that we support, it's going to get harder and harder, but I think we need to not disrupt the process and hurt these very important bill that we're trying to pass. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise and ask the body to support the amendment. We have to remember some basic facts here, ladies and gentlemen. A. we already have very similar protections in the ski industry that we all have supported forever because we recognize being outside has its own inherent dangers. We should also recognize the fact that this does not cover you on a property that's built, or in a building, or in a pool, or anything. This is incidental trip and fall stuff in the woods that quite frankly if you're walking in the woods and you trip over a stump you should take responsibility for it, frankly. So, it's very common sense. It doesn't jump the shark per se that it provides completely blanket immunity here. This is very limited for cases where people need to take a little personal responsibility. So, I would ask that the body support the amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I'd like to remind the body that this was voted positively out of this body and Senate Judiciary heard this bill and one of the things that we heard was that campground owners were having a very, very difficult time getting insurance because of a lot of frivolous lawsuits from the trip and fall type things that the Senator from District 9 spoke of. We know that a lot of people come here in the summertime. They love to enjoy the woods and wilds of New Hampshire. And it's going to be a little more difficult if we don't have campgrounds available for these folks to, to go to. They're going to go someplace else. I don't want to lose that business and I would hope my good friend from District 1, who has a great deal of campgrounds up in his district, wouldn't like to see the loss of that business because when you lose the campers, you lose the little, the mom and pop stores that sell the groceries; the farmers perhaps that sell produce to the folks that come up; maybe our state liquor stores because people like to sit outside, enjoy the wilderness and have a few drinks with their friends. We don't want to see that start to affect other areas. This is a growing area of revenue for our state. It has always been something that we have supported, and I would hope Mister President, that the members of this body will support our campground owners and allow them to have this very limited immunity. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. Very briefly, I stand strongly in support of this. I have a number of campgrounds in my district. And virtually all of them are very concerned at what's happening to their insurability because of frivolous lawsuits. This is no different than the immunity we grant ski areas, already in existence. Because people get hurt when they're skiing, there's an inherent risk when you ski. There's also inherent risk when you're at a campfire. It's an inherent risk when you're walking to a bathroom in the dark in the campground, okay? What this says is if the campground owner is negligent, to the point of being reckless, he disregards a threat that's very clear. There's a big boulder in the way or a tree fell and he didn't clear it. That's one thing, but these frivolous lawsuits are beginning to represent an existential threat to the campgrounds in our state because their insurability is at risk. And for that reason, I strongly support passage of this bill. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise respectfully to respond to the comments from my good friend from District 14. I just don't think it's a very good marketing tactic to say come to New Hampshire and camp where if you get injured or your child gets injured, you cannot get access to justice. How is that a good marketing technique? I don't think it is. And by curbing the ability to file claims, you're not going to get rid of frivolous lawsuits. You're not. There'll still be, to the extent there are frivolous lawsuits, there'll still be frivolous lawsuits. There'll still be that, nothing prevents people from filing cases. So, I don't see how this does us any good. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Soucy.)

SENATOR SOUCY: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise in opposition to this amendment. This body had a very, very lengthy debate on this issue and it's true that the body did pass it, but there are two important things that I think you should note. One is that what drove this legislation was not lawsuits, but what drove the legislation was a change in the insurance market. And one of the major carriers of campground policies decided it wasn't going to do business in the state. So, that changed the landscape for campground owners. So, that's the issue that we should try to be working with them on. But I would also point out that this bill had a very lengthy hearing in the House and a very large House Committee considered this legislation and they defeated it, resoundingly. So, the problem is if we send this green species bill over to the House with something that they've already killed, they can't entertain it. So, we put the underlying bill in jeopardy as well. If you're aware of the House rules, you'd know that's the case. They're not going to be able to look at it. This isn't a good thing to be doing right now to this underlying piece of legislation. We've had the debate over the merits of this bill. I think we should let the situation stand as is and move forward with the underlying bill, and for those reasons I oppose this amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Hennessey.)

SENATOR HENNESSEY: Thank you, Mister President. I rise briefly in opposition to the amendment. And one of the things that I heard over and over I'm hearing in the committee, I heard here about frivolous lawsuits. So, I probably annoyingly, asked pretty much every single member, owner of a campground, if they had ever had a frivolous lawsuit or any lawsuit and not a single person was able to tell me that they had. Just so you know. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn for a question of Senator Carson.)

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you, Senator, for taking my question and we, we agree on this issue on the issue of campground immunity. I just wanted to ask you if you can find another vehicle, or more importantly, and I know you're, you're excellent at putting complicated, difficult negotiations with the House and the Senate together, is that, can we find a way to move this forward because the real fight here is not in this body, but over there, to get a compromise that will win House support. And I guess there's a question in there somewhere, but I appreciate your leadership and know you're good at putting these tough deals together.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you for those kind words, Senator. I didn't choose to put this here. This is not my amendment, but this issue did come in front of our committee and it would be up to the sponsors to decide the vehicle. I do believe the bill has merit. I think there were some issues that were outside of this bill that were at play in the House, and that I think that if we had another opportunity to work with the House, I think we, we can get the job done and I'd like to see if we can.

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you. I very much appreciate it. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Avard.)

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Mister President. I just have to stand up and defend one of the larger industries in our state, which are campgrounds. They dwarf the ski areas. We have a number of campgrounds in the state of New Hampshire and the owners of these campgrounds care about their campgrounds and they care about the security and the well-being of their campground. If, if we're going to say, well, hey, come to the ski areas, they got immunity and if your kid gets hurt, you're not going to be able to sue, you're saying the same thing about the campgrounds. That's not fair. That's not fair. That's a false narrative and false narratives hurt industry in New Hampshire. I heard a testimony, in the House side, well, these campground owners can have drug users and there's going to be needles everywhere. Needles. Oh, my goodness. These are the most irresponsible people that you could possibly have and you shouldn't go there if they're not going to have the ability to sue. That's a false narrative. Narratives need to be honest. These, this industry needs protection like the ski areas. If we're not going to have it for the campgrounds, then we should not have it for the ski areas. The owners of these campgrounds are responsible individuals who want a thriving business and a fair shuffle. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Lasky for a question of Senator Avard.)

SENATOR LASKY: Yes, you just stated that if we're not – if we're going to do it for the ski areas, we should do it for the campgrounds. Where does this end? If we grant immunity to campgrounds and to everyone who may get hurt, you know walking around, whatever. Where does this end?

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you for the question, Senator. And I think as far as the recreational part of our industry in our state, campgrounds, ski areas, people that are coming to visit our state should have an equal playing field.

SENATOR LASKY: So, does that mean we would grant immunity to museums? To other public areas that people use when they come to New Hampshire? That's, that's my issue.

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you for the question, Senator. And I'm not sure, but I think municipalities and museums that are owned by the municipalities enjoy a certain degree of immunity.

SENATOR LASKY: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn for a question of Senator Avard.)

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you, Senator for taking my question, and I probably should have asked you instead of the Senator from District 14. I greatly appreciate your passion on this issue, I really do. But passion isn't going to get it done when the people across the hall here are against it. So, my question to you is, how has your effort to try to convince them of your position as a Republican controlled Legislature, how have you brought your passion to them? And the second part of the question is, what have you done to try to find compromise to bridge the gap here, so we can move this good bill forward?

SENATOR AVARD: I thank you for that question and I'm not going to reveal my secrets.

SENATOR WOODBURN: Then keep working on it then, Senator. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I would like you all to join me in reading the content of the bill. "Inherent risk of camping" means a danger or condition that is an integral part of camping, including but not limited to the following: Naturally occurring features of the natural world, such as trees, infectious agents, tree stumps, roots, brush, rocks, mud, holes, sand, standing water and soil. Natural features. Uneven or unpredictable terrain. Natural bodies of water and the use of natural bodies of water, including swimming, and aquatic sports. Another person at a recreational campground or camping park acting in a negligent manner, where the campground owner or employees are not involved. A lack of lighting at campsites. Campfires in a properly constructed and maintained fire pit or enclosure provided by the recreational campground or camping park. Weather. Insects, birds, bears and other wildlife. Violation of safety rules or disregard for signs indicating danger. Actions by campers or visitors which exceed their physical limitations or abilities. Animals owned by other persons, which cause injury or death, unless the recreational campground or camping park has accepted responsibility for care of the animal or has actual knowledge that the animal poses a hazard to the safety of other campers. Activities undertaken by a camper or visitor, utilizing the camper's own equipment and undertaken for the purpose of exercise, relaxation, or pleasure, including but not limited to hunting, fishing, picnicking, exploring, bicycling, horseback riding, operation of a powered vehicle, cutting wood, water sports, harvesting the products of nature and any other outdoor sport, game or educational activity.

This is not an all-inclusive you're off the hook. This says natural components of the camping environment cannot be used as a basis. And you're right, Senator from District 15, and Senator from District 18, and Senator from District 5. Anyone can sue anytime, okay? What this does it, it protects the businesses from the insurance claims that continue to occur and continue to increase that don't get taken to litigation. Because many of these campgrounds can't afford to go to court over the issue and it's cheaper to settle out. When they settle, they pay the deductible and the insurance company pays the rest. The instance of those is skyrocketing because of the litigious nature of our society. This is a business-friendly bill. This bill helps businesses that are part of the core of the North Country in which I and the Senator from District 1 reside. As I said, the absence of this bill poses an existential threat to campgrounds that will not be able to gain insurance, not because of suits, but because of claims. For that reason, I ask you to please support this bill and do what's right for the businesses and the campground owners of our state. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Lasky for a question of Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR LASKY: Senator Giuda, thank you for taking my question. Much of what is in this bill and much of what you say I totally agree with. I do think, however, it goes too far. What would you say to the person who is injured, or their child is injured, whomever, in a wheelchair because a campground worker who is immune by this legislation, left a bucket of something out, left a tool out, left, was negligent in, in doing their work and you could not get any relief by this bill? It seems to me –

SENATOR GIUDA: I disagree.

SENATOR LASKY: You just blanketly disagree.

SENATOR GIUDA: That's reckless. An act like that, okay, where a person leaves a tool out is a reckless act.

SENATOR LASKY: Not – okay. Secondly, it just seems to me and would you believe, or would you agree, that the campground owner's beef is not with who may or may not sue as we've heard testimony that there hasn't been any, it's with the insurance companies. Would you believe?

SENATOR GIUDA: I would believe that campground owners have to exist in a business environment we create. And we don't control insurance companies or private entities. They also are part of the environment. When they make a change to that business environment that becomes the existential threat to these enterprises, we as a Legislature, should respond in an appropriate way and that's what this bill does. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn for a question of Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR WOODBURN: Senator, I, I agree with you in policy. I'm concerned is the political malpractice. What have you done? Because talking isn't doing around here. We've got to get things done, it's important. My question for you is, what have you done to convince your party to join us in passing this bill, across the hall, what House, you came from the House. What have you done to either convince them or find a compromise to move this forward? Without that, this is just, unless we change it, how do we get the House to support this bill? What are you doing?

SENATOR GIUDA: First of all, I disagree on the premise of political malpractice. I think that you indict this entire body when you make such a comment. This is a part of the political process and the process of negotiations involves putting things at risk, okay? And so, for that purpose, this is a bill that is key to the North Country that you represent as well as I, and the businesses there, okay? And so, we should be supporting this regardless of an underlying bill. We can get them both. This is called negotiations and it happens all the time in the political realm. Thank you, Mister President.

Senator Birdsell moved to call the question. Adopted.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Mister President, I have to disclose that my brother owns a campground. I have no interest in it, but in case it presents a conflict, I want that on the record, I will be participating.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Senator Avard, seconded by Senator Sanborn.

The following Senators voted Yes: Giuda, Bradley, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard, Carson, Reagan, Birdsell, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: Woodburn, Watters, Hennessey, Kahn, Lasky, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Soucy, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark.

Roll Call, Yeas: 14 - Nays: 10. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

(The Chair recognized Senator Cavanaugh for an introduction.)

SENATOR CAVANAUGH: Thank you, Mister President. I'd like to welcome the fourth graders from Dunbarton Elementary School. I hope you enjoy your visit today and give us all a great big wave.

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. Seeing as it is again very warm in here today, I would like to make the request that would allow the gentlemen in the chamber to remove their jackets.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Request is granted.

FINANCE
HB 1104-FN, relative to dredge and fill permit time limits; relative to time limits under the administrative procedure act; and relative to online filing with the secretary of state's office.
Ought to Pass, Vote 6-0. Senator Daniels for the committee.

SENATOR DANIELS: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1104 Ought to Pass. This bill establishes time limits in several areas in an effort to streamline processes for certain state agency actions. This helps to hold state agencies accountable to action within reasonable time frames. Specifically, the bill shortens certain time limits related to wetlands permits and terrain alteration; establishes a time limit for recommendation on grant of right petitions for excavating and dredging in public waters; reduces certain time limits for agency actions on applications under the Administrative Procedure Act; provides that failure of an agency to act within certain proscribed time limits under the Administrative Procedure Act shall be treated as agency approval; and requires the Secretary of State to allow online businesses and corporate filings. And finally, establishes and clarifies certain time limits for agency action on applications, petitions and requests by the Department of Health and Human Services, the Public Utilities Commission, the Department of Employment Security, the Insurance Department, and the Department of Environmental Services. And the Senate Finance Committee unanimously recommends passage of HB 1104 and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

Senator Woodburn is in opposition to the motion of Ought to Pass on HB 1104-FN.

HB 1316-FN, relative to revenue collected from concealed carry licenses. Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 4-2. Senator Giuda for the committee.

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1316-FN ITL. This bill would restrict the first $400,000 per year of unrestricted General Fund revenue, and currently, the Permits and Licensing Unit is funded by the Criminal Records Fund. I would ask the body to overturn the Inexpedient to Legislate motion, so that a further motion can be introduced by the Chairman of Finance. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Inexpedient to Legislate. Failed.

Senator Daniels moved Ought to Pass.

Senator Daniels offered a Floor Amendment.

Floor Amendment to HB 1316-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to revenue collected from concealed carry licenses and relative to funding the permits and licensing unit of the state police.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 1 with the following:

2 Pistols and Revolvers; License to Carry. Amend RSA 159:6, I(b) to read as follows:

(b) The license shall be in duplicate and shall bear the name, address, description, and signature of the licensee. The original shall be delivered to the licensee and the duplicate shall be preserved by the people issuing the same for 5 years. When required, license renewal shall take place within the month of the fifth anniversary of the license holder's date of birth following the date of issuance. The license shall be issued within 14 days after application, and, if such application is denied, the reason for such denial shall be stated in writing, the original of which such writing shall be delivered to the applicant, and a copy kept in the office of the person to whom the application was made. The fee for licenses issued to residents of the state shall be $10, which fee shall be for the use of the town or city granting said licenses; the fee for licenses granted to out-of-state residents shall be $100, which fee shall be for the use of the state. [~~Of the revenue collected by the state, the first $400,000 in each fiscal year shall be credited as agency income to the department of safety, division of state police, support services bureau, permits and licensing unit, and the remainder shall be credited to the general fund. Any unexpended agency income shall lapse to the general fund at the end of each fiscal year.~~] The director of state police is hereby authorized and directed to prepare forms for the licenses required under this chapter and forms for the application for such licenses and to supply the same to officials of the cities and towns authorized to issue the licenses. The form shall require no more information than was required on the state of New Hampshire application for pistol/revolver license, form DSSP 85, as revised in December 2009. No other forms shall be used by officials of cities and towns. The cost of the forms shall be paid out of the fees received from nonresident licenses.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill requires a portion of revenues collected from concealed carry permits to be credited to the permits and licensing unit of the state police for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018. The bill also prohibits the use of the criminal records fund to cover any costs of the permits and licensing unit of the state police.

SENATOR DANIELS: Thank you, Mister President. When this bill came to Finance, we rejected it initially because it took $400 – $400,000 from the unrestricted General Fund revenue and put it into an account in the Department of Safety, but it did so on an ongoing basis and we felt that the, that should not happen. That it should come before Finance as a regular issue within the budget as it's developed. Subsequent to Finance voting Inexpedient, we had a discussion with the sponsor who indicated that the intent of the bill was not to do it on an ongoing basis, which the bill did, but to do it for one year because currently that fund, which the 400,000 is going to, they are taking money out of a dedicated fund for criminal background checks.

So, the other issue that this does, the amendment does in addition to limiting that to one year, is it prevents them from taking money out of that criminal background checks. So, the way it would work is that for one year, which would end in July 1, 2019, the first $400,000 of unrestricted revenue from out-of-state gun permits would go to this Department of Safety account. They would be prohibited from taking any more money out of the criminal background check and will force us to deal with a sustainable source of funding for this account in the next budget. I would appreciate your support. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes for a question of Senator Daniels.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Senator, for taking my question. If you flip to page 2, line 1 through 3 of your Floor Amendment, I'm just going to highlight this language, it says, "no funds from this account shall be transferred or used to cover any costs of the permits and licensing unit of the Division of State Police". That's a pretty significant policy change. What's the purpose of doing that?

SENATOR DANIELS: The purpose is currently, currently again, the, if you look on, trying to find the agency that is funding now. Whatever account that it's going into, they're taking money out of a dedicated fund and I guess this has been happening, but the amount of money that's taken to run that specific part of the department is more than, than what's necessary. On Line 17? No. The amount that they're using is actually cutting into the, the funds that are necessary to run the background checks, so they're not having enough money there. So, the intent of this is to provide enough money for this part of the agency to be able to run until July 1, 2019 without taking more money out of that account. That's what this does. So, it's just for a one-time thing and you'll see that the effective dates are separated, so we're saying that sections 2 and 3 will take effect in July 2019. Those force us to take care of the issue within the budget. The remainder taking effect in 2018 allows that 400,000 for one year to flow to the agency.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. Thank you, Senator, for taking my question. Part of the intent of Representative Umberger and Representative Weyler's bill was to help with the backlog of permitting and licensing which this precludes, help to, based on the language I just read. Doesn't this undermine one of the major purposes of the bill?

SENATOR DANIELS: My understanding, no. I mean, I had explained it to OLS the way that Representative Umberger had, had told me that she had wanted it to be done. Actually, we've looked at the Department of Safety Division of State Police, Support Services Bureau Permits and Licensing Unit. That's where, that is the account right now, the division that is taking money out of the criminal backgrounds check. That's on line 20 in the crossed out portion of the amendment. And that's, that's what's referenced, is that no more money shall be transferred out of that account being the dedicated account to cover any of the costs for that. That's what the 400,000 is going to be covering.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Senator. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR KAHN: The licensing problems that are being faced by the Department of Safety, which are extensive, extensive. Who has not had a complaint from somebody in their district that this is ridiculous how long it takes? So, we have had any number of bills in front of us in this legislative session to try to have temporary licensing and, and try and give more backdoors to, to our current operations in the Department of Safety. The commissioner, as I understand his priorities, is to place this function, this function of permitting of firearms, place the dollars collected from it to operate that licensing, and to then have the dollars available from criminal history background checks and other licenses to operate that division. And here's the major benefit of doing this. There are forty-one different locations in this state that have electronic fingerprinting machines. You look at the newest one and you look at the oldest one. The oldest one looks like an IBM 1963 version. You walk into a room that needs to be dedicated to it, it's huge. You go to the most, most current and it is a tabletop device. Forty-one of these and there probably aren't enough. The commissioner would take these dollars and apply them to adding more, which would only enable people to do this in their local environment. Get these background checks, the fingerprinting done, accelerate the process and I think this amendment gets in the way of that. I'm going to vote against this because I just don't believe that it's in their best interest for workforce development, for helping getting people into the workforce and for helping modernize this department. Thank you, Mister President.

Ought to Pass, Vote 5-1. Senator D'Allesandro for the committee.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1356 Ought to Pass. This bill requires the Department of Environmental Services and the Department of Health and Human Services to establish a data sharing protocol regarding certain health and environmental information collected by each agency. House Bill 1356 also makes a supplemental appropriation of $75,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 2018, and the sum of $392,304 for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 2019 to the Department of Business and Economic Affairs for the costs of relocating the department's operations to a new premise and for the costs of leasing the premise. The Governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sums out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated. The Senate Finance Committee recommends passage of House Bill 1356 and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to HB 1356

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to data sharing between the department of environmental services and the department of health and human services; making an appropriation to the department of business and economic affairs for relocation costs; and relative to the exemption for recreational vehicles from property taxation.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 2 with the following:

3 Taxation of Property; Exemption; Recreational Vehicles. RSA 72:7-d is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

72:7-d Exemption; Recreational Vehicles. For purposes of this chapter, recreational vehicles, as defined in RSA 216-I:1, VIII, having a maximum width of 8 feet and 6 inches while being transported, and located at a "recreational campground or camping park," as those terms are defined in RSA 216-I:1 VII, shall not be taxable as real estate.

4 Definition of Recreational Campground or Camping Park. Amend RSA 216-I:1, VII to read as follows:

VII. "Recreational campground or camping park" means a parcel of land on which 2 or more campsites are occupied or are intended for temporary occupancy for recreational dwelling purposes only for an undetermined or indefinite amount of time, and not for permanent year-round residency, excluding recreation camps as defined in RSA 485-A:23.

5 Effective Date.

I. Section 1 of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

II. Sections 3 and 4 of this act shall take effect April 1, 2019.

III. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Requires the department of environmental services and the department of health and human services to establish a data sharing protocol regarding certain health and environmental information collected by each agency.

II. Makes a supplemental appropriation to the department of business and economic affairs for relocation costs.

III. Removes the requirement that recreational vehicles exempt from property taxation have a valid motor vehicle registration and number plate; removes the requirement that campground owners provide local assessing officials with the name and address of recreational vehicles at the campground that fall within the tax exemption; and amends the definition of recreational campground or camping park to mean campsites intended for temporary occupancy for an undetermined or indefinite amount of time.

Recess. Out of recess.

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you very much. To the body, I introduce Amendment 1869s, which is language off a bill which I think was Senate Bill 403, which passed this body 23-1 because Mister President that was a day that rarely happens, but Senator French was being Senator French. But today, he is committed to vote so it's a 24-0 vote. Same policy we talked about before which recognizes RVs for being standing for an indetermine or indefinite period of time. I ask the body to continue the same support that it had last time. Thank you, Mister President.

HB 1427-FN, relative to the reduction in the calculation of state retirement system annuities at age 65.
Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 4-2. Senator Daniels for the committee.

SENATOR DANIELS: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1427 Inexpedient to Legislate. This bill would provide for the application of the reduction of a Group I retiree's annuity at the member's full retirement age under the Federal Social Security System rather than age 65. House Bill 1427 raises the age at which the New Hampshire Retirement System benefit decreases ten percent from age 65 to age 67. The cost of this benefit would be paid by an increase in the employer contribution to the Retirement System. A majority of the committee members viewed the impact of the bill as increasing costs to cities and towns, which have been estimated at 10.4 million for fiscal years '20 through '22. The Senate Finance Committee recommends HB 1427 be found Inexpedient to Legislate and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to the ITL motion here. This is an issue that was discussed at great length on the Decennial Pension Commission as the Senator from District 14 will recall and we voted to approve this change for a couple reasons. I mean first and foremost it's not any of our retiree's fault that the Federal Government raised the retirement age, and they're being penalized for that. So, years ago when we had this reduction of the benefits, if somebody retired before age sixty-five and they retired at sixty-five, then all of a sudden, they're looking at 10 percent reduction in their benefits. Well, and the idea of the original bill was age sixty-five was chosen because that was the federal age of retirement. And now the feds have raised it to sixty-seven and we're telling these people well, we're going to whack your pension because of what the Federal Government did, take 10 percent of. And it's also, another reason we thought this was a good idea was because it became a disincentive or, you know, the people who for a variety of reasons, you know, just aren't going to be able to make it to sixty-seven. And you know, when I was working as a carpenter I remember, I was a young guy and doing all this and that. Then one of the other carpenters said, "Dave, show me the old carpenters, we're the old carpenters". And yeah, age fifty, age fifty-five, you're broken down. So, I know there's the consideration of the expense to the municipalities. We know that, but this is a simple matter of fairness and justice to put our system in accordance with what the feds are doing, so we don't penalize our retirees. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Soucy.)

SENATOR SOUCY: Thank you, Mister President. I speak in opposition to the current motion as well. As my colleague just stated, the design of this system was done at a time when the retirement age for social security benefits was age sixty-five. People who had started working, people who were in the process, people who were paying their contributions right along had an anticipation that they were going to be able to retire, that there would be a reduction and I would point out, this legislation does not do anything to the reduction, we could be looking at perhaps changing that, but this doesn't. All this says is it should coincide with the actual social security benefit coming in which is now at age sixty-seven. This, for many retirees, is a challenging and burdensome problem. There were people as I said who started working in this system many years ago who have right along been paying their full contribution and yet this benefit change has had a substantial impact on their ability to make ends meet in their retirement. For those reasons, I would hope that all of you will think about our retirees and their service to our state and to our municipalities and vote down the Inexpedient, so that we can offer another motion. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Inexpedient to Legislate.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. If you believe that it's time to move forward with this to coincide with the what the Federal Government has done in terms of classifying retirement and help our seniors, so their retirement benefits aren't cut would you vote no on Tabling, so we can move on to Ought to Pass? Thank you, Mister President.

PRESIDENT MORSE: If you're in favor of Tabling, you're going to say aye. If you're opposed, you're going to say nay.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. Amendment to HB 1468

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing a commission to study legislative oversight activities related to the department of health and human services and relative to the nursing home bed moratorium.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 2 the following and renumbering the original section 3 to read as 4:

3 Residential Care and Health Facility Licensing; License or Registration Required. RSA 151:2, VI is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

(a) No new license shall be issued for, and there shall be no increase in licensed capacity of, any nursing home, skilled nursing facility, intermediate care facility, or rehabilitation facility, including rehabilitation hospitals and facilities offering comprehensive rehabilitation services. This moratorium shall not apply to any rehabilitation facility whose sole purpose is to treat individuals for substance use disorder or mental health issues.

(b) This moratorium shall not prohibit the relocation or transfer of beds to a nursing home, skilled nursing facility, or intermediate care facility; provided that the beds to be transferred or relocated were in existence as of July 1, 2016, that the receiving facility is located in the same county as the facility where those beds were located as of July 1, 2016, and that the action shall not reduce the number of Medicaid beds located in that county. This restriction on transfers shall not apply to any beds transferred from one entity to another before the effective date of this paragraph.

(c) This moratorium shall not prohibit the relocation or transfer of beds to a rehabilitation facility, including rehabilitation hospitals and facilities offering comprehensive rehabilitation services; provided that the beds to be transferred or relocated were licensed on July 1, 2016. This restriction on transfers shall not apply to any beds transferred from one entity to another before the effective date of this paragraph.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes a commission to study legislative oversight activities related to the department of health and human services.

This bill also establishes a moratorium on licenses for new health care facilities and increases in licensed capacity in existing facilities, except for rehabilitation facilities whose sole purpose is to treat individuals for substance use disorder or mental health issues.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I move House Bill 1468 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill

HB 1592-FN, requiring the commissioner of the department of environmental services to review standards relative to arsenic contamination in drinking water.
Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 3-2. Senator Reagan for the committee.

Senator Reagan moved to Lay on the Table HB 1592-FN.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR FELTES: Mister President, if you know as I know that this bill establishes and requires the establishment of safe drinking water standards for arsenic, including consideration of the costs and benefits of that standard, and if you further know that this passed unanimously out of the policy committee, would you now vote no on Tabling, so we can finally move forward with rulemaking to establish standards on arsenic in drinking water? Thank you, Mister President.

PRESIDENT MORSE: If you're in favor of Tabling you're going to say aye. If you're opposed, you're going to say nay.

A roll call was requested by Senator Avard, seconded by Senator Feltes.

The following Senators voted Yes: Giuda, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard, Reagan, Birdsell, Gannon, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: Woodburn, Bradley, Watters, Hennessey, Kahn, Lasky, Carson, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Soucy, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark, Innis.

Roll Call, Yeas: 11 - Nays: 13. Failed.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. I would argue that we turn down Inexpedient to Legislate for the same reasons we turned down the motion to Table. It's about time that we finally move forward with drinking water standards for arsenic in the state of New Hampshire, which considers cost and benefits through the rulemaking process. Thank you, Mister President.

SENATOR REAGAN: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1592 Inexpedient to Legislate. This bill would require the Department of Environmental Services to review the arsenic maximum contaminant level for public water systems and the arsenic ambient groundwater quality standard to determine whether they should be lowered and if it is determined that either should be lowered, initiate rulemaking to do so. If the department were to lower these standards, it would mean significant increased costs for some of the affected facilities, such as entities that own public water systems, wastewater lagoons, landfills and other facilities that discharge the groundwater. In addition, the department does not currently have staff or the expertise necessary to independently review available research regarding the health effects of arsenic exposure or review data regarding the occurrence of arsenic in treated and untreated water at public water systems as the department does not normally set drinking water standards for MCLs. Committee members noted the population of the state on public water is much smaller than those on private wells, where the problem of arsenic contamination has been found to exist. Fearing the bill may be imposing an unfunded mandate on some communities as well as being very uncomfortable with the approach the bill is proposing, the Senate Finance Committee recommends HB 1592 be found Inexpedient to Legislate and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: I stand in support of the ITL, Mister President. This bill lets DES go from A directly to Z. It lets them go and establish right into rulemaking without coming back to this body for review of its work and the standard it sets. And DES, in my opinion, is the last agency in the state that's capable of analyzing the financial impact on our local businesses, and I have more than a few of my own personal constituent cases to show that. So, we're not against the idea of doing this, it's the methodology that's flawed that lets them go directly to rulemaking and bypassing this Legislature and that's a problem. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. I'll remind my good friend from District 2 that any rules go through the Joint Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules for approval, number 1. Number 2, we did this same thing with other drinking water standards with DES. DES knows how to do it and this bill; this House Bill specifically says consider the costs and benefits. And, in some cases, the Municipal Association or the BIA have opposed these kind of bills. No one opposes this bill, no one opposed it. In fact, the New Hampshire Waterworks Association supported it. So, let's move forward with this, go through the rulemaking process, the stakeholders' deliberative process, and review whether or not to set an arsenic standard that makes sense for New Hampshire. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I would remind my friend from District 15 that JLCAR does not represent the policy making bodies on this, in this Legislature. It gets the result of the policies made by the full Legislature and an issue of this importance with its potential catastrophic impact on towns, cites and water districts deserves the full review by the policy committees in both chambers. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Daniels.)

SENATOR DANIELS: Thank you, Mister President. Reading from the Fiscal Note, the department states that lowering the level for arsenic to 5 parts per billion from 10 would affect a number of facilities that hold ground water discharge permits. Of 102 facilities, including wastewater lagoons, sludge lagoons, and wastewater discharges to the ground with permits, 40 are public entities. At least eight of those facilities struggle to comply with the current 10 parts per billion limit, at least some of the time. Seven of those are outlying wastewater lagoons and one is a sludge lagoon. The facilities with persistent problems are in various stages of evaluating ways to achieve continuous compliance, typically by removing accumulated solids. The cost of compliance of these facilities is not possible to determine at the time but is expected to be 10,000 to 100,000 per year for each facility. By lowering the level to 5 parts per billion, the department estimates the number of facilities needing to take on additional cost may double or even triple. If so, the compliance costs due to lowering the limit to 5 parts per billion could be on the order of 80,000 to 1.6 million per year for all publicly owned facilities, including privately owned facilities would bring the total cost of the order to around 200,000 to 4 million per year. This is the financial impact of, of this bill. I would ask that you uphold the Inexpedient motion. Thank you, Mister President.

Recess. Out of recess.

Senator Bradley moved to Lay on the Table HB 1592-FN.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, if you know that the bill's been worked on for a very long period of time, it authorizes DES to promulgate drinking water standards with arsenic, which is one of the major causes of cancer in drinking water, if you knew that and you knew that it doesn't need further amendment, would you vote no on Tabling?

PRESIDENT MORSE: If you're in favor of Tabling, you're going to say aye. If you're opposed, you're going to say nay.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. If I know that the purpose for Tabling this bill is to allow this chamber to put it in proper format for the normal legislative process, so that the people's elected representatives can vote on a proposal brought forth as opposed to going directly to rulemaking, would I vote yes on the Tabling motion? Thank you, Mister President.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill requires the commissioner of the department of health and human services, in conjunction with the governor's commission on alcohol and drug abuse prevention, treatment and recovery, to make an annual report relative to the cost effectiveness and outcomes of programs funded in whole or in part by the governor's commission.

This bill also suspends the law regarding liquor commission shortfalls for the biennium ending June 30, 2019.

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1626-FN Ought to Pass with Amendment. The bill requires the Commissioner of DHHS, working with the Governor's Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention, Treatment and Recovery, to make an annual report relative to the cost effectiveness and the outcomes of these programs funded in whole or part by the Governor's Commission. The bill was amended to appropriate the sum of $300,000 to DHHS for the biennium ending June 30, 2019, for the purposes of developing this report. This appropriation is in addition to any other funds appropriated to the department. The Governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated. The amendment also suspends the law regarding Liquor Commission shortfalls for the biennium ending June 30, 2019. The Senate Finance Committee recommends passage of HB 1626 as amended and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The Chair ruled sections of the Committee Amendment non-germane.

Without objection, Senate Rule 3-17 is suspended to allow consideration of the non-germane Committee Amendment. Adopted by the necessary 2/3 vote.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I ask my colleagues to vote against the Committee Amendment. What this bill does is asks for a report. We get these reports all the time, and it seems to me, the efficiency of any contract you put out is based on what you ask for in the contract, the results you get and how you measure those when they return to your department. This asks for $300,000 in funds not otherwise appropriated to do this. Originally, the $300,000 was in the corpus of the bill and had to be gained through funds already appropriated. I don't think we need $300,000. I think we can spend that $300,000 on a number of other things. We have all kinds of reports that come in all the time. My colleagues, if we want or if we have $300,000 extra, I have many places to spend it. Things that we did not spend it for in the operating budget that we can use this money for. I hope my colleagues will understand. If there's a program and you have a question on its effectiveness, call the commissioner, ask for a report. That's part and parcel of their responsibility as managers of the department and managers of the dollars that we appropriate for that department. If you can't get it, we have an RSA 4:1- A. Malfeasance, misfeasance of the good of the department, you can extricate that individual from the job. I was around when we did RSA 4:1 hearings. They're still around. You don't think they're doing the job, let them know. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Failed.

Floor Amendment to HB 1626-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT requiring the governor's commission on alcohol and drug abuse prevention, treatment, and recovery to report on the cost effectiveness of funded programs and making an appropriation therefor, relative to liquor commission shortfalls, and relative to direct shipper licenses.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 5 the following and renumbering the original section 6 to read as 7:

6 Direct Shippers Licenses; Commission to Sell. Amend RSA 176:11, II to read as follows:

II. In the event that the commission determines New Hampshire liquor revenues are being diverted by actions taken by persons holding either liquor and wine representative licenses[~~,~~] or liquor and wine vendor licenses[~~, or direct shipper licenses~~] who compete directly or indirectly with the commission for market share, the commission may take such marketing or merchandising action, or both, as it deems necessary, including sanctions against the competing entities.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Requires the commissioner of the department of health and human services, in conjunction with the governor's commission on alcohol and drug abuse prevention, treatment and recovery, to make an annual report relative to the cost effectiveness and outcomes of programs funded in whole or in part by the governor's commission.

II. Suspends the law regarding liquor commission shortfalls for the biennium ending June 30, 2019.

III. Removes direct shipper licenses from consideration for diversion of revenues by the liquor commission.

SENATOR SANBORN: Mister President, thank you so much for allowing me to introduce the amendment. I'd like to talk to the body for a couple minutes about a challenge we're having in our state. Now we all understand and know that the charge of the Liquor Commission is to maximize revenue and that is the charge of the Liquor Commission. But we also have to recognize that the charge of us as Senators is also to look out for and protect our constituents. Now if some people were to take the charge of the Liquor Commission literally, it means we should raise prices on all of our stuff at the Liquor Commission. We should be 2 or 300 percent higher than any state around us. Let's gouge the consumer because that's what the Liquor Commission's saying. Who cares about the consumer? Who cares about the residents of this state? The charge of the state of New Hampshire is to maximize revenue.

Now with that philosophy, we passed a bill two years ago that gave the Liquor Commission broad sweeping powers that said in, in their sole discretion that they felt that they were not able to maximize their revenue due to competition, that we gave them the power to eliminate the competition, to prohibit people from selling products. Now the truth is Senators, the bill doesn't say that and it didn't say that. What the bill actually said was they could take whatever marketing or merchandising protocols in order to do that. But in this case today, some people would suggest there may be a little bit of an overreach. Because we know right now, even though we had a bill under consideration in this body about three months ago, that we said no to a further expansion of those powers at the Liquor Commission to punish their competitors. But the challenge is they're doing it anyway. They have made a decision to deny by refusing to renew licenses for direct shippers of product into New Hampshire.

What does that mean? Direct shippers. If any of you belong to a wine club and there are several of them. If any of you actually go out to Sonoma or Napa Valley and go to a vineyard and find a wine that you like, and it's not being sold at the Liquor Commission, it's not being sold in New Hampshire. This is your ability to say I would like you to ship me product. The challenge is the Liquor Commission has decided to deny renewals of licenses solely and specifically that universe I'm talking about. Just direct shippers of wine.

So, the question is, what are we fighting about? So, we know today that the Liquor Commission is doing some, just under $700 million a year in revenue. Direct wine shippers? $365,000 in revenue to the state of New Hampshire. So, we're seeing the state of New Hampshire saying that they can't compete on a general ledger provision, does $365,000 in 2017. So every one of us have constituencies, even some people in this room may and for the record Mister President, I do not belong to wine club; although, I must admit I have bought wine from a vineyard I visited years and years ago, but haven't done it in some time.

So, what this amendment, what this amendment does is just go back and specifically carve out just the wine clubs. This does not carve out the retailers, it does not carve out the manufacturers, it does not carve out the distributors, the big, big companies. This only carves out direct shipper licenses. What that means is again, it will send a message to the Liquor Commission that there are people in this state that would like to buy a little wine that they don't stock. And why, why on God's green earth would we be plucking the grape from the vine if it's something the Liquor Commission doesn't stock? Why would we ever want to say, the Liquor Commission doesn't want to stock it, and as a Legislature, we don't want you to be able to drink it. So, I ask the body to support the amendment, which again just looks to carve out direct wine shippers and maintain revenue for the Liquor Commission of $365,000 in taxation. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Soucy.)

SENATOR SOUCY: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise in opposition to the current amendment. Although, I do believe there is an issue, I would like to offer a different amendment if this one were to be defeated, and would be happy to discuss that amendment at that time. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I hope my colleagues will not support the amendment and will vote down the bill. I think the premise of the amendment is a good one. It has to be put someplace. I just don't think it belongs here. There's got to be a place for the amendment, it does take care of a problem that does exist and I think the Senator from District 9 articulated that well. I'm surprised he didn't have a conflict. I can't believe it, but that's wonderful. I mean it's the first time in the history of the American Dream where no conflict has been shared with us. That's great. Thank you very much, I feel good about that. So, it's a good idea without a conflict, but not on this particular piece of legislation. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Mister President, I rise, I apologize, and I thank my good friend from District number 20. I was thinking I had no conflict on the amendment because I do not buy wine direct, but Mister President, I am a licensee and based upon our current arcane ethics laws, which I think are punitive towards the business community, I am compelled to tell you I may or may not have an ethics conflict being a licensee, being a liquor licensee, and I will still participate.

Recess. Out of recess.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise again and I appreciate the opportunity that my colleague from District 18 had indicated that she too might have an amendment and I'm not here to speak to the specifics of that amendment because that language has not been shared with me Mister President. But my understanding is the amendment will not solve the problem. It will not stop what is happening today. Let us be very clear, will not stop what is happening today. Now there are people, in this case Mister President, it is the Liquor Commission, the same organization that today is using the power of the government to be punitive on these little wine companies, which surprises me because we seem to be so supportive of the nano brewers and all this other stuff, that why today we're arguing about whether or not we're going to support little wine companies. That would say, well why don't we just make it that if we have a reciprocal agreement with that other state, we'll allow those little wineries to sell to our little, our constituents. But Mister President, the truth is, if two states are arguing about something, and the two states don't have an agreement, why are we punishing the little company? Let me give you an example, Mister President, I do not know this to be true, but let's say the state of New Hampshire Liquor Commission decides it does not have a relationship with the state of New York. So, there's no reciprocal agreement. Who does it hurt? All of the little wineries in New York. It doesn't hurt the state. Doesn't hurt the state of New Hampshire, except it will lose tax revenue under this bill. It just loses the little business owner, the little wineries that are trying to ship their product to customers that want to buy their product in New Hampshire. So again, I implore upon the body to consider. This is a body that has always supported nano breweries, microbreweries, brewers, distilleries, cider makers. How many bills did we have this year Mister President, to make sure we're protecting these little industries? This amendment, 1912, will protect the little wineries and then let the states work it out. Let the Liquor Commission from New Hampshire fight with the Liquor Commission of New York or wherever. Why hold the little businesses hostage? We're supposed to be supporting our small business community. We're supposed to be supporting those people that like to buy wine and have it shipped in like some Senator sitting in this room, so they just told me. So, if you vote against this amendment, there are Senators in this room who you will be voting against them being able to get their wine. So, with that Mister President, I conclude my comments and I would ask the body to support amendment 1912. Thank you very much.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Senator Sanborn, seconded by Senator Avard.

Floor Amendment to HB 1626-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT requiring the governor's commission on alcohol and drug abuse prevention, treatment, and recovery to report on the cost effectiveness of funded programs, making an appropriation therefor, and relative to liquor commission shortfalls, and relative to direct shipper permits for out of state retailers.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 5 the following and renumbering the original section 6 to read as 7:

6 New Subparagraph; Direct Shipper Permits; Out of State Retailers. Amend RSA 178:27, I by inserting after subparagraph (b) the following new subparagraph:

(c) The commission may deny a direct shipper permit to an out-of-state retailer which is domiciled in a state that does not extend equal and reciprocal shipping privileges to New Hampshire businesses.

2018-1920s

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Requires the commissioner of the department of health and human services, in conjunction with the governor's commission on alcohol and drug abuse prevention, treatment and recovery, to make an annual report relative to the cost effectiveness and outcomes of programs funded in whole or in part by the governor's commission.

II. Suspends the law regarding liquor commission shortfalls for the biennium ending June 30, 2019.

III. Enables the liquor commission to deny direct shipper permits to out of state retailers domiciled in states that do not extend equal and reciprocal shipping privileges to New Hampshire businesses.

SENATOR SOUCY: Excuse me, sorry Mister President. Thank you. This amendment deals with the problem but takes a different approach. The approach in this case recognizes that we do care about small businesses. We care about small businesses right here in New Hampshire, so the language of the amendment quite simply would allow the commission to deny direct shippers their permit if there isn't a reciprocal agreement with the state of New Hampshire. As I said, this is an effort to deal with the problem in a way that the commission recommends and also to ensure that New Hampshire businesses are protected as well. I think it's an important tool. It's something that we, I would strongly encourage all of you to support and with that I would be happy to take questions. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise strongly against this amendment because it does not solve the problem. This is truly a question of whether or not you're going to vote to support businesses or not support businesses. That is what this amendment is about, ladies and gentlemen. Because if there is a winery, a winery, not a manufacturer, not a wholesaler, not a retailer. If there is a winery in a state of which they don't have a relation, the two states don't have a relationship, we're telling them we're not going to let them ship here. Is that pro-business? Hell, no. This is a case specifically where we're saying the only people that can do business are those that the government has a relationship with first. Is that the free market? Is that how we respect our little wineries around America? Just because the state of New Hampshire may or may not have a relationship with any one of the other forty-nine states, that by itself is going to drive whether or not someone can do business with them. Now the President reminded me earlier today that I had raised a question about when is the state of New Hampshire going to get into the direct shipping business. And he said, they've already started. The Liquor Commission, without approval that I remember in the Legislature, is already on the path to be a direct shipper. So, I come back to this basic question. Are you going to support the state of New Hampshire being a direct shipper where it wants to, but not little companies because their state isn't helping them make a relationship? In addition, there is nothing in this amendment that stops the practice that is happening right now. We know nearly fifty little wineries around America, fifty of them, have had their licenses rejected. The state of New Hampshire has not renewed them. There is nothing in this bill that is going to help them. There is nothing in this amendment that is going to give them their license to ship to people in New Hampshire back. Unless of course, the two states have some sort of an arrangement. Senators, this isn't how America's supposed to be doing business. Free market, free enterprise, we've always been kind of supporting these industries. So, I'd ask you to vote down the amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson for a question of Senator Soucy.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Senator for taking my question. Is your amendment a benefit to the small wine growers here in New Hampshire? Because the way that I read this, this is going to allow them because we will have these reciprocal relationships, they will be able to sell in these other states that we have these agreements with. So, do you see this again as a benefit to the small New Hampshire wineries, nano breweries, all these other entities that would fall under this?

SENATOR SOUCY: Thank you very much for the question, Senator. Yes, I do. The idea is to protect New Hampshire industries, recognizing that we are a control state, that our department is charged with raising revenue, we want to raise revenue, particularly of those businesses within our state that create jobs, that pay taxes, that help our economy thrive. So yes, that's what it would do. Thank you.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President. I am, I support this amendment because we have to do something. As the Senator from District 9 knows, I agree that a problem has been identified, that it is having an impact on shippers and I had wanted in our discussion yesterday to get some sense of what the financial impact was to see if it actually was significant and I thank you for the reassurances on that. And then I also was concerned that we'd be able to pass something out of this body which could have enough support from the commission that we get it through the House. Because I was concerned as it was presented to us before, we couldn't get to the House, and what's the point in this exercise. I think what's important in terms of the objection that was raised from the Senator from District 9 that we look at the amendment on line 13 where it says the commission may deny a direct shipper permit if we don't have reciprocal agreement. I think what is in here is we want the reciprocal agreements. We want to help the New Hampshire wine growers as well as the folks from out of state who want to ship in here. But I think the message from here is very clear in that word "may." It doesn't say "shall". It doesn't say if you don't have the direct, then deny them all. And I think the message from us today should be that we don't want capricious denial of these shipping arrangements unless there is some dominant reason for it. So, that word "may" means, and I say this because I want it to be on our record that we expect the Liquor Commission to stop this blanket disapproval. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator French for a question of Senator Soucy.)

SENATOR FRENCH: Thank you, Senator, for taking my questions. Could you tell me how many states do we have reciprocal agreements with and what form that agreement would take?

SENATOR SOUCY: I can't tell you the exact number. I didn't gather that information prior to today, but I'd be happy to get it to you. My understanding is that the commission, acting on behalf of the state, would engage with whatever regulatory entity exists in another state.

SENATOR FRENCH: Are there any states we have reciprocal agreements with at this time?

SENATOR SOUCY: My understanding is that there is.

SENATOR FRENCH: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: You know I wish we were going to do that for pints and growlers, but maybe wine, we'll take care of. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Adopted.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. When we did the, we voted down the committee amendment, we also inadvertently voted down the suspension of liquor revenue. So, there's an amendment coming, I understand. So right now, if it's appropriate knowing that we would take it off the Table, maybe move to Table.

Senator Feltes moved to Lay on the Table HB 1626-FN. Adopted.

PRESIDENT MORSE: We're going to limp along, but it's going to be difficult.

Amendment to HB 1743-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to funding for the Sununu youth services center and relative to positions at the department of health and human services.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Appropriation; Department of Health and Human Services; Sununu Youth Services Center. In addition to any other sums appropriated to accounting unit 05-95-42-421510-7916, the sum of $3,600,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019 is hereby appropriated to the department of health and human services for the purpose of funding rehabilitation programs and other operational costs of the Sununu youth services center. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

2 Department of Health and Human Services; Unfunded Positions. Amend 2017, 156:183 to read as follows:

156:183 Department of Health and Human Services; Unfunded Positions; Authorization. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the department of health and human services[~~, with prior approval of the fiscal committee of the general court,~~] may fill unfunded positions during the biennium ending June 30, 2019, provided that the total expenditure for such positions shall not exceed the amount appropriated for personal services.

3 New Paragraph; Commissioner; Report to Fiscal Committee of the General Court. Amend RSA 621:12 by inserting after paragraph II the following new paragraph:

III. The commissioner shall provide a monthly report to the fiscal committee of the general court the average daily census and the estimated monthly cost per resident at the Sununu youth services center.

4 Repeal. RSA 2017, 156:168, II, relative to emergency funding for the operational costs of the Sununu youth services center, is repealed.

5 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

2018-1781s

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Makes an appropriation to the department of health and human services for funding rehabilitation programs and other operational costs of the Sununu youth services center.

II. Allows the department of health and human services to fill certain unfunded positions.

III. Requires the commissioner of the department of health and human services to give a monthly report to the fiscal committee of the general court regarding the census and estimated monthly cost per resident at the Sununu youth services center.

IV. Repeals a provision relative to emergency funding for the operational costs of the Sununu youth services center.

SENATOR REAGAN: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1743 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill allows the Department of Health and Human Services to fill certain unfunded positions. It repeals a provision relative to emergency funding for the operational cost of the Sununu Youth Services Center. House Bill 1743 also requires the Commissioner of HHS to give a monthly report to the Fiscal Committee of the General Court regarding the census and estimated monthly cost per resident at the Sununu Youth Services Center. The committee amended the bill by making an appropriation in the sum of $3.6 million for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019 to the department for funding rehabilitation programs and other operational costs of the Sununu Youth Services Center. The Governor's Office is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated. The Senate Finance Committee recommends passage of HB 1743 as amended and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES
HB 1476, permitting qualifying patients and designated caregivers to cultivate cannabis for therapeutic use.
Interim Study, Vote 3-2. Senator Avard for the committee.

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill, I move House Bill 1476 Interim Study. This bill sought to allow those currently in the medical marijuana program to grow their own marijuana for therapeutic use. The committee was concerned that the bill had too many unanswered questions at this time to move forward. A motion of interim study will allow stakeholders to be able address possible concerns facing the bill. The Health and Human Services Committee asks for your support in the motion of Interim Study on House Bill 1476. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Hennessey.)

SENATOR HENNESSEY: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to the motion of Interim Study. I'm one of the two who voted against it in committee. We have already supported medical cannabis and we currently have more than 5,500 residents in this state who are in the program of medical cannabis. We still haven't found a way however to provide some of the medications to some of the people who are most in need. We, we have increased the number of, of dispensaries, but we need more. And those with disabilities often cannot get to the dispensaries we do have. Once they do get there, if they get someone to drive them there and spend a couple hours in the, the car, they can't afford it because it's costing approximately 3 to $400 an ounce. This bill was put forward in order to help a relatively limited number of people who are in the 5,500 people with cards who are actually disabled and unable to get there. And many of them came to talk to us. In fact, we had only two different groups who came to talk against the bill. Most of the people who were there spoke in favor of it. It's – we didn't leave an option as we were making medical marijuana legal to purchase cannabis if you are economically struggling and unable to buy it yourself. So, being able to grow your own cannabis, and we're talking about two plants in your own home, can greatly improve the lives of those people who can't afford it or can't get to the dispensaries. And we all know there's no mechanism for insurance to cover this cannabis. It also would have to take place – the growing would also have to be done outside of public viewing area by qualifying patients.

We heard a lot of testimony and I'm just going to go through a little bit of it because I too am hot and ready to go home. We heard from a man named Chris who was paralyzed from the waist down and, I'm sorry a woman named Chris who was paralyzed from the waist down, and medical cannabis allows her to be able to live a normal life. Cannabis has also, and we heard this from many people, allowed her to stay off of opioids, and this also, if she could, could grow it, she could afford it. People are saying that they're – another woman came, her son has epilepsy. It turns out that medical cannabis helps significantly with her son who can live a much better life, but it's very expensive for them because they have to get it regularly and it's far from their home and very expensive. The way the seedlings work, you can have two plants and twelve seedlings. The seedlings are, excuse me, are usually cut from plants you already have and, and you're generally lucky if two or three of them grow into full plants, which is why they have the seedlings. And many people stated that home cultivation is the missing link for patients that benefit from the program. There are some questions about whether it led to a black market, and although the, the department of the therapeutic cannabis program said they were neutral on the bill, they actually said that it's very unlikely that this would lead to a black market. And another question was saying that right now there are 5,500 people who are in the program, if we were to allow people to grow their own, how would that affect the price of those who are going to the dispensaries. And in fact, recently as the numbers have risen quickly since it became legal, people have been able to bring the prices down a little bit. But that really is not a legitimate concern according to those people who seem to know what they're talking about. So, I request that you vote no on Interim Study, so that another motion can be made at this critical time in the middle of our opioid crisis. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon for a question of Senator Hennessey.)

SENATOR GANNON: So, my fear would be that children, you're talking paralyzed people and they're going to have, how do you know that the pot is going to be protected from children's access? I'm very fearful as we are in a society with a growing, not shrinking drug use of our children, that they're going to have access to this and it's not going to be contained properly. How you, can you give me some assurance that it won't be available for the children?

SENATOR HENNESSEY: Well, I can tell you that the people who are in charge of this program, and in charge of the medical marijuana program, have those things to figured out in general. And I think, you know, the truth is that it's not very different than growing a lot of other things that if a child gets into them. I mean, if my dog gets into a poinsettia, it's going to kill my dog too. So, it's my responsibility with plants that can be poisonous.

SENATOR GANNON: So, what you've just said is that you can't give me any assurance that the youth of New Hampshire won't have more access to this drug.

SENATOR HENNESSESY: I can't give you any more assurance of that than I can that my dog won't be poisoned by a poinsettia.

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Reagan.)

SENATOR REAGAN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise with a little bit of experience and a little bit of history of home-grown cannabis in Maine. In Maine, the original program for therapeutic cannabis was grow your own. So, since 1999, Maine has had, allowed people to grow their own plants of cannabis limited to six plants per patient and thirty-six plants for the six people that each caregiver's allowed to provide for. My new police chief in Deerfield was the police chief of Orono, Maine, home of the University of Maine. Some people suspect that many children in college might use cannabis for recreational purposes. So, I asked him, well, how did you deal with this potential horror, and he said, it's a non-event. He said there's not a police chief in Maine that's worried about home-grown cannabis. Never was and we're coming up on twenty years for that program in Maine and it's successful and it works and we're still waiting for the first overdose death from cannabis. So, I would encourage the body to overturn the motion, so that we may come up with an alternative motion.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. The black market already exists. You can go down any street in this state in any town in this state and you can buy marijuana walking down the street. It's already there, okay? This is a question about medical marijuana and I've always supported the use of it. I will likely do the same here. Because again, we're dealing with people who are in difficult circumstances, remote and paying just exorbitant prices, okay? The concern that I have might be towards the quality. I have no idea how you would guarantee quality, that might be controlled, that is my concern, but at this point in time I'll be speaking in favor. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson for a question of Senator Hennessey.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you for taking my question. Can you tell me where these patients are going to get these plants?

SENATOR HENNESSEY: Well, it sounded from the people who came to testify that a number of them would probably be getting them from the dispensary, but once you get one, like once you get seedlings, you do it yourself. You are in charge of them.

SENATOR CARSON: So, you're telling us that not only are the dispensaries going to be selling the product, but now they're going to be selling plants as well?

SENATOR HENNESSEY: Well, I am not an expert on that piece of it, but that was what the testimony sounded like. And maybe somebody else can answer that question. But I believe that once you get seedlings from then on, you take cuttings like you do of other plants and you make your own, so you know what your –

SENATOR CARSON: Okay. Thank you very much, Mister President.

SENATOR HENNESSEY: Or seeds, which ever it is, but no I think cuttings too because you put them in water and then you can transfer them.

SENATOR CARSON: I don't know much about them, but the good Senator from District 4 going no, no, no.

SENATOR HENNESSEY: But that – well, apparently, he knows, but that is what they testified.

SENATOR CARSON: Okay. Sometimes you get answers you don't want to know. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Fuller Clark.)

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: Thank you very much, Mister President. I too rise in opposition to the committee position. I too voted against that position in committee and I'm here to remind us that one of the important uses for therapeutic cannabis has been for those patients who are suffering from opioid addiction. And to remind you that it has been proven to be a great source of, of success in treating those individuals and given that we have the opiate crisis that we have in this state, why would we not want to make it easier for those individuals to be able to have access to these plants that they can afford and then use to treat themselves. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn.)

SENATIOR WOODBURN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to the, the recommendation here and to just draw our attention to the, here in the Live Free or Die state, we cannot allow people to grow what they can legally possess. Does that make any sense to any of you? The prohibitionists are always going to be complicated; it's always going to be confused. This is a simple, simple. Now I can understand if you think marijuana ought to be outlawed and you think nobody should smoke it, nobody should touch it, nobody should live near it, and that's fine, but let's not make another smokescreen, Senator Bradley, about these issues that have nothing to – this is simple. We are so behind the curve on this here. All around us marijuana is going to be legal, even in Canada, and the, the times are changing and we need to get with it. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I would like to speak and I also have a question. Mister President, I think that there is holes in this and I can understand why the committee voted to Interim Study because I do believe we need additional study. There is a question of how are these people going to get these plants. You can't just buy anything off the street because this is supposed to be medicine. Medicine with very different types that are specific to different conditions, so buying generic pot off the street is not supposed to really work too well. So again, I have a lot of questions about this. I'm going to support the Interim Study and Mister President, my question is to you, if I may ask you a question. Since you, Mister President, since you are the resident expert here on growing things, do you have, and you own a very, a nursery that many of us go to, do you have anything you would like to tell us about this at all?

PRESIDENT MORSE: Senator Carson's done.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much. The Health and Human Services Committee heard a lot of testimony, both pro and con and I think you can make good arguments for and also good arguments against. And I think that we have to look back to the compromises that we've made on marijuana policy over the last several years. I've supported medical marijuana. I've supported expanding the conditions and the symptoms that our friend from Deerfield has correctly brought in front of this body to expand access to the therapeutic uses of marijuana. I've supported decriminalization. I would agree with my friend that the times are changing, but we also heard significant amount of testimony from law enforcement and the opening up of grow your own without the proper controls is a significant issue in the way that they go about doing their job. Our friend from Keene helped expand, along with our friend from Londonderry, two new access points. I would like to think that the reason for these continued amendments on grow your own is a price point. And I would like to hope that as we've expanded the number of people that are eligible for marijuana and expanded the number of access points that the price will fall because there's more demand because there are more medical conditions treated and it will be easier to get to it, as opposed to having to travel long distances. So, because of the concern of law enforcement and others, I would urge the body to stay with the motion for Interim Study and let's get on to the next bill. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Avard for a question of Senator Hennessey.)

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Senator, for taking my question. And first of all, I want to echo the sentiments of my colleague from District 3. Just a few questions because I too also supported medical marijuana and the expanding of ATCs. But with regards to the chiefs of police, in your testimony, in your statements, you didn't recognize them, and I do recall them being there. Do you recall them and they're in opposition to this bill?

SENATOR HENNESSEY: I did not get their names, but there were two groups that testify – the only people I had as testifying and signing in against it are New Futures, who also were against medical marijuana, and the, the chiefs of police. Yes, the president of the chiefs of police.

SENATOR AVARD: To the best of my knowledge, Senator Shaheen, Senator Hassan, Representative Kuster and Porter have not filed legislation to change this from a schedule 1 drug. Is that correct?

SENATOR HENNESSESY: I have no idea. I – That, that honestly doesn't affect my choice. My decision.

SENATOR AVARD: But it still makes it a federal crime?

SENTOR HENNESSEY: Well, whether they have filed or not, it makes, makes it a federal crime, that's right. So is medical marijuana in general.

SENATOR AVARD: I understand that under this bill, not only would you be able to grow your own, but you'll also be able to share that with another person who grows their own.

SENATOR HENNESSESY: Mmm-hmm. If he has a card, yes.

SENATOR AVARD: Do you, do you know of anybody else that can share a controlled substance with another person who has a prescription?

SENATOR HENNESSEY: I actually don't know anybody who has a prescription, so I can't, I can't really answer that question. I'm not sure what you're –

SENATOR AVARD: To clarify, if you need clarify. In other words, if there's any other controlled drug that you need a prescription, do you know of any controlled drug, doesn't matter which one, that you're allowed to share that prescription with another individual?

SENATOR HENNESSESY: No, in fact, I see what you're saying. This is actually, I happen to work with a lot of kids who had Adderall in college let's say, or any of the other stimulant medications, and would you believe that 75 percent of the people who are using Adderall were not prescribed the Adderall because it's not regulated in any way. Whereas, in this case, you can only be sharing it with somebody who already has gone through the whole screening process and is legally allowed to have medical, medical marijuana, and you know again, I have to ask you, if I'm growing tomatoes, I'm obviously allowed to share them with somebody. If I'm growing something that's a controlled substance, I'm allowed to, if that other person is also, has also been screened and allowed to have that. And by the way, I can keep regrowing them.

SENATOR AVARD: In that vein of thought then, if I have an opioid prescription, am I allowed to share that with another person who has an opioid prescription?

SENATOR HENNESSESY: I would say of course not, no. But if that other, if we had it in law that you could, then yes you could.

SENATOR AVARD: We're allowed twelve seeds?

SENATOR HENNESSESY: Correct, seedlings.

SENATOR AVARD: Seedlings.

SENATOR HENNESSEY: Those are the things that grow from the seeds.

SENATOR AVARD: Senator, I've seen these plants when they're full grown.

SENATOR HENNESSEY: You have?

SENATOR AVARD: Oh yeah, I've seen them. I've seen pictures, I've watched Cheech and Chong. I've seen Cheech and Chong's "Up In Smoke" and there's a lot more than twelve seeds on a plant. What is the protocol, procedures for disposing of the unwanted seeds?

SENATOR HENNESSEY: You know, you are definitely getting into the weeds, but nonetheless, we heard lots of testimony that in fact the dispensaries would assist with helping people figure out how to grow it, providing seedlings, setting up rules and regulations around, around what you do with the extra seeds. You are essentially on your honor to only let two grow into plants. Now speaking of the federal illegality, is it by any chance federally illegal for you to carry a gun into a school building.

SENATOR AVARD: Yes, it is. Unless you have a permit.

Senator Birdsell moved to call the question. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Interim Study.

Amendment to HB 1562

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to collaboration between the department of health and human services and foster parents and relative to the disposition of interests in condominium units.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Subdivision; Foster Parents. Amend RSA 170-E by inserting after section 50 the following new subdivision:

Foster Parents

170-E:51 Collaboration Between the Department of Health and Human Services and Foster Parents. The general court finds that foster parents providing care for children who are in the custody of the department of health and human services play an integral, indispensable, and vital role in the department's effort to care for dependent children displaced from their homes. The general court further finds that it is in the best interest of the department of health and human services to acknowledge foster parents as active and participating members of this system and to support them through the following foster parent rights, as primary caregivers for children in the care and custody of the state of New Hampshire.

170-E:52 Foster Parents. When a child is placed in a foster home pursuant to a juvenile court order:

I. The foster parent shall be treated with consideration and respect.

II. The department of health and human services shall consult with the foster parent prior to the release of the foster parent's address, phone number, or other personally identifying information to the child's parent or guardian.

III. The department of health and human services shall make a representative of the department available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, for the purpose of aiding the foster parent in caring for the acute needs of the foster child.

IV. The foster parent shall be given timely notice of scheduled meetings and appointments involving the foster child. The foster parent shall:

(a) Be provided with a written copy of information pertinent to the care of the child.

(b) Receive reasonable notice of any changes to the case plan.

(c) Be apprised of the number of times the child has moved from one foster home to another and, as appropriate, the reasons therefor.

(d) Have the ability to request a team meeting to address concerns specific to the child, including participation in development of the child's permanency plan.

V. The foster parent shall be given reasonable notice of any plan to remove a child from the foster home. The notice shall include the reason for the change or termination in placement, provided there is no concern for the safety and welfare of the child.

VI. Pursuant to RSA 169-C:14, the foster parent shall receive notice of all court proceedings, may submit written reports, and, at the court's discretion, may attend such hearings and provide oral reports of the child's behavior, progress, and developmental, educational, and healthcare needs.

2 New Paragraph; Condominium Act; Limitations on Dispositions of Units. Amend RSA 356-B:50 by inserting after paragraph IV the following new paragraph:

V. No unit owner, or owner of a time sharing interest as defined in RSA 356-B:3, XXVIII, shall convey his or her interest in a condominium unit to the condominium unit owners' association without the acceptance of the deed by the condominium board of directors or its managing agent prior to the recordation thereof in the county registry of deeds.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill provides for collaboration between the department of health and human services and foster parents, requires the department to provide foster parents with certain information, and enables foster parents to participate in meetings and court hearings for a child in their care.

The bill also requires the acceptance by the condominium board of directors or its managing agent prior to the conveying and recording of a deed transferring a condominium interest to the unit owners' association.

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1562 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill seeks to increase the collaboration between DCYF and foster parents. Foster parents providing care for children, who are in the custody of the Department of Health and Human Services, play an integral, indispensable, and vital role in the department's effort to care for the dependent children displaced from their homes. These changes will lead to stronger relationships between the department and foster parents in our state. Now here's a gear shift because we have an amendment to this bill and this, the amendment contained in the bill had a public hearing dealing with the disposition of interests in condominiums. How that got on this bill? I'm not sure. It must have been there. A problem is occurring where people are walking away from the interests of their condos and forcing the association to accept the deeds back. So, this amendment would allow someone to convey his or her interest in a condominium units to the condominium unit owners' association without accepting the deed by the condominium board of directors. The Health and Human Services Committee asks for your support for the motion of Ought to Pass on House Bill 1562. Thank you, Mister President.

Amendment to HB 1791-FN

Amend RSA 420-J:8, XVI as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

XVI. No contract between an insurance carrier or pharmacy benefit manager and a contracted pharmacy shall contain a provision prohibiting divulgence to a covered person or the insurance department relative to monetary matters which would prove beneficial in lowering costs to such covered person.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill declares that a contract between an insurance carrier or pharmacy benefit manager and a contracted pharmacy shall not contain a provision prohibiting the pharmacist from providing certain information to an insured or the insurance department.

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1791 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill addresses the issue of the "gag clause" in contracts between pharmacy benefit managers or health carriers and pharmacists. The committee amendment adopts the language prohibiting gag clauses in such provider contracts. The language was supported by stakeholders, including pharmacists, pharmacy benefit managers, health carriers, customers, advocates and the Department of Insurance. This will allow pharmacists to give information on monetary matters that could help lower the costs for consumers. The Health and Human Services Committee asks for your support for the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment on House Bill 1791. Thank you, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to HB 1791-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT allowing pharmacists to disclose information relative to lower cost drugs under the managed care law and relative to biological products dispensed by pharmacists.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 1 with the following:

2 Prescription Labels. Amend RSA 318:47-a to read as follows:

318:47-a Prescription Labels. Whenever a pharmacist dispenses a noncontrolled drug pursuant to a prescription, he or she shall affix to the container in which such drug is dispensed a label showing at least the name and address of the pharmacy and the name or initials of the dispensing pharmacist or pharmacist-in-charge; the prescription identification number assigned by the pharmacy; the date dispensed; any directions as may be stated on the prescription; the name of the prescribing practitioner; the name of the patient; all pertinent auxiliary labels; and, unless otherwise indicated by the prescribing physician, dentist, veterinarian, or advanced practice registered nurse, the name, strength, and quantity of the drug dispensed. All drugs dispensed to a patient that have been filled using a centralized prescription processing system shall bear a label containing an identifiable code that provides a complete audit trail of the dispensing of the drug and pharmaceutical care activities. A biological product, as defined in RSA 318:47-dd, I, shall also be labeled as provided in RSA 318:47-dd, VII. No person shall alter, deface, or remove any label so affixed. A compounded drug product shall also be labeled as provided in RSA 318:14-a, II. The compound drug product shall bear the label of the pharmacy responsible for compounding and dispensing the product directly to the patient for administration, and the prescription shall be filed at that pharmacy. Compounded prescription labels shall include the phrase "compounded per subscriber request" or a similar statement on the prescription label or through the use of an auxiliary label attached to the prescription container.

3 Substituting Generic Drugs. Amend RSA 318:47-d to read as follows:

318:47-d Pharmacies; Substituting Generic Drugs. Pharmacies, including mail-order pharmacies, may substitute generically equivalent drug products for all legend and non-legend prescriptions unless the prescribing practitioner handwrites "medically necessary" on each paper prescription, or uses electronic indications when transmitted electronically, or gives instructions when transmitted orally that the brand name drug product is medically necessary. In this section, "drug product" does not include a biological product.

4 New Section; Substituting Biological Products. Amend RSA 318 by inserting after section 47-d the following new section:

318:47-dd Pharmacies; Substituting Biological Products.

I. In this section:

(a) "Biological product" means a virus, therapeutic serum, toxin, antitoxin, vaccine, blood, blood component or derivative, allergenic product, protein (except any chemically synthesized polypeptide), or analogous product, or arsphenamine or derivative of arsphenamine (or any other trivalent organic arsenic compound), applicable to the prevention, treatment, or cure of a disease or condition of human beings.

(b) "Proper name" means the nonproprietary name for a biological product designated by the federal Food and Drug Administration license for use upon each package of the product.

(c) "Interchangeable biological product" means a biological product that the federal Food and Drug Administration:

(1) Has licensed and determined meets the standards for interchangeability pursuant to 42 U.S.C. section 262(k)(4); or

(2) Has determined is therapeutically equivalent as set forth in the latest edition of or supplement to the federal Food and Drug Administration's Approved Drug Products with Therapeutic Equivalence Evaluations.

II. The board shall maintain a link on its website to the federal Food and Drug Administration's Lists of Licensed Biological Products with Reference Product Exclusivity and Biosimilarity or Interchangeability Evaluations.

III. A pharmacist may substitute a biological product pursuant to this section only if it has been licensed by the federal Food and Drug Administration as an interchangeable biological product for the prescribed biological product.

IV. When a pharmacist dispenses an interchangeable biological product for the prescribed biological product, the pharmacist or his or her designee shall inform the patient.

V. A pharmacist shall not substitute an interchangeable biological product pursuant to this section if the prescriber indicates that substitution is not authorized by specifying on the prescription "medically necessary" on a paper prescription, or uses electronic indications when transmitted electronically, or gives instructions when transmitted orally that the biological product prescribed is medically necessary.

VI.(a) Within 3 business days following the dispensing of a biological product, the dispensing pharmacist or the pharmacist's designee shall make an entry of the specific product provided to the patient, including the name of the product and the manufacturer. The communication shall be conveyed by making an entry that is electronically accessible to the prescriber through:

(1) An interoperable electronic medical records system;

(2) An electronic prescribing technology; or

(3) A pharmacy benefit management system; or

(4) A pharmacy record.

(b) Entry into an electronic records system as described in this paragraph is presumed to provide notice to the prescriber. Otherwise, the pharmacist shall communicate the biological product dispensed to the prescriber using facsimile, telephone, electronic transmission, or other prevailing means, provided that the communication shall not be required where:

(1) There is no federal Food and Drug Administration-approved interchangeable biological product for the biological product prescribed; or

(2) A refill prescription is not changed from product dispensed on the prior filling of the prescription.

VII. The label of all biological products dispensed by a pharmacist shall include the proper name and the name of the manufacturer of the product.

5 New Section; Physicians and Surgeons; Annual Education Program. Amend RSA 329 by inserting after section 9-f the following new section:

329:9-g Annual Education Program. The board, in conjunction with the New Hampshire Medical Society and other prescribing and dispensing stakeholders, shall establish an annual education program that covers the prescribing of biosimilar and interchangeable biological products. Such program shall include a review of interchangeable biological products approved by the federal Food and Drug Administration (FDA) including any evaluation information in determining interchangeability. The annual education program shall be implemented by December 31, 2018 or prior to the first interchangeable biological product being approved by the FDA.

6 Effective Date.

I. Section 5 of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect January 1, 2019.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill declares that a contract between an insurance carrier or pharmacy benefit manager and a contracted pharmacy shall not contain a provision prohibiting the pharmacist from providing certain information to an insured or the insurance department.

This bill also establishes requirements for dispensing and substituting biological products by pharmacists and establishes an annual education program relative to biological products.

SENATOR BRADLEY: If you recall maybe a month or so ago, we passed our colleague from Newcastle's bill, Senate Bill 350, dealing with biologics and FDA approval, a new category of drugs. There was a lot of confusion about this bill when it got to the House, and they did not choose to move forward with it. I've worked with the proponents of this bill who have worked with House members and what you see is our colleague from Newcastle's bill with just a couple of changes and let me walk you through the changes. And the changes, normally we just do the Senate version, but by doing it this way, it hopefully will avoid a committee of conference. On line 23 of page 2, roman III, the wording had been "a pharmacist shall substitute", this changes it to "may." That aligns biologics with the generics law. In several places, in particular starting on line 33, it had been "within five business days following the dispensing of a biological product the pharmacist shall make the entry", this is "three" days and I think that is subsequent in another place of the bill. And lastly, section 5 is a new section that talks about an annual education program administered by the Board of Medicine in consultation with the Medical Society on dispensing. The Medical Society was the entity that had some problems with the bill and testified to that impact at the hearing in the House. I am told by the proponents of the bill who negotiated this with the Medical Society, that they are fine with these changes from the original version of Senate Bill 350 and will advocate for concurrence when it gets back to the House. So, Mister President, I would ask for adoption of Floor Amendment 1875.

Recess. Out of recess.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Senator Avard, seconded by Senator Sanborn.

The following Senators voted Yes: Woodburn, Giuda, Bradley, Watters, Hennessey, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Kahn, Daniels, Avard, Lasky, Carson, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Reagan, Soucy, Birdsell, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: (None)

Amendment to HB 1809-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to balance billing under the managed care law and relative to coverage for emergency services.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Section; Prohibition on Balance Billing; Payment for Reasonable Value of Services. Amend RSA 329 by inserting after section 31-a the following new section:

329:31-b Prohibition on Balance Billing; Payment for Reasonable Value of Services.

I. When a commercially insured patient is covered by a managed care plan as defined under RSA 420-J:3, XXV, a health care provider performing anesthesiology, radiology, emergency medicine, or pathology services shall not balance bill the patient for fees or amounts other than copayments, deductibles, or coinsurance, if the service is performed in a hospital or ambulatory surgical center that is in-network under the patient's health insurance plan. This prohibition shall apply whether or not the health care provider is contracted with the patient's insurance carrier.

II. Pursuant to paragraph I, fees for health care services submitted to an insurance carrier for payment shall be limited to a commercially reasonable value, based on payments for similar services from New Hampshire insurance carriers to New Hampshire health care providers.

III. In the event of a dispute between a provider and an insurance carrier relative to the reasonable value of a service under this section, the insurance commissioner shall have exclusive jurisdiction under RSA 420-J:8-e to determine if the fee is commercially reasonable. The provider and the insurance carrier shall each make best efforts to resolve any dispute prior to applying to the insurance commissioner for resolution, which shall include presenting to the other party evidence supporting its contention that the fee level it is proposing is commercially reasonable. The department of insurance may require the parties to engage in mediation prior to rendering a decision.

2 New Section; Reasonable Value of Health Care Services. Amend RSA 420-J by inserting after section 8-d the following new section:

420-J:8-e Reasonable Value of Health Care Services. In the event of a dispute between a health care provider and an insurance carrier relative to the reasonable value of a service under RSA 329:31-b, the commissioner shall have exclusive jurisdiction to determine if the fee is commercially reasonable. Either the provider or the insurance carrier may petition for a hearing under RSA 400-A:17. The petition shall include the appealing party's evidence and methodology for asserting that the fee is reasonable, and shall detail the efforts made by the parties to resolve the dispute prior to petitioning the commissioner for review. The department may require the parties to engage in mediation prior to rendering a decision.

3 New Subparagraph; Network Adequacy; Rulemaking. Amend RSA 420-J:7, II by inserting after subparagraph (d) the following new subparagraph:

(e) Standards for addressing in-network access to hospital based providers, such as anesthesiologists, radiologists, pathologists, and emergency medicine physicians.

4 New Paragraph; Network Adequacy; Report Required. Amend RSA 420-J:7 by inserting after paragraph IV the following new paragraph:

V. The commissioner shall provide a report annually on the findings associated with network adequacy review to the chairpersons of the house and senate committees having jurisdiction over insurance issues.

5 Coverage for Emergency Services; Definitions. Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 417-F:1, I to read as follows:

I. "Emergency services" means health care services that are provided to an enrollee, insured, or subscriber in a licensed hospital emergency facility by a provider after the sudden onset of a medical condition that manifests itself by symptoms of sufficient severity that a prudent layperson with average knowledge of health and medicine could reasonably expect that the absence of immediate medical attention could be expected to result in any of the following:

6 Managed care Law; Emergency Medical Condition. RSA 420-J:3, XV is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

XV. "Emergency medical condition" means the sudden and, at the time, unexpected onset of a health condition that requires immediate medical attention such that a prudent layperson with average knowledge of health and medicine could reasonably expect that failure to provide medical attention could result in serious impairment to bodily functions or serious dysfunction of a bodily organ or part, or could place the person's health in serious jeopardy.

7 Managed Care Law; Emergency Services. Amend the introductory paragraph of RSA 420-J:3, XVI to read as follows:

XVI. "Emergency services" means health care services that are provided to an enrollee, insured, or subscriber in a licensed hospital emergency facility by a provider after the sudden onset of a medical condition that manifests itself by symptoms of sufficient severity that a prudent layperson with average knowledge of health and medicine could reasonably expect that the absence of immediate medical attention could [~~be expected to~~] result in any of the following:

8 Report. The insurance commissioner shall make a report on or before July 1, 2020 detailing the impact of RSA 329:31-b as inserted by section 1 of this act and RSA 420-J:8-e as inserted by section 2 of the act on health insurance premium rates to the chairpersons of the house and senate committees having jurisdiction over insurance issues.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill prohibits balance billing under the managed care law.

This bill also clarifies coverage for emergency services.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1809 as Ought to Pass with Amendment. The bill prohibits balanced billing under the managed care law. Balanced billing is when a patient receives care at an "in-network" facility, in other words, covered by your insurance, and the patient expects that all services will be covered. But when a service is done by a physician or some other medical personnel that are not in the network, the patient can be stuck paying the difference. The balance of the bill. These costs can range from several hundred dollars to a lot more depending on what the service rendered was. House Bill 1809 protects the patient from these unexpected costs, while at the same time encouraging providers, insurers to collaborate on solutions to this problem. This is a necessary reform to the way health care functions in the state of New Hampshire. I would just add that through the process of the amendment in the HHS Committee, a wide array of interests from the hospitals, the Medical Society, insurers and advocacy groups came together to support this amendment, so the Health and Human Services Committee asks for your support for the motion of Ought to Pass. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment.

Amendment to HB 1816-FN

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

1 New Subparagraphs; Medicaid Managed Care Program; Waiver; Eligibility; Medical Loss Ratio. Amend RSA 126-A:5, XIX by inserting after subparagraph (g) the following new subparagraphs:

(h) The commissioner shall develop and implement enhanced eligibility screening to stop per member/per month payments to managed care organizations in a timely manner for services for persons who are no longer eligible.

(i) Notwithstanding RSA 126-A:5, XIX(a) and 2017, 258:1, long-term supports and services, including, specifically nursing facility services and services provided under the choices for independence waiver, the developmental disabilities waiver, the in-home supports waiver, and the acquired brain disorder waiver, as those waivers are issued by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services under 42 U.S.C. section 1396(c), shall not be incorporated into the department's care management program for delivery by a managed care organization, as defined in RSA 126-A:5, XIX (c)(3), under contract with the state. The department may develop a plan to offer on a voluntary basis only county or other locally-based Programs of the All Inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE) or similar accountable care organizations (ACO) models to provide on a non-fee-for-service basis nursing facility and choices for independence home care services for beneficiaries who voluntarily elect to participate. Any such plan for voluntary PACE and/or ACO models shall be approved by the oversight committee on health and human services, established in RSA 126-A:13, and the fiscal committees of the general court prior to implementation.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill declares that the remaining unimplemented phases of step 2 of the program shall not be incorporated into the department of health and human services' care management program for delivery by a managed care organization. This bill also requires the commissioner of the department of health and human services to implement enhanced eligibility screening.

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1816 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill declares that the remaining unimplemented phase of step 2 of the Medicaid Managed Care Program shall not be incorporated into the Department of Health and Human Services' Care Management Program for delivery by the managed care organizations. This bill would allow the department to develop a program to offer county or other locally based Programs of All Inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE) or similarly Accountability Care Organizations (ACO) models to provide on a non-fee-for-service basis, nursing facilities and choices for independent home care services for beneficiaries who voluntarily elect to participate. The Health and Human Services Committee asks for your support for the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment on House Bill 1816. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn for a question of Senator Avard.)

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you for taking my question. So, county governments that administer nursing homes have had a lot of concerns about this and I, I just want to make sure that I've got this right. That it's voluntary on their part to enter into an ACO or maintain their current fee for service model?

SENATOR AVARD: I believe that is my understanding.

SENATOR KAHN: If, and if, if there's, should I ask that question if somebody else could answer that, would you direct that question?

SENATOR AVARD: Absolutely. Senator Bradley's right next to me here.

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Senator, do you have the amendment in front of you?

SENATOR KAHN: I do. Page 28 and 29.

SENATOR BRADLEY: The amendment is Amendment 1770 on House Bill 1816. If you look about midway through section I, non-withstanding RSA, I'll just read it for you. The department may develop a plan to offer on a voluntary basis only county or other locally based Programs for the All Inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE) or similar accountable care organizations. You're a professor. If that doesn't say voluntary, nothing says voluntary. Thank you.

HB 1822-FN, making hormonal contraceptives available directly from pharmacists by means of a standing order.
Ought to Pass, Vote 4-0. Senator Hennessey for the committee.

SENATOR HENNESSEY: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1822-FN as Ought to Pass. This bill allows pharmacists to dispense hormonal contraceptives in accordance with a standing order entered into by health care providers. Access to birth control is an important issue that is facing the state of New Hampshire. Women should have the ability to access health, affordable hormonal contraceptives, so that they can make informed choices about their bodies. House Bill 1822-FN allows people to purchase birth control over the counter after consultation with a physician or advanced practice registered nurse. This bill is a result of a year-long study commission that examined this issue in depth. The Health and Human Services Committee asks for your support in the motion of Ought to Pass on House Bill 1822-FN. Thank you.

HB 1819-FN, relative to administration of the education tax credit. Ought to Pass, Vote 4-0. Senator Feltes for the committee.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1819 Ought to Pass. This bill makes various changes to the administration applications of awards and credits issued under the education tax credit program. This bill changes the program year from the calendar year to the fiscal year and amends the due date for reports to align with the fiscal year as well. This bill also allows a 1 million carry forward for the taxpayer for up to five years and adjusts the average daily membership to help better support local school districts. (The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn for a question of Senator Bradley)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. I apologize I wasn't prepared for this. I have just a question. I don't have the bill in front of me, my computer's down. What is the effective date today on section 9 and what are you changing it to?

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you. Hang on.

SENATOR SANBORN: And my apologies, I just caught a little off guard.

SENATOR BRADLEY: I believe this just changes the effective date on section 9 to July 1 of 2018 and the remainder of the act also takes effect on July 1 of 2018. There must be a provision in here on passage somewhere, on sixty days at some point and that's why.

Amendment to HB 1515

Amend the bill by replacing section 2 with the following:

2 Solid Waste Management; Permit Required. Amend RSA 149-M:9, XIV to read as follows:

XIV. [~~Notwithstanding any provision of law or rule to the contrary,~~] The department shall not certify as a waste-derived product the wood component of construction and demolition debris, or any mixture of or derivation therefrom, to be combusted in any manner, except [~~that~~]:

(a) Methane gas collected from the decomposition of waste at a facility authorized pursuant to this chapter as a landfill for the disposal of solid waste may be certified as a waste-derived product for distribution and use as a fuel, provided that it meets market fuel standards;

(b) As allowed under RSA 125-C:10-c, II(d).

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Mister President. I move Ought to Pass on House Bill 1515. This bill enables legislation that removes regulatory barriers that prevent the use of clean wood extracted from construction and demolition debris in manufacturing of bio-fuels. This legislation will allow a solid waste to be converted into a fuel that can be distributed and used in New Hampshire, creating jobs and reducing the amount of waste placed in landfills. The debris from these sites will be processed in a manner no less stringent than the EPA requirements ensuring that contaminants like lead are removed to prevent a public health hazard. Thank you, Mister President.

Amend RSA 125-C:10-c, II(d) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(d) The combustion of bio-oil or bio-synthetic gas produced from the wood component of construction and demolition debris using non-combustion thermal or chemical processes including, but not limited to, pyrolysis or gasification. The non-combustion thermal or chemical processes proposed shall be subject to the review requirements of this chapter, RSA 125-I, and the administrative rules of the air resources division of the department of environmental services. The wood derived from construction and demolition debris shall be processed in a manner no less stringent than the requirements referenced in subparagraph (b).

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you, Mister President. I offer amendment 1883s to House Bill 1515. This is a technical change, which is supported by the Department of Environmental Services and removes the word "biodiesel" from the bill because the statutory definition of biodiesel, which is the same as the federal definition, states that biodiesel cannot be made from wood components of construction or demolition debris because by statute it's made from animal fats, vegetable oil and meets the requirement of the American Society for Testing Materials, specification D6751. This is a common sense technical change that will create New Hampshire jobs and provide more opportunities in the North Country. Thank you, Mister President.

HB 1550, requiring electric bills to include the cost of compliance with renewable energy standards.
Interim Study, Vote 5-0. Senator Innis for the committee.

SENATOR INNIS: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1550 for Interim Study. This bill requires the cost of compliance with the state's Renewable Portfolio Standard to be included on customers' December bills along with a link to information about the state's Renewable Portfolio Standard. This bill also allows a utility to recover the costs of providing such information through a reduction in their purchase of renewable energy credits, or in making alternative compliance payments. The bill raised some unintended consequences and those effects should be reviewed more thoroughly. Please support the motion of Interim Study on House Bill 1550. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: I rise and ask the body to overturn the motion of Interim Study. I think when the committee took this bill up, we had felt that House Bill 225 provided that level of transparency on the bill for the Renewable Portfolio Statute. In reviewing House Bill 225 and House Bill 1550, I believe that House Bill 1550 would do a better job of outlining that on the bill. If we overturn the committee report, I have a Floor Amendment that fixes a couple of technical issues. Thank you, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to HB 1550

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

1 Electric Utilities; Annual Disclosure of Electric Service Energy Sources and Environmental Characteristics; Renewable Energy Standards; Billing. RSA 378:49, II(c) is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

(c) Provide such information to electric customers at least annually in conjunction with billing, whether distributed through the mail or online, or other mailed or online communication to customers, as approved by the commission, including the commission's estimated cost on a per kilowatt-hour basis for compliance with the electric renewable portfolio standard under RSA 362-F. The estimated cost for the calendar year shall be calculated once per year and provided in the customer's December bill, whether distributed through the mail or online. Each customer's bill shall identify the cost as an estimate and provide a link to information about the electric renewable portfolio standard, including its benefits, at the public utilities commission's website. The costs for a utility to provide this information shall be recovered from electric customers through the distribution rates of the respective electric distribution utility.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much. The technical fixes are on lines 8 and 9, talking about the commission's PUC's estimated cost on a per kilowatt-hour basis. Has to be estimated because of the way renewable energy credits are reconciled at the end of the year, and you see that on line 10 and line 12. A change on line 13 is the linked information. Talks about the Renewable Portfolio Standard as well as its benefits and lastly, the change on line 13 through 15, makes it clear that utilities will be able to recover their costs through a distribution rate, which is the normal way of doing things as opposed to the way that the House sent the bill to us, which was a charge against renewable energy credits. So, I think with this amendment, it is feasible to put this kind of information on a one time per year bill in December to show the cost of renewable energy. And as our friend from District 12 always says, I actually think this is a good idea for both people that think that renewables are great and for those that don't. Because I think when people realize that it's about a 1.5 percent part of their bill that will be useful information for everybody to have. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda for a question of Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Senator, for taking my question. The question is, it says the cost shall be recovered. How are those costs determined? Is there any safeguard over the utility companies, so that they can't be exorbitant in pricing that?

SENATOR BRADLEY: Well, the Public Utilities Commission has to review any cost of the distribution utility as they approve them in a rate case. So, the PUC would have control of those costs and what this does is make sure that there's a mechanism for the utility to actually recover those costs. I don't think they're going to be that significant and that was certainly the, excuse me, testimony that we heard, but this is a cleaner way to do it.

SENTATOR GIUDA: Thank you for taking my question.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment. Adopted.

HB 1313, relative to prohibitions on carrying a loaded firearm on an OHRV or snowmobile.
Interim Study, Vote 5-0. Senator Carson for the committee.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. This bill would repeal the prohibitions on carrying a loaded firearm on an OHRV or a snowmobile. The committee believed the language needed further clarity and examination before it could move forward. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Senator Daniels.)

SENATOR DANIELS: Thank you, Mister President. I rise opposed to the Interim Study motion and ask that you reject that, so I can bring forward a motion of Ought to Pass. This, this was a bill that was passed by the House. I talked to the sponsor at noontime, he had run the language by the AG who had no problem with it and I think it's a good policy to move forward, so I'd ask for your support to overturn Interim Study. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you very – Thank you very much, Mister President. I think in deference to what my colleague from Senate 11, from District 11 has said, is really one reason why this bill was Interim Study. Because I was told that the attorney general had said that there was confusion about this that needed to get cleared up. So, we're hearing a variety of different things from different people. If you look at the hearing report, only one gun group came in in support of this. We've heard from other gun groups, or I should say, I have heard from other gun groups that have problems with this language. And I think we've always decided, we've had discussions about gun bills that we like to see the gun groups all pulling in the same direction. And I, I do think again that there is some confusion out there about this with a variety of different statutes and we just need the time, the committee needed the time to do, to clear them up. And unfortunately, we did not have the time to do that. That's why we Interim Studied the bill. Mister President, we, just yesterday, we concurred with the House on Senate Bill 500. The majority of the committee believed that Senate Bill 500 took care of this problem, but then we started hearing that no, it didn't. So again, there's just all this chatter out there with not one, one particular voice. And that is why we Interim Studied the bill. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President. I, I rise to support the amendment of Interim Study. We've dealt, we've looked at this issue a number of times, even back when I was on Fish and Game in the House. So, I just thought, earlier this week I had the opportunity to talk to one of our lieutenants in Fish and Game. And I asked him about this, and he said well, you know, he has asked his colleagues in other states who have this kind of thing. And this is what he was told, that it's awfully common to see these vehicles in other states where they permit this with lots of bullet holes in the floor. And he related to me one incident where a hunter had been shot by his dog because there was a loaded weapon in the OHRV. So, I don't know, maybe we ought to keep the guns out of, of paws, I don't know, but I think we ought to pause on this bill and vote for Interim Study. Thank you, Mister President.

Amend RSA 32:5, V-a as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

V-a. The legislative body of any town, school district, or village district may vote to require that all votes by an advisory budget committee, a town, school district, or village district budget committee, and the governing body or, in towns, school districts, or village districts without a budget committee, all votes of the governing body relative to budget items or any warrant articles shall be recorded votes and the numerical tally of any such vote shall be printed in the town, school district, or village district warrant next to the affected warrant article. 2018-1802s

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill permits the budget committee to require that the numerical tally of all votes be printed on the affected warrant unless the legislative body has voted otherwise.

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Mister President. This bill permits elected municipal budget committee or an elected advisory budget committee to require that the numerical tally of all votes be printed on the affected warrant unless the legislative body has voted otherwise. I recommend to the body that you Ought to Pass with Amendment on House Bill 1392. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gray.)

SENATOR GRAY: Thank you, Mister President. The bill has an unintended consequence, I should say the amendment, that in RSA 32:24, it gives the school administrative district, when they create an advisory budget or finance committee to assign the duties and powers of a municipal or school administration as the school administration sees fit. So, by assigning a duty in there, we're actually subverting this paragraph. I have an amendment that fixes that in there, so it is a replace all, so whatever you do on the amendment you do and then I would like to present the amendment that puts the fix in it.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill permits the budget committee to require that the numerical tally of all votes be printed on the affected warrant unless the legislative body has voted otherwise.

SENATOR GRAY: From the amendment that the committee did, we deleted just a couple of words and those words are "the budget" or "the budget committee". Again, in the bill, there is budget committees that are adopted under RSA 32:4. The only other budget committees in there which the amendment would refer to are the advisory ones and the advisory ones statute gives the power to set their duties and responsibilities to, reserves it to the locality, so this corrects that by deleting that first reference to budget committee. I would ask you to support that amendment.

FINANCE

HB 169-FN, relative to limits on wagers in charitable games of chance. Inexpedient to Legislate, Vote 3-3. Senator D'Allesandro for the committee.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 169-FN Inexpedient to Legislate. This bill increases the limit of a single wage from $4 to $10. The Lottery Commission assumes an increased maximum wager amount will increase the popularity of charitable games and the amount of money players will spend and lose. Pursuant to RSA 284:21-J, I, the Lottery Fund balance is deposited in the Education Trust Fund. Some committee members cautioned going, going down this road. The opportunity is ripe for some players to lose a lot of money. The state will not be the beneficiary of this proposal. More importantly, however, there is nothing in the legislation to address what is not being addressed, namely, the problems that arise from gaming. Unable to reach a consensus, the Senate Finance Committee recommends HB 169-FN be found Inexpedient to Legislate and asks for your support. Thank you, Mr. President.

(The Chair recognized Senator French.)

SENATOR FRENCH: Thank you, Mister President. I ask this body to overturn that recommendation of ITL, you included, Senator. No? Oh, excuse me. So, I could bring forward an amendment that everyone here will just simply love. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon for a question of Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR GANNON: I just wanted to understand this, Senator. It was $4, when was that set?

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: First of all, thank you for the question. I, I could give you a little historical, the first bet was $2, then it was increased to $4. This calls for an increase to $10. The timing between, I don't know, maybe eight years or something of that nature.

PRESIDENT MORSE: 2014, Senator.

SENATOR GANNON: 2014. From 14 to now.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: 2014, so it's four years.

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I ask my colleagues to support the Inexpedient to Legislate motion. If we wanted real gambling in this state, we would have voted for a bill that myself and other Senators have brought forth for the last twenty years. Since that time, we've had the birth and growth of a number of charitable gaming casinos. Those charitable gaming casinos are active throughout the state. They started out with a table bet of $2, it was increased to $4. This bill is calling for an increase to $10. What does that mean to the player? The player means – it's, the player, it means those pots are going to get exponentially larger, they could go into the thousands of dollars. If indeed you're going to have that, we should have had legitimate gambling where the state would have received 35 percent. And, if we had done this when it was first proposed, we would have brought the state about $200 million. Now that's an underestimate because twenty years at 100 million a year would have put us in the $2 billion category, but there was a start-up situation, so I'll say to you, that we could have done a number of great things for the state. We could have retained a wonderful venue in Salem, Rockingham Park, which was a staple for the state of New Hampshire for over 100 years. What I'm saying though is this. The $10 bet, if you want charitable gaming and we have it, it's not going to disappear. The $4 bet produces, and you've heard from all of these charities how much money they get, and that money has been increasing they say on a yearly basis. There is no reason to take the individual, put him in that position to lose more money. If it's charitable gaming, we accept it, it's going as it is. But to increase it makes it more real gaming, and that's a dangerous situation without all of the oversight that should be there if indeed that's, that's going to happen. As I say, there's a new casino opening up in Berlin as we speak. There are a couple in Nashua that are ongoing, there are many others throughout the state. I think there's a couple in Keene, right? There's one in Keene, they can only have one before the growth pattern begins. But indeed, increasing the bet makes no sense to me, it makes no sense to me. Thank you, Mister President.

SENATE CLERK'S NOTE

Due to uncontrollable circumstances there was a loss in audio transmission in regards to the beginning of Senator Daniels' remarks.

(The Chair recognized Senator Daniels.)

SENATOR DANIELS: …Inexpedient, so that we can take up a further amendment. Two points that I'd like to bring out that the increases would allow New Hampshire charities to compete with Maine and Massachusetts, both of which have similar limits. And secondly, there's an estimated increase of more than 800,000 in state revenues and greater revenues for the charity organizations. Remembering that those charity organizations perform functions that might otherwise end up in our lap asking that we support them through the state budget. So, I'd ask that you overturn the Inexpedient. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator French.)

SENATOR FRENCH: Thank you, Mister President. Once again, I'd just like to ask this body to overturn the ITL. I too regret that we could not pass casino gambling, which would have probably been the best thing to happen to the state. I had to go all the way to Mohegan Sun on Tuesday and lose my money down there with my father, instead of going to caucus and if we had it here, I could have done both, but regrettably we didn't see fit. But I don't think, and I really don't think, we should be punishing the charities that depend on this type of gambling by limiting it as much as we do. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Inexpedient to Legislate.

A roll call was requested by Senator Kahn, seconded by Senator Sanborn.

Floor Amendment to HB 169-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to limits on wagers in charitable games of chance and licensing historic racing.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 1 with the following:

2 Limitation; Application of Chapter to Historic Racing. Amend RSA 284:1 to read as follows:

284:1 Limitation. This chapter shall be construed to apply only to running or harness horse racing, whether live, [~~or~~] simulcast*,* or historic, or simulcast dog racing.

3 Racing and Charitable Gaming; Historic Racing. Amend RSA 284:6-a, VI to read as follows:

VI. The lottery commission shall not authorize the use of any electronic gaming device in connection with the acceptance of wagers on running or harness horse racing, whether live, historic, or simulcast, or simulcast dog racing, the type of which was not in use prior to January 1, 2011, unless specific authorization for such electronic gaming device is enacted by the general court. Electronic gaming devices shall mean and include all electro-mechanical instruments and devices used for the purposes of gaming, other than wagering on live, historic, or simulcast horse racing or simulcast dog racing, whether in physical presence or through the Internet, and such shall include, but not be limited to, video slot machines and other gambling devices which function or are designed to function to emulate a video slot machine[~~ or historic racing machine~~]. This section shall not be interpreted to prohibit licensees under RSA 284 from replacing equipment used in the conduct of wagering on live, historic, or simulcast horse racing or simulcast dog racing, which type of equipment was in service prior to January 1, 2011, with updated or new equipment which are the functional equivalent of the machines which are being replaced, provided the equipment is not an electronic gaming device as described in the previous sentence. This section shall not be interpreted as prohibiting licensees from accepting account wagers in compliance with applicable rules and regulations.

VII. Notwithstanding the provisions of RSA 284:6-a, VI, the lottery commission shall authorize wagers on historic horse races, whether on an electronic gaming device or otherwise, so long as such wagers meet the requirements of this chapter.

4 Rulemaking; Historic Horse Racing. Amend RSA 284:12, IV to read as follows:

IV. The sale of pari-mutuel pools as authorized under RSA 284:22, [~~and~~] RSA 284:22-a, and RSA 284:22-b.

5 Investigation Fees. Amend RSA 284:12-a, I to read as follows:

I. No person, association, corporation, or any other type of entity shall hold any live running or harness race or meet, shall offer wagers on historic horse races, or shall conduct any simulcast running or harness horse or dog race or meet, at which pari-mutuel pools are sold without a license from the lottery commission.

6 New Section; Requirements for License to Conduct Historic Horse Race Wagering. Amend RSA 284 by inserting after section 15-d the following new section:

284:15-e Requirements for Conducting Historic Horse Race Wagering.

I. Any person, association, corporation, or any other type of entity who holds a license under RSA 284 to accept pari-mutuel wagers may accept wagers on historic horse races.

II. Any person who holds a license under RSA 287-D may accept wagers on historic horse races.

7 New Section; Parimutuel Pools on Historic Horse Racing. Amend RSA 284 by inserting after section 22-a the following new section:

284:22-b Pari-mutuel Pools on Historic Horse Racing.

I. In this section:

(a) "Historic horse race" means:

(1) Any horse race, whether running or harness, that was previously conducted at a licensed pari-mutuel facility;

(2) Concluded with official results; and

(3) Concluded without scratches, disqualifications, or dead-heat finishes.

(b) "Licensee" means:

(1) Any person who, as of December 31, 2017, holds a license under RSA 284; or

(2) Any individual, association, partnership, joint venture, corporation, or other organization or other entity which holds a license under RSA 287-D and meets the requirements of RSA 284:15.

II. A licensee under this chapter or RSA 287-D may sell pari-mutuel pools on historic horse races provided such sales are within the enclosure of the facility at which the licensee holds a license.

III. In accordance with the provisions of RSA 284:6-a, wagering on historic horse races may take place on electronic gaming devices provided that:

(a) All wagers use the pari-mutuel method of wagering;

(b) A licensee at all times maintains at least 2 terminals offering the same type of wager on historic horse races;

(c) The terminal makes available true and accurate past performance information on each historic horse race prior to the patron making his or her selections;

(d) The terminal shall display a replay of each race, or a portion thereof, whether digital or by way of a video recording, and the official results of each race. The identity of each race shall be revealed to the patron after the patron has placed his or her wager;

(e) The terminals have been tested by an independent testing laboratory to ensure integrity and proper working order; and

(f) Each terminal displays pool amounts that the patron will receive for a winning wager on each pari-mutuel wagering pool.

IV. Racing officials, any employee or owner of the person who provides the totalizator system to the licensee, and any person responsible for the operation of the electronic reproduction equipment which operates the historic horse racing and wagering shall be prohibited from participating in wagering, directly or indirectly, on historic horse races offered at the licensee's facility.

V. The licensee commission on all historic horse race pari-mutuel pools shall be at a rate of not greater than 19 percent. In addition to the above commission, 100 percent of the odd cents of all redistribution based on each dollar wagered exceeding a sum equal to the next lowest multiple of 10, known as "breakage," shall be paid to the lottery commission. Each licensee shall pay the tax provided for in RSA 284:23.

VI. Each licensee shall collect an amount equal to the tax provided for in RSA 284:23, I(b). Each game operator employer as defined in RSA 287-D who is licensed to conduct wagering on historic horse racing under this chapter shall distribute 35 percent of the amount collected to charitable organizations with whom the game operator contracts on each licensed game date. The remainder of the total amount collected by the game operator employer under this paragraph shall be paid to the lottery commission for use according to the special fund established in RSA 284:21-j.

8 Effective Date.

I. Section 1 of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill raises the limits on wagers in charitable games of chance.

This bill also defines and regulates pari-mutuel pools on historic horse racing.

SENATOR FRENCH: Thank you, Mister President. This amendment you've probably seen this several times. I feel like the Senator from District 20 coming before the floor all the time with great legislation. We passed it before, I ask you to pass it again. This is just a case of history. This teaches the players' history as well as give them the opportunity to gamble. It's a little historic racing bill and I thank you very much.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 407-FN, requiring workers' compensation to cover prophylactic treatment for exposure.
Ought to Pass, Vote 5-1. Senator D'Allesandro for the committee.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank You, Mister President. I move House Bill 407-FN Ought to Pass. This bill expands, expands the scope of covered Workers' Compensation claims under RSA 281-A to include preventive treatment for emergency response, public safety workers exposed to certain defined airborne diseases, such as pertussis, tuberculosis and the hepatitis C virus, and thus avoid the onset of such airborne diseases in exposed workers. Expanding preventive treatments may reduce costs if it helps to avoid the onset of an airborne disease and related treatment costs. The Senate Finance Committee recommends passage of HB 407-FN and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 1101-FN, regulating groundwater pollution caused by polluting emissions in the air and relative to standards for perfluorochemicals in drinking water, ambient groundwater and surface water.
Ought to Pass, Vote 6-0. Senator Feltes for the committee.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1101-FN Ought to Pass. This bill would require a limited, but unknown number of additional facilities to apply for state air permits related to compounds that may be emitted in the air and deposited on the ground, thereby contaminating groundwater, and also pay associated fees required pursuant to RSA 25-C. The Department of Environmental Services would have to adopt new rules regarding air emissions of compounds impacting soil and water. This would also require DES to set Maximum Contaminant Levels and Ambient Groundwater Quality Standards for perfluorochemicals, otherwise known as PFCs. An MCL would be required to be set for both PFOA and PFOS. The ACQS for these chemicals would then have to be reviewed to determine if new standards are needed. To establish and review these standards, a toxicologist and human risk assessor would both be needed starting in FY 2019, and there's an appropriation for these two positions. Let me pause there and say that this requires DES to do rulemaking. It doesn't require those rules to come back for a full vote of the Legislature on these standards. The Senate Finance Committee recommends passage of HB 1101-FN, and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 1102-FN, enabling the department of health and human services to contract with certain certified physicians.
Ought to Pass, Vote 6-0. Senator Daniels for the committee.

SPECIAL ORDER

Without objection, Senator Bradley moved to special order HB 1102-FN to the end of the calendar. Adopted.

HB 1103-FN, relative to financial responsibility for voluntary services provided pursuant to a report of abuse or neglect that is "unfounded but with reasonable concern."
Ought to Pass, Vote 6-0. Senator Feltes for the committee.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1103-FN Ought to Pass. This bill removes the state's right of recovery for the cost of voluntary services provided to children and families in cases that are deemed "unfounded but with reasonable concern." In such cases, any services provided by the Department of Health and Human Services may be paid from available TANF reserve funds. The Senate Finance Committee recommends passage of HB 1103-FN and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to HB 1103-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to financial responsibility for voluntary services provided pursuant to a report of abuse or neglect that is "unfounded but with reasonable concern"; relative to eligibility for the New Hampshire home visiting program; relative to the Home visiting program; and making an appropriation to the department of health and human services for community-based prevention and diversion programs for children and youth.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 1 with the following:

2 New Section; Protection for Maternity and Infancy. Amend RSA 132 by inserting after section 10-d the following new section:

132:10-e Home Visiting Program. The New Hampshire home visiting program shall be available to Medicaid eligible families without restriction.

3 New Paragraph; Services for Children, Youth and Families; Incentive Funds. Amend RSA 170-G:4 by inserting after paragraph XIX the following new paragraph:

XX. Encourage cities, towns and counties to develop and maintain prevention programs, court diversion programs and alternatives to out of home placement for children, youth and families through the transfer of funds to cities, town and counties which have or are developing such programs. The transfer of funds shall be in such amounts as are appropriated by the general court for this purpose. The method of distribution shall be based on rules adopted by the commissioner pursuant to RSA 541-A. For the purposes of this paragraph, prevention programs shall include programs or activities for the prevention of child abuse and neglect as well as programs or activities for the prevention of children in need of services (CHINS) and delinquent behaviors.

4 Department of Health and Human Services; Incentive Funds for Community-Based Services; Funding Source. The department of health and human services is authorized to utilize up to $1,000,000 in the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019, for the purpose of funding community-based services under RSA 170-G:4, XX. The sum shall be a charge against the excess appropriation allocation account established in RSA 126-A:75, as inserted by legislation which becomes law in the 2018 general session. If the excess appropriation allocation account in RSA 126-A:75 does not become law, the sum of $1,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019, is hereby appropriated to the department of health and human services for the purpose of funding community-based prevention programs and services pursuant to RSA 170-G:4, XX. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

5 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Provides that voluntary services provided pursuant to a report of abuse and neglect that is unfounded but with reasonable concern shall be exempt from parental liability for reimbursement. The department may use available federal TANF reserve funds to pay for the services.

II. Provides that the New Hampshire home visiting program shall be available to Medicaid eligible families.

III. Makes an appropriation to the department of health and human services for community-based prevention and diversion programs for at risk children and youth.

SENATOR FELTES: The Senate this year has taken strong bipartisan votes on child protection, including on preventative programs, community-based prevention programs and Medicaid home visitors. What happened in the House is a number of things got taken out of our child protection bills. This restores two of them that we passed. Number one, Medicaid home visiting, which is so critical, especially with the rise of the incidence of neo-natal abstinence syndrome, opioid addicted babies to provide support for parents, and particularly mothers in this situation without restriction. That's section 2 of this amendment. Section 3 of this amendment adds the one million that was cut by the House from the 1.5 million from community-based prevention programs which incentivized cities, towns and counties to maintain prevention programs, court diversion programs, alternatives to out-of-home placement for children, youth and families and prevention of child abuse and neglect. The senator from District 3, District 17 and 14 have worked on this for a long period of time. These are cost effective programs that prevent abuse and neglect down the road. They prevent out of home placements, which are costly to the state. And they help parents of at risk children and at risk families, parents in distress, including helping mitigate what's going on which is a spike in parental termination cases in part based on opioid addiction, but also in part based on the absence of these preventative programs. Again, we've already passed this. This doesn't restore all of the things that the House changed, but these prevention programs are cost-effective, save us money in the long run and prevent the future mistreatment of children. So, I would encourage us to adopt Floor Amendment 1916s. Thank you, Mister President.

Recess. Out of recess.

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn for a question of Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you for taking my question. Can you think of a more legitimate purpose of government than protecting children?

SENATOR FELTES: No.

SENATOR WOODBURN: Can you explain to us in the 2007-2008 budget where New Hampshire was back then in terms of child protection, early intervention, voluntary services in those areas and where we are today?

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you for the question, Senator. If you look at the real dollars, even with the package that Senate Democrats did not negotiate with the House, even if you look at Senate Bill 592, 590, we're still short of where we used to be in real dollars for DCYF and child protection services, including community-based protection and voluntary services.

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you for the answer to that question. As hard as it is to believe, we tried this idea, this experiment in 2000, 2008 to abandon our children, not provide the services. What results do we have today in 2018 from that abandonment of our responsibility?

SENATOR FELTES: Senator, I think we've seen the spike in out-of-home placements. I think we've seen the spike in parental termination cases. I think we've seen the spike in abuse and neglect cases. I think we've seen the state, just today, resolve some litigation pertaining to the abuse and neglect for about 6.4 million. These investments in community-based prevention are cost effective, they have a return on investment, they prevent the future mistreatment of our children and they prevent future costs on the state, including some of the ones that I just articulated.

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. I rise with some regret to speak against this amendment. We've done a lot of good work in this room and our friends on the other side of the wall have also done a lot of good work. And I sat in Division III, chaired by Representative Byron with Representative Rosenwald, Representative Nordgren, Representative Mary Jane Wallner. There are a lot of advocates, both substance abuse advocates and child care advocates because there are two provisions in here. And to a person, they asked me to protect the compromise and that's what happened with our friends in the House. A compromise on Senate Bill 590, which I sponsored, and Senate Bill 592, which our friend from Londonderry sponsored. And I'm just doing this off the top of my head, but in those bills, we added fifty-three new positions to DCYF. That's on top of twenty that we funded in the budget. In the budget, we created the child advocate position, we increased foster care rates, we added $1.5 million for voluntary services and $500,000 for the program that is envisioned in paragraph 3 of the Floor Amendment. So, yes, our friends in the House cut that by a million dollars, and they also removed the home visitation program. You don't always get everything you want, but when you have a deal that's a bipartisan deal that is going to improve child protection in the state of New Hampshire, you don't start bidding it up, at least in my humble opinion.

And we heard discussions about 2007. I wasn't here then. He wasn't the Chair of Senate Finance. I think our friend from Manchester might have been. Someone else was, but it wasn't. So, whatever happened in 2007 didn't happen because of our side of the aisle, but we have led in a bipartisan basis and you're going to see a lot more of that bipartisan accomplishment when we get to the last bill on the Addendum Calendar. Sometimes you don't get everything you want, my friend, and continuing to push for absolutely everything you want, might create a house of cards on this entire bill and risk the entire bill. Because when your colleagues on your side of the aisle come to me and say, this is great, we're okay with this, we didn't get everything we wanted, but we can live with it. When the advocates tell me that, people that made you, made me their legislator of the year even, New Futures. When they say they can live with it, I think that's good enough for the rest of us. Let's protect the underlying compromises that have been achieved on Senate Bill 313, Medicaid expansion, Senate Bill 590 which deals with mental health and other issues, Senate Bill 592 that deals with all the child care issues and the DD community and accept that this is major accomplishments. I agree, we need to, we really needed to upgrade DCYF and we've all agreed on that. Although some of us voted for it last year, some of us didn't. So, if we're going to have these kind of floor amendments, it kind of upsets the apple cart, and upsetting the apple cart means we all lose and the biggest losers are the children in the state of New Hampshire. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro for a question of Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Senator Feltes, thank you for accepting the question. Senator Feltes, where's the money going to come from?

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you for the question, Dean. If you look at the amendment, the money, one million dollars will come from the excess appropriation account developed in Senate Bill 592, which is the CHIP money, about 25 million coming to the state. Right now, based on Senate Bill 592 and other measures that CHIP money, there's plenty in that account to take care of children. And if Senate Bill 592 doesn't pass and everybody here I think agrees to concur, so we'll see if that's a problem. If Senate Bill 592 doesn't pass, it'd be out of funds not otherwise appropriated.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. I respect and appreciate the comments of my friend from Wolfeboro, and I respect and appreciate his work on these issues. This compromise did not involve Senate Democrats at all. Not at all. So, I'm a co-sponsor of the bill, a number of people here are co-sponsors of the bill. A number here have worked hard on this, so, and we 're not asking for everything we wanted. We're asking for the two most critical prevention pieces that were taken out. The two most critical prevention pieces that were taken out. Home visiting for at risk mothers and children, children born with neo natal abstinence syndrome, number one. Number two, prevention services, community-based prevention services that are cost-effective return on investment, prevent the future mistreatment of our children and save money down the road. If we can't agree to do 1 million from an excess appropriation fund of CHIP money of 25 million for children, I don't know what we can agree on. Again, Senate Democrats were not involved in this. We've passed these bills. A lot of people worked a very long time on these bills, and a lot of people think that the bills that were passed out of the Senate didn't go far enough. I thought that was a reasonable compromise. And these last hours of this session, as we're sitting here, you know, sweating it out and we're going to be leaving for the summer into the fall, let's do this. Let's do this. Let's make sure what we passed on two provisions, not all of them, but two of them. Let's make sure we do it. Let's make sure we do it before we depart. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: I just say to my friend, the reason I was involved was I sat in Division III day after day after day after day. Monday mornings, Monday afternoons, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, Friday morning, Friday afternoon. I wasn't the sponsor of all the bills. If you'd wanted to be involved, you should have been right there. So, please don't tell me that Senate Democrats weren't involved because all you had to do was be there. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you very much, Mister President. I think first, to our majority leader. We applaud the work that you did, and the fact that we weren't, we weren't there. We had enough confidence and faith in you representing us to be there and I respect that work. What we did here, by, I'm kind of thinking it was a 24-0 vote, is sent some stuff over to the House with, clearly, there was enough financial backing there to do what had to be done, and we all want children, I mean that's our main focus is to take care of the kids so, take no angst against a senator saying the democrats weren't there. I say you were there, alright, and we worked with you and I, I think you knew exactly what the situation was. The question that, that I think really has to be addressed by this body is was it good enough? Was the final result good enough in light of the fact that we had the financial resources to address this. If we didn't have the money that would be a different situation, but if we have the money, shouldn't it be used most effectively to take care of the most needy, and that is that issue that's before us. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Birdsell for a question of Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Thank you for taking my question. What happens with all the work that you did on the previous bill and with this one if we send this over with this amendment attached? One, does it put the work that you did in jeopardy and two, what happens to this underlying bill?

SENATOR BRADLEY: I think it would be more what it would do to the underlying bill. We will be in possession of Senate Bill 590 and 592, so we can concur. But what it does, what it does is it just undermines the ability to be able to work together and get to yes. And usually in this building when we do big things it generally is bipartisan, and I've been in environments before, which is why I'm so glad to be here and not in Washington, where you don't get the opportunity to do bipartisan work very often. Here we do. And so, when people give their word on something, that matters in a place like this. And you know what, I'd like to fund this too, make no bones about it. But there is a much longer term, we need to be able to work together to continue to fight the opioid crisis, the mental health crisis, the Division of Children Youth that needs upgrades and that means being able to cooperate with our friends on the other side of the wall. Not just today in the spring of 2018, but in 2019 and 2020. This ain't just one game. It's not even one season. It's a lot longer than that and your word is your word here and I just don't know how else to say it. "Yes" is hard. And when you start to do things that just upset the apple cart, "no" becomes easy. And "no" is not a very good answer when we're dealing with mental health, or the need for Medicaid, or opioids or DCYF, some of the top priorities that we've all had here. So, I'm kind of flummoxed that as this has been explained and as I think I indicated before, I know my friend wasn't there, but who was I working with? Yeah, Danielson, Kurk, Byron, but also Wallner, Rosenwald, Nordgren. I mean that's pretty bipartisan. So, whatever. Shame on me I guess, but that's how I feel. And there's a long term here and we have an obligation to set the stage for long term success in this room and not upset the relationships that build that success. Thank you.

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. It's correct. I wasn't in the room to make the deal. I respectfully disagree with the deal and I respect all the work that the Majority Leader and everybody has done on this. So, you can disagree, and we disagree, and that's okay. So, let's vote this amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn.)

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you, Mister President. And I want to honor our colleague, our Majority Leader for his commitment. But what I haven't heard here and maybe it's because I'm a teacher from the North Country, and I've seen the DCYF situation and I've talked with my fiancé, is a social worker who sees it every day, is the focus on children. Let me just be clear. I don't care what it costs to protect a kid from being killed. I don't care because every life has value and has respect and this is not about awards or advocates, this is about kids. I look at a kid and say, we didn't do our job and we got, we got sued and we have to pay. The money's nothing compared to the child. We need to do better, we need to do better. We are the wealthiest state in the country, and we can't protect our children? Shame on us, shame on the ideology of abandonment, and let's do it, let's get this thing done and let's get to work. Let's stop pointing fingers and stop worrying about who's getting credit, who's not getting credit. Let's do the work that we need to do. We can afford to do it; we can afford not to abandon our children. In 2007 and 2008, I don't think we were wasteful. I think we were doing the minimum and now we've dropped below that and we puff up or chest that we're doing so much, we should be patted on the back and get awards and be carried out as great champions of children, but we're spending less and the results are clear. Let's do more. Thank you, Mister President.

President Pro Tempore Carson presiding.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Madam President. Guilty by insinuation, once again. There isn't a person in this chamber, Senator, Madam President, who wishes ill on any child in this state and to insinuate that, I'll be kind, is hogwash. We're spending tens of millions of dollars revamping programs at DHHS to care for children in an extremely dynamic situation, while we're dealing with an opioid crisis and we've committed tens of millions of dollars and fifty-seven new employees to dealing with the crisis. There isn't a person here that doesn't love every single child in this state. There isn't a person here that doesn't want the best thing for every single child in this state. We've done an excellent job at dealing with it, we will continue to do it. We don't live in a vacuum. There's a political process and that process requires negotiation. Like it or not, it's not a perfect world and nobody gets everything they want. But if this is a compromise, it accomplishes all the underlying objectives and moves the ball ahead, then I think it's a good compromise. I stand proud to support it. Thank you, Madam Chair.

(The Chair recognized Senator Morse.)

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Madam President. I just want to remind everyone of where we came from and I know this will sound like the same story I tell every time, but I was here in 2011 and I saw that mismanagement that was in the state of New Hampshire. 11.5 billion of supporting what you thought were great ideas and only raising 10.7. And thank god, Governor Lynch basically said let the Legislature do what it wants and I'll manage it because he managed to that number because it was never going to come. That's what happened. I remember some of the people that were kicked out of the negotiations and I wasn't even here because we wanted to do things with just a couple of people upstairs in the Senate offices. I think we've been more inclusive under my presidency than anyone else. And I'll remind you, you didn't vote for the budget, Senator. And that budget did a lot for the state of New Hampshire. We are adding $60 million right now for people that said we're not spending, and if we hadn't protected ourselves and done good budgeting and if Washington hadn't passed tax cuts, this DSH payment that we're going to approve this afternoon would have ate up every dollar. Because it's Washington dollars that are coming in. This Senate should be proud of what it's done. And to basically say over $1 million that we're not doing enough for children, we've worked so hard on DCYF, Madam President, and trying to make people accountable on mental health, on the Sununu Center. There isn't one of you that doesn't ask the question every day.

The Commissioner has been to us a dozen times talking about mental health and our problem is we've got no place to put anyone. And I know Senator Bradley went to one of you today and said listen we're going to try to solve some housing problems, today, the Senate. We're going to put money into this budget in the bill that's at the end of this calendar to make sure we can put housing up. The heartless guys are trying to figure out why we couldn't get DRF beds figured out in the budget. We're going to put $5 million into housing to make sure that the state of New Hampshire has someplace to transfer these people when they get out of places. You've done a lot as a Senate, and I think what's happening right now of talking about pieces, I know what Senator Bradley did in the House. He certainly kept me informed. There's a lot of pride in this Senate about keeping its word. I know he's informed you of that. I know he's informed you of what he talked about with them. And by the way, health care passed in the House with a voice vote. Everyone in this room should be proud. The reality is the challenge of republicans and democrats having a battle, the House voted for it with a voice vote. That's enormous. And to argue over this million dollars right now like we have to approve it, I'm telling you, you're spending 60 million this year plus or minus.

When LBA scored what the House did and we did and next year you got 60 million in spending, and that's not counting what we're going to add today. And we haven't even looked at the revenues in '19. So, that means we know where we are in '18. Everybody does. We can read it. But in '19, we're anticipating that those federal dollars are going to come in and those one-time dollars should be spent on one-time programs like building housing. That's why I approved that today. It's why the Governor and I talked this morning about it. Because it's a one-time funding thing. If we put this million dollars in, that's a million dollars that you can score 7 or 8 percent against in the next budget. And it's going to show growth. And I don't believe right now you can afford to do that in the system. I mean I certainly take pride in watching that. I take just as much pride in caring about every kid. You know in that budget, you funded Boys and Girls Club afterschool programs. No one probably knows it, but one of the most effective programs going to keep people out of drugs, kids. The Governor put another $100,000 in the program in the school system to see if it could work. And if it works, we certainly want to talk about it in the next budget to do the same thing in communities that don't have Boys and Girls Clubs. We're working to help kids. We've done a lot as a Senate. We should take pride in it and we shouldn't be getting into this bitter argument today over what's coming in. And I'm not sure what's coming in amendments shortly. I mean we certainly done a good plan and it's worked, and the state's working and I think we're in a great position. I support where we are, I don't support this amendment.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you very much, Madam President. Let's take a deep breath here and say, the Senate's done a very good job. We applaud the Senate President. Nobody has more respect for the Senate President than I do. Not only as the Senate President, but as a friend, a caring individual and a person who works. So that's on the table all the time because this is the Senate. That's what we're for, that's what we're all about, that's why things happen and get done in the Senate. It's so important for us to keep it all together. So, we have a discussion about a particular item. Let's not go crazy. The name of the game in this business is getting things done. I should be the most embarrassed guy in the Senate. I've tried to get something done for twenty years. I haven't got a goddam thing done in twenty years. My dear Frenchie's here, what one year, and he's got his historic racing. He gets– my Seabiscuit's gone. How long has Seabiscuit out yonder? Here he is, he's got it done. I'm laboring in the vineyards for twenty years, and what have I done? Nothing. So, let's think about what we have done, how we have taken care of children. And I can say this, I remember the terrible, terrible year when we had a situation in the House that was really untenable. And coming back from that is tough. It was very, very, very, very difficult. So, we've done a lot of good things. We all strive for perfection, but we know that's not attainable, alright? It's not attainable, but we strive for perfection. Let's not forget that. And our discussions, never forget we've got to respect one another. And that's the most important thing because having served in this body for a long time, when a person gives you their word in the Senate, they stick by it. They do their best. That's a great attribute. I mean that's what life's all about. It's all about relationships. I say that all the time. And we've done that. Things are better, things are better. So, let's not go, as I said let's not go crazy, we all have our opinions. But indeed, when we leave this body, when the President hits the gavel and says it's over for this year, we ought to walk out of here with a great deal of pride in what's been accomplished. And I, I mean truly, that's what makes life worthwhile. I say the only reason why I do this is because I'm doing what I love and I'm loving what I do. And what makes that possible? Working with the kind of people who contribute, who help, they're loyal, they give you their word, they make it happen. So, let's not lose sight of that fact. Let's never lose sight of the fact that twenty-four working together can conquer the world. Thank you, Madam President.

HB 1565-FN, requiring the secure psychiatric unit to be accredited as a behavioral health facility.
Ought to Pass, Vote 5-1. Senator Giuda for the committee.

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1565-FN Ought to Pass. This bill would require the Commissioner of the Department of Corrections to seek accreditation from the National Commission on Correctional Health Care to have the secure psychiatric unit accredited as a behavioral health facility. There is an annual fee to maintain accreditation, and the initial fee and the annual fee can each be several thousand dollars. There may be other costs incurred to achieve accreditation, which may require additional operating or capital appropriations. The Senate Finance Committee recommends passage of HB 1565-FN and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

Senator Feltes offered a Floor Amendment.

Sen. Feltes, Dist 15

Floor Amendment to HB 1565-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing a commission to examine issues relative to accreditation of the secure psychiatric unit and requires certain reports.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Section; Commission to Examine Issues Relative to Accreditation of the Secure Psychiatric Unit. Amend RSA 21-H by inserting after section 8-a the following new section:

21-H:8-b Commission Established. There is established a commission to examine issues relative to accreditation of the secure psychiatric unit.

I. The members of the commission shall be as follows:

(b) Three members of the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives.

(c) The commissioner of the department of corrections, or designee.

(d) The attorney general, or designee.

(e) The executive director of New Futures, or designee.

(f) A representative of the National Alliance on Mental Illness New Hampshire, appointed by the alliance.

(g) The chief executive officer of the New Hampshire hospital, or designee.

(h) A representative of the Community Behavioral Health Association, appointed by the association.

(i) Two members of the community who have an interest in patient rights, appointed by the governor.

II. Legislative members of the commission shall receive mileage at the legislative rate when attending to the duties of the commission.

III.(a) The commission's study shall include, but not be limited to:

(1) Reviewing organizations providing accreditation of facilities similar to the secure psychiatric unit.

(2) Analyzing the types of accreditation available from these organizations, such as psychiatric hospitals, behavioral health facilities, and mental health services facilities.

(3) Costs and time lines for accreditation.

(b) The commission may solicit information from any person or entity the commission deems relevant to its study.

IV. The members of the commission shall elect a chairperson from among the members. The first meeting of the commission shall be called by the senate member. The first meeting of the commission shall be held within 45 days of the effective date of this section. Seven members of the commission shall constitute a quorum.

V. The commission shall report its findings and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the president of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, the senate clerk, the house clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before November 1, 2018.

2 Secure Psychiatric Unit; Treatment Standards. Amend RSA 622:46, I to read as follows:

I. The commissioner shall establish clinical and treatment standards for the operation of the unit in consultation with the commissioner of the department of health and human services. The commissioners shall review, at least [~~annually~~] biennially, any interagency agreements and the mental health program at the unit to determine which provisions, standards, or practices should be revised to improve treatment. The commissioner shall submit a report of its findings in each even-numbered year, commencing on or before November 1, 2020, to the speaker of the house of representatives, the senate president, the governor, and the chairpersons of the house committees having jurisdiction over criminal justice issues and health and human services issues, and the chairpersons of the senate committees having jurisdiction over judicial issues and health and human services issues.

3 Repeal. RSA 21-H:8-b, relative to the commission to examine issues relative to accreditation of the secure psychiatric unit.

4 Effective Date.

I. Section 3 of this act shall take effect November 1, 2018.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes a commission to examine issues relative to accreditation of the secure psychiatric unit. The bill also requires the commissioner of the department of health and human services to submit a biennial report in even-numbered years of its findings as to whether certain provisions, standards, or practices should be revised to improve treatment at the secure psychiatric unit.

Recess. Out of recess.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. Mister President, this creates a commission with the relevant stakeholders to review accreditation for the secure psychiatric unit. What is the proper accreditation for people who are not prisoners, they are mental health patients? What is the proper accreditation for that unit? I think what we can conclude now is it's not an accreditation related to prisons; it should be some other accreditation. Right now, the bill as filed is on that par and the prime sponsor doesn't agree with the current bill. There's a lot of dispute and discussion about what each accreditation means and what are the implications for each accreditation. What this would offer is an opportunity to have a commission instead to look at that and dig into it and make the proper recommendation. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you. I rise in opposition to the floor amendment. We debated this bill a couple of weeks ago when it came out of the Health and Human Services Committee and as you recall, the sponsors of, I think it was our friend from Hanover's Floor Amendment to restore dualing if you will, or dual is the right word, not dualing, accreditations. The committee had recommended unanimously at the time, the HHS Committee, that we seek accreditation from the National Commission on Correctional Health. Look, there are both mental health patients as well as criminal patients in the secure psychiatric unit. We had testimony in the HHS Committee that the Commissioner of the Department of Corrections would support this kind of accreditation. It moves the ball forward. It shines a light on the secure psychiatric unit, which I think is pretty vital. What the amendment that we have before us today would substitute that for a study commission and some new language about submitting a report to the Legislature. So, I would argue that that actually delays the process of trying to improve the secure psychiatric unit. If people feel that it is absolutely essential to have that dual accreditation, I guess that can be debated again next year. But at least let's get the process rolling with the accreditation from the National Commission on Correctional Health because this is part of the state prison system, even though there are people committed there that haven't committed a crime. So, I think that the Floor Amendment actually takes us a step backwards. The Finance Committee work, the HHS Committee work, I think begins that process of accreditation and the information that will be gathered through that process about how to improve the secure psychiatric unit, so I would ask for a vote against the Floor Amendment and Ought to Pass on the bill.

(The Chair recognized Senator Hennessey.)

SENATOR HENNESSEY: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in favor of this amendment and I will give you a different perspective. What we have heard from the people who are actually the prime sponsors and the ones who have worked the hardest on understanding the problems with the secure psychiatric unit, is that the way the bill is now written, it's totally gutted of anything that does what the intention was. So therefore, I would argue this is not taking a step backwards at all. It is in fact taking a step in the right direction in order to really figure out how to do this right. So, I suggest that my colleagues vote in favor of this amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Fuller Clark.)

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: Thank you very much. I rise in support of the amendment and Senator Hennessey spoke to what I was about to say. But to let you know that there is considerable confusion as to which is the right accreditation organization and you'll notice in this amendment that there are members from both of those organizations that have been assigned to this commission, so that they, we can work out what is the best pathway to move forward. And I would urge you to support the amendment because of the confusion about which is the right organization and because we have heard from the sponsors that they feel that the organization that was selected was not the right one. We didn't hear a preference from the Commissioner of Corrections. What we heard that she was in favor of moving forward with accreditation and we want to make sure that we're going down the right roadway. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Avard.)

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to this amendment. I, Iwas there in all the committee hearings, and when I was hearing the first testimony on the prison situation, I was horrified. I felt like I was watching or listening to excerpts from a particular movie that many of us probably heard, like "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest." And it concerned me, and I drafted as direct result, I drafted an amendment, which would address two issues. And the fact that we have here is we have people that are committed there civilly and people that are committed there criminally. And we have a hybrid. So, we sought to have some type of accreditation. So, we have one that was designed specifically for prisons and another one that was designed specifically for health care. And yet that still misses the mark. And consequently, I just want to add, there's a gentleman there who's there civilly. His name is Andrew Butler and he's a young kid. Didn't commit a crime, he's there. And everybody's talking about it and I just want to bring attention to it because we've got to do something. We have to do something, but this amendment doesn't do anything. This amendment basically says put on the brakes. We already have a bill that we passed that starts an accreditation purpose. Let's move forward with that and let's keep in our memories for the next time we're here on a solution that we can all come together and fix the situation that is at that psychiatric unit. It isn't perfect. We don't have a solution. This is not the solution. Neither is the bill that we have, but it's a step forward. And I, I would recommend my colleagues to move forward, get an accreditation process started and let's not forget Andrew as we move forward. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I'd proffer that using the current bill without the amendment that the accrediting agency's going to find an exception that needs to be addressed and that will be the civil commitment of people who haven't committed crimes in an institution for people who have. And that that exception will be the basis for moving forward. We don't need another study. I'm certain that that will be taken up by the agency that we have in current legislation. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

A roll call was requested by Senator Avard, seconded by Senator Giuda.

The following Senators voted Yes: Woodburn, Watters, Hennessey, Kahn, Lasky, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Soucy, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark.

The following Senators voted No: Giuda, Bradley, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard, Carson, Reagan, Birdsell, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

Roll Call, Yeas: 10 - Nays: 14. Failed.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Mister President. I just, in light of that previous conversation, I'm not trying to redo it, I just want to point out a purpose of accreditation is self-improvement. To evaluate yourself against some best practice standards and there actually might be a reason why a dual accreditation might be valuable. We have two purposes and the standards that are set up for correctional as well as hospitalization are going to be different. I think, I think we did not deal with this in a manner that recognized the purposes of accreditation and so we can pass this, I just hope that when we look at this again, we recognize that there's a reason to come back and look at this for the health care side of New Hampshire Hospital. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 1614, relative to the international registration plan and relative to registration of semi-trailers.

Amendment to HB 1614

Amend the bill by replacing section 14 with the following:

14 Effective Date.

I. Sections 5-13 of this act shall take effect January 1, 2019.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

SENATOR DANIELS: Thank you, Mr. President. I move House Bill 1614 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill does the following: It first repeals statutory provisions of the International Registration Plan and authorizes the Department of Safety to implement the plan through rules that are exempt from RSA 541-A. It also authorizes registration of semi-trailers through nongovernmental agents of the Department of Safety. It authorizes multiyear semi-trailer registrations and provides discounts on fees for semi-trailer registrations. It also allows registrations through the agents by nonresidents for semi-trailers not garaged exclusively in this state. The amendment for House Bill 1614 extends the effective date for major sections of the bill to January 1, 2019. The Senate Finance Committee recommends passage of House Bill 1614 as amended and asks for your support. Thank you, Mr. President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister Chairman. I thought a little history of this bill might be in order. This bill we have seen four previous times, actually five now. Four previous times, this would be the fifth in the Senate and it's been voted down each time. The bill also was voted down in House Finance and then it was brought over to Senate Transportation to try to get another bite at the, at the apple. Now, it was voted down in House Finance for, for good reasons. The Municipal Association opposed it because of the loss of revenues to the municipalities and then most importantly, it will be a loss as we heard from Elizabeth Bielecki, of $500,000 dollars. It'll be a loss of $500,000 in revenue for New Hampshire. As opposed to some imagined possible increase in revenues coming in. Now, the other problem here is that the bill essentially encourages people to break the laws of their own state by coming to register in New Hampshire. This is already causing us a problem because Maine got into this business a few years ago and we heard from Safety that yeah, okay New Hampshire people are going over there and registering and we don't have the resources to, to enforce that. And what it says is basically somebody shows up here and they register their trailer for ten years and it's, it may never ever be in the state. It's, it's somewhere else. And what have we done, we have encouraged people to try to void their registration fees in the place where that vehicle is actually, actually housed. Now, you know, we're in a little bit of trouble right now with our encouraging of people to break the laws of their own state at the Liquor Commission, right? And so now we're going to set up another situation and do, do the same here. It's, it's just plain, it's bad policy, but it also puts a financial hit on the state. $500,000 that was in testimony before the Senate, so I hope that we will overturn the recommendation of Ought to Pass and do what we've done with this many times before with very good reason. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to House Bill 1614. I'm going to quote some of the material that I got from the city tax collector in Manchester, Brenda Adams. Brenda says, House Bill 1614, which was 579, relative to registration of semi-trailers. Authorizes the registration of semi-trailers, though not governmental agents, authorizes multi-year semi-trailer registrations for up to twelve years, provides a discounted registration fee for nonresidents for semi-trailers. The city of Manchester will lose approximately $29,000 annually, $348,000 in the twelve years. The city of Manchester has already lost $500,000 annually in the apportioned vehicle registrations. To date, we've lost $2.5 million in motor vehicle revenue to Indiana. This bill compounds that loss. The bill eliminates the municipal fees. New Hampshire residents and businesses will continue to pay 100 percent of the mutual and state fees. Out-of-state businesses will only pay a discounted state fee. The bill allows business with no legal address or connection to New Hampshire to obtain a New Hampshire motor vehicle registration. How would the state ensure that these semi-trailers are safe for road use? Good question. Continued long-term loss in motor vehicle revenue will cause an increase in property taxes. Loss, the loss, the loss is adequate block fund, block fund grant spending. The city of Manchester, and we all talk about our cities, and any time this happens I like to go to the tax collector, registrar or other people in the district to find out what's going on. This is bad for the city of Manchester, it's bad for the city of Goffstown. I'm sure it's bad for every city and town in the state of New Hampshire. I don't know why we're doing this. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Daniels.)

SENATOR DANIELS: Thank you, Mister President. I want to just clear up a couple things. This bill is really, really simple and it will not cost your municipalities anything. It does not do anything to damage your, your municipalities. What this does is allow the Department of Safety to set up independent trailer agents to register out-of-state trailers. Those that are in state, if they are leaving now as my town clerk said, oh we lost $3,000 and I said there's nothing about this bill that would have stopped that. The fact is people can go out of state, whether it's legal or not illegal, and they can register, such as in Maine. And I'm sure the same thing is happening with Manchester. If people are choosing to go out of state, it that has nothing to do with this bill. We're not forcing that. If you want to address the problem that some people are bringing up, we need to do the same thing that we did with airplanes. With the airplanes, we found out that you could register one in Massachusetts for $300 or you could register one in New Hampshire for $3,000. Well, semi-trailers you can register them in Maine for twelve years or more for next to nothing. In New Hampshire, we charge a high municipal fee. You want to keep them in state, you lower the cost and make it affordable for them to stay here. Now, that said, as I told, told my town clerk, the town clerks will be the first ones who come to the Legislature complaining because they don't have the revenue anymore, but that's what we're dealing in and that's the reality of it. If you registered approximately 2,600 trailers under the pricing that's set forth in the legislation, you will have taken care of the 500,000 in the fiscal note. Having spent a number of years in software myself, I'm saying if we spend 500,000 trying to hook into a system, we're way overpriced in doing that. It should be done, it should be able to be done for far less than that. So, I just want to bring, bring that out. There is nothing here that is going to affect the town clerks if people are going to go out of state. Either you raise, raise the fees up to try to keep them in or you lower the municipal fees to give them incentive to register here. But there is absolutely nothing in this bill that is going to affect that situation one way or the other. Thank you, Mister President.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR CARSON: Are we voting on the amendment? Is the roll call on the amendment or is it the bill as amended?

Amendment to HB 1673-FN-LOCAL

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the interest charged on late and delinquent property tax payments and relative to prorated assessments for damaged buildings.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 7 with the following:

8 Prorated Assessments for Damaged Buildings; Application Deadline. Amend RSA 76:21, III to read as follows:

III. A person aggrieved of a property tax for a building damaged as provided in paragraph I shall file an application with the assessing officials in writing within 60 days of the event described in paragraph I or by March 1, whichever is later.

9 Effective Date.

I. Section 8 of this act shall take effect January 1, 2019.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect April 1, 2019.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill lowers the interest rate charged on late and delinquent property tax payments from 12 to 8 percent and 18 to 14 percent per annum. The bill also extends the application deadline for prorated assessments of damaged buildings.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1673-FN-LOCAL Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill lowers the interest rate charged on late and delinquent property tax payments from 12 percent to 8 percent for pre-lien payments, from 18 percent to 14 percent for post lien payments per annum. The amendment to the bill extends the application deadline for prorated assessments of damaged buildings. The Senate Finance Committee recommends passage of House Bill 1673-FN-LOCAL as amended and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The Chair ruled sections of the Committee Amendment non-germane.

Without objection, Senate Rule 3-17 is suspended to allow consideration of the non-germane Committee Amendment. Adopted by the necessary 2/3 vote.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you very much, Mister President. Mister President, I rise against the amendment to House Bill 1673, relative to the interest charged on late or delinquent property tax payments. Spoke with the town clerk in Goffstown and with, again the tax Cllector in the city of Manchester. I've been around for a long time and seen these interest rates go both ways. Most people pay on time, about 98 percent of those who owe property taxes pay on time. In, in 2017, the real estate taxes in the city of Manchester, 98 percent paid on time. The 2017 delinquency at 2 percent was worth $3.4 million to the city of Manchester. The bill changes benefits 2 percent of the population who already have multiple opportunities to seek financial assistance through our Assessing Division, the Welfare Department and the Senior Services Department. I think that's the essential comment. There are areas that people can go to, to deal with this problem. Financial assistance exists; RSA 76:16 allows for an abatement as part of the function of the assessor's office. Individuals who have expressed financial loss or hardship have this avenue to pursue to reduce their tax burden. A lower interest rate of 5 percent is available for elderly or disabled through the tax deferral program, RSA 62:38-A. The bill will only benefit the minority, while the majority foots the bill. And that's the issue. It only represents the minority and the majority foots the bill. There was a time when businesses didn't pay and they used the city really as an instrument for their borrowing because they were able to borrow at a, a lower rate because the city's rate was low. That's why it was increased. I think we want to help people. I think there's no question about that, but after talking with all of the tax collectors and listening to the mitigations that are in place for people, it seemed to me that a change was not appropriate at this time. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gray.)

SENATOR GRAY: Thank you, Mister President. I would ask the Senators to go to page 3 of the Addendum Calendar where the amendment is listed there. The amendment actually deals with a person's house is burned to the ground or severely damaged and it actually allows a longer period of time for them to ask for an abatement. I certainty will remember all of the fine comments that the Senator from District 20 made on the underlying bill, but the amendment just takes care of that. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Daniels.)

SENATOR DANIELS: Thank you, Mister President. At the beginning when this bill was introduced, the Taxpayers Associate – excuse me, the

New Hampshire Tax Collectors Association came out opposed to the bill. And they were opposed to it through some iterations. We eventually with District 15 Senator and myself came to a compromise on the 8 and 14 percent. The Tax Collector Association did put out a letter at that time saying, "the New Hampshire Tax Collectors Association will support the rates of 8 and 14 percent," and then they bolded for taxes assessed on or after April 1, 2019. And that stipulation on that date of April 1, 2019 has been put into the amendment. You can see that also on page 3 and so they are now in support of the legislation. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Fuller Clark.)

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: I wanted to rise to speak to the bill. It's true that when the legislation was going to drop the interest rates from 18 percent to 6 percent, I certainly heard from the communities in my district, including the city of Portsmouth, that they had grave concerns. And they talked about the fact that they would see businesses who had large property taxes, if the interest rate for late payment was that low, who would not make it a priority to pay their business taxes first. I would like to thank the negotiations that went forward to arrive at the compromise that is now part of this legislation and can, can be supported. But I think we need to understand that the intent of having those high interest rates was not to be punitive and as Senator, the good Senator from District 20 pointed out, that most communities use all of these other opportunities that are in statute to be able to help those individuals who are having a difficult time, and particularly residential tax payers meeting their tax obligations. But we have to make sure that we don't lower these rates to such a degree that it becomes an alternative for businesses and other individuals or entities to not meet their property tax obligations first in terms of their financial obligations, so thank you very much.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

HB 1686-FN, relative to applications for and the use of education tax credits. Ought to Pass, Vote 4-2. Senator Giuda for the committee.

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1686-FN Ought to Pass. This bill amends the Education Tax Credit statute to allow taxpayers to utilize this credit against the Interest and Dividends Tax and caps the Education Tax Credit Program at $5.1 million in a program year. The Senate Finance Committee recommends passage of HB 1686-FN and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to HB 1686-FN

Amend the bill by replacing section 5 with the following:

5 Contributions to Scholarship Organizations. Amend RSA 77-G:3 to read as follows:

77-G:3 Contributions to Scholarship Organizations. For each contribution made to a scholarship organization, a business organization [~~or~~], business enterprise, or individual may claim a credit equal to 85 percent of the contribution against the business profits tax due pursuant to RSA 77-A, [~~or~~] against the business enterprise tax due pursuant to RSA 77-E, against the tax on interest and dividends under RSA 77, or apportioned against [~~both~~] each provided the total credit granted [~~against both~~] shall not exceed the maximum education tax credit allowed. Credits provided under this chapter shall not be deemed taxes paid for the purposes of RSA 77-A:5, X. The department of revenue administration shall not grant the credit without a scholarship receipt. No business organization [~~or~~], business enterprise, or individual shall direct, assign, or restrict any contribution to a scholarship organization for the use of a particular student or nonpublic school. No business organization [~~or~~], business enterprise, or individual shall receive more than 10 percent of the aggregate amount of tax credits permitted in RSA 77-G:4. No business organization, business enterprise, or individual shall receive a total or aggregate local, state and/or federal tax benefit greater than the donation itself.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. You may recall that Senator D'Allesandro and I offered this in committee. It deals with an issue that came up in testimony before Senate Ways and Means and before House Ways and Means, and if you see on line 15 and 17, the language that it adds is that no business organization, business enterprise or individuals shall receive a total or aggregate local, state and/or federal tax benefit greater than the donation itself. And we have gotten ample testimony that based on the way this is structured, and based on federal tax laws, folks can actually game the system and get tax benefits greater than the donations that they're actually giving. And that's not, that's ample testimony including from the DRA. So, if you want to put in policy that we don't want people to game the system, let's vote for this. I think this is not what was intended by the bill. I think this is in my view a technical change and I certainly think that's something that, you know, I respectfully suggest we should all get on board with is that people shouldn't be gaming the system to get net tax benefits greater than donations themselves. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to this amendment for several reasons. One being the privacy of the individual returns at the federal level, which would then have to be accessed by our revenue folks. Frankly, the, the purpose of this program is exceptionally good, and here's why. Testimony before the committee, the money in this fund goes to children that are unable to move due to lack of funds so they can put, their kids can go to a different school. This Education Fund is for the poor. It Robin Hoods, it takes donations from the wealthy, and I frankly don't care how they handle their taxes. I also submit that the federal tax code is under amendment, that wasn't taken into account here. We don't know what's coming. When that comes that might be an appropriate time to address an issue such as this, but at this point in time because of the privacy issues with the IRS tax returns and for the fact that this is a good program that does good things, okay? Scholarships to the poor and they are prioritized. More money we can get to this, the better we treat our kids in the system of education where these types of programs work for kids that don't work in a traditional school. Again, part of our suite that we offer to the kids of our state to get the best opportunity education that they can get, and this will support it. Thank you, Mister President. So, vote against the amendment.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Mister President, just to respond, this is not about the merits of the program. It's not. This Floor Amendment is about how the program operates. For interest and dividends taxes, folks that make a lot of money off of dividends, donating that money to the program, also writing it off on the federal return, and in some cases if you had 22 percent or higher bracket, getting a net tax benefit greater than the donation itself. That's called gaming the tax system. And you can say whatever you want to say about it, and you can try and tie it into the program itself, but I think this is something we should all get on board with. I don't think that's what was intended by this and that's what this prohibits. So, the DRA has broad investigatory powers and if this policy is breeched in some way, then there, there would implementation of it, but look at this point I think it's important that we correct this technical problem with the way this is structured to say that you don't get a tax benefit greater than your donation. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise and ask the body to turn down the amendment and although I appreciate the comments of my, my friend from District 15. The reality is we're talking about New Hampshire law today because the last thing I knew we don't have the ability to change federal law and if we did, there's a lot of amendments I'd kind of like to put in tomorrow. Mister President, we have, we have a law and the law says you get 85 percent tax credit based upon your donations. Not 100 percent, it's 85 percent. Now frankly, Mister President, last time I checked people's tax returns were private information, so I'm not sure how anyone could actually prove the fact. Although, you know some people have said all the time it's too much of a benefit and you get this benefit, you get that benefit. But the truth is people's tax returns are private and we don't know what they're doing or what their total tax obligations are at both the state or the federal levels. But we need to concerned about state taxes, and in state taxes, it is an 85 percent tax credit, not 100 percent tax credit. So, Mister President, again as I'd indicated, it'd be great for us to have a couple days, I know you and I could change a lot of things in Washington laws if we had the opportunity, but we can't change federal law, we can't change the IRS code. All we can be is concerned about with what happens here in New Hampshire. So again, I'd ask the body to turn down the amendment. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President. Although, I might have saved these remarks for the bill as amended or not, I just wanted to mention the potential constitutional issue that this bill will exacerbate. I did happen to ask for the list of scholarships that had been given under this program and I don't have them in front of me, but my memory is that eighty-seven out of the ninety scholarships granted in the recent period went to religious schools. Now that's, those are the facts and I think that it renews the issue about whether we are violating our constitution by making donations to sectarian institutions. And I will say that the only reason that wasn't judged because the complainant was not found to have standing the last time. But you can be sure if CACR 15 passes that there will be standing granted to people who want to take this to the court, and I suspect that the judgment will be that this too is unconstitutional. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I would refute that comment. This is personal donations; this has nothing to do with public money. This is personal donations given to a fund for the purpose of sending a child to a school of the parents' choice. There's no tax dollars involved. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise and join my colleague from District number 2 and with respect to my colleague from District 4, why do you hate the Irish? Why do you hate the Irish? We all know that the only reason today that we have a prohibition on school is because of our wonderful Blaine Amendment. Thirty-seven states from the U.S. Senator James Blaine who didn't want the Irish Catholics to have a job. Our country was run by a bunch of Protestants, and Lord knows that Senator Blaine didn't want the Irish to have a job. Senator Cavanaugh, you've got a good Irish name over there. You don't deserve a good job. You don't deserve an education because if you get an education, Lord knows you might get a good job. You would actually run for office someday. You actually might become a politician. And because U.S. Senator Blaine did not want to ever see you sit in that chair, he couldn't get it passed at the Federal Government. One, maybe two. One, maybe two. Because Senator Blaine didn't want to allow Irish Catholics to get an education, to run for, to run for office, to be in a position of changing the world, he tried to pass it at the U.S. Constitution level, and it failed. And I might say for the record, Senator Morse, something that doesn't happen here, is because he was one of the guys that never showed up for the vote. But after a loss at the U.S. Congress, he went on a road show, went to every state in America. And I think some thirty-seven states in America back during a time when it was anti-Catholic, anti-Irish, anti-American Dream, was able to get this passed in thirty-seven states. Our state's one of those states. My good friend from District number 4, I want to have this battle. I want this to go the Supreme Court and I want to hear people stand up and talk about why the Irish, like my family, wasn't allowed to go to school, why my grandfather was illiterate because he couldn't get into one. Let's have that debate.

Ladies and gentlemen, this is a private donation for families to try and help other kids because they have the ability to do that. I heard earlier from my friend from District number 1 about how every child matters. We'll spend anything to make sure they're safe. Won't an education make them safe? Won't finding that place that they can go and get an education be good for them? Or is they're only safe under someone else's definition? You know we fight about this stuff every single time one of these bills come up and I do not understand for the life of me, why it's good for the goose, but not good for the gander. Why there are people in this building that try to ride some high road about making sure every kid gets the best education they can, except when it falls under their little parameters. I don't understand how that happens. I truly, fundamentally, do not understand how people in this building are making decisions against kids' education based solely on a zip code. I don't want to hear you're for kids, I don't want to hear you're for education when the only basis you have is a zip code. You know there are states across this country where democrats and republicans come together every single year and make sure there are opportunities for education for our kids. It's not about the zip code, it's not about the unions, it's not about the school, it's about the kids. Why don't you vote for the kids for a change? Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President. I rise because I think since the remarks were directed at me personally, I want to take personal exception. If you think, you can ask my wife, Janice Marie Curran Alberdeen whether I love the Irish, okay? Who taught religious ed at Saint Mary's Parish in our home and when the second plate comes around, sure, we put the money in for our religious schools in the parish. For a little history lesson, you can go back before, well before Blaine to I think it was 1817 for our state and it was 1823 when we passed the disestablishment of religion, which said that the state and local funds could not be used for the financial support of the ministry. That's, that was, you know, despite what we've done in the first ten amendments of the constitution, it took almost thirty years before that moved out into the states where religion was disestablished. That's the tradition here. One can make arguments about what the Blaine Amendment was or wasn't. One can read the history of the Irish in New England, a terrific history that talks about the founding of parochial schools and the variety of political issues that those raised and the variety of taxes used and that those raised as well. There's a lot of history there. I really don't think that the reasoning here that someone is against this is because they hate the Irish, I think it's because we have legitimate differences about relationship between church and state and what our constitution says on tax dollars. Maybe you'll have the opportunity to make arguments before the Supreme Court someday, but that's when cooler heads will prevail and our justices will make a decision on what has been created under this. Thank you.

The following Senators voted No: Giuda, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard, Carson, Reagan, Birdsell, Morse, Gannon, Innis, Bradley.

Roll Call, Yeas: 10 - Nays: 14. Failed.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR KAHN: Yes, Mister President. Thank you. And I just want to explain again why I'm going to vote against this. We have permitted through the reduction in business enterprise and business profits tax the ability to raise $5.1 million a year. We have not done that; we haven't even gotten to a million. We've gotten maybe to around $750,000 in any given year. We have not spent the full amount of that $750,000 that we might have spent in any given year, and now we're looking to expand it to another tax that somebody else, private contribution, boy my jaw just dropped at that. This is diverting, allowing somebody to divert their payment of tax to another, what would be a legalized exception, and legalized reduction in your dividends and interest tax. I, I, I oppose that. I think that we have a program in place, we haven't come close to tapping it and now we want to expand it and I, I think the purposes are not something that I see meaningful or useful in the immediate future. So, I'll be voting against this. I encourage my colleagues to vote against this bill. Thank you.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill revises criteria for appointment of a guardian ad litem under RSA 461-A; limits the role of the guardian ad litem absent express authorization from the court; revises the procedure for determining guardian ad litem fees; and repeals the provision governing supreme court standards for non-certified guardians ad litem. The bill is a request of the committee to study RSA 461-A, relative to parental rights and responsibilities, established in 2016, 281.

This bill also requires the commissioner of the department of health and human services to monitor and certify alcohol and drug free housing in New Hampshire.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Some of you, some of you know that I have been working with the city of Manchester, the city of Franklin and other cities around the state of New Hampshire with regard to alcohol and drug free housing. There's been some very serious concerns about places that were opening up, calling themselves drug free housing, but they weren't and problems have ensued. So, I met with the Commissioner of Health and Human Services, met with people in the office of Health and Human Services and drafted this language, which will require monitoring of these entities and requiring certification. That's what this piece of legislation does and I hope my colleagues will support it. It is a serious problem, a very serious problem. Some people are really gaming the system, they're making lots of money from these people putting them in, in a house, charging them exorbitant amounts of money and it's a bad, bad situation. This won't cure it, but it will certainly help. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of amendment 1846. I was first made aware of the problems with sober living houses close to three years ago, and I had Senate Research look into it and discovered that there were a lot of problems. There are, I've worked with other Senators who came to me to talk about the same problems that they were experiencing within their districts as well. And I want to thank the Senator from District 20 for bringing forward some language that hopefully we can pass today, and we can start to get a handle on these sober living houses. We've created a patchwork of substance abuse folks that are really looking to help folks that are struggling with substance abuse and I would hate to see that some of these folks are being taken advantage of, by people that are opening sober houses and in reality are not. And I do think that we need to keep an eye on that. So, again I applaud the Senator from District 20 for bringing this forward and I will be supporting it. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon for a question of Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR GANNON: Just a quick question, Senator. I didn't see a fiscal note. Where's the funding, you're going to have to go to these houses and check, isn't there a–?

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: There's no funding associated with this. This will come out of the commissioner's office.

SENATOR GANNON: Okay, thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise and again thank the Senator from District 20 for putting the bill in as the Senator from District 15 had said, a lot of us are having lots of conversations about sober houses around the district and I'd like to shout out to Cordell Jones up in the balcony who's spent a tremendous amount of time with this about a year ago, trying to get our hands around this issue. It is a very serious issue. I just caution the body, we need to be careful, because there are some federal laws that are involved with these sober houses and the ability to get tripped up and actually do more damage than good when it comes to what we would all like to see. It's something we need to be very, very cautious of. In addition to that Mister President, I am concerned that if we turn this into a, you know, trying to find that balance and it's important to send a message to the commissioner that if we over-regulate this and make too much, too much of a burden on ADA, lay safety, health all those types of issues that we have in front of us, because it turns more into a commercial enterprise, it's going to become way too expensive for those people just coming out of treatment, or coming out of jail, to try to find homes. So, Mister President again, I'm just trying to provide some, some optimistic cautiousness about, we all want to try and find a way to build guardrails around this. I know that many of us in this room support more money towards sober houses, think it's very, very important, but we need to be a little careful that we're not putting ourselves in a position where we're actually moving backwards versus moving forward when people start looking at the federal regulations. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda for a question of Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Senator, for taking my question. Am I to understand there are currently no state regulations governing any of the activities of these?

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you for the question, Senator. Yeah, that's pretty much the issue. That's why all of this transpired. And to just address a couple of things if I might Mister President with regard to the Senator from District 9. We're not looking for any money. These, these homes are being, they are being run by the individuals who own the homes and the individuals pay from their own resources. So, we're not looking for money, what we're looking for is monitoring so that they do the right thing. And I want to thank Senator Carson because this idea, I brought this idea to her when we started having these meetings and she was very helpful and we were always looking for a piece of legislation to put this on, so finally we found this one and we brought people from the Federal Government, we brought fire marshal's office, we brought the fire chiefs from the local communities, we brought people from HHS. I think we brought every, everybody involved in the process, so that we'd be getting everyone's point of view as to what the problem was and how to address it. Thank you, Senator.

(The Chair recognized Senator Ward.)

SENATOR WARD: Thank you very much, Mister President. I totally agree with what has been said and I rise in support of the amendment. In addition to the commissioner looking over this, I also would encourage the sober houses to deal with the towns in which they are located. Because in certain cases, the town finds out sort of after the fact that this is going on and I think it's very important that they work with the towns for whatever regulations they need to follow. Thank you, Mister President.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Establishes the position of state demographer in the office of strategic initiatives and establishes a commission on demographic trends.

II. Requires certain state agencies to prepare 10-year current services cost projections for identified programs.

III. Requires the legislative budget assistant to include a demographic analysis as part of the fiscal note for certain legislation.

IV. Provides salary increases for state employees and makes appropriations therefor.

V. Makes an appropriation to the department of transportation for red list bridge projects.

VI. Makes an appropriation to the revenue stabilization account.

The Chair ruled sections of the Committee Amendment and the 7 Floor Amendments non-germane.

Without objection, Senate Rule 3-17 is suspended to allow consideration of the non-germane Amendments. Adopted by the necessary 2/3 vote.

SENATOR REAGAN: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 1817 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill does the following: it establishes the position of state demographer in the Office of Strategic Initiatives and establishes a Commission on Demographic Trends. Two, it requires certain state agencies to prepare 10-year current services cost projections for identified programs, and third, requires the Legislative Budget Assistant to include a demographic analysis as part of the fiscal note for certain legislation. The amendment to the bill provides salary increases for state employees and makes appropriations for them. It also makes an appropriation to the Department of Transportation for red list bridge projects. And lastly, it appropriates $10 million to the Rainy Day Fund. The Senate Finance Committee recommends passage of HB 1817-FN as amended and asks for your support. Thank you, Mister President.

The Chair ruled sections of the Committee Amendment and the following ten amendments non-germane.

Without objection, Senate Rule 3-17 is suspended to allow consideration of the non-germane amendments.

Recess. Out of recess.

(The Chair recognized Senator Soucy.)

SENATOR SOUCY: Thank you, Mister President. I think my question if you are willing, is probably better presented to you. Thank you. With regard to all of the changes to salaries as well as to some of the benefits. It is my understanding that without mention of legislative employees that that language is specific to the Executive Branch, is that correct?

PRESIDENT MORSE: Yes, Senate Facilities will make all the decisions for our people.

SENATOR SOUCY: So, if I may further inquire, although changes presented here apply to other employees, changes made to employees of the Legislative Branch are only accomplished through a meeting and a vote of the Facilities Committee, is that correct?

PRESIDENT MORSE: Yes.

SENATOR SOUCY: Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

Senator Bradley offered a Floor Amendment.

Floor Amendment to HB 1817-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing the position of state demographer and a commission on demographic trends; requiring state agencies to prepare 10-year current services cost projections; relative to the inclusion of a demographic analysis as part of the legislative fiscal note process; relative to salary increases for state employees making appropriations therefor; making an appropriation for red list bridge projects; making an appropriation to the revenue stabilization account; establishing a recovery friendly workplace initiatives tax credit against business taxes administered by the community development finance authority; relative to the counting of kindergarteners for "average daily membership in attendance"; and temporarily reducing the real estate transfer tax for first-time home buyers.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 26 with the following:

27 New Paragraph; Community Development Finance Authority; Recovery Friendly Workplace Initiatives Tax Credit. Amend RSA 162-L:4 by inserting after paragraph I the following new paragraph:

I-a. The authority shall dedicate the contributions received pursuant to RSA 162-L:10, I-a exclusively to investing or lending to nonprofit organizations that deliver recovery friendly workplace programs. Such contributions shall not exceed $1,000,000 in any state fiscal year. In this section, "recovery friendly workplace programs" means programs that educate employers in evidence-based practices that reduce substance misuse in the workplace and create work environments that are conducive to enabling persons in addiction and mental health recovery to sustain and re-enter the workforce as productive members of society. Such programs shall include the training of all employees, including specialized training for human resources personnel, and shall be consistent with Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) standards. The term "recovery friendly workplace programs" also includes the propagation of public awareness and information that supports health and safety for employees, while promoting active community engagement that will assist in reducing the negative impact of unaddressed substance misuse and untreated mental health. On or by September 30, 2020, the authority shall make public on its website and provide a report to the governor, the president of the senate, and the speaker of the house of representatives concerning the effectiveness of the recovery friendly workplace initiatives tax credit, including, but not limited to, how many workers in recovery were attracted to and retained in the workforce.

28 New Paragraph: Community Development Finance Authority; Recovery Friendly Workplace Initiatives Tax Credit. Amend RSA 162-L:10 by inserting after paragraph I the following new paragraph:

I-a. A recovery friendly workplace initiatives tax credit equal to up to 75 percent of the contribution made during the period of July 1, 2018 through June 30, 2020 may be carried forward for no more than 5 succeeding tax years and shall be allowed against any of the following individually or in combination:

(c) Taxes imposed by RSA 77-E.

29 Community Development Finance Authority; New Investment Tax Credit; Annual Limit. Amend RSA 162-L:10, IV(b) to read as follows:

(b) Contributions received by the authority for which credit is to be taken shall not exceed [~~$5,000,000~~] $6,000,000 in any state fiscal year. Contributions received by the authority in excess of [~~$5,000,000~~] $6,000,000 in any state fiscal year shall not be eligible for credit in such fiscal year but may be carried forward to the next succeeding fiscal year or years and shall be given priority in determining the total contributions eligible for credit in such fiscal year.

30 New Paragraph; Business Profits Tax; Recovery Friendly Workplace Initiatives Tax Credit. Amend RSA 77-A:5 by inserting after paragraph XV the following new paragraph:

XVI. The recovery friendly workplace initiatives tax credit as computed in RSA 162-L:10, I-a.

31 New Section; Business Enterprise Tax; Recovery Friendly Workplace Initiatives Tax Credit. Amend RSA 77-E by inserting after section 3-d the following new section:

77-E:3-e Recovery Friendly Workplace Initiatives Tax Credit. The recovery friendly workplace initiatives tax credit, as computed in RSA 162-L:10, I-a, shall be allowed against the tax due under this chapter.

32 Applicability. The tax credits authorized in sections 27-31 of this act shall apply to tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2019.

33 Definitions; Average Daily Membership in Attendance. Amend RSA 198:38, I(a) to read as follows:

I.(a) "Average daily membership in attendance" or "ADMA" means the average daily membership in attendance, as defined in RSA 189:1-d, III, of pupils in kindergarten through grade 12, in the determination year, provided that no kindergarten pupil shall count as more than 1/2 day attendance per school year except in school districts where the kindergarten pupil is attending a full-day school district operated kindergarten program. ADMA shall only include pupils who are legal residents of New Hampshire pursuant to RSA 193:12 and educated at school district expense which may include public academies or out-of-district placements, or in the case of kindergarten programs only during fiscal year 2019 a combination of school district expense and private payments. For the purpose of calculating funding for municipalities, the ADMA shall not include pupils attending chartered public schools, but shall include pupils attending a charter conversion school approved by the school district in which the pupil resides.

34 Tax on Transfer of Real Property; Rate; Exception Added. Amend RSA 78-B:1, I(b) to read as follows:

(b) Except as provided in RSA 78-B:1-b, the rate of the tax is $.75 per $100, or fractional part thereof, of the price or consideration for such sale, grant, or transfer; except that where the price or consideration is $4,000 or less there shall be a minimum tax of $20. The tax imposed shall be computed to the nearest whole dollar.

35 New Section; Rate of Transfer Tax for First-time Home Buyers. Amend RSA 78-B by inserting after section 1-a the following new section:

78-B:1-b Rate of Transfer Tax for First Time Home Buyers. Notwithstanding RSA 78-B:1, I(b), beginning January 1, 2018 the rate of the tax is $.50 per $100, or fractional part thereof, of the price or consideration for such sale, grant, or transfer applicable to the buyer for the purchase of a qualifying first home, as follows:

I. The rate of tax provided for in this section shall be applied to the amount of tax owed by and actually paid by the buyer pursuant to RSA 78-B:1 and shall not apply to any amounts paid by the buyer on behalf of the seller.

II. For purposes of this section, the term:

(a) "Qualifying first home" shall mean:

(1) The purchase of residential real estate, the price of which does not exceed $300,000;

(2) That will be utilized as the buyer's principal residence as defined in Internal Revenue Code Section 121 and related Treasury Regulations; and

(3) That is the buyer's first purchase of residential real estate.

(b) "Buyer" shall mean the purchaser, grantee, assignee, or transferee of any real estate or any interest in real estate.

36 Applicability Date. RSA 78-B:1-b, as inserted by section 2 of this act, shall apply to transfers occurring on and after January 1, 2018.

37 Payment of Tax; Exception Added. Amend RSA 78-B:4, III to read as follows:

III. Except as provided in RSA 78-B:1-b, the rate of tax established in RSA 78-B:1 shall apply to both the purchaser, grantee, assignee or transferee and the seller, grantor, assignor or transferor.

38 Prospective Repeal. RSA 78-B:1-b, relative to a transfer tax rate for first-time home buyers, is repealed.

39 Exception Deleted. Amend RSA 78-B:1, I(b) to read as follows:

(b) [~~Except as provided in RSA 78-B:1-b,~~] The rate of the tax is $.75 per $100, or fractional part thereof, of the price or consideration for such sale, grant, or transfer; except that where the price or consideration is $4,000 or less there shall be a minimum tax of $20. The tax imposed shall be computed to the nearest whole dollar.

40 Exception Deleted. Amend RSA 78-B:4, III to read as follows:

III. [~~Except as provided in RSA 78-B:1-b,~~] The rate of tax established in RSA 78-B:1 shall apply to both the purchaser, grantee, assignee or transferee and the seller, grantor, assignor or transferor.

41 Report Required; Department of Revenue Administration. On or before January 1, 2019 and on or before January 1, 2020, the commissioner of revenue administration shall report to the speaker of the house of representatives, the senate president, and the governor on the number of first-time home buyers using the lower transfer tax rate provided in RSA 78-B:1-b and the department's assessment of whether the number of first-time home buyers increased or decreased as a result of the reduced tax rate.

42 Effective Date.

I. Section 3 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2019.

II. Sections 1, 2, and 4 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2018.

III. Sections 38-40 of this act shall take effect January 1, 2020.

IV. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Establishes the position of state demographer in the office of strategic initiatives and establishes a commission on demographic trends.

II. Requires certain state agencies to prepare 10-year current services cost projections for identified programs.

III. Requires the legislative budget assistant to include a demographic analysis as part of the fiscal note for certain legislation.

IV. Provides salary increases for state employees and makes appropriations therefor.

V. Makes an appropriation to the department of transportation for red list bridge projects.

VI. Makes an appropriation to the revenue stabilization account.

VII. Establishes a credit against the business profits tax and the business enterprise tax for donations made to the community development finance authority for recovery friendly workplace initiatives.

VIII. Modifies the definition of "average daily membership in attendance" to include full-day kindergarten and provide for certain private payments.

IX. Reduces, for a 2-year period, the rate of the tax on the transfer of real property for first time home buyers, provided the purchase price does not exceed $300,000 and requires the department of revenue administration to report on the usage of the reduced rate.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. I believe these amendments have been shared back and forth so this first amendment, 1905 to House Bill 1817, does three things. All of which we've already done in other legislation that unfortunately has gotten tied up in the House. The first one, we propose to send back in 1817, the recovery friendly workforce tax credit, and that is outlined through sections 27 through 29 … 30. It's legislation that we've already voted on. Section 33 is a bill that we also dealt with, Senate Bill 540, which had a provision in it that was very important to the Senate President's school districts and this is just that provision because it has gotten hung up in the House and this ensures that it will get appropriately debated. On page 3, section 34, starting on line 6 is the first-time homebuyer tax credit, which we also voted for in a bipartisan basis. We worked with our friend from District 15 on an upper limit, we agreed on that and I believe virtually everyone here supported it and I believe the recovery friendly workforce initiative was voted on by a voice vote, so that is the first amendment. I commend it to you. These are strong bipartisan Senate positions and should be reconsidered hopefully by our friends in the House. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. I rise briefly in support of amendment 1905 as we did a lot of work in Senate Ways and Means to make the recovery friendly workplace program work, and we did that in a bipartisan way and we did a lot of work to come to agreement on the real estate transfer tax temporary reduction in a bipartisan way and so I would respectfully encourage approval of 1905s and I appreciate the comments of the Senator from District 3 about the work that's been done on these measures and hopefully we can get this done and added. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. I just have one point of concern because I discussed it in Ways and Means Committee. This first-time real estate buyer. What that, what that really means is it could cost us 3 or 6 million over the course of time, but it's a reduction of $500 in the purchase of a home. You know, with purchasing a home for 300,000, 500s not going to make a big difference. Now, as I said, when I bought my first house at $17,500, $500 would have made a big difference, made a big difference. So, I'm going to support it, but I think this one could have been in another direction and, you know, I've talked to real estate people about it also and told them about my feelings with regard to this situation. It is what it is. I hope it's successful, but 500 is not a lot of money in today's world. Thank you, Mister President.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR KAHN: If one wanted to be sympathetic to the point made by Senator from District 22, 20 sorry, could we divide the question?

PRESIDENT MORSE: Let me answer it this way. We could, Senator, but you're going to lose.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Senator Soucy for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR SOUCY: If a member of this body objects to a portion of this amendment, do we not have forms in our drawers that we could submit to the clerk stating our objection, so that we would be part of the permanent record?

PRESDIENT MORSE: Yes Senator, and I do that all day long.

SENATOR SOUCY: Thank you.

PRESDIENT MORSE: Senator Feltes, do you have anything to say?

SENATOR FELTES: No.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment. Adopted.

Senator Kahn is in opposition to Floor Amendment 2018-1905s, paragraph 35 on HB 1817-FN.

Floor Amendment to HB 1817-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing the position of state demographer and a commission on demographic trends; requiring state agencies to prepare 10-year current services cost projections; relative to the inclusion of a demographic analysis as part of the legislative fiscal note process; relative to salary increases for state employees making appropriations therefor; making an appropriation for red list bridge projects; making an appropriation to the revenue stabilization account; making an appropriation for transitional housing; and making an appropriation for the state loan repayment program.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 26 the following and renumbering the original section 27 to read as 29:

27 Appropriation; Housing Finance Authority; Affordable Housing Fund.

I. The sum of $5,000,000 is hereby appropriated to the housing finance authority for the biennium ending June 30, 2019, for deposit in the affordable housing fund established in RSA 204-C:57. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

II. The purpose of the appropriation made in this section shall be to provide safe, affordable, and stable transitional housing opportunities to those leaving mental health and substance use disorder treatment facilities. Locations of the housing opportunities shall be determined using data, recognizing that many of the needs are in rural areas of New Hampshire. Within 30 days of the effective date of this section, the housing finance authority shall form a working group of subject matter experts with knowledge and experience in addressing substance use disorder treatment and mental health needs as they relate to and impact transitional housing. The working group shall develop a data-driven process to award the funds, guidelines for accountability, and metrics for demonstrating results that maintain employability and sustained treatment effects as priorities.

III. Beginning on January 1, 2019, and each January 1 thereafter, the housing finance authority shall submit a report to the governor, the senate president, and the speaker of the house of representatives regarding the findings and recommendations of the working group and disbursement of the funds appropriated in this section for transitional housing.

28 Supplemental Appropriation; State Loan Repayment Program. In addition to any other sums appropriated to the department of health and human services in 2017, 155, accounting unit 05-95-90-901010-7965, line 073, grants-non-federal, there is hereby appropriated the sum of $1,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019, for the state loan repayment program. The department may exceed this amount if new federal funds become available to the program. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sums out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Establishes the position of state demographer in the office of strategic initiatives and establishes a commission on demographic trends.

II. Requires certain state agencies to prepare 10-year current services cost projections for identified programs.

III. Requires the legislative budget assistant to include a demographic analysis as part of the fiscal note for certain legislation.

IV. Provides salary increases for state employees and makes appropriations therefor.

V. Makes an appropriation to the department of transportation for red list bridge projects.

VI. Makes an appropriation to the revenue stabilization account.

VII. Makes appropriations to the housing finance authority for transitional housing and to the department of health and human services for the state loan repayment program.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you, Mister President. Earlier this afternoon we had a debate about, on another bill funding initiative. What separates the $5 million that is in section 27 from other funding initiatives is this is designed to be one-time for the Housing Finance Authority to deposit it into the Housing Fund to provide safe, affordable and stable transition housing opportunities. You may recall in the Capital Budget how much discussion we had about use of this fund and we bonded. I can't remember exactly how much it was, 3 million maybe, 2.5, so this is an incredible infusion of cash because the Federal Tax Reform Act is bringing in large amounts of new business tax revenue through repatriation. That's what's going on here. It's one-time revenue and this is a one-time initiative to really jumpstart housing. Also, as a one-time initiative, we bring back the state loan, state loan repayment program up to the level that it was in, I believe it was Senate Bill 590. Again, one-time dollars. So, given that our revenues have been strong right now with one-time revenues, these one-time expenditures I think make sense. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Soucy for a question of Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR SOUCY: Senator, I just want to make sure procedurally that we're capturing all of this. I know in the past we've had trouble with sequential amendments and it would appear that the amendment we just voted on created a new section 27, and your amendment does the same.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Senator Soucy, if you could suspend, I'll read this and it should solve everything.

SENATOR SOUCY: Thank you.

TECHNICAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE CORRECTIONS

Without objection, the Clerk is authorized to make technical and administrative corrections which are necessary to reflect the intent of the Senate. Adopted.

SENATOR BRADLEY: I was going to say, the Clerk is so capable, I'm sure she'll be able to take care of it all.

Floor Amendment to HB 1817-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing the position of state demographer and a commission on demographic trends; requiring state agencies to prepare 10-year current services cost projections; relative to the inclusion of a demographic analysis as part of the legislative fiscal note process; relative to salary increases for state employees making appropriations therefor; making an appropriation for red list bridge projects; making an appropriation to the revenue stabilization account; and making an appropriation to the department of business and economic affairs.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 26 the following and renumbering the original section 27 to read as 28:

27 Appropriation; Department of Business and Economic Affairs. The sum of $100,000 for the biennium ending June 30 2019 is hereby appropriated to the department of business and economic affairs for the purpose of supporting the education and acceleration programs within New Hampshire's non-profit business technology incubators. V. Makes an appropriation to the department of transportation for red list bridge projects.

VI. Makes an appropriation to the revenue stabilization account.

VII. Makes an appropriation to the department of business and economic affairs for supporting the education and acceleration programs of non-profit business technology incubators.

SENATOR INNIS: Thank you, Mister President. This is a relatively simple amendment that allocates a sum of $100,000 for the biennium ending June 30, 2019, to the Department of Business and Economic Affairs to support the education and acceleration programs within the non-profit business technology incubators. The Governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated. We are a small business state. Small businesses are very important to our state and to the growth of our tax base. This enables small businesses, these incubators, enable small businesses to get started and eventually graduate and get out on their own. I have seen this work within my family. My brother started a business in an incubator in the state of Ohio. It's been wildly successful. I encourage the Senate to please support amendment 1900s. Thank you, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to HB 1817-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing the position of state demographer and a commission on demographic trends; requiring state agencies to prepare 10-year current services cost projections; relative to the inclusion of a demographic analysis as part of the legislative fiscal note process; relative to salary increases for state employees making appropriations therefor; making an appropriation for red list bridge projects; making an appropriation to the revenue stabilization account; making an appropriation for congregate housing and services; and making an appropriation for the foster parent grandparent program.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 26 the following and renumbering the original section 27 to read as 31:

27 Department of Health and Human Services; Bureau of Adult and Elderly Services; Congregate Housing Services. Amend 2017, 156:78 to read as follows:

156:78 Department of Health and Human Services; Bureau of Adult and Elderly Services; Congregate Housing and Services. Congregate housing provided for under the Medicaid waiver pursuant to RSA 151-E and congregate services provided for in RSA 161-F:37 are suspended for the [~~biennium~~] fiscal year ending June 30, [~~2019~~] 2018.

28 Appropriation; Department of Health and Human Services; Congregate Housing and Services. There is hereby appropriated to the department of health and human services the sum of $750,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019, which shall be for the purpose of providing congregate housing and services. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

29 Department of Health and Human Services; Foster Grandparent Program. Amend 2017, 156:235 to read as follows:

156:235 Department of Health and Human Services; Foster Grandparent Program. The reimbursements to the foster grandparent program through the senior volunteer grant program, established in RSA 161-F:40, are hereby suspended for the [~~biennium~~] fiscal year ending June 30, [~~2019~~] 2018.

30 Appropriation; Department of Health and Human Services; Foster Grandparent Program. There is hereby appropriated to the department of health and human services the sum of $100,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019, which shall be for the purposes of the foster grandparent program. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Establishes the position of state demographer in the office of strategic initiatives and establishes a commission on demographic trends.

II. Requires certain state agencies to prepare 10-year current services cost projections for identified programs.

III. Requires the legislative budget assistant to include a demographic analysis as part of the fiscal note for certain legislation.

IV. Provides salary increases for state employees and makes appropriations therefor.

V. Makes an appropriation to the department of transportation for red list bridge projects.

VI. Makes an appropriation to the revenue stabilization account.

VII. Makes appropriations to the the department of health and human services for congregate housing and the foster grandparent program.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: First of all, I'll say it's not a lot of, of money. It takes care of two programs that I have been working on for at least the last ten years. So that's half of the twenty that I've been working on for another piece of legislation. So, I hope that I can meet with some success. There are two programs that are near and dear to my heart. One is the congregate housing and services program, which enables people to stay in their residence and then get some homecare, health care services. That's at a cost of $750,000 for, for the fiscal year ending June 2019. The second is the foster grandparent program, which will cost us $100,000. Again, I've been working on this program for at least the last ten years. It's a very, very worthy program. We know how successful the foster grandparents are in doing their work in aiding and helping children. It's a very worthwhile program. We had it in our budget, our budget, in the Senate budget. We went to a Committee of Conference and they extracted it. So, we thought it was a good idea in Senate Finance, we thought it was a good idea for a number of years. With the help of the Senate President I get it in, and I lose it. So those are the two things. The congregate housing and services program for $750,000 and the foster grandparents program for $100,000. It's amendment 1873s. Thank you, Mister President.

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing the position of state demographer and a commission on demographic trends; requiring state agencies to prepare 10-year current services cost projections; relative to the inclusion of a demographic analysis as part of the legislative fiscal note process; relative to salary increases for state employees making appropriations therefor; making an appropriation for red list bridge projects; and making an appropriation to the retirement system for payment of retirement system costs of political subdivision employers.

Amend the bill by replacing section 26 with the following:

26 Appropriation; Retirement System; Payment of State Contributions. The sum of $10,000,000 from the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 is hereby appropriated to the retirement system for payment of a share of political subdivision employer contributions. The retirement system shall credit any retirement system employer, other than the state, a proportional percentage of its total required contributions for fiscal year 2019 for its group I teachers and group II members to be paid by the state, which shall not exceed a total of $10,000,000. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

III. Requires the legislative budget assistant to include a demographic analysis as part of the fiscal note for certain legislation.

V. Makes an appropriation to the department of transportation for red list bridge projects.

VI. Makes an appropriation of $10,000,000 to the retirement system for retirement system employers other than the state for group I teacher and group II member contributions.

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Mister President. On the Committee Amendment that we just passed, section 26 makes an allocation of $10 million to revenue stabilization. What this amendment is asking the body to do is to consider directing that $10 million to political subdivisions paying into the retirement system. So, this is a $10 million allocation to the retirement system to reduce political subdivision employer contributions. That's the purpose and let me tell you what, what motivates me to want to do this. We've talked a lot about how we want to help different taxpayers in the state. There are a quarter of a million people in the state that pay property tax. It is the largest amount of money that is contributed, that is taxed in this state. It collects in total, $3.5 billion a year. This is an opportunity to say across the board, we're trying to do something for the biggest group of taxpayers in the state. I think that if this is not curing and, and adjusting in any huge way what towns, municipalities, school districts pay in retirement contributions, my best guess is on this it's around 240, $50 million a year, $10 million is going to provide taxpayers across the board some relief one time. I hope the body will see the wisdom of trying to do this and benefit low income people and everybody who are feeling real pressure that we are experiencing in the state relative to property taxes. I think that everybody in this room has people in their district who will tell you it is the greatest burden that is causing them to rethink whether they can afford their homes, to stay in their homes, to go move out of state in order to seek relief. I think we have an opportunity here to provide some relief. I hope the body will approve amendment 1918s. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much. I, with some regret, I'm going to rise in opposition to amendment 1918s. We've had a lot of discussions over the years about changes that were made to the retirement system. I was the sponsor in 2011 of Senate Bill 3 and sort of the consensus coming out of that legislation was that we're going to reform the retirement system in ways that would reduce and drive down employer cost and at the same time Governor Lynch proposed that the state funds that went to help some of the or all of the communities that pay into the retirement system would also be ended. And so that balanced out for a number of years and there's understandably pressure because of the lower expected investment returns, which has driven rates up for our communities. My understanding, if we fully restored what had been in place before Governor Lynch proposed elimination of that, would be about a $70 million expense. And I understand the thought that is one-time help for our cities and towns, but that consensus I believe was achieved. It was appropriate, we've made progress in the unfunded liability for the retirement system. That is improving over time and I think that once we start to go down the road of a state contribution again to cities and towns for their retirement costs, we're not going to be able to do some of the other things that are in the bill and the amendment that we have thus far. School safety, state listed red bridges, the state employees contract, we will get to the settlement with the hospitals, the money that we just put into one-time housing, the money that we put into the state loan repayment program, again one-time money, one-time money for foster grandparents as well as the incubators. I'm not sure I see this as one-time money and the price tag is large. So, I would ask the body to vote down amendment 1918. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon for a question of Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR GANNON: I see everything in simple straight terms, straight lines. You said there were a quarter million people, right? And so that's, with $10 million it works out to $40 per household. But that $10 million to us, when we distribute it to DCYF or anything, that's a lot of money for us, but if you distribute it to the households, it's only $40. Is that the type of relief you're really looking for?

SENATOR KAHN: I believe there's a zero missing.

SENATOR GANNON: Am I doing the math wrong? 250,000 houses, $10 million dollars, four goes into a million and into ten, so I would say $40 a house I believe is– See it was the new math, but I had nuns and priests, they were pretty good at Saint Anselm, so I think I got the math right, I think it's only $40 a house. So, I don't think to use $10 million to have such a little effect, I don't think that's a good use of the money, that's all. Don't you think? Made it a question. Thank you.

SENATOR KAHN: So, I understand the math, I don't understand the politics. I just have to say that with all of the considerations that we've given, the various reductions, diversions of dollars. Let's, let's make a statement that if we have dollars left, I mean I wanted to ask my colleague from District 3 two questions, but I can answer your question with them. One is, are we using any of our Rainy Day Fund, any of our revenue stabilization for any of these amendments, and I think the answer is no we're not. So, we've got a 90 million plus dollar amount in that fund. We have an opportunity to say something to the broadest tax base that we have in the state, property taxes, and to benefit the broadest number of people. I don't care what the dollar amount is. To me this is a statement, it's an important statement that if there are dollars left at the end of the day, we want to provide some relief to our local communities and the people who live in them. There is not a town meeting, I have been to so many town meetings in this last year, where citizens are saying they need to give up their homes. Maybe $40 isn't going to do a difference, but it's a statement of, from this body that when we have some dollars, there is a way that we can benefit our local communities and our local taxpayers.

SENATOR GANNON: Would you believe that I don't think the $40. I pay over 10,000. Would you believe that I don't think $40 is going to make a difference?

SENATOR KAHN: Yeah, that's what every school district says when they raise their rates by $40 and the taxpayers come back and say that's $40 on top of the 140 that you added on last year.

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Daniels.)

SENATOR DANIELS: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to the Floor Amendment. Talking specifically about property, property taxes. I mean property taxes are determined at the local level. We should not go down the road of having people raise their property taxes at the local level and expect that the state is going to, to pay for the cost that they vote in. Going back to the $40 per household. It is a small amount, but I want you to think back over the biennium as to how much we have given back to the cities and towns that, that benefit all residents of those cities and towns, not just group 1 teachers and group 2 members and I think that's the way to go is that we've done things, such as we did in Senate Bill 38 in giving back to take care of roads and bridges and those are things that benefit all, not just some. Again, but my main point here, because I think it's already been said other places is that we should not go down the road of expecting the state is going to take care of the increases that people put on their own property taxes. Thank you, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to HB 1817-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing the position of state demographer and a commission on demographic trends; requiring state agencies to prepare 10-year current services cost projections; relative to the inclusion of a demographic analysis as part of the legislative fiscal note process; relative to salary increases for state employees making appropriations therefor; making an appropriation for red list bridge projects; making an appropriation to the revenue stabilization account; and making an appropriation for an actuarial study of family and medical leave insurance.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 26 the following and renumbering the original section 27 to read as 28:

27 Actuarial Study for Family and Medical Leave Insurance; Appropriation.

I. On or before July 30, 2018, the department of employment security and the insurance department shall jointly issue a request for proposals to complete an additional actuarial study evaluating mandatory, opt-out, and opt-in statewide family and medical leave insurance models for New Hampshire, including, but not limited to, estimated costs and benefits, premiums, participation rates, and take-up rates for each. The request for proposals may be informed by any responses to requests for information received prior to July 30, 2018. The actuarial study shall be completed on or before January 1, 2019. The request for proposals shall be issued only if insurance carriers have not agreed by July 30, 2018 to pay for an independent actuarial analysis in accordance with this section.

II. If the request for proposals is required, an amount not to exceed $500,000 is hereby appropriated to the department of employment security and the insurance department for the biennium ending June 30, 2019, for the purpose of funding the actuarial study described under paragraph I. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. Mister President, this Floor Amendment that I'm offering is designed specifically to respond to the Senator from District 2 yesterday. His concern raised about doing an additional actuarial study for family and medical leave insurance. Specifically, that the insurance carriers would likely pay for it. So, what this does is it says on line 21 and 23, just to that statement by saying the RFPs don't even go out if insurance carriers have agreed to pay for the independent actuarial analysis. And again, an additional actual analysis is one of the arguments against family medical leave insurance, although I respectfully disagree with that. This says let's do it and if the Senator from District 2 is correct, we don't have to pay for it, and that's why this has been adjusted on lines 21 through 23. Thank you, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to HB 1817-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing the position of state demographer and a commission on demographic trends; requiring state agencies to prepare 10-year current services cost projections; relative to the inclusion of a demographic analysis as part of the legislative fiscal note process; relative to salary increases for state employees and making appropriations therefor; making an appropriation for red list bridge projects; making an appropriation to the revenue stabilization account; relative to disproportionate share hospital payments and making an appropriation therefor, and relative to the uncompensated care and Medicaid fund.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 26 the following and renumbering the original section 27 to read as 30:

27 Appropriation; Department of Health and Human Services.

I. Notwithstanding RSA 167:64, the commissioner of the department of health and human services shall make disproportionate share hospital payments in the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 in an amount equal to 92.2 percent of the total Medicaid enhancement tax collected for that fiscal year, and in the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019 an amount equal to 90.2 percent of the total Medicaid enhancement tax collected for that fiscal year. Such payments shall be a charge against amounts budgeted under account 05-95-47-470010-7943 pursuant to 2017, 144:1 and the uncompensated care and Medicaid fund established pursuant to RSA 167:64. The commissioner is authorized to accept and expend any matching federal funds without further approval from the fiscal committee of the general court.

II. For the biennium ending June 30, 2019, in the event estimated Medicaid enhancement tax revenue under account 05-95-47-470010-7948 is less than budgeted as a result of payments authorized in paragraph I, the amount necessary to address the shortfall is hereby appropriated to the department of health and human services. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for such sum of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

28 Uncompensated Care and Medicaid Fund. Amend RSA 167:64, I(a) to read as follows:

(a)(1) The commissioner shall provide reimbursement for uncompensated care costs [~~in accordance with the approved schedule of payments~~] from the uncompensated care and Medicaid fund through either Medicaid rate adjustments or disproportionate share hospital payment adjustments, or a combination thereof, provided however that no hospital shall receive any such reimbursement for uncompensated care costs unless it is a qualified hospital as defined in subparagraph (b)(1). Funds available under this section shall also be used to make provider payments and to support Medicaid services and programs administered by the department in amounts directed by the budget in each year of the biennium.

~~[(2) Expenditure of revenues deposited to the uncompensated care and Medicaid fund shall be made for the following purposes in the following order of priority in fiscal year 2015:~~

~~(A) To support medical provider payments as budgeted in each year of the biennium;~~

~~(B) To make disproportionate share hospital payments to support up to 75 percent of the uncompensated care costs of New Hampshire's hospitals with critical access designation consistent with the requirements of 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-4(g) and any relevant federal regulations promulgated thereunder as budgeted in each year of the biennium based on available funding, to be shared among such hospitals in proportion to the amount of uncompensated care provided;~~

~~(C) To make disproportionate share hospital payments to support the uncompensated care costs of New Hampshire's general hospitals~~

~~without critical access designation shared among such hospitals consistent with the requirements of 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-4(g) and any relevant federal regulations promulgated thereunder in proportion to the amount of uncompensated care provided with funds available from net Medicaid enhancement tax revenue received by the state in fiscal year 2015 in excess of $190,300,000; and~~

~~(D) To make a disproportionate share hospital payment to each hospital that meets the criteria set forth for "deemed disproportionate share hospitals" as that term is defined under 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-4 up to an amount as budgeted in each year of the biennium based on available funding.]~~

[~~(3) Subject to subparagraph (a)(3)(D),~~]

(2) Expenditure of revenues deposited to the uncompensated care and Medicaid fund shall be made for the following purposes in the following order of priority in fiscal years [~~2016, 2017, 2018, and 2019, and in addition in fiscal years 2016, 2017, 2018, and 2019, if New Hampshire hospitals' total aggregate uncompensated care costs as reported to the department in any such fiscal year is less than $350,000,000, the state shall pay New Hampshire's hospitals not less than $175,000,000 in disproportionate share hospital payments, shared among such hospitals in proportion to the amount of uncompensated care provided; provided that New Hampshire hospitals with a critical access hospital designation shall continue to receive reimbursements of no less than 75 percent of each hospital's uncompensated care costs and no hospital shall be paid disproportionate share hospital payments of more than 100 percent of uncompensated care costs~~] 2018 through 2024. However, no hospital shall be paid disproportionate share hospital payments of more than 100 percent of the governing hospital-specific limit on disproportional share hospital payments under Title XIX of the Social Security Act and the provisions of all federal regulations promulgated thereunder:

(A) To make disproportionate share hospital payments to New Hampshire hospitals with and without critical access designation in the following order of priority, [~~, provided that, in fiscal years 2016 and 2017, the New Hampshire hospitals shall not be paid more than a cap of $224,000,000 in disproportionate share hospital payments and in fiscal years 2018 and 2019 the New Hampshire hospitals shall not be paid more than a cap of $241,900,000 in disproportionate share hospital payments~~] and in the following amounts: fiscal year 2018 – 92.2 percent of money collected pursuant to RSA 84-A for the fiscal year; fiscal year 2019 – 90.2 percent of money collected pursuant to RSA 84-A for the fiscal year; fiscal years 2020 through 2024 - 86 percent of money collected pursuant to RSA 84-A for the fiscal year:

(i) To support 75 percent of the uncompensated care costs of New Hampshire's hospitals with critical access designation consistent with the requirements of 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-4(g) and any relevant federal regulations promulgated thereunder to be shared among such hospitals in proportion to the amount of uncompensated care provided;

(ii) To make disproportionate share hospital payments to [~~support 50 percent of the uncompensated care costs of~~] New Hampshire's hospitals without critical access hospital designation in fiscal year 2016 and 2017 and 55 percent of uncompensated care costs of New Hampshire's hospitals without critical access hospital designation [~~in fiscal year 2018 and fiscal year 2019 and in fiscal years thereafter consistent with the requirements of 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-4(g) and any relevant~~

~~federal regulations promulgated thereunder in proportion to the amount of uncompensated care provided and up to the remaining amount of the applicable cap set forth in subparagraph (a)(3)(A), but not less than the amount guaranteed in disproportionate share hospital payments as set forth in subparagraph (a)(3); and~~] in proportion to the amount of uncompensated care provided by each hospital from the remainder of the percentage of money collected pursuant to RSA 84-A for the fiscal year specified in subparagraph (a)(2)(A).

(B) To make a disproportionate share hospital payment to each hospital that meets the criteria set forth for "deemed disproportionate share hospitals" as that term is defined under 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-4 up to an amount as budgeted in each year of the biennium as set forth in subparagraph (b)(1).

(C) To increase hospital service provider rates each year, beginning in fiscal year 2020 through fiscal year 2024, by an amount equal to 5 percent of the revenue collected pursuant to RSA 84-A for the fiscal year.

(D) Any remaining funds produced from the Medicaid enhancement tax shall be used to support provider payments and to support Medicaid services and programs administered by the department.

[~~(D) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary, in each of fiscal years 2016, 2017, 2018, and 2019, the amount of uncompensated care reimbursed to non-critical access hospitals shall be reduced in both state contribution and federal match by any shortfall in net Medicaid enhancement tax revenues received below the following thresholds: fiscal year 2016-$220.5 million; fiscal year 2017-$228.1 million; fiscal year 2018-$235.9 million; and fiscal year 2019-$243.4 million. However, to the extent the aggregate uncompensated care for all hospitals falls below $375 million and the Medicaid enhancement tax rate is further reduced as set forth in RSA 84-A:2, V, then the threshold for fiscal year 2018 shall be $229.4 million and for fiscal year 2019 shall be $235.7 million. Further, the caps in subparagraph (a)(3)(A) and the reimbursements and caps in subparagraph (a)(3)(A)(ii) shall be reduced by 85 percent of the difference between total Medicaid enhancement tax revenue calculated at 5.5 percent of net patient services revenue and Medicaid enhancement tax revenue at the current tax rate for the applicable fiscal year.~~]

29 Medicaid Enhancement Tax. Amend RSA 84-A:2, V to read as follows:

V. For the taxable period ending June 30, 2018, and for every taxable period thereafter, a tax is imposed at a rate of 5.4 percent upon the net patient services revenue of every hospital for the hospital's fiscal year ending during the calendar year in which the taxable period begins [~~unless the total aggregate uncompensated care for hospitals with both a critical and a noncritical access hospital designation falls below $375 million, at which point the tax rate shall be 5.25 percent~~].

This bill:

I. Establishes the position of state demographer in the office of strategic initiatives and establishes a commission on demographic trends.

II. Requires certain state agencies to prepare 10-year current services cost projections for identified programs.

III. Requires the legislative budget assistant to include a demographic analysis as part of the fiscal note for certain legislation.

IV. Provides salary increases for state employees and makes appropriations therefor.

V. Makes an appropriation to the department of transportation for red list bridge projects.

VI. Makes an appropriation to the revenue stabilization account.

VII. Makes an appropriation for the purpose of funding disproportionate share hospital payments if there is a shortfall.

VIII. Revises the formula for reimbursing hospitals for uncompensated care costs.

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you, Mister President. I offer a Floor Amendment in the hopes of working out with the hospitals, our DSH payment problem that we've been faced. And let me first start by thanking the Hospital Association. I know we had a contentious hearing in Finance, but they certainly came to the table to help us solve a problem on our DSH payment in the state of New Hampshire. What this amendment does is appropriates a number, around 224 million for a DSH payment in '18 and 227 million for a DSH payment in '19. Along with that, and the reason that I'm asking that we get this in and get it to a Committee of Conference, but there's a lot of legalese in here. If you remember, I believe back in 2014, the state entered into an agreement on the DSH payment with the hospitals. We certainly ran into problems with that DSH payment using a floor and ceiling model and the ceiling was never put in the budget, and last year we ended up paying to that because of dealing with the courts and this year it was looking like we were headed there. Our agreement is short of that for sure, and I think it works for the state of New Hampshire. However, this has gotten to the lawyers just last night on the hospital side. The state lawyers have it now also and I'm sure in Committee of Conference this amendment will change a little bit, but I'm really proud of what the Hospital Association did to work with the state of New Hampshire and come up with this amendment, which is a seven year amendment which I believe the Governor was trying for in order to make sure we had a stable source of DSH payments back to the hospitals. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. First, I applaud everyone who was involved in this, particularly Senator Morse, who I've worked with on things like this for a long period of time, so kudos. I said to them when I met with the hospitals that it would be solved. I made that commitment and certainly everybody worked hard at it. The numbers, the numbers are right. The most significant aspect of this is it's a long-term arrangement. That's the key. We don't want to be going back every, every two years. I think they're happy with the long-term arrangement, we're happy with it. I think the fact that they back fill, the hospitals back filled the Alcohol Fund is significant in terms of the cooperative spirit that's been manifested in this situation. We had a very significant hearing before Finance, and I, I think that hearing taught me a lot that I wasn't aware of and I appreciate that fact. So, kudos to everybody who was involved on the Democratic side and on the Republican side, to the hospitals. Had the opportunity to meet with the hospital, the Presidents and I have had conversation with them all along. So look, it's always nice to see a job well done and everybody can buy into it because everyone has a hospital in, in their district and you can't do much better than this. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn for a question of Senator Morse.)

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you for taking my question. I'd like to ask about page 3 and line 31 and just make sure that in the differences in terminology in that line relative to hospital service provider, that that is covering both the critical access and the, what's called without critical access hospital designation?

SENATOR MORSE: Thank you for the question. Were you in my meeting this morning? The lines 31 through 33, I'm sure are going to see lawyers putting something to it, but what we've done different in the state of New Hampshire, in these three lines in here, we have a DSH payment that we make back to the hospitals. We certainly created a new model, and that's going to be funding I believe at 86 percent in the out years. Along with that, we've agreed to increase rates to all the hospitals. Big benefit to the critical access hospitals by 5 percent. Not by 5 percent, by using 5 percent of the net tax to do that. That's very important because I honestly believe in the future when the Federal Government makes changes in health care, DSH will start to back off, because think about it, with what we've done in health care in New Hampshire and everywhere in the country, everyone's insured and uncompensated care should be going down. So, the hospitals asked us to start to put some of it into rates, so we could get to everyone, and that's what we're trying to do with this 5 percent. That's what it was about. I believe that needs some legal language further than is in here, but I'll see that within a week I'm sure.

SENATOR KAHN: So, I just want to understand that it sounded that this will apply to all hospitals covered by DSH payment.

SENATOR MORSE: Yes, the rates have nothing – DSH is one thing, rates are another. This is about increasing the rates, which we can do directly with hospitals. And let me tell you, the big hospitals certainly were concerned about the critical access hospitals being able to get more money by doing it in the rates. I think that was an important piece.

SENATOR KAHN: And when, when this goes into the rates, what would that mean? In the rates of reimbursement for what, hospital-based care?

SENATOR MORSE: I believe, and you can check this with the commissioner, I believe we have the ability as a state to directly deal with hospitals with that rate category, and, and that's what we were working on. So, it's not the MCO process, so it's different.

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you for continuing to take the questions. But I – so, the rates outside of the MCOs and for all services provided by either a critical access or PPS hospitals, both in-patient care and outpatient? Is that what it means?

SENATOR MORSE: I don't want to comment on that. You're above my pay grade. The reality of what was negotiated here was making sure that the state could afford to pay a number instead of having a floating number. That's what it was all about. The hospitals certainly wanted to make sure some of that was in direct payments of rates to them and it certainly was to make sure that we could help the critical access hospitals because you can only, if you go to, I think it might be page 2 at the bottom, we can only go up to 100 percent of their uncompensated care. So, in a critical access hospital's case, it's probably not enough money. I mean we do have hospitals that are struggling this week that we have as a Senate helped. I mean as we've done this process, we found it out.

So, one's in your district, if we can get this done, we'll have the payment to them by the end of the month, which is very important to them. One's in the Lakes Region and we have another one that certainly was struggling, and they are the critical access hospitals.

SENATOR KAHN: Would you believe that the hospital in my district is a PPS hospital and not a critical access hospital?

SENATOR MORSE: Okay.

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Mister President.

PRESIDING OFFICER SENATOR BRADLEY: I'd just take 10 seconds of personal privilege to cite the hard work, the exceptional work really, of Senator Morse who has gone above and beyond to put this deal together and we owe him a round of applause.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

Floor Amendment to HB 1538-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT limiting the liability of successor corporations for asbestos-related claims.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Findings. The New Hampshire general court finds that:

I. Asbestos-related claims threaten the continued viability of uniquely situated companies that have never manufactured, sold, or distributed asbestos or asbestos products and are liable only as successor corporations.

II. The viability of these businesses is threatened due solely to their status as successor corporations by merger or consolidation that occurred prior to January 1, 1972. In 1972, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration within the United States Department of Labor first promulgated rules establishing exposure limits in an attempt to protect employees against asbestos.

III. Twenty-five other states have enacted legislation similar to RSA 507-H to provide limits on asbestos-related liabilities for innocent successors because this liability has created an overpowering public necessity to provide an immediate, remedial, legislative solution.

IV. The viability of these innocent successor companies is an important public interest as solvent companies provide direct and indirect employment opportunities and contribute to a sustainable workforce.

V. The purpose of RSA 507-H is to balance the rights of those who have suffered asbestos-related injuries with the interests of innocent successor companies that, through merger or consolidation, became liable solely as successor companies and did not themselves manufacture asbestos containing products. In doing so, this chapter provides a mechanism for those who suffer asbestos-related injuries to recover from innocent successor corporations while at the same time limiting the cumulative recovery by all asbestos claimants from innocent successors without impairing their substantive rights.

2 New Chapter; Successor Corporation Asbestos-Related Liability Fairness Act. Amend RSA by inserting after chapter 507-G the following new chapter:

CHAPTER 507-H
SUCCESSOR CORPORATION ASBESTOS-RELATED LIABILITY FAIRNESS ACT

507-H:1 Definitions. As used in this chapter:

I. "Asbestos claim" means any claim, wherever or whenever made, for damages, losses, indemnification, contribution, or other relief arising out of, based on, or in any way related to asbestos, including any of the following:

(a) The health effects of exposure to asbestos;

(b) Any claim made by or on behalf of any person exposed to asbestos or a representative, spouse, parent, child, or other relative of the person; and

(c) Any claim for damage or loss caused by the installation, presence, or removal of asbestos.

II. "Corporation" means a corporation for profit, including a domestic corporation organized under the laws of this state or a foreign corporation organized under laws other than the laws of this state.

III. "Successor" means a corporation that assumes or incurs, or has assumed or incurred successor asbestos-related liabilities before January 1, 1972, or any of such successor corporation's successors.

IV. "Successor asbestos-related liability" means any liabilities, whether known or unknown, asserted or unasserted, absolute or contingent, accrued or unaccrued, liquidated or unliquidated, due or to become due, which are related in any way to asbestos claims that were assumed or incurred by a corporation as a result of or in connection with a merger or consolidation, or the plan of merger or consolidation related to the merger or consolidation with or into another corporation, or that are related in any way to asbestos claims based on the exercise of control or the ownership of stock of the corporation before the merger or consolidation. The term includes liabilities that, after the time of the merger or consolidation for which the fair market value of total gross assets is determined under RSA 507-H:4, were or are paid or otherwise discharged, or committed to be paid or otherwise discharged, by or on behalf of the corporation, or by a successor of the corporation, or by or on behalf of a transferor, in connection with settlements, judgments, or other discharges in this state or another jurisdiction.

V. "Transferor" means a corporation from which successor asbestos-related liabilities are or were assumed or incurred.

507-H:2 Application of Limitations.

I. The limitations in RSA 507-H:3 shall apply to any successor corporation.

II. The limitations of RSA 507-H:3 shall not apply to:

(a) Workers' compensation benefits paid by or on behalf of an employer to an employee under the provisions of RSA 281-A or a comparable workers' compensation law of another jurisdiction;

(b) Any claim against a corporation that does not constitute a successor asbestos-related liability;

(c) Any obligation under the National Labor Relations Act, 29 U.S.C. Section 151 et seq., as amended, or under any collective bargaining agreement; or

(d) A successor that, after a merger or consolidation, continued in the business of mining asbestos or in the business of selling or distributing asbestos fibers or in the business of manufacturing, distributing, removing, or installing asbestos-containing products which were the same or substantially the same as those products previously manufactured, distributed, removed, or installed by the transferor.

507-H:3 Limitations on Cumulative Successor Asbestos-related Liabilities.

I. Except as provided in paragraph II, the cumulative successor asbestos-related liabilities of a successor corporation are limited to the fair market value of the total gross assets of the transferor determined as of the time of the merger or consolidation. No successor corporation shall have responsibility for successor asbestos-related liabilities in excess of this limitation.

II. If the transferor had assumed or incurred successor asbestos-related liabilities in connection with a prior merger or consolidation with a prior transferor, then the fair market value of the total assets of the prior transferor determined as of the time of the earlier merger or consolidation shall be substituted for the limitation in paragraph I for purposes of determining the limitation of liability of a successor corporation.

507-H:4 Establishing Fair Market Value of Total Gross Assets.

I. As used in this section, total gross assets include intangible assets.

II. A successor corporation may establish the fair market value of total gross assets for the purpose of the limitations under RSA 507-H:3 through any method reasonable under the circumstances, including:

(a) By reference to the going concern value of the assets or to the purchase price attributable to or paid for the assets in an arms-length transaction; or

(b) In the absence of other readily available information from which the fair market value can be determined, by reference to the value of the assets recorded on a balance sheet.

III. To the extent total gross assets include any liability insurance that was issued to the transferor whose assets are being valued for purposes of this section, the applicability, terms, conditions, and limits of the insurance policy shall not be affected by this section, and this section shall not otherwise affect the rights and obligations of an insurer, transferor, or successor under any insurance contract or any related agreements, including, without limitation, preenactment settlements resolving coverage-related disputes, and the rights of an insurer to seek payment for applicable deductibles, retrospective premiums, or self-insured retentions, or to seek contribution from a successor for uninsured or self-insured periods or periods where insurance is uncollectible or otherwise unavailable. Without limiting the foregoing, to the extent total gross assets include any such liability insurance, a settlement of a dispute concerning any liability coverage entered into by a transferor or successor with the insurers of the transferor before the effective date of this chapter shall be determinative of the total coverage of the liability insurance to be included in the calculation of the transferor's total gross assets.

507-H:5 Adjustment.

I. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the fair market value of total gross assets at the time of the merger or consolidation shall increase annually at a rate of one percent in excess of the prime rate as listed in the first edition of the Wall Street Journal published for each calendar year since the merger or consolidation, unless the prime rate is not published in that edition of the Wall Street Journal, in which case any reasonable determination of the prime rate on the first day of the calendar year may be used.

II. The rate calculated under paragraph I shall not be compounded.

III. The adjustment of the fair market value of total gross assets shall continue as provided in paragraph I until the date the adjusted value is first exceeded by the cumulative amounts of successor asbestos-related liabilities paid or committed to be paid by or on behalf of the successor corporation, a predecessor, or by or on behalf of a transferor after the time of the merger or consolidation for which the fair market value of total gross assets is determined.

IV. No adjustment of the fair market value of total gross assets shall be applied to any liability insurance that may be included in the calculation of total gross assets by RSA 507-H:4, III.

507-H:6 Scope of Act; Application.

I. This chapter shall be liberally construed with regard to successors.

II. This chapter shall apply to all asbestos claims filed against a successor on or after the effective date of this chapter. The chapter shall also apply to any pending asbestos claims against a successor in which trial has not commenced as of the effective date, except that any provisions of this chapter that would be unconstitutional if applied retroactively shall be applied prospectively.

3 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill limits the liability of successor corporations for asbestos-related claims to the fair market value of the total gross assets of the transferor at the time of merger or consolidation and provides methods for establishing the fair market value of the transferor's total gross assets.

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you, Mister President. The state of New Hampshire is great because the body has lowered the BP tax, we have lowered the BET tax. Revenues are up, there's virtually no unemployment. It's always a sunny day in New Hampshire right now. How do we continue, how do we keep this success up? We show the country that New Hampshire is open for business, it was, still is and always will be. We welcome New Hampshire, more businesses into New Hampshire. We don't want an innocent good faith purchaser, who never made or sold or installed asbestos, to pay billions of dollars because of an ancillary building they got in a purchase of a rival. This amendment, and I'll be very brief because we've already been through this before, in my opinion is founded on common sense. It will send a strong message that New Hampshire business laws are based on fairness. Just like the laws in twenty-five other states, this amendment limits the liability of certain successors with original transfer of the successor, asbestos related liabilities occurred before the Federal Government began regulating asbestos in 1972. The successor must not, and I'll emphasize "not", have continued in the business of selling, nor manufacturing, nor distributing, removing or installing asbestos containing products. This bill does nothing to impact individual rights or abilities to seek financial recovery for asbestos related injuries, but will work to prevent frivolous lawsuits. We don't want sharks heading here just because they think it's a place they can make money. Contrary to the claims, this legislation has never had an adverse impact on a veteran or any other worker's ability to recover damages in the twenty-five states that it has passed in over the last decade and a half. Please support the Floor Amendment, which has already received the support of the Senate earlier this session. Thank you very much, Mister President.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Senator Soucy for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR SOUCY: Is this amendment germane to the bill that's before us?

The Chair ruled sections of the Floor Amendment non-germane.

Without objection, Senate Rule 3-17 is suspended to allow consideration of the non-germane Floor Amendment.

Senator Feltes objected to the suspension of Senate Rule 3-17.

PRESIDENT MORSE: You can ask that this amendment be ruled germane by the body. It would require 16 votes.

Recess. Out of recess.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes for a question of Senator Gannon.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you for taking my question, Senator Gannon. Is your amendment exactly what we passed in Senate Bill 427?

SENATOR GANNON: Yes, sir.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: In light of that representation and in light of rule 3-17, I withdraw the objection with respect to germaneness.

Without objection, Senate Rule 3-17 is suspended to allow consideration of the non-germane Floor Amendment. Adopted by the necessary 2/3 vote.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn for a question of Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Mister President. What I want to do is refresh my reasoning on this bill from the last time it was debated. I believe I voted against and I believe that you gave some testimony to the effect of the responsibility of a property buyer to do the due diligence that they would normally do when acquiring a business or the property. And I felt, could you review that with us one more time, so that we get grounded back into what this amendment, where the flaw was with this amendment? Thank you.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much for the question, Senator Kahn. We've debated a lot of bills this session. Based on my recollection of the debate of this and my review of this, we found a problem based on not providing adequate disclosures upon transferring a property and some of the problems associated with that. People ought to know what kind of properties they're buying. People ought to know what they're getting into, especially when it relates to asbestos. And I think that was one our concerns as I recall it on this bill.

SENATOR KAHN: And if I was in the position of acquiring a business or a property and I – there was asbestos found during that discovery, I would have the ability then to negotiate with the seller the kinds of exclusions or assurances that I be held harmless for that acquisition, that liability?

SENATOR FELTES: That's correct, Senator. If you had either done an inspection on your own as a buyer or there's some adequate disclosure, which I think this tampers with to some degree, you would have an ability to know that there's asbestos there and that presents a problem for you as a successor in ownership of that property and possible claims for you down the road, and that would affect your ability, presumably to negotiate a better price if you're still interested in the property after knowing that asbestos is in the property.

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Senator. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon for a question of Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you for taking my question. So, you were talking about knowledge, reasonable knowledge. Are you aware that the purchase of this property was years and years before the Federal Government began regulating asbestos in 1972? It was like a 1963 purchase, so at the time are you aware that there was no reason to really be that scared of asbestos because the Federal Government was letting everyone do it? So, if it was in a dormant little building on your property and it was a legal product at the time, that you were never going to sell, you were just going to pass through that and it's legal, haven't you done your due diligence?

SENATOR KAHN: I'm not aware of the purchase nor when the, although you're saying 1972.

SENATOR GANNON: So I just, the whole this is to me, if it was after 1972, I could understand your argument because then it would have been an illegal product that they were aware would contaminate people. Would you believe?

SENATOR KAHN: I would believe that there are probably lots of companies that would love to jump on an amendment like this and I don't know how many people could be affected by us limiting that. You know, were there any coal mines in this state that were acquired before 1972? I guess, you know, we could, following this path, people who have experienced the problems, respiratory problems, either from whatever the source, would we be relieving the liability of people who have died or families who have claims? I just, I, it's one of those bills where you go one of two ways on it and it's a close call, but I wonder how many, we have no voice here for the people who might have been affected that we're taking the right, their right away in granting this. Thank you for the question.

SENATE CLERK'S NOTE

Due to uncontrollable circumstances there was a loss in audio transmission in regards to the beginning of Senator Carson's remarks.

SENATOR CARSON: …I know it's late, but I don't think people truly understand what this is about. This bill came to Senate Judiciary earlier this year and it came because of a problem that others are seeing occurring concerning asbestos. As we all know, asbestos is a very dangerous, a very dangerous substance. It wasn't always so. And because of that, for many years, people worked around asbestos. They started to get sick and with the big manufacturers of asbestos, the Federal Government came to a settlement, where these companies agreed to set aside billions of dollars into a fund that would help the victims of – I forgot what it's called – yeah, mesothelioma. And what's happening is that has now gone beyond that fund and they're now going after companies that might have used asbestos in the manufacturing of their product. We're not talking about property as in land or somebody bought a house, we're talking about the buying of businesses. And it's really hurt a lot of the smaller businesses who bought, who bought a business making, I think one was making bottle caps or something like that, and they did, they had no idea because when they bought the prop–, the business asbestos was legal, there wasn't a problem with it. Now they find themselves being drawn into court. And so, what the bill ultimately tries to do is to get the transparency that if you're getting money from one of these funds, tell the court. Because what's happening is people are going to these large funds and they're drawing off of these funds, but they're not telling the court that they're also going after the smaller guy too. And there's a real concern that that fund is going to go away. Because once it's gone Mister President, it's gone. There's no replenishing that fund. It was the settlement. So, what they're trying to do with this piece of legislation is really speak to transparency. If you're going to do this, if you are going to sue, tell the court, did you get a previous settlement, what was that amount, so the court can take that into consideration while it's making its decision. So, I hope that this clears up what this bill was about. Thank you very much, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to HB 1592-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT requiring the commissioner of the department of environmental services to review ambient groundwater standards for arsenic.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Department of Environmental Services; Ambient Groundwater Quality Standards. By January 1, 2019, the commissioner of the department of environmental services shall review the ambient groundwater standard for arsenic to determine whether it should be lowered, taking into consideration the extent to which the contaminant is found in New Hampshire, the ability to detect the contaminant in public water systems, the ability to remove the contaminant from drinking water, the impact on public health, and the costs and benefits to affected entities that will result from establishing the standard. Any proposed change to the ambient groundwater standard for arsenic shall require the approval of the general court. On or before January 1, 2019, the commissioner shall submit a report of the findings to the chairpersons of the house and senate committees with jurisdiction over natural resources.

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill requires the commissioner of the department of environmental services to review the ambient groundwater standard for arsenic to determine whether it should be lowered. This bill also requires that any proposed change shall require approval of the general court.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you, Mister President. After our discussion on the floor hours ago, I took the main part of the bill, which allows the Department of Environmental Services to review ambient groundwater standards for arsenic to determine whether it should be lowered, taking into consideration the extent to which the contaminant is found in New Hampshire, and I can tell you it's in well water everywhere, and the ability to detect it in public water systems and set a recommended standard that would be different than the existing standard today. That's the nuts and bolts of the bill that came to us from the House. But what I have also proposed is a way to get this bill to the Governor in a way that is likely to be signed into law, a compromise, not a four letter word, but something realistic, adding line 14 and 15, any proposed change to the ambient groundwater standard for arsenic shall require the approval of the General Court. That means everybody in the Legislature. The bill would have to be introduced, it would go through the process and presumably if the department recommended a lower standard given that it's arsenic, one of the most toxic, carcinogenic compounds in water, all throughout the Granite State, it would be adopted. Quite frankly, we don't always do it this way. In fact, we don't normally do it this way.

However, we probably should do it this way because there will be an expense. I happen to believe that it will be a warranted expense and that's why I think this is a compromise that ought to be acceptable to everyone. And I commend the amendment to you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Fuller Clark for a question of Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: Thank you, Senator from District 3. Are you aware of any time in the past when we have turned over the ultimate decision on how we should be implementing safety with regard to air or water to the Legislature, and are you concerned that this might be setting a precedent for the future?

SENATOR BRADLEY: You know interestingly enough today when we adopted, I believe it was House Bill 317, we said any further increases in the systems benefits charge should come back to this body, not just us, but our friends across the wall. So, while this would not be perhaps the standard practice of the department and I can't off the top of my head, cite an example where the Legislature had to approve either under RSA 125, the air pollution statutes, or RSA 485, I think which is where groundwater is predominantly. We set the policy in this building; we ask executive departments to implement it. Often times we would give them rulemaking authority. I think in this instance, given the fact that it was Inexpedient to Legislate, and there's a lot of opposition to going forward without knowing what the known costs are, this is a reasonable way to proceed.

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: Again, my question is are you at all concerned that this would set a precedent for the future, so that any significant piece of legislation dealing with the authority of DES to regulate air or water pollution will have to come before the Legislature?

SENATOR BRADLEY: I, I always believe in legislative authority, so no I'm not too concerned. What I am concerned about is our inability to direct the Department of Environmental Services to actually do the review with legislative approval and really, a stamp of approval, and then to come back. And I think given what happened on bills that you and our friend from Concord worked on last year that ended up in a Committee of Conference and cost concerns left that Committee of Conference without any resolution, the bills died, we're back a year later, doing the same thing again. Those bills now have the consensus. I think this is a way to get a consensus and get going early.

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise in opposition to the Floor Amendment. We don't know what DES will promulgate for a standard for our state. That's true. We can't predict it. We also can't predict exactly what may or may not be the expense. It could be none as a consequence, they could choose not to lower it. They could choose to lower it to a level that there is no expense beyond the existing care and maintenance of water systems. Or they could go, as the Senator from District 11 pointed out, all the way down to five which may result in, as the fiscal note indicated, an expense. And we don't know what they're going to do, we don't. We also don't know what DES is going to do on perfluorinated chemicals, PFCs. And we just passed that bill. We just passed it without requiring that we go back through the Legislature to pinpoint exactly the standard. That was House Bill 1101. It was House Bill 1101, we just passed it without this provision in it. And I can recall and certainly the Senator from Wolfeboro can recall when we worked on this last year the PFCs and the Senator from District 24 probably recalls, I presented an amendment that picked the number. Remember that? That was greeted about as frosty as something that's very frosty, a snowman? Frosty as not this chamber right now. The antonym of this chamber right now. And that was greeted that way by everybody: BIA, Municipal Association, basically all the stakeholders. So, what's going to happen when we have this process go forward and then the Legislature does that again? Picks a number and we go through the process, the legislative process and people, the legislators who don't have the expertise start monkeying with that number based on what's filed. It's going to be the same thing and then we're going to end up not passing a bill. By doing this today, we are not passing a bill. We're not. We're saying the Legislature next year may pass a bill. That's what we're saying. When we're dealing with arsenic in drinking water, I think it's time to act. So, I would encourage us to vote down this amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of the amendment. PFOAs got delayed a year because of the process. We don't need to delay this. This is an important bill, but it's equally important that we exercise our authority over the agencies that people send us down here to control. DES will do a study, they'll come back with a number, but we should not, and I believe cannot, support a process that says go ahead and send it in without any regard for the consequences because DES doesn't have a fiscal consequence that the taxpayers and the businesses of this state will have to bear. That's up to us to make that assessment. And I fully trust this leg–, this Senate and the people across the wall and the Governor upstairs to do what is best for the people of the state all the way around. This amendment is good. It is good for the process, okay? It doesn't set a precedent because there is no precedent for legislative process. Any one of us can put in any bill we want in at any time and it gets modified. So, this is a good amendment. It gets the job done because we have to deal with the people across the wall. And I think that if we don't do this, it's dead this year. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator French for a question of Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FRENCH: Thank you, Senator. So, for the process, if DES set an amount, okay, that was acceptable, couldn't the Legislature change that anyway?

SENATOR FELTES: Absolutely. And, you know, and I think the notion that this is not acceptable to our colleagues across the wall, it's a House Bill. They passed it. They already passed this bill without this amendment. We don't need this amendment. All this really says, Senator French, is let's come back next year after DES looks at it and file another bill. This is all this says.

SENATOR FRENCH: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Daniels.)

SENATOR DANIELS: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in favor of the amendment. What this bill does, it helps to educate us, because what happens now is DES sets a particular level and that's what it is, and we get our constituents saying, you know, how come this is costing us more money? Well you know what, we don't know why. What this is going to do is going to cause DES to come to the Legislature and explain why they are setting it. That's education. That's good for us, so that we can then go back to our cities and towns and if it's going to be an increase, with the municipality or on our constituents, we will be able to explain to them why it happens. So, this is a good amendment. Any time we can be more educated when talking to our, our constituents, it's a good thing. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise in support of the amendment for the following reasons. What do we gain by voting against this amendment? We don't gain anything. What do we gain by voting for the amendment? At least an opportunity to hear, to hear what's happening and have an opportunity to look at it. I've been talking about groundwater since the 1970s when I thought water was a problem that was coming and it was going to be dramatic as we move forward. The quality of our water. I notice everybody was drinking out of the bottles today. Kind of gives you an example of what we think about water. We pay $1.50 for these, $1.50. As President of the Manchester Water Works, the greatest water works company in America, right, Alderman Cavanaugh? The best price and the best water in the United States, in the whole United States. Because we've spent a lot of time and effort examining this and, and we really do a great job of processing that water. We spend a lot of money on a plant that's really done a great job, so I don't see anything gained by voting against this. We should support it and move it forward. It's a change and we're going to have to face the consequences because as I said I'm not drinking this stuff at my house. I go right to the faucet, I turn it on and I drink that great Manchester water and I want to be able to do that until the day I die, until they bury me in the back yard. So, I'm going to be ahead of the game. So, I don't see anything gained by voting against this, I see, I see the ray of hope by voting for it. Thank you, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to HB 1626-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT requiring the governor's commission on alcohol and drug abuse prevention, treatment, and recovery to report on the cost effectiveness of funded programs, and relative to liquor commission shortfalls.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 4 with the following:

5 Revenue Shortfalls; Suspension. RSA 176:16-a, relative to liquor commission revenue shortfalls, is suspended for the biennium ending June 30, 2019.

6 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

2018-1928s

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill requires the commissioner of the department of health and human services, in conjunction with the governor's commission on alcohol and drug abuse prevention, treatment and recovery, to make an annual report relative to the cost effectiveness and outcomes of programs funded in whole or in part by the governor's commission.

This bill also suspends the law regarding liquor commission shortfalls for the biennium ending June 30, 2019.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. I will speak to it now. You may recall earlier in the day we rejected the Committee Amendment. Part of the Committee Amendment was the revenue shortfall suspension of the Liquor Commission. That needs to be added back in. This is not controversial, so I would move that we adopt Amendment 1928s. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment. Adopted.

ENERGY AND NATURAL RESOURCES

HB 114, relative to minimum electric renewable portfolio standards.
Interim Study, Vote 4-1. Senator Bradley for the committee.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 114 be referred to Interim Study. The bill reduces the percentage of total megawatt-hours of electricity from class I sources under the electric renewable portfolio standards. Class I represents new, innovative technologies for renewable generation. This bill would halt the growth of Class I by placing a cap at the 2000 compliance obligations of 6 percent. The committee heard testimony that many in our state's clean energy sector look for legislative and regulatory consistency in state energy policy. The bill warrants a deeper study of its consequences and those effects need to be reviewed. The Energy and Natural Resources Committee asks for your support for the motion of refer for Interim Study. Thank you, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to HB 1102-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT regulating groundwater pollution caused by polluting emissions in the air; relative to standards for perfluorochemicals in drinking water, ambient groundwater, and surface water; and authorizing the department of corrections to establish additional expenditure class lines with fiscal committee and governor and council approval.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Subparagraph; Rulemaking; Air Contaminant Impacts on Soil and Water. Amend RSA 125-C:4, I by inserting after subparagraph (s) the following new subparagraph:

(t) The determination of air contaminants subject to regulation, applicability thresholds, determination of best available control technology, and procedures to determine potential impacts of the deposit of such contaminants from the air on soils or water resources to implement RSA 125-C:10-e.

2 New Section; Requirements for Air Emissions of Perflourinated Compounds Impacting Soil and Water. Amend RSA 125-C by inserting after section 10-d the following new section:

125-C:10-e Requirements for Air Emissions of Perfluorinated Compounds Impacting Soil and Water.

I. For the purposes of this section:

(a) "Best available control technology" means "best available control technology" as defined in RSA 125-C:10-b, I(a).

(b) "Ambient groundwater quality standard" means "ambient groundwater quality standard" as defined in RSA 485-C:2, I.

(c) "Surface water quality standard" means "surface water quality standard" established in or pursuant to RSA 485-A.

(d) "Perfluorinated Compounds" or "PFCs" means the list of compounds identified in paragraph 1.1 of Environmental Protection Agency Document#: EPA/600/R-08/092 Method 537. "Determination of Selected Perfluorinated Alkyl Acids in Drinking Water by Solid Phase Extraction and Liquid Chromatography/Tandem Mass Spectrometry (LC/MS/MS)", Version 1.1 (September 2009).

(e) "Precursor" means any substance that has been shown by sound science to be transformed into a PFC under ambient conditions reasonably expected to occur in New Hampshire.

II. A device that emits to the air any PFCs or precursors that have caused or contributed to an exceedance of an ambient groundwater quality standard or surface water quality standard as a result of the deposition of any such PFCs or precursors from the air, shall be subject to the determination and application of best available control technology. Within 6 months of the department determining that the device is subject to such control technology, the owner of the device shall submit to the department an application for a permit. Within 12 months of permit issuance, the applicant shall complete construction and installation of controls consistent with the permit. Operation of the source may continue through the permitting, construction, and installation time period. A source which can demonstrate to the department that its device no longer contributes to an exceedance of an ambient groundwater quality standard or surface water quality standard shall be exempt from this section.

III. The construction, installation, or modification of any device that has the potential, based on an applicability threshold adopted by the department, to cause or contribute to an exceedance of an ambient groundwater quality standard or surface water quality standard as a result of the deposition of any PFCs or precursors from the air, shall be prohibited without first applying for and obtaining a permit from the department that establishes emission limitations for such device based on best available control technology.

IV. Part of the initial application for a permit under this section shall include an analysis of best available control technology for controlling emissions. Any permit issued shall contain inspection, testing, and reporting requirements, as applicable, to ensure the conditions of the permit are met.

V. Any determination of best available control technology under this section shall be subject to the following:

(a) In no event shall application of best available control technology result in:

(1) Emission of any air contaminant that would exceed the emissions allowed by any applicable standard under RSA 125-C or RSA 125-I or rules adopted pursuant to either chapter.

(2) Emission of any air contaminant subject to this section in an amount disproportionate to the emissions of such air contaminant from other similar air pollution control devices for that air contaminant at facilities using similar technology.

(3) Emission of any air contaminant subject to this section which causes or contributes to or has the potential to cause or contribute to an exceedance of an ambient groundwater quality standard or surface water quality standard, as a result of the deposition of the contaminant from the air.

(b) If the department determines that the facility has more than one device that emits air contaminants subject to this section, the department shall determine best available control technology emission limitations for each such device.

VI. This section shall only pertain to PFCs for which at least one study has been conducted in accordance with generally accepted scientific principles that demonstrates that the PFC of concern is known to cause or may reasonably be anticipated to cause acute, chronic, mutagenic, reproductive, or developmental health effects in humans as a result of exposure to such PFC. The implementation of this section shall only rely upon standards that are based on federal maximum contaminant levels, health advisories, provisional health advisories; standards that are derived from federally published toxicological data; or more restrictive New Hampshire state standards.

3 New Subparagraph; Statement of Purpose. Amend RSA 485:1, II by inserting after paragraph (h) the following new subparagraph:

(i) Adopt primary drinking water standards by establishing maximum contaminant limits or treatment techniques.

4 Drinking Water Rules. Amend RSA 485:3 I(b) to read as follows:

(b) After consideration of the extent to which the contaminant is found in New Hampshire, the ability to detect the contaminant in public water systems, the ability to remove the contaminant from drinking water, and the costs and benefits to affected parties that will result from establishing the standard, a specification for each contaminant of either:

(1) A maximum contaminant level that is acceptable in water for human consumption[~~, if it is feasible to ascertain the level of such contaminant in water in public water systems~~]; or

(2) One or more treatment techniques or methods which lead to a reduction of the level of such contaminant sufficient to protect the public health, if it is not feasible to ascertain the level of such contaminant in water in the public water system; and

5 New Subdivision; Perfluorochemicals. Amend 485 by inserting after section 16-d the following new subdivision:

Perfluorochemicals

485:16-e Perfluorochemicals. By January 1, 2019, the commissioner shall, in consultation with the commissioner of the department of health and human services and other interested parties, initiate rulemaking in accordance with RSA 541-A to adopt a maximum contaminant limit for perfluorooctanoic acid (PFOA), perfluoroctanesulfonic acid (PFOS), perfluorononanoic acid (PFNA), and perfluorohexanesulfonic acid (PFHxS).

6 Ambient Groundwater Quality Standards. Amend RSA 485-C:6 to read as follows:

485-C:6 Ambient Groundwater Quality Standards.

I. The commissioner shall establish and adopt ambient groundwater quality standards for regulated contaminants which adversely affect human health or the environment. Ambient groundwater standards shall apply to all regulated contaminants which result from human operations or activities, but do not apply to naturally occurring contaminants. Where state maximum contaminant levels have been adopted under RSA 485:3, I(b), ambient groundwater quality standards shall be equivalent to such standards. Where federal maximum contaminant level or health advisories have been promulgated under the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act or rules relevant to such act, ambient groundwater quality standards shall be [~~equivalent to~~] no less stringent than such standards. The commissioner may adopt standards more stringent than federal maximum contaminant levels or health advisories if, accounting for an adequate margin of safety to protect human health at all life stages, including but not limited to pre-natal development, the commissioner determines federal standards are insufficient for protection of human health. Where such standards are established based upon health advisories that address cancer risks, the ambient groundwater quality standards shall be equivalent to that exposure which causes a lifetime exposure risk of one cancer in 1,000,000 exposed population. Where no federal or state maximum contaminant level or health advisory has been issued, the commissioner may adopt ambient groundwater quality standards on a basis which provides for an adequate margin of safety to protect human health and safety.

II. Health advisories that are adopted as ambient groundwater quality standards shall be reviewed by the department at least every 5 years to determine if new research warrants revising the current ambient groundwater quality standard. If the department finds a revision is necessary it shall conduct rulemaking to adopt the revised standard.

III. Ambient groundwater quality standards shall be the water quality basis for issuance of groundwater discharge permits under RSA 485-A: 13.

[~~III.~~] IV. Except for discharges of domestic wastewater regulated under RSA 485-A:13 and RSA 485-A:29, no person shall violate ambient groundwater quality standards.

V. By January 1, 2019, the commissioner shall, in consultation with the commissioner of the department of health and human services and interested parties, initiate rulemaking to adopt ambient groundwater quality standards for perfluorononanoic acid (PFNA) and perfluorohexanesulfonic acid (PFHxS).

VI. By January 1, 2019, the commissioner shall, in consultation with the commissioner of the department of health and human services and interested parties, conduct a review to determine whether current research warrants revising the existing ambient groundwater quality standards for perfluorooctanoic acid (PFOA) and perfluorooctanesulfonic acid (PFOS).

7 Department of Environmental Services; Surface Water Quality Standards. The commissioner of environmental services shall develop a plan, including a schedule and cost estimates, to establish surface water quality standards for perfluorooctanesulfonate (PFOS), perfluorooctanoic acid (PFOA), perfluorononanoic acid (PFNA), and perfluorohexanesulfonic acid (PFHxS) in class A and class B waters for all designated uses. The commissioner shall submit the plan upon its completion, but no later than January 1, 2020, to the house resources, recreation, and development committee and the senate energy and natural resources committee.

8 Department of Environmental Services; Positions Established; Appropriation. There is established within the department of environmental services one classified toxicologist position and one classified human health risk assessor for the purposes of developing appropriate standards to protect groundwater and drinking water quality under RSA 485-C. The sum necessary to pay the salary, benefits, and other costs related to the positions established in this section is hereby appropriated to the department of environmental services for the biennium ending June 30, 2019. This appropriation shall be in addition to any other appropriations made to the department in the biennium. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in treasury not otherwise appropriated.

9 New Paragraph; Transfer Language; Department of Corrections. Amend RSA 9:16-a by inserting after paragraph IV the following new paragraph:

V. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner of the department of corrections is authorized to transfer funds within and among all accounting units within the department to create accounting units and expenditure classes as required and as the commissioner deems necessary and appropriate to address present or projected budget deficits, or to responds to changes in federal law, regulations, or programs, and otherwise as necessary for the efficient management of the department; provided if a transfer does not include new accounting units or expenditure classes, only transfers over $75,000 shall require prior approval of the fiscal committee of the general court and governor and council.

10 Effective Date.

I. Sections 1 and 2 of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

2018-1930s

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Allows the department of environmental services to make rules regarding air pollution and the deposit of such pollutants on soils and water.

II. Regulates devices emitting or having the potential to emit air pollutants that may harm soil and water through the deposit of such pollutants.

III. Clarifies the basis for and requires periodic review of ambient groundwater quality standards.

IV. Directs the department to evaluate the ambient ground water quality standards for perfluorooctanoic acid (PFOA) and perfluoroctanesulfonic acid (PFOS) and set ambient groundwater quality standards for perfluorononanoic acid (PFNA), and perfluorohexanesulfonic acid (PFHxS).

V. Establishes the criteria for setting maximum contaminant limits for public drinking water and directs the department to set maximum contaminant limits for perfluorooctanoic acid (PFOA), perfluoroctanesulfonic acid (PFOS), perfluorononanoic acid (PFNA), and perfluorohexanesulfonic acid (PFHxS).

VI. Directs the department to, in consultation with stakeholders, develop a plan, including a schedule and cost estimates, to establish surface water quality standards for perfluorooctanesulfonate (PFOS), perfluorooctanoic acid (PFOA), perfluorononanoic acid (PFNA), and perfluorohexanesulfonic acid (PFHxS)

VII. Establishes a toxicologist position and a human health risk assessor position in the department of environmental services and makes an appropriation to fund the positions.

VIII. Authorizes the department of corrections to establish additional expenditure class lines with legislative fiscal committee and governor and council approval.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. This does something very non-controversial. It gives to the Commissioner of Corrections the transfer authority that she needs to manage her budget. We've done this to a number of departments. We actually have this, we have had this in the budget on numerous occasions. It was left out and she needs this. It's on page 5, it starts on line 11, Arabic number 9, transfer language Department of Corrections. She needs this in order, as I said, to manage her budget. I've, I've talked to people about this and discussed it with them. We've been looking for a place to put this for a number of sessions. So, with that Mister President, I would appreciate the support of the body for the Department of Corrections.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Unfortunately in looking at the amendment 1930, I believe Senator D'Allesandro, they changed the title of the bill, but they left the balance of House Bill 1101 in the amendment. So, I actually would respectfully ask to special order this and we'll try to get the correct amendment. The amendment that our friend from Manchester wants should go onto the balance of House Bill 1102, which deals with certified physicians. This bill is the PFOA water pollution bill.

SENATOR SANBORN: Mister President, would it, would it be appropriate ask the question, just divide the question and take out what you don't need and leave what's left?

SENATOR BRADLEY: Balance of the bill, 1102, would not be captured.

SENATOR SANBORN: Okay, thank you. Thank you.

Floor Amendment to HB 1102-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT enabling the department of health and human services to contract with certain certified physicians and relative to recommittal of a prisoner by the parole board.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 1 with the following:

2 New Paragraph; Parole of Prisoners. Amend RSA 651-A:19 by inserting after paragraph VII the following new paragraph:

VIII. Notwithstanding paragraph I or subparagraph VII(a) or (d), the parole board may impose a term of recommittal of less than 90 days for a prisoner whose arrest and parole revocation is determined by the board to be a result of or related to substance abuse, if the prisoner enters and successfully completes a residential substance abuse treatment program deemed acceptable by the board and if the board determines that a recommittal of less than 90 days is necessary to assist the prisoner with substance abuse recovery.

3 Effective Date.

I. Section 1 of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

2018-1906s

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill authorizes the commissioner of the department of health and human services to contract with one or more physicians who are certified by an accredited addiction medicine or addiction psychiatry certifying body to review medication assisted treatment in New Hampshire.

This bill also authorizes the parole board to impose a term of recommittal of less than 90 days if the prisoner enters and successfully completes a residential substance abuse treatment program deemed acceptable by the board and if the board determines that such recommittal is necessary to assist the prisoner with substance abuse recovery.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you very much, Mister President. This is a, a bill that comes from a bill that passed this body. It deals with a request from the parole board concerning prisoners who are struggling with drug or alcohol abuse. Unfortunately, the Governor vetoed the version that we sent to him and so there are, are just two minor changes here. On line 11, it says the parole board may impose a term of recommittal of less than ninety days for a prisoner whose arrest and parole revocation is determined by the board to be a result of or related to substance abuse. That's the change that's here. I hope you can support this. I think that this body through a number of years now has determined that we want to treat people that are struggling with drug and alcohol abuse rather than incarcerating them and if you pass this hopefully, we will continue the dialogue with the Governor and hopefully we can get something in place. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Mister President. So, and I, whatever I say here will probably give rise to my colleague from District 14 to stand and say something more here. What my concern was with this bill and still is, is that a prisoner with substance abuse issues, SUDs, has the option of seeking alternative sentencing in their first sentencing or in this sentencing. And we've got programs under way that do alternative sentencing. Those are not necessarily ninety days or definitely not less than ninety days and it's a, it's a very well structured program and to put this under a parole board as opposed to through the court system where that alternative sentencing can take place, to me seems like a conflict. So, somebody's going to point out where my sense of relief that the Governor didn't sign this. It comes from alright, enough, maybe you can answer my issues with this. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I'd like to clarify. This deals with post sentencing. These folks have already been sentenced, they've served their time, they're on parole. I think we know that drug addiction is a very difficult thing for people to struggle with and often times when people go out on parole, they relapse. And so rather than sticking them back into prison, let's get them into treatment and that's what this language is trying to do. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda for a question of Senator Carson.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Senator, for taking my question. Does the drug court process carry over into parole?

SENATOR CARSON: No, it doesn't.

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment. Adopted.

HB 2018, relative to the state 10-year transportation improvement program. Ought to Pass with Amendment, Vote 5-0. Senator Birdsell for the committee.

Senate Transportation
April 26, 2018
06/01

Amendment to HB 2018

Amend the bill by replacing section 3 with the following:

3 Department of Transportation; Nashua-Manchester-Concord. The project named Nashua-Manchester-Concord, project number 40818, shall be modified to delete the development study for a rail corridor project and the project to design and develop a financial plan for bus service expansion from Concord to Nashua, or other eligible Boston UZA bus services, including parking facilities at existing and new bus terminals.

Amend the bill by replacing section 11 with the following:

11 Project Removed. The project named Hooksett, project number 24862 using 100 percent state aid highway program funds shall be removed from the 10-year transportation improvement plan 2019-2028 based on the elimination of the state aid highway funding.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 18 the following and renumbering the original section 19 to read as 21:

19 Project Restored. The project named Tilton, project number 29753, to reconstruct and re-classify 1.97 miles of Calef Hill Road shall be revised in the 10-year transportation improvement plan with engineering totaling $256,375 in fiscal year 2020 and construction totaling $2,336,795 for the biennium ending June 30, 2021, contingent on future funds appropriated by the general court.

20 Department of Transportation; Town of Hudson. The department of transportation is authorized to work with the town of Hudson to plan, engineer, and construct a roadway compatible with turnpike standards within the southern portion of a circumferential highway right-of-way between N.H. Route 3A and N.H. Route 111 in Hudson. Planning, engineering, and construction shall be funded solely with town funds.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Adopts the 10-year transportation improvement plan for 2019-2028.

II. Adds a corridor study of Route 114 in the town of Goffstown.

III. Authorizes the department of transportation to construct and implement all electronic tolling, if feasible.

IV. Authorizes construction and implementation of all electronic tolling (AET) at Dover and Rochester toll plaza locations and at the Bedford mainline toll plaza.

V. Requires the department of transportation to make available an optional system of anonymous transponders.

VI. Provides funding for construction of electronic tolling or open road tolling plazas, consultant services for the public private partnership infrastructure oversight committee, and improvements to central New Hampshire turnpike.

VII. Moves construction funding for the project named Bedford-Merrimack from 2019 to 2020.

VIII. Removes funding for the project named Conway, project number 40018.

IX. Removes the project named Hooksett from the 10-year transportation improvement plan 2019-2028.

X. Restores and revises the project named Tilton, project number 29753.

XI. Designates $100,000 of turnpike funds for the use of the public-private partnership infrastructure oversight commission.

XII. Amends the project named Newington-Dover.

XIII. Amends the scope of the project named Walpole-Charlestown and the project named Windham.

XIV. Moves funding for construction of the project named Nashua-Merrimack-Bedford-Manchester from 2022 through 2026 to 2021 through 2025.

XV. Moves funding for construction of the project named Manchester from 2026 to 2025.

XVI. Adds a project named Conway, previously removed from the state 10-year transportation plan, to the plan.

XVII. Authorizes the department of transportation to plan, engineer, and construct a highway in Hudson with town funds.

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Thank you, Mister President. I move House Bill 2018 Ought to Pass with Amendment. This bill adopts the ten-year, ten-year transportation improvement plan for 2019 through 2028. Among the many great projects outlined in this plan, there are several that are worth highlighting. The plan authorizes the Department of Transportation to construct and implement all electronic tolling if feasible and specifically at the Dover and Rochester toll plazas locations. And at the Bedford Mainline toll plaza. This is an important shift that will allow for faster travel and fewer accidents. Along with the electronic tolling, the Department of Transportation would be required to make a system of anonymous transponders available. The plan also adds a corridor study of route 114 in the town of Goffstown. It also changes the funding for construction of the Bedford-Merrimack project from 2019 to 2020 and removes funding for the project named Hooksett. The plan moves construction for the project named Manchester and the project named Nashua-Merrimack-Bedford-Manchester to earlier schedules. Additionally, the plans to designate $100,000 of Turnpike Funds for the use of the Public-Private Partnership Infrastructure Oversight Commission. In terms of new projects, the plan adds a project named Conway which had previously been removed from the plan. It also authorizes the Department of Transportation to plan, engineer and construct a highway in Hudson with town funds. Overall, this is a sound plan that has been thoroughly worked on by DOT and many cities and town stakeholders. The Transportation Committee asks for your support in the motion of Ought to Pass with Amendment on House Bill 2018. Thank you, Mister President.

Senator Soucy moved to divide the question: Committee Amendment 2018-1807s, Section 3 (Lines 3-7) and then vote on the remainder of the amendment.

The Chair ruled the question divisible.

(The Chair recognized Senator Lasky.)

SENATOR LASKY: Thank you, Mister President. I rise again in opposition to the deletion of the development study for a rail corridor project and the project to design and develop a financial plan for bus service expansion from Concord to Nashua or other eligible Boston, use the A bus services, including parking facilities at existing and new bus terminals. My good friend from District 19 and her committee has chosen to, in spite of overwhelming testimony at the hearing and overwhelming testimony, 74 percent of the voters in our state, to delete the, once again, this development study. For one thing, you know, tax cuts alone do not make a state more attractive to businesses. We need a comprehensive plan to do that. Rail and a multi-modal transportation plan would be part of that. The business community and our citizens have been calling on us for years to take action on commuter rail. And I'm disappointed that the Senate Republicans in the Transportation Committee have once again chosen to block this funding. Commuter rail is not a partisan or an ideological issue. It's something supported by both Republicans and Democrats, business leaders and working families. The people of New Hampshire and clearly the people in the southern part of the state continue to be frustrated by the lack of effort in this :egislature to find a consensus way forward on commuter rail when the economic benefits and the environmental benefits have been shown to be undeniable.

Commuter rail includes a modern, safe transportation infrastructure that not only bridges a gap between employers and their need for an educated workforce, which is something that our businesses have been clamoring for, but also helps attract and keep young people in our state to drive future growth. These are all issues that we have been grappling with that everyone talks about and says, oh woe is me, what can we do about this? Well this is one thing we can do about it. This study costs the taxpayers nothing. It is the extension of the first part of the corridor rail study, which has already been done. This $4 million is already set aside for this environmental and engineering portion of the study. I, it boggles my mind. I see no downside to keeping this in the 2018 capital budget. Please, you know, I hear it costs too much, etcetera. Even if we go ahead with this portion of the study, we are not committed to anything. Future Legislatures in, in their infinite wisdom can then decide to have all the information available and then decide if they want to proceed with commuter rail. To me, you know, it is just inconceivable that this is not something that we would keep in this plan. So, I urge you to vote against this portion of the amendment, so that the study can remain in the capital budget plan as sent over by the House. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon for a question of Senator Lasky.)

SENATOR GANNON: Just a couple questions. You were talking about no cost. Would you believe that the Downeaster costs the state of Maine to date $300 million?

SENATOR LASKY: You know, I, I would believe that, but that doesn't necessarily mean that what we are proposing is and yes, for the most part, rail is something that is generally subsidized. But, the economic benefits, the benefits that it brings, the developmental benefits, may supersede what those particular costs might be. Again, what are you afraid of by having this study finished? By having more information? We talk all the time about how information's good, the more information we have, the better off we are. Except when it comes to rail.

SENATO GANNON: You talked about keeping young people here. The high pay– you talked that this would bring in more youth hire. Would you believe that I believe it will do the opposite? The jobs pay, way superior I think, instead of sending the people to ARMI, they're going to go down to Cambridge for double the price. I think that your– And wasn't this already studied in 2014? Are you just repeating a study that we recently had?

SENATOR LASKY: No. This is not a repetition of a study. This is an extension and the engineering portion of what was started. As far as people, sure, there may, will be people who will work in Boston or work in Maine or work other places outside of New Hampshire. But they will come home here. Our young people, I hear it all the time, say, and start-up businesses, say I want to stay here, I love New Hampshire but I don't want to drive, I don't want to have that commute. It's a different mindset than we grew up with where you, you know, you had to drive your car and if you got further away than two parking spaces, it wasn't any good. It's not the same.

SENATOR GANNON: And you're aware that it cost Maine, they're losing $10 million a year. It only pays the costs to the state or they have to pay 50 percent every year?

SENATOR LASKY: I'm, I'm certainly not here to argue with you about that. I wouldn't begin to do that. But perhaps you know their population may be growing. Their population, their economic growth may be growing. I don't know. I'm not able to comment on that.

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Innis.)

SENATOR INNIS: Thank you, Mister President. I'm going to keep my remarks relatively short. With regards to making a comparison to the Downeaster, all I will say is that we do everything better than Maine. It's not a valid comparator. Come on. Regarding sending people to Boston on the train, last I checked I-93 did the same thing, so did Concord Trailways, so does C&J. The train might too, but everything flows both ways on all these routes. Every single mode of travel in the United States is subsidized. C&J is subsidized, so is Concord Trailways. I talked to Jim Jalbert who owns C&J. He supports this study. The bus company supports the study. Pease Airport receives a million dollars a year for a single air carrier named Allegiant. It doesn't even fly daily and has the highest profit margin of any airline in the industry. Allegiant, a million dollars. Quite a deal for the taxpayers isn't it? Rail, a dollar invested in rail has five times the impact on congestion as a dollar invested in highways. When are we going to add the next lane for several hundred million dollars to I-93 or I-95? Commuter demand is expected to grow by 58 percent by 2030. We know that rail improves the quality of life. Road congestion costs Americans $121 billion per year or $818 per commuter. In areas where there are more transit choices, people enjoy less air pollution and believe it or not, lower body weight. We can get thinner. Is that true? I don't know, but hey. And as Senator Lasky pointed out, 74 percent of New Hampshire residents, 74 percent of our constituent's support this. So, I encourage the body to get the study back in. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much. If I want to support the Committee Amendment, I would vote yes now. And I'll tell you why I'm going to vote yes, and I will talk to my friend from Nashua. I'm not going to have the pleasure of serving with you much longer. You would get my vote for rail if we could bring rail to Nashua and see how it works, instead of going beyond Nashua, and that is the problem and the problem that we're debating on and what we're pushing ourselves down the road toward are $300 million of capital costs and 10 or 12 million of operating cost. There needs to be some sort of staged approach and know that the rail is going to work. And bringing it to Nashua, stopping there would be a more rational approach. That's why I'm not prepared tonight to support putting $4 million in and a "yes" vote supports the Committee Amendment.

(The Chair recognized Senator Birdsell.)

SENATOR BIRDSELL: I just want to say, I know it's getting late. As my good friend from District 3 said, this is a $300 million capital expense that, in the beginning, that our constituents are going to have to pay for. The Downeaster loses $10.6 million a year. The proponents on how they're going to pay for this rail is they want to, the funding is going to be through the New Hampshire State Capital Program, New Hampshire parking fees, vehicle registration fees, so that's going to be increasing the registration fees, which some people think may be unconstitutional. Municipal contributions, now you're talking Berlin, all the places up north who are not going to benefit from this; the counties on the west, Sullivan, they're not going to be able to benefit from this, but yet they're all going to be paying the municipal fees to fund this. REGI is going to be paying a portion of this, lottery revenues. This is not something that New Hampshire can afford right now. And I will say for those millennials, I can't figure them out either, Senator, but I know, my daughter, when, she lives in Salem, Mass. I asked her, you're right on the lines. Why don't you take the train into Boston, where she works? We can't afford it, it's too expensive for us. This is what we're leaving these kids. And when you look at the traffic. Massachusetts has lines from Salem down to Boston, from Haverhill down to Boston, from Lowell down to Boston, but you, the highways are still packed to the brim. It's not going to help the roadways. So, I ask you to support the Committee Amendment and thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Lasky.)

SENATOR LASKY: Thank you, Mister President. With all the respect to my esteemed colleague from District 3 and 19, you're jumping the gun. No one is asking the state to pay for anything. No one. All of this, your, your objections are premature. Senator Bradley, we can have, we can look at the information that's presented and a future Legislature can say only Nashua. Or it can say to the airport. Our airport is losing business. We can't afford to allow that to continue. There is, to me, again, all the objections you have may be viable. But right now, they are not. This is a gift, in my eyes. Which you don't all seem to want to accept. I, I don't get it. At any rate, you know, I'm not going to argue with you about the potential that, you know, could, could happen. But if we lie awake at night and worry about what's going to happen down the road, you all won't have a hell of a good retirement. I'll be fine. But at any rate, I urge you to vote down the Committee Amendment, so we can continue with the gift of the rest of this study into the capital plan. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise in support of the capital study. And let me tell you a little story. When I was in college at the University of New Hampshire, I used to take the train from Boston to Manchester. We had this beautiful train station, which urban renewal destroyed, just ripped it apart. So, we had this beautiful train station. I could get on, get on the train at North Station and come right up to Manchester to find my wife, which I did. So, it was, it was a great, I mean, it was a great trip, it was a great experience. We used to have the snow trains in the old days. My aunt and uncle used to take the snow train up to North Conway and ski up there. So, all of a sudden, we had urban renewal which destroyed Manchester, really destroyed Manchester. Look at the beautiful buildings that were knocked down to create parking lots. And, of course, one of them was this beautiful train station. So, in 1970s, I'm, I'm on the Executive Council and the Lincoln Tannery is in trouble. So, what does New Hampshire do? We buy the Concord to Lincoln line. We bought it, so that we could save that business. We bought it. Now we don't pay much attention to it. Isn't that crazy? We're going to go to New York next week. We're going to take the train. We're going to take the train. We're going to drive to South Station, get on the train and we're going to go to New York, alright? My grandson is getting a big award, so we're going to go to New York and we're going to take the train. That's great. Look at how they've fixed up the station, Penn Station. How they've fixed it up, I mean, it really looks, even South Station, which used to be a dump, has been cleaned up and it looks pretty good. So why not take a chance? Why not take a chance? As Senator Lasky points out, we're taking $4 million from the Federal Government and we're going to plan, we're going to plan. And something is going to happen because we can't expand the roads much more, much more, if any, to be honest with you and we talk about the Downeaster, but the Downeaster is full of people. And guess what? New Hampshire pays nothing. And look at the benefit we get out of it. Look at the benefit we get out of it. So just think about it. As a person who's ridden the train, I think it's, it's really a great experience and something we ought to think about. I'll end it by telling you this, I worked, I worked in a little town called Bracknell, which is about an hour outside of London. I did that for a couple years when I was working for the British Government, I was coaching. I used to get on the train every day, every day. Paddington Station in London and take the train to Bracknell. It was great. Can you imagine driving over there? No. Never going to happen. So, the trains were very important. I think it's an integral part of life and it's sort of a, it's a great experience, something we ought to think about and in the long run, when you look at the cost benefit ratios, think about the cost of taking freight for a mile on a train versus on a truck. Think about it. The wear and tear on the roads, the wear and tear on the vehicles and so forth, the pollution. It's really not a bad deal. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of Committee Amendment 2018-1807s, Section 3 (Lines 1-7).

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Senator Lasky for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR LASKY: Thank you, Mister President. If I want to remain a Luddite, would I now vote to, and I hope you'll take that in the nicest way, would I now vote to, against the Committee Amendment for 2018?

PRESIDENT MORSE: If you're in favor of section 3, you're going to say aye. If you're opposed, you're going to say nay.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. If I did not want to offend Luddites, would I vote yes on the amendment? Thank you, Mister President.

PRESIDENT MORSE: If you're in favor of section 3, lines 1 through 7, you're going to say aye. If you're opposed, you're going to say nay.

A roll call was requested by Senator Soucy, seconded by Senator Birdsell.

The following Senators voted Yes: Giuda, Bradley, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Daniels, Carson, Reagan, Birdsell, Gannon, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: Woodburn, Watters, Hennessey, Kahn, Avard, Lasky, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Soucy, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark, Innis.

Roll Call, Yeas: 12 - Nays: 12. Failed.

The question is on the adoption of the remainder of the Committee Amendment. Adopted.

Floor Amendment to HB 2018

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the state 10-year transportation improvement program and relative to the procedure for driveway permits.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 20 with the following:

21 New Section; Excavation and Driveway Excavation and Construction Permit Application; Procedure. Amend RSA 236 by inserting after section 13 the following new section:

236:13-a Procedure. In processing applications for permits, or amendments to permits, under RSA 236:9 or RSA 236:13:

I. Within 30 days of receipt of such application, the department of transportation shall request any additional information required of the applicant or its agents to complete its evaluation of the application, together with any written technical comments the department deems necessary. Any request for additional information shall specify that the applicant shall submit such information as soon as practicable and notify the applicant that if all of the requested information is not received within 90 days of the request, the department shall deny the application.

II. If the department requests additional information under paragraph I, the department shall, within 60 days of the department's receipt of all requested information:

(a) Approve the application in whole or in part and issue a permit;

(b) Deny the application and issue written findings in support of the denial; or

(c) Extend the time for rendering a decision on the application for good cause and with the written agreement of the applicant.

III. If no request for additional information is made under paragraph I, the department shall, within 90 days of receipt of the application:

(a) Approve the application in whole or in part and issue a permit;

(b) Deny the application, and issue written findings in support of the denial; or

(c) Extend the time for rendering a decision on the application for good cause.

IV. The time limits under this section shall supersede any time limits provided in any other provision of law. If the department fails to act within the applicable time frame established in paragraphs II and III, the applicant shall be deemed to have a permit by default and may proceed with the project as presented in the application. Nothing in this paragraph shall relieve the applicant from complying with all requirements applicable to the project, including but not limited to requirements established under this section and RSA 236:13.

22 Effective Date.

I. Section 21 of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill:

I. Adopts the 10-year transportation improvement plan for 2019-2028.

II. Adds a corridor study of Route 114 in the town of Goffstown.

III. Authorizes the department of transportation to construct and implement all electronic tolling, if feasible.

IV. Authorizes construction and implementation of all electronic tolling (AET) at Dover and Rochester toll plaza locations and at the Bedford mainline toll plaza.

V. Requires the department of transportation to make available an optional system of anonymous transponders.

VI. Provides funding for construction of electronic tolling or open road tolling plazas, consultant services for the public private partnership infrastructure oversight committee, and improvements to central New Hampshire turnpike.

VII. Moves construction funding for the project named Bedford-Merrimack from 2019 to 2020.

VIII. Removes funding for the project named Conway, project number 40018.

IX. Removes the project named Hooksett from the 10-year transportation improvement plan 2019-2028.

X. Restores and revises the project named Tilton, project number 29753.

XI. Designates $100,000 of turnpike funds for the use of the public-private partnership infrastructure oversight commission.

XII. Amends the project named Newington-Dover

XIII. Amends the scope of the project named Walpole-Charlestown and the project named Windham.

XIV. Moves funding for construction of the project named Nashua-Merrimack-Bedford-Manchester from 2022 through 2026 to 2021 through 2025.

XV. Moves funding for construction of the project named Manchester from 2026 to 2025.

XVI. Adds a project named Conway, previously removed from the state 10-year transportation plan, to the plan.

XVII. Authorizes the department of transportation to plan, engineer, and construct a highway in Hudson with town funds.

XVIII. Establishes a procedure for processing applications for certain excavation and driveway permits.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. This might look a little familiar to you. We passed this on a voice vote out of this body. It, it is relative to the State Transportation Improvement Program, but it's also relative to driveway permits. In discussions with members of this body, there are a lot of problems with issuing of driveway permits on our state roads. The Department of Transportation is taking way too long to either approve or deny these permits and the developers are struggling. These people are providing our citizens with jobs and as with any business, delay means money. So, what this amendment tries to do is to get the Department of Transportation to really work on getting these permits out in an acceptable amount of time, so they're not holding up projects in our communities. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President. I want to commend the Senator from District 14 for bringing this forward. We worked hard on this in Senate Transportation. We came up with a good bill. Really think we need to give direction here to get moving on these permits. We have a good process here. It's good for development and I hope we support it. Thank you, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to HB 2018

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT relative to the state 10-year transportation improvement program and establishing a committee to study the removal of the Merrimack tolls.

Amend the bill by replacing section 9 with the following:

9 Bedford to Merrimack. Construction funding for the project named Bedford-Merrimack, project number 16100, shall be moved from 2019 to 2020. The scope of the project shall include improvement to the Bedford mainline toll plaza to include the option of open road tolling or all electronic tolling, and the construction of a noise reducing barrier wall on the F.E. Everett turnpike in the area of Teaberry Lane in the town of Bedford.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 20 the following and renumbering the original section 21 to read as 26:

21 Committee Established. There is established a committee to study the removal of the tolls at exit 10 and exit 11 on the F.E. Everett Turnpike in the town of Merrimack.

22 Membership and Compensation.

I. The members of the committee shall be as follows:

(b) Three members of the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives.

II. Members of the committee shall receive mileage at the legislative rate when attending to the duties of the committee.

23 Duties. The committee shall study:

I. Removal of the exit 11 toll on the F.E. Everett Turnpike in the town of Merrimack upon the expiration of the bond, and the financial implications of such removal.

II. Removal of the exit 10 toll on the F.E. Everett Turnpike in the town of Merrimack in fiscal year 2024, and the financial implications of such removal.

24 Chairperson; Quorum. The members of the study committee shall elect a chairperson from among the members. The first meeting of the committee shall be called by the senate member. The first meeting of the committee shall be held within 45 days of the effective date of this section. Three members of the committee shall constitute a quorum.

25 Report. The committee shall report its findings and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the president of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, the chairperson of the senate transportation committee, the chairperson of the house transportation committee, the senate clerk, the house clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before November 1, 2018.

XVII. Authorizes the department of transportation to plan, engineer, and construct a highway in Hudson with town funds.

XVIII. Establishes a committee to study removal of the Merrimack tolls.

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. This amendment authorizes construction funding for the project named Bedford-Merrimack number 16-100 and moves it from 2019 to 2020. It includes improvement to the Bedford mainline toll plaza and construction of the noise reducing barrier wall on the Everett Turnpike in the area of Teaberry Lane in Bedford.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to this amendment, particularly because of what we have in lines 11 and 12 in the construction of the sound, the noise barrier wall. There's a reason we have the 10-year highway plan. There's a reason we have the GACIT process. As you know, it requires regional planning commissions to work with DOT to develop a list of projects. Those are vetted, comes into the 10-year highway plan, GACIT takes out to hearing, the Governor gets it and we get it as House Bill 2018. Now, there are a lot of times when things don't get into the plan. It's a tough process. I, I've been around here long enough to remember when they used to call it the 30-year plan, not the 10-year plan, because it was too loaded up with projects, so even we didn't have it. And think back to before there was GACIT when you can imagine the politics of who was going to get whose project and how are we going to fund this or that. And the point of GACIT is to say that we have to have a rational process. And this issue has been looked at and it's been, and, and this, this sound barrier problem, it is a problem. We recognize that. But because there's a demand for these, the DOT has a process and a set of criteria whereby there is funding for sound barriers. Now, if they meet the criteria when we have the type 1, and we have federal funding and they can be included in that. This was not at that time. And so, we would have to come up with monies from other projects in your districts to fund this. And I might add, there's a neighborhood in my district that's worse than this one. More people, more noise, same situation and then I have another one in my district. Larger neighborhood, more noise. It's a problem.

Now, what we did about this, in Senate Transportation, is the Chair of the committee said to the Senator from District 9, we recognize it's a problem. What we ought to do, because I think there's 80 to $120 million potential price tag for taking care of this sound barrier. It's something, I don't remember the exact, but it's something in that range. So, we said what we need to do is to accept that we've got to do something about it, but let's do it rationally, let's develop a plan. And then we can start putting in the 10-year highway plan a certain number of dollars every two years to get at this list and do something about it. Otherwise, we have a free for all. How would you have felt if in House Bill 2018, what was it, House Bill 1817 and that provision for the $28 million for red listed bridges, the Senate President had just brought in $20 million of projects in his own district? No, no, we wouldn't do that. We wouldn't do that. And I, I think this is, I mean I didn't run downstairs and put in amendments to throw in funding because I know it breaks the 10-year highway plan process. Well, for just another example. Okay, so you know we have the Dover Point Bridges. Big project, going on for a long time now, people are getting really tired of it. And then we had the Everett Turnpike projects. Now when push came to shove there because we didn't have enough revenues on the tolls we had to delay for a couple of years the completion of Dover Point. I didn't like that, but I understood rationally that we had to take care of the Everett Turnpike. We had to do that, so that's the way it goes. I just think we ought, we ought to vote this down because of those lines. We cannot bring it, a last-minute backdoor thing in here, that benefits one district, breaks the process and essentially breaks the 10-year highway plan. And there is not funding sitting there at the DOT for this or for these other projects. An $80 million problem, Chair of transportation brought forward a plan to deal with it and I think we ought to respect her in this regard and vote this down. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Fuller Clark for a question of Senator Watters.)

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: Senator Watters, would you believe that Pannaway Manor on I-95 has been waiting for a noise barrier since the 1970s and that we had the opportunity just to go there two weeks ago and to listen to the level of noise because of the increase in traffic day in and day out, night in and night out on I-95. They look forward to the summer when there's so much traffic the cars aren't moving, and then it's quiet. So, would, how, how – I wonder how you would feel, how my community would feel if legislation today that we see in this amendment came forward and passed.

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you for the question and isn't that exactly the problem? That property you describe is certainly more deserving of funding than this one here at Teaberry Lane. Many more people, much greater problem. But we have the process, we know we have an $80 million backlog on this. That's why what the Chair of Senate Transportation's suggested was the right way to go. Thank you.

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: Thank you very much for taking the question.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. Disregarding the fact that a sound barrier's currently being built in the Senator from District 4's area, near the Bellamy River, the fact is that the closeness of the interstate to the people in Bedford is dreadful, okay? They might have a thirty-foot barrier. The highway came in, okay? And they took the land, okay? The people were there first. They are so close that the sound levels are ridiculously high. It's been about twenty years. That's an entire generation that grew up bombarded by trucks and horns and sirens and just the rush of traffic, okay? This is about taking care of people. We hear that all the time, so I say we take care of the people. We've been down this road, there are some technical conseq–, technical problems with this, but those problems existed before the highway was built. And so, I would ask you to support this because it's the right thing to do for people who have been incredibly put upon by a federal highway project that comes literally into their back yards. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Daniels.)

SENATOR DANIELS: Thank you, Mister President. Tuesday night, I spent four and a half hours with DOT at an informational hearing in Merrimack on the widening of the F. E. Everett Turnpike. They had it all laid out, it starts down in Merrimack and goes up to the 293 intersection with 101. And throughout that area, there are, there are six to seven places in there that they have proposed sound barriers. That's what most of the people wanted to talk about that night. The area that is going to be expanded also includes this area. And there's a little bit of history that goes on here. It started, it started in the last term when I was on Transportation. This issue came up with people testifying they could stand in their back yards, but they couldn't hear themselves talk, they had to yell at each other. And that was because of the issue that the Senator from District 2 mentioned that their houses were there, they widened the road. The state's solution to this was to put up a six-foot stockade fence. Now that does absolutely nothing for the sound. Now you're talking about widening the road even more, encroaching even closer to those residents who have been disenfranchised all this time. While the project is there, now is the time to fix the problem. We have that, we have that opportunity, opportunity and while the good Senator from District 4 talks about how a rational approach needs to be taken, we'll also submit to you that an honest approach needs to be taken. We need to be honest with the people when we're taking their privacy away from them. We need to be honest with them on the other section of here when we're talking about removing tolls.

My proposal on the toll part is that we establish a study committee between House and the Senator to look at removing the toll at exit 11 in 2020. And I'll say that the tolls that exist right now at exit 10 and 11 both, the bonds both expire around 2020. So, I'm proposing that we study developing a plan to take out the toll in 2020 at exit 11 and look at the financial ramifications of it and then I'm proposing the removal of the toll at 2024 on exit 10. And the reason I'm, I'm designating 2024 is that two terms ago we took out the toll at exit 12. That was kind of a compromise on when we raised the gas tax. But I was told Tuesday night that the bond on the toll that was taken out actually ran until 2024. So, in all fairness, I thought that we could hold onto the toll at exit 10, which would capture most of the traffic that would be coming north to go the outlets in Merrimack. Hold that out to 2024 in an, an issue of fairness. But, you know, what kind of upset me is when these tolls were put in, there's kind of a commitment made to people that when the bonds expire, they're going to be taken out. Well that doesn't happen. In this case here, you know, they, they baked in 2.63 million for the remainder of the 10-year plan, so you've got about, about 18 million. Maybe add a couple million on for the removal, so I'd conservatively say 20 million for the removal of both of those tolls over the course of that project. We need to find revenue to offset that, that the toll would do. That would be one of the purposes of the study committee going forward. But folks, this is all about commitment and being good neighbors with our residents. The state in one case imposed upon a, a neighborhood that now has caused, caused privacy concerns. Again, there were many more on the same area that, that night when they talked about the concerns they had with the widening. Most of it was about sound. I'm saying let's, let's take care of the problem at one time. We've got that opportunity during the project to not only put in the sound barrier that should have been there for some time, but also take out the toll. And I started to say, there is a little bit of history. From my first term here I was on Transportation. I brought this issue in and I was told, well, it really should go to Capital Budget. So, I brought it to Capital Budget and they said, well, it really should go to Finance. So, I took it to Finance and they said, well, it really should go in the 10-year plan. So, you know, we're right back around in circles. That needs to stop and we still need to start fulfilling our commitments. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Birdsell.)

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Thank you, Mister President. With regards to 1932s, I really don't have a problem with the committee established. I think it's a fair point to study the removal and since we've already got that, the money obligated, I think it's a fair way to look at the possibility of removing the tolls. I just want this body to proceed with caution on the Bedford to Merrimack sound barriers because this is going to cost. We have $124 million I believe in the tier ones and there's up to 200, I think it's 250 million DOT said between tier one and tier twos. So, that's an awful lot of money. And again, I did put in that bill to study it because this is an obligation I think we have to our constituents who are being impacted. But it's also, I think, a part of the municipality who have put themselves, had put their constituents in there because they've taken some of their land and said to limit it to two, two and a half acre lots, so that the density of that, their areas don't match up to the, to the federal guidelines. So, I just ask the body to proceed with caution on this. I know there's no appropriation here and just proceed with caution. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator French.)

SENATOR FRENCH: Thank you, Mister President, but I think that all that should be said has been said.

Senator Watters moved to divide the question: Floor Amendment 2018-1932s, Section 9 (Lines 1-12) and then vote on the remainder of the amendment.

Recess. Out of recess.

The Chair ruled the question divisible.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President. I urge the body to vote no on the first part of this amendment. I certainly support what Senator from District 11 wants to do with the committee there, look at those tolls. I do think we have previous action on the proposal in the first part here and having voted it down and urge the body to do so again. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of the first part of the divided question. Promises made to people almost twenty years ago to put up a sound barrier. That was never done. And the encroachment on your privacy and the sound, their ability to have a quiet evening is draconian. The concern for the density, okay, I would submit that the housing was established long before the highway ever went through. Say it existed before, well it may be a concern. The fact is that it was a pre-existing condition that DOT knew about and the feds knew about it. So, the right thing to do is to honor the commitment that was made to these people twenty years ago when that highway was widened. And a joke was made by putting up a barrier fence that is not a soundproof wall. We need to do the right thing and honor our commitments to our citizens. When DOT or the feds make a promise, I think it's incumbent on this body to carry through on those promises and so I ask you to support this, this motion. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of Floor Amendment 2018-1932s, Section 9 (Lines 1-12).

A roll call was requested by Senator Sanborn, seconded by Senator Giuda.

The following Senators voted Yes: Giuda, Bradley, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard, Lasky, Carson, Reagan, Birdsell, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: Woodburn, Watters, Hennessey, Kahn, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Soucy, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark.

The question is on the adoption of the remainder of Floor Amendment. Adopted.

TECHNICAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE CORRECTIONS

Without objection, the Clerk is authorized to make technical and administrative corrections which are necessary to reflect the intent of the Senate. Adopted.

Senator Birdsell moved to divide the question: Ought to Pass with Amendment: Sections 3 and the effective date, and then vote on the remainder of the bill.

Recess. Out of recess.

The Chair ruled the question divisible.

POINT OF ORDER

(The Chair recognized Senator Daniels for a point of order.)

SENATOR DANIELS: Could you identify what section 3 is, please?

PRESIDENT MORSE: We'll actually read the whole section:

SENATE CLERK: Section 3 is the Department of Transportation Nashua-Manchester-Concord the project named Nashua-Manchester-Concord Project number 40818, which consists of a project development study for a rail corridor shall be modified to also include a project to design and develop a financial plan for bus service expansion from Concord to Nashua or other eligible Boston UZA bus services including parking facilities at existing and new bus terminals.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR KAHN: Go over section 27. That's the one that's not a part of the amendment.

PRESIDENT MORSE: That's the effective date.

SENATOR KAHN: And what, what's, what's the change? Is there a change?

PRESIDENT MORSE: No. You're voting on the bill that's been amended. So, you're back to the base bill right now and you're voting on section 3 and 27.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Senator Lasky for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR LASKY: Thank you. If I want to abide by the vote that we just had on section 3, I would vote – wait a minute – no on this portion of the House Bill 2018. Right? Yes. No, she wants to take it. I'm sorry, I'm confused. So, somebody else do the parliamentary. Yes, okay? I did I say yes? I'm sorry.

Recess. Out of recess.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Senator Soucy for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR SOUCY: Mister President, if I want to ensure that section 3, which will provide valuable information and planning and the consideration of rail, if I want to ensure that that stays in this legislation, would I vote yes?

PRESIDENT MORSE: If you're in favor of sections 3 and 27, you're going to say aye. If you're opposed, you're going to say nay.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: If I believe that we should reflect the position of the Transportation Committee and vote against the rail study, would I now vote no on the pending question.

PRESIDENT MORSE: If you're in favor of section 3 and 27, you're going to say aye. If you're opposed, you're going to say no.

The question is on the adoption of Ought to Pass with Amendment: Section 3 and the effective date.

The question is on the adoption of Ought to Pass with Amendment: Remainder of the bill.

A roll call was requested by Senator Lasky, seconded by Senator Birdsell.

The following Senators voted Yes: Woodburn, Giuda, Bradley, Watters, Hennessey, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Kahn, Daniels, Avard, Lasky, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Reagan, Soucy, Birdsell, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: Carson.

Roll Call, Yeas: 23 - Nays: 1. Adopted.

MOTION OF RECONSIDERATION

Senator Bradley, having voted on the prevailing side, moved to reconsider the following action taken by the body on HB 2018, relative to the state 10-year transportation improvement program and establishing a committee to study the removal of the Merrimack tolls.: Ought to Pass with Amendment: Remainder of the bill. Adopted.

The question is on the adoption of Ought to Pass with Amendment: Remainder of the bill.

Floor Amendment to HB 1102-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT enabling the department of health and human services to contract with certain certified physicians and authorizing the department of corrections to establish additional expenditure class lines with fiscal committee and governor and council approval.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 1 with the following:

2 New Paragraph; Transfer Language; Department of Corrections. Amend RSA 9:16-a by inserting after paragraph IV the following new paragraph:

V. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner of the department of corrections is authorized to transfer funds within and among all accounting units within the department to create accounting units and expenditure classes as required and as the commissioner deems necessary and appropriate to address present or projected budget deficits, or to responds to changes in federal law, regulations, or programs, and otherwise as necessary for the efficient management of the department; provided if a transfer does not include new accounting units or expenditure classes, only transfers over $75,000 shall require prior approval of the fiscal committee of the general court and governor and council.

3 Effective Date.

I. Section 1 this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

II. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

2018-1933s

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill authorizes the commissioner of the department of health and human services to contract with one or more physicians who are certified by an accredited addiction medicine or addiction psychiatry certifying body to review medication assisted treatment in New Hampshire.

The bill also authorizes the department of corrections to establish additional expenditure class lines with legislative fiscal committee and governor and council approval.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. As I mentioned, the, the amendment just gives transfer authority to the Department of Corrections in order for her to meet her financial obligations. Something we have done in the past. It's been in the, in the budget on numerous occasions. It was just missed this time. I hope my colleagues will support it. The commissioner needs it in order to run the department. Thank you, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to HB 1636

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing a committee to study teacher preparation and education programs, relative to chartered public school use of unused school district facilities, and establishing a death benefit for a school employee killed in the line of duty.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 6 with the following:

7 New Chapter; Death Benefit for School Employee Killed in Line of Duty. Amend RSA by inserting after chapter 189 the following new chapter:

CHAPTER 189-A

Death Benefit for School Employee Killed in Line of Duty

189-A:1 Death Benefit for School Employee Killed in Line of Duty.

I. In this section:

(a) "Family" means the surviving spouse of the school employee; or, if there is no surviving spouse, the surviving dependent child or dependent children, of such school employee or, if there is no surviving dependent child, a surviving person qualifying as a common-law spouse pursuant to RSA 457:39, or if there is no surviving common-law spouse, the surviving adult child or adult children, or if there is no surviving adult child or adult children, the surviving parent or parents of such school employee. A surviving dependent child shall include a dependent step-child whose expenses of daily living were substantially paid for by the decedent at the time of the death.

(b) "School employee" means any person, full or part time, who is employed by a public school in the state of New Hampshire.

(c) "Public school" means any public school or public academy approved by the state of New Hampshire pursuant to state laws and regulations, including the university system of New Hampshire and the community college system of New Hampshire.

(d) "Killed in the line of duty" means the death of a school employee while in the performance of his or her duties as a result of violence by another, who purposely causes that death or purposely causes serious bodily injury which is the direct or proximate cause of the death of the school employee.

II. In addition to any other benefit for which the school employee or family is eligible, the state treasurer shall pay a $100,000 death benefit to the family of a school employee killed in the line of duty; provided that under no circumstance shall a family member responsible for the school employee's death be eligible for such benefit. Payment to a dependent child shall be made to the child's trustee for the benefit of the child. The governor, with the consent of the executive council, is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

III. The attorney general or a designee from the department of justice shall review the records that relate to the circumstances of the employee's death and shall render a determination whether the incident qualifies as a line-of-duty death as defined in subparagraph I(d).

(a) Such determination shall be rendered within 45 days of documented notice of the incident.

(b) If the death of the school employee is determined to qualify as a line-of-duty death as defined in subparagraph I(d), the attorney general or a designee from the department of justice shall notify the commissioner of the department of education, who shall adopt the attorney general's recommendation and submit a request to the governor for payment of the benefit.

(c) Any records received in order to make the determination if the school employee's death qualifies as a line-of-duty death as defined in subparagraph I(d) shall be exempt from RSA 91-A. Upon the request of the decedent's family, any medical records or other records which otherwise are nonpublic shall be destroyed following the vote by the governor and executive council on this matter.

IV. Neither the state nor its agencies or employees shall be civilly liable for any improper payment of the line-of-duty death benefit as provided in this section.

8 Effective Date.

I. Section 6 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2019.

II. Section 7 of this act shall take effect January 1, 2019.

III. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

2018-1898s

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes a committee to study teacher preparation and education programs, makes unused school district facilities available to chartered public schools, and establishes a death benefit for a school employee killed in the line of duty.

SENATOR KAHN: And I still rise for the same purpose, 1898s, to offer that to the body. We discussed previously death benefit for school employees killed in the line of duty. I would remind the body that if you look at the current state statutes, chapter 21-1, the wording that is in this amendment is exactly the wording that is in current statute for the death benefit for police officers or fire fighters killed in the line of duty. This amendment would offer the same opportunity or benefit to those killed in the line of duty as a school employee, while in the performance of his and her duties as a result of violence by another. Mister President, I ask that the body consider this and pass it along with the rest of this bill. Thank you.

Floor Amendment to HB 1636

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT establishing a committee to study teacher preparation and education programs, relative to chartered public school use of unused school district facilities, and establishing education freedom savings accounts for students.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 6 with the following:

7 New Chapter; Education Freedom Savings Accounts. Amend RSA by inserting after chapter 194-D the following new chapter:

CHAPTER 194-E
EDUCATION FREEDOM SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

194-E:1 Definitions. In this chapter:

I. "Account" means an education freedom savings account established for an eligible student pursuant to this chapter.

II. "Commissioner" means the commissioner of the department of education.

III. "Department" means the department of education.

IV. "Eligible student" means a New Hampshire resident who is at least 5 years of age and not more than 20 years of age, who has not graduated from high school and is:

(a) Currently attending a New Hampshire public school, including a chartered public school, and for whom the adequate education grant in the next school year would be reduced if the student were removed from the average daily membership calculation; or

(b) A kindergarten student; or

(c) Receiving home education pursuant to RSA 193-A.

V. "Nonpublic school" shall mean any public academy or private school approved for attendance by the department.

VI. "Parent" means the natural or adoptive parent or legal guardian of an eligible student.

VII. "Postsecondary institution" means an institution within the university system of New Hampshire or the community college system of New Hampshire.

VIII. "Program" means the education savings account program established in this chapter.

IX. "Resident school district" means the public school district in which the eligible student resides.

X. "Scholarship organization" means a charitable organization incorporated or qualified to do business in this state that:

(a) Is exempt from federal income taxation pursuant to section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code;

(b) Complies with applicable state and federal anti-discrimination and privacy laws;

(c) Is registered with the department of justice, director of charitable trusts; and

(d) Has been approved by the department of revenue administration for the purpose of issuing scholarships pursuant to RSA 77-G:5.

XI. "Treasurer" means the treasurer of the state of New Hampshire.

194-E:2 Program Eligibility.

I. There is established an education freedom savings account program. The parent of an eligible student may receive a grant from a scholarship organization if the parent signs a contract with the scholarship organization in which the parent agrees to provide an education for the eligible student in science, mathematics, language, government, history, health, reading, writing, spelling, the history of the constitutions of New Hampshire and the United States, and an exposure to and appreciation of art and music.

II. The parent of an eligible student who signs a contract with a scholarship organization agrees to use the funds deposited in an eligible student's account for any of the following qualifying educational expenses:

(a) Tuition for course fees at any public school, chartered public school, nonpublic school, or program approved by the department pursuant to RSA 186-C:5.

(b) Textbooks, curriculum, or supplemental materials required to administer the curriculum.

(c) Payment to a tutor or tutoring facility.

(d) Fees for transportation to and from an educational service provider paid to a fee-for-service transportation provider, not to exceed $750 per school year.

(e) Tuition and fees for online learning programs.

(f) Educational services or therapies from a licensed or certified practitioner or provider, including licensed or certified paraprofessionals or educational aides.

(g) Tuition and fees at a postsecondary institution.

(h) Computer hardware and software and other assistive devices if an eligible school, licensed or certified tutor, licensed or certified educational service practitioner or provider, or licensed medical professional verifies in writing that these items are essential for the student to meet annual, measurable goals.

(i) Fees for a nationally standardized norm-referenced achievement test, advanced placement examination, or any exam related to college admission.

(j) Contributions to a Coverdell education savings account established under 26 U.S.C. section 530 for the benefit of the eligible student, except that funds used for elementary or secondary education expenses may be used for expenses otherwise allowed under this section.

III. The parent of an eligible student shall be provided copies of all signed agreements.

IV. The parent of an eligible student shall be required to annually renew the agreement to continue participation in the program.

V. No eligible student shall receive a grant under this chapter and an education tax credit scholarship pursuant to RSA 77-G in the same school year.

VI. Eligible students participating in the program may participate in curricular and co-curricular courses and programs pursuant to RSA 193:1-c. Students in the special school district within the department of corrections established in RSA 194:60 shall not be eligible students.

VII. An agreement shall be automatically terminated if the eligible student no longer resides in this state, and any funds remaining in the account shall be returned to the state treasury.

VIII. The failure to enter into an agreement pursuant to this chapter for any school year for which an eligible student is required to attend a public school shall not preclude the parent of such student from entering into an agreement for a subsequent school year.

194-E:3 Program Funding and Payment.

I. The scholarship organization shall notify the commissioner of any eligible student whose parents have signed an agreement under RSA 194-E:2.

II. The commissioner shall transfer to the scholarship organization 90 percent of the per pupil adequate education grant amount pursuant to RSA 198:40-a, plus any differentiated aid, which would be disbursed to the municipality in which the student resides, for deposit into the eligible student's account.

III. The commissioner shall transfer to the scholarship organization 50 percent of the per pupil adequate education grant amount pursuant to RSA 198:40-a for an eligible student entering kindergarten for deposit into the eligible student's account.

IV. The funding for an eligible student receiving home education shall be as provided in RSA 77-G:2, I(b).

V. Funds received pursuant to this program shall not constitute income taxable to the parent of the eligible student or to the eligible student.

VI. In exchange for the parent's agreement pursuant to RSA 194-E:2, the state treasurer shall transfer funding to the eligible student's account established by the scholarship organization. The transfers shall be made in accordance with the distribution of adequate education grants under RSA 198:42.

VII. All eligible student accounts shall be held in institutions qualified by the state treasurer.

VIII. A scholarship organization shall receive 5 percent of the adequate education grant, including any differentiated aid for which the student would be eligible pursuant to RSA 198:40-a, for administrative expenses.

IX. The department may conduct an audit of an eligible student's account as needed to ensure compliance with this chapter.

X. The department may remove any eligible student from the program for non-compliance with program eligibility requirements of RSA 194-E:2.

(a) The parent may appeal the decision of the scholarship organization to the department.

(b) Any funds remaining in the account for that student shall be sent to the state treasury.

XI. At the time of the eligible student's graduation from a postsecondary institution or after a period of 2 consecutive years after high school graduation in which the eligible student does not enroll in a postsecondary institution, the eligible student's account shall be closed, the parents notified, and any remaining funds shall be returned to the state treasury.

XII. The scholarship organization or the department may refer cases of fraudulent misuse of funds to the attorney general for investigation.

XIII. A school or educational service provider pursuant to RSA 194-E:2 shall not share, refund, or rebate any program funds with the parent or eligible student in any manner.

XIV. Parents may make payments for the costs of educational programs and services not covered by the funds in their accounts.

XV. A scholarship organization may receive and expend gifts, grants, and donations of any kind from any public or private entity to carry out the purposes of this chapter.

194-E:4 Scholarship Organization; Requirements. A scholarship organization shall:

I. Develop and maintain agreement forms in cooperation with the department.

II. Provide copies of agreements signed by parents of eligible students to the department.

III. Comply with all federal and state laws regarding student privacy.

IV. Review all receipts for fees and services pursuant to 194-E:2, II.

V. Provide biannual reports on the number of students participating in the program, the providers of services to students, and the value of the program funds to the department, chairman of the house education committee, and the chairman of the senate education committee.

VI. Provide an annual report to the speaker of the house of representatives, the president of the senate, the chairman of the house education committee, the chairman of the senate education committee, the governor, and the department including:

(a) The number of eligible students with accounts.

(b) A list of schools and service providers including the number of eligible students served.

(c) The value of program funds utilized for services during the year.

VII. Conduct an annual survey of parents of eligible students with accounts. The survey shall include the number of years the parent has been in the program, the relative satisfaction of the parent with the program, and suggestions of the parent for improvement. The survey shall be included in the annual report.

VIII. Conduct an annual audit of all accounts of eligible students.

194-E:5 School and Provider of Educational Services; Requirements.

I. Schools and educational service providers shall comply with all federal and state laws regarding student privacy.

II. Schools and educational service providers shall furnish receipts for eligible services pursuant to RSA 194-E:2, II to the parent and the scholarship organization.

III. The school district in which the eligible student resides shall provide a participating school or educational service provider that has admitted an eligible student under this program with a copy of the student's school records, while complying with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, 20 U.S.C. section 1232 (g), and state policies.

194-E:6 Severability. If any provision of this chapter or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the chapter which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this chapter are declared to be severable.

8 Effective Date.

I. Section 7 of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

II. Section 6 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2019.

III. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

2018-1925s

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes a committee to study teacher preparation and education programs; makes unused school district facilities available to chartered public schools; and establishes education freedom savings accounts for children between 5 and 20 years of age.

SENATOR REAGAN: We … This is the biggest local taxpayer saving measure that any of us will ever have a chance to pass. We passed it before. I don't want to get into all the hundred other reasons. That's my reason for offering it. And I hope you will support it.

Recess. Out of recess.

PRESIDENT MORSE: I just want to explain the parliamentary situation because I'm sure people have questions. We've adopted a lot of amendments today that the intent of the amendments are to get stacked together. I will certainly read that on this bill, but I want everyone to understand that and at the end of the day, just in case, there wasn't one read in on any bill during the day, I'm going to read it again to cover the whole day. So, anyhow, I just want everybody to understand where we are right now.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President, colleagues. I rise to urge we vote against this amendment. We know that the House repeatedly voted against this and I think that Representative Kurk put it best in talking about the potential $100 million hit on our municipalities if this passes. I also would like to, to add that our feelings, a united group of ten members of my caucus, our feelings about this, and we've communicated to the other caucus about the potential consequences of this. Now I'll say, I happened to be in Washington for fisheries meeting, had a couple free hours and I went to the Museum of the Bible, and I recommend you go to the Museum of the Bible. And they had the children's area, you know, and for reasons you might guess, I've always liked the story of Samson, you know, for the hair, okay? But they have the little place there the kids could go and push the pillars and watch the temple come down. And I will just say that if you don't want the temple to come down, then don't chain Samson to the pillars. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the Floor Amendment.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

PRESIDENT MORSE: I just want to take a moment, we do this every year and I think the amazing thing is we did something about it this past year. We funded Boys and Girls Clubs, which is a movement that I strongly believe in, and I strongly believe in their after school programs, and the results are showing up here today, because the best of the best in all the clubs in New Hampshire have shown up in the competition, which they're headed towards, and one of them will head towards the national competition after today. And it's an important day for them, but it's an important day for us to recognize the movement because I think it's so important to the state of New Hampshire. In addition to that I want you to know that a group that I started, when Senator Downing passed away in raising money, the Inspiring Futures, we certainly have made quite a few contributions to the Salem Boys and Girls Club because we strongly believe in it, and we did it because we believe in their after school programs. So Nicholas, we're supporting you, so. Let me introduce them.

Kathryn Marie Stupp from the Boys & Girls Club of Greater Derry who is represented by Senator Regina Birdsell, and Senator Gannon today. Congratulations.

Christopher Constan from the Boys & Girls Club of Manchester who is represented by Senators Cavanaugh, Soucy, and D'Allesandro. Congratulations.

If you could just raise your hand so we know who you are…

Mario Rodriguez Santana from the Boys & Girls Club of Greater Nashua represented by Senator Lasky, and Senator Avard.

Shelby Houghton from the Boys & Girls Club of Souhegan Valley in Milford represented by Senator Gary Daniels.

Madison McLelland from the Boys and Girls Club of Central New Hampshire who is represented by Senator French, Senator Ward, Senator Feltes, and Senator Reagan.

And with no bias at all, Nicholas Karantonis is from the Boys & Girls Club of Salem, which I am proud to say is from my district. Welcome.

Just before session, we all met with the contestants and presented them with a Senate Resolution to recognize their achievements for making it to the finals from their Boys and Girls Club.

Tonight, one of these young people will be named the Youth of the Year and will go on to compete at the regional competition this summer. We wish you all the very best of luck in joining, and thank you for joining us in the Senate today.

Now if I can invite a special guest forward, my daughter Emma. I just want to correct something that came out in the last month or so about how the Morse household has been run. My wife was the one that made the decision to stay home with my daughter until she turned six and went to first grade. I thought it was a great decision and it obviously worked. And my daughter was the one that made the decision to choose the high school she wanted to go to. And then I remember the drive specifically when my daughter said, "Dad I'm good at accounting but I love science." And she made the decision on what college she wanted to go to. And Susan and I are very proud today to tell you that Emma graduates with her Masters on Saturday after going around the clock for five years to school with honors so, Emma.

INTRODUCTION OF PAGES

SENATOR CAVANAUGH: Thank you, Mister President. I didn't realize it was bring your daughter to work day. We also have Iris Feltes here, first visit to the Senate Floor. Welcome Iris.

And we have Amanda Sampo with us today. Amanda is from Bow and she is a senior at Bow High School. She has been competitively swimming for eleven years now, both on her high school team and the Concord YMCA team. She has also been part of the Friends of Concord Crew for five years now and in high school she was part of the National Honor Society, Youth in Government, Peer Outreach, and the Spanish Club. She also spends time babysitting families in her hometown of Bow. Next year she will be attending Jacksonville University in Florida and will be rowing for their Division I Crew Team as well. And next year she plans on majoring in business, soon after, getting her law degree. Welcome.

SUSPENSION OF THE RULES

Senator Bradley moved that the Senate suspend all rules necessary to permit consideration at the present time of SB 564-FN-A. Adopted by the necessary 2/3 vote.

SENATOR BRADLEY: And I move this so that we in particular can waive and suspend rule 2-13 on reconsideration restrictions and 2-14 on the reconsideration process. There was a human error, technical snafu, on inclusion of what should have been an amendment approved by the House incorrectly attached to the bill. The easiest way to correct this is to have a Committee of Conference. So, I ask for suspension of the rules at the present time.

MOTION OF RECONSIDERATION

Senator Bradley, having voted on the prevailing side, moved to reconsider the following action taken by the body on SB 564-FN-A, relative to a business tax exemption and a workforce development program for regenerative manufacturing businesses.: Reconsider the vote on - Concur with the House Amendment. Adopted.

Senator Sanborn withdrew the motion to Concur with the House Amendment to SB 564-FN-A.

Senator Sanborn moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Bradley, Sanborn and D'Allesandro.

AMENDMENT TO SENATE RULE 7-1 (x)

Senator Bradley moved to amend Senate Rule 7-1 (x), with the amendment provided here today.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SENATE RULE 7-1

Amend Senate Rule 7-1 by replacing (x) with the following:
(x) Thursday, May 17, 2018, 4:00 p.m. – Deadline to SIGN Committee of Conference Reports.

Adopted by the necessary 2/3 vote.

Without objection, the Clerk shall read the first complete House Message and thereafter only the title of each bill shall be read. Adopted.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The House of Representatives accedes to the request of the Senate for a Committee of Conference on the following entitled Bill:

SB 415, relative to condominium unit owners' special meetings and voting proxies.

Senator Innis moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Innis, Birdsell and Lasky.

SB 418, relative to wine samples and samples for consumption on the premises of a beverage manufacturer.

Senator Innis moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Innis, Sanborn and Soucy.

SB 437, relative to the robotics education development program.

Senator Reagan moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Reagan, Avard and Watters.

SB 438, relative to the postponement of local elections.

(The Chair recognized Senator Reagan.)

SENATOR REAGAN: Thank you, Mister President. I move Senate Bill 441 be Nonconcur.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Alright, lets go through 438. I think Senator we have moved that to a different section.

Senator Gray moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Birdsell, Gray and Soucy.

SB 527-FN-LOCAL, relative to absentee voting and relative to the statewide centralized voter registration database.

Senator Gray moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference.

(The Chair recognized Senator Lasky.)

SENATOR LASKY: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to speak on one of the House Amendments to Senate Bill 527. On the floor of the House an amendment was added at the request of the Attorney General's Office that appears to directly conflict and maybe even overrule a recent court order in the SB 3 litigation. Specifically, the state under a protective order lost its argument about whether to turn over certain documents to the litigants against the state. This amendment seems to be an after-the-fact response. It raises a host of constitutional issues including, under part 2 article 7 where it's my view, we shouldn't get involved either way on this issue. Therefore I'll be voting yes to Nonconcur, but no the Committee of Conference. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the motion of Nonconcurrence and request a Committee of Conference.

A roll call was requested by Senator Feltes, seconded by Senator Avard.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: If I believe that we should allow Senate Bill 527 to go to a Committee of Conference, would I now vote yes?

PRESIDENT MORSE: If you're in favor of going to a Committee of Conference on Senate Bill 527 you're going to say aye. If you're opposed you're going to say nay.

The following Senators voted Yes: Giuda, Bradley, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard, Carson, Reagan, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: Woodburn, Watters, Hennessey, Kahn, Lasky, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Soucy, Fuller Clark.

The following Senators were excused: Birdsell, D'Allesandro.

Roll Call, Yeas: 13 - Nays: 9. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Birdsell, Gray and Woodburn.

SB 569-FN, relative to animal cruelty and establishing a commission to study cost of care for confiscated animals.

Senator Avard moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Bradley, Avard and Fuller Clark.

SB 370-FN, adopting the emergency medical services personnel licensure interstate compact.

Senator Carson moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Carson, Gannon and Cavanaugh.

SB 535-FN, relative to certain revenues from the sale of commemorative liquor bottles of historic significance.

Senator Carson moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Reagan, Carson and Soucy.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

(The Chair recognized Senator Soucy.)

SENATOR SOUCY: Thank you, Mister President. I'd like to ask all of you to join me in welcoming the fourth graders from the Gossler Park Elementary School in Manchester.

SB 459, relative to reciprocity for licensure as a real estate broker or salesperson.

Senator Carson moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Reagan, Carson and Soucy.

SB 537, conferring extraterritorial financing powers on the New Hampshire business finance authority.

Senator Carson moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Carson, Gannon and Cavanaugh.

SB 589-FN, relative to authorizing petitions to state licensing boards for review of an individual's criminal record concerning disqualification for licensure.

Senator Carson moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Reagan, Carson and Soucy.

SB 541-FN-A, relative to the presumption under workers' compensation requiring the reimbursement of costs associated with firefighters who have cancer.

Senator Daniels moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Daniels, Giuda and D'Allesandro.

SB 379, relative to retroactive denials of previously paid claims and relative to a second opinion on health care matters for state or county prisoners.

Senator Bradley moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Avard, Carson and Hennessey.

SB 473, relative to employment contract restrictions upon certain health care providers.

Senator Bradley moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Gray, Avard and Fuller Clark.

SB 487, relative to requirements for certain alcohol and other drug use professionals and establishing a state substance use disorder treatment services program.

Senator Bradley moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Bradley, Gray and Feltes.

SB 549-FN-A, relative to plans of safe care for infants affected by substance abuse or withdrawal symptoms from prenatal drug exposure or fetal alcohol spectrum disorder.

Senator Bradley moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Gray, Avard and Hennessey.

SB 512, relative to compact sections of towns.

Senator Gannon moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

The President appointed Senators Gannon, Ward and Watters.

PRESIDENT MORSE: On 5/2 we adopted SB 354.

SB 354, relative to disclosure of information relative to lower cost drugs under the managed care law.

The President appointed Senators Innis, Sanborn and Soucy.

SB 434, relative to school nurse certification.

Senator Reagan moved Nonconcurrence. Adopted.

SB 441, relative to grading policies in schools.

Senator Reagan moved Nonconcurrence. Adopted.

SB 520-FN, relative to organizations authorized to issue decals for multi-use decal plates and relative to autonomous vehicles.

Senator Gannon moved Nonconcurrence.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Mister President. We're moving kind of fast. 520 I believe, and I just need some clarification maybe, but 520 has a lot of organizations that ask for decal bills and this is a Nonconcur so I'm asking any member of our body, are we losing what we attempted to do by unifying all those decal bills into a single action and hopefully not, because if we are, I'd like to rise again and perhaps speak further to the motion.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon.)

SENATOR GANNON: I'll speak briefly, Senator. No, it isn't. This is only dealing with that one decal issue. The others are in a separate bill.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Mister President. What is the bill that that is in so we can keep track of that? Is it in a House Bill?

SENATOR GANNON: I can figure it out for you, 1697 brings to mind. A little birdie once told me, 1697. We'll look for that. Thank you.

The question is on the motion of Nonconcurrence. Adopted.

SB 421, relative to insurance coverage for prescription contraceptives.

Senator Innis moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 566-FN, establishing a commission to study certain aspects of the school bus driver shortage.

Senator Innis moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 357, relative to safe school zones and relative to syringe service programs.

Senator Reagan moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 358, relative to reorganization of the department of education.

Senator Reagan moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 382, relative to a plan for the dissolution of cooperative school districts.

Senator Reagan moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 365, relative to the use of renewable generation to provide fuel diversity.

Senator Avard moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 446, relative to net energy metering limits for customer-generators.

Senator Avard moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 450-FN-A, establishing an advisory commission for the department of environmental services relative to the delegation of authority of the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System Program.

Senator Avard moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 453, relative to requirements and criteria for a competitive grant program for drinking water protection and relative to fluoride in municipal water systems.

Senator Avard moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 577, requiring the public utilities commission to revise its order affecting the Burgess BioPower plant in Berlin, prohibiting the import of certain liquid fuels, and relative to the production of useful thermal energy.

Senator Avard moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 407, relative to membership of the McAuliffe-Shepard discovery center board.

Senator Carson moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 461, relative to continuing education for real estate brokers and salespersons.

Senator Carson moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 570-FN, relative to the work requirement for the child care scholarship program.

Senator Carson moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 578-FN, relative to unclassified positions within the department of health and human services.

Senator Carson moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 588-FN, relative to inspections of laboratories and relative to loans for lead hazard remediation projects.

Senator Carson moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 580, relative to transfers of appropriated funds, amending a capital budget appropriation to allow for door replacements at the New Hampshire hospital, and transferring a capital budget appropriation for painting the ceiling of Representatives Hall to the legislative branch.

Senator Daniels moved Concurrence. Adopted.

Recess. Out of recess.

SB 334-FN, relative to temporary licensure of allied health professionals from nearby states, and reciprocal and temporary licensure for occupations and professions for persons from other states.

Senator Bradley moved Concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR KAHN: I rise to ask the body to not Concur with Senate Bill 334. While the House Amendment returns the original language to the bill to allow for allied health professionals to receive temporary licensure for up to 120 days, in six New England states, five New England states, and New York, the bill has a second amendment to it that one, I think is difficult to understand, relative to reciprocal licensing. If there is an agreement that a board has, if it has one agreement, it therefore exempts that board from all other need to temporary license for all those other licenses. I think that's confusing.

And I think that the second thing that it does is that if a board wishes to opt out, it's an opt out now of temporary licensure. If they decide that they want to opt out, they have to do it on a state by state basis. It means an evaluation of credentials in forty-nine different states. If you find that there is a state that you would want as a board to not have reciprocity with for temporary licensure, you would then post that state on your website, that board would. And it would need then to do so for any of the other forty-eight states. And then, once it's on the website, one would wonder if you got an application a year later from the same state, would you need to go back and do the review about whether or not the credentialing is comparable to our state. I think it sets up a workload on the licensing boards and OPLC bodies that we've already recognized have an overload and are behind on their license processing already. It's why we're going through the temporary licensing procedures. And it would require each of those agencies to potentially go through JLCAR with each of their procedures for temporary licensure or exclusion of temporary licensure. And we just don't know the extended consequences of opening up a wide gate. So I, with regret to some extent, that I'm talking against a bill that I introduced in good faith, that I thought we had the support in both chambers, obviously for a portion of it. I don't think that we're yet at the place that the bill deserves the support of this body so I will vote against Concur so that we can introduce a motion of Nonconcur. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise and ask the body to support the current concur motion. And we have to remember that fifteen years ago only 5 percent of the jobs in America required licensing. Today, it's over 20 percent. In such a short term, 20 percent of the jobs in America now require licensing. So we have to ask ourselves, we know in this state today we are at overemployment, I'm sorry, underemployment, everyone has a job that wants a job. Every employer I know is desperately looking to try to find new employees. And what are we going to do about it? What are we going to do about it if we continue to create levels of licensure which some would suggest could be restrictive, and that makes it more difficult for the business owners in New Hampshire to find employees? Now granted Mister President, I will support the concept that we don't always trust our neighbors, especially the states to the south, we wonder if they do as good a job as the people in New Hampshire do. But at some level, if they have licensing requirements and someone complies with them and they have experience and they put the time in, shouldn't there be some basic understanding or trust that if someone wants to come to New Hampshire for a job, we should do everything in our power to allow them to come here?

We have to remember when I put the amendment on some of these bills that just said businesses are looking for help. We know that people can't stand up and unroot themselves and move halfway across the country, land here and have no job and no income to feed their family. So we'd recognize their current license, their current experience, for a small period of time specifically while they went through the licensing procedures. It just doesn't sound unreasonable to me Mister President. It doesn't sound unreasonable that even as they've amended this bill, that there are some people in this building that want to support the business community, that want to support and advocate for people coming to the state of New Hampshire, and are trying to find little ways, I wish I went further quite frankly but it doesn't, to try and find little ways to encourage that migration of more employees to our state. Or, do we Nonconcur, throw up the flag and just say we don't want any more employees? We are now doing what's in our power to stop people coming here from working. We are essentially snubbing the business community by saying, we continue to want to build roadblocks and find excuses for whatever reason to say we don't want the New Hampshire economy to grow, we don't want the New Hampshire economy to thrive. Mister President, I mean there are so many things this body does or doesn't do, but to make a decision to not support people coming to this state for jobs and finding ways to make that happen is just at some level above the pale. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much. I rise in support of the motion to Concur. I too am a co-sponsor of this bill with our friend from Keene. And I go back to the hearing that the Health and Human Services Committee had, jeez on a beautiful day like this you'd think that winter never happened, but it did. In the middle of the winter and people came and talked about the absolute need to get more healthcare workers into New Hampshire and the need to modernize our temporary licensure provisions to make that happen. That's what the original intent of the bill was, and if you have the bill in front of you, it's sections 1 and 2.

This bill has sort of taken a roundabout course to get to the point that it's at this morning. We as a full body, expanded that temporary licensure to any licensee. The House chose to take it back to the original version as our friend from Keene indicated. But they added a version, they added a new section 3 of the bill. And I just want to go through what section 3 of the bill does, because the issue at hand at this point is whether the office of OLPC has the resources to do what's asked for in section 3 of the bill. And so what it says is a board or commission that regulates an occupation or profession is part of an interstate compact, need not comply with this. So I think that's fairly easy, we're either part of an interstate compact or we're not. Beyond that, a board may determine that another state's license is not comparable with ours and then publish that on their website. And so an individual from that kind of a state would not be granted a temporary license. So, actually, the way I read this, it's meant to simplify the process. And lastly, it goes through how the temporary license procedure would work which I think is a clarification on the rest of the bill. Now I'm going to be the first one to admit, our colleague from Londonderry is more the expert on licensure than I am. But as somebody who's been around health care issues now for a long time, I know full well that we have significant shortages of healthcare workers in the state of New Hampshire. Almost 300 mental health counselors short from what the mental health centers say. We weren't able to establish DRF beds after we worked at great length last year on the mental health bill because of shortages of work force. So, we have heard this repeatedly. So, since I never heard, and I don't believe members of the HHS Committee heard that the additional provisions that were put in to Senate Bill 334 were going to be problematic for OLPC in terms of their workload, I would also ask that we Concur with this bill because I do think it's going to help us address the shortage of healthcare workers in New Hampshire which I think we all know is a critical priority for the state right now. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the motion of Concurrence.

A roll call was requested by Senator Soucy, seconded by Senator Sanborn.

Recess. Out of recess.

The following Senators voted Yes: Giuda, Bradley, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard, Reagan, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: Woodburn, Watters, Hennessey, Kahn, Lasky, Carson, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Soucy, Fuller Clark.

The following Senators were excused: Birdsell, D'Allesandro.

Roll Call, Yeas: 12 - Nays: 10. Adopted.

SB 377-FN, relative to the regulation of dentists and dental hygienists by the board of dental examiners.

Senator Bradley moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 488, relative to licensure of health care professionals employed at the Manchester Veterans Affairs Medical Center.

Senator Bradley moved Concurrence. Adopted.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

(The Chair recognized Senator Hennessey.)

SENATOR HENNESSEY: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to introduce the remarkable fourth grade from my district from the Maple Avenue School in Claremont. Remarkable students.

SB 581-FN, relative to compounding of drugs and establishing a committee to study rulemaking authority for reconstituted drugs.

Senator Bradley moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 590-FN-A, relative to the state loan repayment program, the developmental disabilities wait list, involuntary admissions procedures, and the mental health system.

Senator Bradley moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 592-FN-A, relative to the child welfare system.

Senator Bradley moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 313-FN, reforming New Hampshire's Medicaid and Premium Assistance Program, establishing the granite workforce pilot program, and relative to certain liquor funds.

Senator Bradley moved Concurrence.

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn.)

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to Concur. Last Thursday we had a pretty tough and long session and on Friday I took a tour with our former colleague from the North Country, Molly Kelly, the Senator from Keene. And included a stop at the Blue Mountain Dairy Farm and it reminded us of how volatile and sometimes unpredictable our politics was. We were taking a photo of a big cow, got a little ornery and I grabbed her from the back and just as I did that there had been, say cheese, took the picture and the cow's manure covered tail swung back and hit me right across my shirt. And sometimes that happens in politics, it particularly happens late in the year and we appreciate everyone's good cheer after some very difficult, difficult days.

This Medicaid expansion has been a long strange trip. It's been from Mitt Romney, to Barack Obama, nationalized by Donald Trump. But Medicaid expansion here in the state of New Hampshire, five years ago was an idea, signed into law in 2014, renewed 2016, and I just want to say how proud I am of the Democratic Caucus for being the rock, delivering 100 percent of our caucus multiple times, really pushing the majority, working with the majority, and oftentimes keeping our mouth shut, which isn't always easy in this business, to let Majority Leader and others find a way forward. And we've done that and we're very proud of that accomplishment. But I also want to recognize Governor Hassan who really pushed hard to make sure this issue became reality and I'm so proud of the state of New Hampshire. We were one of the few states that had a division of power, with a Democratic Executive and Republican Legislature who was able to move these ideas forward. And that's a testament to everybody involved. I also want to highlight and thank our chief negotiators from our side in the Senate. The Senator from Concord, but also from the House, the House Democratic Deputy Leader for their hard work and many hours spent doing this.

But I also want to just pause and take a look at what the purpose of this was and the importance. It's not about here in this building but outside of this building. In the midst of an opioid epidemic, we need to be doing more and this will help people who are struggling and need that assistance. It will help low wage, hard-working people who are crushed by a government that punishes them for their misfortune. It will help our struggling hospitals who no longer need an infusion of money like the Colebrook Hospital to keep their doors open. This bill has worked, this idea has worked and I congratulate everybody who's been part of this. You, Mister President, the Majority Leader, everybody who supported it and worked for the advocates, the individuals. But, let's be clear. It's not perfect, and a lot of things aren't perfect in this building. But we, the Senate Democrats, are not willing to burn down the barn to get rid of the few rats. But our work will continue.

And I just want to share a little story that occurred to me as I was coming over here today. And, I met a woman in Errol and we were giving an award to this kid who doctors said never would have lived. Wasn't supposed to live very long, and he continues to surprise them, shock them by his success and his vibrancy and his spirit. But a woman came up to me and said, you know we started chatting, and we continued to correspond by email and she was on Medicaid expansion and her income went up to the point where she couldn't, she was kicked off. And she sent pictures of her leg which was very difficult to look at and she hadn't been to a doctor and these are the kind of people that we fight for every day, and we all fight for every day. And eventually, this country will embrace healthcare as a basic human right, not a gift bestowed by charitable hands of the benevolent belief. But as a basic human right. This is important. We stand with the majority of this caucus, our caucus and yours, to move this forward and thank everyone for their work and patience and making this happen. Thank you, Mister President.

A roll call was requested by Senator Avard, seconded by Senator Hennessey.

The following Senators voted Yes: Woodburn, Bradley, Watters, Hennessey, Gray, Ward, Kahn, Lasky, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Reagan, Soucy, Fuller Clark, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: Giuda, French, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard, Carson.

The following Senators were excused: Birdsell, D'Allesandro.

Roll Call, Yeas: 16 - Nays: 6. Adopted.

SB 398, relative to information contained in certain motor vehicle records.

Senator Gannon moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 575-FN, relative to electric vehicle charging stations.

Senator Gannon moved Concurrence. Adopted.

SB 565-FN, relative to aircraft registration fees.

Senator Sanborn moved Concurrence. Adopted.

Senators Cavanaugh and Soucy are in opposition to the motion to Concur with the House Amendment on SB 565-FN.

MOTION OF RECONSIDERATION

Senator Daniels, having voted on the prevailing side, moved to reconsider the following action taken by the body on SB 580, relative to transfers of appropriated funds, amending a capital budget appropriation to allow for door replacements at the New Hampshire hospital, and transferring a capital budget appropriation for painting the ceiling of Representatives Hall to the legislative branch.: Reconsider the vote on - Concur with the House Amendment. Adopted.

(The Chair recognized Senator Daniels.)

SENATOR DANIELS: Thank you, Mister President. I would ask that you vote against the Concur and I will move to go to Committee of Conference. We've discovered subsequently that there are a couple parts in 580 that are conflicting with other bills. One of them having to do with House Bill 1743 and the emergency funding of the Sununu Center and the other one having to do with Health and Human Services lapse. So I'd be willing to take this to a Committee of Conference. If you would vote to overturn the Concur and let me move Committee of Conference. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion of Concurrence. Failed.

Senator Daniels moved Nonconcurrence and requested a Committee of Conference. Adopted.

PRESIDENT MORSE: We will name the members in a few minutes.

Recess. Out of recess.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Here's where we're at. We have the House messages. We're putting them out on paper right now. If the chairs could basically go through them, if they have the time to name the conferees. We'll come back at one o'clock. The House should be done its business by then and hopefully we can get right through it. It's probably twenty-five to thirty pieces of legislation. So, House Republicans should get together at quarter of one upstairs, okay?

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: I just have an announcement. The intern lunch is happening right now.

Recess. Out of recess.

PRESIDENT MORSE: SB 418 was adopted on 5/10.

SB 418, relative to wine samples and samples for consumption on the premises of a beverage manufacturer.

The President appointed Senators Innis, Bradley and Soucy.

PRESIDENT MORSE: SB 580 was adopted on 5/10.

SB 580, relative to transfers of appropriated funds, amending a capital budget appropriation to allow for door replacements at the New Hampshire hospital, and transferring a capital budget appropriation for painting the ceiling of Representatives Hall to the legislative branch.

The President appointed Senators Daniels, Giuda and Feltes.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The House of Representatives refuses to concur with the Senate in the adoption of the amendment(s) to the following entitled Bill sent down from Senate:

HB 169-FN, relative to limits on wagers in charitable games of chance and licensing historic racing.

and requests a Committee of Conference.

The Speaker, on the part of the House of Representatives, has appointed as members of said Committee of Conference:

REPRESENTATIVES: Abrami, Almy, Ohm and Lang

ANNOUNCEMENTS

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. We are definitely blessed in this building to work with tremendous staff. Whether it's the staff that helps us in this room, or whether it is the staff downstairs in the cafeteria, or the maintenance staff, or the security staff, or anybody else. And it is truly with a deep heart I think that all of us want to take a moment to remember Larry Krupnik who, unfortunately, passed away earlier this week. Larry, as you know, was a Protective Services Officer. He was generally the person that you saw if you were here late at night. Kate was telling me how he would always rush to open the door for her. He always had a friendly word. He couldn't have been a nicer guy. If you knew him, you liked him. He was quick with funny lines, and he looked after each and every one of us. He epitomized what it means to work in this building, and I think we all mourn his passing. He took his job incredibly seriously. He would check on every window every night. He looked at all the coffee pots. He checked the trash. He did everything to make this building safe. He never missed a day, and when he did, you knew that something wasn't right, which is what happened last week. He worked here, in this building, for eighteen years. He was one of the unsung heroes who never gets the kind of credit that the twenty-four of us get. In fact, people like Larry should be getting the credit, and we probably should get a lot less of the credit because these are the folks that make this building run. We're saddened by his loss, and I think it would be appropriate to have a moment of silence to express our thoughts and our gratitude for a life well led and work well done.

(Moment of Silence.)

Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: So, if I could take another moment of personal privilege. I think we also had another loss. We sometimes have unbelievable agreements and disagreements in this room, but in many respects we're all family. And when family loses a family member it's time for all of us to come together and send our thoughts and our prayers, our appreciation, our tremendous gratitude for the Morse family. Senator Morse lost his stepfather earlier this week. I think that there will be an announcement as to when the services will be at some point fairly soon. It is a tribute that Senator Morse and his daughter would be here today and with their normal customary role of getting the job done, even the job done with a heavy heart. So, I would ask the members to again have a moment of silence for the Morse family.

(Moment of Silence.)

Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Not to wear out my welcome. Our friend from District 20 is with his grandson today in New York City. His grandson is receiving a nationwide award for just the heroic way that he and his family have approached his life. A lot of us have had a chance to meet this fine young man. It's unfortunate Senator D can't be here today to celebrate on a job well done on a lot of important legislation. I've always thought that Senator D was somewhat of a coach to me too. He coached just about everybody here, and I thought it would be appropriate to pay not only Senator D and Mrs. D tribute, but his great grandson. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Innis.)

SENATOR INNIS: Thank you, Mister President. A moment of personal privilege. A lot of times young people can teach us all a lesson and this weekend my libertarian son is marrying his progressive fiancé. So it will be an interesting life. Thank you. Thank you, Mister President.

Without objection, all personal privileges and unanimous consent shall be entered into the permanent Journal of the Senate. (Rule 2-16 and Rule 2-17). Adopted.

MOTION TO ADJOURN FROM LATE SESSION

Senator Bradley moved that the Senate adjourn from the Late Session.

Adopted. Adjournment from the Late Session.

May 23, 2018

The Senate reconvened at 10:00 a.m., a quorum being present.

The Reverend Jon Hopkins, chaplain to the Senate, offered the following prayer:

I take the prayer this morning from the first prayer given at the First Continental Congress in 1774.

Dear God, who is above all the kingdoms, empires and governments, look down in mercy we beseech Thee, on these our American States, who have fled to Thee from the rod of the oppressor and thrown themselves on Thy gracious protection, desiring to be henceforth dependent only on Thee. We appeal to you today for the righteousness of our cause; we look up to you today for countenance and support. Take the New Hampshire State Senate under Thy nurturing care, give them wisdom and counsel; defeat the malicious designs of people who desire to undermine democracy, freedom, and justice. Be present, O God of wisdom, and direct the councils of this honorable assembly; enable them to settle things on the best and surest foundation. That order, harmony, and peace may persist; and truth and justice, religion and piety, prevail and flourish amongst the people. Preserve the health of their bodies and vigor of their minds; shower down on them and the millions they represent, such temporal blessings as Thou seest expedient for them in this world. We give thanks today for all those men and women who have given the last measure of devotion to protect our best values of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and pray that our actions will honor their sacrifice. Amen.

Senator Innis led the Pledge of Allegiance.

Senator Fuller Clark is excused for the day.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley for an introduction.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. I want to introduce two special guests who I've never met, but they are the parents of our attorney Rick Lehmann, Ted and Irene Lehmann. They're back in New Hampshire after several months of bluegrass road trips, which that sounds pretty good about right now, doesn't it? And they have a couple of real fundamentally key people here. Obviously, their son but their new daughter-in-law and I don't know if Kat's here. But she just graduated from Suffolk University so welcome the Lehmann family.

INTRODUCTION OF PAGES

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson for an introduction.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. Today I am honored to introduce Chloe Tardif. Chloe will you stand please? Chloe is from Hudson, New Hampshire and she's fifteen years old. She's in the ninth grade at Bishop Guertin High School. Her favorite subject is algebra and Chloe is very, very active Mister President, at Bishop Guertin. She is a student ambassador. She participates in the campus ministry. She volunteers for Special Olympics. She's a member of the Girl Scouts. She plays soccer, she Nordic skis, and she also plays track and field. And in the future, she's got some amazing plans that I think everyone here can really relate to. She wants to become a State Representative at the age of eighteen. She plans to become a politician or a lawyer for her future career and she would also like to work as a part time special needs paraprofessional. Please join me in welcoming Chloe.

Floor Amendment to HB 1546-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT authorizing the town of Hampton to hold a special town meeting.

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Town of Hampton; Authorization to Hold Special Town Meeting. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in response to the emergency circumstances presented by the rupture in late March 2018 of one of 2 force main sewer lines that are located in a marsh and that transport sewage from the entirety of Hampton Beach to the Hampton Wastewater Treatment Plant, which are in dire need of replacement, the town of Hampton is hereby authorized to hold a special town meeting without prior judicial authorization, to have the same authority as an annual town meeting, for the sole purpose of authorizing the issuance of the bonds and notes necessary to pay for the temporary and permanent replacement of both said force main sewer lines that are each over 28 years old, and to pay for the decommissioning of said lines. The special meeting is authorized to be conducted on or before August 28, 2018, and the town of Hampton is hereby authorized to conduct the events required to conduct a special meeting under RSA 31, RSA 32, RSA 33, RSA 39, and RSA 40 in accordance with whatever timetable will enable the special town meeting to occur on or before August 28, 2018, such authority to include, if necessary, the power to reduce the notice and other time periods required by such statutes, including the requirement of RSA 40:13, XVI that there be at least 28 days between the first and second sessions of a special meeting. The special meeting herein authorized shall be exempt from the requirements of RSA 31:5, I(a) that "the ballots cast at such meeting shall be equal in number to at least 1/2 of the number of legal voters borne on the checklist of the town entitled to vote at the annual or biennial election next preceding such special meeting; and such checklist, corrected according to law, shall be used at any meeting upon the request of 10 legal voters of the town."

2 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill authorizes the town of Hampton to hold a special town meeting to authorize the issuance of bonds and notes to pay for sewer line replacement.

SENATOR INNIS: The town of Hampton has a couple of old sewer lines and recently one of them broke, and leaked into a marshy area and clearly needs to be repaired and this is part of a, what'll be a short term as well as a permanent repair to the two sewer lines that serve the community in the beach area. And needless to say, this is an urgent repair that needs to take place but it can't really happen without a town meeting. So what this amendment does is authorize the town of Hampton to hold a town meeting specifically for this issue so the community members can vote to pay for temporary and permanent replacement of both sewer lines that are affected here. So, I would hope that we can adopt the amendment and pass it along with, as a part of House Bill 1546. Thank you, Mister President.

Committee of Conference Report on HB 314, relative to autonomous vehicles.

Recommendation:

That the House recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the Senate amendment, and concur with the Senate amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the Senate, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 New Subdivision; Autonomous Vehicle Testing License. Amend RSA 261 by inserting after section 140-d the following new subdivision:

Autonomous Vehicle Testing License

261:140-e Autonomous Vehicle Testing License.

I. A person may make application to the department, upon blanks furnished by it for that purpose, for an autonomous vehicle testing license. The application shall be accompanied by:

(a) Notice to the department that includes the date that research or testing will begin and the general geographic location where research and testing will occur. Testing may move to other areas with prior notice.

(b) Evidence that the owner of the vehicle has obtained an instrument of insurance, surety bond, or proof of self-insurance in the amount of at least $10,000,000.

(c) A signed affidavit that the vehicle will be operated only for the purpose of research or testing.

(d) Certification that, prior to testing on public roads, the autonomous vehicle has been tested under controlled conditions that simulate, as closely as practicable, the real world conditions that the autonomous vehicle will be subject to during testing.

(e) Certification that the testing complies with National Highway Traffic Safety Administration guidance, if any, on the safe testing, deployment, and operation of autonomous vehicles.

(f) Certification that the autonomous vehicle used for testing complies with all applicable federal motor vehicle safety standards or written evidence that the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has granted the autonomous vehicle an exemption from compliance with the relevant standards.

(g) Proof that a law enforcement interaction plan has been created to instruct the law enforcement agencies that have jurisdiction over a testing area on how to interact with an autonomous vehicle in emergency and traffic enforcement situations.

(h) The vehicle's registration and information, including license plate information. If no registration exists, the division shall issue a temporary plate good for one year upon approval of the application. This plate shall be displayed on the rear of the test vehicle.

II. The annual fee for an autonomous vehicle testing license shall be $500. All licenses issued pursuant to the provisions of this section shall expire annually in the month designated by the director.

III. The director may suspend, revoke, deny, or refuse to renew an autonomous vehicle testing license for any of the following reasons:

(a) Failure to comply with the rules of the road of this state.

(b) Any material misstatement on the application for the issuance or renewal of a license.

(c) A finding that the operation of an autonomous vehicle by the person would create a danger to the public.

(d) Failure to comply with the other requirements of this section.

IV. The licensee shall maintain records related to the safety and efficacy of each vehicle operated under the authority of a licensed granted under this section and shall provide periodic summaries of the records to the department, to the New Hampshire department of transportation, and to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

2 New Subdivisions; Special Rules for Autonomous Vehicles; Automated and Connected Vehicle Testing and Deployment Commission. Amend RSA 265 by inserting after section 161 the following new subdivisions:

Special Rules for Autonomous Vehicles

265:162 Autonomous Vehicles. No person shall operate or cause the operation of a vehicle using SAE level 5 full automation technology unless the person is licensed for autonomous vehicle testing under RSA 261:140-e, the person is testing the vehicle in conformity with the license, and the tested vehicle is accompanied by an escort vehicle.

Automated and Connected Vehicle Testing and Deployment Commission

265:163 Automated and Connected Vehicle Testing and Deployment Commission.

I. There is established an automated and connected vehicle testing and deployment commission.

II. The members of the commission shall be as follows:

(a) The director of the office of strategic initiatives, or designee.

(b) The commissioner of the department of transportation, or designee.

(c) The commissioner of the department of safety, or designee.

(d) The commissioner of the insurance department, or designee.

(e) The director of the division of economic development, or designee.

(f) The director of the division of state police, or designee.

(g) The director of the division of motor vehicles, or designee.

(h) Three members of the house of representatives, one of whom shall be a member of the minority party, appointed by of the speaker of the house of representatives.

(i) One member of the senate, appointed by the president of the senate.

III. Legislative members of the commission shall receive mileage at the legislative rate when attending to the duties of the commission.

IV. To prepare the state for the use of automated vehicle technologies on public roadways, the commission shall:

(a) Follow developments in the testing and deployment of automated and connected vehicle technology, including both federal and state laws, regulations, and guidance on the subject.

(b) Identify all agencies with pertinent jurisdiction to support the testing and deployment of automated and connected vehicles.

(c) Consider avenues to encourage the development of automated and connected vehicles technologies and their component hardware and software in New Hampshire, and to that end, shall work with both universities and companies in the sector to support innovation and development.

(d) Examine ways to educate residents on the benefits of automated and connected vehicle technologies, including enhanced mobility, increased safety, more efficient land use, expanded roadway capacity, and reduced environmental impact.

(e) Review existing state statues and administrative rules and identify existing statues or rules that impede the testing and deployment of automated and connected vehicles; such review shall include, but not be limited to, existing laws pertaining to vehicle registration and titling, vehicle insurance requirements, drivers' licenses, and general rules of the road.

(f) Solicit input from representatives of:

(1) New Hampshire colleges and universities.

(2) Disabled communities.

(3) Elder communities.

(4) Public transportation providers.

(5) Automated and connected vehicle manufacturers.

(6) Automated and connected vehicle technology suppliers.

(7) Automobile dealers.

(8) The trucking industry.

(9) Urban planning professionals.

(10) Any other relevant actors with expertise or interest in the area of automated and connected vehicle technologies.

V. The commission shall be chaired by the director of the office of strategic initiatives, or his or her designee. The first meeting of the commission shall be called by the chairperson and shall be held within 45 days of the effective date of this section. Six members of the commission shall constitute a quorum.

VI. The commission shall report its initial findings and any recommendations to the speaker of the house of representatives, the president of the senate, the house clerk, the senate clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before November 1, 2018, and provide annual reports thereafter every November 1. Such annual reports shall include a summary of commission activities during the period, and may include recommendations for legislative and regulatory consideration.

3 Repeal. RSA 265:163, relative to the automated and connected vehicle testing and deployment commission, is repealed.

4 Effective Date.

I. Section 1 of this act and RSA 265:162 as inserted by section 2 of this act shall take effect January 1, 2019.

II. Section 3 of the act shall take effect December 2, 2022.

III. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill establishes licensing requirements for autonomous vehicle operation and testing. This bill also establishes an automated and connected vehicle testing and deployment commission.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon.)

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you. I'm sorry, I just changed my mind. I'll speak on it. 314, I don't want to say it's a hot mess, but at best it's going to be a de facto ban on testing. NHTSA the regulations that I was shown by the House were an earlier version of this. This is 2.0. An automated driving system. They say not to use, the NHTSA standards to codify. They encourage all the states to have their own Department of Transportation do this. The bill itself has a lot of problems, if you go through the bill in section 1 (a), it says "notice". It doesn't tell you what notice it is. It doesn't tell you what the testing entails. It's just, it was a good intent. The House meant well but this is nowhere near ready for prime time. It doesn't define any of the terms from certification in every paragraph. It doesn't give real road conditions. All the car companies, all the, it doesn't even really clarify what an autonomous vehicle is, there's three or four different levels, three, four and five. Five being fully autonomous. Doesn't define the terminology. The companies that we have talked to have expressed huge concerns that this is just going to be again a de facto ban on testing. With this bill, they're going to be afraid to come to New Hampshire. It would be better to redo this in the fall and I would ask that the body vote down HB 314. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President, and colleagues. I rise in support of the recommendation to adopt the Committee of Conference Report. I do recognize many of the concerns that Senator Gannon has raised. We discussed it pretty thoroughly in committee and of course, we did hear, as others may have gotten an email from the Autonomous Vehicle Manufacturers Association, about the bill. I think that what was important here is that the Senator from District 19 recognized that there was much more work to be done on autonomous vehicle testing and that's why the bill did add a commission to look at all these issues. I think it's also important to note the sequencing of the effective dates in the bill so that the commission has time to meet, has time to issue a report prior to the effective date of the rest of the bill. And I think that is helpful and it does give us time in January because, to introduce other legislation if needed. And I do recognize that it may mean that we don't have much testing if any go on for a few months. But I think that in the spirit of compromise what Senator, the Senators on the Transportation Committee worked on and other bills and other issues that were involved and working with the Chair of House Transportation, I think we ought to move this forward recognizing that, of course, there will be more work to be done later. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon for a question of Senator Watters.)

SENATOR GANNON: Just a couple questions, Senator. Thank you for taking them. Are you 100 percent sure that this is cyber secure, that someone can't just hack in and take control? Do you have assurances from this that these vehicles will be cyber secure?

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you for your question. Boy, if I could say anything was cyber secure, wouldn't that be amazing? I think that's why we need a commission to look at all of these issues and it's not just in our state, that's an issue about the technology on these vehicles. Nationwide, not just in New Hampshire.

SENATOR GANNON: After a crash, it may put these, say they have a small crash and the vehicle's put back on the road. As far as I can tell that there's no requirements to tell that the vehicle, computer-wise, a delicate instrument is then, there's no testing to be assured that that vehicle's now going to be safe?

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you again for your question. And you know, I'm somebody who with reservations often trusts manufacturers to recognize that they need to address these problems and that's why there are testing periods. I also again would say this is why we have a commission in the bill.

SENATOR GANNON: That's enough. Thank you very much.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee of Conference Report.

Recess. Out of recess.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon.)

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you, Mister Chair, I'll be very quick. I just want to read the federal and state rules that NTSI sent out. It's just two sentences. The NTSI guidelines strongly encourages states not to codify this voluntary guidance that is incorporated into state statutes as a legal requirement for any phase of development testing or deployment of ABS. They're saying that we should do it and not follow this. This is just a guideline and that we're codifying something that shouldn't be codified. Thank you, Mister President.

A roll call was requested by Senator Gannon, seconded by Senator Sanborn.

The following Senators voted Yes: Woodburn, Bradley, Watters, Hennessey, Gray, French, Ward, Kahn, Daniels, Avard, Lasky, Carson, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Soucy, D'Allesandro, Morse.

Committee of Conference Report on HB 317, relative to changes in the system benefits charge.

Recommendation:

That the House recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the Senate amendment, and concur with the Senate amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the Senate, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend RSA 374-F:3, VI as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

VI. Benefits for All Consumers. Restructuring of the electric utility industry should be implemented in a manner that benefits all consumers equitably and does not benefit one customer class to the detriment of another. Costs should not be shifted unfairly among customers. A nonbypassable and competitively neutral system benefits charge applied to the use of the distribution system may be used to fund public benefits related to the provision of electricity. Such benefits, as approved by regulators, may include, but not necessarily be limited to, programs for low-income customers, energy efficiency programs, funding for the electric utility industry's share of commission expenses pursuant to RSA 363-A, support for research and development, and investments in commercialization strategies for new and beneficial technologies. Legislative approval of the New Hampshire general court shall be required to increase the system benefits charge. Committee of Conference Report on HB 561-FN, relative to contributions by retirement system employers for certain full-time positions changed to part-time or interim employment and relative to enforcement of provisions concerning retired members working part-time after retirement.

Recommendation:

That the House recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the Senate amendment, and concur with the Senate amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the Senate, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Retirement System; Definition; Part-Time. Amend RSA 100-A:1, XXXIV to read as follows:

XXXIV. "Part-time" for purposes of employment of a retired member of the New Hampshire retirement system but excepting per diem court security officers and court bailiffs, means employment [~~during a calendar year~~] by one or more participating employers of the retired member which shall not exceed [~~32 hours in each normal calendar week. Employment in some instances may exceed 32 hours in any normal calendar week provided that in such case, the part-time employment of the retired member shall not exceed 1,300 hours in a calendar year, so long as such part-time employment does not occur outside of a 5-consecutive-month period in any 12-month period.~~] 1,352 hours in a calendar year, except as provided in RSA 100-A:7-b. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no retired member shall be employed on a part-time basis by any participating employer for a period of 28 days from the member's effective date of retirement.

2 Restoration to Service; Working After Retirement. Amend RSA 100-A:7 to read as follows:

100-A:7 [~~Restoration to Service~~] Working After Retirement; Exceeding Part-Time Hourly Limit.

I. [~~If a disability beneficiary or any other beneficiary is~~] Any retired member returning to work for a participating employer in a position requiring mandatory membership pursuant to RSA 100-A:3 shall be restored to service[,] and the [~~beneficiary's~~] retiree's retirement allowance shall cease, the [~~beneficiary~~] retiree shall again become a member of the retirement system, and the [~~beneficiary~~] retiree shall contribute at the percentage payable pursuant to RSA 100-A:16, I(a). Anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding, any credit for membership service and for any prior service on the basis of which the [~~beneficiary's~~] retired member's creditable service was computed at the time of [~~the beneficiary's~~] his or her former retirement shall be restored to full force and effect; upon subsequent retirement, the [~~beneficiary~~] retiree shall receive a retirement allowance based on [~~the beneficiary's~~] his or her combined creditable service and [~~the member's~~] average final compensation.

II. Any retired member who, in any calendar year, works part-time for one or more participating employers and exceeds the maximum permitted hours as provided in RSA 100-A:1, XXXIV, shall forfeit the state annuity portion of his or her retirement allowance, and any allocable cost of living adjustments, with such forfeiture commencing as soon as administratively feasible in the next calendar year and continuing for a period of 12 months.

III. The board of trustees of the retirement system shall adopt rules under RSA 541-A as necessary to administer and enforce the provisions of this section.

3 Annual Notice Required. Amend RSA 100-A:7-a to read as follows:

100-A:7-a Certain Part-Time Employment; Notice Required. The retirement system shall annually provide written notice to all retired members of the retirement system of the [~~hourly~~] limitations on part-time employment as defined in RSA 100-A:1, XXXIV and the potential effect that exceeding such [~~hourly~~] limitations could have on the retired member's retirement benefits, including restoration to service as required in RSA [~~100-A:7~~] 100-A:7, I and the forfeiture of the state annuity portion of his or her retirement allowance under RSA 100-A:7, II.

4 Certain Part-Time Employment; Emergency Exception. Amend RSA 100-A:7-b to read as follows:

100-A:7-b Certain Part-Time Employment; Emergency Exception. The [~~hourly~~] annual limitations on part-time employment as defined in RSA 100-A:1, XXXIV shall be modified for retired members [~~who exceed the 32-hour limit while providing assistance~~] to exclude any hours worked during an emergency under this section. [~~While providing assistance during an emergency under this section, a retired member may exceed the 32-hour limit in a calendar week provided that the member has not exceeded 1300 hours in the current calendar year.~~] For purposes of this section, an emergency includes any event declared by the governor or while working under the direction of the director of the division of forests and lands during woodland fire control. Employers shall include hours worked during an emergency as a separate entry in the report required in RSA 100-A:16, VII(a).

5 Retirement System; Employer Reports. Amend RSA 100-A:16, VII(a) to read as follows:

VII.(a) Every employer shall report to the retirement system [~~monthly~~] annually, on or before February 15, in a format provided by the retirement system, all compensation paid by, and the total hours worked for, the employer [~~to retired members~~] by each retired member of the retirement system, including the name of, and the total hours worked, for each retired member of the retirement system, except that an employer shall not include in the report the compensation and hours worked by a retiree for serving as an elected state official or as an elected official of a political subdivision in either a group I or group II position.

6 Grandfathering of Existing Part-time Positions; Penalty; Reporting.

I. The amendments to the provisions of RSA 100-A made by this act shall not apply to a retired member working in a part-time position for a participating employer for the position in which the retired member is employed on the effective date of this act.

II. Any retired member working under the provisions of paragraph I who exceeds 1,664 hours shall forfeit the state annuity portion of his or her retirement allowance, and any allocable cost of living adjustments, with such forfeiture commencing as soon as administratively feasible in the next calendar year and continuing for a period of 12 months.

III. In order to establish and maintain eligibility for the grandfathering exception provided in paragraph I, on or before February 15, 2019, and annually thereafter, every employer shall provide, in a format provided by the retirement system, the names and part-time position titles of any retired members continuing to be employed by the employer as of the effective date of this act.

7 Effective Date. This act shall take effect January 1, 2019.

Committee of Conference Report on HB 1550, requiring electric bills to include the cost of compliance with renewable energy standards.

Recommendation:

That the House recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the Senate amendment, and concur with the Senate amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the Senate, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend RSA 378:49, II(c) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(c) Provide such information to electric customers at least annually in conjunction with billing, whether distributed through the mail or online, or other mailed or online communication to customers, as approved by the commission, including the commission's estimated cost on a per kilowatt-hour basis for compliance with the electric renewable portfolio standard under RSA 362-F for the prior compliance year. The estimated cost for the compliance year shall be calculated once per year and provided in the customer's December bill, whether distributed through the mail or online. Each customer's bill shall identify the cost as an estimate and provide a link to information about the electric renewable portfolio standard, including its benefits, at the public utilities commission's website. The costs for a utility to provide this information shall be recovered from electric customers through the distribution rates of the respective electric distribution utility.

Committee of Conference Report on HB 1743-FN, relative to funding for the Sununu Youth Services Center, and unfunded positions in the department of health and human services.

Recommendation:

That the House recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the Senate amendment, and concur with the Senate amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the Senate, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Appropriation; Department of Health and Human Services; Sununu Youth Services Center. In addition to any other sums appropriated to accounting unit 05-95-42-421510-7916, the sum of $900,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019 is hereby appropriated to the department of health and human services for the purpose of funding rehabilitation programs and other operational costs of the Sununu youth services center. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

2 New Subdivision; Excess Appropriation Allocation Account. Amend RSA 126-A by inserting after section 74 the following new subdivision:

Excess Appropriation Allocation Account

126-A:75 Excess Appropriation Allocation Account. There is hereby established under the department of health and human services an excess appropriation allocation account. For the biennium ending June 30, 2019, immediately upon acceptance by the fiscal committee of the general court of any federal funds attributable to the 38 percentage point enhanced federal match for the children's health insurance program, the commissioner of administrative services shall transfer general funds of an equal amount from accounting unit 05-95-47-470010-7948, Medicaid Care Management, into the excess appropriation allocation account. Any funds remaining unspent in the excess appropriation allocation account at the end of each fiscal year shall lapse to the state general fund and expenditure of federal funds authorized under this section.

3 Transfer; Department of Health and Human Services. After September 30, 2018 and with the approval of the fiscal committee of the general court, the department of health and human services may transfer funds to accounting unit 05-95-42-421510-7916 of up to $900,000 from the excess appropriation allocation account established in RSA 126-A:75 for the purpose of funding rehabilitation programs and operational costs of the Sununu youth services center for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019. The fiscal committee shall consider the following when considering approval of the transfer of funds:

I. Whether the department has developed placements for no fewer than 35 youth in Medicaid eligible settings as specified in 2017, 156:165.

II. Whether the department has redeveloped the excess capacity at the Sununu youth services center to be used for an inpatient drug treatment facility for persons under the age of 18, including Medicaid eligible youth described in 2017, 156:166 and 167.

III. Whether the department has updated all the policies, procedures, and practices of the Sununu youth services center utilized for the placement of children pursuant to RSA 169-B to reflect the requirements of and legislative intent of 2017, 156:157 through 175, and delivered a description of such modifications to the fiscal committee of the general court.

IV. Whether the department has satisfied the requirements of the following statutes and utilized, to the maximum feasible extent, the authority provided by the following statutes to limit and reduce the population of the Sununu youth services center:

(a) RSA 169-B:19, VI, relative to certification of Medicaid eligible treatment facilities for the transfer of minors from the Sununu youth services center;

(b) RSA 621:19, III, relative to discharge plans for minors committed to the Sununu youth services center; and

(c) RSA 621:19, IV, relative to quarterly review of nonviolent offenders committed to the Sununu youth services center.

V. Whether the department has timely implemented their plan for reductions in staffing and other operating expenses.

4 Transfer; Department of Health and Human Services. After January 1, 2019 and with the approval of the fiscal committee of the general court, the department of health and human services may transfer funds to accounting unit 05-95-42-421510-7916 of up to $1,800,000 from the excess appropriation allocation account established in RSA 126-A:75 for the purpose of funding rehabilitation programs and operational costs of the Sununu Youth Services Center for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019. The fiscal committee shall consider the following when considering approval of the transfer of funds:

I. Whether the department has developed placements for no fewer than 35 youth in Medicaid eligible settings as specified in 2017, 156:165.

II. Whether the department has redeveloped the excess capacity at the Sununu youth services center to be used for an inpatient drug treatment facility for persons under the age of 18, including Medicaid eligible youth described in 2017, 156:166 and 167.

III. Whether the department has updated all the policies, procedures, and practices of the Sununu youth services center utilized for the placement of children pursuant to RSA 169-B to reflect the requirements of and legislative intent of 2017, 156:157 through 175, and delivered a description of such modifications to the joint fiscal committee of the general court.

IV. Whether the department has satisfied the requirements of the following statutes and utilized, to the maximum feasible extent, the authority provided by the following statutes to limit and reduce the population of the Sununu youth services center:

(a) RSA 169-B:19, VI, relative to certification of Medicaid eligible treatment facilities for the transfer of minors from the Sununu youth services center;

(b) RSA 621:19, III, relative to discharge plans for minors committed to the Sununu youth services center; and

(c) RSA 621:19, IV, relative to quarterly review of nonviolent offenders committed to the Sununu youth services center.

V. Whether the department has timely implemented their plan for reductions in staffing and other operating expenses.

5 Department of Health and Human Services; Unfunded Positions. Amend 2017, 156:183 to read as follows:

156:183 Department of Health and Human Services; Unfunded Positions; Authorization. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the department of health and human services[, with prior approval of the fiscal committee of the general court,] may fill unfunded positions during the biennium ending June 30, 2019, provided that the total expenditure for such positions shall not exceed the amount appropriated for personal services.

6 New Paragraph; Commissioner; Report to Fiscal Committee of the General Court. Amend RSA 621:12 by inserting after paragraph II the following new paragraph:

III. The commissioner shall provide a monthly report to the fiscal committee of the general court of the average daily census and the estimated monthly cost per resident at the Sununu youth services center, including those funds used from accounting units not directly associated with the Sununu youth services center.

7 Committee Established. There is established a committee to study alternatives to the continued use of the Sununu youth services center facility.

8 Membership and Compensation.

I. The members of the committee shall be as follows:

(a) Five members of the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives.

(b) Three members of the senate, appointed by the president of the senate.

II. Members of the committee shall receive mileage at the legislative rate when attending to the duties of the committee.

9 Duties. The committee shall consider:

I. The disposal of the existing facility.

II. The transition to a smaller facility with a correctional capacity.

III. The transition to small residential treatment facilities with the capacity for secure placement.

IV. The ability to use excess capacity at the Sununu youth services center for an outpatient drug treatment facility for persons under the age of 18.

V. Whether the department has updated all policies, procedures, and practice consistent with the legislative intent of 2017, 156:157 through 175.

10 Chairperson; Quorum. The members of the study committee shall elect a chairperson from among the members. The first meeting of the committee shall be called by the first-named house member. The first meeting of the committee shall be held within 45 days of the effective date of this section. Four members of the committee shall constitute a quorum.

11 Report. The committee shall report its findings and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the speaker of the house of representatives, the president of the senate, the house clerk, the senate clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before November 1, 2018.

12 Repeal. 2017, 156:168, II, relative to emergency funding for the operational costs of the Sununu youth services center, is repealed.

13 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the Senate, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 24 with the following:

25 Appropriation; Department of Transportation.

I. The sum of $20,000,000 is hereby appropriated to the department of transportation for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018, which shall be nonlapsing and expended for the purposes of funding state red list bridge projects. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

II. There is hereby appropriated to the department of transportation the sum of $10,400,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019, which shall be nonlapsing and expended as state bridge aid for municipally-owned high traffic volume bridge projects under RSA 234. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

26 Appropriation; Revenue Stabilization Reserve Account. The sum of $10,000,000 is hereby appropriated to the revenue stabilization reserve account established pursuant to RSA 9:13-e, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018, for the purposes of said fund. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

27 Appropriation; Community Development Finance Authority; Recovery Friendly Workplace Initiatives.

I. The sum of $1,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 is hereby appropriated to the community development finance authority for the purpose of supporting recovery friendly workplace programs offered by nonprofit organizations. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

II. The authority shall use the appropriation exclusively for the purpose of investing or lending to nonprofit organizations that deliver recovery friendly workplace programs. In this section, "recovery friendly workplace programs" means programs that educate employers in evidence-based practices that demonstrably reduce substance misuse in the workplace and create work environments that are conducive to enabling persons in addiction and mental health recovery to sustain and re-enter the workforce as productive members of society. Such programs shall include the training of all employees, including specialized training for human resources personnel, and shall be consistent with Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) standards. The term "recovery friendly workplace programs" also includes the propagation of public awareness and information that supports health and safety for employees, while promoting active community engagement that will assist in reducing the negative impact of unaddressed substance misuse and untreated mental health. On or by September 30, 2020, the authority shall make public on its website and provide a report to the governor, the president of the senate, and the speaker of the house of representatives concerning the disbursement of funds and the effectiveness of the recovery friendly workplace initiatives supported by the authority, including, but not limited to, how many workers in recovery were attracted to and retained in the workforce.

28 Funding for Kindergarten Pupils; Fiscal Year 2019.

I. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019, notwithstanding RSA 198:38, I, for each kindergarten pupil counted in the average daily membership in attendance who is attending a full-day kindergarten program, a school district or a chartered public school shall receive a kindergarten grant pursuant to RSA 198:48-c, I, and may collect payment from a private party for that portion of a kindergarten pupil's education which is not covered by the school district.

II. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019, the amount collected by a school district or a chartered public school from a private party for a kindergarten pupil who is not educated at school district expense shall not exceed the difference of the amount the school district or chartered public school charges the private party less the amount of the kindergarten grant received under RSA 198:48-c.

29 Appropriation; Housing Finance Authority; Affordable Housing Fund.

I. The sum of $1,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 and the sum of $1,500,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019 are hereby appropriated to the housing finance authority for deposit in the affordable housing fund established in RSA 204-C:57. The appropriation for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019 shall be contingent upon submission of the plan developed by the working group established in paragraph II to the fiscal committee of the general court by September 2018. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sums out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

II. The purpose of the appropriation made in this section shall be to provide safe, affordable, and stable transitional housing opportunities to those leaving mental health and substance use disorder treatment facilities. Locations of the housing opportunities shall be determined using data, recognizing that many of the needs are in rural areas of New Hampshire. Within 30 days of the effective date of this section, the housing finance authority, in conjunction with the commissioner of the department of health and human services, shall form a working group of subject matter experts with knowledge and experience in addressing substance use disorder treatment and mental health needs as they relate to and impact transitional housing. The working group shall develop a data-driven plan to award the funds, guidelines for accountability, and metrics for demonstrating results that maintain employability and sustained treatment effects as priorities.

III. On January 1, 2019, and January 1, 2020, the housing finance authority shall submit a report to the governor, the senate president, and the speaker of the house of representatives regarding the findings and recommendations of the working group and disbursement of the funds appropriated in this section for transitional housing.

30 Supplemental Appropriation; State Loan Repayment Program. In addition to any other sums appropriated to the department of health and human services in 2017, 155, accounting unit 05-95-90-901010-7965, line 073, grants-non-federal, there is hereby appropriated the sum of $300,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019, for the state loan repayment program. The department may exceed this amount if new federal funds become available to the program. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for said sum out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

31 Appropriation; Department of Health and Human Services.

I. Notwithstanding RSA 167:64, the commissioner of the department of health and human services shall make payments for uncompensated care costs, including state and federal share, in the fiscal year ending June 30, 2018 in an amount equal to 92.2 percent of the total Medicaid enhancement tax collected for that fiscal year, and in the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019 in an amount equal to 90.2 percent of the total Medicaid enhancement tax collected for that fiscal year. Such payments shall be a charge against amounts budgeted under account 05-95-47-470010-7943 pursuant to 2017, 144:1 and the uncompensated care and Medicaid fund established pursuant to RSA 167:64. The commissioner is authorized to accept and expend any matching federal funds without further approval from the fiscal committee of the general court.

II. For the biennium ending June 30, 2019, in the event estimated Medicaid enhancement tax revenue under account 05-95-47-470010-7948 is less than budgeted as a result of payments authorized in paragraph I, the amount necessary to address the shortfall is hereby appropriated to the department of health and human services. The governor is authorized to draw a warrant for such sum of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

32 Uncompensated Care and Medicaid Fund. Amend RSA 167:64, I(a) to read as follows:

(a)(1) The commissioner shall provide reimbursement for uncompensated care costs [~~in accordance with the approved schedule of payments~~] from the uncompensated care and Medicaid fund through either Medicaid rate adjustments, Medicaid supplemental payments, MCO directed payments to hospitals, [~~or~~] disproportionate share hospital payment adjustments, or any other allowable Medicaid payment, including a combination thereof, provided however that no hospital shall receive any such reimbursement for uncompensated care costs unless it is a qualified hospital as defined in subparagraph (b)(1). Funds available under this section shall also be used to make provider payments and to support Medicaid services and programs administered by the department in amounts directed by the budget in each year of the biennium.

[~~(2) Expenditure of revenues deposited to the uncompensated care and Medicaid fund shall be made for the following purposes in the following order of priority in fiscal year 2015:~~

~~(A) To support medical provider payments as budgeted in each year of the biennium;~~

~~(B) To make disproportionate share hospital payments to support up to 75 percent of the uncompensated care costs of New Hampshire's hospitals with critical access designation consistent with the requirements of 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-4(g) and any relevant federal regulations promulgated thereunder as budgeted in each year of the biennium based on available funding, to be shared among such hospitals in proportion to the amount of uncompensated care provided;~~

~~(C) To make disproportionate share hospital payments to support the uncompensated care costs of New Hampshire's general hospitals without critical access designation shared among such hospitals consistent with the requirements of 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-4(g) and any relevant federal regulations promulgated thereunder in proportion to the amount of uncompensated care provided with funds available from net Medicaid enhancement tax revenue received by the state in fiscal year 2015 in excess of $190,300,000; and~~

~~(D) To make a disproportionate share hospital payment to each hospital that meets the criteria set forth for "deemed disproportionate share hospitals" as that term is defined under 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-4 up to an amount as budgeted in each year of the biennium based on available funding.~~

~~(3) Subject to subparagraph (a)(3)(D),~~]

(2) Expenditure of revenues deposited to the uncompensated care and Medicaid fund shall be made for the following purposes in the following order of priority in fiscal years [~~2016, 2017, 2018, and 2019, and in addition in fiscal years 2016, 2017, 2018, and 2019, if New Hampshire hospitals' total aggregate uncompensated care costs as reported to the department in any such fiscal year is less than $350,000,000, the state shall pay New Hampshire's hospitals not less than $175,000,000 in disproportionate share hospital payments, shared among such hospitals in proportion to the amount of uncompensated care provided; provided that New Hampshire hospitals with a critical access hospital designation shall continue to receive reimbursements of no less than 75 percent of each hospital's uncompensated care costs and no hospital shall be paid disproportionate share hospital payments of more than 100 percent of uncompensated care costs~~] 2018 through 2024. However, no hospital shall be paid uncompensated care cost payments of more than 100 percent of the governing hospital-specific limit on disproportional share hospital payments under Title XIX of the Social Security Act and the provisions of all federal regulations promulgated thereunder:

(A) To make [~~disproportionate share hospital~~] uncompensated care cost payments, including the state share and matching federal share, to New Hampshire hospitals with and without critical access designation in the following order of priority, [~~, provided that, in fiscal years 2016 and 2017, the New Hampshire hospitals shall not be paid more than a cap of $224,000,000 in disproportionate share hospital payments and in fiscal years 2018 and 2019 the New Hampshire hospitals shall not be paid more than a cap of $241,900,000 in disproportionate share hospital payments~~] and in the following amounts: fiscal year 2018 – a sum equaling 92.2 percent of money collected pursuant to RSA 84-A for the fiscal year; fiscal year 2019 – a sum equaling 90.2 percent of money collected pursuant to RSA 84-A for the fiscal year; and fiscal years 2020 through 2024 - a sum equaling 86 percent of money collected pursuant to RSA 84-A for the fiscal year. Notwithstanding the foregoing sums for each fiscal year, in no event shall the amounts paid to hospitals as uncompensated care cost hospital payments, including the New Hampshire Hospital, in any particular fiscal year exceed the state share for matching the maximum state disproportionate share hospital allotment established under 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-4(f) for that fiscal year plus the matching federal share. If the maximum state disproportionate share hospital allotment established under 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-4(f) for any fiscal year, less the uncompensated care cost hospital payments to be made to New Hampshire Hospital, plus state matching funds equal to the available federal state disproportionate share hospital allotment for uncompensated care cost hospital payments is less than a sum equaling the percentage of money collected pursuant to RSA 84-A for the fiscal year, any remaining amount, including state and federal share, of the foregoing sums equaling the percentage of money collected pursuant to RSA 84-A for the fiscal year shall be paid to the hospitals as supplemental Medicaid payments, MCO directed payments to hospitals, increased hospital service provider rates, or any other allowable Medicaid payment:

(i) To support 75 percent of the uncompensated care costs of New Hampshire's hospitals with critical access designation consistent with the requirements of 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-4(g) and any relevant federal regulations promulgated thereunder to be shared among such hospitals in proportion to the amount of uncompensated care provided;

(ii) To make [~~disproportionate share hospital~~] payments for uncompensated care costs to [~~support 50 percent of the uncompensated care costs of~~] New Hampshire's hospitals without critical access hospital designation [~~in fiscal year 2016 and 2017 and 55 percent of uncompensated care costs of New Hampshire's hospitals without critical access hospital designation in fiscal year 2018 and fiscal year 2019 and in fiscal years thereafter consistent with the requirements of 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-4(g) and any relevant federal regulations promulgated thereunder in proportion to the amount of uncompensated care provided and up to the remaining amount of the applicable cap set forth in subparagraph (a)(3)(A), but not less than the amount guaranteed in disproportionate share hospital payments as set forth in subparagraph (a)(3); and~~] in proportion to the amount of uncompensated care provided by each hospital from the sum equal to the remainder of the percentage of money collected pursuant to RSA 84-A for the fiscal year specified in subparagraph (a)(2)(A).

(iii) If there is a change to the federal definition of uncompensated care costs that would result in a decrease to the calculation in subparagraph (i), the percentage of allowable uncompensated care costs for New Hampshire's hospitals with critical access designation percentage of allowable uncompensated care costs shall increase from 75 percent to a percentage that would be equivalent to their receiving 75 percent of uncompensated care costs calculated without regard to payments from Medicare or third party payers as allowable on the date of the enactment of this provision, except that no hospital shall be paid disproportionate share hospital payments of more than 100 percent of the governing hospital-specific limit on disproportional share hospital payments under Title XIX of the Social Security Act. If increasing the percentage of the allowable uncompensated care costs would exceed 100 percent of the governing hospital specific limit, any amount in excess shall be paid to the New Hampshire hospitals with critical access designation as supplemental Medicaid payments, MCO directed payments to hospitals, increased hospital service provider rates, or any other allowable Medicaid payments.

(B) To make a [~~disproportionate share hospital~~] payment for uncompensated care costs to each hospital that meets the criteria set forth for "deemed disproportionate share hospitals" as that term is defined under 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-4 up to [~~an amount as budgeted~~] $250,000 in each year of the biennium as set forth in subparagraph (b)(1)(A). For fiscal years 2018 and 2019 only, any payment under this subparagraph shall not reduce the payments made under subparagraphs (a)(2)(A)(i)-(iii).

(C) To increase hospital service provider rates in fiscal year 2020 through fiscal year 2024, by an amount equal to 5 percent of the revenue collected pursuant to RSA 84-A for the fiscal year.

(D) Any remaining funds produced from the Medicaid enhancement tax shall be used to support provider payments and to support Medicaid services and programs administered by the department.

(E) Hospitals entitled to payments under subparagraphs (a)(2)(A)(i)-(iii) or (a)(2)(C) have a vested contractual right to receive these payments in fiscal years 2018 through 2024 as limited by paragraph IV.

[~~(D) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary, in each of fiscal years 2016, 2017, 2018, and 2019, the amount of uncompensated care reimbursed to non-critical access hospitals shall be reduced in both state contribution and federal match by any shortfall in net Medicaid enhancement tax revenues received below the following thresholds: fiscal year 2016-$220.5 million; fiscal year 2017-$228.1 million; fiscal year 2018-$235.9 million; and fiscal year 2019-$243.4 million. However, to the extent the aggregate uncompensated care for all hospitals falls below $375 million and the Medicaid enhancement tax rate is further reduced as set forth in RSA 84-A:2, V, then the threshold for fiscal year 2018 shall be $229.4 million and for fiscal year 2019 shall be $235.7 million. Further, the caps in subparagraph (a)(3)(A) and the reimbursements and caps in subparagraph (a)(3)(A)(ii) shall be reduced by 85 percent of the difference between total Medicaid enhancement tax revenue calculated at 5.5 percent of net patient services revenue and Medicaid enhancement tax revenue at the current tax rate for the applicable fiscal year.~~]

33 Uncompensated Care and Medicaid Fund. RSA 167:64, IV is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

IV. Payment of the federal share of uncompensated care cost hospital payments, supplemental Medicaid payments, MCO directed payments to hospitals, increased hospital service provider rates, and any other allowable Medicaid payment under this section is contingent upon New Hampshire receiving those federal funds and any necessary CMS approvals that the department is required to secure pursuant to paragraph III.

34 Medicaid Enhancement Tax. Amend RSA 84-A:2, V to read as follows:

V. For the taxable period ending June 30, 2018, and for every taxable period thereafter, a tax is imposed at a rate of 5.4 percent upon the net patient services revenue of every hospital for the hospital's fiscal year ending during the calendar year in which the taxable period begins [~~unless the total aggregate uncompensated care for hospitals with both a critical and a noncritical access hospital designation falls below $375 million, at which point the tax rate shall be 5.25 percent~~].

35 Effective Date.

I. Sections 5, 7, 9, 11, 13, 15, 17, 18, and 21 of this act shall take effect June 8, 2018.

II. Sections 1, 2, and 4 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2018.

III. Sections 6, 8, 10, 12, 14, 16, 19, and 22 of this act shall take effect January 1, 2019.

IV. Section 3 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2019.

V. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

Committee of Conference Report on HB 2018, relative to the state 10-year transportation improvement program.

Recommendation:

That the House recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the Senate amendment, and concur with the Senate amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the Senate, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing section 8 with the following:

8 Bedford to Merrimack. Construction funding for the project named Bedford-Merrimack, project number 16100, shall be moved from 2019 to 2020. The scope of the project shall include improvement to the Bedford mainline toll plaza to include the option of open road tolling or all electronic tolling.

Amend the bill by replacing section 19 with the following:

19 Department of Transportation; Town of Hudson. The department of transportation is authorized to work with the town of Hudson to plan, engineer, and construct a roadway compatible with turnpike standards within the southern portion of a circumferential highway right-of-way between N.H. Route 3A and N.H. Route 111 in Hudson. Such authority shall remain in effect until June 30, 2022. Planning, engineering, and construction shall be funded solely with town funds.

Amend the bill by replacing section 22 with the following:

22 Duties. The committee shall study:

I. Removal of the exit 11 toll on the F.E. Everett Turnpike in the town of Merrimack upon the expiration of the bond, and the financial implications of such removal.

II. Removal of the exit 10 toll on the F.E. Everett Turnpike in the town of Merrimack in fiscal year 2024, and the financial implications of such removal.

III. The location of the Bedford mainline toll plaza.

IV. The status of Continental Boulevard in the town of Merrimack.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 24 with the following:

25 Committee Established.

I. There is established a committee to study driveway permitting.

II. The members of the committee shall be as follows:

(a) Three members of the house of representatives, all of whom shall be members of the public works and highways committee, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives.

(b) One member of the senate, appointed by the president of the senate.

III. Members of the committee shall receive mileage at the legislative rate when attending to the duties of the committee.

IV. The committee shall study the processing of permits for driveway construction under RSA 236:13.

V. Chairperson; Quorum. The members of the study committee shall elect a chairperson from among the members. The first meeting of the committee shall be called by the first-named house member. The first meeting of the committee shall be held within 45 days of the effective date of this section. Three members of the committee shall constitute a quorum.

VI. The committee shall report its findings and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the speaker of the house of representatives, the president of the senate, the house clerk, the senate clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before November 1, 2018.

26 Project Removed. The project named Nashua-Manchester-Concord, project number 40818 shall be removed from the 10-year transportation improvement plan.

27 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

The signatures below attest to the authenticity of this Report on HB 2018, relative to the state 10-year transportation improvement program.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much. You know, this is a great time of the session, it happens to be a beautiful day outside, and we get to pay tribute and thank all the people that make our job possible, from keeping us safe to making all the deadlines, to drafting the legislation, to opening the State House and keeping it in shipshape condition, across the gamut, the people at the back of the room do that for us. And it's just a great day, and it's an honor to be able to spend a few minutes in thanking each office individually.

And we'll start out with Office of Legislative Services and our very capable leader David Alukonis.

Joyce Phinney and her team of accountants that keep us on the straight and narrow, where's Joyce? There she is, hiding.

Virginia Drew and Deb Rivers, where are you? They're taking a tour. How fitting! How fitting, they're doing a great job.

Scott Rupp and all the IT staff who keep us connected.

Doug Dolcino and his team at Operations that really make sure the building is spotless all the time. Doug.

I don't see Joe Burke, but his team at Protective Services. We've upgraded that significantly over the last few years. And given some of the things that are happening around the country, knowing that Joe and his team is doing such a great job keeping this building as safe as possible and as open as possible. Joe.

Dianne, our State House Nurse. Where is Dianne?

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: She's taking a pulse!

SENATOR BRADLEY: She must be–somebody other than Senator D'Allesandro that is getting treatment.

We've got to thank our friends in the House. Terry's not here. I'm sure he's working hard at the House, but the House also keeps things moving very well. Thank you, Terry.

Ann Fitzgerald and her team of House Researchers. Where's Ann?

Patrick Murphy, Diana Ferguson, and Theresa Neves, at Senate Research.

It's always a great pleasure to thank Tammy. The Senate Clerk's, I mean we all know it, there's nobody that could do a better job than Tammy and the team. It changes a little bit from time to time, but Tammy's constant leadership is just a wonderful thing.

So, on our side of the aisle we have a lot of great staff, also. I think Senator Soucy and Senator Woodburn will thank the Democratic staff.

Kate Spiner does a great job with the press. Thank you very much, Kate.

Bobby Collins, where are you Bobby? There he is–another great job.

Josh Elliott, a great job. I'm glad we have similar suits on today.

Nancy Nolin, couldn't do it without you upstairs running interference for all the rest of us.

Rick Lehmann, where'd he go? No applause for Rick?!

Senator Morse is not going to do it but I've known Shannon for a long time. It's great to have her back. It' great to have her back with her child, who now comes to visit us. You do such a great job, Shannon. Thank you very much.

And Angela's over there hiding in the corner. I'm sure she'll get thanked by Senator Innis, but Angela is the leader of all the Administrative Assistants and does a terrific job.

Now I get to thank Kyle. I wouldn't be able to do this job without Kyle. I've had a lot of people that have assisted me over the years, both in Washington and here. He's simply the best. For all of you in the gallery, don't go hiring him.

Thank you, Mister President.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Senator Bradley, I would like to make a couple of introductions because we planned this out this year, and we planned on having summer interns and they're joining us on the floor today, so Margot Shang from Harvard University; and Jarrod Solloway from Saint A's. And Kate's promoting that you keep them busy, so good luck!

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn.)

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you, Mister President. I want to just echo the comments of the Majority Leader and thank everybody who does so much in this building. You know, sometimes we think it's all focused around us, we understand that you do it all, and it the words of the Yankee slugger Reggie Jackson, "You're the straw the stirs the drink." You do it all, and we appreciate it very much. I want to, also, just recognize on the Minority staff, Donald Manning, Alan Raff, and Marlene Taylor, as well as all of the individual aides that serve our Senators in their respective offices. So, thank you for your service.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you. The Budget Assistant folks weren't here. They must be doing all the final calculations on 1817. They keep Senator Daniels and Senator Morse and the rest of us on the straight and narrow. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Senator Avard.)

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Mister President. Hopefully I speak on behalf of my colleagues in my room 105-A. Many of you have probably seen the movie Superman, but you know that it was Wonder Woman that saved his butt! And I want to recognize Marie, my assistant. I'm just a front man–she actually is the brains behind the operation in the room. So, I'm very grateful for Marie, she does an amazing job taking care of three Senators.

And, also, standing next to her on the left hand is Griff. And Griff is amazing. I bounced everything off of him to make sure that I wasn't losing my mind, and he said, no, you are. But an amazing job, an amazing job.

And I also want to echo, again, Superman, which is Kyle, who does an amazing job.

And Radar, Josh, just amazing. You're always there; you always know what's going on.

And sitting next to him is the Captain. I've got a name for everybody up here.

But, thank you Marie for doing an amazing job, and keeping me, and all of us in line.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. On behalf of Senator Hennessey, and Senator Cavanaugh, and myself, I want to give a great shout-out to Jess Bourque, who keeps us all, you know, in line, on schedule, on time, under budget, all kinds of things in the LOB 5, the basement office of the Legislative Office Building. Staying strong. Thank you Jess for everything that you do.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Having been around here the longest, I salute everybody for all of the great work that you've done for me over the years. I couldn't have been here without your help, and that's everybody. That's sweet Joyce who handles the business office–I love her to death. Now that she's got her extended office, it's like a palace visiting. So, thank you very much, Joyce; to the LBA staff, to everybody who has helped me.

But especially to sweet Sonja–Sonja's been with me for, what, fourteen or sixteen years–fourteen. Alright, so she came along and kind of makes my day a good day. You know, as the old telephone ad used to say, "She makes my every hello a good bye." And I can't beat it. She's been with me a long, long time; done great things for the office, and you know it's busy. It's just a busy, busy place, but she takes care of it, and takes care of it well, and I just can't thank her enough for everything that she's done.

But I want to say one more thing before we go. And I have here an apple, okay? And let me tell you this: no one is prouder of his grandchild than I am of mine. Last Thursday night, in New York City, at the United Nations building, my grandson spoke to five-hundred executives, and he received the Hero Award for his work helping children and adults with hearing difficulties.

And as Senator Morse knows really more than most of my colleagues, this kid's been through the mill. He's had fourteen operations over his lifetime. He had open heart surgery when he was four-years-old and we're lucky to have him alive. But, the most important thing is he's helping others, and he's a Super Hero. But, I brought this apple back, and I want to give it to the Senate President because the Senate President bought the comic book, and he paid almost $1,000 for the comic book at an auction, and he has it in his office. And he knows how much I appreciate what he's done, so I said who else could better deserve an apple from the Big City than the Senate President?

So, thank you for caring, thank you for all of the work that you have done, but especially, in our family, thanks for all you've done to make our grandson's life better and to help those in need. And you can't say more than that. Thank you, Mister President.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

(The Chair recognized Senator Birdsell.)

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Thank you, Mister President. I want the Senate to help me welcome the students from Grinnell Elementary, the fourth graders from one of my favorite towns, Derry. Welcome.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to thank all of you for all of your hard work. I always have said that we are successful because we have such a dedicated staff working for us at all levels in the State House; so a couple of people that I'd like to recognize.

First, Mister Alukonis–I've known Mister Alukonis for years. We served in the House together, and he's also a constituent. And he's here every day, and he really works very hard for us and I think he's provided great leadership for OLS.

Anthony and Jeff, you helped me put my thoughts together and get them down right on paper, and I want to thank you both very much for all of your hard work.

I can't do two committees without two very, three really, able people that are just there every day: Jen, who is the committee secretary for Judiciary; Rick Lehmann, who is our attorney, and I know he's here because I saw him–there we go; and Miss Chroniak–I cannot say enough about Deb.

Deb and I have worked together for ten years and she handles everything; everything that I give her and she does so with style, with grace, and she gets the job done. And, again, Mister President, I couldn't thank her enough.

Mister President, I'd also like to thank you and the Majority Leader for leading us this session. I think we've had some rough spots, but you got us over that, and you have set the tone for civility in this body that I think matters so much to all of us. And I want to thank the both of you for all of your hard work, and even the Minority Leader, as well. We're very lucky to have these folks with us in this chamber. We might not always agree, but we're not disagreeable, and I think that's why we're able to get good things done for the state of New Hampshire.

And, lastly, I would like to say goodbye to my good friend, Senator Lasky. We don't always agree, but I've known Bette for almost twenty years now. We've served together in the House, we're on Judiciary together, and I am going to miss you so much. And I wish only the best for Bette as she moves on with her family, and you're going to be missed.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to make a couple of comments for a couple of staffers: to Sonja, it's rare in this business that we, as legislators, find people who can take control of a committee for a long period of time. You've become an expert at it, and it's your expertise and proficiency that's truly made it very seamless, with no disrespect to any new committee admin help, you're really a foundation of what makes that committee run very, very smoothly, and I've always appreciated it. Thank you very much.

And to Renata–you're living the American dream. Your love of your husband, your faith, the fact that you started to try and raise twin kids in foster care, and still work real hard–you're an amazing young lady. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon.)

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you, Mister President. I want to thank, first, Deb; "Jenny from the Block," can't forget you; and Kat. I apologize, I've been free-lancing this whole year on the blurbs and sort of using them as a pattern, but I go off in little rhyming schemes.

Kat, thanks for putting up, mostly with me, but also with the bear, and the two deer, and if I get re-elected, the moose that's coming next year, but we'll talk about that. I just got to say one thing for Kat. Kat just graduated. I went to night law school; it's very hard to do it with a full time job. I have to concede to her–I think her GPA is slightly higher than mine was, and I congratulate her, and wish her a great life with her new husband Rick, and thank you all.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President. I just wanted to have a word of thanks to Michael Collopy, one of the rookies around here. And, you know, over there in 101-A, aka the "man cave," which had an interesting history since Patrick left. We had a lot of touch and go landings and empty desks for months at a time, and I think Michael's really a keeper and much appreciated. And I think a special sympathy is due. He's got the office with two academics–just let that one settle in. Thank you, Michael.

(The Chair recognized Senator French.)

SENATOR FRENCH: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to thank my assistant, Kathy Cummings. My first term here I didn't know exactly what we would be doing. I went in and I asked her what her position was, and she said everything except getting you lunch and getting you coffee. And I said thank you. She never has. Every day when I'm here and I go to a meeting, before I leave the room she asks me, do you have your glasses? I check, yes. Do you have a pen? Yes, thank you very much. I go to the meeting. She has kept me very much organized, and above all she guards the office in which we sit, John and I, like no one else. As you note, she's not here today because she's at her post. She will not leave it! She is a great assistant and we, truly, appreciate her.

(The Chair recognized Senator Lasky.)

SENATOR LASKY: Thank you, Mister President. I have to, first of all, thank Trish, who has been my loyal assistant and wonderful for me this session. She keeps me on track, and it's not an easy task because I must have her do a calendar every five minutes so that I don't miss something, and it gets worse as I get older. So, thank you, Trish, for everything. And we won't tell anybody about all the other things you do that you're probably not supposed to, so thank you.

And, oh, my long-suffering husband is here! At any rate, she let the cat out of the bag, I am retiring. Senator Carson let the cat out of the bag, and I am retiring and so I have to thank each and every one of you for the assistance, the caring, the knowledge, everything that you have given me over the past twenty years in the House and in the Senate, and the friendship from all of you. I will miss you all, but I'm not leaving town so I may come back to haunt you.

And I have to give a special shout-out to my "Chair-head." Representative Alukonis and I, he was the Chairman of Ways and Means when I served on that, begrudgingly, in the House. They took Judiciary away from me and gave me–Representative Alukonis, well I have to tell you that, if I hadn't told you before, it was some of the best two years that I have had here, and thank you, and glad to see you back. And "Chair-head" is a little inside joke, but he will always be "Mister Chair-head" to me.

And, again, I guess, you know, again, thank you. Thank you for all the kindnesses you've shown me. I wish you all the best of luck, joy, and happiness to you all. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Birdsell.)

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Thank you, Mister President. It's hard to go up against what the good Senator from District 12 said about Marie, but I just want to say thank you, Marie, for everything you've done, you do for us. You keep the three of us straight; you keep us going where we're supposed to be going; and I will always be "pink." I also want to…that's how she keeps us organized–pink, green, and yellow.

I also want to say thank you to Kat for the organization as being the Legislative Aide for Transportation has been unbelievable. You are a great Legislative Aide. I love having you there.

And Tricia, thank you for your patience. This is your first time around. You were amazing and we can't tell you how much we appreciate everything that you've done. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. Griffin's grabbing his throat–I'm not sure why. I have to say that it is such an incredible honor and privilege to be here among my colleagues and among the staff. As many of us know, we weather life's storms away from this room, but are able to do amazing things through the people, and businesses and institutions of our state because of this room and because of every single one of you standing here. And so, from my heart, and from my mind, for the good of our people and our state, I thank each of you for what you do for me and for us and for the people of our state. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Mister President. I know that my colleague from District 21, Senator Fuller Clark, would no doubt want to recognize Jenny Horgan, and what I want to say in thanking Jenny, and all the Legislative Office Building team, is the camaraderie that they establish, and it makes me glad when I get into the office, being greeted by folks who I know are there day in, day out doing work for all of us, and Jenny, you're one of those spirited members of that group, and I appreciate you all. So, for Jenny, thank you.

And I just say, as an unbashful, first term Senator, that the folks who answer the requests in Senate Research, in the Legislative Budget Assistant's Office, and in Legislative Services, I just couldn't ask for better support, counsel; your turnarounds are rapid, I felt like a member of many years getting the same kind of service that I know you provide everybody else. So, I need to thank you all, and everybody who helps make the spirit of this place endure. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Senator Innis.)

SENATOR INNIS: Oh, Angela. So, I'll go back to the first day I was here, and I walked into the office and I said why do I have a solo office? Nobody has a solo office as a freshman Senator. And she said well you're Chair of Commerce. And I said so… She said well it's a very busy committee. And that's all she said. And I think that really gets at–she doesn't remember. I do. That really gets at Angela: she is concise, she's right on point, and she uses those skills to keep me concise and right on point because I have a tendency to wander a little bit or think about something else. And she says no, you've got the FNs that have to be done, and you have to do this and you have to do that, and you've got seventeen more bills, and you have to be done in an hour. So get all that done. She never lets me see her rest. I've never seen you really take a break. I believe in mental health breaks, but she doesn't need one, that's awesome. She's incredibly organized, and I think she's someone–well I like to bend rules. Rules are there to bend. She will not bend them. And I think that's probably good in the Senate.

Finally, those of you who have been in my office, there are two aluminum poles that sit by my desk. Those are for flags. I had the wrong kind of flags for the poles so they looked like Festivus poles. And Angela has never once poked fun at my Festivus poles. So, come November I'm going to have the right kind of flags and put them up there. Angela, thank you so much for all that you've done.

(The Chair recognized Senator Soucy.)

SENATOR SOUCY: Thank you, Mister President. I, too, want to thank all of the professional staff around this building; not just for their professionalism and confidence, but most of all for their support. You know, all of us come to this job with different ideas about what we want to accomplish and everyone, I think, in this staff treats every member of this body as an equal and as someone who is coming here to do the right thing and believes in the right thing whether you might personally agree or not, and that's really testament to all of your professionalism.

I certainly want to also want to thank Donald Manning and Alan, who do a phenomenal job, not just for me and Jeff but for our whole caucus.

But I have to give a special shout-out to Marlene Taylor, and I had not seen Marlene come up. I wish she were here. First of all because some of you may have noticed, but the job of keeping Jeff Woodburn organized and on top of things is a full time job plus in and of itself. And yet with all the work Marlene does to help Senator Woodburn she is my right hand in this building. I could not do the work that I do, sponsor the bills that I do, carry things through and, on a personal level, she is one of the kindest, most supportive, and wonderful people that I know; she's a very dear friend, and I really, truly appreciate Marlene. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Hennessey.)

SENATOR HENNESSEY: Thank you, Mister President. I rise, and I'm so glad that Senator Innis brought up mental health because that's a specialty of mine, and one of the ways in which it's shone in this body is that there are some people who pick me up when I break into pieces, which is more often than some of you may know. First of all, I'd like to thank all the people who look my way here who are just, I feel somehow as if I should go up and hold your hands or something sometimes. I just thank–being right up front and center it really–thank you, very much.

I'd also, I have to say that there are three people who, besides all the people in our caucus who have made phone calls as I've been driving home wondering if I'd ever come back to Concord, you know, people who have really, really helped me understand that this is a community that matters and that we take care of each other. But, also, of course, our unbelievable LOB 5 assistant, Jess Bourque, who many times picks up the pieces and puts me back together again with Scotch tape and bubblegum to try to get me out the door. Also, do you have a pen, do have a pad of paper, do you know where you're going? You know, that kind of stuff, it's really critical.

Of course, Jenn has been remarkable, as well. Every now and then I have to pop in her office and just say tell me again why I'm going to run again for this office? And it's just been absolutely remarkable having you on board; and also as the secretary of the Judiciary Committee, just remarkable, remarkable.

And, I have to say that within our caucus, of course, Jeff Woodburn has been wonderful about calling me up and checking in with me when he sees me leaving with some look on my face that I'm sure makes everyone wonder what might happen next. And, really, to check in with me and see how I'm doing and keep me going, and suddenly I sort of feel like I know a little bit about what I'm doing here and I appreciate that very, very much.

And to Bette Lasky, who has, on Judiciary, been a friend and a colleague and also walks behind me with a wad of Scotch tape to put me back together again. So I thank you very much.

And, of course, my office mates. I could thank you all. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gray.)

SENATOR GRAY: Thank you. Being a Senator somebody told me I'm low maintenance. I don't know that Renata would say that, but, you know, there are certain people in your life that make things much better. Certainly Renata–keeping me on schedule, making sure that my memory, you know, is up to date.

Trish–even though this our first year together, you know when I would be concerned about how many bills I'd scheduled for a hearings and stuff, she says no problem, I've got it. You know, I mean all of you people out there have supported me in various ways. I appreciate you all. Thank you very much.

And Nancy keeps the gates, you know, so that I don't get overrun by anybody. So we've got to thank Nancy, too. Even though we may want to change some of her birthday cartoons, right?

Thank you all.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn.)

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you, and if I could just add one piece. I speak and I often look towards Senator Reagan and it's always, don't say much; and Senator Reagan always gives advice. But I just have to say one more thing, and that's I didn't praise, I just recognized, the staff in the Minority office, and starting at the top:

Marlene, who endures me, keeps me going, everything that's handed to me is lost, and doesn't mind meeting forty fourth graders and bring them right into the office and disrupt everything in there. Not to mention dealing with–she went from Sylvia Larsen's District of Concord, to the North Country where my constituents are so much different and our needs are so much different, and she has just been so graceful the way she's taking care of me, but more importantly, taking care of them.

And I also want to say to Donald Manning, who I convinced to come back to this building; best of friends for many years. We met in this building in the early '80s when I was an intern and he was a young staffer. So great to have life bring us back together and have him in the Minority.

And Alan, who we're losing very shortly here–just love having him and admire his work and his commitment.

But the purpose of my rising is to recognize the best school in the state of New Hampshire. Now I don't say that because I graduated from it, I don't say it because I taught there, I don't say it because my kids went there, but the Whitefield Elementary School is just a fabulous place and we are so glad to have you here in the State House, so welcome!

ANNOUNCEMENTS

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much. There are two more people I think we need to pay tribute to. It's very typical of Kristy Merrill that when she would give me the list of everybody that I had to thank that her name would not be on it. It just goes to show how gracious, and humble, and self-effacing Kristy is. She was just honored in the 40 Under Forty–she barely made it, she'll be 39 forever! Senator Morse is always the first person here every day, but I can attest to the fact that Kristy is always the last to leave. She's incredibly hard working; without her, the trains just in this entire building, and for all of us, would not run. So, thank you very much Kristy.

And, lastly, I've been around this business a long time. I've had the opportunity to serve under a lot of people: Speaker Harold Burns, Speaker Sytek, Speaker Chandler, Speaker Hastert, Speaker Boehner, Senate President Larsen, Bragdon, and now Senator Morse. And I can tell you that there's nobody more trustworthy, nobody more principled, no one with more integrity than our leader, Senator Morse. He's always the first one here. He's the hardest working person I've ever seen. It's been a pleasure to have worked with you and for you for the Senate, but more than for the Senate I think all twenty-four of us, and everybody else in this room, epitomizes what Senator Morse stands for. We're not here for ourselves, we're here to serve the people of the state of New Hampshire, and Chuck knows that and that's how he lives his life. Thank you very much.

PRESIDENT MORSE: It's probably a perfect opportunity because all the staff's here, which we didn't plan it this way, but I think we should probably take advantage of the fact that everyone's here. I don't know if we're celebrating or we're a little saddened, but we certainly have two members of the Senate that have announced they're not returning, and I'd like to honor them today, and I'd like to give them the opportunity to come up and say a few words.

I'd like to honor Senator Bette Lasky and Senator Andy Sanborn. You've both given an incredible amount of time to the Senate, and your dedication for doing what you believe is right is unmatched. Your service and dedication to the Senate, constituents, and the state of New Hampshire has not gone unnoticed.

Senator Lasky–you've worked endlessly for the people of Nashua, fighting for their interests at every turn–and I want you to know I started in the House with you–especially in the Judiciary Committee and in the Commerce Committee where you served this session. In the eight years you've served in the Senate, not to mention the decade you served in the House before, you've worked to improve our public education system helping to create the leaders of tomorrow, ensure the rights of victims are protected, fought tirelessly for trains again and again, and supporting measures to improve our elections. In this session alone, three of the many bills you sponsored and co-sponsored, all with bipartisan support, are now law; with more to come, no doubt. The Senate, and the committees on which you serve, will certainly not be the same without your unique perspective and your dedication you have to your community and this state. I've truly enjoyed getting to know you over the years and know how important family is, but we hope that you will be able to spend more time with your husband Elliot, and your daughters and your grandchildren. We wish you the very best and we thank you for everything you've given to the Senate.

SENATOR LASKY: Wow, I've never been up here! Thank you, Mister President. Wow. I honestly don't, I had something, you know, sort of planned to say, but those of you who know me know that I am not often at a loss for words, but I truly am right now. But, I first need to thank the people of Nashua and the people in my district who have supported me all these years no matter where I've been, what I'm doing, and without them I would not have been able to serve in the House and the Senate; and I have to tell you that has given me the opportunity to have, oh probably, some of the best experiences of my life. We all know what an honor it is to serve the people of this state, and aside from that, there are tons of other opportunities that this opens the door for. I have been proud and honored to be a part of history in many ways, and hopefully to kind of help make that history, and that has been a remarkable experience, which I think those of us sitting here understand.

Also, my daughters, one time when I was in their good stead, they gave me a bowl that said, "To have helped someone's life breathe a little easier, that is to have succeeded." Well, I thought about that and I think about it often, and how lovely it was to come from them, but also in terms of this job. If, in any way, I have helped to make one person in this state's life easier, then I truly feel I have succeeded. We all know it's not an easy task, but it's one we all do because we love our state, we really, truly are here, I believe, each and every one of us for the right reasons. Lord knows it's not for the monetary value and what we get, but it is for the people; the people out there and, frankly, the people in here, and all of you, and everyone who has been a part of these two chambers.

I can't tell you how much you all mean to me. The memories I have in my heart will clearly live forever. I will have been proud to serve with each and every one of you; proud to know each and every one of you; and I just, you know, cannot tell you how much these years have meant to me.

My husband, Elliot, who if I look at, I will start to bawl. But has been with me through this, supported me through this, been my campaign manager, my speech writer, just my rock; and I hope we've all opened some doors for him as well to have been part of this, and I am so grateful.

To my daughters, who were young kids when I started this; now they are, unfortunately, part of the reason I'm leaving is that they are both far away. But they have given me three of the greatest gifts that I will ever have, my three granddaughters. And, as you all know, I want to be part, a bigger part of their lives and not feel torn about being here with the job that I love, and being there with the family that I love.

So, it is all good things, you know, have an end to some degree, and I'm just so happy I have the ability to say thank you to each and every one of you; to tell you how much you mean to me, all of you. To wish you all a good rest and I'm going to wish the Republicans a little longer rest then some of my other friends! But at any rate, I love you all, and please, my door is always open whether it's in Nashua or New Orleans, which may be enticing to many of you, or wherever I may land. I truly mean it; I don't want you to be strangers. Thank you.

Thank you, Mister President. It doesn't have an alarm, does it?! Oh, how lovely! Thank you.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Senator Sanborn, in the eight years that we have served together, I have seen you fight tooth and nail for your constituents in District 9 and businesses across the state of New Hampshire. As Chair of the Ways and Means Committee, to the Election Law and Internal Affairs, and with each of the bills you've brought forward, you have a familiar philosophy about the role of government, and have often voted together with me, including even when we're outnumbered. I have a lot of respect for your perspective and your drive to keep government out of business as a small business owner. Now that you are running for Congress, there is no doubt that you will continue to fight for our beliefs in Washington. We wish you the very best of luck on the campaign trail this summer, and we truly appreciate everything you've done for the New Hampshire Senate. Thank you.

SENATOR SANBORN: So, I didn't expect this so I have no remarks, which Reagan would love because I'll be relatively quick. You know it's interesting because my journey here is very different than, frankly, most of your journeys here because I never wanted to be here. I never wanted to be a Senator, never wanted to get into politics. But for me, as those of you who own businesses and have families in businesses understand, sometimes that relationship between business and government gets a little sideways. And today I think that's one of the biggest challenges we have, is the fact that our relationship in the business community is truly struggling with our government. Yes, as the Senate President would say, I fight tooth and nail because I'm very concerned about our future. I'm concerned about what it takes to solve our problems. You know I've long said that I believe that the single most important social program we could ever create that will solve virtually every single problem our society has, is a good job. And you can't be pro-job if you're not pro-business. Now I've seen the struggles in this building, I've seen the challenges that we all have as we all try to find that common ground and find solutions to the same problem by taking different roads. And I also say, regularly, that in this business sometimes you are the windshield and sometimes you are the bug. And I have been very, very fortunate that I have been the windshield more than I have been the bug, much to the chagrin of some of my friends from Nashua.

This is an amazing place, and it's been a great opportunity. I just hope as we all go forward, that there are a couple of things that we need to think about. I'm petrified that Concord, New Hampshire is actually becoming Washington, D.C. In the ten years I've been roaming these halls, I have seen all of us get further apart versus closer together; the personal attacks; the back-handedness; the things that don't make us who we are. The things that are creeping in from across the country that doesn't make New Hampshire what New Hampshire is supposed to be.

But I've also seen great things. I have seen people coming to visit others when they're challenged, sick, hurt. I've seen people in this building and in this room stand up for others in a very private way because they never wanted to see or hear it talked about. You guys, that's what makes us who we are. The fact at the end of the day that Woodburn and I can stand up and debate like hell, fight, fight, and then meet for a beer after work, it's rare in this business today. And I truly hope for all of you that come back, and I hope all of you do come back that want to come back, that you spend time becoming friends again; recognizing the fact that we're here to fight about policy not personalities. That in spite of all of it, we're all trying to do good for our state and our people.

And lastly, I know it's very difficult in this building, and with the power, and the influence, and the opportunity–but believe in our people, believe in everyday peoples' ability to have common sense, to solve their own problem without passing legislation, to support our communities; not by making more programs and throwing more money at it, but by recognizing that every time you create a new program, or every time you expand this or expand that, you're actually taking money from hard working everyday people, who also sit down on a Friday night and say they have mortgage, health insurance and a broken car and they can't afford all three. Please do not forget about them. Thank you.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Well, from all of us here in the Senate, I just want to thank both of you for your service to the state of New Hampshire. On behalf of all of us, thank you very much for everything you've done for us. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Daniels.)

SENATOR DANIELS: Mister President, before we leave this chamber today, I just wanted to say that I've been blessed in the last couple of years to have had an assistant with Deb Martone. And I know that she's told me many, many times that she doesn't like the spotlight, but she has had the opportunity over the last two years, every day that I come in, to tell me where to go, and so it's only right that I bring her into the spotlight now, and recognize the hours that she has put into this job. I mean, Finance is like Union Central at times, it's Grand Central, people coming in and out. She's here early in the morning, she stays late at night, she's in on weekends, but the thing that I can always depend on is when I come in the next day, things are organized, ready to go forward. And we've been able to take "Chaos Central" and turn it into "Comedy Central" sometimes and that keeps things going. And I know that she has just been my left and right arm in making sure that things are organized as we go through Finance, and as we particularly go through the Committees of Conference, and I just can't say enough about the work that she has done. And so, on behalf of all those on Finance, I would just like to thank Deb for all the time, the effort and energy she has put into the job, and into the Senate on whole. So, thank you very much, Deb.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Why don't we take a recess for ten minutes? All the Senate Bills from the House have come over, so we'll take a ten minute recess and get ready for that.

Recess. Out of recess.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

(The Chair recognized Senator Birdsell.)

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Thank you, Mister President. I'd like the Senate to welcome another great group from Grinnell Elementary out of Derry, one of my favorite towns. Welcome to the State House.

Committee of Conference Report on SB 119, relative to the length of a dock on a water body.

Recommendation:

That the Senate recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the House amendment, and concur with the House amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the House, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Seasonal Docks. RSA 482-A:3, IV-a(a) is repealed and reenacted to read as follows:

(a) A legally constructed, grandfathered, permitted, or conforming structure;

2 Seasonal Docks. Amend RSA 482-A:3, IV-a(e) to read as follows:

(e) No more than 6 feet wide and no more than [~~40~~] 50 feet long if the water body is 1,000 acres or larger, or no more than [~~30~~] 40 feet long if the water body is less than 1,000 acres;

3 New Paragraph; Seasonal Boat Lifts. Amend RSA 482-A:3 by inserting after paragraph IV-a the following new paragraph:

IV-b. Temporary seasonal boat lifts installed in any lake or pond shall be exempt from the permitting requirements of this section, provided that a notification is sent to the department by the owner of the property that includes the name and address of the property owner, the municipality, the water body, and tax map and lot number on which the proposed lift will be located. No more than one boat lift shall be located on any property under this paragraph. To qualify for an exemption under this paragraph, a temporary seasonal boat lift shall:

(a) Only be installed adjacent to an existing permitted or grandfathered dock in a legally existing boat slip, such that no additional boat slip or dock is created;

(b) Be located at least 20 feet from the abutting property line or imaginary extension of the property line over the water under this section;

(c) Be removed during the non-boating season; and

4 Effective Date. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee of Conference Report.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. Mister President I rise in opposition to the Committee of Conference Report on Senate Bill 119 for two reasons. One is there is a commission that has been formed in House Bill 1810 to review all of the dock issues in aggregate to make recommendations about how we move forward dealing with a lot of the dock issues including in dry seasons, and other navigational issues. Second, this bill in the Committee of Conference extends the size of the docks allowable particularly, well in all lakes, but of particular concern is on lakes with less than one thousand acreage or smaller lakes. From thirty feet to forty feet. Thirty feet to forty feet, 125 percent, wait a second, 133 percent, something like that. Senator Innis? Thirty-three percent. Creating severe concerns about abutter conflicts, navigational issues on these smaller lakes and restricting uses of public waters. The lakes are public waters. That's what they are. And so, this is a sincere issue that I think we need to take seriously, and we ought to vote down this Committee of Conference Report. It's been a controversial issue to extend the docks, just pluck it into a Committee of Conference Report and extend the docks willy-nilly when there's a commission that's going to be looking at this, I think is not the way to go. So, let's vote down this Committee of Conference Report. Let's let the commission deal with this in a comprehensive way. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Innis for a question of Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR INNIS: Senator, just a quick question. I'm looking at the spreadsheet here and it indicates that the increase from three feet to four feet is a water depth increase. Am I reading this correctly, Josh?

SENATOR FELTES: I'm not sure what it says on the spreadsheet. I'm looking at the Committee of Conference Report which allows for docks for small lakes to be forty feet long instead of thirty feet long.

SENATOR INNIS: So, the new amendment is a ten foot extension, right?

SENATOR FELTES: Thirty-three percent of the existing length allowable.

SENATOR INNIS: Yeah, I remember that number. Okay, I think I've got it. What's the grave concern with adding an extra ten feet if it, in periods of drought, allows boaters access to their boat through the whole season?

SENATOR FELTES: Keep in mind this is not just about drought.

SENATOR INNIS: I know it's not but–

SENATOR FELTES: So I think this is, Senator Innis, as we've seen in testimony at our committee, you have, and I don't know what their position on this, I haven't checked in with them after the Committee of Conference Report, but the Board of Realtors in fact worried about these conflicts, abutter conflicts, between one riparian owner with a dock and another. There's also navigational issues especially on the small lakes, with the docks jutting out even further, including by channels. There's navigational and public safety issues. And I think you are ostensibly, when you allow this, you're allowing the restriction of the use of public waters. The lakes are public waters. We're allowing an additional private taking of public waters of another ten feet or thirty-three percent. Thank you for correcting me on my math earlier.

SENATOR INNIS: Senator and forgive me, of course I am on the committee with you but, when this bill originated, was it not primarily focused on drought conditions? And do you know if any of those remain in the bill presently?

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you for the question, Senator Innis. In terms of the issues about the droughts, that was one of the concerns that was raised in the initial bills that were raised before our committee. But this is broader and it's just dealing within a dock extension. And we were dealing with other issues too in terms of just the square footage of the docks, we were dealing with what you can do at the base of the docks, we were dealing with all kinds of issues. All of those issues, Senator, if you may recall, were going in Representative Mullen's, Representative Mullen's commission in HB 1810, to look at in the aggregate. I think just putting the dock extension in is not the way to go.

SENATOR INNIS: So this, in your view, has little or nothing to do with drought conditions on a lake? This current bill?

SENATOR FELTES: In my view, that's correct.

SENATOR INNIS: Okay, Thank you. I appreciate it. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: What's the opposite of drought? Flood conditions. In my desk so I apologize for that. This bill has had a long and winding process. When it was introduced by our friend from District 9, it dealt strictly with drought situations and emergencies and we passed it and as I recall, we passed it on a voice vote and I think there was bipartisan support for it. Went for the House, it sort of took a turn that I didn't like very much where it increased the depth that you could extend a dock out to from three feet to four feet. There is some merit to that because more people have the boats today that draw deeper amounts of water and need four feet to get to their docks. And my friend from Concord is correct, a commission will look at that. We passed that in 1810. But in the Committee of Conference and we pressed the Department of Environmental Services very hard on this, to try to figure out if there was some area of reasonable compromise. And that's what we came up with which is a move from thirty feet to forty feet on smaller lakes and on the larger lakes, and there are several of them, like Winnipesaukee, from forty to fifty feet.

I've always been concerned, and I live on a lake so I probably should declare even though I don't have a dock, that it could affect me. And I've grown up on Lake Winnipesaukee and so navigation is an issue but the Department of Safety, Captain Dunleavey, who has testified in front of the Energy and Natural Resources Committee in the past, wasn't at the Committee of Conference because the extension was fairly small. And Rene Pelletier from the Department of Environmental Services, who I think most of us in this room know well, felt that this was an acceptable compromise that prevents dredging. And with some of these larger boats, there's much more of an incentive if you can't get your boat to the dock, to dredge and that's much more of an environmental impact than allowing an extension of ten feet.

And so, for that reason, even though there is a commission that's going to be looking at all these dock issues, I think it's a reasonable compromise. I don't think there's anybody that probably represents more lakes than I do. Haven't heard too much on either side of it. But it's a reasonable compromise. It won't undermine the environment. It will help people especially in low water conditions. We're blessed so far this year, water is at normal levels, but in drought conditions, it's certainly helpful and if you have larger boats this could be helpful too. So, I urge adoption of the Committee of Conference Report and thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise first to declare a conflict. I own several docks on several lakes but I'm obviously still participating. To answer some questions for my friend from Senate District 15, I'd like to remind the body that Lake Winnipesaukee, which is one of the larger drivers for this conversation we keep having about docks, their drought is man-made, their drought happens every single year. Their drought is man-made and happens every single year. Some of you on the Energy Committee, although the good Senator from District 15 left, might remember that we have legislative statutory requirements that Winnipesaukee must flow 250,000 cubic feet a day in order to keep the electric, hydro generating plants running. So it doesn't make a difference if it rains, it doesn't make a difference if it snows, it doesn't make any difference whatsoever. Every single day up on the big lake, our statutes require a certain level of flow.

We know that for the past twenty-five years, the lake has never been at what they consider high water mark. Every lake in New Hampshire has a high water standard water level, and Lake Winnipesaukee has never been on it, it wasn't there today, it wasn't there last week and it's still springtime. As a result of the fact that that lake is never at the level that it's supposed to be at, boaters are having a problem. Two years ago, when you combined the statutory requirement of flow with the drought we had in the summer, eight-hundred boats required repair. That's a lot of boats. The Mount Washington itself couldn't even go to all of the communities that it typically goes to because the water was so shallow. So we know on some of our lakes, we have a true problem with people having access to their property.

Now, as the Senator from District number 3 said, this bill has had a very long journey. It has been up and down the river about a half a dozen times. To me it doesn't go nearly as far as it should, but just providing people just a little bit more room on temporary seasonal docks, which again, I remind the body temporary seasonal docks must come out of the water every fall. These are not permanent docks. But trying to give the tourists, the people that spend money in our state, if they can use their boats on the weekend all summer long, just to give them a little bit of room. And my last comment to my friend from Senate District number 15, we do understand New Hampshire water is a public right and public access but we have something called riparian rights, which means the people who have property on the water also have a right to have a dock and have rights to some access of their property. So it's about finding that balance. So at the end of the day while I'm not happy the bill doesn't go as far as I would like it to go, it is a compromise and for people on the big lakes, and remember this is a bill solely about big lakes, not little lakes right now, it provides, I mean, my apologies, it's ten feet on the big lakes up to forty feet on the small lakes, under a thousand. This is a reasonable compromise ladies and gentlemen. I'd ask that you support it. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise and I support the defeat of this Conference Committee and the testimony of my colleague from District 15. I guess I'll, this bill doesn't go far enough. It goes ten feet too far. And you've got to imagine this on the smaller lakes and I can do that because alright, I have a place on something called Island Pond, Island Pond. Guess why it's got its name. Yeah, they're all over the place in the pond, islands, boulders connecting the land to the various islands out in the waterways. It's maybe seventeen feet deep at its deepest point.

Ten feet more, I guarantee this has an impact. I throw my dock out ten more feet, my neighbor's going to have real hard time getting in from my side. Oh hey, I can do that. I could put my dock out ten more feet, my neighbor wouldn't be able to swing in from my side. You see, there are some real disadvantages here. It will cut off navigation on a lake.

You know, a study committee I think would look at these big lakes and these little lakes and they might say well, ten feet on a big lake might not matter much but on a small lake, it might matter a lot. And we're just, you know, on Winnipesaukee, I don't know ten feet looks like a pretty big body of water to me, maybe that makes sense. On Island Pond, I don't think it makes sense and I think what we're trying to do here is have one act try to make sense for all of our bodies of water in the state, which are a thousand. And I think we're falling short. That should be shorter, ten feet shorter. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon.)

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you, Mister President. I had to check because I'm in agreement with Senator from 10 and 15, so that's a unique time for me. But I am on a little pond also. If you come out from the wall, you'd come out to about where Senator Kahn is and that would be, and then I, we have a very narrow portions of our lake and we have islands. The boat docks at some places now are twenty, thirty feet across from each other. And then at angles when the coves come out again, it is a problem. They're cutting off the access to the lake for everyone else. So on the small navigable waters like Phillips Pond in Sandown, a great place to visit and tour, spend your money at our ice cream places, I'm friends with the ice cream shack owner, it really is, it's interfering with the property use and the water rights. I was on the boat commission last summer and we were dealing with the width from boat dock to boat dock. This year I guess we'll talk about length more, but again, I echo the sentiments of Senators from 10 and 15 and think in small bodies of water, this is a big problem. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn for a question of Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Senator, thank you for taking my question. Senator, I hear your concern about dock extending way out in the water, so my first, my two part question if the Senate President will allow, do you know what the current length that's authorized by statute for a water break is on our New Hampshire lakes?

SENATOR KAHN: For a water break?

SENATOR SANBORN: Yeah, you know the big rocks that kind of stop the wave action?

SENATOR KAHN: I just know that docks are at thirty feet.

SENATOR SANBORN: Alright Senator, would you be surprised to know that we currently have in statute that water breaks can go out fifty feet. Fifty feet already.

SENATOR KAHN: I wouldn't want to put a water break on my lake.

SENATOR SANBORN: Senator I appreciate that but knowing that current, that the state today allows a fifty foot water break is current statute so by bringing a dock out to what the state already allows, I just question if that seems like that much of a challenge. And my second question if I might Mister President, if you'll allow, are you aware that temporary seasonal docks, even under this legislation and this goes to my friend from District number 23 as well, that it's a permit by notification, which would mean you would have to get approval from the abutters, notarized approval from the abutters that they're okay with it and send it in to DES's Water Marine Resource Division to actually see the permit, so there should be ample reasoning that if people feel that they're being encroached upon, or if their navigational way is getting limited at some level that there are several different ways that abutters and the state of New Hampshire can revisit someone's desire to bring their dock out another ten feet. Are you aware of that?

SENATOR KAHN: That was a lot to– I take my dock out and I think that that's what most people do if you want to preserve your investment so I– During the season when the water's high, thirty feet's just enough on my lake. Forty feet, I'm going to impair. It's not a right thing for me and you're going to disagree with me. But I think, I'm standing in a short pond here and I think that for those who do, this is the wrong legislation.

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Sir. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the committee of conference report on SB 119.

A roll call was requested by Senator Innis, seconded by Senator Gannon.

The question is on the adoption of the Committee of Conference Report.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. Mister President, I rise in opposition to this bill, Senate Bill 318. We had a lengthy discussion about it. This is significant and drastic modifications to our minor and employment labor laws and I'm just going to highlight two, I'm not going to go through the whole bill.

Number one, this deletes the powers of the commissioner with respect to visiting and inspecting places of employment and causing provisions of this chapter, the youth employment law chapter, to be enforced as directed by the commissioner; and for the purposes of this section, the serving of warrants including investigations into child labor law violations. That provision is deleted and I understand that some people within the department have kind of shrugged their shoulders at deleting these type of powers, but the upshot is that as policymakers including making sure that our children and minors are treated properly in the workplace, I don't think we should be deleting that provision, getting rid of those investigatory powers of the commissioner. So that's one of many reasons.

The second reason is the hours. When school's in session for four days, we bump up the hours ten and one fourth of allowable time that a minor is working. Ten and one fourth, so if you're taking four school days, and this happens a lot. There's a lot of in-session for schools or some state and federal holidays. There's a lot of four-day school weeks. So those four-day school weeks, you're looking at about thirty hours. Seven and a half roughly for the school and then forty and one fourth, so you're looking at sixteen, seventeen year olds, when you couple school with work, seventy plus hours a week? Folks, I know that the Bar and Restaurant Association and lobbyists support this, but I don't think that this is the proper way to deal with our workforce shortage, is by saying children work more. That's not the way I think we should be dealing with this.

Now there's going to be those who say, well you know what, the parents can, you know, moderate this and kind of be a check on this. But especially in low income households, where kids are being told and sometime definitely being told they need to work by their parents, and they're subjected to this kind of situation? Seventy plus hours? And then what about their opportunity after they graduate high school? Are they pursuing other opportunities, when their seventy plus hours bottled up? They're not. So I just encourage us to think long and hard about this and vote this down. This is not the answer to workforce shortages in the restaurant and bar industry. It's not. Kids working more, that's not the answer. Let's vote this down. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise to try to dispel some of the fiction or lack of facts, I'm sorry, that my friend from Senate District number 15 talked about. Now let's be honest ladies and gentlemen, because on our last day of the year we need to get our facts straight. One day I pray, well just one day we can just actually talk about the policy without fabricating. The House Labor Committee, which is no friend to the business community, ever, in the ten years I've been in this building, passed this bill with overwhelming support, passed on the floor of the House on a voice vote, went to Committee of Conference. Again, we negotiated things that we thought were relevant.

Now look, we all know the past thirty years in New Hampshire have been a very generous time for our people, 80s, 90s, 2000s, 2010s, tremendous financial success, all types of wealth, every high school kid around here driving a BMW with a cellphone in their hand, parents don't make them work at all. But we also know that there are some kids that actually want to work. I know it's a strange thing to think about today, but where I came from when I started pumping gas at ten years old, and wanted to pump gas at ten years old, because I wanted to buy my own stuff. But yet in our Legislature and our times today, we've ended up in a process where if you are sixteen or seventeen years old, you can't get a job unless your school signs off on it, the state signs off on it, and your parents sign off on it. Is that what we've become? Literally, is that what we have become, that a sixteen or seventeen year old kid cannot get a job unless the state tells them they can get it? Unless their school tells them that they can work.

And I'm very, very fortunate. Some of you might not know I'm a twin. I have a twin brother I care very deeply about. He has a great little nephew. Truth is he's not that little, I think he's about the size of Gannon today, big kid. Fifteen years old. Good looking kid, just like Gannon is, good looking. Here's a kid that pitched in a little league World Series, here's a kid that was being coached by Nolan Ryan's pitching coach when he was seven years old. Here's a kid that has played two years above every sport he's ever done. He plays a sport year round living in San Diego. He travels from Texas to Wyoming. Fortunately he's been getting letters of offers now that he's a junior in high school, at Yale, at Princeton, at Stanford, at USC, at Michigan, at Oregon and you name it. People say this kid will be in the NFL. In addition to going to school full time, he practices two hours every morning, three to four hours every night and games all weekends. No one's complaining about that. But he's one of the lucky ones, right? He is exceptional. So he gets to go out and play his sports and no one, everyone's okay with it.

Well, what about the young man or the young woman that wants a job, that wants to be able to just go work? Shouldn't their parents make a determination that they should be able to work or not? Because that's all this bill does, when you wind it right down. It takes us back to parental control of raising your children. And the other big thing that it does to dispel this seventy hour a week rumor thing Mister President, is right now we know schools meet one day a week as we head towards the fall, right? When school starts up it'll start back up in August, it'll meet one day and then be off for Labor Day Weekend. But in current contracts, if the school meets one single day, kids today are prohibited from working for the week. There's a limit on the week, and last time I checked we had Memorial Day, we had Labor Day, we had you know vacations in June and there are times not just for the New Hampshire Lodging Association of which I'm a member of for the record, but for all types of businesses. So if a child is not in school, it would open up the availability of when they can work. And at the end of the day, should we be teaching our kids the hard value of getting a job? Last time I checked going to school was about learning a career, so they can be self-sufficient in their day. And for those kids that want to work, shouldn't we allow them the ability to do so? That's really what this bill is all about. It's gotten too tight, it's gotten too restricted, it's become too difficult and this is a very, very minor adjustment supported by the House and for the record the reason we are debating it right this second is because the House has passed it again. The Labor Committee passed it again. So I'd urge the body to support kids and their parents who want to work that have a job Mister President.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. It is an honor to welcome to the Senate Chambers, the fourth grade class of Concord Christian Academy. Give a round of applause to the fourth grade class.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters for a question of Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you for taking my question. Senator, isn't the reason that we have regulations relating to employment for school age youth is that we have a constitutional responsibility to educate our children?

SENATOR FELTES: Yes. And I think when we're dealing with minors, in addition to the constitutional responsibility to educate children and balancing that responsibility so they can dedicate their time to actually learning. I think we also have a responsibility in terms of child protection and protection of our minors who in many situations are being told, including in low income households, and really told by their parents they have to work as long as possible. Some cases, getting kicked out of their houses. And having represented minors in that situation, it happens. So this is about education, it's about child protection and in my view it's not– For us to vote for this bill, for us to vote for this bill in light of this debate, in light of what we've had without any clear I think argument for it, I just think it's the wrong way to go.

SENATOR WATTERS. Thank you. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I urge my colleagues not to concur with this piece of legislation. Speak very briefly. As a teacher one of my basic responsibilities was to make sure kids stayed in school. When I was teaching, kids were forced to get a job because their parents needed the money. That's not a good situation. Kid leaves school. Many kids didn't graduate. Graduation rate at some of the schools in the district that I represent is 60 percent, 60 percent. They're working too much. This takes advantage of those kids. We want kids to have a better life. We want them to be able to sustain themselves. But by putting a situation in place where they can work extended hours is not a good thing for the kid and in the long run, it's not a positive situation for that kid. So I urge my colleagues to vote against this Committee of Conference, think about the kids, think about their future as our parents thought about our future. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. Never has it been better exemplified, the term "nanny state". Our constitution also says that parents are responsible for educating their children, okay? And for rearing their children. And this is a bill that allows the parents the latitude to make a decision, okay? It is not the duty of the school or of the state to dictate what a parent can allow their child to do. It's just that simple. That too is a tenet of freedom and a constitutional premise in our governing document. And for that reason I ask you to support the committee report. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon.)

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you, Mister President. I ask the body not to concur also. I have been fortunate, my kids are fortunate, that they're getting the opportunities to go to Saint Paul's, to little Ivies and it's only because of education and their grades. All my kids work from fourteen up, they all have summer jobs somewhere. But during the school year, by the time they are finished school, then they go to a sport, it's four o'clock. If they do Honor Societies, it's six o'clock. When are these kids going to study? The only path to a good future is through education and we have to have that first for our kids so I ask you not to concur. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator French.)

SENATOR FRENCH: Thank you, Mister President. Real briefly, I live in Franklin. A lot of the children from my town don't go to Harvard. They stay right at home after they graduate. These kids have to be able to learn one, how to work, if they're working, maybe the opiate crisis will diminish. If they feel good about themselves because they are working and putting in long hours and they're tired at night, they'll get a good night's sleep and get up the next morning and when they do graduate from high school, and they don't go on to college, they'll know how to work and how to put in a good day, do a good job. That's what we need and I ask you to vote for this legislation.

(The Chair recognized Senator Innis.)

SENATOR INNIS: Lots of children, even today, grow up without an easy path before them. Some of you may have heard, and you'll hear again in the fall, when I'm campaigning, that I came from nothing. I couldn't consider a private school. My grandparents bought us our clothes. When I turned fourteen, my mother said you've got to buy your own clothes now. When I turned sixteen, she said you've got to find a car and pay for your insurance and continue to buy your own clothes, and when you turn eighteen if you're still here, you're paying rent. Because they needed it. And I worked. I worked every day after school. I hit the golf course at three o'clock. I'd be there until it got dark. Five days a week and then I'd be back there at 6:00 a.m. on Saturday morning for another four hour shift. I told my Grandpa one day I hated the job and he said you'll never have a job that doesn't teach you something. Learn from this. So I started learning about organizing people and setting up processes and maintaining equipment and the patterns to doing that. What I learned from that job was far more than the money, and it's one of the reasons I'm standing here before you today. Because Jerry Dunphy gave me a chance to work that job and my parents encouraged me to do it. I made it through school, did really well on the SAT, went to some good schools, got a PhD and I worked my tail off when I was in high school and saved money to do all of this. Let's support this. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. Mister President, just to clarify a couple things. This has nothing to do with whether or not people can get jobs. This is about gutting our child labor laws and the oversight. Including the investigatory powers of the commissioner. So when I hear my friend from District 9 say it's all about a kid getting a job, it's not. It's about extending the hours significantly, I think 33 percent roughly, harkening back to our earlier debate, and it's about eliminating that oversight and that regulatory review. That's the facts. And it's also a fact that this was controversial in the House, not sailed through. It was an 11-9 vote on House Labor. They just barely passed it, sending it over here. So the notion that this is not without controversy is not correct. And just as a matter of personal privilege, the notion that my earlier comments were "fabricating something," and then listening to hear no citation of anything that was suggested to be fabricated, I think making those kind of personal remarks is not the way to do business. Let's vote this down, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Innis.)

SENATOR INNIS: Thank you, Mister President. One of the great things about a free market, if you don't like what you're buying or what you're doing, if you're in a job that you don't care for, quit. Find something else. I ended up at the golf course because I couldn't work for my Dad at the printing company. Move around, there's always something else out there that fits your schedule and your life better. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Mister President. I respect that this bill has now started here in the Senate, it's gone back to the House, I got the process, you got the process. This bill began as a transparency bill and I think we all support transparency in our local elections, in local warrant articles, and in the budget process that takes place in our localities. What we have though in front of us with this amendment, this is Senate Bill 342. What we have is a bill that it had an amendment, eliminates and trying to add more specificity to the default budget. And in doing so went a little too far, at least according to the House. Went a little too far in just saying an eliminated position shall not be included in the default budget. Well, the House apparently didn't agree with that. The House apparently thought, okay, let's add some more words to this. And so, shall not include vacant positions except those that are under recruitment or positions that are defined or the positions that are redefined in the proposed operating budget. You see what we've done is we've taken something that was about transparency and we've turned it into ambiguity. And the ambiguity in here isn't going to help our town meetings. The ambiguity now is, okay, we don't want eliminated positions in here but you can take them out but you can put them back into the budget if they meet a couple of criteria so be creative, meet those couple of criteria. Leave them in the budget. And then you'll have the default budget that we've always had. And I think this is where we've lost the center of what I believe the sponsor was most interested in. A transparency bill. It's now become an ambiguity bill. It's now going to have to have interpretation at every local jurisdiction as to whether things ought to be in a default budget or not. I think that we're better starting from scratch and defeating this because we agreed that we'd retreat to the House position. It's got all those extra words, but it's not adding enough meaning. It's confusing and I don't think that we should be going forward adding more confusion around a statute that we're trying to add more transparency to. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Daniels.)

SENATOR DANIELS: –There's a transparency bill and it comes back to us as a transparency bill. For those who sat through the House Subcommittee Work Session on this as I did, you'd have known that they took painstakingly time to make sure it was abundantly clear what this was about, that default budgets can be higher or lower than operating budgets. The fact that the language was added in to say that if you had eliminated positions that the salaries and benefits of those positions would not be in the default budget. That is transparency. If we decided, and I'm talking now as a Selectman, if we decide that we're going to do away with three positions in the Department of Public Works and there's $200,000, it's only transparency to let the people know that those positions have been eliminated. And if those positions have been eliminated and we have no intent whatsoever of using that $200,000, then why should it be in the default budget? It should not. This is truth and transparency to the taxpayer. The House understood that, they understood that in the work session and went back to full committee, voted for it. It comes back to us as transparency. Folks it's what it's about, it's about high time that we did something with the default budget. We've been trying to do it for years, now is the opportunity to let the people know what the default budget is, what caused it to go up and what down and be honest with what's in the default budget. Thank you, Mister President.

Committee of Conference Report on SB 370-FN, adopting the emergency medical services personnel licensure interstate compact.

Recommendation:

That the Senate recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the House amendment, and concur with the House amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the House, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend RSA 153-A:35, V(d)-(f) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing them with the following:

(d) The individual enters a remote state to pick up a patient and provide care and transport to a third member state; and

(e) Other conditions as determined by rules promulgated by the commission.

Amend RSA 153-A:35, X(d)(1) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(1) The authority to promulgate uniform rules to facilitate and coordinate implementation and administration of this compact. Such rules shall be valid in New Hampshire upon their adoption under RSA 541-A by the commissioner of safety. Issuance of these rules shall be considered an emergency for purposes of RSA 541-A:18. The rules shall have the force and effect of law and shall be binding in the member state;

Amend RSA 153-A:35, XII(h)(3) as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(3) A recording of such hearings shall be made and retained by the commission for a period of one year following the adoption of the rule or rules for which the hearing was held. A transcription of a hearing shall be made available to any individual or organization within 60 days of written request therefor, and the requesting party shall bear all reasonable costs of producing the transcript. The commission shall make a copy of hearing recordings available to the division of fire standards and training and emergency medical services.

Amend the bill by replacing section 2 with the following:

2 New Paragraph; Emergency Medical Services; Rulemaking; Commissioner of Safety. Amend RSA 153-A:20 by inserting after paragraph XXIII the following new paragraph:

XXIV. Implementation and coordination of the emergency medical services personnel licensure interstate compact adopted in RSA 153-A:35, including defining the circumstances not authorized under the privilege to practice established in the compact. Emergency medical services units licensed under RSA 153-A:10 shall not use emergency medical services providers who are privileged to practice from a remote state under the compact as regular and usual staff personnel.

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn.)

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in opposition to Senate Bill 527. Albert Einstein said everything should be made as simple as possible but not simpler. The story of Senate Bill 527 should be simple, but it's not. It's as simple as the difference that Mark Twain said between lightning and a lightning bug. Senate Bill 527's a good bill. It's a compromise to settle a suit. And in the House, another honorable effort was made to improve it by adding, Representative Kurk, added an amendment that would protect our checklist voter data from being used and abused, something that he fought for and served with the Senator from District 13 in bringing a case against the Trump Commission, something that he is a hero on, protection of privacy. And all was good. Everything was fine, until we get to the Committee of Conference. And that's where the problems arise. An amendment, seemingly simple amendment, to change the effective date from January 1, 2019 to immediately upon passage. Why so fast? I asked. Where's the threat? What's the issue? What's the hurry? Was told this is just a simple idea we want to get this protection done immediately, why wait six months? I continued to press, to ask questions. I asked if they thought were there any issues that this information is trying to be obtained. And I asked about the litigation on SB 3. Is this going to interfere with an ongoing litigation? And I was assured it was not. I was looking for trouble, looking for suspicions that didn't exist. I didn't know. I didn't know the story behind this bill. But I asked further questions and I got further response that this had nothing to do with the litigation around SB 3, the bill that we spent many hours arguing and fighting for, pro and con.

So, later that day I learned late that afternoon that John DiStaso, WMUR reporter had contacted the attorney general's office, Anne Edwards, and the following quote was in the story: "Lawmakers request the language out of concern about the judge's order that information must be released to the plaintiffs in the Senate Bill 3 case." This is the Attorney General's Office, contradicting exactly what I was told in committee. And we also know, if we dig a little deeper, that this information had been not only requested, but a process, a very detailed secure process and a timetable for releasing this information from this hand to this hand. It is moving and this effort to say immediately block versus six months from now is an effort to keep this information out of the hands where the court has said they want this information to be part of this process. I was mad. I'm old fashioned. I wrote a letter. Explained my gripe. In the old days, you make a mistake, it stops, you slow down, you look, you think oh my gosh, you act. We're not in the old days, sorry to say. I offered in the letter a solution. You can kill this bill, which would be too bad, or we can offer an amendment excluding pending cases. If it's not about the SB 3 litigation, it is easy enough to exclude it. Unlike the old days, Committee of Conference was scheduled the next day. I went to the meeting with my amendment to find that it wasn't meeting, that I was removed, the group had met and signed off on it without a response, without a consideration, without solving this constitutional problem. Now I'm no constitutional scholar, I'm a civics teacher. The constitutional issue this rises is Article 2 Part 1, that no member of the legislature should interfere with a court case. Because in the old days I guess, if you have an issue, you got a buddy who's in legislature, what you do is you beat him to the courthouse door, you change the law before they ever have a chance to go to court. You interfere with the process. We also have Article 2 Part 7 which is retrospective laws, it's laws going backwards, okay? And then we have an 1818 Supreme Court decision which says a legislature can't overrule the court, substituting their judgement in a particular case.

Now Mister President, this is a troubling matter. I tried to teach kids when I taught civics, about the mechanical aspect of our government, these conflicting ambitions, conflicting grabs at power that are held back by either, that the mechanics of conflict produce better government. America's greatness is due in no small measure to our system of government in which the power and authority are deliberately divided, the separation of powers is not a mere technicality, it is the centerpiece of our constitution. Our freedoms depend on it in the future just as they have in the past, said Richard Allen Epstein, a scholar. We are in this building here, which for a time served as the Supreme Court. We balance the use of this space, respecting each other and respecting our roles, our natural conflicts, our frustrations with each other. Balancing ambitions as to who is right. And we understand that the ends don't justify the means. And it's our job, especially when you're in the majority to balance those conflicts. Manage those disagreements, those internal disagreements. Now it's the minority's job to use leverage and it's our voice to raise these questions. And today our national politics needs to reward those who stand up against their political parties, against their own political interests, and we have some examples in Washington. It is the job of the majority to take a look at these issues and act appropriately. We can disagree on SB 3, and we have, we have vigorous debates here, but we can't disagree that this legislature cannot put itself between a pending lawsuit. Let the lawsuit fail, let it succeed. SB 3 will become the law of the land or it will be tossed in the garbage can, but we cannot allow this issue to become part of the political debate of the legislature. We need to let the process take its course. The majority must stand for decency, honesty, fair play, but much, much more important, the constitutional principles which our government was founded, the separation of the branches. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters for a question of Senator Woodburn.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you for taking my question, Senator. In your discussion you referenced Article 2 Part 7 which says no member of the General Court shall take fees, be of counsel or act as an advocate in any case before either branch of the Legislature and upon the proof thereof, such member shall forfeit his seat in the Legislature. So, from what you've said in your argument here is that by voting for this someone might be potentially liable to the provisions of that section?

SENATOR WOODBURN: That's for each member to make a determination. I know it's right, I know it's constitutionally sound, and each of us have to make those determinations.

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, so it's my understanding under our current ethics laws that anyone in the state from what I– Any citizen from whatever district could bring to the Ethics Committee a complaint about any one of us who may vote for this?

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you, Senator. You know, I want to focus on the issue here at hand which is everyone voting what they believe is the right thing to do. That is it, that is it. There's no other pathway, there's no other issue that I see other than, let's not get involved in a pending court case. And the fact that I wanted to offer this amendment which would solve the problem, solve my suspicions, clarify what the Attorney General's Office said which is in contradiction with what was told to me in the committee. That would have solved it. I wish we weren't here having this discussion. I wish we solved it at that moment.

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Birdsell.)

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of the Committee of Conference. I will say, the Secretary of State was a member of the Voter Fraud Commission last year and public voter information was requested and all we heard was the need for voter privacy. To the point where our good Senator from District 13, representatives, the representative from Weare and the ACLU sued to prevent, to make sure that public information, and this was public information, would not be sent to Washington D.C. based, except in a PDF form so it could not be hacked, it could not be manipulated. So my question is, if it's good enough to protect our voter privacy on January 2019, why is it not good enough to protect it today? I don't understand. The statute is very clear, that the voter base is confidential information.

There's an enormous amount of private information in the full database and we're talking about sending private information, our citizen's private information which includes partial social security numbers, birthdates, naturalization dates, driver's license number, including those of domestic violence. All that information can be sent down to D.C. at this point. Releasing this data could give a clear road map of the state's database and how it's structured and that's a hacker's dream. If it's released there are no safeguards as to how the data's handled and who's going to keep it. If you're concerned about hacking, what could possibly go wrong with our confidential voter information shipped down to a law firm in D.C. who is responsible for the Steele Dossier in a town, in D.C., where leaks happen basically on an hourly basis? I have concerns.

This could also run the real risk of chilling the right to vote in this state by dissuading citizens of registering to vote because they know that their personal identification information can be given to third parties in any case where a person or an entity decides to sue us. So, I have concerns and I think our voter privacy, our voter's database should be protected from day one regardless of when it happens.

And I will say when the decision came down last year from the Supreme Court that the public information needed to be placed into a PDF form, the chair of the Democratic Party, Ray Buckley, said New Hampshire's live free or die spirit puts a high value on privacy. Today we learned that New Hampshire's attempt to comply with Trump's sham election integrity commission requested interfere with the most sacred privacy imaginable. That was on a public database. Now we're talking full private information getting shipped. He also stated domestic violence victims deserve to have their vote protected, and non-public. What has changed? For me? Nothing. So Mister President, I respectfully request that we support the committee of conference. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, the language that was added by Representative Kurk on the floor and that was supported by the Committee of Conference, in fact bumping up the effective date, has nothing to do with the Trump Commission. Nothing. Why? The language prohibits the release of information in response to a subpoena or civil discovery request. That's the language. Trump Commission didn't even have that authority. They didn't issue a subpoena or a civil discovery request on the state of New Hampshire. They did not. It has nothing to do with the Trump Commission, which by the way doesn't even exist anymore. What subpoena or civil discovery request is pending right now? It's the Senate Bill 3 litigation. In a recent court order Mister President, the court said release date of birth and place of birth subject to a protective order to the litigants against the state of New Hampshire challenging the Senate Bill 3 litigation to determine whether or not there's a disparate impact based on age and place of birth. It's encrypted, it's subject to a protective order on an air gap laptop. It's going to a Dartmouth professor, and after he gets done crunching the numbers and doing a report, it has to be sent back. That's the protective order roughly that people are envisioning that outlines the contours of it. I understand that the state and the litigants have different views about how they're trying to nuance it, but that's the reality of it right now.

So to say that we're going to pass something Mister President, that directly, potentially directly interferes with a recent court order and ongoing litigation that says the state lost this decision and we're going to just reverse it, so that the litigants don't get to litigate the case? I agree with the Senator from District 1. Whatever the response of the case, whatever the judge and ultimately probably the New Hampshire Supreme Court concludes with respect to Senate Bill 3 is whatever they conclude. But let's not interfere and try to tinker with it which this language would have either intended or unintended consequence of doing. It's not the right thing to do. We should stay out of it, stay out of the litigation and let the process play its course. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn for a question of Senator Birdsell.)

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you Senator, for taking my question. Will this amendment, which you brought forward, have any impact on the SB 3 litigation?

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Honestly Senator, I don't know. I don't know.

SENATOR WOODBURN: I thought you answered that question quite differently in the Committee of Conference, if my memory is correct. If not, please correct me.

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Honestly, I don't remember, but I have no idea whether or not this is going to affect the Supreme Court case.

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you for that frankness. Then if you're unsure, why didn't we have a chance to meet to discuss my amendment that would have said if it doesn't have an impact, why wouldn't we just exclude any pending lawsuits, litigation? Why didn't we meet to have a discussion about excluding the SB 3, excluding pending litigation from this bill, this amendment?

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Because frankly Senator, you didn't tell me you were going to bring forth an amendment. And we had discussed in the Committee of Conference, if we're all in agreement and you had agreed that you probably are going to be taken off, then the rest of us decided that we didn't, we weren't going to meet because we were all in agreement.

SENATOR WOODBURN: Just so I understand this right, we ended our meeting. A new meeting was set up for the next day at nine o'clock or eleven o'clock and I sent a letter that day to everybody. I hand delivered it to everybody and saying there was a concern, there was what I believed to be a conflict and a remedy. A remedy which was an amendment that just excluded. So, I'm trying to understand how these pieces fit together and I'm also trying to understand because again, none of this would have come to me and my question Mister President is, is the Attorney General's Office, Anne Edwards, is her interpretation of the motivation behind this wrong?

SENATOR BIRDSELL: I can't answer for the AG's office but again, I say, I did not get any notification that you were bringing forth an amendment or we would have met again.

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes for a question of Senator Birdsell.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much for taking my question. Attorney Anne Edwards indicated that the language was requested by lawmakers in response to the recent court order in the Senate Bill 3 litigation. Did you request that language, or, and if not, who did?

SENATOR BIRDSELL: I'm the one that put in the amendment but I was told that we wanted to change the date.

SENATOR FELTES: Okay. Thanks.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley for a question of Senator Birdsell.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much for taking my question. Isn't what this comes down to, consistency, rather for protecting the privacy rights of our citizens from hacking, from leaks, from untoward disclosure or not? Isn't that what you're trying to prevent or make sure doesn't happen?

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Thank you for the question and yes, it is. And again, I specify if it's good to protect our voter integrity in January of 2019, why are we not willing to try and protect it now?

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Avard for a question of Senator Birdsell.)

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Senator for taking my question. Very simple. If we vote in favor of this, we're going to be protecting victims of domestic violence. Is that correct?

SENATOR BIRDESLL: Correct.

SENATOR AVARD: If we do not vote for this, will we potentially put them at risk? Potentially.

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Potentially.

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you.

Recess. Out of recess.

(The Chair recognized Senator Soucy for a question of Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR SOUCY: Senator, can you tell me if passage of this legislation could impact and limit the ability of voters to engage with future litigation?

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you for the question, Senator Soucy. By including language that prohibits the release of data by the state to litigants in response to a subpoena and civil discovery requests, limits in the statute itself, the ability to litigate cases against the state when voter rights may have been aggrieved, whether rightly or wrongly. And like we said here as the Senator from District 1 said, we should just let the process take its course. The Trump Commission, not a subpoena or civil discovery process. Has nothing to do with the Trump Commission. It has everything to do with this litigation and potential future litigations.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. Methinks thou doth protest too much. The question I have is rhetorical. It is why is it that we'd risk the privacy of every citizen in this state? Why would you risk the identities of domestic violence? If somebody wants this information really badly, and for the Democrats to turn around and flip positions, to me says something. This is private information. You vote against this, you are voting to disclose information. I was elected by citizens, not by judges and not by the Executive Branch, and we as elected representatives have an obligation. We act separately and equally. This is not a trial, this isn't a courtroom. This is the people's Senate. And for those reasons I will move to support and protect the information of citizens that ask me to be here and do so. Thank you, Mister President.

Senator Avard moved to call the question.

Recess. Out of recess.

Senator Avard moved to call the question. Adopted.

Committee of Conference Report on SB 535-FN, relative to licensure for the practice of professional art therapy and establishing an advisory council on alternative mental health therapies, and relative to certain revenues from the sale of commemorative liquor bottles of historic significance.

Recommendation:

That the Senate recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the House amendment, and

That the House recede from its position in adopting its amendment to the bill, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the Senate, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing sections 1-3 with the following and renumbering the original sections 4 and 5 to read as 2 and 3, respectively:

1 New Chapter; Professional Art Therapy. Amend RSA by inserting after chapter 326-K the following new chapter:

CHAPTER 326-L
PROFESSIONAL ART THERAPY

326-L:1 Definitions. In this chapter:

I. "Professional art therapy" means the integrated use of psychotherapeutic principles, art media, and the creative process to assist individuals, families, or groups in:

(a) Increasing awareness of self and others;

(b) Coping with symptoms, stress, and traumatic experiences;

(c) Enhancing cognitive abilities; and

(d) Identifying and assessing clients' needs in order to implement therapeutic intervention to meet developmental, behavioral, mental, and emotional needs.

II. "Practice of professional art therapy" means to engage professionally and for compensation in art therapy and appraisal activities by providing services involving the application of art therapy principles and methods in the diagnosis, prevention, treatment, and amelioration of psychological problems and emotional or mental conditions that includes, but is not limited to:

(a) Clinical appraisal and treatment activities during individual, couples, family, or group sessions which provide opportunities for expression through the creative process;

(b) Using the process and products of art creation to tap into a client's inner fears, conflicts, and core issues with the goal of improving physical, mental, and emotional functioning and well-being;

(c) Using diagnostic art therapy assessments to determine treatment goals and implement therapeutic art interventions which meet developmental, mental, and emotional needs; and

(d) Employing art media, the creative process, and the resulting artwork to assist clients to:

(1) Reduce psychiatric symptoms of depression, anxiety, posttraumatic stress, and attachment disorders;

(2) Enhance neurological, cognitive, and verbal abilities, develop social skills, aid sensory impairments, and move developmental capabilities forward in specific areas;

(3) Cope with symptoms of stress, anxiety, traumatic experiences, and grief;

(4) Explore feelings, gain insight into behaviors, and reconcile emotional conflicts;

(5) Improve or restore functioning and a sense of personal well-being;

(6) Increase coping skills, self-esteem, awareness of self, and empathy for others;

(7) Channel feelings of anger and guilt in a healthy way; and

(8) Improve school performance, family functioning, and parent/child relationship.

326-L:2 Education Required; Title.

I. A person engaged in this state in the practice of professional art therapy shall hold a master's or doctoral degree in art therapy from an accredited educational institution.

II. No person who is not qualified for the practice of professional art therapy may use the title "art therapist" or "professional art therapist" or make use of any title, words, letters, abbreviations, or insignia indicating or implying that he or she is a professional art therapist.

326-L:3 Exceptions. This chapter shall not apply to a person who provides art therapy while acting within the scope of practice of the person's license and training, provided the person does not hold himself or herself out to the public as a professional art therapist, or is a student enrolled in an art therapy educational program or graduate art therapy educational program approved by the American Art Therapy Association, or any successor of said association, and art therapy is an integral part of the student's course of study and such student is performing such therapy under the direct supervision of a professional art therapist.

326-L:4 Penalty. Any person who violates any provision of this chapter shall be guilty of an unfair or deceptive act or practice as provided in RSA 358-A and shall be penalized in accordance with RSA 358-A:6.

Recommendation:

That the Senate recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the House amendment, and concur with the House amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the House, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing section 1 with the following:

1 New Sections; Protection for Maternity and Infancy; Plan of Safe Care. Amend RSA 132 by inserting after section 10-d the following new sections:

132:10-e Development of a Plan of Safe Care. When an infant is born with and identified as being affected by substance abuse or withdrawal symptoms resulting from prenatal drug exposure or a fetal alcohol spectrum disorder, the health care provider shall develop a plan of safe care, in cooperation with the infant's parents or guardians and the department of health and human services, division of public health services, as appropriate, to ensure the safety and well-being of the infant, to address the health and substance use treatment needs of the infant and affected family members or caregivers, and to ensure that appropriate referrals are made and services are delivered to the infant and affected family members or caregivers. The plan shall take into account whether the infant's prenatal drug exposure occurred as the result of medication assisted treatment, or medication prescribed for the mother by a health care provider, and whether the infant's mother is or will be actively engaged in ongoing substance use disorder treatment following discharge that would mitigate the future risk of harm to the infant. A copy of the plan of safe care shall be included in the instructions for the infant upon discharge from the hospital or from the health care provider involved in the development of the plan of safe care. The plan of safe care shall not be submitted to the department of health and human services unless it is pursuant to RSA 132:10-f or the department makes an official request for a copy of the plan in compliance with confidentiality requirements.

132:10-f Mandatory Reporting. When a health care provider suspects that an infant has been abused or neglected pursuant to RSA 169-C:3, the provider shall report to the department of health and human services in accordance with RSA 169-C:29. If the infant has a plan of safe care developed under RSA 132:10-e, a copy of the plan shall accompany the report.

Committee of Conference Report on SB 556-FN, relative to changes in bail procedures and procedures for annulment of a criminal record.

Recommendation:

That the Senate recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the House amendment, and concur with the House amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the House, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend RSA 597:2, IX as inserted by section 2 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

IX. Upon the appearance of a person charged with a class B misdemeanor, the court shall issue an order that, pending arraignment, the person be released on his or her personal recognizance, unless the court determines pursuant to paragraph IV that such release will endanger the safety of the person or the public. The court shall appoint an attorney to represent any indigent person charged with a class B misdemeanor denied release for the purpose of representing such person at any detention hearing.

Amend RSA 651:5, III(a)(2) as inserted by section 6 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

(2) For a violation with a conviction date on or after January 1, 2019 where the violation was the highest offense of conviction, unless the underlying conviction was for an offense specified under RSA 259:39, or another violation for which there is an enhanced penalty for a subsequent conviction, one year after the person has completed all the terms and conditions of the sentence. Upon completion of a petition by the person stating that the conviction is eligible for annulment, the court shall submit a notice of its determination to the person convicted of the offense and to the prosecutor. The prosecutor shall have 20 days from the date of receipt of the notice to object to the annulment on the ground that the offense is not eligible for annulment or that the person has not completed all the terms and conditions of the sentence. If the prosecutor fails to timely object or the court denies the prosecutor's objection, the court shall annul the conviction.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 10 with the following:

11 New Subdivision; Commission on Pretrial Detention, Pretrial Scheduling, and Pretrial Services. Amend RSA 597 by inserting after section 42 the following new subdivision:

Commission on Pretrial Detention, Pretrial Scheduling, and Pretrial Services

597:43 Commission Established.

I. There is established a commission on pretrial detention, pretrial scheduling, and pretrial services. The commission shall consist of the following members:

(a) One member of the senate, appointed by the senate president.

(b) Three members of the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives.

(c) The attorney general, or designee.

(e) The chief administrative judge of the New Hampshire circuit court, or designee.

(f) The executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union of New Hampshire, or designee.

(g) The executive director of the New Hampshire Public Defender, or designee.

(h) The president of the New Hampshire Association of Chiefs of Police, or designee.

(i) The president of the New Hampshire Police Association, or designee.

(j) One superintendent of a New Hampshire county correctional facility, appointed by the governor.

(k) One member from the public with experience in law enforcement, appointed by the governor.

II. The commission shall:

(a) Review and provide recommendations on risk assessment, dangerousness determinations, pretrial services, and funding for pretrial services in advance of the 2019-2021 state biennial operating budget.

(b) Review and provide recommendations on cost-effective court communications and scheduling of pretrial matters.

(c) Solicit testimony and input from the general public.

III. Legislative members of the commission shall receive mileage at the legislative rate when attending to the duties of the commission. The members of the commission shall elect a chairperson from among the members. The first meeting of the commission shall be called by the senate member. The first meeting of the commission shall be held within 45 days of the effective date of this section. Seven members of the commission shall constitute a quorum.

IV. The commission shall report its findings and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the president of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, the senate clerk, the house clerk, the governor, and the state library on or before November 1, 2018.

12 Repeal. RSA 597:43, relative to the commission on pretrial detention, pretrial scheduling, and pretrial services, is repealed.

13 Effective Date.

I. Sections 1-10 of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

II. Section 12 of this act shall take effect November 1, 2018.

III. The remainder of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill revises the procedures for the granting of bail, amends the procedure for annulment of violations and class B misdemeanors depending on the date of conviction, and amends the requirements for demonstrating indigency for the purpose of annulment of a criminal record. The bill also establishes a commission on pretrial detention, pretrial scheduling, and pretrial services.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. Mister President, I just wanted to thank everybody for the bipartisan work on this common sense criminal justice reform bill. In particular, my colleague from District 14, the Chair of Senate Judiciary and my colleague from District 7, Senator French, along with Governor Sununu and his staff for helping to facilitate a reasonable compromise with some of the stakeholders and I just really appreciate the bipartisan work that folks put into this. Thank you, Mister President.

Committee of Conference Report on SB 564-FN-A, relative to a business tax exemption and a workforce development program for regenerative manufacturing businesses.

Recommendation:

That the Senate recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the House amendment, and concur with the House amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the House, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend the bill by replacing all after the enacting clause with the following:

1 Purpose and Intent Statement. The general court intends that this act be liberally construed and applied to promote the following underlying purposes and policies:

I. The general court recognizes that:

(a) New and emerging technologies in the late 20th and early 21st centuries have resulted in the creation of entire new industries within the United States and that those technologies have been the primary drivers of economic development during that period.

(b) When such industries are created, they tend to grow in geographic concentrations, create additional opportunities for new businesses of all varieties, and boost the overall economy of the states in which they appear.

(c) Regenerative manufacturing, the creation of new tissue for medical purposes, is an example of an emerging technology that will change current medical practice, advance the health of the citizens of New Hampshire and the United States, and create a new industry.

(d) New technologies require substantial investments in research and development in order to become economically viable, and therefore often require support during this process that other industries do not require.

(e) The government of the United States and companies within New Hampshire have already begun investing time and resources into the advancement of regenerative manufacturing in the state, making it uniquely suited to New Hampshire and the most likely of all emerging industries to replicate here the successes seen elsewhere.

II. The general court therefore declares:

(a) It is the public policy of the state of New Hampshire to advance the study and practice of regenerative manufacturing within the state.

(b) This public policy will advance the public interests of the state and its citizens by:

(1) Providing new, high paying jobs, both in the field of regenerative manufacturing and in other fields that support that industry and those who engage in it.

(2) Attracting highly skilled professionals who will raise their families in the towns and cities of the state.

(3) Fostering the development of a new industry that will grow and advance in New Hampshire.

(4) Contributing to the sciences within the state and improving its reputation as a place that fosters science and technology.

(5) Increasing tax revenues by attracting and generating new businesses and property owners that otherwise would not have located in New Hampshire.

(c) The intent of this act is to achieve this public interest by:

(1) Making New Hampshire a more attractive place for new businesses to begin studying regenerative manufacturing.

(2) Attracting companies that are already engaged in the study of regenerative manufacturing into the state.

(3) Supporting any current New Hampshire company that wishes to enter the field of regenerative manufacturing.

2 New Paragraph; Business Profits Tax; Definition of Qualified Regenerative Manufacturing Company. Amend RSA 77-A:1 by inserting after paragraph XXIX the following new paragraph:

XXX.(a) "Qualified regenerative manufacturing company" means any business organization which meets each of the following requirements at all times during the entire taxable year:

(1) It files with its return for the taxable year an election to be a qualified regenerative manufacturing company in accordance with RSA 77-A:5-c or has made such election for a previous taxable year; and

(2) At least 75 percent of its business activities over the course of the tax year meet the requirements for an active regenerative manufacturing business, or, in the case of a subsidiary located in New Hampshire, 75 percent of that subsidiary's business activities meet the requirements for an active regenerative manufacturing business.

(b) For purposes of this paragraph, the term "regenerative manufacturing" means any aspect of the manufacturing of blood, tissues, tissue constructs, and organs for the purpose of researching, diagnosing, treating, or curing any disease or injury, such as (1) cell collection, culture and scale-up, (2) biomaterial selection and scale-up, (3) tissue process automation and monitoring, (4) tissue maturing, and (5) tissue preservation and transport.

(c) For purposes of this paragraph, the term "active regenerative manufacturing business" means the conduct of any business activity the primary focus of which is any one or more of the following areas:

(1) Performing research relating to regenerative manufacturing;

(2) Performing regenerative manufacturing activities;

(3) Researching, developing, manufacturing, or supplying technical services in support of regenerative manufacturing, such as process engineering, automation, facility set-up, and distribution services;

(4) Researching, developing, manufacturing, or supplying technologies utilized in regenerative manufacturing, such as cellular and non-cellular source materials, tools, equipment, reagents, and other supplies; and

(5) Performing any activity necessary to bring a product created through regenerative manufacturing to market, including but not limited to seeking patents, regulatory approval, performing clinical trials, and sales.

3 New Paragraph; Business Enterprise Tax; Definition; Qualified Regenerative Manufacturing Company. Amend RSA 77-E:1 by inserting after paragraph XIV the following new paragraph:

XIV-a. "Qualified regenerative manufacturing company" means any business enterprise which is a qualified regenerative manufacturing company as that term is defined under RSA 77-A:1, XXX at all times during the entire taxable year.

4 Business Organization; Exemption for Qualified Regenerative Manufacturing Company. Amend RSA 77-A:1, I to read as follows:

I. "Business organization" means any enterprise, whether corporation, partnership, limited liability company, proprietorship, association, business trust, real estate trust or other form of organization; organized for gain or profit, carrying on any business activity within the state, except such enterprises as are expressly made exempt from income taxation under the United States Internal Revenue Code as defined in RSA 77-A:1, XX. Each enterprise under this definition shall be subject to taxation under RSA 77-A:2 as a separate entity, unless specifically authorized by this chapter to be treated otherwise, such as, but not limited to, combined reporting. Trusts or foundations treated as grantor trusts under section 671 of the United States Internal Revenue Code shall be included in the return of their owners, and such owners shall be subject to the tax thereon to the extent such owners would be considered a business organization hereunder notwithstanding the existence of the trust or foundation. The use of consolidated returns as defined in the United States Internal Revenue Code as defined in RSA 77-A:1, XX is not permitted. Notwithstanding any other provision of this paragraph, an enterprise shall not be characterized as a business organization and shall be excluded from taxation at the entity level if it elects to be treated as a qualified investment company as defined in RSA 77-A:1, XXI or if it elects to be treated as a qualified regenerative manufacturing company as defined in RSA 77-A:1, XXX. A partnership, limited liability company, estate, trust, or foundation except grantor trusts pursuant to section 671 of the United States Internal Revenue Code, "S" corporation, real estate investment trust, or any other such entity, other than an organization electing to be treated as a qualified investment company as defined in RSA 77-A:1, XXI whose net income is reportable by the true owners either directly or indirectly, or an organization electing to be treated as a qualified regenerative manufacturing company as defined in RSA 77-A:1, XXX, shall be subject to tax at the entity level, and no part of such earnings or loss shall be included in the calculation of the gross business profits of the owners of such entity.

5 Business Enterprise; Exemption for Qualified Regenerative Manufacturing Company. Amend RSA 77-E:1, III to read as follows:

III. "Business enterprise" means any profit or nonprofit enterprise or organization, whether corporation, partnership, limited liability company, proprietorship, association, trust, foundation, business trust, real estate trust or other form of organization engaged in or carrying on any business activity within this state, except such enterprises as are expressly made exempt from income taxation under section 501(c)(3) of the United States Internal Revenue Code to the extent such enterprise does not engage in any business activity constituting unrelated business activity as defined by section 513 of the United States Internal Revenue Code. Each business enterprise under this definition shall be subject to the tax imposed under RSA 77-E as a separate entity except that trusts and foundations treated as grantor trusts under section 671 of the United States Internal Revenue Code shall be included in the return of their owners, and such owners shall be subject to the tax thereon to the extent any such owners would be considered a business enterprise hereunder notwithstanding the existence of the trust or foundation. The use of consolidated returns as defined in the United States Internal Revenue Code or of combined reporting is not permitted. Notwithstanding any other provision of this paragraph, an enterprise shall not be characterized as a business enterprise and shall be excluded from taxation at the entity level if it is a qualified investment company as defined in RSA 77-E:1, XIV or if it is a qualified regenerative manufacturing company as defined in RSA 77-E:1, XIV-a.

6 New Paragraph; Business Profits Tax; Qualified Regenerative Manufacturing Company; Election and Reporting. Amend RSA 77-A by inserting after section 5-b the following new section:

77-A:5-c Election and Reporting for Qualified Regenerative Manufacturing Companies.

I. Business organizations shall file an election with the commissioner to be a qualified regenerative manufacturing company with respect to any taxable period on a form prescribed by the commissioner at any time on or before the fifteenth day of the third month immediately following the end of such taxable period. Such an election shall be effective for the taxable period of the qualified regenerative manufacturing company for which it is made and for all succeeding taxable periods until such election is terminated as provided in this section.

II. The election to be a qualified regenerative manufacturing company shall expire for taxable periods beginning after December 31, 2027. No subsequent election may be made after the expiration of an election, with respect to either the business organization or the active regenerative manufacturing business conducted by such business organization or any successor business organization.

III. Every business organization electing treatment as a qualified regenerative manufacturing company shall, with respect to each taxable period, file a report, in accordance with such rules or forms as the commissioner may prescribe, setting forth the following:

(a) The names, addresses, and federal taxpayer identification numbers of the holders of any equity interests in such qualified regenerative manufacturing company.

(b) The name, address, and federal taxpayer identification number of the manager of such qualified regenerative manufacturing company.

(c) The amount of the income received and expenses incurred by the qualified regenerative manufacturing company for the tax period.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, a qualified regenerative manufacturing company shall be deemed to have satisfied the reporting requirements of this section if it files with the commissioner a copy of its federal income tax return, as filed with the Internal Revenue Service.

IV. Such report or copy of the federal income tax return shall be filed at any time on or before 30 days following the filing of the federal income tax return with the Internal Revenue Service. Any qualified regenerative manufacturing company which fails to timely file the report as required by this section shall pay a penalty equal to $100 for each day such report is not filed, unless an extension has been granted by the commissioner. In no event shall the monetary fine imposed by this paragraph exceed $5,000. A qualified regenerative manufacturing company notified by the department that such report is overdue by more than 50 days shall have 30 days from the date of such notification to file the delinquent report.

V. The qualified regenerative manufacturing company shall be subject to the provisions of RSA 77-A:11 and RSA 77-E:10. The commissioner is authorized to audit and enforce such provisions with any of the powers granted under this chapter and RSA 77-E.

VI. The election provided for in paragraph I may be terminated as follows:

(a) By revoking said election by consent of the majority of the members, partners, or shareholders of the qualified regenerative manufacturing company, or by determination of the manager of the qualified regenerative manufacturing company. Such revocation must be filed with the department on or before the fifteenth day of the third month of the taxable period to be effective for such period. Any revocation filed after the fifteenth day of the third month of the taxable period shall be effective for the following tax period; or

(b) Whenever the company ceases to satisfy the requirements for qualification as a qualified regenerative manufacturing company as provided in RSA 77-A:1, XXX.

VII. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the Advanced Regenerative Manufacturing Institute, Inc., a New Hampshire non-profit formed to advance the regenerative manufacturing industry and as of the effective date of this paragraph is operated out of Manchester, New Hampshire, is deemed a "qualified regenerative manufacturing company" as that term is defined in RSA 77-A:1, XXX, provided that it complies with the requirements of RSA 77-A:5-c, III.

7 New Chapter; Qualified Regenerative Manufacturing Company; Business Finance Authority. Amend RSA by inserting after chapter 162-R the following new chapter:

CHAPTER 162-S
REGENERATIVE MANUFACTURING WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

162-S:1 Declaration of Need and Purpose. It is declared that there is a statewide need for the preservation and development of a skilled workforce for the betterment of the economy of the state, its inhabitants, and in particular for the development and preservation of a regenerative manufacturing workforce. It is the purpose of this chapter to provide for the development, attraction, and retention of skilled, qualified, and productive workers within the state who will be capable of supporting the preservation, establishment, and redevelopment of business and industry, preserving or increasing the social welfare or economic prosperity of the state or its political subdivisions, and promoting the general welfare of the state's citizens. It is further declared that the business finance authority (hereinafter the "authority"), acting pursuant to the powers granted in this chapter shall be regarded as performing an essential governmental function in carrying out the provisions of this chapter.

162-S:2 Acquisition of Student Loans of Qualified New Hampshire Employees.

I. The business finance authority, as established and authorized under RSA 162-A (hereinafter the "authority"), may expend or loan money upon such terms and conditions as prescribed by the authority to acquire loans or other evidences of education indebtedness incurred by persons for the purpose of financing postsecondary education and to provide for deferment or forgiveness of repayment of such education indebtedness pursuant to a program or programs established by the authority and approved by the governor and council pursuant to this chapter.

II. In granting deferment to any loan or other evidence of education indebtedness incurred by persons for the purpose of financing postsecondary education, the authority shall cause no interest to accrue to the principal of the loan during any period of deferment it offers.

III. Any student indebtedness that may be subject to a program or programs established by the authority under this chapter shall meet the following minimum requirements.

(a) The person shall have achieved academic requirements such as graduate degrees or other evidence of academic achievement as has been determined by the authority;

(b) The person shall be employed to perform primarily active regenerative manufacturing business activities as that term is defined in RSA 77-A:1, XXX and the principal office at which such person is employed is located within New Hampshire;

(c) No forgiveness of such student indebtedness shall be effected unless the person shall have been employed to perform primarily active regenerative manufacturing business activities at a location within New Hampshire for a minimum period of 5 years.

IV. Prior to the expenditure or loan of any money under this section, the authority shall enter into one or more agreements with any person obligated to make payments under education indebtedness to provide for the conditions on which the expenditures, deferments, or forgiveness will be made, the terms of repayment of such expenditure or loan, the time and manner of such repayment, the form and amount of security if any, to be pledged to the authority for such repayment, and such other provisions as the authority may determine are necessary or desirable.

V. The authority, to further its education indebtedness loan programs pursuant to this chapter, shall have the power to:

(a) Determine the nature of education indebtedness programs for eligible persons, including how such loans may be acquired, the mechanisms for deferral of payment or forgiveness with respect to such education indebtedness;

(b) Enter into contracts with employers of persons who are subject to the programs established under this chapter to assist in the administration of such programs;

(c) Enter into contracts for the administration or servicing of education indebtedness acquired pursuant to the programs established under this chapter;

(d) Receive and accept from any public agency or any other source loans, grants, guarantees, or insurance with respect to education indebtedness and the programs established under this chapter;

(e) Establish guidelines governing the actions of the authority with respect to the programs established under this chapter; and

(f) Exercise all powers incidental and necessary for the performance of the powers listed in this paragraph.

162-S:3 State Regenerative Manufacturing Workforce Development Fund Established.

I. There is established within the authority a state regenerative manufacturing workforce development fund, which shall be held by the authority apart from all of its other funds. Annual state appropriations and other funds from state or federal sources, and any gifts, grants, or donations, shall be credited to the fund. The state regenerative manufacturing workforce development fund shall be administered by the authority and shall be used for the sole purposes of carrying out the purposes of RSA 162-S:2. The authority shall invest the fund in accordance with RSA 6:8. Any earnings on fund moneys shall be added to the fund. All moneys in the fund shall be nonlapsing and shall be continually appropriated to the fund for the purpose of providing regenerative manufacturing worker educational debt relief as provided in this section.

II. The authority may create subfunds or trusts of the state regenerative manufacturing workforce development fund, which shall be held by the authority apart from all of its other funds, which may be deemed irrevocably pledged to secure the repayment of state workforce development bonds issued under RSA 162-S:4. If such a pledged amount or amounts are called upon to be honored, the authority shall draw upon such fund for the purpose of honoring such pledge.

162-S:4 Issuance of Bonds.

I. The authority may issue bonds pursuant to this section which shall be obligations of the authority and not general obligations of the state, except as provided in RSA 162-A:17. Such bonds may be issued from time to time consistent with the purposes and provisions of this chapter to make expenditures under RSA 162-S:2, to pay or refund any bonds issued pursuant to this section or interest thereon, or to pay the costs and expenses of the authority. The principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on all bonds shall be payable solely by the authority in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. The bonds shall be issued by the authority in such amounts as the board shall determine, not exceeding in the aggregate at any time $5,000,000. Bonds of each issue shall be dated, shall bear interest at such rate or rates, including rates variable from time to time as determined by such index, banker's loan rate or other method as may be determined by the authority, and shall mature at such time or times as may be determined by the authority, except that no bonds shall mature more than 30 years from their date of issue. Bonds may be made redeemable before maturity either at the option of the authority or at the option of the holder, or upon the occurrence of specified events, at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the authority prior to the issuance of the bonds. The authority shall determine the form and details of the bond. The bonds may be sold in such manner, either at public or private sale, for such price, at such rate or rates of interest, or at such discount in lieu of interest as the authority may determine.

II. Every bond shall be signed on behalf of the authority by 2 persons designated by the authority. One person shall be a member of the board who is also the chairperson of the board, or the vice chairperson of the board, or the treasurer of the authority, or an assistant treasurer of the authority. The other person shall be any member of the board or the executive director of the authority. The signatures may be manual or facsimile but at least one signature on every bond shall be manual, unless the bond bears a manual authentication or certification by a bank, trust company or other financial institution, in which case both signatures on behalf of the authority may be facsimile. Interest coupons, if any, shall bear the facsimile signature of one of the persons signing the bond on behalf of the authority. Bonds shall also bear the seal of the authority or a facsimile of the seal. Bonds executed as provided in this paragraph shall be valid notwithstanding that any or all of the persons whose signatures appear on the bond shall have ceased to hold office before delivery of and payment for the bond.

III. Any bonds issued under this chapter may be issued pursuant to and entitled to the benefits of a security document between the authority and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within or without the state, or by a security document directly between the authority and the purchasers of the bonds. Such security document shall be in such form and executed in such manner as may be determined by the board. Such security document may include the mortgage, pledge, or grant of a security interest in any property of the authority and may pledge or assign, in whole or in part, the revenues held or to be received by the authority, any contract or other rights to receive the revenues, whether then existing or thereafter coming into existence and whether then held or thereafter acquired by the authority, and any proceeds thereof. Such security documents may contain provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights, security, and remedies of the bondholders as may, in the discretion of the board, be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law. Such security documents may include provisions defining defaults and providing for remedies in the event of defaults, which may include the acceleration of maturities and the enforcement of any mortgage, pledge or security interest, and covenants setting forth the duties of, and limitations on, the authority in relation to the custody, safeguarding, investment, and application of moneys, the issue of additional or refunding bonds, the fixing, revision and collection of fees and other revenues, the use of bond proceeds, the establishment of reserves, the acquisition of any property or interest therein or undertaking of any project, any contracts relating thereto and subsequent amendments of such provisions and contracts. It shall be lawful for any bank or trust company to act as a depository or trustee of the proceeds of bonds, revenues, or other moneys under a security document and to furnish such indemnification or to pledge such securities and issue such letters or lines of credit or credit facilities as may be required by the authority acting under the paragraph. Any such security document may set forth the rights and remedies of bondholders and of the trustee and may restrict the individual right of action by bondholders.

IV. Any bonds issued under authority of this chapter may be issued pursuant to lines of credit or other banking arrangements under such terms and conditions not inconsistent with this chapter, and under such agreements with the purchasers or makers thereof, as the board may determine to be in the best interests of the authority. In addition to other security provided herein or otherwise by law, bonds issued by the authority under this section may be secured, in whole or in part, by insurance or by letters or lines of credit or other credit facilities issued to the authority by any bank, trust company or other financial institution, within or without the state, and the authority may make any pledge, mortgage, assignment or security interest in respect of its property and revenues as security for the reimbursement by the authority to the issuers of such letters or lines of credit, insurance or credit facilities, or any payments made thereunder.

V. Any mortgage, pledge or security interest made by the authority under this chapter shall be valid and binding and shall be deemed continuously perfected for the purposes of RSA 382-A and all other laws from the time when the mortgage, pledge, or security interest is made. The property or revenues so mortgaged, pledged, or subjected to a security interest then held or thereafter acquired or received by the authority shall immediately be subject to the lien of such mortgage, pledge, or security interest without any physical delivery or segregation thereof or further act. The lien of such mortgage, pledge, or security interest shall be valid and binding against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract, or otherwise against the authority, irrespective of whether such parties have notice thereof. No such property or revenues may be used in a manner inconsistent with the terms governing such mortgage, pledge, or security interest. Any agreement by which a pledge or security interest in personal property is created under this chapter shall be filed or recorded in the records of the secretary of state. Any mortgage or other agreement by which a security interest in real property is created under this chapter shall be filed with the register of deeds for the county in which such property is located.

VI. Any owner of a bond issued under the provisions of this section and any trustee under a security document securing the same, except to the extent the rights given in this paragraph may be restricted by such security document, may bring suit upon the bonds and may, either at law or in equity, by suit, action, mandamus, or other proceeding for legal or equitable relief, protect and enforce any and all rights under the laws of the state granted hereunder or under such security document, and may enforce and compel performance of all duties required by this chapter or by such security document to be performed by the authority or by any director or officer of the authority.

VII. The authority may issue refunding bonds for the purpose of paying any bonds issued under the provisions of this section at or prior to maturity or upon acceleration or redemption. Refunding bonds may be issued at such times prior to the maturity or redemption of the bonds being refunded as the board may determine. The refunding bonds may be issued in sufficient amounts to pay or provide the principal of the bonds being refunded, together with any redemption premium thereon, any interest accrued or to accrue to the date of payment of such bonds, the expenses of issue of the refunding bonds, the expenses of redeeming the bonds being refunded, and such reserves for debt service or other expenses from the proceeds of such refunding bonds as may be required by a security document securing the bonds. The authorization and issue of refunding bonds, the maturities and other details thereof, the security therefor, the rights of the holders thereof, and the rights, duties and, obligations of the authority in respect to the same shall be governed by the provisions of this chapter relating to the issue of bonds other than refunding bonds insofar as the same may be applicable.

VIII. Any debt service fund or debt service reserve fund established in connection with the issuance of bonds under this chapter shall be kept separate from other moneys of the authority. All proceeds of any bonds issued under this chapter, together with the income derived therefrom, shall be expended without further authorization or appropriation as provided for in the security document with respect to such bonds.

IX. Moneys in any fund or account created under the provisions of this chapter, subject to the terms and provisions of any security document applicable thereto, may be invested. Except as otherwise provided by any such security document, obligations so purchased as an investment of money in said fund or account shall be deemed at all times to be part of said fund or account, and the interest thereon and any profit arising from the sale thereof shall be credited to said fund or account, and any loss resulting on their sale shall be charged to said fund or account, respectively.

X. The state does hereby pledge to and agree with the holders of bonds issued under this chapter that the state shall not limit or alter the rights hereby vested in the authority to fulfill the terms of any agreements made with the holders of such bonds or in any way impair the rights and remedies of such holders until such bonds, together with the interest on them, with the interest on any unpaid installments of interest, and all costs and expenses in connection with any action or proceeding by or on behalf of such holders, are fully met and discharged. The authority is authorized to include this pledge and agreement of the state in any agreement with the holders of such bonds.

XI. Bonds issued under this section and their transfer and income, including any profit made on their sale or transfer, shall at all times be exempt from all taxation by or within the state.

XII. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this chapter or any recitals in any bonds issued under this section, all such bonds shall be deemed to be investment securities under RSA 382-A.

XIII. No bonds or other obligations shall be issued except after the governor and council, or their designee, after hearing, shall have found that:

(a) The proposed issuance will serve a public use and provide a public benefit.

(b) The proposed issuance is within the policy of, and the authority conferred by, this chapter.

(c) The proposed issuance will preserve or increase the social welfare or economic prosperity of the state and one or more of its political subdivisions, and will promote the general welfare of the state's citizens.

(d) The proposed issuance will promote the orderly development of business activities, create or preserve employment opportunities, or protect the physical environment.

(e) Adequate provision has been or will be made for the payment of the principal of, or interest on, any obligations issued by the authority to finance such loan programs.

(f) Adequate provision has been made for the payment of the reasonable expenses of administration of the loan programs as are necessitated by the programs.

162-S:5 Reporting and Approval Regarding Workforce Development Program. The business finance authority shall undertake to design the terms, conditions, and provisions of the regenerative manufacturing workforce development program authorized by this chapter. The authority shall deliver to the fiscal committee of the general court a report on the progress of its efforts to develop such terms, conditions, and provisions every 6-month period following the effective date of this chapter. Prior to taking any action to implement a final workforce program pursuant to this chapter, the authority shall first present the program to the fiscal committee of the general court and receive the approval of such committee.

8 Tax Expenditure Reports; Regenerative Manufacturing Added. Amend RSA 71-C:2 to read as follows:

71-C:2 Tax Expenditures Specified. Tax expenditures include, but may not be limited to, the community development finance authority investment tax credit as computed in RSA 162-L:10; the economic revitalization zone tax credit as computed in RSA 162-N:6; the research and development tax credit under RSA 77-A:5, XIII; the Coos county job creation tax credit under RSA 77-E:3-c; the education tax credit as computed in RSA 77-G:4; [~~and~~] the weighted apportionment factors under RSA 77-A:3, II(a); and the exemption for qualified regenerative manufacturing companies allowed under RSA 77-A:1, I and RSA 77-E:1, III.

9 Applicability. The provisions of sections 2 through 6 of this act shall apply for taxable periods beginning after December 31, 2017.

10 Effective Date. This act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

The signatures below attest to the authenticity of this Report on SB 564-FN-A, relative to a business tax exemption and a workforce development program for regenerative manufacturing businesses.

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. I urge my colleagues and thank my colleagues, particularly the Majority Leader, for leading us down a path that's really going to make a difference in the lives of people. It's not going to happen tomorrow or the next day but as a result of this, a process will take place that will make the lives of a lot of people a lot better. And I applaud this Senate and I applaud this Legislature for taking a stance and moving forward. It was a tough, tough decision but the right decision and I applaud again the work that the Majority Leader and the co-sponsors of this bill. Something that's going to really change lives and that's what we're here for. Thank you, Mister President.

Committee of Conference Report on SB 580, relative to the creation of new class lines within the department of transportation and the department of health and human services, and amending a capital budget appropriation to allow for door replacements at the New Hampshire hospital.

Recommendation:

That the Senate recede from its position of nonconcurrence with the House amendment, and concur with the House amendment, and

That the Senate and House adopt the following new amendment to the bill as amended by the House, and pass the bill as so amended:

Amend RSA 9:16-a, I as inserted by section 1 of the bill by replacing it with the following:

I. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, every department as defined in RSA 9:1 is hereby authorized to transfer funds within and among all accounting units within said department, provided that any transfer of $100,000 or more shall require prior approval of the fiscal committee of the general court and the governor and council, and provided that no funds may be transferred in violation of the provisions of RSA 9:17-a, 9:17-b, 9:17-c, or 9:17-d or in violation of any restrictions otherwise provided by law. The restrictions included in RSA 9:17-a, 9:17-b, 9:17-c, or 9:17-d shall not apply if a transfer is necessary to satisfy a federal maintenance of effort requirement to ensure the receipt of federal funds.

Amend the bill by deleting section 4 and renumbering the original sections 5-12 to read as 4-11, respectively.

Amend the bill by replacing section 8 with the following:

8 Legislative Branch Capital Projects; Lapse Eliminated. The appropriations made to the legislative branch in 2017, 228:1, XIV as amended by section 7 of this act, shall not lapse.

Amend the bill by replacing section 11 with the following:

11 Effective Date.

I. RSA 9:16-a, II-a(a)-(b) as inserted by section 2 of the bill shall take effect July 1, 2018.

II. RSA 9:16-a, II-a(c)-(d) as inserted by section 2 of the bill shall take effect July 1, 2019.

III. Section 3 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2018.

IV. Section 11 of this act shall take effect June 30, 2019.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. A point of personal privilege, please? You know, many times I talk to you about my career in life and I was a coach, and yesterday morning I lost a player who played for me at Bishop Bradley High School in 1962. His name was Richard Powers. Dickey was a great football player, a great basketball player, a great baseball player. We have a friendship that lasted from the day he walked on the field to this day. I spoke with him a couple of nights before he passed away. It's amazing to me when I begin to lose players that were close to me, very good friends of mine, and who I've lived through their lives as a high school player, as a college player, and as a coach. It's really difficult to take when you talk to a person on a Tuesday and they're dead on a Wednesday; it's inconceivable to me. And Dick Powers–you know it wasn't an easy life; he had a number of tough things happen. He had a son who took his own life, which was devastating to the family. He had a series of real physical problems, but he was a good human being, he was a great kid to coach, he was a great person to have a friend, and my sympathies go to his wife and his family. Dick Powers was an ordinary New Hampshire kid who really did well; he did well. And it's a tough life, we all understand that, and it wasn't an easy one for Dick. But I will remember him as a solid human being, a wonderful athlete, good father, and a wonderful, wonderful friend; a wonderful friend.

And, along with Dickey, we lost just a magnificent human being in Bill Craig; former Democratic leader of the House of Representatives, a friend and a mentor to me, a guy who really knew his way around politics, did wonderful things for the city of Manchester. Bill Craig helped a lot of people, a lot of people, and he was a man who was true to his word. If Bill Craig gave you his word, boy, his word was his bond. A lot of children–I think ten, twelve children; he came from a family of ten; worked hard; graduated from Saint Joseph's; graduated from Saint A's; I think went to Boston College Law School; made a mark on New Hampshire politics and New Hampshire history.

So, we're losing a lot of great people. It kind of makes us all understand that our lifespan is finite, so do the best you can with what you've got, and I think both of these guys did that. They did the best they could and they helped others. And, as I say, the great legend that you leave, or the great legacy you leave, is the fact that you made an impact on other people's lives; you did something good for others and you stand behind it. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon.)

SENATOR GANNON: Mine is much more light-hearted. But I just want to thank Senator Birdsell and Senator Carson for taking me into their committees and teach me this last year. All four Gannon children, I want you to know, are a treasurer or vice president in their classes, so we're doing good there; and my number three, Carrie, is the fastest freshman in the state and is going onto the State's, and that's it for the Gannon Family. Thank you.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Any further announcements? I have one; I'll try to make my way through it. I first want to thank Kristy, Shannon, Bobby, Josh, Kate, Rick–what they've done for the Senate is incredible. You know, when my father was being buried, they all came in in the morning that day to make sure you functioned, which I truly appreciate. Thank you.

You know, my sister wrote something, and I don't know how she delivered it, but I'm going to give you a piece of it because I think you need to know what a great man my step-father was.

Richard John Deputy, to many he was Dick Deputy; to us he was Dad, Daddy-o, Grandpa, and Papa; born June 8th, 1937 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania to Edward and Marie Deputy. He had twin sisters, Joan and Joyce. Although Daddy-o did move out of the area, he often visited them and helped them out tremendously with anything they needed. Most people would bring home a cooked meal when they visited a family, but not Daddy-o. He would bring a washer, a dryer, a TV, whatever they needed. After finishing school, Daddy-o joined the S.S. Kresge Company in Philadelphia as a stock person; within two years, he had already became an assistant manager. He would be transferred from store to store along the East Coast, but it was in January of 1972 when he became the store manager of a brand new KMART in Salem, New Hampshire. His employees loved him. He had unmatched knowledge of the retail industry, and was always trying to beat his numbers one day to the next. It was this very store that he met the love of his life, Doris Morse. It was always Dick and Doris, they were inseparable. He loved her so much, he was willing to take on the challenge of three more children. Over the years you could imagine the energy to raise five kids that were between middle school and high school. Although Alzheimer's seemed to consume a lot of their later years, my parents were fortunate enough to get some of the traveling done before they became ill. And the one thing Dick firmly believed in, which was kind of crazy, was John Wayne. He had this thing about movies and favorite actors. And my sister read it at the very end, and it certainly is what I believe in: "When the road looks rough ahead, remember the 'Man Upstairs' and the word H-O-P-E. Hang onto both and 'tough it out'." Thank you all for everything you did. Thanks.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. As our great colleague from District 23 always says, let's end on a high note. Okay? On Saturday, the beautiful and talented Mrs. D'Allesandro and I will celebrate our 57th wedding anniversary! So, I have to say she's made 57 years great. I'm very, very fortunate, and God bless her. That's all I can say. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon.)

SENATOR GANNON: I went to the Special Olympics last year at UNH, and I'm sure the Dean will join me this year. They would love all of us to be there in some function; either giving out awards or cheering them on at races. So, if any of you have the week, it's about a month from now. If you can go to the Special Olympics, if we could all be there together, it would be really fun, too. So, you'll see it in your e-mail, so hopefully you all can attend. Thank you.

Without objection, all personal privileges and unanimous consent shall be entered into the permanent Journal of the Senate. (Rule 2-16 and Rule 2-17). Adopted.

MOTION TO RECESS TO CALL OF THE CHAIR

Senator Bradley moved that the business of the day being completed, that the Senate recess to the Call of the Chair for the purposes of sending and receiving messages, and processing enrolled bill reports and amendments and when we recess, we recess to the Call of the Chair.

Adopted. The Senate is in recess to the Call of the Chair.

Enrolled Bill Amendment to SB 386

The Committee on Enrolled Bills to which was referred SB 386

AN ACT relative to access to criminal records.

Having considered the same, report the same with the following amendment, and the recommendation that the bill as amended ought to pass.

FOR THE COMMITTEE

Explanation to Enrolled Bill Amendment to SB 386

This enrolled bill amendment incorporates changes to RSA 21-J:3-a made by 2018, 52 (SB 406-FN) and inserts a contingency to address potential conflicts with HB 1684 of the 2018 regular legislative session.

Enrolled Bill Amendment to SB 386

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 35 with the following:

36 Department of Revenue Administration; Duties of Commissioner; Background Checks. Amend RSA 21-J:3-a to read as follows:

21-J:3-a [~~Employee Candidate~~] Background Checks.

I. The commissioner of the department of revenue administration may require a background investigation and a criminal history records check on any candidate for employment in a position in the department prior to a final offer of employment. The commissioner may request only a state records check or both a federal and state records check, to be conducted through the division of state police. The commissioner may extend a conditional offer of employment to a candidate, with a final offer of employment subject to a successfully completed criminal history records check.

I-a. The commissioner of the department of revenue administration may require a background investigation and a criminal history records check on any current employee of the department for the purpose of determining that employee's suitability to access confidential tax information, including federal tax information. The commissioner may request only a state records check or both a federal and state records check, to be conducted through the division of state police.

II. A candidate for employment in a position in the department or a current employee required by the commissioner to submit to a background investigation and a criminal history records check shall submit to the commissioner a criminal history records release form, as provided by the division of state police, which authorizes the release of the person's criminal records, if any. The candidate or employee shall submit with the release form a complete set of fingerprints taken by a law enforcement agency as directed by the commissioner. In the event that the first set of fingerprints is invalid due to insufficient pattern and a second set of fingerprints is necessary in order to complete the criminal history records check, [~~the~~] any conditional offer of employment shall remain in effect. If, after 2 attempts, a set of fingerprints is invalid due to insufficient pattern, the commissioner may, in lieu of the criminal history records check, accept police clearances from every city, town, or county where a candidate or employee has lived during the past 5 years.

III. To obtain a state records check only, the commissioner or his or her designee shall submit a state criminal history records release form to the division of state police. To obtain both the federal and the state records check, the commissioner or his or her designee shall submit the criminal history records release form and applicant finger print card to the division of state police, which shall conduct a criminal history records check through its records and through the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Upon completion of the background investigation, the division of state police shall report any criminal conviction information to the commissioner or his or her designee. The commissioner or his or her designee may submit fingerprint information electronically, in accordance with procedures established by the division of state police. The department shall maintain the confidentiality and security of all criminal history records information received pursuant to this paragraph.

IV. The commissioner may require the candidate or employee to pay the actual costs of the background investigation and the criminal history records check.

V. For purposes of this section, the terms "candidate" and "employee" shall include any contractor, subcontractor, vendor, or other person performing work, including unpaid work or as a volunteer, at the department of revenue administration.

37 Nullification. The provisions of 2018, 52:2 (SB 406-FN of the regular legislative session) shall not take effect.

38 Contingency; Emergency Medical and Trauma Services; Criminal History Record Checks. If HB 1684 of the 2018 regular legislative session becomes law, section 8 of this act shall not take effect. If HB 1684 does not become law, section 8 of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

39 Effective Date.

I. Section 36 of this act shall take effect January 1, 2019.

II. Section 8 of this act shall take effect as provided in section 38 of this act.

III. The remainder of this act shall take effect 60 days after its passage.

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 7 with the following:

8 Contingent Version; Coverage for Prescription Contraceptive Devices and for Contraceptive Services. RSA 415:6-w is repealed and reenacted to read as follows::

415:6-w Coverage for Prescription Contraceptive Drugs and Prescription Contraceptive Devices and for Contraceptive Services. Each insurer that issues or renews any individual policy of accident or health insurance providing benefits for medical or hospital expenses, shall provide to certificate holders of such insurance, who are residents of this state, coverage for outpatient contraceptive services under the same terms and conditions as for other outpatient services. "Outpatient contraceptive services" means consultations, examinations, and medical services, provided on an outpatient basis, including the initial screening provided through a pharmacy pursuant to RSA 318:47-l at a rate established by contract between the pharmacy and the insurer or its pharmacy benefits manager, and related to the use of contraceptive methods to prevent pregnancy which have been approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. Each insurer that issues or renews any individual policy of accident or health insurance providing benefits for medical or hospital expenses shall cover all prescription contraceptive drugs and contraceptive devices approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. Coverage shall include contraceptives dispensed in a quantity intended to last for a 12-month period if prescribed in that quantity. An insurer shall not impose utilization review requirements or other limitations to control the prescribing or dispensing of contraceptives to an amount that is less than a 12-month supply, if that quantity is prescribed. An insurer shall not be required to cover more than one 12-month contraceptive prescription in a single dispensing per plan year. A deductible, copayment, coinsurance, or other cost-sharing requirement shall not be imposed on the coverage of prescription contraceptive drugs and contraceptive devices approved by the FDA under this section. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if there is a therapeutic equivalent of a drug or device for an FDA-approved contraceptive method, an insurer may impose cost-sharing requirements as long as at least one drug or device for that method is available without cost-sharing; provided that if an individual's provider recommends a particular FDA-approved contraceptive drug or device based on a medical determination, the insurer shall provide coverage for the prescribed contraceptive drug or device without cost-sharing. Nothing in this section shall be construed as altering the terms and conditions of a contract relating to prescription drugs and outpatient services. Notwithstanding any provision of law or rule to the contrary, the coverage under this section shall apply to the medical assistance program, pursuant to RSA 161 and RSA 167.

9 Contingent Version; Coverage for Prescription Contraceptive Drugs and Prescription Contraceptive Devices and for Contraceptive Services. Amend RSA 415:18-i to read as follows:

415:18-i Coverage for Prescription Contraceptive Drugs and Prescription Contraceptive Devices and for Contraceptive Services. Each insurer that issues or renews any group policy of accident or health insurance providing benefits for medical or hospital expenses, which provides coverage for outpatient services shall provide to each group, or to the portion of each group comprised of certificate holders of such insurance who are residents of this state, coverage for outpatient contraceptive services under the same terms and conditions as for other outpatient services. "Outpatient contraceptive services" means consultations, examinations, and medical services, provided on an outpatient basis, including the initial screening provided through a pharmacy pursuant to RSA 318:47-l at a rate established by contract between the pharmacy and the insurer or its pharmacy benefits manager, and related to the use of contraceptive methods to prevent pregnancy which [~~has~~] have been approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. Each insurer that issues or renews any policy of group accident or health insurance providing benefits for medical or hospital expenses [~~which provides a prescription rider~~] shall cover all prescription contraceptive drugs and prescription contraceptive devices approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration [~~under the same terms and conditions as other prescription drugs~~]. Coverage shall include contraceptives dispensed in a quantity intended to last for a 12-month period, if prescribed in that quantity. An insurer shall not impose utilization review requirements or other limitations to control the prescribing or dispensing of contraceptives to an amount that is less than a 12-month supply, if that quantity is prescribed. An insurer shall not be required to cover more than one 12-month contraceptive prescription in a single dispensing per plan year. A deductible, copayment, coinsurance, or other cost-sharing requirement shall not be imposed on the coverage of prescription contraceptive drugs and contraceptive devices approved by the FDA under this section. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if there is a therapeutic equivalent of a drug or device for an FDA-approved contraceptive method, an insurer may impose cost-sharing requirements as long as at least one drug or device for that method is available without cost-sharing; provided that if an individual's provider recommends a particular FDA-approved contraceptive drug or device based on a medical determination, the insurer shall provide coverage for the prescribed contraceptive drug or device without cost-sharing. Nothing in this section shall be construed as altering the terms and conditions of a contract relating to prescription drugs and outpatient services. Notwithstanding any provision of law or rule to the contrary, the coverage under this section shall apply to the medical assistance program, pursuant to RSA 161 and RSA 167.

10 Contingent Version; Coverage for Prescription Contraceptive Drugs and Prescription Contraceptive Devices and for Contraceptive Services; Health Service Corporations. Amend RSA 420-A:17-c to read as follows:

420-A:17-c Coverage for Prescription Contraceptive Drugs and Prescription Contraceptive Devices and for Contraceptive Services. Every health service corporation and every other similar corporation licensed under the laws of another state that issues or renews any policy of group accident or health insurance providing benefits for medical or hospital expenses, which provides coverage for outpatient services shall provide to each group, or to the portion of each group comprised of certificate holders of such insurance who are residents of this state, coverage for outpatient contraceptive services under the same terms and conditions as for other outpatient services. "Outpatient contraceptive services" means consultations, examinations, and medical services, provided on an outpatient basis, including the initial screening provided through a pharmacy pursuant to RSA 318:47-l at a rate established by contract between the pharmacy and the insurer or its pharmacy benefits manager, and related to the use of contraceptive methods to prevent pregnancy which [~~has~~] have been approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. Each health service corporation and every other similar corporation licensed under the laws of a different state that issues or renews any group policy of accident or health insurance providing benefits for medical or hospital expenses [~~which provides a prescription rider~~] shall cover all prescription contraceptive drugs and prescription contraceptive devices approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration [~~under the same terms and conditions as other prescription drugs~~]. Coverage shall include contraceptives dispensed in a quantity intended to last for a 12-month period, if prescribed in that quantity. An insurer shall not impose utilization review requirements or other limitations to control the prescribing or dispensing of contraceptives to an amount that is less than a 12-month supply, if that quantity is prescribed. An insurer shall not be required to cover more than one 12-month contraceptive prescription in a single dispensing per plan year. FOR THE COMMITTEE

Explanation to Enrolled Bill Amendment to HB 1819-FN

This enrolled bill amendment inserts contingent versions of the law to avoid a conflict with HB 1686-FN of the 2018 regular legislative session.

Enrolled Bill Amendment to HB 1819-FN

Amend the bill by replacing all after section 16 with the following:

17 Definition; Scholarship Receipt; Contingent Version. Amend RSA 77-G:1, XX to read as follows:

XX. "Scholarship receipt" means a document developed by the department of revenue administration and submitted by a scholarship organization to the business organization, business enterprise, or individual and that contains at a minimum:

(a) The business organization's, business enterprise's, or individual's name, address, and federal taxpayer identification number.

(b) The [~~amount of the donations used or carried forward and the amount not used~~] donation amount and date received or postmarked.

(c) The scholarship organization's name and address.

18 Scholarship Organizations; Awards; Contingent Version. Amend RSA 77-G:5, I(i)(2) to read as follows:

(2) Not knowingly award a scholarship to any lineal descendant or equivalent step-person of any proprietor, partner, or member of any business organization, business enterprise, or individual making a contribution to a scholarship organization and claiming a credit against the business profits tax, business enterprise tax, or tax on interest and dividends, nor any lineal descendant or equivalent step-person of any officer, director, or owner of more than a 5 percent interest in any business organization, business enterprise, or individual making a contribution to a scholarship organization and claiming a credit against the business profits tax, business enterprise tax, or tax on interest and dividends, nor any employee who is among the highest-paid 20 percent of paid employees in any business organization, business enterprise, or individual making a contribution to a scholarship organization and claiming a credit against the business profits tax, business enterprise tax, or tax on interest and dividends.

19 Scholarship Applications; Contingent Version. Amend RSA 77-G:5, II(a)-(c) to read as follows:

II.(a) An organization seeking approval as a scholarship organization under this chapter shall submit an application to the department of revenue administration each program year no later than June 15. The department of revenue administration shall approve or deny the application within 30 days of receipt of the application or the scholarship organization report, whichever is later. The department shall deny any application that fails to meet the statutory requirements and shall notify the scholarship organization of the reasons for denial.

(b) A business organization, business enterprise, or individual shall submit an education tax credit application to the department of revenue administration [~~no earlier than January 1 and no later than November 15. The department shall approve these applications within 30 days~~] no later than May 31 of each program year. Applications received after May 31 shall be processed for the following program year and approved within 30 days of receipt or within 30 days of the department of revenue administration's approval of the scholarship organization, whichever comes later. Applications shall be processed on a first come-first served basis, up to the aggregate tax credit amount allowed under RSA 77-G:4. If multiple education tax credit applications are received on the same day, they shall be processed at random. No business organization, business enterprise, or individual shall be granted an education tax credit for more than 10 percent of the aggregate tax credit amount permitted in RSA 77-G:4. The department of revenue administration may approve only a portion of a request if required to prevent exceeding the aggregate tax credit amount allowed under RSA 77-G:4. The approval shall include the amount allowed and the date of approval.

(c) Once an education tax credit application is approved, the business organization, business enterprise, or individual shall donate [~~within~~] no later than 60 days [~~of~~] after the date of approval, [~~but no later than December 15,~~] and no later than June 30 of the program year during which its application was approved or the request shall expire. Donations may be made to multiple scholarship organizations provided the total amount donated by the business organization, business enterprise, or individual does not exceed the amount approved.

20 Contingency. If HB 1686-FN of the 2018 regular legislative session becomes law, sections 17-19 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2018 at 12:01 a.m. and sections 4, 11, and 12 of this act shall not take effect. If HB 1686-FN does not become law, sections 4, 11, and 12 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2018 and sections 17-19 of this act shall not take effect.

21 Effective Date.

I. Sections 9, 13, and 15 of this act shall take effect July 1, 2018, at 12:01 a.m.

II. Sections 4, 11, 12, and sections 17-19 of this act shall take effect as provided in section 20 of this act.

SPECIAL SESSION SENATE JOURNAL

Call the Senate to Order.

The Senate convened at 10:00 a.m., a quorum being present.

The Reverend, Pastor Mark Warren, chaplain to the Senate, offered the following prayer:

Let's pray.

God, we thank you for this time that we can come together. I'm sure hearts and minds are spinning when people feel like they need the break and want to be on break, but a Special Session has been called. So, we ask you, God, to give us clarity of mind, settle our hearts. With potential new legislation, Father, I just pray that you would give us unity of the issues at hand. Help us to stay focused on what is good for the citizens of New Hampshire. Let us treat each other with respect as we address one another; and let it be done with love and kindness. I just ask that your covering and protection would be over this meeting. Amen.

Senator Giuda led the Pledge of Allegiance.

INTRODUCTION OF PAGES

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I'm honored to introduce one of our two Pages this morning. Max Paganini, a good Irish name. Fifteen years old in the tenth grade out of the Tilton School in Sanbornton. Max welcome here. His favorite subject is history; varsity soccer, varsity hockey, varsity golf are his sports. Max enjoys all things outdoors: fly fishing, mountain biking. He's a Mack Moran Scholar at Tilton School, that's a scholar recognition for students who have demonstrated exceptional academic achievement and habits of mind. His future aspirations are to attend an Ivy League school and eventually pursue a career in world health. Max, on behalf of the Senate and the citizens, welcome to our Senate.

(The Chair recognized Senator French.)

SENATOR FRENCH: Thank you, Mister President. I would like to introduce our other Page, Molly Sottak. Molly is fifteen years old and in the tenth grade. She lives in Belmont and attends Belmont High School. Her favorite subject is English. She plays varsity soccer, varsity basketball and track and field events and while doing all this, she still maintains high enough grades to be on the honor roll. Molly's future plans are to be an English teacher and I'm sure she will succeed. Molly, welcome to the Senate.

PRESIDENT MORSE: You probably are wondering, some of you, why we are here in this room. Well, first let me thank you for coming in the middle of July. But I also want you to know that our chamber is completely torn apart. Stripped right down. The ceiling is gone. So, we won't have it back until probably close to the end of October, but the luxury is we have air conditioning over here and it's a plus, but it doesn't mean we want to stay here all day.

But we do have some research. The Senate has held sessions in other locations spanning the state. In 1973 in celebration of the 190th birthday of the Senate; in addition to two sessions in 1791 in Portsmouth; and in 1792 in Exeter, predating the construction of the State House, nearly two hundred years ago; and the naming of Concord as the state capital in 1808. We are not going to debate that today.

Most of you know we are meeting here today because the Senate Chamber is currently under renovation. As far as the work being done to update the chamber, we are making some updates including new carpeting on the Senate floor and the gallery, and adjoining offices. The Senate gallery is also getting updates with refurbishing the seats and restoring and painting the frames of the chairs. One of the most dramatic changes we are making is to the ceiling. At this point, we have removed the drop ceiling tiles and unfortunately the original ceiling beneath can't be practically salvaged. With input from Senator Watters, where are you? We basically came up with a solution that I think will work. We brought in professionals to make recommendations and we made a decision and we're moving forward with that to try and keep the historical value and keep some common sense in how we get there, and to make sure we get there by October. So, had we chosen a different direction we wouldn't have made it. The murals will be cleaned after the ceiling work is completed and the chamber will also see some electrical and technical upgrades. Not as techy as some of you may want, Senator Bradley, Senator Sanborn. I didn't want to encourage that for any future Senate. But I think you'll see that we are providing much more electrical in there to make sure that you can charge your phones out back. We are looking forward to this whole project coming together and I thank you for bearing with us today.

PRESIDENT MORSE: The Senate will be attentive to the Clerk for a message.

PROCLAMATION MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR AND EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The State of New Hampshire
By His Excellency
Christopher T. Sununu, Governor
With the Advice of the Honorable Executive Council

A Proclamation

In the year of our Lord Two Thousand and Eighteen

WHEREAS, on June 21, 2018, the United States Supreme Court issued its decision in South Dakota v. Wayfair, Inc., et al, (the "Wayfair decision") in which the Court overturned 50 years of precedent that a retailer must be physically present in a state before the state could impose its sales and use tax collection requirements; and

WHEREAS, the Wayfair decision has created enormous uncertainty and could require New Hampshire businesses to collect sales and use taxes for over 10,000 state and local jurisdictions where they have no physical presence; and

WHEREAS, the State of New Hampshire has made a fundamental policy decision to not impose a general sales and use tax; and

WHEREAS, the welfare of the people of the State of New Hampshire requires the convening of the General Court in special legislative session for the purpose of enacting legislation to respond to the Wayfair decision; and

WHEREAS, the Executive Department, in calling such a session, intends an agenda limited to passing comprehensive legislation which takes every feasible and legally permissible step to protect New Hampshire citizens and businesses from any and all attempts by foreign state and local taxing jurisdictions to impose sales and use tax collection obligations on New Hampshire businesses in violation of the Due Process Clause and Commerce Clause of the United States Constitution or any other provision of law;

NOW, THEREFORE I, CHRISTOPHER T. SUNUNU, GOVERNOR, with the advice of the Council, on a motion duly seconded, hereby exercise my legislative authority under Part 2, Article 50 of the New Hampshire Constitution and summon the General Court to convene in Special Session on a date to be specified by the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate, but to occur no later than August 15, 2018.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the State of New Hampshire to be affixed this 11th day of July, 2018.

Christopher T. Sununu
Governor

A roll call was taken by the Clerk of the Senate with 24 Senators in attendance.

Senator Bradley moved, resolved, that the House of Representatives be informed that under the authority of the call of the Special Session by the Governor and Council, the Senate has assembled and is now ready to proceed with the business of the Special Session. Adopted.

ADOPTION OF SPECIAL SESSION SENATE RULES

Senator Bradley moved, resolved, that the Senate adopt the 2018 Special Session Senate Rules as proposed, copies of which are provided in the senate calendar.

PART ONE

DUTIES OF THE SENATE PRESIDENT

1-1 Determination of Quorum – In the Special Session the President, having taken the chair, shall determine a quorum to be present and shall immediately call the members to order.

1-2 Members, Conduct When Speaking - Any member, wishing to speak, shall notify the President. When recognized to speak, the member shall rise and address the President, and when finished shall then sit down.

1-3 Members Not to Speak More Than Twice - No member shall speak more than twice on the same question on the same day without leave of the Senate President.

1-4 President Shall Recognize Whom - When more than one member wishes to speak at the same time, the President shall decide who shall speak first.

1-5 Questions of Order, Appeal - The President shall preserve decorum and order. If any member transgresses the rules of the Senate, the President shall, or any member may, call said member to order in which case the member so called to order shall immediately cease and desist, and the Senate, if appealed to, shall decide the case. But if there is no appeal, the decision of the President shall be conclusive.

1-6 Galleries, Clearing of - In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the gallery, the President shall have the power to order the same to be cleared. The Chairman of the Committee of the Whole may restrict attendance to the duly elected Senators.

1-7 President to Sign Bills, etc - All warrants, subpoenas and other processes issued by order of the Senate shall be under the hand and seal of the President attested by the Clerk.

1-8 President May Name Member to Chair - The President when performing the duties of the Chair may, at any time, name any member to perform the duties of the Chair.

PART TWO

THE SENATE SESSION

DECORUM

2-1 Absence of Members from Session - No member shall absent himself or herself without permission from the Senate.

2-2 Decorum While Another is Speaking - No member shall hold conversation with another while a member is speaking in debate.

2-3 Use of Electronic Devices - The use of electronic devices, with the exception of Senate-issued devices and devices used by members of the media, is prohibited on the Senate floor during session, unless the Senate is in recess or unless otherwise approved by the Senate.

2-4 Recording and Broadcast Devices During Recess - All recording and broadcast devices used on the Senate floor shall be paused or otherwise prevented from recording or broadcasting audio or video of members or staff while the Senate is in recess.

DEBATE

2-5 Motions - Motions during debate shall be considered according to the provisions of Table I, with said motions listed in order of decreasing precedence.

2-6 No Substitution under Color of Amendment - No new motion shall be admitted under color of amendment as a substitute for the motion under debate.

2-7 Reconsideration Restrictions - No vote shall be reconsidered unless the motion for reconsideration is made by a member who voted with the prevailing side and, if the vote applied to a bill, the bill to which the vote applied is in the possession of the Senate.

2-8 Reconsideration Process - A motion to reconsider shall be made in open special session prior to adjournment from the early session on the same day on which the vote to be reconsidered was taken, in which case, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate, the reconsideration vote shall be taken up immediately.

2-9 Division of the Question - Any member may call for the division of the question and when the sense will admit it, as determined by the President, the question shall be divided.

Table I - Motions

Privileged Motions

Motion	Debatable	Amendable	Notes
Adjourn	No	Yes	Amendments limited to the time to which to adjourn.
Recess	No	Yes	Amendments limited to length of the recess.

Incidental Motions (all become main motions if made when no question is pending or when not related to the business at hand)

Motion	Debatable	Amendable	Notes
Appeal	Yes	No	Debate limited to the specific decision of presiding officer from which appeal is made. Presiding officer is allowed to speak. The question to be put is, "Shall the decision of the president stand?" A tie vote also sustains the chair's ruling.
Point of Order	No	No	Calls attention to a violation of rules or order. May be raised when another member is speaking. Not technically a motion, but the presiding officer could submit the question to the Senate, at which point it becomes a motion open for debate, but not amendment.
Parliamentary Inquiry	No	No	Requests information from the presiding officer about parliamentary procedure or Senate rules. May be raised when another member is speaking only if it requires immediate attention. Not technically a motion.

Object to Reading of Papers	No	No	Reading from documents as part of a speech is generally allowed as a courtesy, provided the papers are relevant, short and not used as a delaying tactic. Any member may object during the reading, however, and the body decides whether permission to read is granted.
Suspend the Rules	No	No	Requires a 2/3 vote. See Rule 5-5.

Subsidiary Motions

Motion	Debatable	Amendable	Notes
Lay Upon the Table	No	No	May be applied to a main motion with other pending motions, in which case the main motion, along with all pending motions, is laid on the table.
Previous Question	No	No	If not otherwise specified, ends debate and calls for a vote on the immediately pending question. May be used to end debate and call for votes on all pending questions.
Amend	Yes	Yes
Postpone Indefinitely	Yes	No	Opens the main question for debate, since it involves the final disposition of the question. No part of a bill postponed indefinitely shall be acted on in any way for the Special Session.

Main Motions (can only have one main motion before the Senate at a time)

Motion	Debatable	Amendable	Notes
Main Motions	Yes	Yes	Ought to Pass, Ought to Pass w/Amendment, Inexpedient to Legislate.
Bills Amended by the House	Yes	No	See Rule 3-10. Any amendment made to a Senate bill by the House shall be returned to the Senate for Concurrence or Nonconcurrence.
Take From Table	No	No
Special Order	No	No	Moves consideration of a future scheduled item to another time by a simple majority vote prior to adjournment of the early Special Session.
Reconsider	Yes	No	Debatable to the extent the question being reconsidered is debatable. If so, it opens up the original question for debate.

2-10 Personal privilege - A Senator may, as a matter of personal privilege, defend his/her position on a bill, his/her integrity, his/her record, or his/her conduct, against unfair or unwarranted criticism, or may speak of an issue which relates to his/her rights, privileges or conveniences as a Senator; provided, however, the matters raised under personal privilege shall not be subject to questioning, answer, or debate, by another Senator. Personal Privilege remarks may be included in the Daily Journal if requested by the Senator, and in the Permanent Journal by vote of the Senate.

2-11 Other Remarks (Unanimous Consent) - A Senator may, when granted leave by the Senate, speak on other matters of his/her choosing and in such cases may be subject to questioning and/or answer according to the Rules of the Senate. These remarks may be included in the Daily Journal if requested by the Senator, and in the Permanent Journal by vote of the Senate.

VOTING

2-12 General Rules on Voting - All questions shall be put by the President, and no member who was absent when the question was put shall be required to vote.

2-13 Abstaining from a Vote - No member who was present when the question was put shall abstain from voting unless by reason of a conflict pursuant to Rule 5-8 or unless excused by the Senate for a special reason.

2-14 Voice Vote - When the question has been put, each member present shall signify assent or dissent by voting yea or nay.

2-15 Division Vote - If the President doubts or a division is called for, the Senate shall divide. Those in the affirmative on the question shall first rise from their seats and stand until they be counted. They shall then be seated and those in the negative on the question shall rise from their seats and stand until they be counted. The President shall rise and state the decision of the Senate.

2-16 Recorded Voice or Division Vote - Any member may, following a voice or division vote, have his or her vote recorded in the Journal by providing a signed notice of said vote to the Clerk, on a form prescribed by the Clerk.

2-17 Roll Call Vote - When the yeas and nays have been moved by a member and duly seconded by another member, each member present shall declare assent or dissent to the question. The names of the persons so making the motion and the second shall be recorded in the Journal. The President shall determine the order of the roll call.

MISCELLANEOUS

2-18 Visitors to the Senate - No person except members of the Senate and its officers, the Governor, Council members, the Secretary of State, the Treasurer, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and its officers and clerks, shall be admitted to the floor of the Senate while the Senate is in Special session, except by the invitation of the President, or some member with the President's consent.

PART THREE

BILLS

DRAFTING

3-1 Enactment of Laws - Enactment of laws, as provided in the Proclamation for the Call for the Special Session, shall be by bill. No bill or bill amendment shall be introduced into the Senate the subject matter of which is not included in the Proclamation issued by the Governor and Executive Council for the Special Session.

3-2 Office of Legislative Services to Prepare Items - All petitions, memorials and other papers addressed to the Senate and all bills to be introduced in the Senate except those procedural and rules resolutions prepared by the Clerk, shall be delivered or caused to be delivered to the Office of Legislative Services, who shall prepare the items in proper form and present them to the sponsor(s) for signature and then to the Clerk.

3-3 Marking and Numbering Bills - Every bill, except those procedural and rules resolutions prepared by the Clerk, shall be numbered serially according to the type of bill or resolution. Each bill shall be marked on the first page "Special Session Senate Bill".

3-4 Draft Provided to Legislative Budget Assistant - If a drafting request for a bill has been filed with the Office of Legislative Services requiring a fiscal note as provided in RSA 14:44-47, the substance or a draft of the proposal may be provided to the Legislative Budget Assistant for preparation of the required fiscal note without the specific consent of the sponsor of the proposal, provided that the identity of the sponsor shall not be disclosed.

POST-DRAFTING PROCESS

3-5 Reading of Bills and Resolutions - Every bill, except senate resolutions and those procedural and rules resolutions prepared by the Clerk, shall have three readings in the Senate previous to its passage. The first and second readings shall be by title only which may be accomplished by a conglomerate resolution, and shall be printed as provided in Rule 3-6, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate. No bill after it has been read a second time shall have a third reading until after adjournment from the early session. The time assigned for the third reading of bills shall be in the late session unless otherwise ordered by the Senate.

3-6 Printing and Distribution - After every bill shall have been read a second time, the Clerk shall procure a sufficient number of copies, printed on paper of uniform size, for the use of the legislature, and cause the same to be distributed to the members, bills received from the House shall be printed at the same stage of their procedure unless they have been printed in the House and copies distributed in the Senate, in which case any amendment made by the House shall be duplicated and distributed in the Senate.

AMENDMENTS

3-7 Amendments Only on Second Reading - No amendment shall be made but upon the second reading of a bill; and all such amendments shall be in writing, with the name of the Senator and the district he or she represents.

3-8 Review of Amendments by Office of Legislative Services - Amendments shall have been reviewed by the Office of Legislative Services for form, construction, statutory and chapter reference.

3-9 Non-Germane Amendments Prohibited - No amendment to any bill shall be allowed except it be germane. For the purposes of this rule, an amendment to a bill is germane if the subject matter of the amendment is the same as that of some portion of the bill. The prohibition on non-germane amendments shall not apply in the case of a bill previously found ought-to-pass by the Senate being added to a subsequent bill.

GENERAL RULES ON BILLS

3-10 Bills Amended by the House - Any bill returned from the House with an amendment shall have one of the following recommendations considered by the full Senate: Concur or Nonconcur. Adoption of a motion to Nonconcur kills the bill.

Part Four Committee

4-1 Standing Committee - The standing committee of the Senate shall be as follows: the Committee on Rules and Enrolled Bills.

Part Five
Other Rules

Senate Staff

5-1 Composition and Duties - The staff of the Senate shall be comprised of:

(1) A Clerk, who shall be elected by the Senate;

(2) Clerk's office staff, who shall be nominated by the Clerk and appointed by the President; and

(3) Such other personnel as the President shall appoint.

The President shall define the duties of all members of the Senate staff which are not fixed by statute or otherwise ordered by the Senate.

5-2 Days of Employment - Each member of the staff of the Senate shall be available on call to carry out the work of the Senate.

5-3 Requisition Approval Required - No officer or employee of the Senate during the session or any adjournment thereof shall purchase or contract for the purchase, pay, or promise to pay any sum of money on behalf of the Senate or issue any requisition or manifest without the approval of the Senate President.

Senate Rules

5-4 Amending Rules - Any rule of the Special Session of the Senate may be amended by two-thirds majority vote.

5-5 Suspending Rules - No standing rule of the Special Session of the Senate shall be suspended unless two-thirds of the members present and voting vote in favor thereof.

Messages

5-6 Messages Sent to House - Messages shall be sent to the House of Representatives by the Clerk of the Senate.

5-7 Messages, When Received - Messages from the Governor or House of Representatives may be received at all times, except when the Senate is engaged in putting the question, in calling the yeas and nays, or in counting the ballots.

Miscellaneous

5-8 Conflict of Interest - In all instances every member shall act in conformance with the duly adopted Ethical Guidelines and Opinions of the New Hampshire General Court.

5-9 Requests to the Legislative Budget Assistant - Any Senate member may make a request of the Office of the Legislative Budget Assistant Budget Division, for technical staff assistance in the areas of finance, accounting and budgeting. The Budget Division may respond to that request when doing so will not interfere with the Budget Division's principal responsibilities as outlined in RSA 14:31-b, as determined by the Legislative Budget Assistant.

5-10 Committee of the Whole - The Senate may resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole at any time on motion made for that purpose; and in forming a Committee of the Whole; the President shall leave the chair, and appoint a chairperson to preside in committee.

PRESIDENT MORSE: At this point, if anyone has any changes to the rules we're going to do this just like we treat legislation. The rules have been proposed, they've been in the calendar. If there's an amendment to the rules, please state your amendment now.

Senator Feltes moved to amend proposed Special Session Senate Rules 5-4 and 5-5, with the following amendment.

AMENDMENT TO SENATE RULE 5-4 AND 5-5

Amend Senate Rule 5-4 and 5-5 by replacing with the following:

5-4 Amending Rules - Any rule of the Special Session of the Senate may be amended by majority vote.

5-5 Suspending Rules - No standing rule of the Special Session of the Senate shall be suspended unless a majority of the members present and voting vote in favor thereof.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. What's being handed out is a modification to the proposed Rule 5-4 and 5-5 to reflect that a suspension of our rules is by a majority vote which is our typical rule process and was our rule process in special session in 2015. Right now the rules are written that a suspension of the rules would be by a two-thirds vote, which in my view could preclude the introduction of further consideration of legislation that is of pressing interest to the state of New Hampshire and to this body. Some may argue that, look we need to limit this to what the Governor and Council has prescribed for us today based on their resolutions, so a two-thirds supermajority makes sense. However, I'll just note that in 2006, the Supreme Court, New Hampshire Supreme Court in Starr v. Governor 154 N.H. 174, found that the clause authorizing the Governor to call us, the legislature into special session does not quote, "does not in any way limit the legislature's response to the Governor's call for a special session. We believe…" this is the court talking, "We believe that the state constitution empowers the legislature to enact any laws and statutes for the benefit of the state, whenever it sits in session, general or special session." Unquote.

So, to do a supermajority requirement to preclude the consideration of any other matter before this body, pressing issues before the state of New Hampshire, I think in my view, conflicts with the purpose of our mandate, conflicts with the state constitution, and conflicts with how we've traditionally, at least in 2015 anyways, handled special sessions. So I respectfully encourage the adoption of the modification of the Rule 5.4 and 5.5 so that a majority of Senators can vote on suspending these rules to consider other matters. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. And I ask that the body vote down the proposed amendment to Rule 5-4 and 5-5 for the following reasons. We always suspend our rules by a two-thirds vote and that's what's at stake here. Under the constitution, we can adopt rules. I think that's clear. But historically we always suspend the rules by a two-thirds vote. What is coming before us today has been fully vetted last week by a task force that you, Mister President and the Speaker of the House, assigned several of us to sit on. Any other matter would be extraneous and should be subject to the two-thirds rule. So on the pending vote of the amendment proposed by my colleague from Senate District 15, I would ask a no vote. Thank you, Mister President.

The question is on the adoption of the motion to amend Special Session Senate Rules 5-4 and 5-5.

A roll call was requested by Senator Avard, seconded by Senator Feltes.

The following Senators voted Yes: Woodburn, Watters, Hennessey, Sanborn, Kahn, Lasky, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Soucy, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark.

The following Senators voted No: Giuda, Bradley, Gray, French, Ward, Daniels, Avard, Carson, Reagan, Birdsell, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

Roll Call, Yeas: 11 - Nays: 13. Failed.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Are there any other amendments to come before us? Seeing none, the question is on the adoption of Senator Bradley's proposal to the Rules as posted in the calendar.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: I move adoption of the Rule as proposed.

The question is on the adoption of the motion to adopt the 2018 Special Session Senate Rules.

A roll call was requested by Senator Avard, seconded by Senator Sanborn.

The following Senators voted Yes: Giuda, Bradley, Watters, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Kahn, Daniels, Avard, Carson, Reagan, Birdsell, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: Woodburn, Hennessey, Lasky, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Soucy, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark.

Roll Call, Yeas: 16 - Nays: 8. Adopted.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Let me explain what we need to do right now. We're going to take a recess for fifteen minutes to get organized on any amendments to Senate Bill 1; and any legislation that's going to be drafted. I'm assuming that most of you have worked with OLS in all these things. So, I don't believe it will take more than fifteen minutes. So, we'll take a break for fifteen minutes. If the Republicans could meet in 209.

Recess. Out of recess.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The House of Representatives, pursuant to the call from the Governor and Council, has assembled and is now ready to proceed with the business of the 2018 Special Session.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL SESSION SENATE BILL 1-FN

Senator Bradley moved introduction of Special Session Senate Bill 1-FN, and resolve that, in accordance with the list in the possession of the Clerk, legislation numbered Special Session Senate Bill 1-FN shall be by this Resolution read a first and second time by the therein listed title.

First and Second Reading

SSSB 1-FN, requiring notice and approval of certain actions to commence audits of collection liabilities arising under certain sales and use tax statutes and prohibiting New Hampshire remote sellers from disclosing private customer information to foreign taxing authorities in connection with the collection of certain sales and use taxes.

Adopted.

Senator Bradley moved Ought to Pass.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you, Mister President. I want to first start out by congratulating all the staff and all the administrative people that have made what is a very historic morning for all of us. I think this is only the third or fourth time the New Hampshire Senate has ever met outside of our chambers across the street. So thank you all for the hard work that you've done. I want to thank you, Mister President, as well as the Speaker of the House for appointing myself, Senator Carson, Senator Daniels, Senator Giuda, Senator Avard, Senator Feltes and Senator D'Allesandro to the task force that met one day two weeks ago and three days last week in this room and laboriously went through, line by line, comma by comma, Special Session Bill 1 that a number of us have sponsored.

On an overall basis, what is important to note is that this bill was drafted by the Attorney General's Office with the input of the Governor's legal counsel and a seventeen-member task force that as I said, went through every line and every comma.

The purpose of this bill is to make sure that in light of the Wayfair United States Supreme Court decision, we are protecting New Hampshire businesses should there be an attempt by an out-of-state taxing jurisdiction. And there's some 10,000 of them around the countries, not just the forty-five other states that have sales taxes, but multiple other taxing jurisdictions to comply with New Hampshire laws, to protect New Hampshire businesses from the cost of that potential collection, and to make sure that there is no consumer fraud and scam going on through the attempt to collect.

So, what this bill does is several things. If you look through the bill, the first two or three pages are all a purpose statement. I'm not going to go through what each and every one of the purpose statement means because it's all pretty apparent what that is but in the definitions we build upon RSA 78-D, which was legislation that came as a result of past incidents with New Hampshire and Massachusetts as the Massachusetts Department of Revenue in the Town Fair case in 2009 attempted to collect a sales tax on its residents or from our businesses that Massachusetts residents were shopping in. The Supreme Judicial Court in Massachusetts ruled in favor of not collecting that tax because it ruled that you don't know if you're a merchant, where that product is being used; and that protected New Hampshire businesses.

So, what this measure does is build upon that and it is a new section of law, RSA 78-E. It does several things. First of all, if you are one of those 10,000 out-of-state foreign taxing jurisdictions, you'll have to register with the Department of Justice 120 days prior to attempting any kind of tax collection effort, be it an audit, a request for information, or a request of the business to remit a tax to the out-of-state taxing jurisdiction. The legislation also requires that if there is an attempt to do that, attempt to ask for information, do an audit that also prior to that, the Attorney General's Office will need to be notified 120 days. The Attorney General's Office then must make a determination if a registration has happened, and to make a determination that what the out-of-state taxing jurisdiction is doing is indeed constitutional under the New Hampshire Constitution as well as the United States Constitution. This is designed among other things, to make sure there is no consumer fraud and consumers are protected and businesses are protected from scam artists, quite frankly.

So, if the attorney general makes that determination, then several other things happen in this bill that was worked on extensively. And I have to say, and thank all the members of the task force that voted for introduction of this bill on a bipartisan and unanimous basis. And here's why I think it was bipartisan and unanimous: because we did our homework starting with the Attorney General's Office.

Number one: the bill calls for a safe harbor. So small transactions from small merchants are protected, as well they should be. We cite the fact that there should be no retroactive taxation; that any other foreign taxing jurisdiction be part of what's known as the streamlined sales tax agreement, which we are not part of because we do not have a sales tax. We also stress, and we spent a lot of time talking about this in the task force, that New Hampshire businesses that are potentially going to have significant costs, costs in terms of software, potential hardware for computer systems, training of their employees, the cost of collection, the cost of remittance, the cost of accounting, that there be a mechanism for New Hampshire businesses to recover those costs. And let's remember for all of us that have been here a long time, that's exactly what we do with the rooms and meals tax for New Hampshire merchants collecting the rooms and meals tax for our Department of Revenue.

We also cite in this legislation that the state, or the other jurisdiction, the foreign taxing jurisdiction, make every attempt possible to collect the tax that they feel they're entitled to from their residents before they come to New Hampshire businesses to try to collect that tax.

And lastly, there's a provision that says the foreign taxing entity must comply with all the laws and rules in the state of New Hampshire, something that Senator Carson was very adamant be included in this legislation.

There was concern expressed about the workload on the Attorney General's Office. The task force added an opportunity for the Attorney General's Office to assess a fee– not on any New Hampshire entity, I want to make that crystal clear, for some people that don't like fees, and that's probably most of us– it would be on the out-of-state jurisdiction to pay a fee to defray the collection cost, if you will, that the Attorney General's Office might have to do with the registration and the review of all the documentation. That is to be adopted under emergency rulemaking authority. That is the section of the legislation that determines the minimum protection.

After that, the next major section that's very important is the enforcement section. This legislation allows the attorney general to bring an action in the Merrimack Superior Court or any other court of jurisdiction in New Hampshire, and the court would react as expeditiously as possible. The Attorney General's Office has the power to subpoena documents and demand documents if there is the possibility of those documents being destroyed.

Those, and I may have forgotten a couple of provisions and maybe some of the other task force members, if I have, can highlight some of those other provisions, but I think I've hit the main points except for the fact that we also added a commission at the end of the bill with a number of different state departments; obviously the Attorney General's Office, the Department of Revenue, the Business and Economic Affairs, a member of the BIA, a member of the Retail Merchants Association, an actual merchant, an actual New Hampshire remote seller, a tax attorney or a tax accountant; a broad spectrum as well as legislators on a bipartisan basis. Because I think all of us that sat on the task force understand that this is not a short-term issue for the state of New Hampshire and our business community. This is a long-term issue that is going to require more clarity from our federal courts because remember the Wayfair decision was remanded back to the South Dakota court for clarification on a number of issues. So, a commission will make an interim report and a final report in 2019.

I think it's safe to say that we probably won't be debating this issue in this room in two or three years, we'll be debating it across the street because it is likely to be an issue of great import to our nation and obviously to our state.

Thank you, Mister President. I urge– happy to answer any questions– I urge my colleagues to support this. Remember, it was bipartisan, and we did take public comment, a lot of public comment in fact, on the bill that you see before you. Thank you, Mister President.

Floor Amendment to SSSB 1-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT requiring notice and approval of certain actions to commence audits of collection liabilities arising under certain sales and use tax statutes and prohibiting New Hampshire remote sellers from disclosing private customer information to foreign taxing authorities in connection with the collection of certain sales and use taxes and requiring the department of justice to consider any legal recourse New Hampshire may have against negative impacts of President Donald J. Trump's tariffs.

Amend the bill by inserting after section 2 the following and renumbering the original section 3 to read as 4:

3 Department of Justice. The department of justice shall review and consider any and all possible legal recourse New Hampshire may have against the United States in order to protect and advance the interests of New Hampshire's citizens, businesses, and economy in response to the negative impact of President Donald J. Trump's tariffs. The department of justice shall provide a report on or before October 1, 2018 to the senate commerce committee and the house commerce and consumer affairs committee, including any recommendations or planned remedies for New Hampshire.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill prohibits foreign taxing jurisdictions from requesting information from, conducting examinations of, or imposing sales and use tax collection obligations on sellers in New Hampshire, unless the foreign taxing jurisdiction registers with and provides notice to the New Hampshire department of justice. This bill also prohibits sellers in New Hampshire from providing private customer information to any foreign taxing authority for purposes of determining liability for collection of certain sales or use taxes unless the seller has provided a written notice of the request for such information to the department of justice. This bill allows sellers to comply with any directive of a foreign taxing authority, while preserving the seller's rights under the statute, if the seller determines that such compliance is in the seller's best interest. The bill also establishes a commission to study ways to protect the New Hampshire advantage for New Hampshire businesses as a result of the uncertainty created from the United States Supreme Court decision in South Dakota v. Wayfair, which changed the long held view of the physical presence rule.

This bill also requires the department of justice to consider any possible legal recourse New Hampshire may have against the United States to protect New Hampshire from negative impacts of President Donald J. Trump's tariffs.

SENATOR SOUCY: Thank you, Mister President, and thank you, colleagues. I think all of us are here today gathered to make sure that we do what we can to protect the citizens of New Hampshire and protect New Hampshire businesses. In that regard, the Wayfair decision poses a threat. We do not know yet of any businesses that have been adversely impacted by that decision, but we are considering legislation to take a first step to try to protect business. But what we do know today is that there are New Hampshire businesses currently feeling the impact of tariffs. Tariffs that have been placed by the President on a number of foreign entities, tariffs that are hurting our New Hampshire businesses.

The amendment that I offer, much like the Wayfair decision, empowers the attorney general to take a look at this issue and to take action on the behalf of our citizens and our business and action to improve our economy. It doesn't direct the attorney general to take a specific action, it asks him within his judgment to consider the impact, the adverse impact of these tariffs and to report back to the Senate Commerce Committee and House Commerce Committee by October 1st to make recommendations how we might improve this situation.

Let me just say that the immediate impact is being noted by many small businesses, many larger businesses, most notably by the Business and Industry Association that said the impact of the current tariffs have an impact of $29.2 million to New Hampshire exports. Those are potentially threatened. In addition, the BIA indicated in a recent article that there are concerns about increased prices, lost sales and most importantly lost jobs.

I want to highlight just four businesses quickly that are currently being impacted. Many of you might have heard: Moonlight Meadery; they have suffered a $750,000 loss to their business. They are impacting other businesses. This meadery purchases honey from McClure's Honey Production in Littleton. This is having a cascading effect on other businesses. The Little Bay Lobster Company was planning on 50 percent of their lobster being exported to China. That's not going to happen because of these tariffs. Comptus, Eco Touch, several other New Hampshire businesses, feeling the immediate impact.

It's important that we start to plan for the potential impact of Wayfair, but I suggest that it's more important today that we take action to deal with the immediate impact of tariffs and empower our attorney general to explore any possibilities to protect New Hampshire business. And I would move the amendment. Thank you, Mister President.

The Chair ruled sections of the Floor Amendment non-germane.

Senator Soucy moved to suspend Special Session Senate Rule 3-9.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Senator Soucy moves that we suspend Senate Rule 3-9 to allow the consideration of the non-germane amendment. The motion is to suspend Senate Rule 3-9. Does everyone understand the parliamentary situation? You're voting on suspending the rule.

A roll call was requested by Senator Avard, seconded by Senator Soucy.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Suspension is non-debatable.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters for a parliamentary inquiry.)

SENATOR WATTERS: If I were to want to debate the ruling of the President on the non-germane, may I now do so?

PRESIDENT MORSE: You are debating it, I'm letting you vote on it, Senator. That's the way we set it up. You're voting on whether it's germane or not. The body is. So you're doing that.

SENATOR WATTERS: Further parliamentary inquiry. I thought it was my understanding that in our rules, a ruling on germaneness is in fact debatable as well as voteable.

PRESIDENT MORSE: The ruling on suspension is non-debatable. You're asking to suspend right now, and it's non-debatable.

SENATOR WATTERS: Parliamentary Inquiry. You announced an earlier…a previous ruling that you determined that this was non-germane and that is what I wish to debate under our rules.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Basically you're getting the opportunity right now, I'm giving it to you, to vote on whether it's germane or non-germane. The fact is you can't debate on whether or not about the issue. So, it's pretty clear in our rules.

SENATOR WATTERS: Maybe I am, if I may inquire again, Mister President. Maybe I'm mistaken but I believe that in the initial ruling that something is non-germane was in fact debatable prior to voting on that.

PRESIDENT MORSE: No.

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you.

PRESIDENT MORSE: The motion is to suspend Senate Rule 3-9.

The following Senators voted Yes: Woodburn, Watters, Hennessey, Sanborn, Kahn, Lasky, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Soucy, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark.

The following Senators voted No: Giuda, Bradley, Gray, French, Ward, Daniels, Avard, Carson, Reagan, Birdsell, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

Floor Amendment to SSSB 1-FN

Amend the title of the bill by replacing it with the following:

AN ACT requiring notice and approval of certain actions to commence audits of collection liabilities arising under certain sales and use tax statutes, prohibiting New Hampshire remote sellers from disclosing private customer information to foreign taxing authorities in connection with the collection of certain sales and use taxes, and establishing a commission to study ways to protect the New Hampshire advantage for New Hampshire businesses as a result of the impact and uncertainty created by President Donald J. Trump's tariffs.

Amend RSA 78-E as inserted by section 1 of the bill by inserting the following and renumbering the original RSA 78-E:12 to read as RSA 78-E:13:

78-E:12 Commission Established. There shall be a commission to study ways to protect the New Hampshire advantage for New Hampshire businesses as a result of the impact and uncertainty created by President Donald J. Trump's tariffs.

I. The commission shall be composed of 13 members, as follows:

(a) The attorney general, or designee.

(b) The commissioner of the department of revenue administration, or designee.

(c) The commissioner of the department of business and economic affairs, or designee.

(d) A member of the Business and Industry Association of New Hampshire, appointed by the governor.

(f) A New Hampshire manufacturer, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives.

(g) A New Hampshire small business owner, appointed by the president of the senate.

(h) The chairman of the New Hampshire Canadian Trade Council, or designee.

(i) Three members of the house of representatives, one of whom shall be from the minority party, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives.

(j) Two members of the senate, one of whom shall be from the minority party, appointed by the president of the senate.

II. The duties of the commission shall include, but are not limited to, review and consideration of the impacts of President Donald J. Trump's tariffs on New Hampshire's citizens, businesses and economy, any and all possible policy solutions New Hampshire may take to support our businesses in response to President Donald J. Trump's tariffs, and any recommended action to be taken against the United States in order to protect and advance the interests of New Hampshire's citizens, businesses and economy in response to the negative impact of President Donald J. Trump's tariffs.

III. The commission may solicit information from any person or entity the commission deems relevant to its duties.

IV. The members of the commission shall elect a chairperson from among the members. The first meeting of the commission shall be called by the first-named senate member. The first meeting of the commission shall be held within 30 days of the effective date of this section. Seven members of the commission shall constitute a quorum.

V. The commission shall report its findings and any recommendations for proposed legislation to the president of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, the senate clerk, the house clerk, the governor, and the state library, in an initial report on or before November 1, 2018, an interim report on or before March 1, 2019, and a final report on or before November 1, 2019.

Amend the bill by replacing section 2 with the following:

2 Repeal. The following are repealed:

I. RSA 78-E:11, relative to the establishment of a commission.

II. RSA 78-E:12, relative to a commission to study ways to protect the New Hampshire advantage for New Hampshire businesses as a result of the impact and uncertainty created by President Donald J. Trump's tariffs.

AMENDED ANALYSIS

This bill prohibits foreign taxing jurisdictions from requesting information from, conducting examinations of, or imposing sales and use tax collection obligations on sellers in New Hampshire, unless the foreign taxing jurisdiction registers with and provides notice to the New Hampshire department of justice. This bill prohibits sellers in New Hampshire from providing private customer information to any foreign taxing authority for purposes of determining liability for collection of certain sales or use taxes unless the seller has provided a written notice of the request for such information to the department of justice. This bill allows sellers to comply with any directive of a foreign taxing authority, while preserving the seller's rights under the statute, if the seller determines that such compliance is in the seller's best interest. The bill establishes a commission to study ways to protect the New Hampshire advantage for New Hampshire businesses as a result of the uncertainty created from the United States Supreme Court decision in South Dakota v. Wayfair, which changed the long held view of the physical presence rule.

This bill also establishes a commission to study ways to protect the New Hampshire advantage for New Hampshire businesses as a result of the impact and uncertainty created by President Donald J. Trump's tariffs.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. As been noted, the Special Session Senate Bill 1 creates a commission to continue to study and look at the issue of online sales tax collections by out-of-state foreign taxing jurisdictions and the impact on New Hampshire and New Hampshire businesses.

This creates a commission to look at and evaluate the impact that President Donald J. Trump's tariffs on the economy of the state of New Hampshire. It specifically says, "there shall be a commission to study ways to protect the New Hampshire advantage for New Hampshire businesses as a result of the impact and uncertainty created by President Donald J. Trump's tariffs." The commission composition includes basically the same composition as the composition of the commission on Wayfair. It does sub in the chairman of the New Hampshire Canadian Trade Council. It also subs in a New Hampshire manufacturer and a New Hampshire small business owner appointed respectively by the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate.

We've already heard of the importance of this. I will note Jim Roche's comments in a recent article about the importance of looking at this. He doesn't say it with respect to this amendment, to be clear, but these are his comments: "If our trading partners respond in kind with a full set of tariffs of their own, New Hampshire's manufacturing, technology and construction sectors will incur significant harm. There are 184,000 workers in the Granite State whose jobs are supported by exports. Slapping on tariffs is simply the wrong approach for the United States."

And also note that the BIA signed on to a letter with 245 other business organizations, many of which are in the state of New Hampshire, encouraging action at the federal level in the U.S. Senate to deal with this issue of tariffs and the impact on New Hampshire's businesses, our economy and our consumers who are going to feel the brunt of this and are already feeling the brunt of it.

So, it makes good sense in my view, Mister President, and colleagues, to consider this amendment, form this commission. It's much like the other commission we're likely to form today, and look at this direct impact to the state of New Hampshire, our businesses and our economy. Thank you, Mister President.

This bill also makes an appropriation to the department of health and human services for the purpose of provider rates for mental health and substance misuse services.

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. Mister President, about three weeks ago Governor Sununu signed our bipartisan Medicaid expansion renewal. A key component of that bipartisan compromise was ensuring sufficient behavioral health rates for mental health and opioid substance misuse providers. As we shift to a managed care model, we know that though those rates are going to go down and go down significantly beginning January 1 and this provision of the Medicaid expansion law which was recently signed needs to be effectuated and effectuated soon to provide the certainty to our provider community that they need to continue to keep the capacity that's so essential in combatting our opioid epidemic. That's what this amendment does. It effectuates a law that was recently signed. It sets aside 7.5 million to enhance behavioral health rates consistent with that law, which is chapter law 342, which you can see on line 15. And it protects taxpayers in the sense that if this is not used it lapses back to the general fund.

There's going to be probably a few arguments against this and I'll address them briefly. Number one: someone's going to probably say that as a consequence of Senator Hassan and Senator Shaheen's work to secure 23 million through SAMHSA and opioid related money that we don't need to take action now. The reality is that money can't go to enhance Medicaid rates. So if we don't take action now, and we're enhancing non-Medicaid rates but not Medicaid rates consistent with the new legal requirement, our provider community will have every incentive to give those beds to the non-Medicaid expansion population. That's going to harm our efforts to deal with this crisis.

Second, you'll hear presumably that the rates haven't been set yet by the Department of Health and Human Services and that's true; and that they're waiting to hear from an actuary to give advice and recommendations on where to set that rate. That's also true. However, the response to that is, the rates will, everybody agrees, be higher than the standard Medicaid rate. Will they be as high as the private market rates? I doubt it, based on everything the department's saying. However, everybody agrees the rates will be higher than the standard Medicaid rate effective January 1, which means effective January 1, we need more money.

So, there's two options. It's either found within the Department of Health and Human Services somehow, and then approved at a meeting at Fiscal, or us as a full legislature could take action to provide that certainty right now. That's what this is all about. And anything that's not used, anything that's not used. You may hear well we don't know how much is going to be used, well, if you look at the last line, "if any portion of said sum is not used for the purposes in this section, it shall lapse to the general fund." We protect taxpayers, we make a reasonable course of action today to deal with a pressing issue of public policy that affects our state that we've worked on in a bipartisan way for years. This effectuates a bipartisan compromise that was recently signed into law. We need to move forward on…regardless of what you think about Medicaid expansion, seven of my colleagues here in the Senate voted no, but even those seven can vote yes here today on this because a law's a law and we need to effectuate it. We need to enhance those rates January 1. Time is of the essence and we need to send that message to our provider community that our capacity needs to remain in place for both mental health and substance misuse providers. And we're protecting taxpayers; we are protecting taxpayers by taking this action today to effectuate an existing law and making sure none of our capacity slips in this state.

So, I respectfully just encourage, I know it's, I'm sure you've been encouraged to vote no on all of this but just think about it. Think about the fact that we're in the middle of these epidemics and we've worked together in a bipartisan way on so many of these issues. This is the law, we need to enhance these rates and in my view now is the time to do it. It's a pressing issue. Thank you, Mister President.

The Chair ruled sections of the Floor Amendment non-germane.

Senator Feltes moved to suspend Special Session Senate Rule 3-9.

A roll call was requested by Senator Avard, seconded by Senator Sanborn.

The following Senators voted Yes: Woodburn, Watters, Hennessey, Sanborn, Kahn, Lasky, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Soucy, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark.

The following Senators voted No: Giuda, Bradley, Gray, French, Ward, Daniels, Avard, Carson, Reagan, Birdsell, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

Roll Call, Yeas: 11 - Nays: 13. Failed, lacking the necessary 2/3 vote.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I urge my colleagues to support the current legislation and I want to point out a couple of things that I think are very, very important that are contained in this piece of legislation.

One is RSA 78-E:9, reimbursement for sales and the use of tax collection. That was a key element in this bill. Senator Feltes was very strong in bringing this forward. I supported it along with other members of the commission. The key words are to recover or deduct from any taxes collected. Key element, it protects our small businesses. I think it was essential and we voted for it unanimously at the time.

The second provision that I think, again, was important and brought forward by the minority on the committee was RSA 78-E:11, a commission established, and the composition of that commission. And I want to point out one element of that commission that makes it more viable than it was in the discussionary phase of the event and that was Roman III; the commission may solicit information from any person or entity the commission deems relative to its duties. That means you can go and look for experts who will be up to the moment with regard to the federal situation. There is federal legislation that's been offered, but remember it's 45-5 at the federal level. There are only five states that don't have a sales tax. There are forty-five who do. So, we have got to be in position by virtue of this commission to react to any changes that take place, and I think we have a commission in place that's going to do that.

I think the work done by the task force was bipartisan and was, in my opinion, excellent. The Governor's legal counsel was there to answer every question. And I think he did a superb job. I think the commission itself, in a bipartisan fashion, demonstrated that we can get together and address a problem that affects the most significant aspect of our economy: business, small businesses and large businesses. It would have been nice to add a couple of things to this bill, I realize that's not possible, but indeed our support of this piece of legislation in a bipartisan fashion, demonstrates that we're concerned about our business community, very concerned about our business community, and the items that are in place in this bill make sure that our business community is protected. Key element. Thirty-three percent of the revenue derived by this state comes from business taxes, 33 percent. Very, very significant in our revenue stream. And I'm glad that we were able to get together and put these items in that protect business. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. Mister President I respect and echo the remarks of the Dean and also the majority leader earlier today on this bill. I just want to make a couple things clear to our business community. The state of New Hampshire and the Attorney General's Office is not the business community's de facto attorney, and we wanted to make that very clear throughout this process and I think it's important that New Hampshire businesses, if they do get a notice, they have every opportunity to forward that notice to the Attorney General's Office and the Attorney General's Office can make their determination about how to proceed with an enforcement action. But every New Hampshire business should seek advice on their own with an accountant and/or a lawyer in that not relying specifically on the attorney general to serve as counsel for New Hampshire businesses. That's not the intent of those provisions and that's not how it will operate. In addition, while there is a factor in the analysis that calls for a safe harbor, that's not a safe harbor, it's a factor in the determination that the AG will use to decide for itself whether or not the statute and regulation of an out-of-state taxing jurisdiction meets the requirements under Wayfair.

So, I think it was great work by the task force, bipartisan work, and alike the majority leader. Consumer protection provision was added, registration fees were added and registration requirement, and the requirement to recover and deduct for our business community to keep them whole. However, it is important to note as we have the entire time and I think the attorney general's been very clear about this too, that the attorney general does not serve as legal counsel for every business and that's not what this process is designed to do, but this process does set up reasonable process, reasonable procedure, and reasonable protections for New Hampshire's business community. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President. I too rise to commend the commission's work, the task force work, and I think that the bottom line here, of course, for us was to protect New Hampshire interests, in particular the interests of our businesses and make sure they're held harmless by whatever goes forward on this as well as our cost to government, as well.

I happened to be in Dover yesterday visiting businesses and went into Nicole's Hallmark and I was talking to the owner and said, hey you heard about this Wayfair decision and so and so. Well, I don't know how to explain it. I don't think it will affect us and then she paused for a moment and said, well wait a minute, we have a famous line of jelly beans, and people do order them over the internet. And I said, well the bean counters will be ready; and she said oh my goodness, I'm going to have to talk to my accountant about that?

And so, I think it was particularly important here that we did have provision RSA 78-E: 9, where we say that our businesses will be held harmless. If they have to incur a cost whether for software or for their accounting to collect that tax, they're going to be held harmless. And I like not only that they get to deduct it from the amount of tax collected, but I also like that word recover; because I'm saying, well alright then, if it costs you more to get the software and more cost than you're going to get from the tax you're collecting well let's send a bill to those other states and say that you've got to pay for the cost that went through then.

And secondly, a similar concern for our Department of Justice, Attorney General's Office, I mean I hope that there aren't going to have to be a lot of precedential cases here. I hope that other states will obey our laws, but I think we all know that there are potential costs here and I think it's important to let the Department of Justice through rulemaking to say okay, we're going to hold our taxpayers harmless if we have to charge a fee to these folks coming in, that's the way we're going to do it. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn for a question of Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR KAHN: I have a letter from a small business owner in my district. He owns electronic imaging materials, they do barcode labels. And his concern and, by the way, he's offered some complimentary language on the work of the committee that drafted the legislation, so I think you have hit the mark with this. But in trying to anticipate just how far can this go, that other taxing entities, foreign taxing entities, can go to enact a tax on New Hampshire's businesses, and he raises the question about business registration fees. So, something not covered in the legislation here where we're talking about sales tax and other use taxes. This question is specific to a business registration fee in order for him to continue to do the work that he's doing for businesses out of state. Where would we want to direct this small business owner's question? Would it be to the attorney general, is it yet left to this legislature to make some further determinations or would this go as a question to the study commission?

SENATOR BRADLEY: So, my answer to my friend from Senate District 10 is that this bill, Senate Bill 1 in the Special Session, has no fees or any taxes or changes for New Hampshire businesses. I want to make that crystal clear. The fee that's contemplated is for the out-of-state taxing jurisdiction to defray the costs of the Attorney General's Office. So to the extent that I understand your question about the potential of a business registration, and I'm not sure I do understand it because there's nothing in here that indicates that we're trying to get businesses to register in New Hampshire, that would probably be best addressed to the commission.

SENATOR KAHN: Yes, and so to clarify on that question, this is a business registration fee in the other 10,000 taxing entities, the foreign taxing entities, and if there are required registration fees that New Hampshire businesses have not been paying and they are enacted to be charged to a New Hampshire business to continue to do that work in another state, where can this person and other small businesses direct their concerns about another levy being charged by one of those 10,000 foreign taxing entities on his small business for a registration fee?

SENATOR BRADLEY: I don't think that any, there's anything contemplated and as I'm trying to understand your question; I'm not sure why an out-of-state taxing jurisdiction would force a business to register and then tax them. I think the issue is that they're trying to collect what they deem is a tax that their resident in that foreign jurisdiction is buying from a New Hampshire business and collect their sales tax on that. I don't see any reason why a New Hampshire business would be under any of this that we know to date, and that's all subject to change of course, based on what Congress does, based on further findings of law; I just can't contemplate why a New Hampshire business would have to register in an out-of-state jurisdiction for anything associated to this point with Wayfair.

SENATOR KAHN: And should that become a question, is this commission empowered well enough to receive those kinds of inquiries.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Yeah, I mean the commission, as I think Senator D'Allesandro and Senator Feltes indicated, was given the specific duties of the commission. It says, shall include, and it lists all the duties, but not be limited to. So the commission is empowered by this legislation to look at all issues regarding out-of-state taxing jurisdictions that may feel there's an obligation on the part of a New Hampshire business to remit a tax.

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Senator.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn for a question of Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Senator, thank you for taking my question. I appreciate it. As the Chair of Ways and Means this is important to me, right? As I know it is to you.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Well I'm not Chair of Ways and Means, so–

SENATOR SANBORN: So, as Chair of Ways and Means it's very important to me, and you know that. And in full disclosure, even though we have declarations, Mister President, I am a business owner, I am a taxpayer. I can't think off the top of my head when I've shipped a hamburger out of state recently, but it may or may not affect me ultimately, but I'm still participating.

So, Senator, I want to know did the task force consider the tax ramifications that we understand in the state of New Hampshire today: you have business profits tax and business enterprise tax and there's an offset. So one of my concerns as a business owner, and being on Ways and Means is, was there any discussion relative to if a New Hampshire business becomes obligated to pay a tax to one of the 10,000 jurisdictions, is there an offset to the tax they have to pay; so is the potential for New Hampshire revenue to go down on a taxation basis, or would this be solely an increase in taxes on and above where they are today? And my example is let's say a state has a 10 percent sales tax, right? That's a lot of money. And if they're doing a significant amount of their business in out of New Hampshire states, they couldn't survive, many companies wouldn't be able to survive an increase of 10 percent of their revenue. What do you guys consider in this?

SENATOR BRADLEY: So, let me try to answer the question this way. Obviously when the legislation was drafted, and I think I speak for the task force because we all supported it; but also the Attorney General's Office, the Governor's legal counsel, sought to make sure that there is consumer protection and no scams, and any requests comply with New Hampshire law that they're legit, that they go through the registration process, no retroactivity that whatever safe harbor is established constitutional etcetera, etcetera, etcetera.

We also, and I think there's been a lot of discussion about section 9 of the bill and it also pops up earlier in the bill, that there is an expectation on the part of all of us that worked on the task force that the cost of recovery of the obligation to collect is coming out of the tax proceeds from the foreign jurisdiction. Now, in the example that you raised, that suddenly some point in time in the future, a business as opposed to the customer of that business gets dinged, that's a discussion that will obviously occur in the future as it impacts business profits tax potentially because there could be, there could be that implication but I think we're a long, long ways from that. The commission and all of us, well, you may be in another role, and if you're in that other role, Godspeed on trying to get the other forty-five states to agree to something. But actually, it's in their interest to have a uniform, if there's going to be collections, to make it uniform because different states have different levels of sales taxes and people shop from one state to the other based on the advantage that they have. If there's a 10 percent sales tax in New York versus an 8 percent or a 7 percent, I can't remember what it is, in Connecticut. Those are issues that you may face in Congress, certainly something that was present when I was there. These are issues that are going to play out for a long period of time in my opinion. But for now, we're not aware since 2009 when the Massachusetts Department of Revenue tried to collect taxes on its residents shopping at Town Fair Tire locations in New Hampshire. So, I think that question, while it's important, is very premature. But certainly those of us that remain here in Concord are going to have to watch that carefully.

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Senator. I am just asking for maybe some more clarification for the record. You were talking so much today about our concern that businesses might ultimately become the tax collector for up to 10,000 different jurisdictions. But there may be some confusion out there relative to who is supposed to be paying the tax. Is it the customer or is it the business that's selling the products, and what type of discussions did you guys have when you were crafting the legislation to clearly try to protect everyone from New Hampshire: both the New Hampshire residents buying product or actually the out-of-state residents in the state buying products, from having to pay New Hampshire sales tax; and the New Hampshire businesses that might, might somehow become a forced agent of 10,000 different taxing jurisdictions to collect that tax on behalf of the customer. Is that constitutional and what type of protections have we brought forth to try and defend New Hampshire businesses from becoming the tax men.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Well, I can't answer the constitutionality of it, and I don't know if you're, Senator, looking at the calendar or the bill.

SENATOR SANBORN: I was looking at the calendar.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Okay. So, let me find the section, it is on page 16, I believe, the end of section 1, so it's about two-thirds of the way down that page. And it starts, I don't know, five lines up from the bottom of that paragraph one. "Including whether or not the laws include a use tax and requirement the persons report and pay use tax liability whether or not the foreign taxing jurisdictional authority is actively seeking to enforce its own requirement that persons report and pay tax liability." So what the legislation, and I think it's in another place that is in the bill and I can find it and show it to you afterwards, one of the key provisions of the bill, Senator, is that we expect under New Hampshire law that a foreign taxing jurisdiction is doing everything in its power to collect the tax from its own residents as opposed to coming to a New Hampshire business to collect the tax after the fact.

SENATOR SANBORN: Senator, thank you for taking my question. Quick clarification for the record, in case people listening in. I want to get back to the question that the Senator to my left, Senator Kahn asked you. You know part of this concern that many people have had in the business community is the state of New Hampshire today is the businesses in the state of New Hampshire today are potentially being faced with becoming the tax man for 10,000 different taxing jurisdictions; and that concern is how many of those taxing jurisdictions might say we're going to force you to become our tax agent but we're also going to force you to register so we know who you are and that you're selling stuff. Now the first response you had given to the fine Senator from Keene was, not sure how that happens and maybe the Senator from District 18 or 20 could weigh in at some point. You know for example, we know Manchester, New Hampshire has blue laws that required every single business to register in order to conduct business on Sundays. We know that the Department of Environmental Services, because we're having this issue down in Hampton at one of the gun ranges, is voluntarily providing testing results, but now DES is requiring them to spend 2 or $3,000 a year to register to give them the data that they're self-collecting. So as business owners, there's clearly this concern. I mean you pick the number, Senator, $10, $100, $1,000 times 10,000 taxing jurisdictions could fundamentally cripple the businesses in this state. And I know you appreciate that.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Oh, absolutely and I think everybody that served on the task force appreciated it and that's why we labored over section 9 and also labored over the provision in section 5 that talks about recovery of cost. We fully expect that if a business is subject to hardware and software cost to purchase the services to be able to comply with the tax ruling, if it happens or the training or the actual collection, the remittance, the legal fees, the accounting fees, all of those things that you know a business owner faces, we're making every attempt that we possibly can to ensure that New Hampshire businesses are whole vis-à-vis any attempt by an out-of-state taxing jurisdiction to do that. Now as I've said, I think repeatedly, this is a first step, and we're going to have to monitor this very carefully. We're going to have to monitor what happens in terms of out-of-state taxing jurisdictions, sending requests for audits or tax requests; we're going to have to monitor whether they in fact register; we're going to have to monitor the Wayfair decision and any subsequent decisions coming out of South Dakota and the U.S. Supreme Court. We're even going to have to monitor what the United States Congress may or may not do.

SENATOR SANBORN: Someone might call you on that.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Yeah, well you can call me on that. So this is going to go on for a long, long time. This is a first step, I think it's a good first step. I think all of us that sat on the task force may have wanted to go farther, but I think all of us would agree, the lay of the land is somewhat changeable at this point in time. So this is our best attempt to make sure that we've done everything so New Hampshire businesses are not on the hook for being, as you said, the tax collector for a foreign taxing jurisdiction.

SENATOR SANBORN: Is it your intent from the legislation, and when you talked about cost recovery, that the task force would look at any registration fees and at the hardware software as a recovery cost.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Absolutely. I think this is inclusive of all costs.

SENATOR SANBORN: Great. Thank you, Sir. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn.)

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of the pending motion and appreciate the good work of the task force. I also am pleased with the work of our mighty minority, our two Senate Democrat leaders who brought some great ideas and great contributions to this process, and wish we had a few more, maybe even better ideas, to add to that as well. I also wish that we could have had some of these ideas to protect…

Roll Call, Yeas: 24 - Nays: 0. Adopted, bill ordered to Third Reading.

EARLY SPECIAL SESSION

THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Senator Bradley moved that, SSSB 1-FN, having been ordered to third reading, be, by this resolution, read a third time, all titles be the same as adopted, and be ordered by the Senate to be passed at the present time in the early Special Session. Adopted.

EARLY SPECIAL SESSION

Third Reading and Final Passage

SSSB 1-FN, requiring notice and approval of certain actions to commence audits of collection liabilities arising under certain sales and use tax statutes and prohibiting New Hampshire remote sellers from disclosing private customer information to foreign taxing authorities in connection with the collection of certain sales and use taxes.

SENATE CLERK'S NOTE

Due to uncontrollable circumstances there was a loss in audio transmission for the beginning of President Morse's remarks.

PRESIDENT MORSE: – over to the House. To all the Senators, I just want to say thank you. In five short weeks you are sending over a piece of legislation to the House that I believe protects the New Hampshire way of life and it protects our New Hampshire businesses. It's a good first start and I thank you all for what you did. With that, we're going to take a two-minute recess to regroup and see what's next.

Recess. Out of recess.

SENATE CLERK'S NOTE

Due to uncontrollable circumstances there was a loss in audio transmission for the Suspension of the Rules, subsequent remarks, and the vote.

SUSPENSION OF THE RULES

Senator Feltes moved that the Senate suspend all Special Session Senate Rules necessary to permit consideration of further legislation at the present time.

The following Senators voted No: Giuda, Bradley, Gray, French, Ward, Daniels, Avard, Carson, Reagan, Birdsell, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

Roll Call, Yeas: 11 - Nays: 13. Failed, lacking the necessary 2/3 vote.

Recess. Out of recess.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The House of Representatives concurs with the Senate in the passage of the following entitled Bill, with amendment, in the passage of which amendment the House asks the concurrence of the Senate:

SSSB 1-FN, establishing a commission to study ways to protect the New Hampshire advantage for New Hampshire businesses as a result of the uncertainty created from the recent United States Supreme Court decision on the collection of certain sales and use taxes.

Senator Bradley moved Nonconcurrence.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President. I didn't think I'd be getting up to actually give this speech. I think it's really unfortunate that we're in the circumstance that we're in. That despite all the good work that the task force did on a bipartisan basis, all six of us from this Senate that were part of the task force worked long and hard with our House colleagues on a unanimous 17-0 recommendation. I think it's unfortunate that what all twenty-four of us did, didn't quite get across the finish line. It was a very close vote in the House.

I think we need to make sure in the short run, and I mean the short run, that we do everything that we possibly can to protect the New Hampshire businesses. I think all twenty-four of us recognize that. I'm glad that I'm able to stand with my colleagues, all twenty-four of us, recognizing that we have to do that. How the process is going to unfold I think remains in flux right now because of the sort of surprise that happened across the street. That being said, we need to get back, we need to do everything that we can to, I think, come back with legislation that does exactly what the task force recommended; listen to all the sides and all the points of view and maybe reflect that. How that's going to work out in the next several weeks, I don't know at this point in time.

But I urge all of my colleagues as you go back and talk to the businesses in your district that I've already been talking to, you know, some business owners in the state of New Hampshire that are very concerned with the fact that there's no registration from an out-of-state taxing jurisdiction. No opportunity for businesses that are going to have to potentially collect and remit to have a recovery of their cost. Nothing that has an out-of-state taxing jurisdiction complying with New Hampshire law. We have nothing today.

So, let's understand that we're probably coming back pretty soon. Let's stay united. Because all twenty-four of us took a vote to protect New Hampshire businesses today, to protect the New Hampshire advantage. I thank you all for, you know, your courage and your collegiality in that. And I guess we're, you know, this is the session that's never going to end.

So, thank you, Mister President. I move that we non-concur. I think that non-concurring pushes the ball further ahead than just concurring and doing very little except a commission in terms of this issue. We have to protect New Hampshire businesses. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Sanborn.)

SENATOR SANBORN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise and join the comments of my colleague from District number 3, that at this point we're facing a challenge of all frosting and no cake. I compliment all the members of the Senate, because we stood united today to fight for the businesses of New Hampshire. We need to recognize the fact that the Governor has been truly out front on this issue. He understands the risks and the ramifications for the business community and all the people of this state, and he has done an amazing job trying to bring it forward to us and try to create a product that we all could vote for. And the truth is we all voted for it. Task force did the work, we trusted what you did, you brought us a product that we could all support, every single one of us came in here and supported it. Because we, the New Hampshire Senate is trying to send a very strong message that we support the businesses of this state. We support what it means to be sales tax and income tax free. And we're trying to do the right thing to protect the people of this state.

By the way, new phone, I can't turn the volume off, my apologies, Mister President.

But the fact of the matter is, look we, the Senate has done the right thing for the people of New Hampshire today. That's what we need to be proud about. Now I understand my colleague in District 3 says that he and the Senate President will get with the Governor and there's a relatively high likelihood we'll be visiting this wonderful chamber again, because I'm assuming that the construction repairs won't be done. But hopefully it's incumbent on all of us to talk to our friends on the other side of the hall and see what we can do to get them to reconsider and help us try to forge some product that works for all of us.

So at the end of the day, I tip my hat to the Governor, I tip my hat to the commission, I tip my hat to everyone that sits in this room today, because you all did the right thing, and the people of New Hampshire should be proud of all of us. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I rise to support the decision made by the majority leader that he brought forward. What we emphasized was a spirit of a cooperation in a bipartisan fashion. A lot of House members were on that committee. A lot of House members were on that committee and all of their input was taken. We had Norm Major chairing the committee. I think he did a terrific job.

To do what just happened across the street is an insult to the legislative process, and I find that very difficult to accept. We're equal bodies, we work hard for the benefit of the people of the state of New Hampshire. Then you take all of that work and you throw it aside and say, if it isn't my way, it's the highway. That's totally unacceptable. We're a democracy. And indeed if we can't appreciate each other's opinion and can't discuss it, go over it and come up with a conclusion, we're in big trouble. And I'm sure we'll be back, because we have to come back. We have to protect the citizens of the state of New Hampshire.

Therefore I say support the decision of the majority leader, let's move forward and depend upon our leadership to make something positive happen. That's what we're here for. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Birdsell.)

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Thank you, Mister President. Maybe I've been sitting next to the Senator from District 20 for too long, but I have to agree with him as far as– Most of the Senators that have spoken have been much kinder, but I agree with the good Senator from District 20. This is an absolute insult to our business communities. We had Massachusetts, Vermont and Maine sitting on their borders, waiting to come after our small businesses, and we cannot wait another month and a half until September 13th for them to take the money from our small businesses. So again, I agree with the good Senator from District 3, the majority leader. I will be voting to non-concur. This is an absolute insult to our New Hampshire small businesses and our businesses. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, I too want to echo the words of the majority leader about the bipartisan work that we did on this task force. I think it was a good product. I think as we move forward, though, and we continue to be collegial and respectful, I think we ought to consider and be open to some of the other issues that we talked about today. Including on tariffs and on behavioral health rates because I think those are pressing problems for the state and we need to have an openness, I think, as we move forward and work with one another. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I worked with colleagues from the House and the Senate on the committee that drafted the legislation. It was a very intense effort. It was an effort that understood that the threat here is to the businesses of our state, and that our job as legislators is to protect those businesses as well as our citizens and institutions. I'm proud to be a member of this body. I'm proud to have been a member of the body that delivered the legislation for consideration. I'm dismayed at this point that after that much work, facing the threat from 10,000 taxing jurisdictions, our businesses remain utterly unprotected on any front with any legislation, constitutional issues or anything else. That taxing authorities from outside our state can begin the process of turning our businesses into their tax collection agents. I truly hope to be back here to send another message and to establish legislation that will support the businesses that make this state's way of life possible. Thank you, Mister President.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Well with respect, I would like to say one thing. I haven't spoke with the Speaker and I haven't spoke with the Governor. I firmly believe this is a Senate decision whether we concur or non-concur. I certainly support the non-concur motion and the reality of what's to come after this; I think you've made it perfectly clear in the Senate. You can expect to be back here, because my recommendation is that we get back here and get it done. The reality of twenty-four of us sticking together means we can get it done on our way. It's extremely important that the Senate send the message on this one that we're going to fight for the businesses in the state of New Hampshire all across the country quite honestly. And the fact that you're going to come back and do something about it shortly, in my opinion, is going to have to happen. So your job after today, is to look at the eighty-some people in both parties that voted against all the work that that commission did. So as we vote right now, you still need to go and talk to your colleagues in your district because that's what New Hampshire's all about. And the reality of what the businesses are going to do to you tonight, to say that you didn't get it finished, is not the fault of the New Hampshire Senate, and I certainly believe you're going to get called back to straighten it out because that's the right thing to do in this state. And as whether it should be anything else, there was no bigger issue in my mind today then this sales tax issue, period. And I care about every issue that was presented. But there was no bigger issue than the sales tax issue. And that's what we should be coming back and solving. With that, is there any further discussion?

A roll call was requested by Senator Avard, seconded by Senator Birdsell.

The following Senators voted Yes: Woodburn, Giuda, Bradley, Watters, Hennessey, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Daniels, Avard, Lasky, Carson, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Reagan, Soucy, Birdsell, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark, Gannon, Innis, Morse.

The following Senators voted No: (None)

The following Senators were excused: Kahn.

Roll Call, Yeas: 23 - Nays: 0. Adopted.

MOTION TO ADJOURN FROM EARLY SPECIAL SESSION

Senator Bradley moved that the Senate adjourn from the Early Special Session, that the business of the Late Special Session be in order at the present time, that all Special Session Bills ordered to Third Reading be, by this Resolution, read a third time, all titles be the same as adopted, and that they be passed at the present time.

Adopted. Adjournment from the Early Special Session.

LATE SPECIAL SESSION
LIST OF RULE 5-8'S FOR THE DAY
Senator Sanborn: SSSB 1-FN

ANNOUNCEMENTS

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President, members of the Senate. I rise in sadness. To bring to the attention of those who may not know and to recognize the loss of the daughter of Dijit Taylor, the executive director of LCHIP, in an accident over this past weekend. There is no bigger loss to a person than the loss of a child. And so I would ask the Senate's indulgence in allowing me to read a little bit about Hannah Taylor, who was killed in an accident out in Colorado. She's the beloved daughter of Dijit, the Executive Director of LCHIP, and the late Jeff Taylor of Hopkinton.

She was born in Berlin on June 25th of '79 and joined by the two sisters she guided all their lives. She learned to ski at Wildcat. Before the family moved to Hopkinton and she enjoyed championship Nordic ski teams. After graduating from Phillips Exeter in 1998, she attended Middlebury College where she majored in Geography, skied on the Nordic ski team and met her partner, Will Rawstron. She lived in Summit County, Colorado, and worked as a Nordic ski coach and Managing Director of the Summit Huts Association; back-country experience for skiers and hikers alike.

She was a very thoughtful person and a very incandescent spirit. She was a dedicated outdoorswoman and an athlete, who lived to share her experiences with friends, family and the young skiers that she coached. She was much more than a coach. She strove to guide these people and to teach them her values of hard work, integrity, truthfulness, humor and adventure. She believed in making the world better and more beautiful, and her work as a coach was the highest articulation of that belief.

She had taken up both ultramarathon running and Adventure Racing in Colorado. She loved to be out in the mountains, as many of us do. She ran to gain the time in the wild spaces, not for the adrenalin or glory but for what she called "my brand of crazy."

She didn't take unnecessary risks – she loved life too well and knew her worth to those who loved her. She fell to her death when a rock came loose as she reached for it during a steep scramble on the Willow Peak Ridge in the Gore Range in Colorado.

All those who knew and loved her are heartbroken by this tragic accident, and her mother especially, Dijit Taylor, who I consider a personal friend and a colleague, as a member of LCHIP, doing great things for our state and for our communities.

Memorial services for Hannah are being held in Summit County, Colorado Thursday and on Saturday, August 4th at the First Church in Hopkinton NH. Memorial donations can be made to the Summit Nordic Ski Club; her family encourage those who mourn to go for an adventure in the loving, gritty and graceful manner that we find Hannah. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Hennessey.)

SENATOR HENNESSEY: Thank you, Mister President. A moment of personal privilege. I would just like to discuss another sad passing and that is of a bit of a hero from the Upper Valley by the name of Brian Walsh. He was a civil servant if ever there was one. He served on the Hanover Planning Board and was part of the integral deal that built the new Dartmouth Hitchcock. He was a visionary, a renaissance man and an extraordinary public servant.

He actually had retired and moved to the seacoast, which he loved and where he loved to paint. And he took his regular, daily bike ride to his favorite bench where he could look out over the ocean and he died sitting on that bench. He was...

SENATE CLERK'S NOTE

Due to uncontrollable circumstances there was a loss in audio transmission in the middle of Senator Hennessey's remarks.

Two people tried to revive him, but unfortunately, they weren't able.

He is survived by his wife, Linda Patchett, and their children.

Brian Walsh was described as an indefatigable public servant in Hanover, beginning when he joined the planning board in 1977 and then when he was elected to the Select Board in 1996. In 1999, he was appointed chairman. One of his signature accomplishments in which he took pride was keeping the tax rate steady.

The town manager said, "He was just an amazing and intense guy. When you talked with Brian, you had his full attention. He was always thinking about how to do things better."

He grew up in Winchester, Mass., and arrived in Hanover to attend Dartmouth College, graduating in 1965 before earning advanced degrees at the Thayer School of Engineering and Columbia University, where he studied city planning. But he wasn't a stranger to the Upper Valley: Walsh's family had a summer home on Lake Sunapee, where his lifelong love of the water and sailing began and eventually figured into him and Linda retiring to the easternmost town in New Hampshire.

He dedicated his life to the region where I live, District 5, in the Upper Valley. He knew how to reach out and connect with people, how to compromise and how to lead humbly. He has been celebrated by people in my area, as just one of those queries finding out he was gone, because he was so alive in everything that he did. And one of the things that became his passion was his artistic side even though he started several interesting technology companies in the Upper Valley. In the end, it was his artistic side that gave him most pleasure.

Our town manager, Julia Griffin said, that the first time she met him it was during a public hearing and he was sketching portraits on a pad of others who were speaking at the meeting. And it was on that bench where he used to like to sit that he would paint pictures of the sea.

So, I'd just like to pay tribute to a very important and dedicated public servant who left us way too early. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: I want to talk about a subject that really bothers me as a human being and that's the immigration policy that we are witnessing in this country, where children are taken away from their parents and in some instances never brought back to their parents. I'm the grandson of immigrants to this country. Proud to be an American. They were very proud to come here. To think that at our borders children are being taken away from parents and never restored. We're parents.

Many of us are parents. Can you imagine if they ever took a child away from us? We didn't know where that child was? Five thousand of these children; I think 548 have been brought back to their parents. Look at, I believe in legal immigration. My people came here legally. But indeed, the American tragedy is taking children from these parents and finding no way to get them back together. I can't believe that. Look at, I'm a historian. Look at what we did in World War II with the internment for the Japanese. That was approved by the Supreme Court; that was, said it was okay. Look at what they did to the Germans and the Italians during the war. Do we have to commit the same errors over and over again? This is America. That is not the American way. I'm heartbroken about this. To think that a child, some of them as young as two or three years old, taken from their parents and sent some place. They don't know where they send them. They send them to New York. They send them to California. They send them to New Jersey. And they can't account for them. Who's they? It's our government. Is that what we want from our government? Is that what we believe in? Twenty-four people sitting around this table. Would we sanction that kind of activity? I would hope not. We have got a great country. I believe in our country, it's done wonderful things for me and for people around this table. But what I am witnessing today is a tragedy. It's a tragedy. And we can't let tragedies go on without saying something about it. We have got to believe in something. Thank you, Mister President.

Without objection, all personal privileges and unanimous consent shall be entered into the permanent Journal of the Senate. (Rule 2-10 and Rule 2-11). Adopted.

MOTION TO ADJOURN THE SPECIAL SESSION

Senator Bradley moved that the Senate stand in recess for the purposes of sending and receiving messages, and processing enrolled bill reports and amendments for Special Session bills, and at the completion of which the Special Session will stand adjourned.

Adopted. The Senate is in recess.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The House of Representatives has adjourned the 2018 Special Session.

The 2018 Senate Special Session is adjourned.

Out of Recess. Call the Senate to Order.

MOTION TO ADJOURN FROM LATE SESSION

Senator Bradley moved that the Senate adjourn from the Late Session.

Adopted. Adjournment from the Late Session.

September 13, 2018

The Senate reconvened at 11:00 a.m., a quorum being present.

The Reverend, Pastor Mark Warren, chaplain to the Senate, offered the following prayer:

Good morning, Senators. Let's pray.

Lord, we come to you today with a heart that's open to receive from you; your wisdom, your guidance, your knowledge, discernment. We're mindful that there is a person missing in this room with Tammy Wright, our Clerk, not being here, and we just pray for a speedy recovery for her.

As each of our Senators have probably been busy campaigning, and their families have given up time, and yet they come here today to continue to serve our great state. I pray that you would just bless them; give them back the time that they have committed to serving the people of New Hampshire. I'm so grateful for this time. This might be the last session that these people are together; our Senators are together, who have worked tirelessly over these last two years. They maybe sat on different sides and opposed each other, but they've had one heart, which is to serve the people of New Hampshire, and we're grateful. So today, Lord, we are thankful for this time that we can gather. In your name we pray. Amen.

Senator Bradley led the Pledge of Allegiance.

INTRODUCTION OF PAGES

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters for an introduction.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President. It is my great pleasure to introduce today Molly Morin of Barrington and a tenth grader at Oyster River High School who is studying American History but tells me she's also taking a couple of English courses and likes them too. I don't know how she has time for all she does. She loves to play volleyball, girl's lacrosse, part of the swim team as well. And when she's not at school she says she's usually with her guitar singing at local restaurants for fun and maybe even pass the hat too. She plans when she graduates from high school to attend college to study law and, music to my ears, she's very interested in being a civil rights lawyer. And last but not least we have a proud grandpa over here, okay? The one with the big smile. Please welcome Molly Morin.

(The Chair recognized Senator Fuller Clark.)

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: Thank you. Joining Molly today we have Jack Dalton as our other page and I'm very, very pleased to welcome you here today. Jack is age sixteen, he is in grade eleven. He comes from, it's not clear here, do you live in Dover or Durham? You live in both. Okay, he's got a foot in many communities. He attends Oyster River High School, his favorite subject is history, I certainly approve of that. And for extracurricular activities he plays on the Oyster River High School baseball team, and he's part of the Junior Legion Baseball Team as well. This summer he was employed at A&G Auto Body shop, and he hopes very much in the future to attend college to study law enforcement. So we're very glad to have you with us today and thank you for being here.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley for an introduction.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Good morning everybody. I want to introduce Karen, my bride. I would just say this, it's a wonderful thing. God bless you, thank you.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Well, we're very happy to have Jack filling in today as Senate Clerk. I know he's going to do a great job. Right Jack? But of course we will miss Tammy. And I was texting with her yesterday and today, and I wanted to take a moment to tell Tammy that we're all thinking about her, and we're all praying for her. I know she's watching the session this morning, so we all need to be on our best behavior. And on behalf of the Senate, we wish her a restful and speedy recovery.

Without objection, the Clerk shall read the title of the Veto Message only. Adopted.

VETO MESSAGE

June 19, 2018

Governor's Veto Message Regarding Senate Bill 365 and Senate Bill 446

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on June 19th, 2018, I have vetoed Senate Bill 365, relative to the use of renewable generation to provide fuel diversity and Senate Bill 446, relative to net energy metering limits for customer-generators.

Senate Bills 365 and 446 combined would cost New Hampshire electric ratepayers approximately $100 million over the next three years. New Hampshire has some of the highest electric rates in the country, placing financial strain on the elderly, those on fixed incomes and the business community. These bills send our state in exactly the wrong direction. We need to be taking steps to lower electric rates, not passing legislation that would cause massive increases.

Senate Bill 365 creates another immense subsidy for New Hampshire's six independent biomass plants. It would cost New Hampshire ratepayers approximately $25 million a year over the next 3 years, on top of the subsidy for these plants that already became law last year through Senate Bill 129. Furthermore, Senate Bill 365 doesn't even guarantee solvency of these facilities and in fact, those who supply the wood product have confirmed that the maximum impact to their revenue would be a mere 3.5%. It harms our most vulnerable ratepayers and our job creators for the benefit of a select few.

While I agree that expanding net metering could be a benefit to our state, Senate Bill 446 would cost ratepayers at least $5 to 10 million annually and is a handout to large scale energy developers. These immense projects should use incentives already available and compete on their own merits. The businesses and working families of our state should not have to provide additional unjust taxation through higher electric bills. We should take the time necessary to study the effects of the recent Public Utilities Commission order on net metering before massively increasing the scale of projects that rely on ratepayer subsidies.

Consistent with our state's 10 Year Energy Strategy, I am committed to working to encourage and advance renewable energy generation and fuel diversity without unjustly burdening the ratepayers of New Hampshire.

For the reasons stated above, I have vetoed Senate Bill 365 and Senate Bill 466.

Respectfully submitted,

Christopher T. Sununu
Governor

SENATE CLERK: Thank you, Mister President. Senate Bill 365, relative to the use of renewable generation to provide fuel diversity.

PRESIDENT MORSE: The question is, notwithstanding the Governor's veto, shall Senate Bill 365 become law. Is there any discussion?

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of overriding the veto. At this very moment one thousand families sit with the sword of Damocles hanging over their head. Pawns, if you will, in the power play that pits renewable energy against established forms of energy. These families and their ancestors through hundreds of years in our state, have earned a living with their hands and their backs in the forests that comprise a significant amount of our state. Second forested state in the country. Putting aside, if that's possible, the personal impact to the families in my district and most of your districts as well, the direct impact to the thousand and ancillary businesses, the mechanics, the grocery stores, stationary, all of the things that businesses use and that families use that will impact many of the districts, I'm sorry, many of the towns within our state. Two-hundred-fifty-four million dollars in direct economic impact, and then we carry it beyond that. Biomass is good energy, it's reliable energy. These people are good people, they are reliable people. The earnings that they make pay for home mortgages, they pay for health insurance, they put their kids through college, they buy cars, they contribute to every segment of our state's economy. The dollars in this economy, start here with the stumpage on the trees that are cut by the people that cut those trees, by the men that haul them out of the woods, by the mills that process the timber, by the chippers. Every single dollar in that entire economic process starts and ends in New Hampshire. It is earned here and it is spent here by people who provide an electric resource that is reliable, that is immediate and that can provide an opportunity for us to pursue energy independence when coupled with Senate Bill 446. May not be the most efficient at this point in time, but once lost, this source of energy will not be back. It's a permanent kill that we're getting here, if we don't override the veto. And so I ask you to join me for the good of these families and families in your district as well, all around the state, that are impacted by the revenues, by the timber, by all the things that are encompassed in these biomass plants and the energy they produce and the families that they employ. I ask you to join me in protecting a way of life, and providing an opportunity to pursue further development of renewables and sustainable energy independence, in voting yes to override this veto. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson for a question of Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Senator for taking my question. Is this specifically a North Country problem or is this a problem for the whole state of New Hampshire?

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you for the question, Senator. This, while portrayed most often as a rural and North Country issue, in fact impacts significant parts of the state. Hillsborough County, I believe, is the number one timber cut county in the state. The businesses that are impacted, I believe in your district Senator if I'm not correct, Caterpillar. One week after the veto, $10 million in sales were cancelled, of heavy equipment. And so the impact of these dollars while rural in its origin, okay, certainly apply. We will look at losing timber tax revenues in communities, adding further to the property tax burden of our citizens. And so the question was well put, the answer would be it affects virtually every community in the state in some way or another. Thank you.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you very much, Mister President. Senator Giuda, we had a forum in Londonderry and there was a woman there that their family sold wood ash. They collect the debris from these biomass plants, they convert it into wood ash, which they then sell to New Hampshire farmers so, to help them fertilize their fields. Now is it true that if this veto does not get overridden, her small business, small family business, thirty years, is going to go out of business and our farmers, the only place that they're going to be able to get that wood ash is in Canada. Is that true?

SENATOR GIUDA: I can vouch that wood ash is a significant byproduct of the biomass process, and yes, it will definitely impact the ability of our farms to operate. My district also has an interest. We have a company that takes that wood ash and processes it and spreads it throughout the state to farmers that need it for their fields.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. I want to disclose for Senate rule 6 and 7 that in my capacity as an attorney and a State Senator, my signature and involvement in the divestiture agreement, primarily through my capacity as an attorney. Disclose that and disclose that provisions of that may arguably conflict with provisions of this bill. That being said, I'd like to participate with that disclosure and I have a brief comment.

Thank you very much, Mister President. Just briefly, I think the Senator from District 2 highlighted a lot of the major points, but I'll also highlight this one, for some of my progressive friends who may be undecided about this, if you want coal-fired power plants to thrive in the supply market, the surefire way to do that is to let biomass go under and sustain this veto. Don't do that. This is local energy, this is renewable energy, don't let our biomass facilities go under. If you want coal-fired power plants to thrive, you'll sustain the veto. If you don't, if you want New Hampshire energy to thrive, you'll override. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Mister President. And I think the questions were spot on to the points that I wanted to rise to indicate. In Cheshire County, the timber industry is a vital part of our economy and I can go to a Cheshire Fair and I can go to town events and I will find people coming up to me saying, you know how many people we did not employ this year because the market, just like something, a fruit on tree is starting to wither. We need to not take a mature industry in this state and put it out of business. And that's my fear, and I think the statements about this being a statewide issue is indeed true. I will give credit though to that marketer of the potassium that is contained in the burned byproduct of a wood-burning generating plant. Because there is a substitute for this and it's called chemicals, and that potassium could be restored into the environment chemically and this is a natural, which just goes to evidence that this is the maturation of a business that has learned not only how to use its source but also its byproducts. This is good for forest management, it's good for trail creation and it's good for my region of the state. I also will be voting in favor of an override of this veto. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President. I also rise in support of overriding the veto and in terms of the statewide impact of this, I wanted to share a couple of comments from a letter that was spearheaded by the mayor of Dover, Karen Weston, and it was signed by the mayors in the cities of Berlin, Claremont, Concord, Dover, Franklin, Keene, Laconia, Lebanon, Manchester, Nashua and Portsmouth and directed to Senate and House leadership. And they say that they believe strongly that clean and local renewable energy and greater efficiency in how we use all energy would be vitally important to our cities' future economic vitality and environmental quality. And as such they favor policies at the state level which would encourage existing renewable electric generation. And in particularly they say they want to stand with our neighboring communities that particularly feel the impact of Senate Bill 365. They think it's harming local jobs and the economy. Thousand jobs directly tied, the Plymouth State study that tells us 254 million dollars are contributed to the economy and benefit our energy sector and in particular those who are interested in wildlife and fish and game issues, the health of the forest for those resources depends on this industry thriving as well. So it impacts all of us around the state. This is an important industry, it's an important energy source as well and I hope my colleagues will join me in voting to override this veto. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Reagan.)

SENATOR REAGAN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of the Governor's veto. We've heard they've done a masterful job of explaining why we should support this industry which is an unprofitable industry. And the way we're going to support that is, we are going to create a tax. And we're going to tax the electricity bills of our constituents to support an unprofitable industry. So economically, that makes no sense at all. So, I can't send a bigger electric bill to my constituents, so I support the Governor's veto.

(The Chair recognized Senator Woodburn.)

SENATOR WOODBURN: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of overriding. I also rise with the great sense of gratitude and humility to be here and represent the great fair people of the North Country, Senate District 1, all fifty-eight communities, 28 percent of the state's landmass, an area larger than three states and seventeen foreign countries. And a whole lot of trees. In a place that has been defined by this industry and people who have made a living, made a culture and developed a way of life in the woods trying to get by and get ahead. Now we know that this is good energy policy and we know this is good economic policy. We know this is a locally produced energy, dependable, renewable and we also know that in my part of the state, and other parts of the state as well, that this is an industry that is the straw that stirs the drink of the North Country economy. It lifts a struggling economy and these dollars are not tucked away in silk purses or platinum stock portfolios, but they circulate and touch many hands, many businesses and change many lives. They stabilize communities, they stabilize families and they make life a little bit better for many, many people. But this is not about an industry or protecting or promoting or propping up, it's about the people who do the work, who do the dirty grimy hard back-breaking work and I've got a scar on my hand Mister President, to show how hard it is to harvest a tree and how dangerous it is to do the work that they do every day. And not only do they pay their taxes and promote their families and take care of their neighbors and coach little league and be involved in their community but they're also preserving a culture of living and making a living off of the woods and the trees in our community. And I'd say this is all about people. People like my brother-in-law who worked most of his life in the Whitefield Power and Light. He went to work when his kids went to bed and his body shows, his hands show, the work that it took to do that. Jobs change lives and rarely in this business do we have an opportunity to turn the switch on for jobs to occur or turn the switch off. And I hope that we do the right thing today. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Avard.)

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of the veto override. And I firstly want to thank my colleagues and the leadership of Senator Jeb Bradley, who spearheaded this bill and I also want to thank Senator Martha Fuller Clark and Senator Dan Innis and Senator Feltes for their leadership in the Energy Committee. It's not a wise thing when so many diverse people come together on an issue and to go against that. And we have some very, very good people in the Committee of Energy and we've come to agreement on this. During the election, a gentleman, an older gentleman came up to me from Hollis, New Hampshire. He came over and he shook my hand and he said, you know, I've had a tree farm since 1858, it's been in his family since 1858. And if these bio plants go down, the tree farm is going to have to ship all its wood to Canada. Well, that's not cost effective and it's going to affect this tree farm. It's just one family, one family's affected by this. Some say, well, it's a subsidy. The anathema word, "subsidy", it's dangerous. It's a bad thing, it's not conservative. Neither is crony capitalism, ladies and gentlemen. Neither is crony capitalism. When we become more dependent on those transmission lines, you're rewarding those who have to keep those transmission lines operating. They get a guaranteed 10 percent return on investment. That's a sweetheart deal and the more we're dependent on those big fat power lines, that 10 percent goes up. That's profitable. The subsidies is not profitable. So what are we going to do? Are we going to side on the subsidies which creates jobs, protects our forests, keeps our trails clean, creates fertilizer, and it works on maple trees, I did it. Or are we going to subsidize a little mini monopoly, if you will. We're doing the same thing over and over and over again. We're trying to think outside the box. We're going to lose 100 megawatts. Override the veto, it's a good thing if it supports New Hampshire. We're creating energy here, homegrown stuff. There's got to be a song for that. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Fuller Clark.)

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: Thank you very much, Mister President. I too rise in support of overriding the Governor's veto. And I thought it would be important to speak to the fact and mention that the New Hampshire Public Utilities Commission estimated that the veto would save ratepayers a total of 18 million annually for three years. But it will come with a cost of about 17 million in generation capacity needed to fill the 100 megawatt gap if the biomass plants close. This is a result of ISO New England looking at New Hampshire and would be raising our obligation throughout New England with that charge of $17 million. So here's what we're doing. We're talking about a cost of $1 million that would put immediately some 900 jobs in the timber industry, the loss of those jobs, that it would impact a $254 million economic activity in our forest industry and as you've heard all of those cascading impacts that the loss of every one of those jobs is going to affect twenty or thirty other jobs throughout the state. You've also heard that it will impact on equipment sales, it will impact on the agricultural community and it will make it much more difficult to do sustainable forest management and ensure that we have healthy forests throughout the entire state. This is a very unwise veto that is really pitting our local industry that allows us to have greater self-sufficiency when it comes to energy. That ultimately will help us to reduce energy costs because you will not be susceptible to the volatility of what we see with regard to natural gas now and in the future. To my mind and to the many, many constituents that I have heard of, vetoing this legislation is a very poor position to have taken with regard to a native industry and to all the people in the state who benefit from a locally grown industry. So I urge you here today to sustain our vote and override the Governor's veto. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon.)

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you, Mister President. I'll be very brief. I did at one time work, I'll disclose first at Sundeen Lumber and Georgia Pacific in Senator D'Alessandro's neighborhoods, back in my early days. Last night about twelve hours ago, I was working with a bunch of guys from John Carter Sprinkler Company and they echoed everything I've found when I door knock. They said we talked about it last night, the poor guys had to talk with me until midnight about biomass and when I got, and at the beginning, they were like geez, what's it going to cost? I said about $1.76 a house. First they said, no, go against it, be against that. And then the other guy spoke up. Scott said geez, I have a friend who works and he hauls chips and he goes, he's went down from three days to two, from a full five day schedule. He's having a hard time meeting ends. I went to Abernathy key wood products and I met all these people who are in the business in Kingston and Epping and, so I didn't realize a few months ago how much it affected my neighborhood and I would say every door I've knocked on, once we talked it by the initial $1.76, 99 percent of the people in New Hampshire want to help their neighbor. They know it's a sustainable renewable energy and that $1.76 is money well spent. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much, Mister President and good morning. I think that a lot of discussion has occurred about the jobs impact. I think we, all of us, all twenty-four of us, have talked to real people, not people in corporate boardrooms, people that wear blue jeans and work in the woods with chain saws. We've all had that experience. There's a real impact on those people. There will be lost jobs. Small businesses will close. People will lose their businesses, their mortgages. People like our friend Tom Thomson are going to have some hellacious choices about what to do with their land. Snowmobile trails are likely to close. New Hampshire's open space likely to be impacted. But I want to use the rest of my time to talk to the people that believe that we should not pass Senate Bill 365. I want to address those issues head on. The first issue, what's the cost? Yes, there's a cost. Senator Fuller Clark just outlined it. But there is a cost that is bigger if we close these wood plants. It's a cost for capacity, run by the grid operator. A consultant that worked for Northeast Utilities, with a lot of experience, testified in front of the House and the Senate that that cost is likely to be in the range of $17 million. So suddenly the cost difference becomes pretty obvious. Yes, we're going to pay something for three years and three years only and only if plants generate. But after that three year period of time, we will pay higher capacity costs. Not a single utility disputed that in March when we had the public hearings in the Senate and the House. Only in the last few days have people said no, no, that's not the case. But they've never proven why it's not the case. Those costs are real and we'll pay them. So for me, this is a pay me now or pay me later and pay me permanently type of situation. I think all twenty-four of us believe that we should support the manufacturing base in the state of New Hampshire. Every one of us. We may have different approaches but I think we do. And so to my friends at the BIA, I would say read the last section of the bill. Where the rate design protects the largest manufacturers that will have a very insignificant portion of the cost. We put that rate design in the divestiture docket. It's the same rate design in this bill, 5.75 percent. And when you combine that with the repeal of the electric consumption tax, which we did in the budget last year, the impact on the largest users in the state of New Hampshire, the manufacturers that we're all concerned about, will be negligible.

Now we keep hearing this is a subsidy. Great, let's talk about subsidy. Energy in America is regulated and subsidized. The fossil fuel industry, it's called the oil and gas depletion allowance. It's called favorable leasing for extractions, for transmission, it's faster depreciation for electric transmission and gas transmission. The nuclear industry, we as taxpayers subsidized nuclear research for decades. We pay for Yucca Mountain and until the divestiture of nuclear power plants all of us as customers paid a surcharge for waste disposal. Those, my friends, are subsidies. And there's a reason for them. We want to keep the lights on, want to keep power affordable, we want to have adequate supplies, we don't want this in terms of the price and the reliability of power. But to me the biggest subsidy of all is the guaranteed profits of utilities that are fighting this bill. Let me repeat that. The guaranteed profits of utilities that are fighting this bill. If that's not a subsidy, there is no such thing as a subsidy. Now we have heard from some of those utilities that these power plants got a $2 billion subsidy. Let's look at the rest of the story.

Under federal law in the 1980s, there were contracts under what was called the Public Utilities Regulatory Policy Act or PURPA, that if an independent power producer could meet the expected cost, the future projection of cost of the utilities, they could produce power and the utility would have to buy it. Well guess what was happening? Inflated cost to justify the construction of a nuclear power plant and we know how that movie ended, with a rate agreement and the highest rates in the nation led to those PURPA contracts. That's how it started. Call that a subsidy if you want to but those are the facts. The facts are sometimes difficult to live with and so it's easier to label it a subsidy when there's a lot of responsibility that goes back thirty years as to how this happened. We know how that movie ended. Now it's interesting, last night I downloaded the independent system operator. Those are the folks in Holyoke, Massachusetts that run the grid. And they had a reliability study that was just, what's the right word, released to the public in January. And they're warning of the potential for blackouts in the '20, '24, '25 time frame. It's kind of dense reading, but it should be a warning sign for each and every one of us in New England that we have problems here. And you know I found it interesting, my friends at the BIA, Mister Tom Sullivan who is the chair of the board of the BIA said this in a recent editorial in the Union Leader. And I quote, "Even more alarming, securing a reliable supply of fuel has become a chief concern for the region's independent electrical grid operator, ISO New England." ISO released a report last January, warning that by 2024, 2025 New England may no longer be able to secure enough fuel for power generators to meet demand, resulting in rolling black outs. Yes that means the lights will go out in New Hampshire if something doesn't change. So to my friends at the BIA, I don't think you can have it both ways. You can't want a reliable electric grid and be closing down a homegrown fuel source that has an incredibly great record of producing. And we know how many trees we have here in New Hampshire, and we know it's not imported coal, it's not imported oil, it's not imported natural gas, all of which are subsidized. It's homegrown New Hampshire energy. And if there's one thing I've learned over the years that I've been involved with energy in New Hampshire, it's kind of a saying that a lot of us have heard; don't put all your eggs in one basket. Well guess what, we're putting our eggs in the natural gas basket if we don't override this bill. The big natural gas plants outside of Boston. They're about to get a nice little subsidy, because they are so indispensable to the grid. In other states, legislators are adopting subsidies for their nuclear plants to keep them operating. This is life in 2018 in America to keep the lights on. So yes, it's about jobs, it's about people that work in the woods. But it's also about energy. And one of the misconceptions about this bill is that the subsidies go on regardless. Well, they don't. You have to produce the electricity. So if the plants close for any reason and there's no electricity produced no money exchanges hands. And oh by the way, there have been people that have complained about the fact that the balance sheets weren't shown to the public. Well, people have seen those balance sheets where they matter and those discussions have happened and we know that plants are closing, and hardworking people are being thrown out of work. I kind of feel like a bit of déjà vu here today. I remember in July of 2005 in Boston, testifying to the BRAC Commission, base realignment and closure. I stood up for the jobs of 5,000 hardworking people in the Seacoast against the Defense Department that wanted to close the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard. I stood up with Judd Gregg, with John Sununu, with Olympia Snow, with Susan Collins and Tom Andrews. We made a case that day that the defense of our nation was so important and the workforce at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard was the best in the nation that we were making a case that we needed to change that BRAC decision. We did it. Godspeed to everybody that is trying to do that today, to protect yet again, New Hampshire's jobs, the future of our recreation industry, our snowmobile industry, the future of energy diversity and to prevent a cost increase in the future that will dwarf the temporary increase to keep these plants open. There are a lot of these people here there, there are a lot of them across the street. Bless you for your activities fighting for your jobs, fighting for the future of our state. Thank you, Mister President, I urge a yes vote on the pending motion.

Governor's Veto Message Regarding Senate Bill 365 and Senate Bill 446

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on June 19th, 2018, I have vetoed Senate Bill 365, relative to the use of renewable generation to provide fuel diversity and Senate Bill 446, relative to net energy metering limits for customer-generators.

Senate Bills 365 and 446 combined would cost New Hampshire electric ratepayers approximately $100 million over the next three years. New Hampshire has some of the highest electric rates in the country, placing financial strain on the elderly, those on fixed incomes and the business community. These bills send our state in exactly the wrong direction. We need to be taking steps to lower electric rates, not passing legislation that would cause massive increases.

Senate Bill 365 creates another immense subsidy for New Hampshire's six independent biomass plants. It would cost New Hampshire ratepayers approximately $25 million a year over the next 3 years, on top of the subsidy for these plants that already became law last year through Senate Bill 129. Furthermore, Senate Bill 365 doesn't even guarantee solvency of these facilities and in fact, those who supply the wood product have confirmed that the maximum impact to their revenue would be a mere 3.5%. It harms our most vulnerable ratepayers and our job creators for the benefit of a select few.

While I agree that expanding net metering could be a benefit to our state, Senate Bill 446 would cost ratepayers at least $5 to 10 million annually and is a handout to large scale energy developers. These immense projects should use incentives already available and compete on their own merits. The businesses and working families of our state should not have to provide additional unjust taxation through higher electric bills. We should take the time necessary to study the effects of the recent Public Utilities Commission order on net metering before massively increasing the scale of projects that rely on ratepayer subsidies.

Consistent with our state's 10 Year Energy Strategy, I am committed to working to encourage and advance renewable energy generation and fuel diversity without unjustly burdening the ratepayers of New Hampshire.

For the reasons stated above, I have vetoed Senate Bill 365 and Senate Bill 466.

Respectfully submitted,

The question is not withstanding the Governor's Veto, shall SB 446 become law?

(The Chair recognized Senator Avard.)

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Mister President. I move to override the veto on SB 446 and to let this be passed into law. Basically on the same lines of our previous bill that we just discussed that. This is a bill that frees up New Hampshire, frees up large corporations and municipalities to generate their own electricity, to reduce our dependence on the transmission lines. Right now New Hampshire is allowed to generate, individuals can generate up to 1 megawatt, 1 megawatt. When I asked Senator Bradley, well what can we do about this? And he says well probably go up to 5 megawatts without ISO getting involved. And I said well why can't we do that? And he shook his head and, Kevin, that's just too hard. And then he thought about it and he said well let me think about it. And he basically held my hand through this because it's a complicated issue. But there's nothing complicated about freeing up corporations to generate their own electricity, whether it be through solar or hydro. Nashua, New Hampshire has a hydro plant that can generate up to 3 megawatts. They can utilize that. Manchester could generate up to 5 megawatts on one of those landfills. What does that do, well 3 here, 5 there, 5 here, a school here. You're lowering your dependency on the transmission lines. That has got to sink in. We have too much dependency on the transmission lines. I remember Senator D'Allesandro saying look we've got to lower these energy costs. Well how do we do that? We've got to stop doing the same thing over and over and over again. Think outside the box. How can we do that? I've got an idea. Let's let them generate up to 5 megawatts. Lower their energy costs, lower our state's transmission dependency. Right now we're part of a grid. And we have a responsibility to keep that grid going and that responsibility is 9.6 percent. The more dependent we are on those big fat power lines, that 9.6 percent could possibly go up higher. Making your rates higher. And in a pie chart, if you're to look at your transmission costs it's a big piece of the pie. The smallest part of your electric bill is the renewables. That's the smallest part. And ladies and gentlemen, the pie don't lie. The pie don't lie. SB 446 is an opportunity to give New Hampshire the ability to generate its own electricity. It allows large corporations like Worthen who generate 1 megawatt. They're using half their roof for their manufacturing. Why not give them the whole roof and let them do 2 and a half megawatts? How about some of the high schools, let them generate their own schools and lower your property taxes. Those in Nashua definitely could use it, Manchester could use it, Rochester could use it. Let's free up the live free or die state. I almost want to sing Free Bird ladies and gentlemen, I really do. Give us the opportunity to generate our own electricity. Let's not pick winners and losers as Senator would say. He hates it. I know that. He says it over and over and over again. Right now we are. We're only allowing people up to 1 megawatt where the large corporations like BAE could generate their own. Funny thing I think in other states they can generate up to 10 megawatts for their manufacturing. Why not give them the opportunity to do it in New Hampshire? BIA should listen. Let's let New Hampshire corporations generate their own. I don't think they've even thought of it. Why? Because it's like moving a mountain in this state. It's like living in the mountains and the mountains are made of granite and it's hard to think outside the box. I'm not going to get into the weeds. We can all get really, really into the weeds on some of these energy bills and you will all, I promise get lost at some point or another. Please support the override. Free the state up. Let's generate our own electricity. Let's the stop the tyranny of the transmission lines. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Watters.)

SENATOR WATTERS: Thank you, Mister President. I too rise to support overriding the veto on Senate Bill 446. I just wanted to reference briefly again the letter from the thirteen mayors who also are asking for an override of the veto on Senate Bill 446 because they believe it will enable their cities to attract private investments in clean energy which will in turn directly lower rates for our citizens. A number of our communities are currently working on projects to accomplish these goals. Unfortunately those projects would have to be shelved if 446 is rejected. Hundreds of millions of dollars in solar and hydro power projects are now at risk of not being realized because of this situation. And I will speak for a moment about the particular situation in Dover where we have a private investor willing to put $20 million into putting solar at the new high school, at the Children's Museum downtown. At the high school alone this will save Dover taxpayers $400,000 a year and it's a private investment coming in. If we don't have the cap raised, these projects may be jeopardized because they need to be of a certain size so that the investors will come in and see that that is feasible for their communities. And so how do we say to our taxpayers that some supposed rate increase, through the fiscal note I noted here said that there wasn't an impact on rate increase on 446, how can we tell our taxpayers that they don't get to save $400,000 a year because we don't pass 446? Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. These vetoes have cost New Hampshire jobs, they will cost New Hampshire ratepayers and they will cost New Hampshire property taxpayers. And some of the talking points surrounding them reflect some of the talking points from out of state fossil fuel lobby, not people right here in the Granite State. Let's talk about it. The Senator from District 12 talked about it in terms of transmission costs. The highest growing portion of your electric bill is transmission costs allocated on New Hampshire on a regional basis. And the way New Hampshire fights back in that formula is twofold. One is we allocate more resources to the PUC and maybe the consumer advocate to fight it out on behalf of New Hampshire at the regional level. We did that a little bit in the budget. We could do more next year. That's number one. Number two is energy efficiency and local energy. The cheapest unit of energy is the one you don't use. That's why energy efficiency is so important. It's so important for that calculation of regional transmission costs that get pounded on the state of New Hampshire. Some cases subsidizing projects from big utility companies down in Connecticut. But that's the way the formula works and the way we fight back is with resources at the regional level to fight back in those proceedings and second local energy. That's what this is about. You want to fight back on the highest growing portion of your electric bill, you pass Senate Bill 446. If you want to, in the words of the Senator from District 12, promote freedom, if you want to de-regulate a little bit let's go from 1 megawatt to 5 megawatts. Let's unleash the industry, let's unleash New Hampshire energy independence with local projects. And if you want, as my colleague from District 4 said, municipal and school buildings to become energy independent and property taxpayers to save money. If you want to put dollar pressure on property taxes, you pass Senate Bill 446. So I urge you as my colleague from District 12 said, it's rare for everybody to come together, we did in this committee. Let's pass Senate Bill 446, let's override this veto. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Mister President. A year ago I would be sitting in a committee with Senator Avard as the chair. It was a bill that, in the committee established by this body and our colleagues in the House, signed by the Governor, SB 125. It was on electricity pricing. Three Representatives, two Senators, three Republicans, two Democrats. We studied pricing from a variety of angles, you've heard the issues about distribution and transmission costs. The fastest growing part of everybody's electricity bills. And the one recommendation that the committee agreed upon was increase net metering from 1 megawatt to 5 megawatts. One recommendation. A lot of other recommendations in that report, don't put it away yet. But this one we all agreed. We could see that this was a way not only to create greater supply but to reduce distribution and transmission costs.

Second page to this argument: Few of us attended a session over at the Monadnock Paper Mill in Bennington, New Hampshire. Now you'd think that the paper mill was going to be talking about initially 365 and the override. That wasn't the pitch. His pitch was 446. His pitch was that I have three 700 kilowatt generators, turbines on my plant and I can't net meter because together I'm one site with 2 megawatts and I can't net meter for the full production, that he's running twelve months a year, full-time, hydropower that he could put on the lines.

Third topic, third story: Hydro operators operate in Cheshire County. It's the original power source of Cheshire County. And you might recognize that the President of the New Hampshire Sustainable Energy Association is from Cheshire County. Besides the hydro operators I have towns like Hinsdale and Winchester and Keene and Swanzey in my district, all of which have solar projects in either municipalities in their towns, schools that are waiting to be built. One that I heard of this last week is going to power an industrial park and provide the local power and has Vermont Yankee lines right next to it. They have capacity that's been taken away because Vermont Yankee is not producing power any longer. It's a good thing in my region, by and large. But those lines are there ready to be used by large solar power generators. So there are a variety of ways to come at this. I think this is a wise investment, it's an investment in our future, it has broad support through this state I believe, I think. And I rise today to indicate my support for people in Cheshire County and to override the veto on Senate Bill 446. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Fuller Clark.)

SENATOR FULLER CLARK: Thank you very much, Mister President. I too rise in support of Senate Bill 446 and urge this group of Senators to vote against the Governor's veto. Time and time again we hear well the legislature doesn't do anything to reduce energy costs. And we're oftentimes being blamed for the high energy costs which is a much bigger issue than what we need to be talking about today. But it's clear from all the reports that we had within the committee that what you've all received in support of 446, that this is a way to reduce energy costs across the state. And that it will provide the opportunity for the growth of solar energy everywhere in the state. And as we know currently that is one of the fastest growing industries which we're seeing year after year putting more and more workers in New Hampshire providing them with jobs. So not only will it allow us to be energy independent, that it will grow solar in a way that will increase job opportunities here throughout the state and that it will result in lower energy costs for everyone as we go forward. So thank you very much, and I hope you too will support overriding the Governor's veto.

A roll call is required.

The following Senators voted Yes: Woodburn, Giuda, Bradley, Watters, Hennessey, Gray, French, Ward, Sanborn, Kahn, Avard, Lasky, Carson, Feltes, Cavanaugh, Soucy, Birdsell, D'Allesandro, Fuller Clark, Gannon, Innis.

The following Senators voted No: Daniels, Reagan, Morse.

Roll Call, Yeas: 21 - Nays: 3. Veto overridden by necessary 2/3 vote.

VETO MESSAGE

Governor's Veto Message Regarding Senate Bill 593

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on June 21st, 2018, I have vetoed Senate Bill 593, relative to the penalty for capital murder.

Senate Bill 593 would abolish the death penalty in New Hampshire. While I respect the arguments made by proponents of Senate Bill 593, I stand with crime victims, members of the law enforcement community, and advocates for justice in opposing this bill. New Hampshire does not take the death penalty lightly, and we use it only sparingly. No one has been executed in New Hampshire since 1939, and we currently have only one person on death row.

In the most heinous cases where the death penalty may be imposed, New Hampshire is second to none when it comes to protecting defendants' rights and ensuring a fair process. While opponents of the death penalty cite cases from other states where individuals were either wrongfully convicted or did not receive an adequate defense, such cases have not occurred in this State. Our public defender program is among the best in the country. In addition, a defendant cannot receive the death penalty unless a jury of twelve citizens, in a separate sentencing phase, unanimously votes to recommend a sentence of death. I have confidence in the judgement of our citizens and in our criminal justice system, and believe that New Hampshire can continue to apply the death penalty in a sparing, fair and just manner.

During the past thirty years, governors of both parties have either opposed the repeal of the death penalty or expanded its scope. In 2000, Governor Jeanne Shaheen vetoed a death penalty repeal bill, stating "I believe that there are some murders that are so brutal and heinous that the death penalty is the only appropriate penalty." In 2011, Governor John Lynch signed a bill expanding the application of the death penalty to home invasions. This expansion came in the wake of one of the most heinous crimes ever committed in our State, the Cates murder. This crime was a home invasion that resulted in the murder of a mother and the severe injury of her daughter. Kimberly Cates was stabbed 32 times and her twelve year old daughter was stabbed 18 times. David Cates, Kimberly's husband, testified in favor of expanding the death penalty in 2011. To repeal the death penalty in its entirety today would deprive the Cates' and other crime victims of the justice they deserve.

Abolishing the death penalty in New Hampshire would send the wrong message to those who commit the most heinous offenses within our State's borders, namely that New Hampshire is a place where a person who commits an unthinkable crime is guaranteed leniency. New Hampshire is not and will never be a safe haven for those who would murder a police officer, cause a death during the commission of an aggravated sexual assault or home invasion, or commit any other capital offense. If a person chooses to commit such an unspeakable act in our State, that person should know that a jury of their peers may elect to impose the ultimate justice.

The arguments made by the proponents of this bill must give way to our obligation to support our law enforcement community, deliver justice for crime victims, and protect New Hampshire's citizens by preserving the death penalty as the ultimate legal deterrent to the commission of heinous crimes.

For the reasons stated above, I have vetoed Senate Bill 593.

The question is not withstanding the Governor's Veto, shall SB 593-FN become law?

(The Chair recognized Senator Avard.)

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Mister President. This is a tough one. It's going to be for us. We have thirteen co-sponsors on this bill in the Senate. It's probably one of the most diverse bills that we've ever had. There have been a ton of different perspectives on this particular bill. People looking at the death penalty from the most conservative to the most liberal if you will let me use those terms, or progressive. We've come together with the same conclusion that for our day it's not practical. And this is a vote of conscience. I totally understand where people are coming from having been a pro-death penalty individual pretty much all my life. But as I've looked at and talked with exonerees, at least 160 across the country, 160 plus exonerees for various reasons, individuals that were on death row, some from false allegations, some people were there because the prosecuting attorney withheld exculpatory evidence intentionally, DNA, a host of reasons. That alone allows for human error, and if we make a mistake we can't retract that. There is a biblical principle that God hates seven things and one is that individuals shed innocent blood. That's not acceptable. There was a woman who was caught in adultery, and I'm going to use the biblical illustration because it kind of mutes our day. And she was brought before the Lord Jesus. And they said, Master, this woman was caught in adultery. Now you know what the law says. She should be put to death. What sayest thou? And he wrote on the ground and they kept bugging him about it. And he said well, ye that are without sin, you want to cast the first stone. He didn't say that the law was wrong, he said those of you that are without sin let them cast the first stone. Interesting concept. You know, the guys that brought this woman to Jesus, their intention wasn't about the beauty of the law, they wanted to trip him up. So their intention wasn't justice, they had a different alternative. And it wasn't about justice. We have prosecuting attorneys that have the same intention. It's a notch on their belt. Oh by the way, this is a 14th amendment violation. What do you mean? Well equal protection under the law. Huh? Where's the guy? Where was the guy? Both of them should have been brought forward. We have situations here now where if you're not a beautiful person, you're going to get the death penalty. If you are in a different class, you're going to get the death penalty. There are people right now in New Hampshire that are looking for parole that committed capital murder. Why aren't they getting the same treatment? What is the fiscal note for somebody's who's on the death penalty? Well we have a case right now where if you were put in life in prison, without parole, you're looking at a $1.4 million cost. But if he's on death row, that cost goes exponential up to 5 to $10 million just to process this one individual. That's another injustice. And there's no guarantee, and by the way we don't have a facility to do this.

There's a host of other reasons and I think in our day now it doesn't make sense. I say let's get rid of it, save the taxpayer money. Let's not accidentally put somebody to death and I know everybody here has to vote their conscience and I really respect that. I really don't want to debate on this, just speak your mind and thank you, Mister President. So I move that we override the veto.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. Mister President, and distinguished colleagues. I rise to ask my colleagues to support the Governor's veto. I've been around this place since 1972. In 1973 we crafted the death penalty. It was passed by the legislature in 1973. It's a very narrow death penalty. It has been used in this state one time since 1939, one time. In those days we hung people. That has been changed to lethal injection. Why do I support the death penalty? And it's a very, very difficult thing to do. We all have our moral conscience, and many times I think we've lost our moral conscience, but in this particular issue, I ask you to continue to support the Governor's veto. You've got to have witnessed a death, in order to appreciate the anxiety, stress and terrible situation cast upon those in the family who have lived with the fact that a member of their family has been murdered. I've witnessed it. A murder took place in my district. Officer Briggs was murdered in my district. In a parade in Manchester, thousands of people turned out, thousands of people lined the streets of Manchester. We all gathered in Fisher Cats Stadium to mourn the loss of this human being, who had in essence saved the life of the person who murdered him, he saved his life on one occasion. In my district, officer Doherty was shot eight times, shot eight times. He carries the scars of those shots in his body as we speak. His life will never, ever be the same. And what was he doing? He was protecting us, protecting us. Don't those who protect us deserve our support? Gun violence has been pervasive in this country. We had two shootings in my district last week. We had a murder in my district last week. The murderer was apprehended yesterday after a search by our police department to apprehend him. My colleagues, those public servants deserve our support. Those public servants offer their lives every day, every day, in defense of our liberty. Can't we support them? As I say, this is a question that each one of us must answer. And it's a moral issue, it's a question of your conscience and you must do what you believe is the right thing to do. We're living in a terribly complicated world. We're living in a world where life isn't given the same kind of worthiness as it was when I was a child. When I was a child a police officer walked me across the street to go to school. Today the police officer gets shot and killed. My colleagues, dig deep. Dig deep and answer the question that Mrs. Briggs answers every day; why was my husband killed, why was my son killed, I had Mrs. Briggs in school, the mother. I've been with the family. They live with that question, unanswered for the rest of their natural lives. Think about that, for the rest of their natural lives. And I know it's difficult, and I know each one of us has a different opinion. But indeed, I ask my colleagues to think hard and to support the Governor's veto. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon.)

SENATOR GANNON: Thank you, Mister President. I'll be brief. I'm much more prepared when we did this a year ago whenever we did it. But I have to stand up. As you know I've always been on the side of the police. I meet with all my police chiefs at least once a year and this is very important to them. It would be a slap in their face if today we said I want everyone who ever shoots a cop to, maybe he'll have one moment, one clear moment of a thought and say, I'm going to get killed if I shoot this guy. Just that one brief second. Maybe it would enter his mind, maybe it wouldn't but if it did it would be great. Senator Avard, you said innocent blood. The murder of Officer Briggs, the guy who shot Doherty, the judge about ten years ago up in Senator Woodburn's district who was killed. I want anyone who does a heinous murder like that, Mont Vernon, the kids prepared they found a woman who was going to be alone in a neighborhood. They thought about it, they planned it, they went in and executed a woman, thought they executed her daughter, slit their throat, the girl lives with this. I want this to be, it's only a heinous, you said the county attorney, you mentioned DA's and attorneys. Thank you, Mister President, I'm sorry. It's not in New Hampshire, Mister President. Our county attorneys are not looking to put a notch in their belt. This would be a rare exception, it would go to the attorney general. It is never going to happen that someone's going to be executed who didn't do a heinous crime. This is New Hampshire, we don't do things like that lightly. Again I have to think of the men in blue, I have to think of their families and I want to show them respect today. And again, if just one person had one moment of clarity and withheld shooting a police officer, that would be worth the whole thing. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Lasky.)

SENATOR LASKY: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to override this veto. During my career in both the House and the Senate, I have been a proponent of repealing the death penalty. I fought for it in the House and I was a prime sponsor of a bill here in the Senate that would have passed shy of one vote. As everyone has said, I was not going to stand up because it seems, you know and I believe most people have made up his or her mind on this subject. I think we've all thought about it for whatever reasons over our lifetimes and it's hard to change minds. But I guess Mister President, you'll allow me a little indulgence today and I felt I had to get up and speak my mind. Every murder is heinous and every loss is unbearable to their loved ones. And police officers do deserve our support and I believe they do have our support and our extreme gratitude. But I believe there are more humane methods of protecting our police officers than an eye for an eye or a tooth for a tooth. And I believe that were we to work at that, we certainly could better protect our officers. Gun violence. Talk about that. Over and over we've heard that the death penalty is not a deterrent to crime. Unfortunately look at how gun violence has increased. It doesn't matter that we have a death penalty for whatever reason people who are hell bent on murdering and whatever, unfortunately I don't believe they think about the death penalty or even what their penalty might be. But we have, and I believe we have to do something about the rampant gun violence, but again I don't believe that the death penalty is going to affect that. I guess it's for me is completely an issue of what is right and what is wrong. I believe and not that your opinions or any of our opinions is right or wrong, but I do believe that we are a civilized nation. We should continue to be and I think this state has always shown itself to be a civilized and humane state. I'm always proud to be from New Hampshire for so many reasons. The people in this state as we all know are magnificent and I do not believe given a choice even from those who have been affected by the heinous crimes of murder, whatever, want to put another human being to death. It serves no purpose, and I for one will continue to cast my vote for repeal of the death penalty and hope that perhaps we will have the votes this time to override the Governor's veto. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: I rise in support of overriding the veto for a number of reasons. Many years ago in a different life I served in law enforcement as a special agent of the FBI. At that time a study was done that conclusively determined that twenty percent of the people on death row were wrongfully convicted. Twenty percent. That was then, this is now. DNA has come a long way. We do not have a perfect system of justice. That's the first problem. The taking of a life is the ultimate act that a state or a nation can take. And so for that reason alone if evidentiary processes aren't perfect. How about the political process? Some people elect chiefs of police, we elect county attorneys albeit they don't handle capital cases, but there are political motivations one way or the other, that must be brought into account because they do have a bearing. The death penalty is not a deterrent. Think about it. A person in a fit of rage isn't going to say uh I'm not going to do this because they are basically rabid with anger. A person that is planning a cold calculated murder knows and doesn't care, so that's a specious argument. An eye for an eye is not what this country's about. Taking the life of the most heinous of murderers does not bring back the person that's lost, and for those who may think that a life sentence without possibility of parole is a walk in the garden I would invite you to walk with me to any of the prisons that hold those people. It is a worse sentence in many cases, than sacrifice of one's life. The question that compels me is this; do we risk taking the life of one innocent person as an acceptable consequence of ensuring that we take the life of someone who's committed capital murder. That's a compelling question for me. In our state I have another compelling question. I have many friends out on law enforcement, I've been in law enforcement, I support law enforcement, I highly respect them and I love them for the danger that they take on themselves, trying to protect us but our law in this state for the death penalty is unjust in my opinion. We divide our citizens into classes with that law. We say that certain people in our society, those who are serving law enforcement for example, their lives are worth so much that if a crime is committed against them, we'll take the life of the person that perpetrated that. But the rest of our citizens, eh, not so much. That's an unjust law. For these reasons Mister President, I will be voting to override the veto and I ask your support as well. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Hennessey.)

SENATOR HENNESSEY: Mister President, I rise in support of SB 593 and I will be voting to override the veto. Much of what I was going to say when I first suggested that I would like to speak has been said and said eloquently. One of the things that concerns me beyond disagreeing with the Dean, is the fact that we are talking as the Senator from District 2 has just said eloquently also, about one body of men and women in blue and how they see this law. And all the data shows that there is not one body of police or law enforcement officials who all agree one way or another on this very difficult issue either. I now, as many of you know because I seem to post abundantly, about them I have five absolutely remarkable granddaughters. If one of those granddaughters, and I can't even say it without it being horrendous, was to be killed, there is no way that I wouldn't want to find the most pressing and painful and hurtful way of punishing the person who killed my granddaughter. There is nothing that tells me in all of the work I've done over the years to look at this issue, it tells me that the death penalty is that punishment. First of all, something we never talk about is you know I've had some significant deaths in my world in the last few years. I'm not at all convinced that it was my parents who suffered the most with their death. I'm the one who suffered the most, my brother is the one who suffered the most. Those who are left behind are the ones who are punished by someone's death. So you, you know there are all sorts of issues about this that I could talk about. But I certainly challenge the premise that the men and women in blue are somehow a) all together in favor of the death penalty, b) that the death penalty, that the premise that the death penalty is the worst possible punishment because I do not believe that to be so. And I want to make very clear that it is not fair or right to say that those of us who are opposed to the death penalty, it means somehow we have less respect for our police force, which is absolutely not true and not a fair argument in my humble opinion. It is unforgiveable, my final point, how many people who are innocent are on death row and we've learned more about that as time has gone on. But it is horrendous how many people on death row are people of color, and our only person on death row in New Hampshire is a person of color. I'd like to end with that and also say that I will be asking my colleagues to vote to override the Governor's veto on SB 593. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Reagan.)

SENATOR REAGAN: Thank you, Mister President. Everything's been said here but I just want that this year I changed my position and I rise in support of the override.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn.)

SENATOR KAHN: I also rise to support the veto override and I want to first say that I unequivocally express my support and gratitude for public servants, police and all defenders of our country and our people unequivocally. I think I speak for all of us, I trust. I don't see the death penalty as a deterrent, I see it as something that's expensive. I see it as something that messes with our judicial system because it messes up our jury selections by asking a first question in any death case, do you favor the death penalty or not. And finally I don't believe that there is any restitution in taking a life. Were somebody to have murdered, I don't know that there is any restitution for that crime. There should be penalties, severe and they should be exercised without the necessity of the death penalty. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Birdsell.)

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Thank you, Mister President. I rise in support of the Governor's veto and I find it interesting that this week where we honored 9/11 and our first responders, our police officers our fire-fighters, our EMTs all ran in to the towers as they were going down, while others were running out. But I stand in response to the fact that this is a notch on our prosecutors' belt, I think is a ludicrous statement to make because the AG's office who prosecutes these, are actually appointed, they're not elected and they have a tough job and I find that the issues that they've had, and I've heard the issues that they've had on problems with death row, this is New Hampshire. We haven't put any, as the Dean said, we have not put anyone to death since 1939. It was a narrowly drawn bill in the day and again, I stand in support of the Governor's veto. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Gannon for a question of Senator Hennessey.)

SENATOR GANNON: Tough topic, I respect you very much I think you know that. My question for you, you meant if someone killed one of your daughters. What if they then, and you'd want a worse sentence, what if they then killed someone in jail because now they have nothing to stop them. A prison guard, how would you feel then if they had killed again? Just enters my mind. I couldn't stand it if they did a second murder, could you answer that, because this would stop them from doing that?

SENATOR HENNESSEY: Well first of all, I can't respond to that hypothetical. It is beyond imaginable for me and a horrible thing and it would be horrible if a prisoner killed another person whether or not they were the person who killed my daughter, or granddaughter I'd be devastated. Particularly if I knew that person, but in general if I heard of it I'd be devastated. But I don't see that that plays into the way I feel about it because I don't think you can stop that.

(The Chair recognized Senator Soucy.)

SENATOR SOUCY: Thank you, Mister President. I rise with many of you have eloquently stated to vote to override this veto and I feel it important to talk about my own personal journey. Each one of us has been on a journey in dealing with this issue and I think it's the most difficult and challenging issue that each one of us faces when we cast our vote. But in attending hearings and listening to people speaking there were two people in particular that helped to solidify my position on this issue. One of them is a constituent, called me when I was first elected to the Senate and said I'd like to meet with you. This constituent was a police officer. He's a deputy chief of police in Manchester, Richard O'Leary. Richard O' Leary is sitting in the State House, and Richard O' Leary ran for the legislature to be able to cast a vote to repeal the death penalty. When he asked me the question about how I felt I thought oh my goodness, he's from law enforcement, he's going to have a certain bias towards support for the death penalty. And the story he told me was very fascinating he said, you know that I have a son who's also a police officer. I'd do anything in the world to protect my son. But I have a daughter who's a teacher and when I saw what happened on the day of Sandy Hook Elementary, I realized that my son and my daughter, the people that I love the most and would do anything to protect, wouldn't these circumstances if they were murdered be treated differently, and I can't treat my children differently. Richard says that more eloquently than I do, but it was a very, very powerful message. Particularly from someone who for most of his life had always supported the death penalty. And the other person here who's had a profound influence on my support for the override is someone who speaks from a place of experience and someone who I have a great deal of respect and admiration for and that's representative Renny Cushing who's here today. Who speaks from the experience that none of us can imagine and none of us would have wanted to experience ourselves and yet stands proudly as a co-sponsor of this legislation to repeal the death penalty. Those two men, as I said had profound influence on my opinion, I know many of you have heard from them as well and I hope you will consider the very different perspectives from which they come from and yet reach the same conclusion. It's time to repeal the death penalty. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I'd like to thank all of my colleagues here today for having a very careful deliberate discussion on this issue. And I respect all of you and the positions that you have taken on this because this truly is a vote of conscience. For some it's religious, for others it's reality or practicality. We've heard a lot of discussion this morning, anywhere from corrupt police departments and prosecutors to class implications and even racial implications as to why people find themselves on death row. But I'd like to point out and for all of you to take a look at what we are doing right now. We are being very deliberative. That is what we do. And don't forget, we the people of the state of New Hampshire, we who represent the people of the state of New Hampshire, have carefully deliberated over and over and over again the law that we now have in place concerning the death penalty. We do not just arbitrarily put people on death row. And I'd like to give you two different instances for you to consider. First was the incident concerning the death of Officer Jeremy Charron. The man who murdered him was given life in prison. Then we have the death of Officer Michael Briggs in Manchester. The man that killed Officer Briggs now finds himself in prison on death row. What is the difference? What's the difference between the two? It's because of the law that this body has deliberated over the years, that's where the difference is. Because we have the three time felony issue. The man that killed Officer Jeremy Charron had not committed three prior felony offenses or convictions, he was not convicted. Whereas the individual who now sits on death row has three prior felony convictions. That is the difference. I stand here today to talk about how careful we are when we craft these things, I support our police officers, I support our criminal justice system, we don't do those things here. We don't do these things here, we are very careful on what we do. I'd also like to point out, it's not just police officers that this applies to. For those of you who might have been around in 2010, between 2010 and 2012, we expanded the death penalty. And we expanded it because of what happened in Mont Vernon. Two innocent people, a mother and her daughter, were sleeping at home in their beds when they were attacked by a group of young men. The mother was murdered and the young girl was traumatized, she had horrible injuries that happened to her. But she survived and because of that, we put into place the law that says if somebody kills somebody in the act of a home invasion, those folks are eligible, they don't get it automatically, they are eligible to be charged with the death penalty. And it is up to the people of the state of New Hampshire who sits on a jury to determine whether or not it's appropriate. Our criminal justice system just doesn't say okay you're getting the death penalty and that's done and over with. We have a legal process in place, we have jury trials of our peers and they're the ones who make those kinds of decisions, and I trust the people of the state of New Hampshire. We are the people of the state of New Hampshire and look how deliberative we are being here today. Why can't we trust the people of the state of New Hampshire to be equally as deliberative when it comes time to imposing the death penalty? We all support the men and women in blue who go out there every day to protect us. They are taking those chances. That is not even an issue here today. The issue here today is we are basically taking away the right of the people of the state of New Hampshire to have those deliberations, to have those discussions. Just take it completely off the table. Why are we doing that? Is it because we don't trust them to make a good decision? I would argue, no, I don't think so. Our people are good people, and if they felt that it was appropriate let's let them have their say. And if we don't like the law, if we think the law is being enforced based on class or being enforced based on race, then let's do something about fixing the law, instead of just taking it away altogether. Please everyone, be very careful, we're being very deliberative here today. Rethink this a little bit. Look at how where we are today, as the Dean has said, we have not had anybody and had the death penalty imposed since 1939, 1939 and I'm sure in that time period there have been many heinous crimes in the state of New Hampshire, where people would have liked to have imposed the death penalty, but it hasn't been. Let's be very careful, let's not take away the right of the people to speak on this issue. Thank you very much, Mister President.

Governor's Veto Message Regarding House Bill 143

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on March 30th, 2018, I have vetoed House Bill 143, relative to recommittal of a prisoner by the Parole Board.

Current law provides that when a prisoner who is out on parole has their parole revoked, that prisoner must be recommitted for at least 90 days. RSA 651-A:19, VII allows the Parole Board to impose a term of recommittal of less than 90 days under certain conditions, including situations where the Parole Board determines that a lesser period of recommittal will aid in the rehabilitation of the parolee. House Bill 143 would expand these conditions by allowing the Parole Board to impose a recommittal period of less than 90 days for a prisoner who enters and successfully completes a residential substance abuse treatment program deemed acceptable by the Board.

While based on good intentions, this bill will have concerning consequences. It does not distinguish between individuals who have committed a crime related to substance abuse and those who have committed an unrelated crime. The bill also does not require the Parole Board to determine that a shorter recommittal period is necessary to assist a prisoner with their recovery efforts.

I fully support efforts to reduce recidivism among those suffering from substance abuse disorders by ensuring that such individuals have access to treatment. However, current law already gives the Parole Board the option of imposing shorter recommittal periods if they determine it will aid in the parolee's rehabilitation. Importantly, those who are incarcerated have access to many of the same treatment programs as those who are not.

It is concerning that there is strong opposition to this bill by law enforcement and at the same time, there are members of the recovery community who still have questions about its impacts. This only reinforces the conclusion that more due diligence is needed before we change current law.

For the reasons stated above, I have vetoed House Bill 143.

The question is not withstanding the Governor's Veto, shall HB 143 become law?

(The Chair recognized Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you very much, Mister President. I appreciate the opportunity to rise in support of overriding the veto on House Bill 143. I know this is a tough topic for folks but we are in the midst of an opioid public health epidemic and in situations where someone may have violated a provision of parole and is recommitted, providing the discretion to the parole board to allow the possibility of satisfying those ninety days through going into treatment, it says who enters treatment. Got to be in treatment. In treatment approved by the board. Some people might say, maybe the board is not the right place to prove it obviously that's the entity that's making the decision. Is it perfect language? It's not, however right now we don't have widespread Medicaid assisted treatment in prisons. We don't. I think Commissioner Meyers and Governor Sununu put together a reasonable plan to use the federal money, part of it goes to Medicaid and the source of treatment in correctional facilities, but we don't have it throughout. And, so what happens when you get recommitted to prison and you're addicted. Do you get help? You don't. And it doesn't end up being a good situation for anyone. So I think on this score it's on balance and we should vote, consider strongly voting to override this veto. You know a number of stakeholders support this, I understand some stakeholders oppose it. That being said, it is a key mechanism. Treatment, you have to be in treatment to help people. At the discretion of the board, not mandatory. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Innis.)

SENATOR INNIS: Thank you, Mister President. Over the summer I've spent some time visiting recovery centers and there's a story of a fellow I met who has an ankle bracelet on, he's being monitored he was arrested for opioid addiction and some things that went with that. At the time I talked with him he was over a hundred days clean. But anyone who has dealt with folks in recovery, relapse is common. And it's as he said he fails a urine test he goes right back to jail, and all of those days of recovery and all that treatment goes down the drain, he's right back where he started. And I think that's the situation we need to avoid is if someone is recovering and they have a lapse, let's give them another chance at recovery and help them get through a very, very difficult time. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Carson.)

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to ask my colleagues to join me in overriding the Governor's veto on House Bill 143. I think we can all agree that this has been a very difficult process as we're going through addressing the opioid epidemic which has hurt so many families here in the state of New Hampshire. The legislature has really changed tack and we have said it's really important that we get people treatment, rather than incarcerating them. And we know that currently right now in our prisons we really don't have drug treatment programs to help folks. So, I'm sure there's a song in here someplace, my good colleague from Senate District 12. The road to recovery is a long and winding one. And it's not easy for many people and as my good colleague from Senate District, I think it's 24, down the end of the table there. People fall off, they fall off, they fall of the road and they fall off the road for a variety of reasons. Sometimes they're in the process of putting their life together. They might be working part time, they might be doing something and because they've made a mistake, we're going to send them back for ninety days or however long it's going to be. I don't know if that's the right thing to do. I think that they, if they are in treatment we need to keep them in treatment and we need to help them as much as we can. I want to make something very, very, very clear to all of you and to the members of the public that this does not apply to people who have committed violent crimes. The offense has to be drug related. If someone commits a violent crime, that's a new crime. They're going to be punished for violating their parole and they're now going to face new charges. It is something completely different. It does not apply to somebody who is on parole for committing a violent crime. So again, I want to make that very, very, very clear. This is only for people who have had a previous parole violation and whose underlying crime was drug related. We are only talking about drugs here folks. So please. Does not apply to violent crime, only related to drugs. Thank you very much, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Avard.)

SENATOR AVARD: Thank you, Mister President. I think the song is Fire and Rain. Oh I've seen fire and I've seen rain. I've got to do it. Okay. Just real quickly Mister President, and I support the Senator's decision here as well in overriding the veto. I've learned firsthand in Nashua, a mother who was sent to prison because she relapsed and in prison there was no, I think the word is Suboxone, she wasn't given her Suboxone and her treatment just got all wiped out and I was there with her social worker, from DCYF, going through the whole thing and it was just as though she had to start all over again. She was a mess and I was there to help her, but it would be nice if I didn't have to be. It would be nice if she was able to get treatment and I think this bill would serve young mothers and young people that are suffering. So I applaud you and I support the veto override. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn for a question of Senator Carson.)

SENATOR KAHN: I look forward to the day when we do debate the question about treatment in prisons. In the meantime, we took up this last session, a debate about bail reform and it was a matter of without resources let's level the playing field. Let those who have an inability to pay or put up bail have the same opportunities for avoiding incarceration on certain crimes. And I see this as something similar. So I'd like to ask you that is this resource dependent, that I need to present my treatment program to the parole board assuming that I have the resources to do it or if I fail to have the resources to do it am, I inhibited from exercising the same right as somebody who does?

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you for the question. What I do know is that the person has to have been accepted, not just referred into a program, and that program has to have been deemed acceptable by the parole board. So, we've got a little bit of checks and balances here. You can't have someone go, well okay, I'm going to go for treatment. No, they have to have already been accepted into a program and as the good Senator from District 24 had talked about, they're already in treatment. And that program has to have been deemed acceptable by the parole board. So, it just can't be a fly by night operation. They have to say that this is an acceptable program.

SENATOR KAHN: Senator, do you believe that we might have a gap in this bill that in the next session we should try to address relative to resource availability and constraints?

SENATOR CARSON: Senator, I think that we always have great discussions here and if you believe that there is some sort of gap in the resources, I'll be more than happy to look at a bill you want to send my way to co-sponsor, but that's what we do here. Thank you.

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Senator.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley for a question of Senator Carson.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Senator Carson, you indicated that this bill is for drug crimes only and not anything to do with violent crimes.

SENATOR CARSON: You are correct, Senator.

SENATOR BRADLEY: And so if we go back in history to Senate Bill 500, as I recall that dealt with early parole for people that could have committed violent crimes. So this is very different from Senate Bill 500 is that correct?

SENATOR CARSON: Yes, you are very correct, Senator.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you, and is this policy under House Bill 143 consistent with legislation we passed a couple of years ago that established drug courts?

SENATOR CARSON: Yes, it is, Senator.

SENATOR BRADLEY: And to the best of your knowledge, are the drug courts working for those people that are eligible for drug courts?

SENATOR CARSON: Senator, I think our drug courts are working fantastically here in the state of New Hampshire and I think it's a very important part of our state's plan in dealing with the opioid crisis.

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you.

SENATOR CARSON: Thank you, very much.

(The Chair recognized Senator Kahn for a question of Senator Feltes.)

SENATOR KAHN: A similar question, Senator. Do you think that there are gaps in this legislation that we need to address in the coming session?

SENATOR FELTES: Thank you for the question, Senator Kahn. I don't think in terms of gaps and treatment capacity, that's a bigger, broader issue. And certainly access to treatment regardless of income, regardless of who you have as your insurance carrier and mental health and addiction equity are things that we continue to work on and we need to continue to work on because if someone doesn't have access to treatment, either from an insurance company barrier or income barrier or both, they wouldn't be able to access this provision in the same way someone with insurance carrier covered for treatment facility would. So yes, I do think that we need to continue our work on addiction equity, we need to continue our work expanding coverage. I think this bill though should go forward because giving the parole board that discretion in these limited types of cases to allow for people to get treatment rather than sit in jail makes good sense. And look forward to working with everybody on those issues. We've worked hard on those issues, we'll continue to work on them if we're back here next year. Thank you, Senator.

SENATOR KAHN: Thank you, Senator. Thank you, Mister President.

Governor's Veto Message Regarding House Bill 314

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on July 2nd, 2018, I have vetoed House Bill HB 314, relative to licensing requirements for autonomous vehicle testing and establishing an automated and connected vehicle testing and deployment commission.

While well-intentioned, House Bill 314 fails to address a number of issues related to automated vehicle technology. The bill only addresses "SAE level 5 full automation technology", which represents just a small portion of the testing being conducted on public roadways. The bill fails to address level 3 or level 4 technology, which are equivalent to those being tested in a fatal Arizona accident this past March. This bill would allow for testing of any technology below level 5 without testers having to obtain a license or even notify the state, a lack of oversight which is not acceptable here in New Hampshire. This issue is just too serious to allow a bill to give the appearance of responsible oversight, when in fact little would change on the ground. In addition, there are no clear definitions as to what is and is not an "autonomous vehicle," creating loopholes which may compromise the safety of drivers in this state.

House Bill 314 is a flawed bill that does not adequately account for public safety. This legislation may attract less responsible actors to New Hampshire to develop autonomous vehicle technology and could result in a more dangerous testing environment on New Hampshire's roads. I hope that the House and Senate will work together next session to pass a bill that will encourage development of autonomous vehicle technologies while ensuring the safety of our citizens. By only addressing level 5 technology, House Bill 314 failed on both accounts.

For the reasons stated above, I have vetoed House Bill 314.

The question is not withstanding the Governor's Veto, shall HB 314 become law?

(The Chair recognized Senator Birdsell.)

SENATOR BIRDSELL: Thank you, Mister President. I stand to ask you, this body to sustain the Governor's veto. While this bill is well-intentioned and it's something that I truly do support for the disabled and the elderly, this bill does not do anything to help them. What this bill did is it only allows an SAU level 5 which means a non-driver vehicle to be tested in this state. It does not allow level 3 and 4, which will have a driver in it, to be tested in the state. So without, our elderly and our disabled population need a driver in there. So without having been able to test the 3 and the 4 level, then it does not help them at all. The bill also only contains one definition and that's the definition of a SAE level 5 autonomous vehicle. The SAE which is the Society of Automotive Engineers, they have a collection of definitions that in order to have a really quality bill, they should have been included in this bill. It also puts down, it requires, it makes mandatory the federal guidelines, makes voluntary federal guidelines actually mandatory and in the guidelines they ask you not to make this mandatory because technology changes so fast that it's not going to be able to keep up, so if you codify those guidelines then you're going to have to keep changing them as technology changes. And what this does is actually codifies in law the guidelines that they've asked us not to. It also increases, most of the states have a $5 million bond in order to test in the state. This is requiring a $10 million bond in order to test in the state, which will discourage anyone from wanting to test in the state. It also as far as law enforcement, it doesn't specify which law enforcement agency will take place, whether it's going to be state police, Department of Safety, local police. So there's a lot of things that need to be fixed with this and so I ask you to please sustain the Governor's veto on House Bill 314. Thank you, Mister President.

Governor's Veto Message Regarding House Bill 1736

By the authority vested in me, pursuant to part II, Article 44 of the New Hampshire Constitution, on May 29th, 2018, I have vetoed House Bill 1736, relative to increasing the threshold required for governor and council approval of expenditures from the dam maintenance fund.

Under current law, governor and council approval is required for all expenditures from the dam maintenance fund that are made for repair projects. RSA 482:54, VI currently defines repair as "performance of intermediate amounts of work on a portion of a structure or associated property on an occasional basis with costs not exceeding $75,000." House Bill 1736 would amend the definition of repair so that it only includes work with a cost in excess of $150,000, thus increasing the threshold for governor and council approval from $75,000 to $150,000.

The governor and council, the only popularly elected executive branch officials, play a key role in overseeing the fiscal management of the executive branch and expenditure of taxpayer dollars. Because increasing the threshold for governor and council approval directly affects the governor and council's ability to discharge their fiscal management and oversight duties delegated by Part II, Article 56 of the New Hampshire Constitution, I am concerned that councilors were not consulted as this bill went through the legislative process. In addition, I have seen no compelling evidence that the current thresholds, and the need to seek governor and council approval, has created any administrative difficulties for the department of environmental services. New Hampshire's proud tradition of careful fiscal management counsels against reducing popularly elected officials' oversight of expenditures of taxpayer dollars absent a compelling justification.

For the reasons stated above, I have vetoed House Bill 1736.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: Thank you, Mister President. A point of personal privilege, please. The class of 1961 at the University of New Hampshire sponsored three representatives to this body: Representative Norm Major, Senator Dick Green, and myself. Senator Dick Green was a distinguished member of the Senate, serving as Senate Finance Chairman, and in the leadership. Senator Green's wife passed away last week. Dick Green was not only a classmate of mine at the University, and a friend of mine of longstanding, but a very decent and honorable human being. I spoke with Dick– thank you, Senator Gray, for getting me the phone number so that I could speak to Dick. His wife had been very ill; had been very ill for about four years, and Dick was with her and really out of communication for that period of time. They were a great couple. Dick was Mayor of Rochester for a time as well as Senator, and he served in the Senate in 19–, he was elected in 1972, served in the Senate in 1973 when they had the one-hundred vote marathon before they selected a President; a hundred votes, and finally the most honorable, and the late David Nixon was elected President, and Harry Spanos was elected Vice President. And for the first time, I believe, in the history of the Senate we had a Republican President and a Democrat Vice President; a distinguished body; a distinguished people. Dick served in that body, and served his community well, served his family well, and served the state well; a very honorable human being who gave a lot of public service, and devastated by the loss of his wife as all of us would be in a case like that. I think they were married sixty years from what I understand. So, we remember his service, we, obviously, give our deepest sympathy to Dick on his loss, and as I said, thank him for the many good things he did for his community and for the state. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: Thank you, Mister President. I rise to thank the body for the manner in which you deliberated today. It's truly an honor to be here. I don't think I've ever seen a finer day in the two years that I've had in this august body. I'm proud to be part of you. Thank you.

(The Chair recognized Senator Lasky.)

SENATOR LASKY: Thank you, Mister President.

PRESIDENT MORSE: Be careful because you may come back!

SENATOR LASKY: I don't bounce that hard. Again, I just want to say my time here has been amazing. Through changes, or whatever, serving in this body has been certainly one of the joys of my life. I want to thank all of you, and clearly thank my constituents who helped me get here; my family who put up with me for all these years; and to each and every one of you. All the kindnesses you've shown me, even when we disagreed, it's been relatively nice. And I wish each and every one of you good luck in your elections, and certainly all the best as you go forward. Thank you. Thank you, Mister President.

(The Chair recognized Senator Bradley.)

SENATOR BRADLEY: Thank you very much. I just want to thank each and every one of you for the graciousness with which you allowed myself, and Senator Giuda, Senator Woodburn, and all of us have worked so hard on the biomass issue. The vote in the House was 226-113. The veto has been overridden. And honest to God, I feel like the day the BRAC Commission voted to spare 5,000 jobs at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard. Bless you all. Thank you very much.

(The Chair recognized Senator Giuda.)

SENATOR GIUDA: A question for the Senator from District 3. Might one infer from your remarks here that you're buying?

SENATOR BRADLEY: You'll have to go to the House beer caucus!

PRESIDENT MORSE: I've got two things, but let me start with one. You know, during a time of transition, many people start to move on. So as we go through another election many of you probably know, and many of you probably don't, that Kate Spiner is moving on. Most of you know by now that Kate has decided to pursue another opportunity in the Attorney General's Office, and today is the last day with us. While we are very happy for her in what comes next, we will miss her greatly.

Thank you, Kate, for your dedication and your hard work on behalf of the New Hampshire Senate. I know every Senator has benefited from your work, and we have each shined a little brighter because of you. We will miss your positive attitude and what you brought to work every day. But I do have to admit, thank God you're retiring today so I don't get a Friday afternoon phone call to deal with the press. I'll miss you greatly, Kate. Congratulations.

I would like to say this: I respect this body greatly. I think what you've done today is what we're all about; I firmly believe in it. I do believe in bipartisan politics. I do believe everyone in this room has something to offer, and you showed that today; and you did it with courtesy; and you did it with the honor that we've served in the Senate.

(The Chair recognized Senator D'Allesandro.)

SENATOR D'ALLESANDRO: I've been here a long time. I want to thank you for your leadership in a bipartisan fashion. I appreciate it very, very much having been with you when you chaired the Finance Committee and I served on it, and now when you're the President. So, I think all of us recognize the fact that it ain't easy being at the top. It ain't easy being at the top having been there a few times! I might say congratulations on a job well done and the best.

Without objection, all personal privileges and unanimous consent shall be entered into the permanent Journal of the Senate. (Rule 2-16 and Rule 2-17). Adopted.
